BOARD OF EDUCATION IN REGULAR SESSION

Sanitary Condition of Schools to be Investigated

ATTENDANCE FOR FEBRUARY

Suggested Improvements in Several Studies

The Board of Education met in regular session last night, when there were present Chairman W. H. Hill and Messrs. Jas. Stevenson, J. J. Hartley, V. Eastwood, Wm. Langford, W. B. Bamford, Dr. Caldwell, Peter Hamilton, L. M. Hayes and Dr. Burnham.

The minutes of the two preceding meetings were read and confirmed.

A communication was received from the Chairman Committee of Management Stratford Public School Board, enclosing a resolution adopted by that Board, suggesting improvements in the study of geography, history and physiology, and asking that should Peterborough's School Board see its way clear to give its endorsation, they address the Minister of Education on the subject. This matter was referred to the Supervision Committee and the Inspector.

SCHOOL SUPPLIES.

Dr. Burnham presented the following report of the Supervision Committee:

Your Committee beg leave to report that they advertised for tenders for the supply of stationery and chemicals required for the ensuing year, and they recommend that the tender of A. H. Stratton & Co., for supply of stationery be acepted and that the tender Ormond & Walsh for chemicals be accepted, they being the lowest.

A SANITARY MATTER.

Dr. Burnham raised the question of the sanitary condition of the South Ward School, which, according to a letter in the papers and the general talk in town is a menace to the children's health. He would suggest that this matter be thoroughly investigated.

Inspector Walker replied that some things in the letter referred to are incorrect, for instance the statement that children were eating their dinners in the closets is not true. At least if they do so it is their own faults as comfortable rooms are provided for that purpose. He referred to the West Ward School as being kept exceptionally clean by its janitor, and drew the Board's attention to the fact that no case of diptheria had been traced to that building in two years. He advised, however, a thorough investigation of all the schools from a sanitary standpoint.

Dr. Burnham here moved, seconded by Mr. J. J. Hartley,—That the sanitary condition of the schools be referred to the Property Committee, to make a thorough investigation and report at next meeting of this Board.—Carried.

The Board then adjourned.

A STRANGE STORY.

A Young Man Named Paterson Said to Have Visited Arnprior.

Arnprior Journal,—"The daily papers during the past week have contained "scare head" accounts of the ghoulish work of a medical student of Queen's College, Kingston, in robbing grave-yards, and selling his subjects for purposes of the dissection table. A young man named Patterson, said to be of Peterborough, was charged with this dastardly work, some of the railway employees having reported the shipment of a trunk containing a corpse to the Kingston College. If we were sensation hunting we could enlarge upon this with heavy headlines. A man named Patterson and a companion registered at the Grand Union in this town on Saturday evening, Feb. 2nd, remaining there over Sunday. They brought two large empty trunks, which they left at the C. P. R. station until Sunday night about 7 o'clock, at which time they called with a team and took them away, going in the direction of Sand Point, although they had told the liverymen that they proposed going to Galetta, in the opposite direction, and they wanted a quiet team and a large seligh. They returned about two o-clock on Monday morning, and had the trunks, now heavy as lead, shipped to Kingston. By the time they had the horses back to the stables they were too late to take the Soo train themselves, but left at 9.33 a.m. What their business was, and what the peculiarity of their movements indicate, we do not positively know, but the name Patterson being the same as the person charged with body snatching, the large trunks arriving empty and leaving full, and the midnight drive, all conspire to make people suspicious, and it would be well that the grave yards at Sand Point, Norway Bay and others in this section be examined by the friends of the recently deceased. In the meantime Chief Mattson is now doing what he can to trace the movements of the pair when here, having only heard of their visit within a few days.

NORTH AMERICA LIFE

Attention Again Called to the Strong Financial Position of This Popular Institution

It is always a pleasure to refer to the progress of Canadian institutions, especially is this true in regard to the North American Life Assurance Company, whose financial statement appears elsewhere. This popular Company holds a high place in the regard of the people, from one end of the Dominion to the other.

To Mr. Wm. McCabe, the Managing Director, and Mr. L. Goldman, the untiring Secretary, is due in great measure the phenomenal success which has everywhere attended the operations of the Company.

The North American is now one of Canada's strongest financial institutions. It has a record of which its managers may well feel proud, and its future is sure to be even more successful than the past has been. Its schemes have always been based on sound principles, so that, unlike other life assurance companies, it has no evil to contend with in the way of increasing death rate with decreasing revenue.

The Company deals honorably with its policy holders, and never crowds a poor man out. It has thus earned a reputation for fair dealing that has made the work of its agents easy.

LOCAL NEWS LETTERS.

DOURO

Cecilia Christie, relict of the late James Ingram, of the township of Douro, died at her residence in the village of Lakefield, Ont., on the 23rd of February, 1901. Deceased was born in Scotland, near Montrose, came to this country with her parents in 1855, and was united in marriage to her late husband in 1860. In her life she displayed those qualities that secured for her the confidence and respect of those who knew her, as well as the affectionate devotion of her own children. From early life she maintained a consistent Christian profession, first in connection with the Presbyterian and for many years before her death, in connection with the Methodist church. Four daughters and one son survive her, and also a brother in the village of Hastings. The children are Henry of Douro; Mrs. Ingram of Montana, Mrs. Stewart of Lakefield and Miss Lottie and Mina at home.

Your life is stern and sad—
And tho' claiming to be a man of sense,
You've not tried a Times Want Ad."

NO MORE RECRUITS' FOR THE YEOMANRY

The War Office Has Ordered That Recruiting be Stopped

London, March 5.

King Edward has issued a letter patent, empowering the Duke of Cornwall and York to confer Knighthood while he is in Australia.

London, March 5.

The War Office has issued orders stopping the recruiting for Yeomanry on the ground that the Government has as many men as required.

WILHELMINA RETURNS WITH HER HUSBAND

They Enter Amsterdam in State after Their Honeymoon

Amsterdam, March 5.—Queen Wilhelmina and the Prince Consort entered this city in state this morning.

The royal party arrived by train at half-past eleven. They were received by the principal authorities, and conducted to the royal pavilion, where had gathered a brilliant array of officers and officials, including the Governor of the Province of Northern Holland and high military, naval, judicial, and civil dignitaries.

The procession in state carriages, and escorted by troops, then traversed the streets of the capital, which, in spite of the rain, were packed with throngs of the rain, were packed with throngs of enthusiastic subjects. The route to the palace was lined by the civic guards and troops of the garrison. Salutes were fired as the procession advanced, and the progress of the royal party was signalled by the ringing of church bells.

The Royal cortege was not long, but sufficiently varied to be of interest. It was led by a squadron of Hussars, and a mounted band. The horses and carriages of the cortege were brilliantly caparisoned, and the outriders, grooms and footmen wore the vari-colored State liveries. The occupants of the carriages were in full uniform. The ladies of the court occupied the last carriages.

The Royal equipage, drawn by eight horses, was preceded by mounted guard of honor, composed of the Queen's aides-de-camp, who, brilliant in gold and colors, were the center of attraction. On each side of the carriage rode the military officers. The procession was closed by a fine body of cavalry.

The Queen and the Prince Consort were evidently greatly pleased at the enthusiasm of the reception, and bowed unceasingly to the crowds along the line of march. At the Palace, the Queen-mother awaited her daughter. After their greetings Queen Wilhelmina and the Prince Consort appeared upon the Palace balcony in response to the cheers of the throng, which had been prepared to gather in front of the Royal residence.

The rains bedraggled the street decorations, and the preparations for to-night's illuminations were hampered by the unfavorable weather.

VACCINATION THE WATCHWORD

Medical Authorities Insist on General Vaccination.

The Times has been requested to state that Dr. P. H. Bryce, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, has issued a circular calling attention to the fact that it is highly important that school children and other unvaccinated persons should be vaccinated at once.

The circular goes on to say that with the advances in aseptic surgery and in the preparation of pure vaccine, every possible danger is eliminated.

The clauses of the Medical Health Act covering vaccination are also contained in the communication, which makes it imperative that everybody shall be vaccinated. The circular does not disguise the fact that there is great danger from smallpox.

Dr. Bryce says in his circular that the only sure preventive of smallpox is vaccination.

WEATHER NOTES.

Probs. Fair and decidedly cold; temperature to-night near to or below zero at many places.

The cold has spread into Ontario and Quebec, and it will now shortly reach the Maratime Provinces. The cold wave is all centred in the Northwest Territories, consequently decidedly cold weather may be expected in all localities; Winnipeg reported 22 degrees below zero and Parry Sound 12 degrees below zero.

Mountain is Moving

London, March 6.—The Neuchatel district of Switzerland is threatened with a fearful disaster. A huge mountain in the Jura range has been so quarried that its sides are cracking and the whole vast mass of more than a million cubic metres is in motion. Indeed when the present frost breaks up, it is feared that the mountain will fall into the valley. Several towns are in imminent danger of being wiped out, and the inhabitants have been warned. The Jura range is the block of mountains rising between Rhine and the Rhone, and forming the frontier between France and Switzerland. It is really a large plateau, 156 miles long and 38 miles broad. The height of the mountains vary considerably, but that of the Chasseron, near Neuchatel, 5,286 feet. The cracks in the mountain, which threatens to fall are growing daily more ominous, and create sounds like thunder. The authorities of course, can do little to prevent the impending disaster, but they are trying to avoid it and save life.

A Small Fire

The Fire Brigade was called out last night about 10 o'clock to extinguish a fire above the law office of Denniston, Peck & Stevenson. It was speedily put out by the chemical engine.

DEER AND MURDER

The agitation against the killing of deer in the water has at length reached a stage where something must be done. The outcry has become almost universal, and so emphatic has been the change of opinion in sporting circles that hardly a man can be found to defend the practice, lest he be accused of inability to kill his deer any other way. This is not the only kind of hunting or shooting which is less like true sport than like wholesale murder, but in this country it is the most flagrant, and the sooner it is stopped the better. This is how a leading Toronto sporting journal disposes of the case.

"There is no more sport in killing deer in the water than knifing lambs in the slaughter house. The writer of this has hunted deer for over twenty years, and during the time it was legal to kill deer in the water he has seen many a one clubbed to death by men who excused their action by saying there was no use wasting a mmunition. The man who "still" hunts or shoots his deer ahead of the dogs in the woods fairly earns his venison, but the game has no fair chance when it can be driven to the water and killed there. Lots of men now go hunting who are actually afraid to go five hundred yards into the woods for fear of losing themselves; hunters of this stamp wouldn't kill a deer in ten seasons, but when these same men are located in boats on a lake and experienced guides are hired to put out the dogs and run deer to the water—thus guarded they can butcher them at their leisure. If an amendment to the Game Protection Act prohibiting the killing of deer in the water is submitted to the Legislature this season it should be passed without a dissenting voice. No true sportsman will oppose it."

Back the Press.

The effort of any newspaper to build up a town is practically nullified unless it is backed up by the business men of the town. A stranger turns from the news columns of a paper to its advertising columns, and if (he fails to find there the business cards of the merchants and professional firms, he comes to the conclusion that the editor is not appreciated, in which case it is a good place to keep clear from. No town ever grew without the active assistance of its papers. Nor can papers grow, and build up their localities without the assistance of the town. Business men should realise this and remember that in lending support to their local paper they are not only building up their own business, but are helping to support that which is steadily working for the growth of the whole town. The Times has not in the past been accorded that measure of support from the advertising public that its position and influence entitled it to. We are glad to say, however, that merchants are beginning to realize that the great majority of the purchasing community can not be reached in any other way except through our columns.

INAUGURATION OF PRESIDENT McKINLEY

He Speaks of Chinese Question, Cuba and the Philippines

Washington, March 4—President McKinley is now again President of the United States. In beginning his inaugural address to-day he contrasted affairs as they existed now and as they existed in 1897. Beyond this he made reference to three things: The Chinese question, the Cuban question, and the Philippine question.

His reference to the Chinese question was merely a justification in a general way of the conduct of the United States. "The peace which we are pledged to leave to the Cuban people" said President McKinley, "must carry with it the guarantee of permanence. We became sponsors for the pacification of the Island, and we remain acountable to the Cubans no less than to our own country and people for the reconstruction of Cuba as a free commonwealth on abiding foundations of right, justice, liberty and assured order. Our enfranchisement of the people will not be completed until free Cuba shall be a reality not a name; a perfect entity, not a hasty experiment bearing within itself the elements of failure."

In refering to the Philippines he said: "I shall continue the efforts already begun until order shall be restored throughout the islands, and as fast as conditions permit will establish local governments, in the formation of which the full co-operation of the people has been already invited, and when established will encourage the people to administer them.

He pointed out that the liberal terms of amnesty had been communicated to the insurgents, and that the greater portion of the Filipinos had accepted the sovereignty of United States and a welcomed it. The message closed with these words:

"Force will not be needed or used when those who make war against us shall make it no more. May it end without further bloodshed and there be ushered in the reign of peace to be made permanent by a government of liberty under law."

Mr. Theodore Roosevelt was inaugurated Vice-President.

Rumors.

Come to the surface in the spring as in no other season. It's a pity they don't run themselves all off that way; but in spite of pimples and other eruptions, they mostly remain in the system, That's bad.

Hood's Sarsaparilla removes them and cures all the painful and disfiguring troubles they cause. Nothing else cleanses the system and clears the complexion like Hood's.

HERE AND THERE

The profit on England's postal service amounts to about $20,000,000 a year.

Among the Chileans a belief prevails that the juice of onions is a sure cure for typhoid fever if given in its early stages.

Incurable insanity is not a ground for divorce in any State except North Dakota and Idaho.

In the rubber forests of Para one laborer disposes of 100 trees in seven months, securing from 400 to 800 kilogrammes of rubber, of which he gets half from his employer.

Prof. Camphausen, of Amsterdam, is out with a bomb generating fumes that will make breathing difficult or impossible for 100 yards around the centre of explosion.

It requires an average of more than 20,000,000 pins per day to sustain dislocated shirt waists, replacing missing suspender buttons and meet the other needs of the American people.

In Germany many millions of railway and tramway tickets are sold by way of penny-in-the-slot machines, which are highly valued as a means of relieving the pressure on ticket-sellers.

It is reckoned that the household and personal refuse of all kinds and street sweepings of a town amount to half a ton annually for each head of the population.

Many thousands of fish are being found dead in the lakes contiguous to Fergus Falls, Minn., chiefly in Otter Tail lake, from which the city named gets its water supply through the Red river. This is a serious feature of the situation. General belief has it that severe electrical disturbances have killed the fish.

Anything seems to be good enough reason for bringing divorce proceedings. A Washington woman has sued for freedom on the ground that her husband is not as strong politically as she thought and said he was, and a Leavenworth sister has just burst her matrimonial bonds because her husband would not take her to church.

Miss Nee Bana (Northern Light is an Indian girl who lives on an island near Old Town, Me. She is an expert swimmer and canoe navigator, has saved life at the risk of her own, reads books, dances bewitchingly, and is very good looking. The City National bank of Kankakee has paid Miss Nee Bana good dollars for the privilege of engraving her pretty face on its checks.

The mails in Central Africa are still conveyed for the most part upon the heads and backs of native postmen. The men are recruited chiefly from the Yao and Atonga tribes, and wear a uniform. Fully 300 bags of mail are made up each month at the different postoffices in the protectorate for conveyance by these men, the total distance traveled being close upon 10,000 miles a month, the cost of transit being less than a half-penny a mile a bag.

Municipal authorities of Riegelsburg, near Saarbuck, Alsace, propose to establish an automobile service between the town and the centre of Saint-Jean-Saarbruck, a distance of six miles, and have advertised for offers of eight place vehicles. There are to be hired at first for six months, and may be purchased, if found suitable. At Charlottenburg, near Berlin, an electric omnibus is now in circulation, which can transport seventeen persons, eight in the interior and nine on top.

If a woman was as careful in selecting a husband to match her disposition as she is in selecting a dress to match her complexion there would be fewer unhappy marriages than there are.

CURIOUS SIGNS

A horseshoe nailed over an entrance keeps away witches. It should be nailed toe down.

If your nose itches, it is a sign you will have company.

If two spoons are accidentally put into a cup it denotes a wedding.

Shaving on Sunday.

That there is really no reason for apprehension that the sanctity of the Sabbath is in danger in Canada is shown by a recent incident in Hamilton... Some barbers in that city were summoned for shaving on Sunday. The cases came up in the police court and the police magistrate held that shaving was a work of necessity and dismissed the charges. Now the Barbers' association of Hamilton is petitioning for the amendment of the Lord's day act to prohibit Sunday shaving.

If the man does not stop the cough the cough stops the man; stops his appetite, his sleep, his pleasure and his work. So called "cough remedies" sometimes relieve but they don't go deep enough to cure. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures coughs and diseases of the respiratory organs perfectly and permanently. It stops the cough. It heals the lungs, stops the hemorrhage, if the lungs are bleeding, and by purifying the blood and increasing the action of the blood-making glands enriches every organ with the good blood which alone will make a good body.

"My husband had been coughing for years and people frankly told me that he would go into consumption," writes Mrs. John Shireman, of No. 265 25th Place, Chicago, Ill. "He had such terrible coughing spells, we not only grew much alarmed, but looked for the bursting of a blood vessel or a hemorrhage at almost any time. After three days' coughing he was too weak to cross the room. The doctor did him no good. I stated the case to a druggist, who handed me a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. My husband's recovery was remarkable. In three days after he began using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery he was up and around, and in two more days he went to work. Two bottles cured him."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness. They produce permanent benefit and do not re-act on the system. One is a gentle laxative, two a cathartic dose.

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. One agent sold 68 in one day. Sample and terms 25 cts (none free); four for 80 cts; $1.75 per dozen; 25 for $3.25; 50 for $6.00; 100 for $11.00 Write to day for a dozen and make money. Big Four Con. G. M. Co.

LIMITED

Mines one mile west of Rossland, directly west of the Le Roi No. 1 and Le Roi No. 2. Four properties. All Crown granted.

THE LeRoi No. 1 once sold for 2 cents and went to $45 per share; and the Le Roi No. 2 £5 shares went to £23, or $110 per share in a few months.

Our memorandum of association contains a provision, provided by Section 56 of the Companies Act, 1897, that the shares are issued as Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable, and that no further liability beyond the amount actually paid upon shares shall attach to the holders thereof. Capital $250,000.

Our properties are now proved (both above and below ground) to have the same continuous ore veins as the LeRoi Companies, and have the same identical ore and our shares are well worth TWENTY FIVE CENTS now, and will surely bring fifty cents. And we can, with a very small capital, develop our property to such an extent that it can also be placed on the London market, where it belongs—and small investors will make a good profit by buying now.

Our assays have averaged from $5 to $800 in gold, copper and silver and the shipping facilities are the best. The Great Northern Railway runs three times through the ground, three smelters close at hand, and reduced charges of $4.50 per ton for shipping and smelting, and we are now getting ready to start shipping ore.

Irrespective of the merits of the BIG FOUR, we have now over 570,000 shares in our treasury and free from all incumbrance. We are amongst the few local companies that has complied with the law in every particular, and we venture to say have

TO-DAY'S POSSIBILITIES

I may not, when the sun goes d own,
Have added to my store
Of worldly goods, or gained reno wn
Through gallantry or lore.

I may not, while I strive to-day,
Move onward to the goal—
The gleaning goal so far away—
On which I've set my soul.

But I can show a kindness to
Some one who stands without,
And I can praise some toiler who
Is toiling on in doubt.

And when the sun goes down, I still
May be a better man—
No matter what the Fates may will—
Than when I first began.

—S. E. Kiser, in Chicago Times Herald.

An Impetuous Greeting.

Along a deserted country road one dark night in May a solitary wayfarer was leading a disabled bicycle. He came to a place where two roads crossed, and paused undecided. He glanced about in the gloom and found that he was near a house. "I'll ask there," he said, and walking up to the door knocked boldly.

Hardly had his knuckles left the panel, when the door burst open and a young person in a dark skirt and light waist hurled herself upon him. The force of the blow caused him to stagger backward. Involuntarily he clasped her close in her arms while he regained his equilibrium, then he released her.

"Oh, oh, oh!" she gasped. "I thought it was a May-basket." Then, as suddenly as she had come, she darted into the house and the door went to with a bang behind her.

The man picked up his bicycle from the ground where he had laid it and went back to the corners. Here he stood meditating. He looked in all four directions, then glanced at the house and shook his head. "I guess I'll take my chances on the road," he said, and started down the southern one.

As he went along, the clinking of the chain as it passed over the sprocket teeth sounding plainly in the stillness, he cogitated thus:

"I have just made a most interesting discovery. How by accident we sometimes stumble on these scientific facts. Now, if I had not punctured my tire just as dark was coming on, and then lost my way, I never should have known that during the month of May the houses in country places are so many catapulas. You have merely to knock on the door and a beautiful young lady will be shot into your arms, instead of into a net, as they do it at the circus."

Mrs. Jameson's was considered a very pleasant place to board, and vacancies were awaited for eagerly by those who knew of the quiet and homelikeness of her peaceful dwelling. She never would have more than four boarders at a time, so it did not seem like a regular boarding house.

"I can't take care of more than that number," she often said. "If I had more I'd be obliged to keep a girl and that won't do. I get along very well with what help Jamie can give me about dishes and on wash days."

It was a day in September, and the newest boarder sat looking across Mrs. Jamie's table at the oldest boarder. She was the new school teacher—her predecessor in both school and boarding house had been married the previous summer—and he was a young bachelor whose work was in a down town law office. She thought that he had a good face, and he thought there was something strangely familiar about her voice, though at the same time he was sure that he had never heard those tones before.

As the weeks and months went by, a friendly liking grew between these two. Each felt free to call on the other for any little help that was needed, and many and long were the discussions indulged in by them.

During the short Christmas and spring vacations the oldest boarder missed the newest one, and when school days began again there was a noticeable rise in his spirits.

One evening in May these two and Mrs. Jamie were in the sitting room, Mrs. Jamie sewing patchwork, Mr. Sayward looking at the evening paper and Miss Stewart resting in a big chair, her hands lying idly on its arms.

There came a ring at the door-bell and Mrs. Jamie went to answer it. In an instant she appeared again carrying something in her hand. "It's a May basket for you, Miss Stewart," she cried excitedly. Sayward sprang to his feet and rushed from the room, Miss Stewart following after.

It was a very dark night and the children who had hung the basket really did not wish to be caught, so after a vain search and a fruitless chase the two came back unsuccessful.

"What a beautiful basket!" cried Miss Stewart, and Mrs. Jamie brought a vase of water for the flowers and a glass dish for the fruit and candles.

Quiet was at length restored, and Mr. Sayward returned to his paper, Mrs. Jamie to her patchwork and Miss Stewart to her restful attitude. Suddenly she laughed softly.

"I was thinking of something that happened several years ago," she explained, as Mrs. Jamie looked at her inquiringly. "It was when I was in my teens and before I went to Normal school. I used to have ever so many May baskets and I took great pride in never letting any one who hung them escape without getting caught. Well, one night there came an unmistakable May basket knock. I rushed to the door, opened it and dashed out straight into a strange man's arms. I almost knocked him over and I was so confused that I ran back into the house without asking him what he wanted. It was probably some one who had lost his way, or else perhaps a tramp. At any rate he did not knock again, and I can't wonder at it."

Mr. Sayward's paper did not move, but behind its shelter he was smiling and there was a sparkle in his eyes.

The warm spring days grew into warm summer ones and the last day of school had come. Sayward was helping Miss Stewart decorate the schoolroom.

"Doesn't it make you feel bad," he asked, "this last day, or are you glad to get away from the noisy little wretches?"

"This is my first year," she answered, "and I am not used to it yet, so I am afraid I shall cry a little this afternoon."

"I shall not feel so bad till tomorrow," he said with meaning, but she went on without noticing.

"I shall be glad to get home again, of course. My home is in a lovely place in the country. Perhaps you have been by it on your wheel. It is out in South Wytham on the turnpike. I would like to have you call out and see me sometime. It would be a pleasant ride, and any one can tell you where Jared Stewart lives."

"I'd like to come first rate," he said, "and I will on one condition."

"What is that?" she asked, looking up at him where he stood on the top of the step ladder.

He came down hastily and his face grew suddenly serious.

"Alice," he said earnestly, "I love you. Do you suppose you could marry me?"

Of course it was very sudden, but Alice was one who knew her own mind, so after a moment's reflection she told him that she supposed she could.

The next day he went with her to the station, and as they waited for her train she said to him shyly, "And you think you will come out on your wheel and see me?"

"I rather think so," he said.

"By the way, I forgot to ask—what was that condition you spoke of?"

"Condition? Oh, yes, I know. That you would let me greet you as I did the last time I was there."

"The last time?"

"Yes. Don't you remember?—one night in May, and you said, 'Oh, oh, oh, I thought it was a May-basket.'"

She looked at him with wide eyes. "Was that you?" she cried joyously. "I'm so glad it wasn't any one else."

Advertisements Queer and Peculiar.

By a colored couple in Georgia: "Your presents is required to a swell wedding at the home of the bride. Come one, come all. Gentlemen, 25 cents; ladies, 15 cents."

By a St. Louis man: "Wanted—A respectable gentleman, widower preferred to marry the housekeeper of an aged gentleman who has been an invalid for years, and who respects her as a good and true servant, whom he would like to see in the happy state of matrimony before he dies. She has had three husbands, but is willing for a fourth."

By a North Dakota Justice of the Peace: "I am reliably informed that some of our local clergy are cutting prices and thereby demoralizing business. I will not reduce prices to perform the marriage ceremony, but will give time if necessary, or will take meats, potatoes, grain, and will agree not to kiss the bride unless perfectly satisfactory."

By an English country gentleman: "Wanted—For a sober family, a man of light weight, who fears the Lord and can drive a pair of horses. He must occasionally wait at table, join the household prayer, look after the horses and read a chapter in the Bible. He must, God willing, arise at 7 o'clock in the morning, and obey his master and mistress in all lawful commands. If he can dress hair, sing psalms and play at cribbage, the more agreeable."

By a West Virginia merchant:

"Bibles, blackbords, butter,
Testament, Tar, Treacle,
Godly books and Gimlets,
For Sale Here."

By a dog fancier: "$5 Reward—Strayed from the premises of the subscriber, in Centerville, on the 1st of October, a small dog near the color of an opossum, with yellow legs and head and tail cut off."

By a Philadelphia girl: "Wanted—A young unmarried woman without children wants a position as cook or housekeeper."

By a presiding elder: "Advent Meetings—Elder D. M. Cantright, of Boston, and Elder D. M. Farnesworth, President of the Iowa Conference, will preach in the Baptist Church from Friday evening, April 5, till Monday evening."

By the Common Council, Jackson, Mich.: "Resolved, That the poundmaster be instructed not to receive into the public pound any cows that any person may drive to the same pound under the age of twenty-one years."

A red-faced and by no means soft-voiced woman came into our grocer's shop the other morning and by the gleam in her eye one could see that she had a bone to pick with the grocer.

"Why don't you send me what I send after?" she demanded. "Here I sent my boy over here for five pounds of spuds and you sent back word you didn't keep them."

"We don't," said the clerk.

"You do, too," contradicted the irate lady. "What's them if they ain't spuds?"

"Potatoes," said the clerk, mildly. "Did you want potatoes?"

"Of course, I did," snorted the lady. "Didn't I send for spuds? Law me, ain't you ever heard potatoes called by their right name before? Spuds, I said, and anybody but a born idiot knows what spuds is!"—Washington Post.

Weak Lungs

If you must have style and appearance you will probably get lung trouble. Your entire body is sensitive to the cold, and a chill on the outside, induced by insufficient clothing, is followed by a sympathetic inflammation or congestion of the lungs. That congestion is the opportunity for the germs of disease. They attack the air cells in the lungs, and you have consumption.

If you feel a chill—if you have a cold—if you are consumptive—take Powley's Liquified Ozone. Its principal ingredient is condensed oxygen, and oxygen is nature's great health-giving and system-building element. One bottle will demonstrate its power to cure. The Latest Method Treatment

No medical discovery for years has proved as successful as Dr. Goldberg's Latest Method Treatment. It is the outcome of years of experience: it vitalizes the system, equalizes circulation, removes all obstructions, consequently is the only method recognized as a speedy and permanent cure for Varicocele and Stricture, without use of knife or loss of time: it absorbs the wormy condition, also the stricture, stops the smarting sensation, unnatural discharge, thereby strengthening the parts as well as the back, and restores lost powers.

Blood Poison readily yields to its influence; it thoroughly eradicates the poison from the system; if you have sore throat, patches on tongue or mouth, swollen glands, hair falling out, blotches on body, itching skin, or other signs of this awful disease, you will find the Latest Method Treatment will cure you without Mercury or Potassium.

DR. GOLDBERG, DISCOVERER OF THE LATEST METHOD TREATMENT.

Facts For Patients.

1. Dr Goldberg has 18 Diplomas, Certificates and Licenses, which is sufficient guarantee as to his standing and abilities.
2. Each time you call you see Dr. Goldberg personally, while all other Chronic, Private and Blood Poison specialists have some doctor in charge of their office or have an assistant to doctor you.
3. The Latest Method Treatment discovered by Dr. Goldberg is recognized as the most speedy and permanent cure for Blood Poison, Chronic, Private, Nervous Debility and Impotency. Varicocele and Stricture cured without cutting or stretching.
4. Our records show more actual cures than all other specialists combined.
5. We accept no incurable case for treatment.
6. We are the only doctors of our specialty who are willing to wait for the pay until you are convinced that a complete cure has been established. If you doubt it, try us and see. Call or write for blank for home treatment. Book free.

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Salida copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims,—The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Salida, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Salida. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of the city; and last, but by no means least, the Sunshine, located two miles east of Salida at Cleora station, on the main trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

The Mayor's Dinner

In the rush last night of getting our Council reports in shape for the paper, the dinner given by Mayor Denne was overlooked. The Mayor is a success as an entertainer, and a very pleasant evening was spent. At the conclusion of the banquet the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" was indulged in, not however, before everybody present had voted His Worship a jolly good fellow.

Cure for Smallpox

The frequency of isolated outbreaks of smallpox in remote parts of Ontario is giving the provincial health department anxiety throughout the province generally, in view of which the following will be read with interest "I am willing to risk my reputation as a public man," writes Edward Hine to the Liverpool Mercury, "that the worst case of smallpox can be cured in three days by the use of cream of tartar. One ounce of cream of tartar dissolved in a pint of hot water, drank at intervals when cold, is a never failing remedy. It has cured thousands never leaves a mark, never causes blindness, and avoids tedious lingering.

Visiting Sunday Schools

The Sunday School Executive have arranged for a series of visits to the different Sabbath Schools of the town, which will certainly lead to better work. The scheme is as follows: On March 10th the Superintendents of the first named schools will visit the second named and on the 17th the second named will visit the first. On the 10th All Saints' representative will visit Park Street Baptist and on the 17th Park Street will visit All Saints'. The other schools will visit each other as below named. On the 10th St. Andrew's to Charlotte Street; St. John's to Murray Street; St. Paul's to George Street; St. Luke's to Mark Street; Grace to Auburn. On the 17th the return visit will be made by the schools visited on the 10th. The visitor will report what he sees and hears to a Union Rally of all Sunday School teachers in the Y.M.C.A. hall on Friday, March 29th. The Executive will try and arrange visits for Bethany and Riverside before that date so that every school in the Union can be reported upon.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

—We want a good, live man, to whom a fair salary will be paid. Times Printing Co.

—Work on the steamers at the Ashburnham shipyard is progressing satisfactorily.

Scrofula is a bad thing to inherit or acquire, but there is this about it —Hood's Sarsaparilla completely cures even the worst cases.

—Want a Fountain Pen? While they last we will sell one of the best makes in Fountain Pens for only $1.25. Regular price $2.00. Times Bookstore.

—For the balance of this month we will give double trading stamps on all purchases in our store. Now is the time to buy fancy goods as everything has been marked down for quick selling. The Children's Aid Society

On Saturday the Children's Aid Society obtained an order from the Magistrate for the delivery to them of William Henry Harper, the little son of Mrs. Sharpe, whose husband is now in gaol on a charge of murder. The mother was present in Court and consented to the transfer of the child to the Society. The fourteen-year-old boy was not claimed by the Society, as fourteen is the limit of age at which the Children's Aid Society has jurisdiction in respect to boys.

COFFEE HITS HARD.

Almost Killed a California Girl.

A young lady in California had a remarkable experience with coffee drinking. The details are most interesting to anyone who even suspects that coffee is damaging to the health. She says, "I drank coffee from a child, and a few years ago my health began to break down everything I ate or drank distressed me, and I settled into a chronic form of dyspepsia accompanied with a headache every morning, and was very irritable most of the time. I could not sleep without taking a sleeping draught. While at first the pains in my stomach were slight, they kept growing worse, until finally the most wholesome food and drink would cause intense agony, and a few minutes after eating I would have to throw everything up. My doctor had been telling me for some time that coffee was hurting me but I did not believe it was true, for I saw many people drink coffee and thought I could.

Of course, in this condition I could not sustain my flesh and strength, and I lost in weight from 185 pounds down to 90 pounds, and became a perfect skeleton, starving to death in a land of plenty. I was confined to my bed and dying by inches. The Dr. told me there was no chance of my ever getting well as my stomach was worn out.

They had begun to wonder how many more days I would live. One day a lady friend called and told how wonderfully she had been helped out of stomach trouble and headaches by leaving off coffee and using Postum Food Coffee and Grape-Nuts Food. She went right to work and made me a nice cup of Postum and prepared a little Grape-Nuts. I dreaded the torture of taking anything into my stomach, but she coaxed me to take a spoonful of Postum and of Grape-Nuts. To my great surprise, I found that I did not have any pain to speak of in my stomach, and the food actually stayed down.

Everyone was completely mystified. In a little time afterward I drank three spoonfuls of the Postum and took a little more of the Grape-Nuts, and that stayed down and seemed to soothe my nerves and give me a restful feeling.

Soon after the doctor came in and my nurse told him that, for the first time in three weeks, food had stayed on the stomach. He could hardly believe her as he thought death was very near. Then he wanted to know what I had been eating and drinking. He took home some of the Grape-Nuts and Postum. The next day he said there was no mystery about it, as he had analyzed the samples and said he had found a pre-digested food, and one that would not hurt the stomach, and the Postum was the most natural drink he had ever seen. He said that it did not excite the nerves as did coffee, and that it was nourishing and built up the system instead of tearing it down. He had my nurse give me more of the Postum and Grape-Nuts and said there was one chance in ten that my system might be built up and my life be saved.

In less than a week's time I could drink half a cup of Postum at once, and how it did quiet my nerves and make me feel like I was getting some strength.

Six days after beginning Postum I went to sleep the first time in two months without taking a sleeping draught. So step by step I kept on improving. The headaches disappeared. My stomach became stronger each day and I gained steadily in weight.

At the end of four months I felt like a new person, and had gained fifty pounds in weight, could sleep well, eat plain food, and all in all, feel well and strong again.

My head is so clear that I can think better than I ever could, I know, and all of our friends know, that there is not the slightest doubt but that I would be in my grave to-day but for Postum Food Coffee and Grape-Nuts.

You can publish this account if you wish, but please only use my initials." Miss N. U., Sebastopol, Calif. Full name and address given to those interested upon application to the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL WORK

rusted that they were unsafe. New stoplog winches were also provided for the dam.

INCOME.

HASTINGS.

The removal of rock from the navigation channel was continued and completed, and now there is a navigation channel 80 feet wide with over 6 feet of water through it.
The length of the channel is 800 feet.

OTONABEE RIVER.

The shoal at the 'Yankee Bonnett' was removed and the new channel is greatly appreciated by the steamboat men. The channel is 80 feet wide and 700 feet in length, and has over 6 feet of water in it. From 3 to 4 feet of hard clay and hard-pan was removed from the bottom to make this channel.

BURLEIGH.

A new landing pier at the lower entrance to the lock was constructed. The substructure is cribwork and the upper work is of concrete. The piers are 150 long and 10 feet wide; the concrete superstructure is 7 feet base, 4 feet on top and 5 feet high. It is a great boom to navigation, as heretofore the snubbing ground was very inadequate.

LOVESICK.

A new landing pier 80 feet in length was constructed at the lower entrance to the lock. This pier was constructed wholly of concrete, and considerable of rock had to be blasted to provide a seat for this pier to rest on.

CAPITAL.

Construction—Section No. 1, Simcoe-Balsam Lake Division.—The contract for this section was awarded to Andrew Onderdonk, on April 22, 1895. The work on this section is almost completed but the finishing up has taken a very long time. The only work remaining to be done is the finishing of the small dam near Victoria Road Village, the placing of the concrete superstructure on the Victoria Road rest piers and some cleaning up of the bottom of the prism at several places. This work should be completed in a few weeks.

Section No. 1, Peterborough-Lakefield Division.—The contract for this section was awarded to Messrs. Brown, Love & Aylmer, on August 19, 1895. The work on this section is completed with the exception of completing the dredging of the channel for about 600 feet below the lock at Lakefield. This would have been completed sooner, but the dredge could not be obtained, as it was engaged by the Department of Public Works at Lindsay. This contract should be completed by the end of this season.

Section No. 2, Peterborough-Lakefield Division.—The contract for this work was awarded to Messrs. Corry & Laverdure on May 21, 1896. Progress on this contract has been very slow. Up to the end of June the necessary excavation for the lock pit was not completed. Only one concrete mixer was working at the hydraulic lock, and if the work is not pushed ahead much faster this contract will not be completed before the end of the next season. The excavation for the embarkment leading to the lock is only fairly well started; It will take many months yet, at the present rate of working, to complete the excavation for this embarkment. There are a number of points along this section at which the work is left unfinished. These unfinished pieces of work should be finished this season, and the only work remaining to be done will be the concrete walls and towers, and the excavation in connection with the hydraulic lock.

Press Wells.—The contract for the cavation and foundation of the press wells for the hydraulic lock was awarded to Messrs. Corry & Laverdure on January 15, 1900, and they were to be completed by the first of May last. Judging from the progress made up to June 30 it will be six months yet before the wells are completed.

Hydraulic Lock.—The contract for steel work in connection with the hydraulic lock was awarded to the Dominion Bridge Company. The date of completion of the contract was May 1, 1900, but till the contracts for the concrete and press walls in connection with this lock completed the work of erection cannot be gone on with. As stated above, the concrete walls and towers will not be completed much before the end of next season, therefore the work of erection of the steel work cannot go on till then. A considerable part of the steel work, including the cast steel sections for the press wells, has been delivered on the ground leased by the Government, and an advance has been paid to the contractors on the material delivered. The work of erection should not take over six months.

Trenton Division.—The surveys were made, the location of the works laid out, the plans and specifications prepared and the work advertised for letting, but the letting of the contract was postponed.

Port Hope Route.—From instructions received, surveys are being made for a line between Port Hope and Rice Lake with a view of a possible outlet for the canal into Lake Ontario. When the surveys are completed, plans and an estimate of the cost of this work will be made.

Plant.—The dredge Otonabee with dump and drill scows was continuously employed throughout the year. Up to the end of July the dredge was leased to Andrew Onderdonk for dredging the entrance to the canal at Balsam Lake. For about two months it was leased to Brown, Love & Aylmer for excavating the entrance to the canal at Lakefield. It was then employed till June 30 by the Department of Public Works in dredging the navigation channel in the Scugog river at Lindsay.

Tug 'Empire.'—The tug Empire has been fully employed throughout the year at hauling scows from the dredge, buoying out the navigation channel, delivering timber, gravel and stone for the various works of repair along the route.

COAL OIL FOUND

It is Said to Exist on a Farm Near Madoc, Belonging to Mr. L. Meyers

News has reached the Bureau of Mines of the discovery of pretroleum in the country north of Madoc. No definite information has been reached, but the people in the district where the strike is alleged are much interested. It is likely that the Department will send an expert to look into the matter. Prof. Courtny De Kalb who has lately been looking over the oil fields of Western Ontario for the government, may be chosen to conduct the investigations. The find was made on the farm of L. Meyers.

This only confirms what has already long been suspected, that this section is rich in petroleum. That it exists in Peterborough, there is abundant proof. Just how long it will be until some one will be found with enterprise enough to sink a well, it is dificult to say.

The
SPRING MEDICINE
IS
Hood's Sarsaparilla

In thousands and thousands of homes,—in cities, towns and villages,—three doses a day of this great medicine are now being taken by every member of the family.

In some homes, even the visitor is given a teaspoonful with every meal.

Why such wide and general use? Because Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved itself by its wonderful effects in cleansing the system of all humors, overcoming that tired feeling, creating appetite, clearing the complexion, giving strength and animation, the best of all Spring medicines, so that it is par excellence the Spring Medicine.

Take it.

"It is about twelve years since I first saw Hood's Sarsaparilla advertised, and we began using it as a Spring medicine. We have used it every year since with good results and I recommend it to others for impure blood and that tired feeling." MRS. I. STEWART, Claridge, Pa.

Accept No Substitute for Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart acts directly and quickly, stimulates the heart's action, stops most acute pain, dispels all signs of weakness, fluttering, sinking, smothering, or palpitation. SPORTS AND PASTIMES

HOCKEY.

Port Hope is ahead for the intermediate championship. In Cobourg on Monday evening the Port Hope team defeated the St. George's of Toronto by 6-5.

Cobourg people don't like their neighbors in Port Hope, and as a consequence they wore the colors of the Toronto team and yelled for St. George

"When it was all over," says the Toronto Telegram, "a Port Hope chap who was jumping up and down out of pure happiness, managed to jerk out between jumps, 'I dont care if you beat us 25 to 0 in Toronto. We've got Cobourg's money. I've got $65. Show me a hotelkeeper that ain't ag'in' us till I spend it.'"

Stop Losing Money

You Cannot Guess Winners

Horse races are "MIGHTY UNCERTAIN" things to bet on, if you depend on a GUESS to win, a thousand miles from the scene. Thousands have tried before you and have failed. The chances are a thousand to one you will fail too.

You Cannot Handicap Winners

Horses are not machines. They rarely repeat performances. Many of them look at the odds in the betting ring before they go to the post—that is, their owners do it for them. Horses do not always "try." They run for the benefit of their owners, not the public.

Be Advised by Experts on the Spot

Do what the plungers do. "Stand in." Get the best inside information direct from the track every morning that a shrewd combine of horsemen can secure for you. That is what is given its subscribers daily by the

LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE

The LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE is a combination of horse owners and trainers, now racing horses at the New Orleans race track, who have united for the purpose of profiting by the exclusive information at their command. The syndicate aims to send to its subscribers by telegraph every morning the names of two or three horses that are entered in the day's races, which will win, barring accidents alone.

THIS BEATS ALL

Among our many winners recently were SARILLA, 50 to 1, Jan. 9; CALLEUR, 10 to 1, Jan. 14; and AZLA, 10 to 1, Jan. 15.

Within a week our subscribers won more money following us than they did for six months prior following their own selections, if indeed they were not heavy losers before they joined our army of winners.

Cut this out and use it as authority on the manager of the Postal Telegraph office, No. 146 W. 42d Street, New York, to examine copy of our telegrams to subscribers filed each day this month at noon. Verify our Statement!

We hope this will convince all turfities that our subscribers are getting money, and that our sources of information are second to none in point of accuracy and reliability. Anything we average two selections per day. Anything we send can be bet on with confidence that the horse will "try" and that the owner is betting on him.

GOLD MINING CO.

Owning Big Horn Mountain Tunnel and Veneta Vein, 200 acres situated on the Western Slope of Pikes Peak, in the famous Cripple Creek Gold Mining District.

THE SAFEST OFFER EVER MADE TO INVESTORS.

It is printed on each certificate that subscribers to the above Preferred Shares will be entitled to receive in Dividends the full amount of money invested, before other stockholders receive any returns, signed by the President of the Company.

This district produced more Gold in 1900 than any other in the United States

This property consists of 3000 by 3000 feet, or 200 acres, of gold land. The vein has been worked. The feature of this mine is the Veneta Vein, 30 to 40 feet in width, and is certainly one of the strongest veins in this famous district. There are some fifteen openings on this vein, the ore from which assays in gold from $12 to $100 per ton. The property is advantageously located for development by tunnel, which will make it possible to produce an enormous amount of ore daily, the quantity varying from 200 to 500 tons per day. The development by TUNNELING is the most economical and advantageous manner of working this property.

At a distance of 800 feet the Tunnel will intersect the Veneta Vein at a depth of about 680 feet, and will also intersect several other veins. The tunnel will cut the Big Horn Mountain 2100 feet deep, and will give this company 2,000,000 tons of ore, worth over $20 per ton.

The new railroad, now practically completed from Colorado Springs, called the Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek road, passes within 2000 feet of this Tunnel.

Adjoining this property is the Colorado Springs TUNNEL Company. In this property at a depth of 400 feet, the Veneta Vein was cut. At this point the vein was fully 20 feet in width, and its value from $20 to $1000 per ton.

There are already in operation mills and smelters sufficient to treat the output of this property, which gives at once cash returns.

Capital Stock $1,000,000. Par Value $1.00 Per Share. 100,000 Shares Preferred Stock at 25c. Per Share.

In buying this stock the purchaser owns a direct title in the Company's property. This Company offers you no watered stock, but a legitimate high-grade gold-mining investment in the Cripple Creek District.

The above offer of Preferred Dividends is an assurance of early returns. After additional machinery is erected, this property will be earning dividends almost equal to its Capital Stock.

St. Petersburg Students Beaten by the Police and Trampled Under Foot

FOUR HUNDRED OF THEM PLACED UNDER ARREST

St. Petersburg, March 6.—To-day was the fortieth anniversary of the emancipation of the serfs. The students had been planning for some time to keep the day as a holiday, and perhaps make some demonstration. At noon a thousand or fifteen hundred men students and women students gathered in and around the Kansan Cathedral, where mass was being celebrated for the repose of the soul of Czar Alexander II. After the mass the students began singing and the police gathered in great numbers, including a force of mounted police. The students were surrounded and driven in a crowd towards the city hall not far away and also in the Nevsky Prospect. For no special reason the police began beating the students, and trampling them under the feet of their horses. The Nevsky Prospect, the principal street of St. Petersburg was filled with spectators, Banks and business houses were nearly all closed, with shutters fastened and doors locked. The spectators and the women students screamed with horror, but the police kept up their attack on the students, until four hundred of the latter were driven into the courtyard of the city hall, the others escaping into the crowd. The entire city was horrified by the conduct of the police. The police had been warned beforehand that twenty-five delegates from the various St. Petersburg higher educational institutions were arrested Friday night for meeting to consider student affairs. It is not known whether the four hundred students captured by the police to-day will be imprisoned, or whether the authorities will merely take their names.

Sixty-one new arrests were recently made at Kieff. The Government has wisely decided not to make a political affair out of the attempt made February 27th, by Peter Karpovich upon the life of the Minister of Public Instruction. Karpowich, who was formerly a student at Dorpat University, will be tried on March 20th by a court representing all classes of citizenship. The penalty of his crime will not exceed fifteen years' imprisonment.

Letter of Condolence

The following letter of condolence has been forwarded to the widow and family of the late John Hetherington, by Diamond L. O. L., No. 80:—

To Mrs. John Hetherington and Family: Respected Friends,—We, the members of Diamond L. O. L., No. 80, desire to convey to you our heartfelt sorrow in the loss of your beloved husband and kind father, and also our esteemed brother, John Hetherington.

We express our most earnest and sincere sympathy and condolence with each and every member of the family and, while we are sensible of the fact that your loss will be his gain, we cannot help but recall to memory the interest our deceased brother took in our beloved Order, ever ready to lend a helping hand when needed, ever anxious to promote the cause of our glorious institution, and in sickness was always an attentive visitor. Affliction seems to come to each and every household, to the rich and to the poor. Surely we must say, "In the midst of life we are in death." Yet there is a comforting thought for each of you, that the time is not far distant [illegible] you will meet him on the other side of Jordan, there to meet an unbroken family and to sing God's praises throughout eternity.

Dearest brother thou hast left us;
Here thy loss we deeply feel,
But 'tis God that bereft us
He can our sorrows heal.

Signed on behalf of the lodge,

A FALSE ACCUSATION AGAINST MACDONALD

British General Effectually Disposes of Miss Cronje's Charge

London, March 6.—In the statement made by Miss Ellie Cronje with reference to the burning of her father's house—statements which were given prominence by Mr. John Morley—there was one which it may be remembered reflected upon General Hectro Macdonald, the commander of the Highland Brigade.

According to the South African News of November 28, General Macdonald asked Miss Cronje what reasons she could give why the house should not be burned. "I said—'In the first place it is cruel to treat families as you are treating them, and in the second place what is to become of my poor mother? He said, 'Oh you must not think of your old mother now. when the house is burned you must go and live with the Kaffirs. You will like that won't you?'"

A correspondent has communicated with the General, who writing from Aliwal North on January 20th, has authorized him to communicate the flolowing facts:

Mrs. Cronje is not the wife of Gen. Cronje, but of A. P. Cronjee, a member of the Boer War Council, who is still in the field against the British. Mrs. Cronje's house was a centre of Boers meeting each other, and she and her family were known to be actively employed in obtaining and giving information to the commando in their immediate neighborhood. While marching to Winburg, General Macdonald passed the house and together with his staff had it searched, during which he cautioned the inmates against harboring Boers, and advised Miss Cronje to induce her father to return to his home and in the interest of the house, which otherwise be burned, to cease harboring the Boers or giving them any information.

The young lady then became very violent, saying her father was doing his duty, and that she and her mother would do theirs, and would live like Kaffirs if the house was burned, rather than submit to people who were making war on women and children. A young lady friend—from Capee Town it was believed—also spoke in the same strain.

The General's advice was thrown away, for some weeks afterwrads the house was burned, but not by General Macdonald, nor by his orders, nor by any of the troops under his command. It will be observed that it is her own words Miss Cronje imputes to General Hector Macdonald as having been uttered by him.

BRITISH OFFICER GOES ON STRIKE

Captain Scaife Absents Himself From Duty When Not Paid

London, March 6.—A most interesting court-martial is at present being tried at Devenport which is being closely watched by military men and the result of which will establish an important precedent. Captain George Spencer Scaife, of the 44th Border Regiment, who was one of the first militia officers to receive the Declaration of the Distinguished Service Order is being tried on a charge of desertion and disobedience of orders. He is the first officer who has been tried for generations on a cahrge of desertion.

Captain Scaife has a grievance against the Government. He had been granted leave of absence from December 6 till January 6, but on December 6 the officer commanding cancelled his leave, as Captain Scaife declined to pay his mess bill for November. On December 7 he absented himself from duty, and in reply to a letter asking for an explanation, stated that he declined any further duty while his pay was withheld. It was admitted that the officers of the battalion did no treceive their November pay until December 10. He left Youghal without receiving his pay on December 10, and his arrest followed. He has throughout denied that he was a deserter, and stated that his address was well known to the authorities.

He was of opinion on December 10 and January 1 that his pay was being illegally withheld, and as he had not received it he considered he was not liable for duty. The case is under consideration.

There was a young fellow named Ben,
Who wanted work badly., But when
He noted how quick
A Times Ad did the trick,
He said: "Never will I worry again."

TO VISIT CANADA SEPTEMBER NEXT

Programme of the Duke of Cornwall and York

TO REMAIN FOR 5 WEEKS

They Will Visit Halifax, Quebec, St. Johns, Vancouver and Other Places

London, March 6.—The official programme of the Duke of Cornwall and York's colonial visits gives his arrival at Halifax for September 16. He will leave Halifax September 17, arriving at Quebec September 20 and leaving there October 17. He will arrive at St. John's October 22 and leave there October 25 and arrive at Portsmouth November 1st. The present intention of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York appears to be to go to Vancouver overland between September 20 and October 17, possibly passing through the United States on a part of their return journey.

A PROSPEROUS INSTITUTION.

Second Annual Statement of the Toronto General Trusts Corporation.

We congratulate the management of the Toronto General Trusts Corporation on the result of the year's operations, as shown by the statement which was submitted at the annual meeting of the shareholders on Wednesday last. The report of the directors showed a very satisfactory year's business. The subscribed Capital stock of the corporation is $1,000,000, of which there has been paid up to 31st December last the sum of $906,720, leaving two instalments of 10 per cent. each due on the partially paid stock at that date. The last instalment falls due on the 19th March, and when received the paid-up capital stock will be $1,000,000, and the reserve fund $250,000, thus furnishing the clients of the corporation, in addition to the specific investments held for each estate, security to the extent of $1,250,000 for the proper performance of all duties entrusted to the corporation.

The profit and loss statement, which has reference only to the capital funds of the corporation, shows that the net profits for the year, including the balance from 1899, amount to $89,658.20, out of which there has been paid two semi-annial dividens on the paid-up stock of the corporation, at the rate of 7 1-2 per cent. per annum, amounting to $57,036.54. The Directors have also, out of the net profits, written off from the cost of the corporation's building the sum of $15,000, and from the vault fixtures and furniture $3,102.54, and have placed to interest reserve the sum of $6,000, leaving $8,519.17 to be carried forward to the credit of profit and loss.

The contingent fund of $163,000, which was set apart at amalgation to meet ascertained and contemplated losses, has been dealt with by the board during the year, and the loans for which such provisions was made have been written down to the full extent of the funds thus set apart, and the contingent account has been fully closed out.

Not infrequently surprise is expressed at the comparatively small net profits of the corporation, with assets under its care exceeding $70,000,000. In that connection the directors point out, that the profits upon funds invested for beneficiaries belong to them, and not to the corporation, which only receives a percentage commission for its care and trouble in connection with the investment of the money and the collection of interest. The Toronto General Trusts Corporation strictly confines itself to the performance of the duties devolving on it as trustee, executor, administrator, agent, and such kindred offices, receiving for the anministration of the same such compensation only as the court allows it, or as may be arranged with the parties interested. It eliminates from its transactions every undertaking of a speculative character, no matter how profitable it may promise to be, and it assumes no guarantees of any description except of securities coming strictly within the scope of the Trustee Investment Act.

Recognizing the paramount importance of a continuous and systematic inspection of the books and securities of a corporation charged with the execution of trusts and care of estates, the by-laws of the corporation provide (in the addition as Inspection Committee, comprising three members of the directorate. This committee in the discharge of its duties becomes cognizabt of ever act of the Executive Committee, as recorded in the minute book. In order that the shareholders and the interested public may have aknowledge of the thoroughness with which the inspections by this committee are conducted, their annual report, which is supplementary to the reports submitted by them at each quarterly board meeting is appended to the directors report, and is published on another page of this issue.

The directors record with deep regret the death during the year of two old and valued members of the board—Mr. Samuel Alcorn, who was appointed to the directorate in 1896, and served continuously until his death, and the Hon. Sir Frank Smith, Senator, who became a member of the board in 1889. Both of thes edeceased directors left large estates, and showed their appreciation of the objects of the corporation and their confidence in its management by appointing it their executors and trustees.

"PAINFUL INCIDENTS" IN THE BRITISH ARMY

"The new Secretary of War, Mr. Brodrick, is illustrating a number of officers cers for 'painful incidents' in this war. Is this wise? Experts say that a certain percentage of soldiers invariably lose their heads when the first come under fire, even though, when seasoned, they may become brave. Frederick the Great ran away from his first battle, though it was a victory for his army. Mr. Brodrick would inevitably have cashered him. There were cases of panic, one very marked, and notable, at Waterloo; but Wellington, with his usual good sense, forbade particular enquiries when things in general had gone well. A shadow is cast upon the reputation of the whole army by these exposures. Some less scandalous way of weeding out incomtetence might surely have been found. We are reminded of the fate of Admiral Byng, who was shot as Voltaire said, 'to encourage the others.' The British have failed to see that the course of their reverses was not weakness on their own part, but the desperate valour of a gallant enemy, who was fighting for his country and his home."

COLTS VS. NORWOOD

The Visitors Defeated Last Night by a Score of 14-3

In the hockey match last night Norwood showed that the Trent Valley League is composed of some pretty strong hockey teams, judging by the result of the game. Although the score was 14-3 in Peterborough's favor—a pretty good margin—taking into consideration the fact that the Bellevilles were snowed under, the Frontenacs of Kingston defeated 15-3, Barrie 21-0 and last year's champions, the Stratford 12-0, the Norwood boys made a very creditable showing and one that they may feel proud of. They are supposed to be the strongest team in the the Trent Valley League, though their game with Fenelon Falls will decide which of the two are champions. The game was played to form an idea of the merits of hockey played by the two leagues. It was clean and swift from start to finish and the spectators saw a good exhibition of hockey. In the first half Norwood scored 2 goals to the Colt's 7, and in the second half they tallied another, while Peterborough made another 7, making the score 14-3 in favor of the Colts. Norwood's weak spot was their inability to shoot accurately when occasions offered themselves. Rollie Glover refereed the game to the satisfaction of both teams.

The Colts had their regular team, with the exception of Elmer Smith, who is not yet in a position to play. Wally Robinson played in his place satisfactorily, The names of the Colts were as follows: Goal—Brundrette; point, Cavanagh; cover point, Armstrong; forwards, Robinson, Whitcroft, Morgan and King.

UNSEEMLY ATTACK ON LORD WOLSELEY

His Exposure of Lansdowne Has Aronsed the Ire of the Latter

CASTS THE BLAME FOR MISTAKES ON OTHERS

London, March 6.—The House of Lords is as a rule the most unemotional body in the world, but the Lansdowne-Wolseley controversy stirred it out of its apathy. Lord Lansdowne's reply to Lord Wolseley was a most scathing personal denunciation of Lord Wolseley, and goes on record as one of the most severe accusations of incompetency in Parliamentary annals. He said Lord Wolseley might have enabled the Government to turn to better account the auxiliary forces of the country. He might have told the Government before the war that Ladysmith was not a suitable military station. He might have prepared schemes for defensive and offensive operations. The War Office system might have been changed to advantage in details; but the main principle of enabling the Secretary to get advice from his experts at first hand he was not willing to give up. The failures in South Africa were not due to the system, but to the fact that it was not faithfully carried out. Upon the eve of his departure from the War Office the Marquis said he had considered a military note which Lord Wolseley had addressed to Lord Salisbury upon the subject. He found, to his surprise, that Lord Wolseley, in ennumerating his duties, had omitted that he was responsible for the mobilization of the army, for the Intelligence Department, and for the preparation of plans of offence and defence. He flatly charged Lord Wolseley for responsibility for the selecting of Ladysmith as a military base and with advising the Government that one army corps of 40,000 men was sufficient to subdue the Boers.

ROSEBERRY'S DEFENCE.

Lord Roseberry defended Lord Wolseley. He said the members had witnessed the public-spirited efforts of General Lord Wolseley to call attention to the defects he had found in the working of the present system of administration in the War Office, and in reply they had Lord Lansdowne's unseemly attack on Gen. Wolseley. He cordially agreed with Lord Wolseley that he had been but a pale shadow behind the Secretary of State for War, but he did not agree with Lord Wolseley that the Secretary when he differed with the commander-in-chief, should appeal to the public.

Lord Salisbury said the commander-in-chief must be subordinate to the Secretary of War, and thought that the supremacy of the commander-in-chief would not solve the difficulty.

Lord Wolseley, in reply, said he was surprised at the personal attack upon himself. He hoped that in justice to him, Lord Salisbury would lay on the table the memorandum by him upon which comment had been made, and also a full statement of the circumstances under which the memorandum had been presented.

A PARALLEL INCIDENT.

A parallel case to that related by Lieut. Morrison was described by Mr. T. F. Best, recently a Y. M. C. A. representative in South Africa, while in conversation with a party of friends on his visit to Stratford the other day. He remarked that when soldiers saw comrades fall by ones, twos and threes and had to lay them away in the grave and see their ranks gradually thinned, largely owing to the shelter and aid afforded by these Boer houses, they were apt to hold very grim and practical views regarding the burning of these places, which were actually in numerous cases arsenals and provision depots for the Boers.

Mr. Best instanced one place which had been suspected, and he had accompanied a party of scouts sent to investigate. After the usual wary approach, they found the women in possession and enquired where the men were. One was said to be in England, another in Europe or on the way there on business, and another at Delagoa Bay; none with the Boer armies of course. They stiffly denied that there were any arms or ammunition about the place, but experience taught the military party the folly of accepting such statements without investigation. A painstaking search revealed six rifles carefully hidden, but no ammunition could be found high or low. Finally suspicion fell on one of the women, who it was noticed never stirred from her seat. She was made to rise, and concealed under the stool and folds of her dress were discovered several thousand rounds of ammunition. The soldiers, Mr. Best said, felt no regrets as the place went up in smoke, and had no sympathy for the treacherous woman.

Our soldiers' lives are dear to themselves and to the British people, and no true Britisher can forget his sympathies with them in compassion for a people whose conduct of war is marked by dense obstinacy and persistent treachery.

A GLOWING PROSPECT.

Hon. George A. Cox used some big figures at the annual meeting of the Crow's Nest Coal Company. He said it was estimated that there are 20,000,000,000 tons of coal in the 250,000 acres of the Company's coal lands, which would furnish an output of 10,000 tons per day for 6,000 years of 300 days each. The British Columbia smelters take 300 tons of coke per day, and the Company has $835-000 ready to spend to increase the daily output to 6,000 tons per day. Senator Cox wants a railway to the south to open up the United States market for coal and coke, and he suggests that the proper place to smelt and refine the British Columbia lead ores is at Fernie, where the coal mines are located. That would save the cost of transporting the coke, and the refined product would be nearer the consuming market. Under such an arrangement, the cars that carry coal or coke towards the Pacific coast would come back loaded with ore or matte, and the haulage of empty cars would be avoided. That ought to be a good scheme for the Canadian Pacific. There is plenty of limestone adjacent to the coal mines, and the dry ores necessary for mixing could be brought from the United States in the cars that had carried coal to the south. Senator Cox declares that there is no point south of the boundary so well adapted for the establishment of a great smelting industry as Fernie is, and he promises to build up a city as large as Butte, if Parliament will permit the construction of the railway, which needs no subsidy to ensure its completion.

EDITORIAL NOTES

That kicking about the American mule in this Boer trouble is consistent. It starts from the rear end of the war.

The alien labor law has been the subject of discussion in Parliament. It is quite clear the law on the Canadian statute books is a dead letter. The United States law, as first passed, was never intended to interfere with the passage of individual mechanics, clerks, etc., back and forth across the lines. The object was to prevent the importation of Huns, Poles, etc., to work in the Pennsylvania coal mines. But the demagogues took to enforcing it against Canadians, and the authorities on this side of the line have not nerve enough to meet them on their own ground.

Three Meals
a Day.

How many years of her life does a woman spend over the hot cook stove getting those three meals a day? Back aching, head throbbing, nerves twitching, it's all the same, there are three meals a day to be prepared. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cannot lighten woman's labor, but it can and does increase her strength. It cures those diseases of the womanly organs which undermine woman's vitality.

"I cannot praise Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription too highly as a tonic for tired, worn-out women who are afflicted with female weakness," writes Mrs. Ira W. Holmes, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. "It has helped me very much and a skillful physician once said to me in answer to my question as to its efficacy, 'I know of cases where it has really worked wonders.'"

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do not re-act upon the system. They are a good thing to keep in the house. One 'Pellet' is a laxative, two a cathartic dose. The medicine for every woman.

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RAPID SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. One agent sold 68 in one day. Sample and terms 25 cts (none free); four for 80 cts; $1.75 per dozen; 25 for $3.25; 50 for $6.00; 100 for $11.00 Write to day for a dozen and make money. THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Salida copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims,—The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Salida, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Salida. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of the city; and last, but by no means least, the Sunshine, located two miles east of Salida at Cleora station, on the main Trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

BREAKFAST—SUPPER

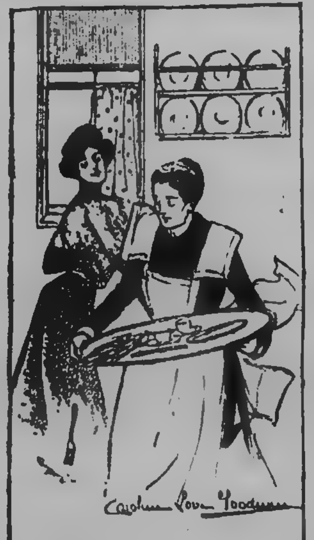
THE SUPERSTITIONS.

SOME OF THE WHIMS BOTH MEN AND WOMEN RESPECT.

Cut the Nails Before Breakfast, Monday—White Horses and No Red Headed Woman is Good Luck—Umbrellas May Bring Trouble.

There is much discussion now whether man or woman is the more superstitious, and statistics are being collected by some would be accurate individuals to prove one side or the other. The latest report is that the men are more superstitious, but it must be understood that this investigation is not conducted with the strictest oversight, and there may be some flaws in it.

There is a growing superstition in favor of cutting the nails before breakfast on Monday morning in order to obtain a present before the week is out. This may truthfully be called a popular superstition, and would seem to be an easy one. Unfortunately within the last two months a serious controversy has been raised as to which is the correct shoulder over which the new moon should be seen in order to bring good luck. One certain rule, however, is that "to see the moon in your breast for a month you'll know no rest." In other words, it is not well to meet the moon face to face—in fact, it is only one degree less dangerous than to see it first through glass. The superstition of kissing the hand to the moon seven times and making three wishes while so doing does away with a great deal of evil of seeing the moon over the wrong shoulder, and, besides, the three wishes may come true. Indeed, they are more likely to than "wishing on a load of hay," which, in case you do not see the load again, means fulfilment of the wish.



Dropping a Fork—Expecting a Gentleman Visitor

Certainly, if one carries out many of the petty superstitions when living in a crowded city one will lead a lively life. To see three white horses in succession and no red headed woman is a forerunner of good luck. The latter untoward incident, however, can be done away with if a wish is made and then one turns around three time in succession. But all this has the disadvantage of tending to make one conspicuous in a crowded street. Still, it can be accomplished quietly by the use of a little tact and a great deal of sublime unconsciousness of surroundings.

To open an umbrella in the house means to bring down a shower of trouble for the family in the house as well as for the individual who opens the umbrella. Even in choosing an umbrella or a parasol in a shop care must be taken to open it from the side and not up and down, for it is far better to buy an inferior silk than to run the certain risk of ill luck that will follow opening a new umbrella and holding it over one's head inside of any building.

Going under a ladder in the street really means a criminal risk of one's future, not to speak of the present danger that the ladder may fall. To step with the right foot first on entering for the first time a new house will insure such a happy life that it would seem foolish not to take the trouble. In visiting for the first time at a strange house it behooves the guest to name the four corners of the bed with the name of some one of the opposite sex, and the first corner that is looked at in the morning will be the future bride or groom as the case may be. The fact of being already married does not interfere with this, for it is known that second marriages are lucky. Salt spilt at the table was formerly considered very dangerous, serving as a warning that a quarrel would take place between the two people seated beside one another unless a pinch of the salt was thrown over the right shoulder. But to throw a pinch of salt over the right shoulder is tempting fate (since it is a preventive of matrimony), so it is now necessary to carry the salt three times around one's head and then throw it over the left shoulder. Thus one may avert disaster, but the custom makes one somewhat conspicuous at a dinner.

Amulets and charms of all kinds are far more fashionable now than they ever were, which seems to prove that as the world advances people grow more superstitious or attach more importance to antidotes. The four leafed clover has made a very pretty pendant in silver or glass or the crystal locket with the tiny gold rim, and has been every bit as popular as the rabbit's foot set in silver, which was supposed to ward off any possible evil from the wearer thereof. Really, from a truthful point of view, the rabbit's foot has proved sadly inefficacious, for very few of the rabbits' feet that have been sold for charms have ever been correctly gathered, so to speak, in a graveyard, at the dead of night, from the left hind foot of a rabbit, by one who was the seventh son of a seventh son, because the demand for rabbits' feet came so strenuously that it was absolutely impossible to supply the market with those which had all the virtues necessary in order to secure the desired results.

The jewelled box of the fashionable woman of to-day holds no end of dainty charms and amulets, the charm and meaning of which are often known to herself and to one other, but from which it would be harder to part her than from her diamonds and pearls. The new kind of bracelet, from which hangs the charm in the shape of an open wheel of blue enamel, with numerals inside in diamond letters, like a date of two figures (not the day of the month or anything of that sort), is very effective and pretty as bijouterie, for it has much more to recommend it in the eyes of the owner than its mere beauty. It means that that is the date when good luck comes to her, that it is her lucky number in everything and as such must needs be considered. The expense of this little ornament is considerable, but the superstitious say it is well worth it.

Wearing the stone that is supposed to be, or is acknowledged to be, the stone of the month in which one is born is another of the expensive superstitions, but it is an infallible one and it seems worth while investing in even a minute sapphire, or ruby, or emerald, as the case may be. Much better luck attends any one who can have a birth stone given him or her rather than to buy it. In the matter of opals, the fact of their being birth stones does away with their ill luck, and the jewellers are very positive now that it is perfectly safe to order opals, even if they are not one's birth stone, provided one's birth stone is also bought at the same time. It certainly sounds plausible, if it does savor of good business methods.

That pearls mean tears has been acknowledged for centuries, but it is now accepted that they may mean happy tears and it is good luck indeed to own a string of pearls; only they must be worn all the time, so that they will partake of the owner's characteristics and absorb all the evils that might overtake her if she did not wear them. Either the perfect salt water expensive pearl or the fresh water (or what are known as the irregular) pearls are now most eagerly sought for as pendants. They are set with tiny diamond sprays around them and worn on a platinum chain. Like the string of pearls, they must be worn all the time in order to avert misfortune.

A very curious thing in regard to all these pendants and amulets is that the imitations are said to be absolutely useless from a superstitious point of view. Fortunately, they are so charmingly decorative that it is possible to wear them, for, if they do not bring good luck, they indicate good fortune in possessing them, the same as any other knickknack.

The new card playing craze, or rather the craze for bridge whist, has not proved so productive of the necessity for queer charms as the American passion for poker. Women who go in for playing poker have always a mascot about them in the shape of some queer little charm, preferably a Japanese one in gold or bronze. Just what there is about a Japanese charm bringing good luck in poker has not yet been solved, but, then, who solves any superstition? Wearing tiny hearts made of a single stone set in a fine gold rim and worn on a small gold chain will bring good luck in all matters to do with the heart; furthermore these are very good little ornaments and will be fashionable for some time to come.

Any family heirloom in the shape of a single jewel, be the jewel what it will, must now be set as a pendant and worn all the time. This will pervert any traditionary curse that may follow in the family's fortunes and often leads to some legacy. Worn as pendants on chains or bracelets, these jewels have in themselves intrinsic value and are very decorative, so that it is not altogether a passing fancy that has rifled so many old jewel boxes lately.

To wear a charm of a black cat with yellow eyes made of topaz will do away with all the evil that might ensue were a black cat to cross your path. But the charm would fail entirely if a black cat comes to the house with the intention of remaining and is sent away, for to send a black cat away from a house means bad luck for seven years, and this is one of the superstitions that has been thoroughly proved. These charms can be made exceedingly pretty as a bracelet.

Every Sunday the father comes down town to be shaved, and as the daughter supposes, to attend church. A few Sundays ago he returned home just before the 1 o'clock dinner hour. Instantly the little tot was on his knee asking for a kiss. As her request was granted she said knowingly:

"Daddy, this is communion Sunday isn't it?"

"No, my child," was the paternal answer. "Communion Sunday doesn't come for two weeks yet. Why did you think so, dear?"

"'Cause," answered Miss Wisdom, "your breff smells jes like it did once before when you said it was communion Sunday."

"Oh, yes my darling. I think your mother is calling."—Kansas City Star

"I am here, gentlemen," explained a pickpocket to his fellow-prisoners, "as a result of a moment of abstraction."

"And I," said the incendiary, "because of an unfortunate habit of making light of things."

"And I," chimed in the forger, "on account of a simple desire to make a name for myself."

"And I," added the burglar, "through nothing but taking advantake of an opening which offered in a large mercantile establishment in town."

Nervousness and Nerve.

The more nervous a man is, the less nerve he has. That sounds paradoxical—but it isn't; for nerve is stamina.

Hood's Sarsaparilla gives nerve. It tones the whole system, perfects digestion and assimilation, and is therefore the best medicine a nervous person can take.

If you get tired easily, mentally or physically, take it—it will do you good.

The stove industry in the Philippine Islands has made not the least progress during the last three or four centuries. Heating stoves are practically unknown there, and the cooking stoves are of the most primitive and at the same time peculiar construction. They consist of a large bowl of unglazed clay, resting upon a foot shaped like a smaller bowl turned upside down. Part of the upper rim of the large bowl is raised and turned upward. At the ends of the two flaps are conical projections, and a third one extends from the raised rim, half way between the two flaps. These three projections form a rest for the kettle, which is also made of burnt clay, and is unglazed. The fire is built in the large bowl, and there being a space of over an inch between the kettle and the sides of the bowl, the flames can freely play around the bottom and the sides of the kettle. In excavating for the foundations of a new building to be erected by the United States government in Manila the workingmen found many stoves of the same construction, and in the ruins of the former city, which was destroyed by an earthquake in 1600. The stove was brought to Chicago from Manila by a United States army surgeon and presented to the Art Institute. It probably will be turned over to the Field Museum.

To fully realize the folly of superstition you have only to sleep on a piece of wedding cake and then dream of snakes.

The sale is unprecedented. The presses are running day and night to fill the orders. Twelve carloads of paper were required for the last edition. Small fortunes are being made by the thrifty with this marvelous work. Contains also a Child's story beautifully written to fit each picture. The wonderful book, matchless in its purity and beauty, appeals to every mothers' heart and in every Christian home, where there are children it sells itself. A Christian man or woman can soon clear one thousand dollars ($1,000) taking orders in this community. Others are doing this. Why not you? We are advertising in nearly ten thousand newspapers in this country, Canada, England, and Australia. Shipping books to every English-speaking country in the world. We shall promote our best workers to positions of State Managers, Correspondents and Office Assistants. We also own and publish large Photo-gravure Etchings of the Great Paintings in the Galleries of Europe. One or more of these Etchings can be sold in every home. By carrying the book and the engravings your success will be tremendous. Mrs. Waite, of Worcester, Mass., has sold nearly four thousand dollars worth of books there. Mrs. Sackett has sold nearly two thousand dollars worth of books in New York. Both of these ladies answered our advertisement, and had never sold a book before. Took 14 orders first two days—H. Colwell, Took 5 orders first day; 23 orders first week, clearing over $50—Hattie Lemwell. Thousands of others like above. It is printed on velvet-finished paper; bound in Cardinal Red, Green and Gold and adorned with Golden Roses and Lillies. Write quickly for terms as the territory is going rapidly. When you prove your success, we will promote you to the position of Manager and Correspondent under yearly contract.

We shall soon move into our new and elegant structure to be occupied solely by us, and to be known as the Light of the World Building. Address

Big Four Con. G. M. Co.

LIMITED

Mines one mile west of Rossland, directly west of the Le Roi No. 1 and Le Roi No. 2. Four properties. All Crown granted.

THE LeRoi No. 1 once sold for 2 cents and went to $45 per share; and the Le Roi No. 2 £5 shares went to £23, or $110 per share in a few months.

Our memorandum of association contains a provision, provided by Section 56 of the Companies Act, 1897, that the shares are issued as Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable, and that no further liability beyond the amount actually paid upon shares shall attach to the holders thereof. Capital $250,000.

Our properties are now proved (both above and below ground) to have the same continuous ore veins as the LeRoi Companies, and have the same identical ore and our shares are well worth TWENTY FIVE CENTS now, and will surely bring fifty cents. And we can, with a very small capital, develop our property to such an extent that it can also be placed on the London market, where it belongs—and small investors will make a good profit by buying now.

Our assays have averaged from $5 to $800 in gold, copper and silver and the shipping facilities are the best. The Great Northern Railway runs three times through the ground, three smelters close at hand, and reduced charges of $4.50 per ton for shipping and smelting, and we are now getting ready to start shipping ore.

Irrespective of the merits of the BIG FOUR, we have now over 570,000 shares in our treasury and free from all incumbrance. We are amongst the few local companies that has complied with the law in every particular, and we venture to say have

Thus the management has no regrets to offer, and you by subscribing will have none.

200 Feet More of Tunnel Work Now Under Way.

And it is too bad that we should suffer from the wrong doing of others, but we have, or this would never have to be advertised, and we propose, in the future as we have in the past, to do well and fear no ill. Let them do better who like.

James Lawler, Sec., Rossland, B. C.

LARGE ORE BODY NOW IN SIGHT. This is the last opportunity to buy our treasury shares for development purposes, and stock certificates will be sent at the following sacrifice prices: 200 shares for $20; 500 shares for $45; 1000 shares for $80, and 2000 shares for $150. Send in your orders at once.

The Aristos GOLD MINING CO.

Owning Big Horn Mountain Tunnel and Veneta Vein, 200 acres situated on the Western Slope of Pike's Peak, in the famous Cripple Creek Gold Mining District.

THE SAFEST OFFER EVER MADE TO INVESTORS.

It is printed on each certificate that subscribers to the above Preferred Shares will be entitled to receive in Dividends the full amount of money invested, before other stockholders receive any returns, signed by the President of the Company.

This district produced more Gold in 1900 than any other in the United States

This property consists of 3000 by 3000 feet, or 200 acres, of gold land. The mine has been worked. The feature of this mine is the Veneta Vein, 30 to 40 feet in width, and is certainly one of the strongest veins in this famous district. There are some fifteen openings on this vein, the ore from which assays in gold from $12 to $100 per ton. The property is advantageously located for development by tunnel, which will make it possible to produce an enormous amount of ore daily, the quantity varying from 200 to 500 tons per day. The development by TUNNELING is the most economical and advantageous manner of working this property.

At a distance of 800 feet the Tunnel will intersect the Veneta Vein at a depth of about 680 feet, and will also intersect several other veins. The tunnel will cut the Big Horn Mountain 2100 feet deep, and will give this company 2,000,000 tons of ore, worth over $20 per ton.

The new railroad, now practically completed from Colorado Springs, called the Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek road, passes within 2000 feet of this Tunnel.

Adjoining this property is the Colorado Springs TUNNEL Company. In this property at a depth of 400 feet, the Veneta Vein was cut. At this point the vein was fully 20 feet in width, and its value from $20 to $1000 per ton.

There are already in operation mills and smelters sufficient to treat the output of this property, which gives at once cash returns.

Capital Stock $1,000,000. Par Value $1.00 Per Share. 100,000 Shares Preferred Stock at 25c. Per Share.

In buying this stock the purchaser owns a direct title in the Company's property. This Company offers you no watered stock, but a legitimate high-grade gold-mining investment in the Cripple Creek District.

The above offer of Preferred Dividends is an assurance of early returns. After additional machinery is erected, this property will be earning dividends almost equal to its Capital Stock.

A HOUSE BURNED

House on Patterson Street Totally Destroyed by Fire

About 11.30 yesterday morning, just after the Times had gone to press, a fire broke out in a frame dwelling house at No. 80 Patterson street, the property of the Chamberlen estate, and occupied by Mr. F. Adlum and family. A blaze that had been started about two o'clock had been extinguished and Mr. Adlum and family went to his father's house on Sherbrooke street for the night. About 4 o'clock they were apprised that the house was again on fire. Remembering the first blaze, and fearing serious results, Mr. Adlum hastened to the alarm on Sherbrooke street, but it proved defective. He then telephoned, but the fire had gained great headway by the time the fighters arrived. Their efforts to save the building were futile.

WEDDING BELLS

Marriage of Miss Belleghem and Mr. F. W Waldon

A very interesting event took place yesterday afternoon at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Belleghem, 583 Bethune street, when their daughter, Miss Annie E., was united in marriage to Mr. F. W. Waldon, organist of the George Street Church. Rev. J. P. Wilson tied the nupital knot, in the presence of a number of intimate friends of the contracting parties, in the centre of a bower of artistically arranged flowers.

The bride, who was escorted and given away by her father, was assisted by her sister, Miss Clara Belleghem. Rev. W. W. Wagg, assistant pastor of the Charlotte Street Church, performed a like service for the groom. The bride's gown of white organdie was very becoming. She carried a beautiful bouquet of white roses. Miss Clara Belleghem wore a dress of white organdie over blue, and her bouquet was of pink roses.

After the wedding ceremony a sumptuous wedding dinner was partaken of at which many pleasant and congratulatory comments were made by the company assembled. A telegram conveying their hearty congratulations was received from Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Shorey, of Napanee, during the discussion of the repast.

Mr. and Mrs. Waldon left by the 4.46 C. P.R. train upon a wedding trip to Toronto and other points west. Upon returning they will take up residence on George street.

The large number of presents received bore ample testimony of the popularity of the bride. Among them were a handsome china tea set and chair from the George Street Church, and a bouquet of orange blossoms from her uncle, Prof. John Moore, of Los Angeles, Cal. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful gold pin, and his gift to the bridesmaid a pretty souvenir spoon. A fine gold pin was presented to the bridesmaid by the groomsman. The Times extends its hearty congratulations.

GOOD CUSTOMER.

Three Year Old Boy.

The right kind of food will work wonders in the way of changing a sick person to a healthy one, and by the same rule keep a person in good health.

Arthur W. Fanning, 14 Throop St., Chicago, Ill., had such a remarkable experience himself with Grape-Nuts Food, that he recommended it to a friend for his child for whom the parents were unable to find food that would agree.

It was supposed the child's stomach had been ruined by the use of medicines. When he was put on Grape-Nuts he began to improve and Mr. Fanning says, "I will wager that, although he is but three years old now, he is the best single handed customer the Postum Cereal Co., have to-day. He has become big and strong, and is in perfect condition. I have received thanks many times from his mother for bringing Grape-Nuts Food to their attention. The whole family are using the food now.

My own experience was remarkable I had for years a stomach trouble, I got so I could not eat anything for breakfast except an orange; all solid food and meat being out of the question.

When I was induced to take on Grape Nuts I did so with fear and trembling, but found out, to my pleasure and surprise, and great benefit to my health, that I had a food I could hold on my stomach, and could do a good forenoon's work.

I have not had a headache since using Grape-Nuts food, and in one year I have gained 16 pounds. I am so much of an advocate of the food that people suspect me of being interested in the Co. I have won over a number of friends who are now using it, and speak in the highest terms of it.

Grape-Nuts Food wins its own way without any trouble. It can be borne by the weakest stomach, and contains the strongest food elements known.

Lindsay Free From Smallpox

The Times has been requested to publish the following: So many rumors are floating about the country as to the presence of smallpox in Lindsay that the citizens and business men of the town desire through the press to give the report a most emphatic denial. The fact is, one case came here from Sudbury some twelve days ago. The patient left town of his own accord two days later, and went to the smallpox hospital in Toronto where he now is. The hotel in which he lived during his brief stay here was promptly closed and disinfected, and no new cases have developed from the presence of the solitary case. Other hotels are running as usual and full of guests.

Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and kindred ailments, take wings before the healing qualities of South American Nervine. He has recommended it to others with gratifying results. It's a great nerve builder.—12

SPORTS AND PASTIMES

HOCKEY.

Mr. E. S. Clarry will make his debut in the hockey arena to-morrow night, when he will uphold the honor of the Zac-Bunt Camp. He has many lady admirers and no doubt he will play a very sensational game, but his friends advise him to mix discretion with valour, for he must remember he is not playing with infants but will be facing the notorious Pig Iron Tigers.

It is more than possible that there will be a large number of sorrowful and weeping maidens next day when the good old Tac-Bunters are carried down to the cemetery, but as the Pig Iron men are after the trophy, they are not at all particular as to the number of corpses they leave in their wake.

Stop Losing Money

You Cannot Guess Winners

Horse races are "MIGHTY UNCERTAIN" things to bet on, if you depend on a GUESS to win, a thousand miles from the scene. Thousands have tried before you and have failed. The chances are a thousand to one you will fail too.

You Cannot Handicap Winners

Horses are not machines. They rarely repeat performances. Many of them look at the odds in the betting ring before they go to the post—that is, their owners do it for them. Horses do not always "try." They run for the benefit of their owners, not the public.

The LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE is a combination of horse owners and trainers, now racing horses at the New Orleans race track, who have united for the purpose of profiting by the exclusive information at their command. The syndicate aims to send to its subscribers by telegraph every morning the names of two or three horses that are entered in the day's races, which will win, barring accidents alone.

The Toronto General Trusts Corporation

The second annual meeting of the shareholders of the Toronto General Trusts Corporation (being the nineteenth of the Toronto General Trusts Company) was held in the board room of the corporation on the corner of Yonge and Colborne streets, Toronto, on Wednesday, the 27th February. There were present:—John Hoskin, Esq., K.C., Hon S. C. Wood, Mr. W. H. Beatty, the Hon. Mr. Justice Maclennan, Messrs. Walter Barwick, K.C., John L. Blaikie, E. H. Bickford, B. E. Bull, R. K. Burgess, James Davey, Dr. Digby (Brantford), J. J. Foy, K.C., Robert Jaffray William Gordon, Henry Gooderham, Edward Galley, E. R. Greig, John Gowans, Alfred Hoskin, K.C., J. J. Kenny, A. B. Lee, Thos. Long, J. W. Langmuir, A. D. Langmuir, W. D. Matthews, E. T. Malone, K.C., Donald Mackay, Alexander Nairn, S. Nordheimer, Thomas Paterson, George Porter, T. Sutherland Stayner, J. G. Scott, K.C., and R. S. Schell.

Mr. J. W. Langmir, the Managing Director, acted as Secretary and submitted the statements, showing the operations of the corporation for the year ended 31st December, 1900.

The report of the Direstors for the year was then read, as follows:—

Your Directors beg to submit the Second Annual Report of the Toronto General Trusts Corporation (being the nineteenth of the Toronto General Trusts Company), accompanied by the usual financial statements showing results of the corporation's business for the year ended 31st December, 1900.

The subscribed capital stock of the corporation if $1,000,000, of which there has been paid up to 31st December last the sum of $906,720, leaving instalments of 10 per cent. each due on the partially-paid stock at that date. The last instalment falls due on the 19th March, and when received the paid-up capital stock will be $1,000,000, and the Reserve Fund $250,000, thus furnishing the clients of the corporation, in addition to the specific investments held for each estate, security to the extent of $1,250,000 for the proper performance of all the duties entrusted to the corporation.

The profit and loss statement, herewith submitted (which has reference only to the capital funds of the corporation) shows the revenues for the year and the sources from which they were derived, and the charges against the same for management and all other outlays. It will be seen that the net profits for the year, including the balance from 1899, amount to $89,658.20, out of which there has been paid two semi-annual dividends on the paid-up stock of the corporation, at the rate of 7 1-2 per cent. per annum, amounting to $57.036.54. Your Directors have also, out of the net profits, written off from the cost of the corporation's building the sum of $15,000, and from the vault fixtures and furniture $3,102.54, and have placed to interest reserve the sum of $6,000, leaving $8,519.12 to be carried forward to the credit of Profit and Loss.

The Contingent Fund of $163,000, referred to in the last Annual Report, which was set apart at amalgamation to meet ascertained and contemplated losses, has been dealt with by your board during the year, and the loans for which such provision was made have been written down to the full extent of the fund thus set apart, and the Contingent Account has been finally closed out.

Not infrequently, surprise is expressed at the comparatively small net profits of the corporation, with assets under its care exceeding $20,000,000. In that connection it should be borne in mind that the profits upon funds invested for beneficiaries belong to them, and not to the corporation, which only receives a percentage commission for its care and trouble in connection with the investment of the money and the collection of interest.

The Toronto General Trusts Corporation strictly confines itself to the performance of the duties devolving on it as trustee, executor, administrator, agent and such kindred offices, receiving for the administration of the same such compensation only as the court allows it, or as may be arranged with the parties interested. It eliminates from its transactions every undertaking of a speculative character, no matter how profitable it may promise to be, and it assumes no guarantees of any description, except of securities coming strictly within the scope of the Trustee Investment Act. In furthur explanation of the limited profits of the corporation, it should also be remembered that the diversified character of the business entrusted to it, and its great magnitude, require a large expensive staff in order that its affairs may be properly conducted in every department.

Recognizing the paramount importance of a continuous and systematic inspection of the books and securities of a corporation charged with the execution of trusts and the care of estates, the by-laws of the corporation provide (in addition to the usual examination by skilled auditors appointed by the shareholders) for the appointment of an Inspection Committee, comprising three members of the directorate. This committee in the discharge of its duties becomes cognizant of every act of the Executive Committee, as recorded in the minute book. It has to see every mortgage and debenture that has been acquired by order of the Executive, in order that it may ascertain whether the conditions under which the same were authorized have been carried out, and, finally, to see that such securities are registered or earmarked in the books of the corporation as the property of the estate or trust to which they belong. Your board appointed to the Inspection Committee three of the directors, who in their opinion are eminently qualified to perform the responsible duties devolving on them, namely:—Mr. W. H. Beatty, Vice-President Bank of Toronto (Chairman); Mr. Henry S. Howland, President Imperial Bank of Canada; Mr. Aemilius Irving, K.C., Treasurer Law Society of the Province of Ontario.

In order that the shareholders and the interested public may have a knowledge of the thoroughness with which the inspections by this committee are conduced, their Annual Report, which is supplementary to the reports submitted by them at each quarterly board meeting, is herewith appended.

Your board is glad in being able to report the entire completion of the alterations and additions to the corporation's premises on the southeast corner of Yonge and Colborne streets. The alterations practically involved the entire reconstruction of the interior of the building, as well as making important changes to the exterior; the vault accommodation, which is now the most extensive of any building in Canada, comprises, with the safe deposit vaults, 1,544 superfical feet. The corporation occupies the whole of the ground floor and basement, and the most of the first floor. The remainder of the buildings is all let to excellent tenants under terms of five years.

Your directors record with deep regret the death during the year of two old and valued members of the board—Mr. Samual Alcorn, who was appointed to the directorate in 1896, and served continuously until his death. The Hon. Sir Frank Smith, Senator, became a member to the board in 1896, and brought to the discharge of his duties as a director that great business ability and ripe experience which has proved so advantageous to all the institutions with which he was connected. Both of these deceased directors left large estates and showed their appreciation of the objects of the corporation and their confidence in its management by appointing it their executors and trustee. They also regret to announce the death of Mr. B. B. Osler, K.C., who was formerly a director of the Trusts Corporation of Ontario, and since the amalgamation acted as standing council for the corporation, and who by his will also appointed the corporation trustee of a portion of his estate.

All which is respectfully submitted.
Toronto, February 25, 1901.

JOHN HOSKIN,
President,

J. W. LANGMUIR,
Managing Director.

INSPECTION COMMITTEE'S REPORT

To the Board of Directors of the Toronto General Trusts Corporation:—The Inspection Committee of your board, in addition to the usual quarterly statements which they have presented to the directors during the past twelve months, desire, at the close of the year, to submit a condensed report of their inspections, comprising forty-six meetings held during the year ended 31st December, 1900.

The duties of the Inspection Commitee are set out in By-law No. 10.

The minute book of the Executive Committee was placed before your committee at all its meetings, which clearly sets out the operations of the corporation for the year. Statements were also submitted, showing the executorships administrations, trusts and all new work assumed by the corporation during the year, together with the inventoried values of the assets connected therewith. Simultaneously with the reading of the Executive minutes these statements were checked, and it was found that proper authority had been given by the Executive Committee in every case to assume and take over all the new work namely:—

Adminstrations	107,116.28
Administrations, with will annexed	125,000.00
Trusteeships	340,067.61
Investment Agencies	206,287.82
Estate Agencies	336,796.70
Guaranteed Mortgage Investment Agencies	28,000.00
Committeeships	40,650.00
Guardianships	2,700.00
Receiverships	295,567.38
Lunatic Estate Agencies	39,334.26
	$2,243,1[illegible].08

In addition to the duties thus summarized, the corporation also acted as trustee for the issue of bonds to the value of $1,300,000. The only responsibility assumed by the corporation for this last class of work is to certify, as trustee to the respective issues of the bonds under the terms of the trust deeds. I however, default takes place in the payment of principal or interest, the corporation may be called upon to take possession of the property and asserts covered by the trust deeds, and operate or dispose of the same under the provisions of the trust or by the authority and direction of the court.

Your committee caused to be produced for its inspection all the mortgages, municipal debentures and other negotiable securities which had been acquired or purchased and closed during the year, together with the valuations of the properties covered by the mortgages, certificates of title and also the renewals of maturing mortgages. The mrtgages and securities thus examined were as follows:—

Mortgages on real estate	$515,495
Municipal debentures and Government bonds	277,117
Mortgages renewed	244,049
Mortgages released and reallocated	205,687
Debentures realized and reallocated	84,906

As the result of their inspections of the securities your committee beg to report: (1) That the requisite authority had been given by the Executive Committee for the acquirement and purchase of all the securities specified; (2) that the valuations of the properties mortgaged, and on which the loans were passed by the Executive, were preduced (with two exceptions, which had been waived by the Executive), and found on examination to correspond with the valuator's reports; (3) that the certificates of title in respect of mortgages, and certificates of validity of debentures (except in two purchases of debentures, where legislation had passed confirming such issues), were signed in all cases by the respective solicitors; (4) that the mortgages and debentures were found to be entered and ear-marked in the books and registers of the corporation to the estates and accounts to which they respectively belonged; (5) that the renewal agreements of mortgage securities incorporated all the conditions on which such renewals and extensions were made by the Executive.

Your committee also examined the Auditors' Reports for the year, and beg to report that the certificate of correctness is duly signed by both Auditors and recorded in the following books and statements:—

Cach Receipts (Trust and Agency).
Cash Receipts (Capital).
Cash Disbursements (Trust and Agency).
Cash Disbursements (Capital).
Mortgage Diary Journal (including interest on interest).
Debenture Diary Interest Journal.
General Journal.
Ledger Balance for each quarter of the year 1900.

All which is respectfully submitted.

W. H. BEATTY, Chairman,
H. S. HOWLAND.
AEMILIUS IRVING.

Toronto, Feb. 25, 1901.

Dr. Hoskin, in moving the adoption of the report, said: I must first congratulate the shareholders on meeting in our new board room, and in the building which is also completed and fully equipped, up to date in every particular. After the meeting, if you find time, it will be worth your while to pass through the offices and examine the vaults, which, as stated in the report, are the most complete in Canada. You will observe we occupy the whole of the ground floor and parts of the first floor, which will be sufficient for our purposes for the next four or five years. At the expiration of that time I think our business will have so much increased that we shall require the whole of the first floor also.

The report which has just been read is so full and complete that it leaves little for me to say. I did think it advisable to say something respecting the volume of business which has been done here during the last nineteen years—the monies received, the monies paid out and assets distributed, and also referring to the aims and objects of the corporation—but next year will be the twentieth year of the existence of the Toronto General Trusts Company, and I will defer until then any lengthy remarks, which will then form the basis of a pamphlet, which will be circulated throughout the country. There is one particular, however, on which I may dwell for a moment—that is, the new departure decided on to publish our Profit and Loss statement. Heretofore it has not been customary, but since the amalgamation of the Toronto General Trusts Company with the Trusts Corporation of Ontario our capital has been increased to one million dollars, all paid up, with the exception of the last instalment of 10 per cent. In addition, the corporation has its reserve of $250,000, and we think it but right that the shareholders and the public should be furnished with a pretty full statement, in so far as our Capital and Reserve are concerned, of our earnings, and the various sources from which they are derived. I think you will agree with me that the statements set out in the report are eminently satisfactory. We have earned net profits of nearly $90,000; we have paid the shareholders dividends amounting to $57,036.54, and have written off the building and our vaults over $18,102.54, and have added to interest reserve the sum of $6,000, carrying forward to the credit of Profit and Loss the sum of $8,519.12.

This statement of our financial affairs may appear very simple, but when it is stated that we have under out management at the present time about fifteen hundred estates you will be able to form some idea of the volume of business and the care required. In connection with some of these estates we have to keep from two to ten ledger accounts, requiring a most accurate and careful system of bookkeeping. It must always be borne in mind that in connection with trusts we differ from other institutions; we are not simply managing our own monies, but are dealing with the propertyand assets belonging to other people, and that we may in a year or twenty years have to render a most accurate account of ourdealings. Our duties are varied and extend to every relation in life, and go on after death. The longer I am connected with this corporation, the more I am convinced of its public utility, and have often wondered how we got on when institutions of this kind were not in existence. Our Manager, Mr. Langmuir, is certainly entitled to great credit for being the founder of Trust Companies in Canada, and he must feel pleased at the results which have followed.

As well as other financial institutions, we are experiencing a better condition of affairs. I am very pleased to say that of our own properties there is not a dwelling or store unoccupied, and that of the properties we hold as trustee there are no buildings vacant, and sales are being made every day at enhanced values.

I may say furthur that with regard to the volume of business, this time twelve months, I stated that we had under our control about twenty millions of assets. We have distributed to parties entitled during the year over a million dollars, and we have still under our control twenty millions of assets The report deals only with the work for the year 1900. During the two months of the present year—January and February—the new work which we have received already amounts to about two millions, and our business is constantly increasing. The number of wills and trust deeds in our vaults give an indication of how the corporation has taken hold of the public, and I amsure it is entitled to the confidence of the shareholders and the public at large. The report will have told you that since our last annual meeting two of our directors have passed away—Mr. Samuel Alcorn and the Hon. Sir Frank Smith and one who was formerly a director of the Trusts Corporation of Onratio, and standing counsel of this corporation—Mr. B. B. Osler, KC.

I do not think it would be wise, and it is not my purpose, to further enlarge upon the report. I therefore conclude by moving the adoption of the report which has been read, and which will be seconded by Vice-President Wood.

Hon. S. C. Wood, in seconding the report, said: The shareholders have had submitted to them a very complete statement of the affairs of this corporation and have also heard read a very full report from the Board of Directors, which report embodies a most important one from the Inspection Committee. They have also had a very interesting statement from the President; therefore, anything I might say would only be in corroboration of what has already been said. I have very great pleasure in seconding the adoption of the report.

The motion was declared carried.

Certain by-laws and amendments to by-laws were confirmed.

The Hon. Mr. Justic Maclennan, in moving (seconded by Mr. S. Nordheimer) a vote of thanks to the directors of the corporation, and more particularly to the Executive Committee, said he had the pleasure for several years after the organization of the Toronto General Trusts Company of having a seat upon its Board of Directors, so he had some idea of the magnitude of the business that has to be transacted, and the infinity of its details, and of the care, pains and watchfulness which the business of the corporation required in order to itsproper transaction. It had given him much pleasure to hear of the progress which the corporation had made. He was sure it was largely owing to the diligence given to the business by the directors and the several committees that the results which have been made known to them should have been accomplished. He was much interested in the report of the Inspection Committee. He had the pleasure of being a member of that committee for several years. It is avery important and valuable part of the constitution of the corporation, and must give to the shareholders who have heard the report additional confidence in the way in which the business has been transacted.

Votes of thanks were also tendered to the President and Vice-President.

Messrs. R. F. Spence and J. M. Martin, F.C.A., were reappointed Auditors for the year 1901.

Mr. Alfred Hoskin, K.C., and Mr. James Davey, who were appointed Scrutineers, reported the following gentlemen elected Directors for the ensuing year:—John Hoskin, K.C., LL.D., Toronto; Hon. S. C. Wood, Toronto; W. H. Beatty, Toronto; John Bell, K.C., Belleville; John L. Blaikie, Toronto; W. R. Brook, M.P., Toronto; J. W. Digby, M.D., Brantford; J. J. Foy, K.C., M.P.P., Toronto; John Foy, Toronto; Geo. Gooderham, Toronto; Wm. Hendrie, Hamilton; H.S. Howland, Toronto; Aemilius Irving, K. C. Toronto; Robert Jaffray, Toronto; J. J. Kenny, Toronto; J. W. Langmuir, Toronto; A. B. Lee, Toronto; Thos. Long, Toronto, W D. Matthews, Toronto; Hon. Peter McLaren, Perth; E. B. Osler, M.P., Toronto; J. G. Scott, K.C., Toronto, T. Sutherland Stayner, Toronto; B. E. Walker, Toronto.

At a subsequent meeting of the directors Dr. John Hoskin, K.C., was re-elected President, and the Hon. S. C. Wood and Mr. W. H. Beatty Vice-Presideents. The Executive Committee was re-elected, and Mr. W. H. Beatty, Mr. Aemilius Irving, K.C., and Mr. John L. Blaikie were appointed the Inspection Committee.

KAISER ATTACKED BY AN EPILEPTIC

Struck by a Piece of Iron Which Inflicted a Slight Wound on the Cheek

HIS CONDITION CAUSES ISSUE OF A BULLETIN

Projected Visit to Koenigsberg Giveg up as a Result—Emperor Arrives in Berlin—The Physicians' Report

Bremen, March 7.—During the attack upon Emperor William by a workman named Deitrich Weiland, while the Emperor was driving from Rathskeller to the railway station, the Kaiser was struck on the cheek just below the right eye, by a piece of iron which was thrown. He was not seriously injured and refrained from commenting upon the subject. The Burgomaster who accompanied a member of the staff to the station, pointed our His Majesty's cheek was bleeding. The assailant of Emperor William in trying to escape fell under the horses of the escort riding behind the carriage. The members of the escort handed the man over to the police. During an examination in the Town Hall the assialant of the Emperor suffered from severe epileptic fits. During intervals between these attacks he replied to several questions but did not give out any important information. The motive of the outrage was evident when the pockets of the prisoner were searched, medicaments found in the pockets of the prisoner showing that he had been a chronic sufferer from epilepsy.

THE SURGEONS' REPORT.

"The wound is in the right cheek, and about an inch and a half long. It passes over the zygome and penetrates to the bone. It has the character of a contused wound. There has been much bleeding but the wound has been closed with bandaging without sewing up. The Emperor passed a fairly good night; is free from headache, and his general condition is good.

(Signed) "LEUTHOLD.
"BERGMANN.
"ILBERG."

The Emperor has been obliged to forgo his projected visit to Koenigsberg.

AN ABOMINABLE ACT.

Count Von Ballestrem, President of the Reichstag, in communicating to that body to-day the news of the attack on Emperor William expressed in behalf of the House the horror felt at the abominable act, thanked God for having preserved the Emperor and country from a grievous misfortune, and prayed that their beloved monarch might soon be restored to health, and that God would keep his Majesty under his protection.

The members of the Reichstag in attendance stood during the President's speech. The Social Democrats were not present.

In the Lower House of the Prussian Diet to-day the President announced that the Emperor's wound was not serious, but that he would be obliged to keep to his bed for a few days. The President also expressed horror at the damnable act, and called for three hochs for His Majesty, which were given with enthusiasm.

Berlin, March 7.—Emperor William arrived here at 8 o'clock this morning. The Empress and Count Von Bugelow met him at the station. When they reached the Castle Professor Bergman visited the Emperor. His Majesty has abandoned his intention of visiting the riding class of the officers of the Potsdam Cavalry Regiment.

A MIDNIGHT FIGHT IN KEMPVILLE OFFICE

Launcelot J. Banks Killed by a Blow From a Club

Kemptville, Ont., March 7.—Early this morning Launcelot J. Banks died at his residence in Thomas street after being struck by a club in the hands of John Garret, and four arrests have been made awaiting the verdict of the coroner's jury.

The blow was struck while Mr. Banks was endeavouring to quell a disturbance in Bank's Bros. office and W. McKenna, James Ault, James Gannon, John Garret, Thomas Newman, Wm. Dell, and Raymond Banks were present at the time. At half-past twelve this morning four of the young men in the office were making a disturbance, when Raymond Banks went home to get his father to restore order. L. J. Banks took the young men to task for imposing on a boy when left in charge of the office, and while quelling the disturbance was struck on the head with a club by John Garret. The blow gashed his head and a little later Mr. Banks was assisted home by Messrs. Ault and McKenna. Shortly afterwards Dr. Holmes was summoned but at 1.30 he died, suffering from pain in his shoulder at the last.

A warrant was at once made out by Magistrate John Selleck for the arrest of John Garret and of Wm. Dell, Jas. Gannon, and Thos. Newman as accessories. These four men were arrested at about 4.30 and placed in custody.

FOUR HUNDRED CHINESE DEFEATED

Fifty Killed and a Two of Their Banners Taken

Berlin, March 7.

The War Office has received the following from Count Von Waldersee, dated Pekin, March 6:

"A company under command of Capt. Kroerzer, came into contact yesterday southwest of Man Sheng with 400 Chinese regulars, who had apparently been separated from their main body. The Chinese were scattered and fifty of them killed. Two of their banners were taken. A small detachment was sent from Tien Tsin to Tlsany, March 3rd, to suppress brigandage. The companies of infantry, a squadron of cavalry and a battery all under Lieut.-Col. Arnsted left for Yung Te Tsing March 5, with the same object."

BRITISH AMERICAN

Assurance Company.

The sixty-seventh annual meeting of the Shareholders of this Company was held at its offices, Toronto, on Thursday, 28th. Fenruary, 1901.

The President, Hon. Geo. A. Cox, occupied the chair, and Mr. P. H. Sims, who was appointed to act as Secretary, read the annual report, of which the following is a summary:

Your Directors have the honor to present the annual report and financial statement of the Company's sixty-seventh year, duly vouched for by its Auditors.

It will be noticed that there has been a considerable increase in the premium income for the year, this being mainly due to the business derived from the new fields in which the Company has established business connections, and also to the improved conditions that have prevailed in the marine business.

Two half-yearly dividends have been declared at the rate of seven per cent per annum, amounting to $60,323.96, and the Reserve Fund has been increased to $681,457.22.

In view of the abnormal fire losses on this continent during the year 1900, including the disastrous conflagration in April last in the cities of Hull and Ottawa, which involved a loss of property to the value of about ten million dollars, your Directors feel that the statements herewith submitted must be regarded as satisfactory by the Shareholders.

The capital stock of the Company has be increased to one million dollars, in accordance with the by-law passed at the last annual meeting, the $250,000 new stock authorized to be issued at a premium of fifteen per cent, having been all taken up.

SUMMARY OF FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

Total cash income...	$1,951,233 34
Total expenditure, including appropriation for losses under adjustment	1,890,347 57
	$ 60,885 77
Dividends declared... ...	60,393 26
Total assets... ...	$1,776,606 45
Cash capital... ...	1,000,000 00
Reserve fund	681,457,22
Security to policy holders	$1,584,457 22

The President, who moved the adoption of the report, which was seconded by the Vice-President, referred to the exceptionally heavy losses by fire on this continent during the year under review, and said that, although the report just read did not present so favorable a showing, as far as the balance between income and expenditure for the year was concerned, as the preceding annual statements which he had had the honor during the past eight years of submitting to the shareholders, he felt that there was perhaps as much matter of congratulation in the figures embraced in the accounts for the year 1900 as in those of some preceding statements which have shown a more favorable balance sheet. It was gratifying to observe the continued increase in the volume of the business transacted. While there had been a satisfactory growth of income from fields in which the Company had for years past been carrying on operations, he was glad to be able to say that from the agencies recently established beyond the limits of this continent very encouraging returns have been received. The prediction that the Directors ventured to make a year ago as to a probable improvement in conditions of marine business had, he was pleased to say, been realized, and, as a result of the better rates, which, speaking generally, had prevailed, both upon inland lake and ocean risks, there had been a fair margin of profit upon the business written in that branch during the year. But what in his estimation was more a matter for congratulation that any of the figures to which he had referred was the fact that at the close of a year in which the fire losses, in Canada and the United States, have been very largely in excess of those of average years, they were able to present a balance sheet which showed a loss of less than one per cent, upon the premium income as the result of the year's underwriting transactions—that is, ignoring the income derived from interest and rent.

The report was, on motion, adopted and the following gentlemen were re-elected to serve as Directors during the ensuing year:

Hon. Geo. A. Cox, J. J. Kenny, Hon. S. C. Wood, Thos. Long, John Hoskin, K.C., LL.D., H. M. Pellatt, R. Jaffray, A. Myers, and E. W. Cox.

At a meeting of the board held subsequently, the Hon. George A. Cox was re-elected President, and Mr. J. J. Kenny Vice-President.

HENRY BOUCHER'S PROMOTION

A Peterborough Boy Who is Climbing to the Top

The Battle Creek Daily Journal of February 28th has the following reference to a former Peterborough resident Mr. Henry Boucher, brother of Dr. Boucher. It tells of Mr. Boucher's appointment to a responsible position on the Grand Trunk Western. His Peterborough friends will learn of his continued advance in his chosen calling with much satisfaction. The Journal says:—

"William T. Simpson, travelling engineer of the Grand Trunk lines west of the Detroit and St. Clair rivers, whose resignation takes effect at twelve o'clock to-night, has returned from an extendedtour of the divisions under his supervision where he has been with Harry Boucher, that popular railroad man who will succeed him, assuming his duties immediately after Mr. Simpson's departure from the work. The purpose of the trip was to enable Mr. Boucher to thorougly familiarize himself with all the workings of the road, and also to become acquainted with the numerous officials and employees. Everywhere that he went Mr. Boucher was received with exceptional cordiality, and the outlook for his futture connection with the Grand Trunk Western, as its travelling engineer is most brilliant.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL

Annual Meeting of the Association to be Held on March 18th

The annual meeting of the Trent Valley Canal Association, comprising the mayors of the towns and the reeves of the municipalities in the Trent Valley District, will be held in the Council Chamber, Peterborough, on Monday March 18th, at one o'clock p.m.

The meeting has been called with a view of urging upon the Dominion Government the importance of placing the Southern section of the Canal under contract, and with a view to discussing a subject that is of importance to the District, and which is being discussed by the Dominion and Provincial Governments at present—the question of the Dominion Government taking over all the dams and locks on the streams tributary to the Trent Valley Canal waters.

FIVE MINERS RACE WITH A SNOWSLIDE

Thrilling Escape From Death of Utah Miners

19 MILES IN 14 MINUTES

This is the Distance Covered dy Two Men on Snowshoes

Denver, Colo., March 8.—Harry Brown left for Chicago to-night after a thrilling experience. Until last week he had been snowed in at the Albion mine, Little Cottonwood Canon, Utah, for a period of three months. Overcome with homesickness, Brown proposed to five companions to abandon the property until spring.

Snow ranged from fifteen to fifty feet in the canon, and veteran mountaineers warned Brown against the trip for fear of snow slides which were likely to start with the slightest jar. Arguments were fruitless, and the party started down the divide leading to the American fork. They were all on snowshoes and armed with pikes.

Fifteen minutes after starting, a blast at the mine moved the mass of snow toppling on the west and a race for life began.

"The first intimation I had," said Brown, "was an outcry. I turned and saw a snowslide coming toward us with terrific momentum. We didn't stop to investigate, but increased our speed and fairly flew over Superior gulch, gathering speed with each mile we covered and hardly touching the snow as we shot across the gulch, covering the nineteen miles in fourteen minutes.

"We couldn't and didn't want to stop. The wind choked me until I was blue in the face, and I was hurled into the bottom of the canon, where I staid an hour before fully recovering consciousness. The slide in its descent encountered a rock and parted, going down on both sides of our party and sparing us."

LOCAL NEWS LETTERS.

JOHNSTOWN.

—The weather is cold at present; but it is hoped that a change will soon take place.

—Our shanty boys are retirning home and report lumber trade very brisk.

—Messrs J. O Brien and P. Quinlan, have returned from a trapping tour up the northern lakes, and it looks as if the trip was satisfactory, as they are enveloped in furs.

SPORTING CLUB

—Our Sporting Club held a meeting one night last week and many important matters were settled. Jerry Corkery acted as chairman and opened the meeting with a speech on picthholes. Ned Fitzgerald was then the first to complain. He stated that all empty-house owners be taxed heavily. This was left over until the next meeting.

John Conroy then inquired of the trappers as to the state of the northern lakes for racing.

Constable garvey was present and kept order fine, when Alex. Conroy and Herb. Baballys names were called, he fined them fifty dollars and cost each, as they misunderstood what was going on, and began to sing "A Bird in a Gilded Cage." The meeting then adjourned.

NOTES.

—The C. G. R. lumber company has completed their all-winter contract in the Shorts limits, but it looks as if they are in our business for they have another contract of selling within the next 60 days 200,000 postholes of any size or form.

—Mr. John Devlin, of Caneville, was the guest of Mr. Thomas Slattery, Sunday last.

THE BRITISH AMERICAN.

The Sixty-Seventh Annual Report of the Above Company.

Elsewhere will be found the report presented at the sixty-seventh annual general meeting of the shareholders of the British America Assurance Company, held at the head office of the Company, Toronto, on Thursday, 28th Feb.

We congratulate the management on the success which has attended the year's operations. The report shows that dividends amounting to seven per cent. per annum have been paid, and the reserve fund increased to $581,457. This is more remarkable in view of the abnormal fire losses of last year, including the great Hull-Ottawa fire. The policy of the company in extending into new fields, has met with most gratifying success, resulting in much new and profitable business, while the returns show a much improved condition of affairs in marine business generally. The capital of the company is now $1,000,000, the $250,000 issue of new stock, issued at premium of fifteen per cent., having all been taken up.

WEATHER NOTES.

Probs: Fresh south-westerly to westerly winds, fair and milder to-day.

It is decidedly cold from Manitoba to the Maritime Provinces, however the general outlook now is for more moderate conditions. Light snowfalls have been numerous in the Georgian Bay region; elsewhere the weather has been fair.

All About Bread.

The Belleville police magistrate has a problem upon which he will find very little light in the statute books. Briefly, it is this:—When an article of food made of baked dough in which lard and sugar have been mixed, is it cake or bread? A baker is charged with selling pound-and-a-half loaves instead of the two-pound loaves of bread called for in the by-law. He claims that the admixture of lard and sugar constitutes the loaf a cake. Better leave it to a jury of matrons, or a committee of professors of domestic science.

CAUGHT HIS FOOT IN A BEAR TRAP

Lumberman Spends a Night Among the Wolves

GREY HAIRED IN ONE NIGHT

Floyd J. Staffler's Terrible Experienc in the Woods

Duluth, Minn., March 7.—With his hair turned gray in an evening from terror and his nerves shattered so that he despairs of ever being a well man again, Floyd J. Staffer, aged 22, has come out of the wilds of northern Minnesota after a terrible experience. For several hours he was caught in a bear trap in Beitraini county and surrounded by wolves that threatened his life. His gray hairs and shaken nerves are the result of that experience.

He went into the woods with a party of lumbermen. One afternoon he went to visit a bear trap set at some distance from camp. He followed a route different from the usual one, and in consequence reached the trap before he was aware of it. In fact, the first notice he had of it was a click and a snap and then an excruciating pain in his leg as the trap's jaws closed on the right leg just above his ankle. The teeth cut through the trousers, leggings and two pairs of socks, and bit into the flesh.

Staffler dropped his gun, and with a cry of pain knelt down to try to pry the jaws of the trap open. Then he remembered that it had taken two men to set it and that it was too strong for him. His efforts to free himself laccerated his flesh. He thought of unfastening the chain and dragging the trap to camp, two miles distant, but when he tried he found it was impossible. Not only was the trap too heavy for him but at every step its weight brought the teeth deeper into the flesh of his leg.

A NEW TERROR.

Then he bethought himself of his rifle, and fired several shots, hoping the sound would reach the camp, but the wind was blowing in the wrong direction, and the effort failed. He fought off a feeling of faintness that came over him, for he feared that if he fainted he would freeze to death. As dush drew on he was confronted with a new terror.

He heard the pattering of feet in the woods, and the sound of a long, mournful howl. Then came answering cries from other wolves, drawing nearer in answer to the call of the first wolf. Soon the underbrush seemed alive with them, and he could see their eyes shining.

He struggled to a sitting position and filled the chambers of his rifle with cartridges. The wolves drew nearer. Suddenly about a dozen of them trotted forth from the woods, and he could see their dark forms scurrying about as they made a detour, drawing nearer as they ran. They seemed to be planning the final approach.

Straffler fired. The wolves scattered, but did not run away. They sat down on their haunches and watched him. Staffler fired again and again, but he was nervous and frightened and shot wildly.

Every time he ceased the wolves began to draw in on him, and Staffler believed that it was only a question of minutes before the wolves should be tearing his body. He was about ready to turn the body on himself when he heard a human voice at hand, and he sank back in a faint. As his friends from the camp came to his relief the wolves scattered, and several were killed.

His companions made a stretcher and carried him back to camp, where they dressed his wounds as best they could.

His comrades explained that they had heard the shots shortly after dark, and thought little of them at first, believing that he had either found a bear in the trap and was despatching it, or that he was shooting at other game. When the shots continued they became alarmed and made their way to the spot as rapidly as possible. It is their beilef that they arrived in the nick of time.

WOMEN'S MISSION CIRCLE

Reports Received Concerning Progress of the Various Branches

The annual meeting of the Women's Mission Circle of the Murray Street Baptist Church, was held on Tuesday evening last. The Presidentt, Mrs. Dr. Scott, occupied the chair. After the devotional exercises, the yearly reports were read and adopted.

The Indian work on St. Peter's Reserve was presented by Mrs. Sharpe. The effect of religon on the Indian the home life and poverty were clearly pictured. A very interesting address on mission work among the Chinese on the Pacific coast, was given by Mrs. Morrow, Superintendentt of the Y. W. C.A. The Canadian mission field in India was outlined by Mrs. Hunter.

Greetings werer then presented by sister societies. Mrs. Kendry responded for George St. Methodist. After expressing interest in our work, she called on the treasurer of their society to present a $50 cheque to our Circle as part of a bequest to their society for work in India.

On motion of Mrs. Bastow, a resolution of thanks was tendered the George Street Society for the generous donation.

Mrs. Gunton, of Gilmour Memorial and Mrs. Mowry, of Park Street, also presented kindly greetings.

After the collection was taken, Mr. Bastow offered the dedicatory prayer.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, MARCH 8, 1901

This paper is the only Morning Daily published between Toronto and Ottawa, and is largely read throughout Eastern Ontario.

Strangers visiting Peterborough are cordially invited to make their headquarters at the Times Office, where they will be provided with writing material.

The Times is a member of the Associated Press, and receives telegraphic news each morning up to four o'clock.

The Times will be sent to subscribers in the district at 25c per month, and to outside points at $5 per year. Strictly in advance.

LOCAL NEWS LETTERS.

BETHANY.

—Several parties are removing this week. Mr. Thos. McGill and family are moving to Mr. Joseph Weatherall's, Mr. Edward Orchard and family, to Mr. Robert McGrath's dwelling, Mr. W. A. Brown, to Mrs. Kelly's house, and it is rumored that Mr. and Mrs. John Whitefield, of Cavan, are about to move into Mr. Henry Hutchinson's fine brick dwelling, and become a resident. We hope reports are true.

—Miss Jennie Haddon, who has been very sick lately, we are glad to say is on the road to recovery.

—It is our very painful duty to have to record the death of Mrs. John McRory, which sad event took place on Tuesday evening, Feb. 19th. Deceased had been in poor health for some time, and all that medical aid could do proved useless. She was one of the kindest ladies, in her neighborhood, a loving wife, and a tender hearted mother.

She leaves her husband, one son and a daughter to mourn her loss. A large concourse of friends and relatives followed the remains to their last resting place at Graham's cemetery on Friday, Feb. 22nd. Rev. Barret conducted the services in a very fitting manner. The pallbearers were; Messrs. Thos. O'Brien, James Stewart, Wm. Coulter, James Noble, W. J. Fallis and Thomas Thompson. Her Maiden name was Sadler, sister of Mrs. Mitchell of the village and Mr. J. J. Sadler, of Toronto. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved husband and family.

—The Canadian Cordage Company, of Peterboro, is drawing the attention of most of the farmers in Manvers township, and many of them are buying stock in the same. Mr. Arthur Graham is agent for the Company, and will be pleased to give prospectuses and sell stock, and give any particulars necessary. He will call on a large number in the near future.

—Miss Maggie Hamilton, is our postmistress at present, Miss Lillie McNeil being absent on a visit to her parents at Keene.

—Mr. Fred Benson and his sister Annie were visiting at Mr. Chas. Reynold's on Sunday.

MILLBROOK.

—Messrs. McBean, of Toronto, were in town Sunday, the guests of Mr. John Dawson.

—Mr. Byam, of Ottawa, is in town visiting his daughter, Mrs. George Southeran, who has been quite ill for the past few weeks.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

—Mr. Isiah Best, of Toronto, formerly a resident of this place, was visiting his friends here last week. He looks well considering that he has been breathing city air so long. We miss him in the business of the town.

—We regret very much to hear that Mr. R. Touchburn, our blacksmith, thinks of leaving. We would rather spare some others of our population than Robert, for he's a jolly good fellow, and a good mechanic.

—The Burleigh Falls Power Co. has we hear obtained the privilege of placing poles along the roads in our and other townships, so as to convey electric power to those requiring it. If we are deprived of a steamer visiting our town we may have the electric cars running through it to Peterborough, our market town, which would be a great convenience to the farming community. They could get binder twine at about cost by shutting off the middle man. Should the road run through our town from Lindsay to Peterborough it would be a competing line with the G.T.R. The foundry and other places here can use the power, and do away with the old and expensive power by steam. We are living under good government and in a progressive age.

—We were glad to see Mr. J. D. Thornton, of Omemee, at church here on Sunday night. We hope he reached home without the pleasure of an upset. The roads that we have now require a practical driver.

—J. R. McLean, son of W. J. McLean, of Toronto, is visiting at the parental home, here.

HIAWATHA.

—Miss Lily Lukes, from Alderville, is here for a few days.

—We understand that certain of the natives are about to take up residence in Lakefield.

—Miss Stella Davis celebrated her eleventh birthday on Monday, 4th inst., by entertaining a number of her young friends to tea and a sleigh-ride. The little folks had an enjoyable time.

TO CHECK THE BUBONIC PLAGUE

Government is Compelled to Take Stringent Measures

London, March 6.—A despatch from Cape Town reports five fresh cases of the bubonic plague on Monday. One of the patients was a European woman. Three deaths have occurred at the plague hospital, and three patients there are dangerously ill. With a view of localizing the plague the Government has issued regulations providing that aboriginal natives shall not leave the Cape district without passes, that shipowners shall not land natives at Table Bay without the consent of the Government, and compelling natives to remove to a certain location in the town.

For fear of spreading the plague no public gathering will attend the reception of Sir W. Hely-Hutchinson, the new governor of the Cape Colony.

"Ouch!"

That is about the mildest form of outcry a man makes when rheumatism suddenly tweaks him. In its worst forms rheumatism is a living death. The victim, incapable of moving hand or foot, has no part in the great procession of life, on which he gazes with hopeless eyes. A great many sufferers from rheumatism, who had given up hope, have been cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. A medicine which will cleanse the blood from uric acid and other poisons, will cure rheumatism. "Golden Medical Discovery" has no equal in its power to cleanse the blood and to enrich it. "Discovery" contains neither alcohol nor narcotics.

"I had been troubled with rheumatism for twelve years," writes Mr. R. J. McKnight, of Cades, Williamsburg County, S. C., "so bad at times I could not leave my bed. I was badly crippled. Tried many doctors and two of them gave me up to die. None of them did me much good. The pains in my back, hips, and legs (and at times in my head), would nearly kill me. My appetite was very bad. Everybody who saw me said I must die. I took five bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and four vials of 'Pellets,' and to-day my health is good after suffering twelve years with rheumatism."

AFTER FIFTEEN YEARS

Eczema Cured After Many Years of Terribl Torture

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—At the request of the makers I gladly write a line to tell what Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills did for me. For over 15 years I was a sufferer from eczema and although treated by the best doctors in the country, I got no relief. After taking 9 boxes of the pills, I am thank God, entirely well. They cured me when every known remedy failed. Jas. Britain, G. T.R., Brantford.

Steamers on the Dead Sea

In order to facilitate travel along the shores of the Dead Sea it has been decided to establish regular intercourse by means of small steamers, and the first steamer has been purchased. It will certainly be a shock to many to hear of a steamer on this historic body of water.

SUNBEAMS

A true friend stands by you when you are under a cloud. Swarms of insects surround you when the sun shines.

A good many people apparently have not discovered that it is easier to do their work well than it is to make excuses.

Keep your troubles to yourself; when you tell them you are taking up the time of the man who is waiting to tell his.

Patience is a much-needed thing in many people. It will cure more pains than physic.

Some folks are just honest enough to put the little apples on top of the basket, and then turn the basket upside down.

Time and silence occasionally succeed when all other agencies fail.

About the only cheap thing that gives satisfaction is a compliment.

Ay man may deceive other men, but it takes a genius to fool a woman.

Next to having wisdom yourself, it is well to profit by the wisdom of others.

Your living speaks louder than all your logic.

He who loves folly may well listen to flattery.

TO CARE FOR WATCH

A watch should be wound up every day at the same hour.

Avoid putting it on a marble slab or near anything excessively cold.

The cold also coagulates the oil, and the pivots and wheels work less freely and affect the regularity of the timekeeping.

To keep your watch clean, take care that the case fits closely and see that the watch pocket is kept free from fluff, which is so often given off by linings.

Avoid sudden jars and falls, for even if it does not seem to affet it at the moment, a watch will resent rough handling, by becoming gradually "out of order" without apparent cause.

GOOD THINGS TO LEARN

Learn to laugh. A good laugh is better than medicine.

Learn how to tell a story. A well-told story is as welcome as a sunbeam in a sick-room.

Learn to hide your aches and pains under a pleasant smile. No one cares whether you have the earache, headache or rheumatism.

Learn to attend to your own business. A very important point.

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. THE END OF A ROMANCE

The Mysterious Hero Turns Out to Be a Detective.

At a large wedding reception recently the attention of a couple of girls was attracted to a rather fine looking man, whose prematurely gray hair and clear cut features combined in giving him a distinguished appearance.

"I see him at nearly every large wedding I go to," said one. "I wonder who he can be. I've asked lots of people, and nobody seems to know. Yet he seems to be invited everywhere."

"Yes, I've noticed him, too," said the other girl. "While he apparently goes to all the big weddings, he doesn't seem to know anybody; or, at least, I've never seen him talking to anybody. He's such an intersting looking man, too. I'd love to meet him. He looks like a man who had lived and—and suffered."

A young man standing near, who couldn't help overhearing this conversation, laughed.

"Perhaps I can throw some light upon the identity of your mysterious hero," he said.

"Do you know him?" exclaimed both girls in the same breath.

"Well, I can't say that I exactly know him," replied the young man; "but I know who he is. He's a private detective. Perhaps you have noticed that he never strays far away from the tables on which the presents are displayed. That's what he's there for—to watch them. You know there are social highwaymen in—"

Sceptic and Believer.

A young man who looked as if he might be about twenty-five years old was sitting in the waiting room of the depot. On his knee was a year-old baby. Presently the baby began to cry, and the awkwardness and helplessness of the young man were so marked as to attract general attention.

At this point one of the waiting passengers, a fat and amiable looking man, crossed the room and sai dto the distressed baby tender.

"A young woman gave you that baby to hold while she went to see about her baggage, didn't she?"

"Yes."

"Well, now, I knew it as soon as I saw you. You expect her back, I suppose?"

"Of course."

"Ha! Ha! You are looking for her every minute, ain't you?"

"I think she'll come back."

"Ha! Ha! Excuse me, but I can't help laughing. A woman once played the same trick on me. I was in Chicago. You're caught, young man. She took you for a hayseed."

"Oh, she'll come back," answered the young man as he looked anxiously around.

"She will, eh? Ha! Ha! Ha! What makes you think so?"

"Why, because she's my wife, and this is our first baby."

"Oh—um—I see!" mutterd the fat man, and he was in such haste to get back to the other side of the room that he nearly fell over a passing pug dog. —Buffalo Enquirer.

Were Men of Few Words

There is a little settlement of New Hampshire people in Kiowa county, Colorado. Among other things they brought with them the New Hampshire aversion to using any more words in conversation than are absolutely necessary. Two of them met on the road recently, and indulged in the following dialogue:

"Mornin', Si."

"Mornin', Josh."

"What'd you give your horse for bots?"

"Turpentine."

"Mornin'."

"Mornin'."

A few days later the men met again, and here's the way a hard luck story was told in mighty few words:

"Mornin', Si."

"Mornin', Josh."

"What'd you say you gave your horse for bots?"

"Turpentine."

"Killed mine."

"Mine, too."

"Mornin'."

"Mornin'."

In the Garden.

The Beetle—What a cold, Mrs. Bird!

Addressed the Jury.

A man who had never seen the inside of a court room until he was introduced as a witness in a case pending in one of the Scottish courts, on being sworn, took a position with his back to the jury and began telling the story to the judge.

The judge, in a bland and courteous manner said:

"Address yourself to the jury, sir."

The man made a short pause, but, notwithstanding what had been said to him, continued his narrative.

The judge was then more explicit, and said to him, "Speak to the jury, sir; the men sitting behind you on the benches."

The witness at once turned around, and, making an awkward bow, said, with perfect gravity:

"Good morning, gentlemen."—Buffalo Courier.

Andree's Buoys.

Mrs. Meddergrass—I tell you, they just ought to send the sheriff after that man Andree, who is going to the North Pole in a b'loon.

Mrs. Nexdore—Why, what's wrong with him?

Mrs. Meddergrass—Paw read in the Clarion that they had found the fourth boy he has dropped from the b'loon since he started.—Baltimore American.

A BUNCH OF JOKES.

The people who talk about "vulgar trade" are usually the ones who never pay their bills.

"Oh, Ed Summers, of course."

"In what does his heroism consist?"

"He jilted a girl who has two brothers, both prize-fighters."

"They say Paderewski practiced so hard at the piano during the past six months that he paralyzed two of his fingers."

"That's nothing. There's a girl living in the flat below us who paralyzes everybody in the street when she practices."

Sympathizing Friend—Weren't you awfully scared when you saw that the fellow took aim at you with a gun?

Pawnbroker's Man—I was at first, until I recognized the weapon as one I had sold the day before. Then I sailed in and knocked the stuffing out of him.

"Well, Tompkins, how did you come out in the last race?" asked a man of a friend.

"As nearly as I can figure it I came out about fifteen dollars to the good."

"Fifteen dollars? That's not bad. What horse did you back?"

"None. I had about fifteen dollars with me that I did not bet with."

The American tourist is so firmly convinced that he is being cheated on all sides during his European travels that he occasionally oversteps the bounds of prudence.

"What is the price of this pin?" asked a young man in a Paris shop, handling a small silver brooch of exquisite workmanship.

"Twenty francs, monsieur," said the clerk.

"That's altogether too much," said the young American. "It's for a present to my sister; I'll give you five francs for it."

"Zen it would be I zat gave ze present to your sister," said the Frenchman, with a depreratory shrug, "and I do not knew ze young mademoiselle."

Jinks—Johnson wants to borrow $10 from me. Is he good for that amount?

Binks—Yes, with proper securities.

Jinks—What would you suggest?

Binks—A chain and padlock, a pair of handcuffs and a dog. That would be enough, I think, to hold him.

In an article entitled "Humors of Irish Banking," the Financial Times tells the story of a startling telegram received upon one occasion at the head office of a certain Irish bank from a remote country branch. The communication read:

"Regret inform you I died this morning of pneumonia," and was "signed for John Brown, manager, Thomas Smith."

Evidently the prevailing idea in Mr. Smith's mind when he despatched the wire was at all hazards to comply with the regulations, and so he used the form "as laid down," and no doubt congratulated himself upon being equal to the emergency.

Of course, it was Mr. Brown, the manager, who had the misfortune to die of pneumonia.

The district manager of one of the Welsh railway connections received an application the other day from a man requesting a return pass for himself to Cardiff.

There was nothing about the letter to indicate that the writer had any claim for the privilege he requested, but the railway official thought perhaps the applicant was the representative of a big customer or had some connection with the line, possibly as a local goods agent. So he wrote back:

"Please state explicitly on what account you request pass."

By return of post came this reply: "I've got to go to Cardiff some way, and don't want to walk."

Are you badly hurt, Mrs. Getalong?" inquired an anxious neighbor, sitting down by the side of the bed.

"I don't know how badly I'm hurt," said the victim of the railway accident feebly, "until I've seen my lawyer."

Lancaster—My wife paid $10 for a new bonnet, I'm sorry to say.

Forester—You're not half as sorry as I am.

"How's that?"

"Why, when my wife hears of it she will want one that costs more."

Benevolent Individual—Yes, sir; I hold that when a man makes a little extra money his first duty is to make his wife a present of a handsome dress.

Ordinary Individual—You are a philosopher, I presume?

"No; I am a tailor."

School Teacher (to boy at head of class, the lesson being philosophy)—How many kinds of forces are there?

Boy—Three, sir.

Teacher—Name them.

Boy—Bodily force, mental force and the police force.

The Horseless Nightmare.

"Oh," she said, "I had such a terrible dream last night. It seemed that I had suddenly been deprived somehow of the power to move. All my limbs were paralyzed, and I lay right in the path of an automobile that I could see coming toward me at a terrible rate of speed, with the lamps at the sides blazing like the two eyes of some terrible monster. Nearer and nearer it came, and I, in fearful agony, tried hard to drag myself out of its way, but was unable to move. I tried to cry out so that the man who was running the automobile might either stop or turn aside and avoid running over me, but I could not make a sound. On, on it came, as if imbued with life and in a fury of frenzy. I had just given myself up for lost when"——

"Yes," he interrupted, "then you woke up. But that isn't the important part of it. By your experience we know that the horseless nightmare has arrived."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Miss Springer—Can you say, "She sells sea shells" without getting your tongue twisted?

Singer—No, nor you either.

Miss Springer—Well, can you say, "What am I doing" over and over without getting tied up?

Singer—M—m—don't know. I'll try. "What am I doing, what am I doing, what am I doing, what am I doing—"

Miss Springer—Making a fool of yourself. Judge.

The Kidneys and the Skin.

In the spring, the kidneys have much to do. If they are weak or torpid, they will not do it well, and the skin will be pimply or blotchy. That is telling the story in a few words.

The air of furnace-heated rooms has been shown by Mr. R. DeC. Ward to be drier than that of many desert regions. The mean relative humidity of the room tested was thirty per cent. for three weeks in November, and the mean relative humidity in the open air for the same time was seventy-one per cent. The lowest open air annual mean known in the United States is 42.9 per cent. for Yuma, Arizona, that for Santa Fe, New Mexico, being 44.8 per cent. A mean of twenty-three per cent. was found for five summer months in Death Valley, Cal.

THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD
OR
OUR SAVIOUR IN ART.

Cost nearly $100,000 to publish. Contains nearly one hundred full-page engravings copied direct from the World's Greatest Paintings of our Saviour and His Mother. Contains History of Painting, Biography of Painter, and the Galleries in Europe where the Original Painting may be seen. The most beautiful publication ever issued. The strongest hearts weep at the sight of these wonderful pictures of Jesus and His Mother. Everybody says they are grand sublime matchless, magnificent, beautiful, inspiring and uplifting. The sale is unprecedented. The presses are running day and night to fill the orders. Twelve carloads of paper were required for the last edition. Small fortunes are being made by the thrifty with this marvelous work. Contains also a Child's story beautifully written to fit each picture. The wonderful book, matchless in its purity and beauty, appeals to every mothers' heart and in every Christian home, where there are children it sells itself. A Christian man or woman can soon clear one thousand dollars ($1,000) taking orders in this community. Others are doing this. Why not you? We are advertising in nearly ten thousand newspapers in this country, Canada, England, and Australia. Shipping books to every English-speaking country in the world. We shall promote our best workers to positions of State Managers, Correspondents and Office Assistants. We also own and publish large Photo-gravure Etchings of the Great Paintings in the Galleries of Europe. One or more of these Etchings can be sold in every home. By carrying the book and the engravings your success will be tremendous. Mrs. Waite, of Worcester, Mass., has sold nearly four thousand dollars worth of books there. Mrs. Sackett has sold nearly two thousand dollars worth of books in New York. Both of these ladies answered our advertisement, and had never sold a book before. Took 14 orders first two days—H. Colwell, Took 5 orders first day; 23 orders first week, clearing over $50—Hattie Lemwell. Thousands of others like above. It is printed on velvet-finished paper; bound in Cardinal Red, Green and Gold and adorned with Golden Roses and Lillies. Write quickly for terms as the territory is going rapidly. When you prove your success, we will promote you to the position of Manager and Correspondent under yearly contract.

We shall soon move into our new and elegant structure to be occupied solely by us, and to be known as the Light of the World Building. Address

Big Four Con. G. M. Co.
LIMITED

Mines one mile west of Rossland, directly west of the Le Roi No. 1 and Le Roi No. 2. Four properties. All Crown granted.

THE LeRoi No. 1 once sold for 2 cents and went to $45 per share; and the Le Roi No. 2 £5 shares went to £23, or $110 per share in a few months.

Our memorandum of association contains a provision, provided by Section 56 of the Companies Act, 1897, that the shares are issued as Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable, and that no further liability beyond the amount actually paid upon shares shall attach to the holders thereof. Capital $250,000.

Our properties are now proved (both above and below ground) to have the same continuous ore veins as the LeRoi Companies, and have the same identical ore and our shares are well worth TWENTY FIVE CENTS now, and will surely bring fifty cents. And we can, with a very small capital, develop our property to such an extent that it can also be placed on the London market, where it belongs—and small investors will make a good profit by buying now.

Our assays have averaged from $5 to $800 in gold, copper and silver and the shipping facilities are the best. The Great Northern Railway runs three times through the ground, three smelters close at hand, and reduced charges of $4.50 per ton for shipping and smelting, and we are now getting ready to start shipping ore.

Irrespective of the merits of the BIG FOUR, we have now over 570,000 shares in our treasury and free from all incumbrance. We are amongst the few local companies that has complied with the law in every particular, and we venture to say have

Thus the management has no regrets to offer, and you by subscribing will have none.

200 Feet More of Tunnel Work Now Under Way.

And it is too bad that we should suffer from the wrong doing of others, but we have, or this would never have to be advertised, and we propose, in the future as we have in the past, to do well and fear no ill. Let them do better who like.

LARGE ORE BODY NOW IN SIGHT. This is the last opportunity to buy our treasury shares for development purposes, and stock certificates will be sent at the following sacrifice prices: 200 shares for $20; 500 shares for $45; 1000 hares for $80, and 2000 shares for $150. Send in your orders at once.

The Aristos
GOLD MINING CO.

Owning Big Horn Mountain Tunnel and Veneta Vein, 200 acres situated on the Western Slope of Pike's Peak, in the famous Cripple Creek Gold Mining District.

THE SAFEST OFFER EVER MADE TO INVESTORS.

It is printed on each certificate that subscribers to the above Preferred Shares will be entitled to receive in Dividends the full amount of money invested, before other stockholders receive any returns, signed by the President of the Company.

This district produced more Gold in 1900 than any other in the United States

This property consists of 3000 by 3000 feet, or 200 acres, of gold land. The mine has been worked. The feature of this mine is the Veneta Vein, 30 to 40 feet in width, and is certainly one of the strongest veins in this famous district. There are some fifteen openings on this vein, the ore from which assays in gold from $12 to $100 per ton. The property is advantageously located for development by tunnel, which will make it possible to produce an enormous amount of ore daily, the quantity varying from 200 to 500 tons per day. The development by TUNNELING is the most economical and advantageous manner of working this property.

At a distance of 800 feet the Tunnel will intersect the Veneta Vein at a depth of about 680 feet, and will also intersect several other veins. The tunnel will cut the Big Horn Mountain 2100 feet deep, and will give this company 2,000,000 tons of ore, worth over $20 per ton.

The new railroad, now practically completed from Colorado Springs, called the Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek road, passes within 2000 feet of this Tunnel.

Adjoining this property is the Colorado Springs TUNNEL Company. In this property at a depth of 400 feet, the Veneta Vein was cut. At this point the vein was fully 20 feet in width, and its value from $20 to $1000 per ton.

There are already in operation mills and smelters sufficient to treat the output of this property, which gives at once cash returns.

Capital Stock $1,000,000. Par Value $1.00 Per Share. 100,000 Shares Preferred Stock at 25c. Per Share.

In buying this stock the purchaser owns a direct title in the Company's property. This Company offers you no watered stock, but a legitimate high-grade gold-mining investment in the Cripple Creek District.

Wolves Increasing

Minden News: We have just been informed from a reliable source that wolves are increasing alarmingly in the township of Anson. Quite recently some teamsters in crossing Long Lake counted 14 wolves in a string, while a short distance from Mr. Whistle's lumber camp the snow is covered with the tracks of these voracious brutes. The other night the wolves killed a very large buck near Whistles dump, and after devouring the blood and entrails left most of the carcase lying where it was killed. This accounts in large measure for the annihilation of deer in that vicinity. A well organized "still hunt" for these dangerous prowlers would be in order.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

—Lindsay is free from smallpox.

—Crows have been seen, which means an early spring.

—The Manufacturers' and Legal Committees met last night.

—The regular Lenten services of All Saint's Church were held last night.

—The Conservatives of West Northumberland will meet at Cobourg on Saturday, March 2.

—Mr. H. G. Buck has leased the roller mills at Norwood to Mr. E. C. Packenham, of Brighton.

—Lindsay, although free from smallpox, is moving in the direction of securing an isolation hospital.

—Posters announcing the sale of the market tolls by the town have been issued from The Times job rooms.

—Rev. Jas. Bastow will address the boys meeting in the Y.M.C.A. this afternoon on "Why should I join the Church."

—Hastings people are signing a petition to be presented to the Government, asking that a wharf be built at Robin's Landing, Alnwick.

—Mr. Ed. Mosley is retiring from the livery business, and is offering his horses and rigs at public auction on Wednesday, March 20.

—A boy of 13 years residing in Millbrook was brought before Judge Benson in Cobourg, for stealing tickets from the Grand Trunk station.

—The People's Popular Course have had to alter their date for the next attractions. The new arrangement Will be announced later.

—The maple sugar season is upon us, and the factories will no doubt soon be working overtime if last year's surplus is not sufficient for the demand.

—The meeting of the Ashburnham Reading Circle which was to have been held this evening, has been postponed until a later date, on account of illness.

—Lindsay merchants are undecided as to whether to keep their stores open or closed on Dominion Day, at which date there is to be a big Oddfellows demonstration.

—The ladies of St. Peter's Cathedral will hold an "At Home" on Easter Monday evening in the Association hall, of which full particulars will be announced later.

Miss Reid, of Messrs. Richard Hall & Son, Simcoe street, has just returned from the leading centres of fashion and re-opened her workrooms for the spring and summer trade to-day.

The Brantford Expositor says,—Hon. J. R. Stratton delivered a most effective speech on the financial position of the province in the Legislative assembly on Thursday. The Provincial Secretary is not only a superior administrator, but a most capable and ready debater, and after he has tackled any question there is not much left for any one else to say.

SMALLPOX NEAR CAMPBELLFORD.

An Unexpected Outbreak in Seymour Township.

A case of smallpox in the family of Mr. Sarginson, in Seymour east, has been reported to the Board of Health, says the Campbellford Herald, and placards were put up on the premises on Monday night, as a warning to the public. We are informed that two or three children of the family have been attending school, and that members of other families have visited the house being unaware of the presence of the disease. Mr. Sarginson's family will be subject to chose quarantine according to the health regulations of the Province. A message was sent to Dr. Bryce, of Toronto, on Monday night, giving him notice of the disease.

CONGREGATIONAL RE-UNION

Annual Re-union of the Murray Street Baptist Church

The annual roll call and congregational re-union of Murray Street Baptist Church was held Wednesday night, and considering the prevalence of sickness throughout the town, was largely attended. The chair was occupied by Rev. J. Bastow, pastor of the church. All the members' named were called they responded either by person or by letter. The evening was most enjoyably spent by all present.

WHERE ARE WE IN CHINA.

(Editor Morning Times.)

Dear Mr. Editor,—Conditions in China change slowly, but certain things are known that help us to appreciate the extent of the calamity, and also to predict what the end is to be. Not less than one hundred, and fifty probably two hundred Missionaries have suffered martyrdom. The number of native christians slain is very large Some estimate 40,000, but let us hope that the number is not so great. At the lowest estimate, it is a terrible slaughter of China's best people.

It is now known that Hsn Ching Cheng, and Yuen Chang, two intelligent officials in the Chinese Foreign Office, refused to transmit the awful edict to 'Massacre all foreigners' and charged it into 'Protest all foreigners'. On account of this refusal, they lost their heads.

It is also known that the Viceroys along the Yangtsze Valley entered into a compact with their Cunsuls in Shanghai to protect foreign life and property. Several, other Viceroys and Governors and many minor officials have shown great kindness to foreigners, giving money, escort and facilities to escape. In spite of the Empress Dowager's command and the determination of the reactionists to have these commands carried out, one half the mandarins of the Empress refused to obey. This is proof that the missionaries had not excited the hostility of the mandarines as claimed by the Chinese Government and other unfriendly critics. Indeed in some cases, Chinese are today asking the missionaries to return to their field and work. There is no longer any doubt that the Boxers were in the employ of the Chinese Government. In Tientsin, correspondence fell into the hands of the Powers, showing conclusively that the Boxers had sent in claims for their services in slaughtering foreigners and native christians and that these claims were honored by the Government.

The country has become so far quieted that many missionaries have returned to their fields in the Provinces near the Coast, and some have even returned to the Inland Provinces. The danger in Honan is, not now so much from Boxers as from famine. Three successive harvests have failed, and the fourth is certain to fail. The people have become desparate and the country is infested with bands of robbers seeking loot or in any way, to sustain life.

One missionary now in China writes; —'Our native Christians have been sorely tried, but we have very great cause for gratitude in the faithfulness they have been able to maintain. Is it not marvellous that believers are being added even in such times as these? It is true in other places also, that men are being converted through the loyalty and nobleness manifested by the christians under persecution. I feel that as sure as God is in His Heavens, there is going to be a marvellous ingathering into the church of Christ, when these troubles are over past. I cannot understand any man who has a true faith in God, giving way to despondency because of the things which have happened. They havve been dreadful, enough—far more dreadful than you at home will ever know—but had many more been slain, it would make me more uncertain of the ultimate triumph of Christ in this land. The Russians around Tientsin claim that the land upon which the blood of their fellow countrymen has been shed, has been made sacred by them. Christ's peaceful claim upon this land where His saints have died for Him, is far more certain of realization.

The Church of Christ must not and cannot go back on this undertaking.

There is the right ring about these words. Satin makes desperate struggles against the dissolution of His Kingdom, but Jesus shall reign.

JAMESON REID CLAIMS.

British Government May Recover Amount From Chartered Co

London, March 8.—The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, replying to a question in the House of Commons as to whether the Government proposed to recover from the British Chartered South Africa Company the claims of the Transvaal resulting from the Jameson raid, said the claim for £1,000,000 for a moral and intellectual damage was illegal. Regarding the balance, £627,938, of this claim, the Colonial Office was taking the advice of the Law Officers of the Crown. He, as Chancellor, would be delighted to find there was a chance of obtaining money from this unexpected source.

The Jews to Become Again a Nation.

Rev. Maurice Ruben, of the Pittsburg, Pa., Mission to the Jews, spoke last evening at Bethany Tabernacle and deeply interested his hearers. He told of the great movement among the Jews, and their efforts to get possession of Palestine, and to again become a great nation. Mr. Ruben quoted from scriptures to prove that this event had been predicted; also that the Jews furnish the best evidence of the Christian religion being the truth, for with their return to their own land is linked the promise of coming again of the Saviour, who alone is the rightful King of the Jews. Great changes are imminent, and the coming of the Lord is an event which can take place any moment.

HOCKEY.

The final game for the Intermediate championship of the O.H.A. was played in Toronto last night between the St. Georges and Port Hope. The result was a score of 5-3 in favor of the former. As Port Hope had won the match in Cobourg on Monday night by 6-5, Toronto is only two goals ahead. The play last night was fair on both sides and there was little rough handling of the sticks. The next thing on the program should be a match between the St. Georges and the Colts, which would show the comparative standing of the Junior and Intermediate champions. Judging by the past record of the Colts it is thought that even the best team on the Intermediates would have some difficulty in defeating them.

A match between the carpenters and moulders of the Canadian General Electric Company, will be played at the rink on Saturday evening between six and seven o'clock. The teams are designated as follows:—

Wood Butchers

Sand Rats

Stop Losing Money

You Cannot Guess Winners

Horse races are "MIGHTY UNCERTAIN" things to bet on, if you depend on a GUESS to win, a thousand miles from the scene. Thousands have tried before you and have failed. The chances are a thousand to one you will fail too.

You Cannot Handicap Winners

Horses are not machines. They racely repeat performances. Many of them look at the odds in the betting ring before they go to the post—that is, their owners do it for them. Horses do not always "try." They run for the benefit of their owners, not the public.

Be Advised by Experts on the Spot

Do what the plungers do. "Stand in." Get the best inside information direct from the track every morning that a shrewd combine of horsemen can secure for you. That is what is given its subscribers daily by the

LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE

The LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE is a combination of horse owners and trainers, now racing horses at the New Orleans race track, who have united for the purpose of profiting by the exclusive information at their command. The syndicate aims to send to its subscribers by telegraph every morning the names of two or three horses that are entered in the day's races, which will win, barring accidents alone.

THIS BEATS ALL

Among our many winners recently were SARILIA, 50 to 1, Jan. 9; CALLEUR, 10 to 1, Jan. 14; and AZIA, 10 to 1, Jan. 15.

Within a week our subscribers won more money following us than they did for six months prior following their own selections, if indeed they were not heavy losers before they joined our army of winners.

Cut this out and use it as authority on the manager of the Postal Telegraph office, No 146 W. 42d Street, New York, to examine copy of our telegrams to subscribers filed each day this month at noon. Verify our Statement!

We hope this will convince all turfities that our subscribers are getting money, and that our sources of information are second to none in point of accuracy and reliability. Anything we average two selections per day. Anything we send can be bet on with confidence that the horse will "try" and that the owner is betting on him.

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Salida copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims,—The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Salida, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Salida. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of the city; and last, but by no means least, the Sunshine, located two miles east of Salida at Cleora station, on the main Trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

ONSLAUGHT OF THE BOERS WAS REPULSED

Lord Kitchener Reports That the Attack Upon Lichtenburg Resulted in Failure

London, March 8.—Lord Kitchener, under date of March 7, says: "The Boers failed in their determined attack upon Lichtenburg. Our losses, besides the two officers previously reported, were fourteen men killed, and twenty wounded. The Boer General Celliers was killed.

"De Wet's position is variously reported, as his men are scattering through the Orange Colony. Our troops marching north reached Petrusburg to-day.

"French reports further capture of a fourteen-pounder Creuzot, with carriage and limber complete and one hotchkiss, making a total of seven guns. The total number of Boers known to have been placed hors de combat since the eastern operations began is nine hundred and seventy-nine."

Lord Kitchener states that 160 rifles, 24,970 pounds of ammunition, 184 horses, 1,240 trek oxen, 3,920 cattle, 18,683 sheep ,....100 wagons and carts and large quantities of forage have been captured without casualties in Cape Colony.

He further reports: "Parsons found a small commando north of Aberdeen and attacked them. Kritzinger's commando yesterday entered Pearston, but Gorringe from the west turned them out and Delisle headed them off on the road to Somerset east."

FRENCH'S TOTAL CAPTURES.

London, March 8.—To-day's additions make Gen. French's total captures in the present operations as follows:

Guns, 7; rifles, 874; rounds of ammunition, 204,970; horses, 4,071; trek oxen, 5,520; cattle, 28,220; sheep, 178,780 and wagons and carts, 1,457.

THE McALL MISSION

Annual Meeting of the Parent Society in Toronto.

A Very Satisfactory Report Submitted—A Large Sum to Go to France for Mission Work.

Toronto, March 8.—The annual business meeting of the Canadian McAll Association was held in the Central Y. M. C. A. Mrs. Heneage, president of Parkdale Auxiliary, in the chair. Present were Mrs. Cowan, Miss Cavan, Mrs. Joseph Henderson, Mrs. Charles Stark, Miss Dundas, Mrs. Ross (Lindsay), Mrs. McMechan (London), Miss Carty, and Mrs. Hamilton.

Mrs. Charles Stark read the minutes of all the Executive meetings for the benefit of the delegates, and also read reports from all the auxiliaries. Hamilton has 12 members, held 10 regular meetings, with an average attendance of 8, and contributed $62. Brantford has 45 members, an increase of 2, held 2 meetings, and contributed $61.45. St Catharines held 6 meetings and contributed $21.37. Woodstock has 17 members, held 9 meetings, and contributed $20.40. Peterboro has 20 members, holds quarterly meetings, and contributed $21. Winnipeg has 11 members and sent down $16. London, with a membership of 29, held 4 meetings, and contributed $120. Lindsay held 10 meetings.

Miss Caven presented the treasurer's report. The total receipts for the year were $1,342.66, against $1,150 last year. Of this sum $27.30 was contributed specially to the new mission boat. In July $235 was sent to Paris in connection with the hall at the Exposition, and $1,300 will be sent to France for the missionary work immediately.

At the afternoon session the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Cowan, gave an account of the work in France, making special mention of the new boat to be launched next summer, the Emile.

Rev. R. P. Bowles occupied the chair, and addresses were given by Rev. A. L. Geggie, Rev. James W. Pedley, Rev. Mr. Desbarres, Mrs. Crawford sang a solo.

After the grip, or other serious illness, Hood's Sarsaparilla is the medicine to take to restore the appetite and strength.

ITALY'S MONARCH TRICKS HIS GUARDS

Away in Disguise for Two Days Without Their Knowledge

Rome, March 9.—King Victor Emmanuel is becoming tired of the amount of police protection to which he is being subjected, and of late has developed a trait common to the Kaiser in the early days of his reign, of playing tricks on the guardians of the law, for the purpose of showing them how inadequate and useless their services really are. Until now he has been invariably seen in uniform since his accession to the throne. The other day, arrayed in civilian costume and attended by one of his officers similarly attired, he left the palace in broad daylight by a side door without attracting any notice whatsoever, made his way unrecognized to Ostia, where he boarded his yacht, the Yela, which immediately steamed off to the Isle of Monte Cristo, now converted into a royal game preserve, and spent a long day in shooting and in stalking the mountain goats with which the island abounds. Nor was it until the King boarded the train at Ostia that the police authorities, and especially those assigned to the duty of providing for his safety, had the slightest idea that he had been absent from Rome for a couple of days.

THE TRADING STAMP QUESTION

Big Deputation Waits on Premier Ross in Regard to It

If the government will not provide legislation prohibiting the giving of trading stamps it will not be the fault of certain business men. Peterborough merchants have not joined actively in the crusade, because many of them do not regard trading stamps as a nusance, but believe that they are a good thing.

Yesterday business men from Toronto, Ottawa, Hamilton, Brockville. St. Thomas, Brantford, and other towns and cities, to the number of 150, composed a deputation who waited upon the Premier this morning. Their mission was to protest against the use of trading stamps and to ask for legislation prohibiting their issue in municipalities where the Councils were favorable. It was argued that the stamps were injurious to many businesses; one man got the privilege of using them while others were debarred.

RUSSIA DISCLAIMS DESIGNS ON MANCHURIA

Despatch Containing Official Statement of the Czar

London, March 8.—A despatch has been received from Sir Charles Stewart Scott, British Ambassador at St. Petersburg, relating to Russia's attitude on the Manchuria affair.

The Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, Count Lamsdorff, informed Sir Charles that the allegations in the press to the effect that Russia was endeavoring to secure a virtual protectorate over Southern Manchuria were utterly untrue. He supposes that the idea originated with the presence of Russian troops in Manchuria, which were sent there to protect the railway from the Russian frontier to Port Arthur. The Emperor of China has no intention of departing from the assurance he has already publicly given that Manchuria would resume, as soon as circumstances permitted, its former condition in the Chinese empire.

Count Lamsdorff also informed the British Ambassador that Russia was in a similar position regarding the final evacuation of Manchuria, as the allied powers were with regard to the evacuation of Pekin and the surrounding province. Russia must protect herself against a recurrence of the recent attack on her frontier railway, but she had no intention of seeking any acquisition of territory. Thus, it would be necessary for Russia to obtain from the Central Government of China a guarantee of the faithful observance in the future by China of the terms of the agreement. Count Lamsdorff assures Sir Charles Scott that there has been no alteration in the international status of Manchuria, and when the present military measures have ceased the province will resume its old position in the Chinese empire.

Splendid Work Done by the Contractors This Winter

Messrs. Bogue & McDermott, who have the contract of building piers and filling in for the permanent bridge over Chemong Lake, are making splendid progress with their work.

About 500 yards of filling in has been done from the Smith shore, and about 300 from the Ennismore, leaving about 2800 of the centre, which will be bridged. Piers have been built, and by the time spring opens, everything will be ready for the superstructure.

About 23 teams have been employed all winter in hauling stone which is used to fill in with. This stone has been by farmers in the vicinity, and has been the means of clearing the farms of stone.

Big Departmental Store in Montreal Has Its Doors Closed.

Montreal, March 8.—Lepage's departmental store at the corner of St. Catherine and St. Lawrence streets was closed down last night for good, at least under the administration of Mr. Lepage. The former manager of that business this morning took over the administration of the Old St. George, hitherto conducted by the firm of Bastien & Valiquette. To a star reporter this morning, Mr. J. Edmond Lepage stated that he attributed the failure of the business to the competition which he had to sustain from the large dry goods houses east and west.

The bilan of the firm was deposited this morning in the office of the prothonotary, a demand of assignment having been served on Mrs. J. E. Lepage, who was the sole member of the firm. The total liabilities will amount to about $225,000. The principal creditors are Thibaudeau Bros. & Co., who made the demand of assignment on a claim of $27,152.84; Hon. Alfred A. Thibaudeau, notes, $44,102; Sundry banks, for notes discounted, $77,515; Debenham & Freebody, London, Eng., $18,572.77; Bradbury, Greatorex & Co., London, Eng., $2794; W. R. STOP PULPIT ADVERTISING

The Reading of Secular Notices in Church is Jarring to Worshippers

"The reading of secular notices from the pulpit is a jar to the services: is exceedingly objectionable to a large number of people," writes, Edward Bok, in the March Ladies Home Journal. "These folk rightly feel that secular matters should be kept as far removed from the Sabbath services as possible. And they are perfectly right in taking that position. It is a bit disturbing when a minister announces that a fair will be held on such or such a day, or that a strawberry festival has been arranged for a certain evening. All our churches cannot abolish pulpit announcements too soon; many of them have done so already. They have never had a place there; they are not in keeping with the dignity of the pulpit. Of course, where a church is absolutely too limited in its finances to have the most modest sort of a leaflet printed there is some reason for the continuance of the method. But whenever it is possible the pastors of our churches should be allowed to adopt the circular plan. The minister should not be turned into an advertising medium under any pretext whatever. Nor should the pulpit be dragged from its high place and its lofty purpose. It is not a bulletin-board."

EXPERIMENTS IN WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY

Messages Cannot be Sent Far In a Single Flash

Wasington, March 7.—An interesting account of successful experiments in wireless telegraphy is contained in reports received at the State Department from Consul George W. Roosevelt at Brussels, Belgium. The experiments were conducted by Emile Guarani, the inventor of an automatic repeater. He first attempted to transmit wireless messages direct from Brussels to Antwerp, a distance of 25 miles, and thoroughly established the futility of attempting to send messages over such a distance without the aid of captive balloons or masts. He then turned all his attention towards the transmission of the electric rays by relays, and in this, it is stated, was entirely successful. He telegraphed from a station on top of a structure in Brussels to one on the structure of St. Rombant Church in Malines. Numerous messages says Consul Roosevelt, were received and transmitted with great distinctness, and two messages were received at a time when communication with the ground from the transmitter had been interupted. This was the first instance on record where wireless messages wer exchanged between two large cities with the antennes placed on high mountains and without the help of captive balloons or kites. The rays arriving at Malines traversed several towns—Achaarbeck, Haren, Vilvorde, Eppeghem and a large part of Malines itself—over chimneys, monuments, woods and other obstacles which tend to stop or weaken the electric radiations.

Mr. Guarini's system involves the method used in ordinary electric telegraphy of relays and translators, the apparatus at intermediary stations repeating the message automatically as received. Mr. Guarini represents a formidable argument against the hope that great distances will ever be traversed at a single flash. "The world is round" he says, "and the rays spread in a straight line."

RESOLUTION OF CONDOLENCE

Sympathy For the Family of the Late John Hetherington

At the last meeting of Court Chemong, 530, I.O.F., the following resolution was passed on motion of Bro. A. Allison. P. C.R., seconded by Bro. T. N. Greer, A. Physician:

That whereas it has pleased the Sovereign Ruler of the Universe to remove from our midst our honoured Brother John Hetherington, C.D., D.D.H.C.R., after a short illness, we the members of Court Chemong, 530, I.O.F, desire to place on record our love for and appreciation of our departed brother, who was not only an ever active and enthusiastic Forester but a friend of all young and old—a man of upright character and exemplary living of Christian profession and practical integrity, who has left a vacancy in this Court which it will be difficult to fill.

Therefore resolved that this motion be spread upon the minutes and that the Chief Ranger and Rec.-Sec. and Orator are hereby appointed a special committee to wait upon the bereaved family and convey to them our sincere sympathy in their hour of trial and sorrow, and also the condolence received by mail and telegram from Dr. Oronhyateka, S.C.R., Toronto; A. W. Fraser, H.C.R., Ottawa; Geo. Spence, P.H.C.R., Cobourg; G. L. Dickson, H. S. Manotick, G. M. Elliott, G. D. Kingston and from Court Lakefield and others.

NEW COMPANY TO MAKE BEET SUGAR

But Will Not Begin Without Aid from Dominion.

CAPITAL TO BE $700,000

Meeting in Toronto of Moneyed Men Interested in the Coming Industry.

If Peterborough is to receive the sugar beet factory which it is proposed to erect in Ontario, our Board of Trade will require to get a move on.

Yesterday morning a meeting was held in Toronto to talk over the matter. At the meeting where a number of Toronto's wealthiest men. The meeting was a private one, but it was learned that the gathering was one of those interested in the beet sugar business in Ontario, and that it all depended on the Dominion Government. That is to say, while promoters of this present scheme are, pleased with the Ontario Government's proposed grant of half a cent a pound, or up to $75,000 a year for the first year, and one-quarter of a cent a pound for the next two years on all beet sugar manufactured in Ontario, they feel that the Dominion Government should step in and help them. If this is done they are prepared to spend $700.000 or $1,000,000 at once in the erection of a factory in Ontario for the manufacture of beet sugar.

The Toronto Star, in referring to the matter, said: Dunnville has its hooks out to draw the factory itself, and The Star was informed that it had an excellent prospect of being succesful. Limestone is found within easy access, and limestone is essential to the manufacture of beet sugar. It is in a gas belt, it is near Erie and Cleveland for coal supply, and it has Mr. Lawlor, who is at the Walker House, as chief promoter. Chatham and Wiarton are also out hot-footed.

What our Board of Trade should do is to get Senator Cox interested, and give him authority to speak for Peterborough. The Times contends that we can offer better inducements than any of the places named. Peterborough is on the gas belt and has the finest water power in the world. Our shipping facilities are unexcelled. We are on the line of both railways as well as the Trent valley canal. Coal can be brought in by water from Oswego and other points, and landed as cheaply as it can be lended in Toronto. Better than all, we believe we have the finest beet-growing country in the world.

Frontier towns and cities have the lake on one side of them, while Peterborough is entirely surrounded by a fertile country.

To secure this factory is a prize worth fighting for. It is not enough to write a letter or two; the gentlemen who have the matter in hand should interview the promoters without delay, and at the same time secure the help of Senator Cox, who is always willing to assist Peterborough when asked to do so.

HOCKEY.

The Excelsiors of Toronto were defeated here last night by the Colts to the tune of 42-2. It was not the Juniors, but the Seniors that played them, which accounts for the remarkably large score. The visiting team were composed of players as heavy as the Colts but were not at all fast, the game, as the score indicates, being very one sided, their goal keeper being simply dazzled by the number of shots rained upon him. At half time the score stood 12-2. During the next half the Colts scored on an avery every minute.

CONFERRING WITH GENERAL BOTHA

Terms of Surrender Discussed by Kitchener

WAR IS NEARING THE END

Negotiations are Expected to Conclude Favorably and Thus End the Struggle

London, March 8—The Boers are at last seriously discussing terms of surrender. Not only was this announcement made in the British House of Commons last evening, but a despatch from Pretoria gives details which lend additional light to the subject. This despatch is dated, Tuesday, March 5th, and has evidently been delayed by the censor for obvious reasons. It states that General Kitchener on February 27th travelled to Middleburg, about a hundred miles east of Pretoria on the Delagoa line, and there met General Botha, the Boer commander-in-chief, and other Boer leaders, with whom the question of terminating hostilities was discussed. It is highly probable that the result of the conference was the offering of certain terms by Lord Kitchener, upon the acceptance of which by the Boers the war will be terminated. This theory is confirmed by the refusal of Mr. Balfour to give any details as to the conference for the present. It is likely that the Boers have been given time to consider the proposals made by Lord Kitchener, and to communicate them to the leaders not present at the meeting including General De Wet. As the conference took place nine days ago it is reasonable to suppose that a definite reply may be expected at any moment, or that it may even now be in the hands of Lord Kitchener. The release of the delayed despatch bears out this statement, for the news of negotiations would not have been allowed to come through until the purpose of the delay had been accomplished, which was to allow the Boers to discuss terms without being prejudiced by outside happenings. A despatch dated Wednesday last states that there are favorable expectations in Pretoria as to the probable outcome of the conference. According to The Sun the surrender of Gen. Botha would have been accomplished before now had Gen. Kitchener been in a position to conclude the terms of surrender. When the surrender comes The Sun adds, it will include the surrender or entire suppression of General De Wet and will involve the termination of the war.

The statements contained above are confirmed by a despatch which comes from Lorenzo Marques to the effect that General Kitchener has granted General Botha a seven days' armistice to enable him to confer with the other generals.

ANOTHER CONFERENCE.

London, March 8.—A special despatch from Pretoria, dated to-day says Gen. Kitchener and General Botha had a lengthy conference on Dun Hill this morning. General Botha was alone and Gen. Kitchener was accompanied by his secretary.

WANT DEEP WATER TO OCEAN.

Western Canada Asks Government to Boom Navigation.

Ottawa, Ont., March. 9.—Vast projects for winter navigation on Lake Superior, deepening the Welland and St. Lawrence Canals to twenty-one feet, as well as the harbors of Port Arthur and Fort William to compete with Duluth, and a steamship line from Halifax, N. S., and St John, N. B. by the St Lawrence and lakes to Fort William, at the head of navigation on the Canadian side of the lakes, were part of a program submitted to the government by one of the biggest Western deputations ever seen in Ottawa.

It was stated on behalf of the deputation that if the government would deepen the canals to twenty-one feet, within three years industries at Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario alone would take 3,000 tons per day freight through the canals and if necessary put up $25,000,000 towards the attainment of that object in the shape of a government loan or in any other suitable form.

The government promised to investigate and consider the proposals.

Heavy Falling Off

One of the most startling phenomena of the time is the great decrease in the number of children attending Sunday schools. A safe estimate shows a falling off of 32,000 scholars in one year The shrinkage is not marked in one body more than in another. The Church of England equally with the other Protestant churches has to lament a loss, and the loss is greater in reality than the mere numbers show, for the population naturally increases every year and the increase ought to contribute its ever-growing quota to the Sunday School. That it fails to do so, suggests an enquiry probably of greater moment than many social questions that make much noise in the world. Why should the Sunday schools have ceased to attract? The most obvious answer is that the days of what was practically compulsory attendance are over. That means, of course, that the churches are losing some of their moral hold upon the parents. The inference seems to agree with the facts. In ceasing to be dogmatic and to wield pains and penalties social and eternal, the churches have laid aside one weapon without attempting to replace it by another.

A Coming Treat

A telephone message to the Times last night, announced the pleasing fact that Capt. Barker, of the first contingent, will deliver an adress, under the auspices of the Fortnightly Club, in the Y.M.C.A. hall on Monday evening at eight o'clock. Capt. Barker it will be remembered, breakfasted with his men here last fall, on their return from South Africa. The gallant Captain will relate his experiences in South Africa. The public is cordially invited to be present.

IS A STAMPEDE COMING?

According to the published reports there is occasionally an undertone of acrimony in Hon. G. W. Ross' speeches in the Ontario legislature, and a subtle note of triumph in the utterances of Mr. Whitney. It is quite possible that the Ontario premier has a suspicion that the tide of public opinion in Ontario is flowing against him, and that the same belief stirs a different set of feelings in the bosom of the opposition leader. It may be that the Ross government is doomed to defeat at the polls, and if Hon. G. W. Ross has any such fears he may be pardoned for some slight feeling of annoyance. Defeat or the prospect of defeat is a bitter dose for the average politician, and must be especially unwelcome to a leader like the Hon. G. W. Ross, who at the very least is as capable an administrator as his predecessors, Sir Oliver Mowat and Mr. Hardy, while he unquestionably is more eloquent in his oratory and more progressive in his policy than either of his predecessors who succeeded in retaining power.

If the Ross government is defeated in the provincial elections it will not be because of any superior aggressiveness on the part of the opposition or because of any superior merits in the opposition policy. It may possibly come about through one of those political stampedes that sometimes occur for no very apparent reason. Possibly the electors of Ontario think it is time for a change. If they do think that they will have their way, for the people are supreme, and Hon. Mr. Ross will not stem the tide by allowing the opposition in the legislature to taunt him into ebullitions of acerbity.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

Should the water, lighting, and transportation utilities of Peterborough be owned and run by private enterprise or by the municipality? Professor Richard T. Ely discusses the question of municipal ownership in the North American Review and reaches a favorable answer regarding municipal ownership of all utilities that tend by nature to become monopolies. There is no doubt that his conclusion represents the present trend of public opinion on this question.

The evils of private ownership, Mr. Ely believes, penetrate deeper than those attending municipal ownership. He has become convinced that there is no means by which the rights of the public can be sufficiently protected from the aggressions of private owners of such monopolies. A community cannot regulate against millions of dollars organized to prevent it. Sooner or later the public authorities are caught napping, and the private monopoly acquires rights which, even though stolen, cannot be recovered. This defect is inherent in our organic law and cannot be cured by any local remedy.

On the other hand, public ownership, with public operation, involves the necessity of securing competent public servants to operate these utilities. The problem is to get men who will run these enterprises for their legitimate purposes and not for political ends. In other words, municipal ownership requires a thorough reform in municipal civil service. Mr. Ely is one of those who think the enlarging of a city's interests would in itself be a strong incentive to reform. He believes municipal ownership would make good government so important that the voters would involuntarily become more careful in their choice of officials.

One of the strongest points made by Professor Ely is the irrevocable nature of franchises when once granted to private corporations. No matter how badly the rights thus acquired are abused, it is practically impossible to revoke the franchise. Under public ownership a bad service can be corrected by turning out the inefficient officers. Under private ownership there is nothing owners to give the people a decent service to do but to beseech the franchise vice. Mr. Ely does not forget that municipal ownership produces its own crop of inefficiency and wrongdoing, but he is convinced its evils are fewer than those of the private system. Yet he adds that there may be some cities where the civilization is too low to develop the public sentiment on which the success of municipal ownership must depend. He names none, but perhaps he has New York in mind.

Life Guards

The Life Guards are two regiments of cavalry forming part of the British household troops. They are gallant soldiers, and every loyal British heart is proud of them. Not only the Queen's household, but yours, ours, everybody's should have its life guards. The need of them is especially great when the greatest foes of life, diseases, find allies in the very elements, as colds, influenza, catarrh, the grip and pneumonia do in the stormy month of March. The best way that we know of to guard against these diseases is to strengthen the system with Hood's Sarsaparilla—the greatest of all life guards. It removes the conditions in which these diseases make their most successful attack, gives vigor and tone to all the vital organs and functions, and imparts a genial warmth to the blood. Remember the weaker the system the greater the exposure to disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the system strong.

"A Bright Little Boy"

Would be sure of a welcome in almost any home. But what a welcome he would have in a home where the hope of children had been extinguished. What a welcome this particular "bright little boy" did have in such a home, may be judged by the closing paragraph of his mother's letter, given below. There is no room for the whole letter, which recounts a story of fifteen years of suffering and a perfect cure by the use of "three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, two bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and some of the 'Pellets.'"

In many instances childlessness is the result of conditions which are curable. It has often happened that when "Favorite Prescription" has cured a woman of female weakness and the nervous condition attending it, her return to health is signalized by the birth of her first child. "Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well.

"I cannot tell half that Dr. Pierce's medicine has done for me," writes Mrs. T. A. Ragan, of Norris, Watauga Co., N. C. "It will do all that is claimed for it—prevent miscarriage and render childbirth easy. It has given me a bright little boy, and I would not have had him had it not been for your wonderful medicine. I cannot say too much in praise of it; I think it is worth its weight in gold. I thank God for my life, and Dr. Pierce for my health."

"Pleasant Pellets" clear the complexion.

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures, size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. One agent sold 68 in one day. Sample and terms 25 cts (none free); four for 80 cts; $1.75 per dozen; 25 for $3.25; 50 for $6.00; 100 for $11.00 Write to day for a dozen and make money. THE PLANET MARS.

Mars is a planet every body talk about.

The reason is that it gives signs o terrestrial life.

The diameter of Mars is 4,215 miles somewhat more than half of that of the earth.

Mars revolves around the sun in a period of 686,98 days, in an orbit exterior to the earth's.

Mars has certainly water upon its surface, although its water supply appears to be very limited.

There is every reason to think that the polar caps of Mars are formed of ice and snow, like the earth.

Mars has a very rare atmosphere, its density perhaps being not more than one-seventh that of the earth's.

Mars appears to have winter and summer as is indicated by the increase and decrease of its "polar caps."

The surface area of Mars is a little more than one-quarter that of the earth. Its volume is about one-seventh that of the earth.

Mars is supposed by astronomers to be a partially arid planet, whose water supply is largely afforded by the annual melting of the polar snow.

The canals are not always visible nor are they all visible at the same time. They appear successively, as the Martian season advances.

The so-called canals are supposed to be vast irrigation ditches, which distribute the water, and are bordered by cultivated areas on either side.

The most peculiar feature of Mars are its so-called canals, which appear as straight lines crossing the surface of the planet at various angles.

Mars has changes of seasons as it circles round the sun, corresponding with the earth's, though the seasons of Mars are all nearly twice as long as ours.

The equator of Mars is inclined to the plane of its orbit about 25 degrees, which is a trifle more than the equatorial inclination of the earth—23 degrees, 24 minutes.

Mars turns on its axis in 24 hours, 37 minutes, 22.7 seconds. The earth rotates in 23 hours and 56 minutes, about The day of Mars is therfore about 41 minutes longer than ours.

Although the mean distance of Mars from the sun is one and a half times that of the earth, the planet seems, to judge from the deportment of the polar caps, to enjoy a climate or a series of climates quite as mild as the earth's

The number of canals seen and mapped by Astronomer Lowell in 1894 was 183, of which number 67 appear on the map of Schiaparelli. Of the 116 not on that map 44 are in the dark regions the regions formerly suposed to be seas.

The so-called canals vary in breadth from fifteen or twenty to one hundred and fifty miles. Their length is enormous, the shortest being 250 miles long, and the longest 3,540. A thousand or fifteen hundred miles is about their average length.

Mr. Lowell is strongly inclined to think that the water supply of Mars has fallen so low that the inhabitants of the planet have been compelled for the purpose of agriculture to resort to a gigantic system of irrigation. What we see and call a "canal" is really a strip of vegetation which is thus artificially nourished on either side of the canal proper, the water itself being invisible.

The "canals" of Mars were discovered in 1877 by M. Schiaparelli, the director of the observatory of Milan. For nearly ten years no other astronomer could see them. M. Perrotin, at Nice and Dr. Terby, at Louvain, were the first to confirm this great decovery. Professor W. H. Pickering saw them for the first time at the Harvard College observatory in 1890. They are now seen easily at Arequipa, in Peru; at Mount Hamilton, at Mr. Lowell's observatory, at Flagstaff, Arizona.

A FAMILY PHYSICIAN SAYS

That the enemy of womankind that goes under the name of headache is of many varieties, and requires many kinds of treatment.

That the first step toward curing a headache is to find out which kind of a one it is and then to devote one's energies to driving it away.

That to attempt to banish all variations of headache by a single "cure" shows a childlike faith in medicine but very little in common sense.

That the best way to treat headaches is to avoid them. To refuse to overtax the yes, the nerves or the stomash, and to give attention to exercise and bathing.

That the headache which results from suit of exposure to colds, or draught, or sudden changes, is best treated by hot applications, hot water bags and gentle friction of the place of pain. If this does not banish the headache in a day then a deeper illness is indicated.

That the hadache which results from indigestion is of frequent occurrence and it implies over-eating or unwise eating; and that when a woman finds herself afflicted with such a headache she should proceed to cure it by fasting and a mild cathartic, and sitting with her feet in hot water for a few moments before going to bed.

That the nervous headache is the kind to which American women are most subjected, as it results from the effort to make the nerves do more than they ought to do; the first step in treating this headache is to drop work and wory and draw the blood from the head by soaking the feet in hot water and putting cold applications to the forehead and the back of the neck.

That a great many mysterious headaches have their origin in over-strained eyes. This kind is cured only by giving the eyes a vacation or by the occulist. Of course, care in the use of the eyes is also a help. Reading, writing or sewing in a dim or flickering light must be given up. The common practice of trying to read in jolting trains must also be discarded. The eyes must never be used too long at a time, and when there is much eye work to be done brief rests and bathings in hot water will ward off the dreaded headache.

Strength and Endurance.

Are factors of the greatest success.

No person can do full justice to himself without them.

In no season of the year are they more easily exhausted than in the spring.

We need not discuss the reason for this here. It's enough to say there is one, and that Hood's Sarsaparilla gives strength and endurance, as thousands annually testify.

Should your little boy or girl get a heavy cold and become feverish and croupy, you should use Powley's Liquified Ozone. Don't be afraid to give a lot of it. A bottleful would not injure the most delicate stomach—and it will cure a cold. "A stitch in time saves nine," and you may save a life by having a bottle always in the house for emergencies. Condensed oxygen and antiseptic.

$1.00 large size bottle, 50c small size, at all druggists, or from the laboratories of the Ozone Co., of Toronto, Limited, 48 Colborne St., Toronto. Write or call.

YOU MAKE A MISTAKE

If you think that the more you eat the fatter and stronger you become.

If you think that the more hours a child studies at school the faster he will learn.

In concluding that exercise being healthful, the more violent or exhausting it is the more good it will do.

In thinking that the smallest room in the house is large enough to sleep in.

In advising another to take a remedy which you have tried on yourself without special inquiry whether all the conditions are alike.

In eating without any appetite, or continuing to eat after it has been satisfied, merely to gratify the taste. dence had sent a few men into the world, ready booted and spurred, to ride, and a million, ready saddled and bridled, to be ridden."

"Persons of genius are more individual than any other people, and less capable, consequently, of fitting themselves, without hurtful compression, into any of the small numbers of moulds which society provides in order to save its members the trouble of forming their own characters."

"If there is no nobility of de cent, all the more indispensable is it that there should be nobility of ascent—a character in them that bear rule so fine and high and pure, that as men come within the circle of its influence they involuntarily pay homage to that which is the one pre-eminent distinction, the royalty of virtue."

It is easier to preach than to illustratein one's life the doctrines thus set forth. The best sermon—the only one that leaves no room for argument, question, or cavil—is the living man whose every deed is an unconscious illustration of his faith in men and in a growing good which men and women may make better. But the poet is needed, also the prophet and the preacher; for these see visions and dream dreams and proclaim them to those of us less clear of vision than they. It is well if we can receive ideal and inspiration from them. They have their place and office of usefulness. In another way—and perhaps a humbler—we have ours.

SOME POINTS

It is estimated that in putting on a stiff collar a man walks about a half mile, were it in a straight line.

When a young man says that he can never love another, he means, of course, not for two or three weeks.

Some married men are glad that they have the privilege of thinking as they please.

It is too much to expect a cross-eyed man to look misfortune squarely in the face.

A man is a good deal like an ax. He may be "sharp" and "bright," but he doesn't accomplish much without energetic muscle back of his sharpness.

A man's ideal home has a mantel in every room on which to rest his feet.

When a woman can't find any place else to put a thing she holds it in her mouth.

Sound judgment—the bandmaster's.

If Eve scolded Adam, was that what you call a rib roast?

Rumors of war are less interesting to landladies than roomers who pay in advance.

FOR YOUNG MEN

A set of rules for young men to follow are those laid down by a man who built up an immense business, the ramifications of which extended all over the United States. They will bear perusal and are as follows:

Keep good company or none. Never be idle.

If your hands cannot be usefully employed, attend to the cultivation of your mind.

Always speak the truth. Make few promises.

Live up to your engagements. Keep your own secrets, if you have any.

Good character is above all things else.

If any one speaks evil of you, let your life be so that none will believe him.

Drink no kind of intoxicating liquors.

If your left ear burns, it shows you are spoken ill of.

Why You "See Stars"

If you are one of those who frequent the police courts, you have no doubt often heard the victims of assaults declare that their assailants hit them so hard that it made them "see stars." And, indeed, the sensation which you experience from a violent blow on the head resembles very much the sight of stars.

The fact is, there is a phosphorescent power in the eye, which shows itself when the head is struck violently, and is often perceived even in the act of sneezing. The jar to the system caused by the blow produces a pressure of the blood vessels upon the retina, causing either total darkness or a faint blue light which floats before the eyes and in which the imagination discovers thousands of fantastic figures, the majority of which resemble stars.

THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD
OR
OUR SAVIOUR IN ART.

Cost nearly $100,000 to publish. Contains nearly one hundred full-page engravings copied direct from the World's Greatest Paintings of our Saviour and His Mother. Contains History of Painting, Biography of Painter, and the Galleries in Europe where the Original Painting may be seen. The most beautiful publication ever issued. The strongest hearts weep at the sight of these wonderful pictures of Jesus and His Mother. Everybody says they are grand sublime matchless, magnificent, beautiful, inspiring and uplifting. The sale is unprecedented. The presses are running day and night to fill the orders. Twelve carloads of paper were required for the last edition. Small fortunes are being made by the thrifty with this marvelous work. Contains also a Child's story beautifully written to fit each picture. The wonderful book, matchless in its purity and beauty, appeals to every mothers' heart and in every Christian home, where there are children it sells itself. A Christian man or woman can soon clear one thousand dollars ($1,000) taking orders in this community. Others are doing this. Why not you? We are advertising in nearly ten thousand newspapers in this country, Canada, England, and Australia. Shipping books to every English-speaking country in the world. We shall promote our best workers to positions of State Managers, Correspondents and Office Assistants. We also own and publish large Photo-gravure Etchings of the Great Paintings in the Galleries of Europe. One or more of these Etchings can be sold in every home. By carrying the book and the engravings your success will be tremendous. Mrs. Waite, of Worcester, Mass., has sold nearly four thousand dollars worth of books there. Mrs. Sackett has sold nearly two thousand dollars worth of books in New York. Both of these ladies answered our advertisement, and had never sold a book before. Took 14 orders first two days—H. Colwell, Took 5 orders first day; 23 orders first week, clearing over $50—Hattie Lemwell. Thousands of others like above. It is printed on velvet-finished paper; bound in Cardinal Red, Green and Gold and adorned with Golden Roses and Lillies. Write quickly for terms as the territory is going rapidly. When you prove your success, we will promote you to the position of Manager and Correspondent under yearly contract.

We shall soon move into our new and elegant structure to be occupied solely by us, and to be known as the Light of the World Building. Address

Big Four Con. G. M. Co.
LIMITED

Mines one mile west of Rossland, directly west of the Le Roi No. 1 and Le Roi No. 2. Four properties. All Crown granted.

THE LeRoi No. 1 once sold for 2 cents and went to $45 per share; and the Le Roi No. 2 £5 shares went to £23, or $110 per share in a few months.

Our memorandum of association contains a provision, provided by Section 56 of the Companies Act, 1897, that the shares are issued as Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable, and that no further liability beyond the amount actually paid upon shares shall attach to the holders thereof. Capital $250,000.

Our properties are now proved (both above and below ground) to have the same continuous ore veins as the LeRoi Companies, and have the same identical ore and our shares are well worth TWENTY FIVE CENTS now, and will surely bring fifty cents. And we can, with a very small capital, develop our property to such an extent that it can also be placed on the London market, where it belongs—and small investors will make a good profit by buying now.

Our assays have averaged from $5 to $800 in gold, copper and silver and the shipping facilities are the best. The Great Northern Railway runs three times through the ground, three smelters close at hand, and reduced charges of $4.50 per ton for shipping and smelting, and we are now getting ready to start shipping ore.

Irrespective of the merits of the BIG FOUR, we have now over 570,000 shares in our treasury and free from all incumbrance. We are amongst the few local companies that has complied with the law in every particular, and we venture to say have

GOLD MINING CO.

Owning Big Horn Mountain Tunnel and Veneta Vein, 200 acres situated on the Western Slope of Pikes Peak, in the famous Cripple Creek Gold Mining District.

THE SAFEST OFFER EVER MADE TO INVESTORS.

It is printed on each certificate that subscribers to the above Preferred Shares will be entitled to receive in Dividends the full amount of money invested, before other stockholders receive any returns, signed by the President of the Company.

This district produced more Gold in 1900 than any other in the United States

This property consists of 3000 by 3000 feet, or 200 acres, of gold land. The mine has been worked. The feature of this mine is the Veneta Vein, 30 to 40 feet in width, and is certainly one of the strongest veins in this famous district. There are some fifteen openings on this vein, the ore from which assays in gold from $12 to $100 per ton. The property is advantageously located for development by tunnel, which will make it possible to produce an enormous amount of ore daily, the quantity varying from 200 to 500 tons per day. The development by TUNNELING is the most economical and advantageous manner of working this property.

At a distance of 800 feet the Tunnel will intersect the Veneta Vein at a depth of about 680 feet, and will also intersect several other veins. The tunnel will cut the Big Horn Mountain 2100 feet deep, and will give this company 2,000,000 tons of ore, worth over $20 per ton.

The new railroad, now practically completed from Colorado Springs, called the Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek road, passes within 2000 feet of this Tunnel.

Adjoining this property is the Colorado Springs TUNNEL Company. In this property at a depth of 400 feet, the Veneta Vein was cut. At this point the vein was fully 20 feet in width, and its value from $20 to $1000 per ton.

There are already in operation mills and smelters sufficient to treat the output of this property, which gives at once cash returns.

Capital Stock $1,000,000. Par Value $1.00 Per Share. 100,000 Shares Preferred Stock at 25c. Per Share.

Home Again

Mr. John Fanning received a telegram yesterday from his brother, who was a trooper in the Strathconas, announcing that the force had arrived safely at Halifax. The steamer was 3 days ovardue on account of rought weather.

A Pretty Folder.

The Times is in receipt of a very pretty little folder for the passenger department of the Grand Trunk Railway. It shows to advantage the beauties of the Ste Anne de Bellevue region and the good fishing that is there to be found.

A Bright Idea

Bobcaygeon Independent: "The Provincial Government should bore for oil in eastern Ontario. A Government oil well would paralyze the Rockefeller octopus." This suggestion is a good one, and no better spot to do the boring than in Peterborough. That we are sitting on an enormous coal oil tank there is every reason to believe.

Board of Trade

All members of the Board of Trade are requested to bear in mind that the annual meeting of that organization will be held on Tuesday evening next when the election of officers will take place. Discussion will also take place in connection with the Sugar Beet Industry, and the Norwood-Apsley Railway.

Vaccinate the Children

Dr. J. Bingham, Medical Health Officer, says that parents both here and in Ashburnham should lose no time in having the children vaccinated. There is at present an outbreak of small-pox in many parts of the Province, and as vaccination is a safe and sure preventive, it is cruelty to the children to leave them unprotected.

Band Concert Last Night

The regular fortnightly band concert last night was largely attended. The programme, which was exceptionally good, was listened to throughout with attention, and drew forth prolonged applause at the conclusion of each number. The selections were all of a high order, showing the remarkable proficiency which the band has attained, under Mr. Gliddon's training.

Quite Incorrect.

Mr. John Wardrobe, proprietor of the Benson House Lindsay, writes The Times to the effect that he was told that a paragraph appeared in these columns a few days ago, stating that there was a case of smallpox in that hotel, and asking us to contradict the assertion. No such item appeared in this journal. We are pleased to state that no smallpox exists in Lindsay.

LIVE LAKEFIELD LOCALS.

What is Transpiring in Our Pretty Northern Village.

Dashes Here and There by Times Reporter—Interesting Budget of Important Events.

The Council are now considering a very important step viz: The acquiring of the electric lighting system of the village and the future running of the same by the citizens.

The proposal will necessarily receive the fullest public discussion, and if the present expectations of the Council are correct, the resulting revenue will not only provide for the running expenses and all interest changes, but will also provide sufficient sinking fund to extinguish the cost of the new plant in a comparatively short time and thus obviate the necessity of any further increase in the rate of taxation.

The lighting of the streets and also the commercial part of the business has not been on a satisfactory basis, and there is no doubt that if a good modern system is installed and the light is furnished at a reasonable figure, that a large amount of patronage will be received, and judging from the experience of other places a thoroughly profitable business can be done at a low cost to the consumer.

LIVE LOCAL LINES.

—Mr. Geo B. Hillard was in town yesterday.

—The fleet of steamers will soon don their summer paint.

—The Strickland Canoe Company have a large number of orders booked for early delivery.

—Work on the Cement Company's Power House at the Point is said to be progressing favorably.

Wills' English Pills

Give New Life to the Constipated and Dyspeptic.

Wills' English Pills act directly upon the liver and digestive tract. These marvels of medicine acting naturally and gently, cleanse the liver, rousing it from its torpid, inactive state; they stimulate the secretion and flow of healthy bile, which regulates the bowels. Constipation and stomach troubles quickly take their flight after a week's honest use of Wills' English Pills. They are the only constipation banishers that druggists can guarantee. Money refunded when Wills' English Pills fail in their work. While using the Pills thousands make Malt Breakfast Food their special diet; it is easily digested and assimilated. Wills' English Pills at 25 cents, are sold by all druggists and dealers. Mailed by The Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, Montreal, on receipt of price.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

—The annual meeting of the Board of Trade will take place on Tuesday evening next.

—The building of the bridge over Chemong Lake has afforded employment to about 25 farmers' teams during the winter.

—Mr. Thos. Rork, Deputy Collector of Inland Revenue, spent Sunday with his family in Norwood. Mr. Rork intends moving his family to Peterborough about the 1st of April.

—At Stirling last week a farmer was taken in by a fakir on a jacknife game to the tune of $20. Constable Hough captured the fakir just as he was about to leave town and made him give up the money.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Miss Ethel Robinson is visiting friends in Lakefield.

—Mr. Geo. B. Hilliard, of Lakefield, favored The Times with a call yesterday.

—Miss Campbell, after a sojourn of two weeks amongst the Toronto wholesale houses in the interests of Mr. J. C. Turnbull, returned to town yesterday.

—Mr. W. S. M. Turner, of the Stanley Piano Company, is laid up with pneumonia. His many friends in town will hope to hear of his recovery soon.

—We are pleased to be able to state that Mrs. Geo. K. Martin, who was so severely injured by slipping on the icy pavement, is gradually recovering, and is now able to sit up.

—Mr. John Kenney, proprietor of the Rockland House, Bobcaygeon, was in town on Thursday on business. Mr. Kenney is a hustling hotel man, and is preparing for a big season's trade.

—Mr. Geo. Brown, the genial proprietor of the Chemong Park Hotel, was in town yesterday on business. Already Mr. Brown has rooms booked for next season, which promises to be a busy one at this popular resort.

—Mr. W. Traill, a former resident of Lakefield, who inlisted in the Strathcona Horse, is expected to arrive shortly on a visit to his uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Atwood. It goes without saying that he will receive a warm greeting from his many old friends and relatives, all of whom have read with pride and pleasure of the many gallant deeds of this corps in South Africa.

FEED CHILDREN

On Properly Selected Food. It Pays Big Dividends

If parents will give just a little intelligent thought to the feeding of their children the difference in the health of the little folks will pay, many times over, for the small trouble.

A mother writes saying, "Our children are all so much better and stronger than they have ever been since we made a change in the character of the food. We have quit using potatoes three times a day with coffee and so much meat. Now we give the little folks some fruit, either fresh, stewed, or canned, some Grape-Nuts with cream, occasionally some soft boiled eggs, and some Postum Food Coffee for breakfast and supper. Then, for dinner they have some meat and vegetables. It would be hard to realize the change in the children, they have grown so sturdy and strong, and we attribute this change to the food elements that, I understand, exist in Grape-Nuts and Postum.

A short time ago my baby was teething and had a great deal of stomach and bowel trouble. Nothing seemed to agree with him until I tried Grape-Nuts softened and mixed with rich milk and he improved rapidly and got sturdy and well." Gratefully, Mrs. ———, Oakes, N. D. Name given upon application to Postum Cereal Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

When Clergymen Speak

In Favor of

Paine's Celery Compound

SUCH TESTIMONY SHOULD BE CONVINCING.

No Other Remedy Has Ever Received Such Strong Ministerial Support.

AS A SPRING MEDICINE

Paine's Celery Compound

HAS NO EQUAL.

Edward E. Phelps, M.D., LL.D., a physician of unusual talent, reputation and prominence, a professor of anattomy and surgery and a lecturer on materia medica and medical botany, gave to suffering men and women this famous prescription, Paine's Celery Compound.

Clergymen of all Christian denominations have contributed their praise and testimony to the wondrous cures effected by Paine's Celery Compound in their own homes as well as in the homes of their people. Extracts from a few of the letters sent in must have a happy influence on thousands who are now suffering from various ailments, and anxiously looking for renewed health.

Rev. J. D. Leishman, Angus, Ont., says: I have always found Paine's Celery Compound an excellent nerve tonic, and have frequently recommended it to persons suffering from nervous debility and sleeplessness. It also purifies the blood and revives the system. Give it a fair trial and it will in these cases be found helpful."

Rev. Dr. Wilson, St. John, N.B., says: "I was induced to try Paine's Celery Compound, and it affords me very great pleasure to be able to say that I have been greatly helped thereby, and regard it as the best medicine I know anything of. I wish you success in your good work of saving the bodies of your fellow men."

Rev. J. A. Gravel, Vicar General, of Beloeil, Que., writes thus: "I am perfectly in a position to declare that for the last four months I have made constant use of Paine's Celery Compound, and that I have obtained therefrom the best results for plethora, depression or prostration of the nervous system, dizziness and partial paralysis. It is the best depurative that I know of."

Rev. Mr. Rioux, of St. Anne's Church, Montreal, writes: "I am fully convinced, both by personal experience and by the statements of many of my parishioners intrusted to my care, that the celebrated medicine, Paine's Celery Compound, deserves a high recommendation. I therefore willingly indorse the testimonials already given in its behalf."

A Douro Wedding.

A quiet but interesting event took place on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. R. Girvin, Douro, when her third daughter, Miss Edith, was united in marriage to Mr. William W. Isbister. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. McCamus, pastor of the Methodist church, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The bride, who was attired in a very becoming costume of white organdie, was assisted by her sister, Miss Ethel Girven, also gowned in white organdie The groom was assisted by his brother Mr. James Isbister. At the conclusion of the ceremony the assembled guests sat down to the usual wedding dinner. The bride was the recipient of many handsome and valuable presents. The happy couple left on the 5.40 train for their future home in Gamebridge, followed by the best wishes of a large number of friends, in which The Times heartily joins.

A PLEASANT EVENING

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. S. A. Price, Douro, on Thursday evening, the occasion being the presence of Private W. A. Knisley, of Selkirk, and recently of "A" Squadron, 2nd Battalion, Canadian Mounted Rifles, who has been in town for the past few days a guest of Mrs. Price. Private Knisley has been a welcome visitor to these parts, for, as is well known, it was he who, in an engagement, saved the life of Sergeant Percy Price while in South Africa, and was mentioned in despatches for the same. On Thursday evening a party from Ashburnham invaded the Price homestead for the purpose of showing to Private Knisley their appreciation of the gallant act he performed on the South African veldt. A most enjoyable few hours were spent in social intercourse and Pte. Knisley and Sergt. Price were kept busily engaged relating their experiences during the late campaign. An interesting feature of the evening's entertainment was the viewing of such a large number of South African relics, all of which were eagerly examined by the company and thoroughly explained by the veterans. Boer rifles, bandoliers, pistols, etc., were everywhere in evidence, including the bandolier poor Dan Spence had on him when mortally shot.

The party broke up at midnight, but before dispersing Mr. R. B. Rogers addressed the gathering briefly, though in suitable terms. He referred to Pte. Knisley's gallant act, for which we, as a community, should feel grateful and he called for three rousing cheers for that gentleman, which were given in a ferociously earnest manner by all present. The singing of Auld Lang Syne and God Save the King brought an enjoyable evening to a close.

Pte. Knisley intends returning home today.

PIMPLES

We talk about them for their removal.

We talk about them at this time more than we do at any other because, for various reasons, they are more common in the Spring than in other seasons.

You can get rid of them, but you must cleanse your system, thoroughly.

Hood's Sarsaparilla thoroughly cleanses the system, cures pimples and all other eruptions, makes the complexion clear and wholesome, corrects all run-down Spring conditions, and builds up the whole system.

"My sister and I have been in the habit of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla in the Spring and we find it works wonders. It relieves that tired feeling, purifies the blood, clears the complexion and makes us feel better in every way. I believe it to be a duty to speak in praise of so beneficial a remedy." TEMPLARS' RESOLUTION

Passed at Regular Meeting of Dan. Spence Council

At the last regular meeting of Dan Spence Council No. 26, R.T. of T., the following resolution was passed:

To Mr. John Hetherington and family:

Dear Friends,—We, the members of Dan Spence Council No. 26, R.T. of T., desire to express to you our heartfelt sorrow in this the hour of your bereavement, which has deprived you of a kind and loving husband and father and us of an ardent worker in the cause for which we are banded together.

The death of our dear friend reminds us that here we have no permanent abode, but are simply pilgrims on life's rough journey. Let us then strive to be like him, always ready when the Master calls.

We are aware that earthly sympathy can be of little avail, and we cannot therefore do better than to commend you all to the care of our Heavenly Father, who hath called our dear friend to be with Him in Glory, where we shall all hope to meet him in the glad hereafter.

Signed on behalf of the Lodge.

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Salida copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrance the following claims,—The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Salida, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Salida. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of the city; and last, but by no means least, the Sunshine, located two miles east of Salida at Cleora station, on the main Trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

WAR WITH THE STATES THE TALK AT WASHINGTON

THE CLAYTON-BULWER TREATY THE CAUSE.

Washington, D. C. March 6.—Mr. Morgan who yesterday offered a resolution declaring the abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty between the United States and Great Britain, to-day addressed the Senate for nearly two hours upon his proposition. His admonitions to Great Britain were particularly sharp. He declared that if Great Britain should endeavor to enforce the terms of the treaty the effort would result in a war in which the great empire, which had controlled for scores of years the commerce of the world, would be swept from power and her King would be left with only sovereignty over his own island.

The Senator said he would exclude from his argument any consideration of the Panama canal commission. The only prospect of the construction of the Nicaragua canal now by the United States rested upon the protocols which had been entered into between this country and the governments of Nicaragua and Costa Rica. He challenged any Senator to a single proposition which Great Britain had made for such a modification of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty as would admit of the construction of the Nicaragua canal. No such action, he said, ever had been taken by Great Britain.

Delusion of Americans.

During all the time when Americans were "hugging to their bosoms" the delusion that Great Britain eventually would enter upon a friendly arrangement for the construction of the canal, Great Britain had preserved "a profound and golden silence." He called her silence "golden" because, he asserted, Great Britain, through Liverpool, which was the commercial center of the world, was being enriched, and the United States, because of the lack of the Nicaragua canal, was contributing to the enriching Great Britain.

"There cannot be anything more precious today to Great Britain," Mr. Morgan said, "than to prevent the construction of the Nicajaguan canal. If Great Britain by her 'golden silence' can prevent that her profits will continue, and the longer she can do that the greater will be her profits on the Suez canal. She has remained as silent as silent as the shpinx, which looks out upon the desert of wasted American opportunities, and, sad to say, American honor, Great Britain is still silent."

Must Be No Compromise.

With some feeling, in referring to the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, the Alabama Senator said:

"We will make no compromise with Great Britain upon that subject. We will make no concessions to Great Britain in relation to the treaty. What we shall do with it—and some of our people are opposed even to that—is that we shall declare it abrogated. If the vote on my resolution could be taken today it would inform the President of the United States that he has no two-thirds majority in the Senate to adopt any compromise he may make with Great Britain.

"If it is the purpose of Great Britain still to look for delay, she will not get it. If it be her determination to pick a quarrel with us about it, she will find the United States can muster at least half the number of men who voted for the President in the last election—fighting men. And she will find, when that war terminates, that the steel band which binds the throne in London with Australia and India, and passes through Canada, will have been rent in twain; and with its severance down will go the empire.

Possessions Will Fall Away.

"She will find that her possessions in the Caribbean sea have lapsed. She will find that she has overtaxed our patience. She has started with a new King and upon a new career that will break up the empire and reduce the King to the sovereignty of his own island. Does Great Britain suppose she can escape from the terrors of the existing situation and the prospective situation everywhere, and that she can find a favorable opportunity to display her military power against the United States.

Mr. Morgan said he did not boast of the power of the United States in money, men, or valor, but he was thoroughly conscious of them, and glorified in that consciousness, because he knew when the supreme moment should come and any power in the world should undertake to bridle the United States by placing such restraints upon her sovereignty as were contained in the Clayton-Bulwer treaty the American people would resist to the bitter end.

"And that resistance," he exclaimed, vehemently, "will mean the wiping out of any power on earth that undertakes the job."

A Shameful Alliance.

The Senator regarded the Clayton-Bulwer treaty in the nature of an alliance—"a shameful alliance"—with Great Britain and he denounced any suggestion of the inability of the United States to sever such an alliance without incurring the penalties of war. He maintained that in spite of the silence of Great Britain, the United States could abrogate the treaty at any time, and until it was abrogated it would act as a clog upon the extension of the commerce of this country.

Without concluding his speech, Mr. Morgan yielded the floor for an executive session, at the close of which there was an adjournment.

Vice President Roosevelt was again the central figure of the opening proceedings of the Senate. When he appeared at his desk to call the Senate to order, a wave of applause swept over the thronged galleries. He evidently was impatient at the demonstration, and sharply tapping his desk with the gavel, warned the spectators that a repition of the applause would result in an order to clear the galleries.

After a brief debate the amendment to the rules of the Senate placing a limit debate, offered yesterday by Senator Platt (Conn) was returned to the committee on rules. The debate developed the fact that no intention exists on the part of the proponent of the amendment to urge its discussion at the present extraordinary session.

KITCHENER'S TERMS TO THE BOER LEADERS

General Botha Considers Them Satisfactory, and May Formally Submit To-Day

GENERAL DEWET WILL STILL KEEP UP THE WAR

It Has Now Become a Question of Revenge With the Guerilla Leader, Who is Implacable—Has Botha Accomplished Much ?

London, March 9.—The Chronicle today gives the details of the armistice which, it says, has been arranged between Gen. Kitchener and Commandant General Botha. Gen. Kitchener's terms were amnesty for all the Boers laying down their arms, and also all prisoners except the Cape Dutch, who, while British subjects, were active in fomenting Boer resistance. General De Wet and Mr. Steyn, leader of the commandoes of the Orange Free State, are expressly excluded from the amnesty. General Kitchener promised that the British Government, after peace is established, will assist in rebuilding farm houses that have been destroyed, owing to military necessities, and restore to their lawful ownership, seized farms, which it will help to stock except those belonging to persons guilty of treachery. The Chronicle adds that General Botha seems to have been entirely satisfied with the interview, which occurred at Middleburg. He departed to consult with the Boer generals, with the result that a vast majority of his followers have accepted the terms.

Formal arrangements are likely to be conducted so as to enable him to formaly submit on March 11.

It is stated that negotiations have been concluded practically throughout by Mrs. Botha, who has not spared herself in her efforts in the cause of peace. The story goes that she had been so affected by seeing the desperate plight to which the Boer women and children had been reduced that she determined to act as peacemaker in the hope of preventing further suffering. The result of her actions was the interview between Kitchener and Botha on February 27, at which the British general submitted the terms.

DE WET DECLINES TO SUBMIT.

Gen. De Wet and Mr. Steyn declined to accept any terms whatever, Gen, De Wet saying that it was now a war of revenge, and that he was determined to do all the damage he could.

ONLY 300 MEN WITH DE WET.

A Pretoria despatch says that Col. Plumer is still pursuing Gen. De Wet, who has passed through Fauresmith, in the south-western portion of the Orange River Colony. The Boer commander had only 300 men and two Cape carts. Each man was leading three horses.

BOERS CAPTURE 17 SCOUTS.

Three hundred Boers surrounded fifty of Driscoll's Scouts, March 2, at a kraal near Doonberg. The scouts held out for a day and a night before relief reached them. The Boers captured 17.

V. C. FOR LIEUT. MAXWELL.

The Gazette states that Lieut. F. A. Maxwell of Roberts'Horse, has been awarded the Victoria Cross for the greatest gallantry in saving guns at Kronspruit. He went out five different occasions and assisted in bringing in two guns and three limbers.

MARATSBURG REOCCUPIED.

Maratsburg, in Northern Cape Colony, has been reoccupied by the British, the Boers evacuating. Only a few horses were secured.

ITALY TO QUIT THE TRIPLE ALLIANCE

To Form New Dreibund With France and Russia.

DETAILS NEARLY COMPLETE

Emperors of Germany and Austria Demanded Explanation.

Paris, March 10.—Italy is about to withdraw from the German-Austrian alliance to form with France and Russia a new Triple Alliance.

For the past three months there have been persistent rumors of important diplomatic work being done in Italy by French and Russian agents. It was known that special envoys from Paris and St Petersburg had been repeatedly sent to Rome to confer jointly with the Ambassadors of both countries there, and even directly with King Victor Emanuel, but every effort to ascertain the purport of the mysterious transactions have heretofore failed.

Your correspondent is now able to throw light on the situation through the disclosure made by two important personages connected with the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs. The purport of these disclosures is as follows:

"Emperor William and Emperor Francis Joseph a few days ago demanded an explanation from Italy, and a very clear one has just been forwarded from Rome. There is to be a new combination, embracing Italy, France and Russia, and the details have already been nearly completed. The new King of Italy has always regarded Crispi's policy as injurious to Italy's welfare. King Humbert himself had misgivings concerning the wisdom of allowing Italy to be towed behind Prussia and Austria, to be used only in an emergency, but Crispi had influence over the murdered King.

Former Policy Disastrous.

"Humbert dreaded nothing like spreading republican ideas in his realm, which he ascribed to the great propagandic froce of the friendship between the Italian and the French people. He, therefore, allowed Crispi and his disciples to pursue their policy of estrangement from France and trying by every means to convince the Italians that their nation would profit by an alliance with the destinies of the German Empire as shaped by Bismarck. The results have proved disastrous, economically and politically, to Italy, which has been sacrificed at every turn, until her prosperity has been absolutely destroyed and her political prestige reduced to naught.

"When Victor Emmanuel acceded to the throne he lost no time in making overtures to France. His personal sympathies and judgement demanded it; while the public sentiment of the peninsula clamored for a speedy bringing together of the two Latin nations.

"Russia was immediately consulted, and she gave assent under conditions which are now being discussed. The recent demonstrations of friendliness between England and Germany have hastened the negotiations wonderfully. France and Russia feel that the Austro-Hungarian Empire is threatened with disruption soon, and that if Italy were detached from Germany even an Anglo-German combination could easily be checkmated.

"The recent removal by France of certain prohibitive duties against Italian products is significant in this connection, as is also the intense newspaper campaign, evidently subsidized by the Government, just started across the Alps, aimed to undo the previous work on the public mind by showing how closely related the two races are and how similar are their political and commercial interests, and recalling the part taken by French armies in effecting Italian unification.

"The coming visit of the Italian naval squadron to French waters, where a number of Russian men-of-war will also be present, will serve as a pretext for great friendly demonstrations, and and official proclamation of the new alliance will probably be made them."

THE LATEST DESPATCHES.

Cape Town, March 10.

The official reports regarding the progress of the bubonic plague in Cape Town says the outbreak of the bubonic plague in Cape Town show a total of 22 deaths and 102 cases. The malays gathered together to-day to oppose the removal of a malay who had been attacked by the disease, and of several persons who had come into contact with the victims. The police was over-powered and the persons who had come into contact with the malay made their escape. In the event of a repetion of this experience it will be necessary to employ an armed force. More trouble is anticipated.

London, March 11.

"It is not likely that the Powers will oppose the schemes of Russia," says the Pekin correspondent of the Morning Post wiring Saturday. The situation is regarded as very gloomy, even the Chinese pienipotentiaries declare openly that intervention by the Powers is not desirable unless they are prepared to back up their protest. There are reports from the Province of Shan Si that the Chinese are constructing extensive fortifications and mobilizing large bodies of troops to resist an advance of the Allies.

RAILWAY PETITIONS

Two Petitions Presented at Ottawa of Interest to Peterborough

Mr. Vrooman, a petition on behalf of the Lindsay, Bobcaygeon & Pontypool Railway, asking for the extension of the time limit for the expenditure of 16 per cent. of the capital stock. The time limit at present is August 1, 1901. The petitioners state that the construction of the railway was commenced on December 18th last, and has since been continuous, and is now in active operation.

Mr. Galliher presented the petition of Hon. J. R. Stratton, Peterborough, Christian Kloepfer, Guelph; Walter Mills, Ingersoll; S. P. Coffee, Toronto, and Tracy W. Holland, Grand Forks, praying for incorporation as the Kettle River Valley Railway Company. They propose to construct and operate a railway from the international boundary, near Cascade, in a westerly direction along the valley of the Kettle River to Carson, with a branch from Grand Forks, via Greenwood, to Midway.

ANOTHER BIG FIRE IN PETERBOROUGH

Examiner Printing Office Almost Destroyed on Saturday

BOOKSTORE ALSO WRECKED

A very disastrious fire occurred on Saturday morning about four o'clock, which almost totally destroyed the premises of the Examiner Printing Company, and badly wrecked the adjoining store occupied by Messrs A. H. Stratton & Co., as a bookstore. The fire was discovered about 4 o'clock by a man named Begley, who resides on the lane in the rear of the building. The fire is supposed to have started in the press department, and quickly spread. Police Constable Adams and Nightwatchman Finley passed down Chambers street at a quarter to four o'clock and tried the door in the rear of the building. At this time nothing unusual was noticed about the premises, and no sign of fire was perceptible. When Begley discovered it, the flames were breaking out of the windows on the second flat.

The fire brigade was soon on hand, but the flames had obtained such headway that it was impossible to save the building.

Everything points to the fire being the work of an incendiary. There were windows broken on the ground floor, which would indicate that the fire bug entered the building in this way.

In a very short time the floor in the third flat gave way and came crashing down to the second story. The presses and in fact all the printing and bindery plant was completely ruined.

The fierceness of the heat penetrated the brick wall separating the Examiner premises from the bookstore, and the latter building had to be flooded with water. The stock in the bookstore is badly damaged, the loss being estimated at $20,000.

By about eight o'clock the fire was well under control although it was some time later before the hose ceased playing on the interior of the building which presents a sadly wrecked appearance to-day.

Royal	$1,500
Guardian	$1,500
Sun Fire	$1,500
Phoenix of Brooklyn	$1,500
Perth	$1,500
Ottawa	$1,500
Connecticut	$1,500
Equity	$1,500
Queen	$1,500

The insurance on the stock and plant of the Examiner is distributed amongst the following companies:

Lancashire	$3,000
British American	$2,000
Western	$2,500
London Mutual	$5,500
Royal	$1,000
Hand-in-Hand	$2,000

The loss is estimated at $35,000.

The buildings occupied by the Examiner and the Peterborough Bookstore are owned by the Toronto Savings and Loan Co. They are insured in the British American for $3,000 each, with $600 additional on the fixtures of the Bookstore and $400 on those in the Examiner Office.

Mr. W. H. Wrighton, to the north, also suffered damage from water and smoke, as also did Mr. McQuay, to the south. These losses are covered by insurance.

The Times extends its sincere sympathy to its contemporary, the Examiner, in the disaster which has overtaken it.

COME THIS WAY !

A good deal is being said in Peterborough just now about good roads. A novel scheme of arousing a wholesome and active interest in the construction of desirable highways, and one which can scarcely fail to produce satisfactory results, is that arranged by the Illinois Cnetral Railroad Company and the National Good Roads Association. About the middle of this month a train of several cars, one or more for commissary and dwelling purposes, and the rest for the transportation of first class roadmaking machinery, will leave New Orleans for Chicago with a force of expert road builders. At twenty or more places between those two cities the train will be sidetracked and practical demonstrations given in the art of making smooth, hard and durable wagonways. A model road one mile long will be built in each of the places at which the train stops, and the residents of the favored towns are to be called on to provide the material for foundation and grading.

The coming of the good roads special," as the train will be called, is to be announced here and there along the line of the railroad by advance agents of the movement, who will hold mass meetings for the purpose of expounding the advantages of highways that are properly made, and of proving to the townspeople that the construction and maintenance of such highways constitute a duty which they owe to themselves and to future generations. It is expected that the arrival of the train will be awaited with great eagerness at the places it will visit, and the promoters of the venture hope that it will result in greatly stimulating the good roads movement, at least along the route of the Illinois Central.

Cure for Smallpox.

A correspondent speaks as follows concerning smallpox and its remedy: "I herewith append a recipe which has been used to my knowledge in hundreds of cases. It will prevent or cure the smallpox though the pittings are filling. When Jenner discovered a cow pox, the world of science hurled an avalanche of fame upon his head, but when the most scientific school of medicine in the world—that of Paris—published this recipe as a panacea for smallpox, it passed unheeded. It is an unfailing as fact, and conquers in every instance. It is harmless when taken by a well person. It will also cure scarlet fever. Here is the recipe as I have used it and cured my children of scarlet fever—here it is as I have used to cure the smallpox, when learned physicians said the patient must die, and it cured; Sulphate of zinc, one grain; fox glove (digitalis) one grain; half a teaspoonful of sugar; mix with two teaspoonful of water, ounces of water; take a spoonful every hour. Either disease will disappear in when it is thoroughly mixed, add four twelve hours. For a child, smaller doses, according to age. If counties would compel physicians to use this, there would be no need of pest houses.

If you value advice and experience use this for that terrible disease.

Horses Wanted

Mr. W J Pearson's next regular visits in this district will be as follows:—

Balmoral Hotel, Bowmanville, Monday morning, March 11th; Bennett's Hotel, Newcastle, Monday afternoon, March 11th; Commercial Hotel, Coborough, Tuesday morning March 12th; Royal Hotel, Port Hope, Tuesday afternoon, March 12th; White's Hotel, Peterborough, Wednesday, March 13. Bring good sound animals in good condition and be sure of tip-top prices.

THE FEDERAL LIFE

Another Milestone Passed in the History of This Progressive Company

We heartily congratulate the directors of the Federal Life Assurance Company on the result of the years' operations, as set forth in the financial statement submitted at the annual general meeting of shareholders, held at the head office of the Company in Hamilton, on Thursday last.

This purely Canadian institution, has, by its excellent business methods, and its liberal dealings with policy holders, acquired not only the confidence of the people, but has also earned their esteem and regard.

During the year that has gone, the Company has received new business, amounting to $2,094,735, of which nearly two millions were accepted. The income shows a most gratufying increase, and the assets are $411,430 greater now than they were one year ago, the total assets being $1,271,340, exclusive of guarantee capital.

The security of the policy holders is absolute. There is no better in existence.

The Company is represented in Peterborough by Mr. H. B. Meharry, who is always ready and willing to explain fully the various schemes of insurance.

Notes of Interest

It is reported that the motto of the Strathconas reads: "In Steele we trust." There is no connection with the Billion Dollar steel trust.

The Transvaal war has reached the same stage as a checker game when you have three kings on the board and are trying to corner the other fellow's one.

With Pierpont Morgan reaching for our steel plant and Senator Morgan yearning to plant his steel in us, Canada's future takes on a dusky hue.

On Tuesday evening 12 Irish members of the British House of Commons transgressed the rules and had to be removed from the chamber by force. It took six policemen to each member, and one by reason of great strength required eight bobbies to oust him. The honorable members were carried out kicking and howling. "God save Ireland." This may advance the cause of home rule and lead in some occult fashion to the eventual amelioration of the condition of Ireland, but we admit being blind to the advantage to accrue from it either to Ireland or the cause of home rule.

Cheap Labor

The British public has received a shocking lesson as to the price of cheap labor in connection with the death of a Jewish shoemaker in London named Altmann. At the inquest it was proved that he was paid 40 cents for finishing a dozen pairs of boots, which it would take him at least six hours to do. By working twenty-two hours out of the twenty-four, he made less than a dollar a day, and he was obliged to keep up this rate to hold his place. If he had refused work, he would have been dismissed. He went to bed at midnight, and rising to work again at two a.m., hanged himself in desperation. The verdict of the jury was 'suicide during temporary insanity, caused by overwork, at small pay to keep himself and wife."

La Grippe Responsible.

To the prevalence of la grippe is attributed the large increase in the number of deaths in the province during January. There were 2,261 deaths all told, as against 1,771 in January, 1900, and 2,172 in December. The deaths from contagious diseases were—Scarlatina, 16, diphtheria, 49; measles 9, whooping cough, 2; typhoid, 41; tuberculosis, 194.

WAR WITH THE STATES THE TALK AT WASHINGTON

THE CLAYTON-BULWER TREATY THE CAUSE.

Washington, D. C. March 6.—Mr. Morgan who yesterday offered a resolution declaring the abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty between the United States and Great Britain, to-day addressed the Senate for nearly two hours upon his proposition. His admonitions to Great Britain were particularly sharp. He declared that if Great Britain should endeavor to enforce the terms of the treaty the effort would result in a war in which the great empire, which had controlled for scores of years the commerce of the world, would be swept from power and her King would be left with only sovereignty over his own island.

The Senator said he would exclude from his argument any consideration of the Panama canal commission. The only prospect of the construction of the Nicaragua canal now by the United States rested upon the protocols which had been entered into between this country and the governments of Nicaragua and Costa Rica. He challenged any Senator to a single proposition which Great Britain had made for such a modification of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty as would admit of the construction of the Nicaragua canal. No such action, he said, ever had been taken by Great Britain.

Delusion of Americans.

During all the time when Americans were "hugging to their bosoms" the delusion that Great Britain eventually would enter upon a friendly arrangement for the construction of the canal, Great Britain had preserved "a profound and golden silence." He called her silence "golden" because, he asserted, Great Britain, through Liverpool, which was the commercial center of the world, was being enriched, and the United States, because of the lack of the Nicaragua canal, was contributing to the enriching Great Britain.

"There cannot be anything more precious today to Great Britain," Mr. Morgan said, "than to prevent the construction of the Nicaraguan canal. If Great Britain by her 'golden silence' can prevent that her profits will continue, and the longer she can do that the greater will be her profits on the Suez canal. She has remained as silent as silent as the sphinx, which looks out upon the desert of wasted American opportunities, and, sad to say, American honor. Great Britain is still silent."

Must Be No Compromise.

With some feeling, in referring to the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, the Alabama Senator said:

"We will make no compromise with Great Britain upon that subject. We will make no concessions to Great Britain in relation to the treaty. What we shall do with it—and some of our people are opposed even to that—is that we shall declare it abrogated. If the vote on my resolution could be taken today it would inform the President of the United States that he has no two-thirds majority in the Senate to adopt any compromise he may make with Great Britain.

"If it is the purpose of Great Britain still to look for delay, she will not get it. If it be her determination to pick a quarrel with us about it, she will find the United States can muster at least half the number of men who voted for the President in the last election—fighting men. And she will find, when that war terminates, that the steel band which binds the throne in London with Australia and India, and passes through Canada, will have been rent in twain; and with its severance down will go the empire.

Possessions Will Fall Away.

"She will find that her possessions in the Caribbean sea have lapsed. She will find that she has overtaxed our patience. She has started with a new King and upon a new career that will break up the empire and reduce the King to the sovereignty of his own island. Does Great Britain suppose she can escape from the terrors of the existing situation and the prospective situation everywhere, and that she can find a favorable opportunity to display her military power against the United States.

Mr. Morgan said he did not boast of the power of the United States in money, men, or valor, but he was thoroughly conscious of them, and glorified in that consciousness, because he knew when the supreme moment should come and any power in the world should undertake to bridle the United States by placing such restraints upon her sovereignty as were contained in the Clayton-Bulwer treaty the American people would resist to the bitter end.

"And that resistance," he exclaimed, vehemently, "will mean the wiping out of any power on earth that undertakes the job."

A Shameful Alliance.

The Senator regarded the Clayton-Bulwer treaty in the nature of an alliance—"a shameful alliance"—with Great Britain and he denounced any suggestion of the inability of the United States to sever such an alliance without incurring the penalties of war. He maintained that in spite of the silence of Great Britain, the United States could abrogate the treaty at any time, and until it was abrogated it would act as a clog upon the extension of the commerce of this country.

Without concluding his speech, Mr. Morgan yielded the floor for an executive session, at the close of which there was an adjournment.

Vice President Roosevelt was again the central figure of the opening proceedings of the Senate. When he appeared at his desk to call the Senate to order, a wave of applause swept over the thronged galleries. He evidently was impatient at the demonstration, and sharply tapping his desk with the gavel, warned the spectators that a repition of the applause would result in an order to clear the galleries.

After a brief debate the amendment to the rules of the Senate placing a limit debate, offered yesterday by Senator Platt (Conn) was returned to the committee on rules. The debate developed the fact that no intention exists on the part of the proponent of the amendment to urge its discussion at the present extraordinary session.

ITALY TO QUIT THE TRIPLE ALLIANCE

DETAILS NEARLY COMPLETE

Emperors of Germany and Austria Demanded Explanation.

Paris, March 10.—Italy is about to withdraw from the German-Austrian alliance to form with France and Russia a new Triple Alliance.

For the past three months there have been persistent rumors of important diplomatic work being done in Italy by French and Russian agents. It was known that special envoys from Paris and St Petersburg had been repeatedly sent to Rome to confer jointly with the Ambassadors of both countries there, and even directly with King Victor Emanuel, but every effort to ascertain the purport of the mysterious transactions have heretofore failed.

Your correspondent is now able to throw light on the situation through the disclosure made by two important personages connected with the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs. The purport of these disclosures is as follows:

"Emperor William and Emperor Francis Joseph a few days ago demanded an explanation from Italy, and a very clear one has just been forwarded from Rome. There is to be a new combination, embracing Italy, France and Russia, and the details have already been nearly completed. The new King of Italy has always regarded Crispi's policy as injurious to Italy's welfare. King Humbert himself had misgivings concerning the wisdom of allowing Italy to be towed behind Prussia and Austria, to be used only in an emergency, but Crispi had influence over the murdered King.

Former Policy Disastrous.

"Humbert dreaded nothing like spreading republican ideas in his realm, which he ascribed to the great propagandic froce of the friendship between the Italian and the French people. He, therefore, allowed Crispi and his disciples to pursue their policy of estrangement from France and trying by every means to convince the Italians that their nation would profit by an alliance with the destinies of the German Empire as shaped by Bismarck. The results have proved disastrous, economically and politically, to Italy, which has been sacrificed at every turn, until her prosperity has been absolutely destroyed and her political prestige reduced to naught.

"When Victor Emmanuel acceded to the throne he lost no time in making overtures to France. His personal sympathies and judgement demanded it, while the public sentiment of the peninsula clamored for a speedy bringing together of the two Latin nations.

"Russia was immediately consulted, and she gave assent under conditions which are now being discussed. The recent demonstrations of friendliness between England and Germany have hastened the negotiations wonderfully. France and Russia feel that the Austro-Hungarian Empire is threatened with disruption soon, and that if Italy were detached from Germany even an Anglo-German combination could easily be checkmated.

"The recent removal by France of certain prohibitive duties against Italian products is significant in this connection, as is also the intense newspaper campaign, evidently subsidized by the Government, just started across the Alps, aimed to undo the previous work on the public mind by showing how closely related the two races are and how similar are their political and commercial interests, and recalling the part taken by French armies in effecting Italian unification.

"The coming visit of the Italian naval squadron to French waters, where a number of Russian men-of-war will also be present, will serve as a pretext for great friendly demonstrations, and and official proclamation of the new alliance will probably be made them."

THE LATEST DESPATCHES.

Cape Town, March 10.

The official reports regarding the progress of the bubonic plague in Cape Town says the outbreak of the bubonic plague in Cape Town show a total of 22 deaths and 102 cases. The malays gathered together to-day to oppose the removal of a malay who had been attacked by the disease, and of several persons who had come into contact with the victims. The police was over-powered and the persons who had come into contact with the malay made their escape. In the event of a repetion of this experience it will be necessary to employ an armed force. More trouble is antisipated.

London, March 11.

"It is not likely that the Powers will oppose the schemes of Russia," says the Pekin correspondent of the Morning Post wiring Saturday. The situation is regarded as very gloomy, even the Chinese plenipotentiaries declare openly that intervention by the Powers is not desirable unless they are prepared to back up their protest. There are reports from the Province of Shan Si that the Chinese are constructing extensive fortifications and mobilizing large bodies of troops to resist an advance of the Allies.

RAILWAY PETITIONS

Two Petitions Presented at Ottawa of Interest to Peterborough

Mr. Vrooman, a petition on behalf of the Lindsay, Bobcaygeon & Pontypool Railway, asking for the extension of the time limit for the expenditure of 15 per cent. of the capital stock. The time limit at present is August 1, 1901. The petitioners state that the construction of the railway was commenced on December 18th last, and has since been continuous, and is now in active operation.

Mr. Galliher presented the petition of Hon. J. R. Stratton, Peterborough; Christian Kloepfer, Guelph; Walter Mills, Ingersoll; S. P. Coffee, Toronto, and Tracy W. Holland, Grand Forks, praying for incorporation as the Kettle River Valley Railway Company. They propose to construct and operate a railway from the international boundary, near Cascade, in a westerly direction along the valley of the Kettle River to Carson, with a branch from Grand Forks, via Greenwood, to Midway.

ANOTHER BIG FIRE IN PETERBOROUGH

Examiner Printing Office Almost Destroyed on Saturday

A very disastrious fire occurred on Saturday morning about four o'clock, which almost totally destroyed the premises of the Examiner Printing Company, and badly wrecked the adjoining store occupied by Messrs A. H. Stratton & Co., as a bookstore. The fire was discovered about 4 o'clock by a man named Begley, who resides on the lane in the rear of the building. The fire is supposed to have started in the press department, and quickly spread. Police Constable Adams and Nightwatchman Finley passed down Chambers street at a quarter to four o'clock and tried the door in the rear of the building. At this time nothing unusual was noticed about the premises, and no sign of fire was perceptible. When Begley discovered it, the flames were breaking out of the windows on the second flat.

The fire brigade was soon on hand, but the flames had obtained such headway that it was impossible to save the building.

Everything points to the fire being the work of an incendiary. There were windows broken on the ground floor, which would indicate that the fire bug entered the building in this way.

In a very short time the floor in the third flat gave way and came crashing down to the second story. The presses and in fact all the printing and bindery plant was completely ruined.

The fierceness of the heat penetrated the brick wall separating the Examiner premises from the bookstore, and the latter building had to be flooded with water. The stock in the bookstore is badly damaged, the loss being estimated at $20,000.

By about eight o'clock the fire was well under control although it was some time later before the hose ceased playing on the interior of the building which presents a sadly wrecked appearance to-day.

Royal	$1,500
Guardian	$1,500
Sun Fire	$1,500
Phoenix of Brooklyn	$1,500
Perth	$1,500
Ottawa	$1,500
Connecticut	$1,500
Equity	$1,500
Queen	$1,500

The insurance on the stock and plant of the Examiner is distributed amongst the following companies:

Lancashire	$8,000
British American	$2,000
Western	$2,500
London Mutual	$5,500
Royal	$1,000
Hand-in-Hand	$2,000

The loss is estimated at $35,000.

The buildings occupied by the Examiner and the Peterborough Bookstore are owned by the Toronto Savings and Loan Co. They are insured in the British American for $8,000 each, with $600 additional on the fixtures of the Bookstore and $400 on those in the Examiner Office.

Mr. W. H. Wrighton, to the north, also suffered damage from water and smoke, as also did Mr. McQuay, to the south. These losses are covered by insurance.

The Times extends its sincere sympathy to its contemporary, the Examiner, in the disaster which has overtaken it.

KITCHENER'S TERMS TO THE BOER LEADERS

General Botha Considers Them Satisfactory, and May Formally Submit To-Day

GENERAL DEWET WILL STILL KEEP UP THE WAR

It Has Now Become a Question of Revenge With the Guerilla Leader, Who Is Implacable—Has Botha Accomplished Much?

London, March 9.—The Chronicle today gives the details of the armistice which, it says, has been arranged between Gen. Kitchener and Commandant General Botha. Gen. Kitchener's terms were amnesty for all the Boers laying down their arms, and also all prisoners except the Cape Dutch, who, while British subjects, were active in fomenting Boer resistance. General De Wet and Mr. Steyn, leader of the commandoes of the Orange Free State, are expressly excluded from the amnesty. General Kitchener promised that the British Government, after peace is established, will assist in rebuilding farm houses that have been destroyed, owing to military necessities, and restore to their lawful ownership, seized farms, which it will help to stock except those belonging to persons guilty of treachery. The Chronicle adds that General Botha seems to have been entirely satisfied with the interview, which occurred at Middleburg. He departed to consult with the Boer generals, with the result that a vast majority of his followers have accepted the terms.

Formal arrangements are likely to be conducted so as to enable him to formaly submit on March 11.

It is stated that negotiations have been concluded practically throughout by Mrs. Botha, who has not spared herself in her efforts in the cause of peace. The story goes that she had been so affected by seeing the desperate plight to which the Boer women and children had been reduced that she determined to act as peacemaker in the hope of preventing further suffering. The result of her actions was the interview between Kitchener and Botha on February 27, at which the British general submitted the terms.

DE WET DECLINES TO SUBMIT.

Gen. De Wet and Mr. Steyn declined to accept any terms whatever, Gen. De Wet saying that it was now a war of revenge, and that he was determined to do all the damage he could.

ONLY 300 MEN WITH DE WET.

A Pretoria despatch says that Col. Plumer is still pursuing Gen. De Wet, who has passed through Fauresmith, in the south-western portion of the Orange River Colony. The Boer commander had only 300 men and two Cape carts. Each man was leading three horses.

BOERS CAPTURE 17 SCOUTS.

Three hundred Boers surrounded fifty of Driscoll's Scouts, March 2, at a kraal near Doomberg. The scouts held out for a day and a night before relief reached them. The Boers captured 17.

V. C. FOR LIEUT. MAXWELL.

The Gazette states that Lieut. F. A. Maxwell of Roberts' Horse, has been awarded the Victoria Cross for the greatest gallantry in saving guns at Kronspruit. He went out five different occasions and assisted in bringing in two guns and three limbers.

MARATSBURG REOCCUPIED.

Maratsburg, in Northern Cape Colony, has been reoccupied by the British, the Boers evacuating. Only a few horses were secured.

COME THIS WAY!

A Novel Departure in the Good Road Movement.

A good deal is being said in Peterborough just now about good roads. A novel scheme of arousing a wholesome and active interest in the construction of desirable highways, and one which can scarcely fail to produce satisfactory results, is that arranged by the Illinois Central Railroad Company and the National Good Roads Association. About the middle of this month a train of several cars, one or more for commissary and dwelling purposes, and the rest for the transportation of first class roadmaking machinery, will leave New Orleans for Chicago with a force of expert road builders. At twenty or more places between those two cities the train will be sidetracked and practical demonstrations given in the art of making smooth, hard and durable wagonways. A model road one mile long will be built in each of the places at which the train stops, and the residents of the favored towns are to be called on to provide the material for foundation and grading.

The coming of the good roads special," as the train will be called, is to be announced here and there along the line of the railroad by advance agents of the movement, who will hold mass meetings for the purpose of expounding the advantages of highways that are properly made, and of proving to the townspeople that the construction and maintenance of such highways constitute a duty which they owe to themselves and to future generations. It is exepected that the arrival of the train will be awaited with great eagerness at the places it will visit, and the promoters of the venture hope that it will result in greatly stimulating the good roads movement, at least along the route of the Illinois Central.

Cure for Smallpox.

A correspondent speaks as follows concerning smallpox and its remedy: "I herewith append a recipe which has been used to my knowledge in hundreds of cases. It will prevent or cure the smallpox though the pittings are filling. When Jenner discovered a cow pox, the world of science hurled an advlanche of fame upon his head, but when the most scientific school of medicine in the world—that of Paris—published this recipe as a panacea for smallpox, it passed unheeded. It is an unfailing as fact, and conquers in every instance. It is harmless when taken by a well person. It will also cure scarlet fever. Here is the recipe as I have used it and cured my children of scarlet fever—here it is as I have used to cure the smallpox, when learned physicians said the patient must die, and it cured; Sulphate of zinc, one grain; fox glove (digitalis) one grain; half a teaspoonful of sugar; mix with two teaspoonful of water, ounces of water; take a spoonful every hour. Either disease will disappear in when it is thoroughly mixed, add four twelve hours. For a child, smaller doses, according to age. If counties would compel physicians to use this, there would be no need of pest houses.

If you value advice and experience use this for that terrible disease.

Horses Wanted

Mr. W J Pearson's next regular visits in this district will be as follows:—

Balmoral Hotel, Bowmanville, Monday morning, March 11th; Bennett's Hotel, Newcastle, Monday afternoon, March 11th; Commercial Hotel, Coborough, Tuesday morning March 12th; Royal Hotel, Port Hope, Tuesday afternoon, March 12th; White's Hotel, Peterborough, Wednesday, March 13. Bring good sound animals in good condition and be sure of tip-top prices.

THE FEDERAL LIFE

Another Milestone Passed in the History of This Progressive Company

We heartily congratulate the directors of the Federal Life Assurance Company on the result of the years' operations, as set forth in the financial statement submitted at the annual general meeting of shareholders, held at the head office of the Company in Hamilton, on Thursday last.

This purely Canadian institution, has, by its excellent business methods, and its liberal dealings with policy holders, acquired not only the confidence of the people, but has also earned their esteem and regard.

During the year that has gone, the Company has received new business, amounting to $2,094,735, of which nearly two millions were accepted. The income shows a most gratufying increase, and the assets are $411,450 greater now than they were one year ago, the total assets being $1,271,340, exclusive of guarantee capital.

The security of the policy holders is absolute. There is no better in existence. The Company is represented in Peterborough by Mr. H. B. Meharry, who is always ready and willing to explain fully the various schemes of insurance.

Notes of Interest

On Tuesday evening 12 Irish members of the British House of Commons transgressed the rules and had to be removed from the chamber by force. It took six policemen to each member, and one by reason of great strength required eight bobbies to oust him. The honorable members were carried out kicking and howling. "God save Ireland." This may advance the cause of home rule and lead in some occult fashion to the eventual amelioration of the condition of Ireland, but we admit being blind to the advantage to accrue from it either to Ireland or the cause of home rule.

Cheap Labor

The British public has received a shocking lesson as to the price of cheap labor in connection with the death of a Jewish shoemaker in London named Altmann. At the inquest it was proved that he was paid 40 cents for finishing a dozen pairs of boots, which it would take him at least six hours to do. By working twenty-two hours out of the twenty-four, he made less than a dollar a day, and he was obliged to keep up this rate to hold his place. If he had refused work, he would have been dismissed. He went to bed at midnight, and rising to work again at two a.m., hanged himself in desperation. The verdict of the jury was 'suicide during temporary insanity, caused by overwork, at small pay to keep himself and wife."

La Grippe Responsible.

To the prevalence of la grippe is attributed the large increase in the number of deaths in the province during January. There were 2,261 deaths all told, as against 1,771 in January, 1900, and 2,172 in December. The deaths from contagious diseases were—Scarlatina, 16, diphtheria, 49; measles 9, whooping cough, 2; typhoid, 41; tuberculosis, 194.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE IN P LIC SCHOOLS

M R. B. Rogers Inaugurated a Discussion on the Subject.

He Gives His Impressions of the Benefit, to be Derived From Its Introduction Into the Schools.

(Editor Morning Times.)

In the course of a conversation with the Chairman of the Board of Education recently, on the subject of the introduction of Domestic Science into the Public Schools, he asked me to write to the newspapers and express my views, in order that a discussion on the subject might take place, which I very gladly do. I have given the subject considerable thought for some time, and have taken every opportunity available to examine the matter. I had occasion a short time ago to visit Hamilton, and when there I called at the Normal School of Domestic Science and Art. This school has been established mainly through the efforts of Mrs. J. Hoidless. Though not a government institution it receives considerable Government assistance and is affiliated with the Ontario Normal School. Of course, as its name applies, the main object of this school is to educate and prepare teachers of Domestic Science so that they may be qualified to impart their knowledge to others in the Public School of the Province. The City of Hamilton is most fortunate in having such a thoroughly equipped institution in its midst, and the city authorities have availed themselves of the opportunity to have the pupils of the Public Schools attend this Normal School in order that they may receive instruction in Domestic Science. This is also a decided advantage to the Normal School as it gives those preparing for the profession of teaching an opportunity of practising the art of teaching, and it also helps the finances of the institution, as the City pays $75.00 for every 100 pupils per term. This is equivalent to about 11-2 cents per lesson for each pupil, and supplies the materials necessary for the practical application of lessons. The product of the lessons in cooking (the food cooked) is consumed by the class, which is a strong incentive for the pupils to take the greatest care in the preparation of the article. The afternoon I visited this institution there was a number of classes going on, all composed of girls from 12 to 14 years of age. One class was making hot tea cakes. These cakes when finished looked very tempting—so light that you could almost blow them off the table. If a maid of mine could make such cakes I would raise her wages $2.00 per month instanter. Another class was making steamed apple pudding. This pudding was just cooked and placed on the table when I entered the room. It looked so like a football that it recalled the days of youre. When cut it was as light as the cakes made by the other class. I had eaten so many of the cakes that I did not feel the same relish for the pudding, but even with this dis-advantage it was extremely nice. Another class was learning the art of sewing. Their work seemed very neat and quite complicated, but I cannot dictate on the beauties of sewing, as the only experience I ever had in sewing was when I was out in an uninhabited part of the country on a railway survey, and was compelled through an accident to construct a pair of duck pants out of a taupalin, which by the by some of the party were unkind enough to say they did not exactly fit. Another class was making bread, and antoher, soup stock. I was much impressed with the fact that the wor kabove described was being done by little girls 12 to 14 years old, and not only was it being well done, but the most important part of it was that they could tell you the reason of every operation they went through, and also the elementary constituents of every material used. For instance they could tell you what baking powder was composed of, what its use was, why they mixed flour with cold water, why they applied heat to the mixed article and what action took place when properly cooked, etc., etc. From charts hung on the wall they could tell you the comparison of digestibility of the different kinds of foods. From cabinets on the wall, in which were placed glass bottles which contained the elementary constitutents of the different kinds of foods obtained by chemical analysis, so that at a glance one can tell how much water, how much starch, glucose, gluten, sugar, etc. every article of food contains. They are by this enabled to know what different articles of food to combine to get certain results. It was such a revelation to me that I asked myself, was this the same kind of work that girls of the present day look down upon as drudgery and beneath them. It appeared to me to be a science of the highest order, and certainly one that vitally affected humanity in general more perhaps than any other. To see the interest that these young girls took in their work, no one would ever suppose that they could look with anything but favor upon such work. Not only is cooking, but the economical management of the whole house is also taought. It appears to me to be an economical question. Now, when a young girl goes out to service after leaving school, what wages does she get? She gets about what she is worth, viz, $3 or $4 per month. If that same girl understood plain cooking she could command $8 or $10 per month or more. It is a question which affects the poor man more even than the rich. It seems to me that the vexed question of hired help, which is the bane of the mistress of the house at the present time, would be solved forever if the young were taught the art of managing a house. Nothing is done for the pupils in the classes referred to. They are required to go through every operation themselves. When they go into the kitchen they find everything clean, neat and tidy, and when they leave they have to leave everything in the same order for the next class. The first thing they have to do is to light the fire in the range. They are then shown the different dampers and draughts in the stove. These are all simple matters, but so is everything connected with this school, but the great point is they learn it when young and they never forget it. Now, as to the question of cost of introducing this science into the Public Schools, I might say that In England (which we are used to look upon as being slow) there are over 2,700 schools in which domestic science is taught. In Germany and in Australia it is almost universal and is spreading rapidly over the United States, and why should we be be behind? The schools about Hamilton are either considering the question or have adopted it. In the Township of BartonS S No. 8, they have adopted it. I wrote to the Public School Inspector, Mr. J. H. Smith, asking him to give me his opinion about it. He says: "Domestic Science is taught very satisfactorily in S.S. No. 8, Barton Township. The school has a Senior and Junior department, and it is from the Senior Department the Domestic Science class is taken. There are 8 boys and 8 girls in this class, and a teacher is furnished from the Normal College of Domestic Science and Art in Hamilton. The trustees have fitted up a room in the basement and supplied all the necessary untelsils ordinarily found in a well furnished kitchen. The expense of furnishing amounted to about $100. I am very strongly of the opinion that it is along the right lines of education and will prove a boon to the boys and girls who form this class. Habits of order and neatness are strickly insisted upon, and the effect upon the pupils in their other work is decidedly beneficial. The people of the section as they get to understand it, and see it in its practical operation are delighted with it and I believed it to be a most excellent thing in our Public Schools."

Surely such a town as we have should not be outdistanced by the Township schools. I feel certain in less than five years Domestic Science will be taught in every school of importance in Canada. The Ashburnham School Board have taken the matter up and have appointed a committee to confer with the town School Board with the object of co-operating with them in establishing the system here. I am certain when the system is once established that not only one teacher of Domestic Science will be required but several. The Ashburnham School Board have empowered their committee to proceed, if necessary, to Hamilton and Toronto to examine the system in vogue there. From my study and observations of the subject I am convinced that in a short time the systematic study of "Domestic Science in our schools will deprive of its point the old saying. "The Lord sends meat and the Devil sends cooks."

Thanking you Mr. Editor for the space you have given me and pleading only the importance of the matter in vindication thereof.

Yours truly,
RICHD. B. ROGERS.

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg
The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures, size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. One agent sold 68 in one day. Sample and terms 25 cts (none free); four for 80 cts; $1.75 per dozen; 20 for $2.25; 50 for $5.00; 100 for $11.00 Write to day for a dozen and make money. HINTS AND HELPS.

Do not begin to feed your new corn until the stock of old corn is exhausted. Let it dry.

The small, unsalable potatoes may be boiled and fed to calves, or they may be utilized for poultry.

A farmer who has tried it speaks in the highest terms of gas tar for painting wagon wheels, stating that it tightens tires and spokes better than anything that can be tried.

Add a little glycerine to the grease applied to harness, and it will be kept in a soft and pliable state, in spite of the ammoniacal exhalations of the stable, which tend to make it brittle.

Let there be some evidence of taste in the grounds about your home. A neat lawn, with shrubbery, fruits and flowers, not only make it a pleasanter place to live, but add to its money value.

Rats and mice will go into a trap much more readily if a piece of looking-glass is put in any part of the trap where they can see themselves. They are social little creatures, and where they can see any of their tribe, there they will go.

Heaves in horses is caused generally by dusty hay. As a precaution the hay may be well shaken and moistened before it is placed in the rack, and the rack should be on the floor rather than above the head of the horse.

Somebody had to plant trees for the present generation, and it must be done for the next. If the prospect of a crop is remote, there is at least something gained at present in the increased value of the farm that contains a young and growing orchard.

It is bad policy to wash harness with soap, as the potash injures the leather. If the harness becomes rusty rub off the dirt as well as possible with a soft brush, and apply a dressing of grain black, followed with oil or tallow which will fasten the color and make the leather soft and pliable.

It is stated by those who have had the advantage of experience, that if apples which have been frozen are thawed in the dark they are uninjured; but if in the light, they very soon become unfit for use. We should suppose the same result would most likely appear if the experiment were tried with potatoes.

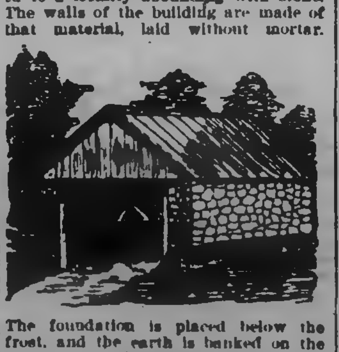
To get rid of mold in cellars, put some roll brimstone into a pan and set fire to it; close the doors, making the cellar as nearly air-tight as possible, when the fungi will be destroyed and the mold dried up. Repeat this simple and inexpensive operation every two or three months for two or three hours at a time.

For keeping fruit to the best advantage in winter, the following requirements should be observed: (1.) Keep the temperature within a few degrees of the freezing point. (2.) Let it be as uniform as possible, as an occasional warm draught is not required to maintain ventilation and uniform cold. (4.) Keep all odors away from the fruit.

The first beginning in teaching the boy to prefer farming is to get him interested. Give him a few bantam fowls, and allow him to manage the flock and have the proceeds. He will be pleased with them as pets, and as he becomes larger he will gradually take an interest in other stock, especially if he is permitted to grow the food for his pets on a small plot of ground.

A Farm Tool House.

One of the most useful and money-saving buildings that a farmer can place on his premises is a spacious and convenient tool house. It is generally the case that there is room enough in the various outbuildings to house the farm implements if it is economized; but it is a corner here and a few feet of barn or shed floor there; sometimes in a cellar and sometimes in a loft, possibly easy of access, but probably difficult, and in all such instances it is space originally intended and needed for some other purpose. The main reason why so many farmers neglect protecting their implements from the weather when not in use, is the lack of convenient and roomy storage. We lay great stress on its being spacious and handy; for if it is thus, James will always drive the lumber wagon inside to take the hay rack off, and he will draw in the stone boat with the plow and harrow and cultivator on it, and they will escape the next rain or dew and the consequent coat of rust. A farmer needs a tool house as much as a horse-barn or a woodshed. Our illustration is suggestive. It is adapted to a locality abounding with stone. The walls of the building are made of that material, laid without mortar.



The foundation is placed below the frost, and the earth is banked on the outside to further protect them and to throw off water. The top of the wall is leveled with mortar, and a two-inch plank laid on, to which the rafters are spiked. The latter are braced on the inside by nailing on cross strips. The roof may be made of the cheapest material, which varies with localities. There is one window in the end opposite the door. The doorway should be twelve feet wide, to admit a reaper, and if the location is not too much exposed there is little need of doors. The ground is the floor. The walls are but six feet high, and the structure should be twenty wide by thirty or forty long. Such a building will cost but little where stones are in the way. The farmer can build it, and will save many dollars in twenty years and many steps each year otherwise taken after mislaid implements.

Plan for Keeping Hams.

A very good way of keeping hams is to wrap them in strong brown paper so that the ashes cannot come in contact with them. Then pack them in clean, hard wood ashes, in dry boxes or barrels. This will keep well cured hams quite sweet, as the ashes serve as a protection against insects. The boxes should be set in a cool, dry place.

A warning.

To feel tired after exertion is one thing; to feel tired before is another.

Don't say the latter is laziness—it isn't; but it's a sign that the system lacks vitality, is running down, and needs the tonic effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Buy a bottle to-day.

Thousands take it for spring loss of appetite and every body says there's nothing else so good as Hood's.

Consumption

We are almost afraid to tell you just how efficacious Powley's Liquified Ozone is for consumption. It would sound too much like exaggeration. It has cured many cases of a most chronic nature—now it may cure yours. Let us mail you a pamphlet—it may save your life.

TO MAKE SHEEP PAY.

It Is a Poor Year That the Wool Cannot Pay for the Keeping.

Sheep have an advantage over most farm animals by virtue of the marketable qualities of the carcass and wool. When wool is in fair demand at reasonable prices it should pay for the keep of the sheep with interest on the investment and sometimes a profit additional. If the wool will do this why should a farmer ask for more? Sometimes the cry is heard that wool does not pay. What is meant by this generally is that a certain good profit from the wool alone cannot be made each year over and above expenses. Even if wool does not pay in this way the sheep can be made to pay. If the wool will bring in enough to pay for the keep of the sheep and the interest, look at the profits that should be made in many other ways. The lambs should then represent clear profit, and after the ewe has seen its best days of usefulness there is always a market for it. Here is another profit that is not commonly counted in, for the cost of the ewe is figured up at so much a year, and the price received for it hardly seems to pay for the keeping.

One must, in order to be fair with the sheep, figure out the different profits from the wool, the lambs and mutton. It is a poor year, indeed, when the wool cannot be made to pay for the keep of the sheep, and with prices as they are now it can be made to bring in a good deal more. One man of course makes more in this way than another because he is able to study the economy of feeding better, and sometimes the conditions for raising food cheaply are in his favor. But no one who attempts to raise sheep for a living can afford to neglect intimate and constant study of this side of the question. The feeding that will keep the sheep in good condition and cost the least possible sum, is what we are aiming at. The lambs should be made a regular part of the crop, almost as regular as wool, and the lambs must be raised at the right seasons to bring the greatest profit. A good ewe that will drop a lamb regularly and rear it without trouble is a desirable animal.

The Useful Toad.

That the toad is beneficial to the farmer, and particularly to the gardener, is admitted by every one who has observed its habits. Additional facts have been secured by recent observations at the Massachusetts experiment station, which show the toad's food is composed of insects and spiders, about eighty per cent. of which are directly injurious to cultivated crops, or in other ways obnoxious to man. The toad feeds on worms, snails, sow bugs, common greenhouse pests and many-legged worms which damage greenhouse and garden plots. It feeds to some extent on grasshoppers and crickets, and destroys large numbers of ants. It consumes all kinds of beetles. It is a prime destroyer of cut worms and army worms.

To the agriculturist the toad renders conspicuous service, but the gardeners and green house owners may make this animal of especial value. Every gardener should aim to keep a colony of toads among his growing crops, and the practice of collecting and transferring them to the gardens is a commendable one.—American Agriculturist.

Wash the Trees.

I have read of many different methods of protecting trees from being damaged by rabbits in winter and borers in summer. I have practiced a method for a number of years that will keep rabbits from gnawing trees and will kill the borers. I use a wooden bucket that will hold two and a half gallons. In this I put a lump of lime about the size of a man's double fist, and pour in enough hot water to slake it. While it is slaking I put in one-half pint of gas tar and a pound of concentrated lye, stirring the mixture so as to get the gas tar well mixed with the balance. I then add more hot water until the bucket is nearly full; then put in earth and keep stirring until it is as thick as you would prepare whitewash. The bucket by this time should be full. Rub the trees with this, using a whitewash brush. When the spring rains come in the spring the trees will wash off and look green and glossy, and will make a fine growth.—J. R. Cotton, in The Epitomist.

The Orchard.

Thorough cultivation improves trees and fruit.

Eating plenty of fruits aids digestion and improves the health.

As countries grow older the love of flowers grows more universal and stronger. When bread is assured for the body the need of the soul for flowers begins to be respected.

Some of the best small fruit growers say that cultivation is better than mulching, providing time permits cultivation. But the mulch is preferable to weeds, by a large majority.—Farm, Stock and Home.

"Better out than in"—that humor that you notice. To be sure it's out and all out, take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Don't strike your horse with a fork handle, or strike him over the head; if he needs punishing, use a small whip. Every-day striking or clubbing does no good. Make him respect you and the whip, and have him fear nothing else.

Don't allow your horse to stand in manure or wet places. This is what causes thrush, and the ammonia arising in such places effects the eyes, etc., and coming in contact with carriages and harness destroys varnish and weakens leather.

Keep your horse's main and tail well cleaned, and wash his tail and dock occasionally in a pail of water. It will greatly stimulate it and grow a flowing tail.

Feed your horse clean food. If your oats are dusty, clean them, and don't feed hay full of dust or dirt

THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD
OR
OUR SAVIOUR IN ART.

Cost nearly $100,000 to publish. Contains nearly one hundred full-page engravings copied direct from the World's Greatest Paintings of our Saviour and His Mother. Contains History of Painting, Biography of Painter, and the Galleries in Europe where the Original Painting may be seen. The most beautiful publication ever issued. The strongest hearts weep at the sight of these wonderful pictures of Jesus and His Mother. Everybody says they are grand sublime matchless, magnificent, beautiful, inspiring and uplifting. The sale is unprecedented. The presses are running day and night to fill the orders. Twelve carloads of paper were required for the last edition. Small fortunes are being made by the thrifty with this marvelous work. Contains also a Child's story beautifully written to fit each picture. The wonderful book, matchless in its purity and beauty, appeals to every mothers' heart and in every Christian home, where there are children it sells itself. A Christian man or woman can soon clear one thousand dollars ($1,000) taking orders in this community. Others are doing this. Why not you? We are advertising in nearly ten thousand newspapers in this country, Canada, England, and Australia. Shipping books to every English-speaking country in the world. We shall promote our best workers to positions of State Managers, Correspondents and Office Assistants. We also own and publish large Photo-gravure Etchings of the Great Paintings in the Galleries of Europe. One or more of these Etchings can be sold in every home. By carrying the book and the engravings your success will be tremendous. Mrs. Waite, of Worcester, Mass., has sold nearly four thousand dollars worth of books there. Mrs. Sackett has sold nearly two thousand dollars worth of books in New York. Both of these ladies answered our advertisement, and had never sold a book before. Took 14 orders first two days—H. Colwell, Took 6 orders first day; 23 orders first week, clearing over $60—Hattie Lemwell. Thousands of others like above. It is printed on velvet-finished paper; bound in Cardinal Red, Green and Gold and adorned with Golden Roses and Lillies. Write quickly for terms as the territory is going rapidly. When you prove your success, we will promote you to the position of Manager and Correspondent under yearly contract.

We shall soon move into our new and elegant structure to be occupied solely by us, and to be known as the Light of the World Building. Address

Big Four Con. G. M. Co.
LIMITED

Mines one mile west of Rossland, directly west of the Le Roi No. 1 and Le Roi No. 2. Four properties. All Crown granted.

THE LeRoi No. 1 once sold for 2 cents and went to $45 per share; and the Le Roi No. 2 £5 shares went to £23, or $110 per share in a few months.

Our memorandum of association contains a provision, provided by Section 56 of the Companies Act, 1897, that the shares are issued as Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable, and that no further liability beyond the amount actually paid upon shares shall attach to the holders thereof. Capital $250,000.

Our properties are now proved (both above and below ground) to have the same continuous ore veins as the LeRoi Companies, and have the same identical ore and our shares are well worth TWENTY FIVE CENTS now, and will surely bring fifty cents. And we can, with a very small capital, develop our property to such an extent that it can also be placed on the London market, where it belongs—and small investors will make a good profit by buying now.

Our assays have averaged from $5 to $800 in gold, copper and silver and the shipping facilities are the best. The Great Northern Railway runs three times through the ground, three smelters close at hand, and reduced charges of $4.50 per ton for shipping and smelting, and we are now getting ready to start shipping ore.

Irrespective of the merits of the BIG FOUR, we have now over 570,000 shares in our treasury and free from all incumbrance. We are amongst the few local companies that has complied with the law in every particular, and we venture to say have

GOLD MINING CO.

Owning Big Horn Mountain Tunnel and Veneta Vein, 200 acres situated on the Western Slope of Pike's Peak, in the famous Cripple Creek Gold Mining District.

THE SAFEST OFFER EVER MADE TO INVESTORS.

It is printed on each certificate that subscribers to the above Preferred Shares will be entitled to receive in Dividends the full amount of money invested, before other stockholders receive any returns, signed by the President of the Company.

This district produced more Gold in 1900 than any other in the United States

This property consists of 3000 by 3000 feet, or 200 acres, of gold land. The mine has been worked. The feature of this mine is the Veneta Vein, 20 to 40 feet in width, and is certainly one of the strongest veins in this famous district. There are some fifteen openings on this vein, the ore from which assays in gold from $12 to $100 per ton. The property is advantageously located for development by tunnel, which will make it possible to produce an enormous amount of ore daily, the quantity varying from 200 to 500 tons per day. The development by TUNNELING is the most economical and advantageous manner of working this property.

At a distance of 800 feet the Tunnel will intersect the Veneta Vein at a depth of about 680 feet, and will also intersect several other veins. The tunnel will cut the Big Horn Mountain 2100 feet deep, and will give this company 2,000,000 tons of ore, worth over $20 per ton.

The new railroad, now practically completed from Colorado Springs, called the Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek road, passes within 2000 feet of this Tunnel.

Adjoining this property is the Colorado Springs TUNNEL Company. In this property at a depth of 400 feet, the Veneta Vein was cut. At this point the vein was fully 20 feet in width, and its value from $20 to $1000 per ton.

There are already in operation mills and smelters sufficient to treat the output of this property, which gives at once cash returns.

Capital Stock $1,000,000. Par Value $1.00 Per Share. 100,000 Shares Preferred Stock at 25c. Per Share.

In buying this stock the purchaser owns a direct title in the Company's property. This Company offers you no watered stock, but a legitimate high-grade gold-mining investment in the Cripple Creek District.

The above offer of Preferred Dividends is an assurance of early returns. After additional machinery is erected, this property will be earning dividends almost equal to its Capital Stock.

On a Fishing Trip

On Friday last Messrs. Thos. Gladman and E. Wilson left for Gold Lake, for two weeks' trout fishing, which will be done by cutting holes in the ice.

Presentation

On Friday night the ladies' class in connection with Messrs. Sutcliffe & Sons establishment, presented their teacher Miss Mary Rose, with a beautiful purse containing a sum of money, as a token of their regard. Miss Rose acknowledged the gift in appropriate words. For the next two weeks she will conduct a similar class in Lindsay.

Death of George R. Irwin

On Friday last Mr. George R. Irwin, passed away after an illness of nearly a year. The deceased had an attack of la grippe which was followed by consumption, and this carried him off. He was only 25 years of age, and bore his suffering with Christian fortitude and patience. He was universally beloved by those who knew him. The Times joins in extending its sincere sympathy to the afflicted family. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon to the Little Lake Cemetry, and was largely attended.

The Gun Kicked

Mr. Charlie Westlake, the well known liveryman, while hunting in North Monaghan on Friday, met with a painful accident. Mr. Westlake was armed with a double-barreled shot gun, the stock of which he had the ill-luck, during the day, to break off near the trigger. Hence, when a rabbit came in sight, Mr. Westlake could not withstand the temptation to bring his abbreviated weapon to his shoulder and fire. The gun kicked and caught Mr. Westlake on the lip, inflicting a painful gash, breaking one of his teeth and shaking him up generally. On examination it was found that both barrels of the gun had been destroyed.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY

At Home to be Given in St. Andrew's Church on the 18th

The Daughters of Erin of St. Andrew's Church have issued invitations to an At Home, to be given in honor of Ireland's patron saint, on Monday evening, March 18, in the lecture hall of the church. The orchestra under Mr. Gliddon will discourse sweet Irish airs and a royal Irish programme, consisting of solos, readings and orations will be presented. The following is the bill of fare:

Potato Scones, Spud Croquettes,
Boiled Murphies, Roasted Pratics,
Scolloped Potatoes, Potato Salads,
Oaten Cakes and Variety Cakes,
Buttermilk and Tea.

The savage loves his native shore,
Though rude the soil and chill the air,
Then well may Erin's sons adore
Their isle which nature formed so fair.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

—The Board of Trade meets to-morrow night in annual meeting.

—The Methodist Century Fund is now nearly one hundred thousand dollars over the million mark.

—"Peterborough Ben," the bull pup presented to the Strathconas on their departure from Canada, is back with the regiment, safe and sound.

—The police have a horse blanket found at the corner of Aylmer and McDonnel streets, for which they want an owner. Also a parcel found on the streets is held for an owner.

—The many friends in Peterborough of Mr. and Mrs. George Sherin, of Essex Centre, will deeply sympathize with them in the death of their little son Norman, which occurred on Friday from intestinal poisoning.

—The South Ward School, which was reported to be in an unsanitary condition, is found to be all right, an inspection having been made by a committee of the Board of Education and the Medical Health Officer.

—Cobourg Star: Mr. E. J. Sailsbury, an old Cobourg boy, who has, for fifteen years, been route agent for the Dominion Express Company, has been appointed agent of the Company at Peterborough. We congratulate Ed. on his appointment.

—A pretty wedding took place on Wednesday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, in Christ church, Bobcaygeon, when Miss J. R. Kennedy, of that village, was united in marriage to Mr. W. Arnold, of Lindsay, Rev. W. J. Creighton, Rector of the church officiated. Miss A. Arnold, of Lindsay, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. The groom was ably supported through the ordeal by Mr. R. Kennedy, brother of the bride.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Mr. D. C. Edwards, of Toronto, is in town.

—Mr. John Lang, M.P., was up from Ottawa, Saturday.

—Lieut.-Col. R. W. Bell, of Toronto, was in town Saturday.

—Hon. J. R. Stratton and Mrs. Stratton spent Sunday in town.

—Mrs. Thos. J. Lee and two children leave for Elie, Manitoba, tomorrow, after spending a two months' visit with Mrs. Lee's mother, Mrs. Mervin Chamberlain street.

—Mr. Bert Morrison, son of Mr. Alexander Morrison, of Bridgenorth, has enlisted with the South African constabulary. Bert was very popular out in Smith and will be much missed.

What They all Say

People who use The Times advertising columns have but one story to tell—a story of splendid results. Mr. Percy Pearson, the well known horse buyer, says he gets more fine stock through his advertising in The Times than from all his other advertisements together. Everybody reads The Times.

APSLEY-NORWOOD RAILWAY

Strong Plea for Peterborough to Assist the Efforts to Secure This Road

The following strong appeal for the Norwood-Apsley railway has been handed to the Times for publication, and space is willingly given to it,—

"The Norwood people are agitating for a railway to Apsley. It is suggested that such a road, if built will not stop at Apsley, but will go on and make connection with the C.P.R. main line near North Bay. If such a road were built and run in connection with the C.P.R. the trains would, no doubt, either be run direct to Toronto via Norwood, or there would be be such close connection at Norwood that the back country would have easy and quick connection with Peterborough. Practically, it would be a Peterborough, Norwood and Apsley railway.

"No one for a moment will entertain the thought that the back country trade will be accommodated at Norwood—that trade will come through Norwood about as directly as if the line started from Peterborough. As Peterborough is asked for no bonus, and we have nothing to loose it behooves us to encourage the scheme as much as possible. If we had ten trains a day to Norwood it would only bring us more Norwood trade.

"Lindsay gains much from her connection with the Haliburton country, why should not we help a scheme that will bring a much better trade to Peterborough? If we don't do this the Bancroft road and the Central Ontario will take all this trade from us. Let us not hesitate."

NURSING IN ALASKA.

Need of Proper Food and Care for Miners.

The character of the food used in the mining camps is such that many strong men break down under it. Scurvy is a very common disease. They drink quantities of coffee and that does it work with thousands.

A nurse, Mrs. L. Lovell, who has been employed in different places in Alaska for the past three years, writes to say that she has induced many patients to leave off coffee and take Postum Food Coffee, which is very popular now in many of the mining camps, for they have learned its value.

She says of herself, that she has been a great sufferer from the use of coffee, and had a most shameful bilious complexion. She says, "I not only suffered from the looks but had a very serious stomach trouble. When I finally quit coffee and began using Postum Food Coffee my stomach began to recover its normal condition, and my complexion gradually changed, until now, after a month or more use of Postum, my complexion is as fair as a school girl's.

I send you a list of many names of miners that have given up coffee and are using Postum, and in each case there has been a remarkable improvement in health.

I had one patient almost gone from scurvy. He could not retain any food but lived on Postum until strong enough to take other food and got well.

I am going to take up a large supply of Postum next trip."

LOCAL NEWS LETTERS.

BUCKHORN.

—Mr. Arthur Smith, teacher, has been confined to his home with la grippe for two weeks.

—The contract for the erection of the cheese factory has been let. The factory will be running in May.

—There has been a large amount of traffic here this season.

—Messrs Thomas Gladman and Ed. Wilson passed through here on their way to Gold Lake, for two weeks' trout fishing.

Anniversary Services

Anniversary missionary services were held in the local Methodist churches yesterday. In the George street church, at the morning service Rev. Thos. Manning, B. A. preached, and in the evening the pastor, Rev. J. P. Wilson, occupied the pulpit. Both these gentlemen delivered able and eloquent sermons, and the services were of unusual interest. The collection at both services were in aid of missions.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES

HOCKEY.

A very interesting and exciting game of hockey was played between the Carperters (Wood Butchers) and the Moulders (Sand Rats) of the C.G.E. Co., which resulted in a score of 6-3 for the Rats.

Dawson's shooting and Smith's defence work were the features of the game. The foundry men of Hamiltons have challenged the Rats, and the game comes off next week.

Stop Losing Money

You Cannot Guess Winners

Horse races are "MIGHTY UNCERTAIN" things to bet on, if you depend on a GUESS to win, a thousand miles from the scene. Thousands have tried before you and have failed. The chances are a thousand to one you will fail too.

You Cannot Handicap Winners

Horses are not machines. They rarely repeat performances. Many of them look at the odds in the betting ring before they go to the post—that is, their owners do it for them. Horses do not always "try." They run for the benefit of their owners, not the public.

Be Advised by Experts on the Spot

Do what the plungers do. "Stand in." Get the best inside information direct from the track every morning that a shrewd combine of horsemen can secure for you. That is what is given its subscribers daily by the

LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE

The LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE is a combination of horse owners and trainers, now racing horses at the New Orleans race track, who have united for the purpose of profiting by the exclusive information at their command. The syndicate aims to send to its subscribers by telegraph every morning the names of two or three horses that are entered in the day's races, which will win, barring accidents alone.

THIS BEATS ALL

Among our many winners recently were SARILIA, 60 to 1, Jan. 9; CALLEUR, 10 to 1, Jan. 14; and AZIA, 10 to 1, Jan. 15.

Within a week our subscribers won more money following us than they did for six months prior following their own selections, if indeed they were not heavy losers before they joined our army of winners.

Cut this out and use it as authority on the manager of the Postal Telegraph office, No 146 W. 42d Street, New York, to examine copy of our telegrams to subscribers filed each day this month at noon. Verify our Statement!

We hope this will convince all turfities that our subscribers are getting money, and that our sources of information are second to none in point of accuracy and reliability. Anything we average two selections per day. Anything we send can be bet on with confidence that the horse will "try" and that the owner is betting on him.

Federal Life Assurance Company

Report of the Nineteenth Annual Meeting

$2,000,000 NEW INSURANCE

The Affairs of This Growing Hamilton Company Carefully Managed During the Year, Giving Good Satisfaction Alike to Shareholders and Assured

The nineteenth annual meeting of the shareholders of this Company was held at its head office in Hamilton on Thursday, the 7th inst. In the absence of the President, through illness, William Kerns, Vice-President, was appointed chairman, and David Dexter, secretary.

Directors Report

Your Directors have the honour to present the report and financial statement of the Company for the year which closed on Dec. 31, 1900, duly vouched for by the Auditors.

The new business of the year consisted on 1,442 applications for insurance aggregating $2,094,735, of which 1,390 applications, for $1,995,585 were accepted; applications for $98,750 were rejected or held for further information.

As in previous years, the income of the Company shows a gratifying increase, and the assets of the company have been increased by $211,430.12, and have now reached $1,271,340.92, exclusive of guarantee capital.

The security of policy-holders, including guarantee capital, amounted at the close of the year to $2,149,055.92, and the liabilities for reserves and all outstanding claims $1,123,788.07 showing a surplus of $1,025,317.85. Exclusive of uncalled guarantee capital, the surplus to policy-holders was $147,602.85.

Policies on 65 lives became claims through death, to the amount of $164,507.98, of which $18.500 was reinsured in other companies.

Including cash dividends and dividends applied to the reduction of premiums, $23,079.28, with annuities, $2,929.56, the total payments to policy-holders amounted to $170,813.58.

Careful attention has been given to the investment of the Company's funds, largely on mortgage securities and loans on the Company's policies, amply secured by reserves. These investments have yielded results better than the average results of insurance companies doing business in Canada.

Expenses have been confined to a reasonable limit, consistent with due efforts for new business.

The field officers and agents of the Company are intelligent and loyal, and are entitled to much credit for their able representation of the Company's interests. The members of the office staff have also proved faithful in the Company's service.

Having decided to increase the guarantee or subscribed capital to $1,000,000, the amount authorized by our Act of incorporation, your Directors issued on November 12 last the balance of 3,000 shares, at a premium of 40 per cent. on the amount called. These shares were allotted to and taken by the existing shareholders. Though the call of $13 per share was required only in bi-monthly instalments, the greater portion of it was paid before the close of the year.

The assurances carried by the Company now amount to $12,176,282.20, upon which the Company holds reserves to the full amount required by law, and, in addition thereto, a considerable surplus, as above shown.

JAMES H. BEATTY, President.
DAVID DEXTER, Managing Director.

Auditors Report.

To the President and Directors of the Federal Life Assurance Company:

Gentlemen,—We have made a careful audit of the books of your Company for the year ending Dec, 31, 1900, and have certified to their correctness.

The securities have been inspected and compared with the ledger accounts and found to agree therewith.

The financial position of your Company, as on Dec. 31, is indicated by the accompanying statement.

Respectfully submitted.

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Salida copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims,—The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Salida, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Salida. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of the city; and last, but by no means least, the Sunshine, located two miles east of Salida at Cleora station, on the main Trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

SHOOTING FATALITY IN NOVA SCOTIA

Halifax, March 11.—Five men fought a desperate battle with pistols within sound of the church bells of the village of Shubenacadie, forty miles from here, on the Intercolonial Railway, on Sunday morning. One was fatally and two others were seriously injured.

The encounter was the culmination of a bitter feud that has existed for some time past between a young man named Lantz and David Emack and Melrose E. Hinger. On their way home from church yesterday Lantz and his two brothers encountered Emack and Ettinger, who were lying in wait for them on a lonely road. All were armed with revolvers, and bullets were soon flying like hail.

Over twnety-five shots were fired, and when the smoke of battle had cleared away three of them were found to kave taken effect in David Emack's stomach. Ettinger was wonded in the body, and Lantz received a bullet in the hip. People returning from church found the three men lying on the snow bleeding from their wounds, with the other two Lantz men, who had taken no part in the fray, standing beside them. Both of them returned to Shubenacadie to surrender themselves to the authorities, but no one appeared to be willing to accept their surrender, and the men went to Truro for the purpose.

Emacks wounds were found to be of such a serious nature that it is not expected that he will live; a later report, a yet unverified, announces his death. The other two, while seriously wounded, are not in a critical condition. All of the men are young and unmarried. The Lantz brothers have a good reputation, but their assailants are not so favorably spoken of.

FURTHER SPREAD OF DISEASE

There are, it is estimated ten thousand cases of smallpox in the United States a tthe present time, and about 150 in Ontario. Most of the cases are in Michigan, and serious trouble is feared when the spring rush sets in for Sault Ste, Marie by men who expect to get employment for the summer on the Agoma Central Railway, which is to be built.

In Ontario the disease hab broken out in many places, all new cases are being reported almost daily. It is feared, when the lumber camps break up in the spring, that the disease will spread, as many of the camps are infected.

At any moment we may expect to hear of the disease in Peterborough. If a case of smallpox is discovered in Peterborough, what will the health authorities do with the patient?

The Nicholls Hospital is saturated with scarlet fever. To introduce a case of smallpox into that building would be murder.

The neglect of the Council and the Board of Health to provide hospital accommodation in case such an emergency as we have mentioned is nothing less than criminal. The consequences may be, and are likely to be, most serious, and the aldermen will be held strickly to account by the citizens. The only hope of any prompt action seems now to depend upon the Provincial Board of Health, which has all the powers and al lthe ability to grapple with the situation. The aldermen are likely to remain passive until an epidemic catches them sleeping. The town was never in a worse position for dealing with an outbreak of infactious disease than it is to-day. If the Council had a proper sense of its responsibility, it would sit day and night until this question was satisfactorily settled. An epidemic will cost the town more than the price of several hospitals. Experience has demonstrated that the Health Department can do much to check the spread of smallpox if the first cases are promptly isolated. Experience has also shown that neither the Health Department nor anybody else can prevent a frightful calamity if the disease once gets a good foothold in Peterborough.

Now is a good time to begin taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the medicine that cleanses the blood and clears the complexion.

A HOLOCAUST IN CHICAGO LAUNDRY

A Boiler Exploded, Which Shattered the Building

Chicago, March 11.—By the explosion of a boiler in the Doremus steam laundry, in Madison street, shortly after 8 o'clock this morning the entire building was wreaked. It is stated that about thirty girls and between fifty and sixty mahe employes were buried in the ruins, which immediately took fire.

Twelve girls were dragged from the wreckage before the fire broke out. They were badly hurt.

It is feared that others caught in the crash of falling walls and flying timbers were killed. A general alarm was sent in, and hundreds of firemen attacked the pile in a desperate effort to drag the unfortunates from certain death in the fire.

The building was a two storey brick. The boulers which exploded were located in the basement.

About a dozen dead and injured have so far been taken from the ruins, and the rescuers are working with desperate energy in the hope of saving the lives of the unfortunates pinned down by the debris.

The explosion occured shortly after the employes had gone to work, and its force literally tore the building to fragments. One man was blown through a window, and then at least a hundred feet. The ruins almost immediately caught fire, and despite the sharp work of the firemen the flames spread rapidly, and it is feared quite a number of employes, injured andb elpless in the ruins, were burned to death. Faint cries for help were heard from two or three places under the piles of brick and broken timbers, but these ceased before they could be reached.

The bofies of three girls were taken out so frightfully mangled that the firemen had to remove them in baskets.

Twenty injured already have been taken to hospitals. The firemen ustimate that not less than twenty-five persons are still in the ruins, probably all dead.

A. F. Doremus, owner of the laundry, was arrested shortly before noon. It is said that he was warned Friday by the city boiler inspector not to use the boiler in his establishment.

WESTERN ASSURANCE COMPANY

Annual Meeting

President George A. Cox Reviews Fire Insurance Matters and River St. Lawrrence Navigation

The annual meeting of shareholders was held at the Company's offices in this city on Thursday, 7th March, 1901. The President, Hon. George A. Cox, occupied the chair.

The following annual report of the Directors, with accompanying financial statement, was then read by the Secretary:

FIFTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

The Directors beg to submit their annual report showing the result of the Company's transactions for the past year, together with a statement of assets and liabilities at 31st December last.

The premium income, after deducting the amount paid for reinsurances, was $2,918,786 and the earnings from interest were $75,649. The total losses incurred during the year amounted to $2,069,096. These bear a ratio to the premiums received considerably higher than that shown in the general experience of the Company, though there has been exceptional years in the past when a much larger percentage of losses to income has been sustained. After providing for losses and for current expenses, the revenue account shows a profit balance of $12,824. This is probably as favorable an outcome as shareholders will have articipated, bearing in mind the disastrous fires which have occurred during the year. The total amount paid, it may be stated, by this Company for losses in the Hull and Ottawa conflagration in April last was $132,608. Of this amount, however, $58,000 was recovered on account of re-insurances. The generally unfavorable experience of fire insurance companies, both in Canada and the United States during the past two years has led to advances in rates, which, it is believed, will place the business on a more satisfactory footing.

In the last annual report the establishment of a branch office in London, England, was referred to, and it affords your Directors much pleasure to be able to say that the progress made by this branch and the agencies connected with it has fully met their anticipations.

Two half-yearly dividends at the rate of 10 and 8 per cent. per annum respectively have been declared.

As announced by circular to shareholders in July last, it was decided to increase the cash capital of the company to $2,000,000 by calling up the $1,000,000 subscribed and unpaid capital in instalments of 10 per cent. each at intervals of two months. Two instalments fell due before the close of the year, but the majority of shareholders exercised the option which was given of anticipating the calls, and nearly two-thirds of the entire amount was paid in by 31st December.

The Directors have pleasure in calling attention to the financial position which the Company occupies at the beginning of the second half century of its corporate existence--offering, as it does, the following security to its policyholders:

Capital paid up on 31st December	$1,618,518 00
Calls in course of payment	381,482 00
Total capital	$2,000,000 00
Reserve Fund	1,002,794 00
Total Funds	$3,002,794 00

Toronto, 1st March, 1901.

GEO. A. COX,
President,
J. J. KENNY,
Managing Director.

Summary of Financial Statement

The accounts for the year showed the following business transacted:

Fire and marine premiums		$2,918,785 86
Interest		75,649 60
		$2,994,435 46
Fire and marine losses	$2,069,097 37
General Expenses	912,514 15
		$2,981,611 52
Balance		$12,824 93
Dividends to shareholders		$119,411 88

The President, in moving the adoption of the report, said:

The magnitude of the losses by fire on the American continent during the year 1900 is a matter of such public notoriety that I feel in moving the adoption of the report just read that nothing in the way of an apology is called for on account of our balance sheet showing results much less favorable than those of average years. It may be of interest, however, to those who have not access to statistics bearing on the subject to know that the total value of property destroyed by fire in Canada and the United States during the past year has been computed at $163,000,000, being $27,300,000 greater than that of the preceding year, and largely in excess of that of any year of which records are obtainable, excepting 1871, when the destruction of the city of Chicago was alone responsible for a loss aggregating some $150,000,000. The most serious fire in which we were concerned last year, I need scarcely say, was that which in April last practically wiped out of existence the city of Hull and destroyed a large section of the adjacent city of Ottawa. The loss of property in that conflagration is estimated at upwards of $10,000,000, and of this amount the insurance companies doing business in this country were called upon to contribute nearly $4,000,000, or close upon one-half of the total premiums received during the year for fire insurance in Canada. That this company should be largely involved in a disaster of such magnitude, occurring in its home field, might naturally be expected; but we may at least claim that, taking into account our large Canadian business—representing, as it does, a premium income equal to nearly one-twentieth of the toatl premiums received by all companies making returns to the Dominion Government—the amount of the net loss sustained through this conflagration cannot be deemed excessive; in fact, I think we may rather point to it as an evidence of judicious distribution of our risks on the part of those engaged in the management of the company's business. It may be hoped that such disasters as this—which, unfortunately, have been too frequently chronicled in the history of this country, involving, as they often do, loss of life as well as destruction of property and disturbance in trade—will lead to closer attention than has been shown heretofore on the part of our municipal authorities to the important matter of fire protection and to the adoption and enforcement of more stringent building regulations in our cities and towns. The tax, in the form of fire insurance premiums, which the business community of this continent annually pays in excess of such charges in most European countries as a result of our national carelessness in these matters represents an amount which would, in a comparatively short term of years, pay off our national debts: and the act should not be lost sight of that fire insurance companies in Great Britain and many continental countries realize more uniform and adequate profits upon risks insured there, at rates averaging from 50 to 75 per cent. lower than those charged on this side of the Atlantic. While on the subject of the cost of insurance to the public, it may not be out of place to refer to the increasing burden which the companies are being called upon to bear in the form of municipal, provincial and state taxes, which seem to be imposed by legislators oblivious to the fact, that such expenses must be added by the companies to the premiums charged their policyholders, with further additions for agents' commissions and other cost of collection. The price of protection from loss by fire is thus unduly increased, and I may remark here that the lowest rates are to be found in countries where fire insurance is least subject to impositions in the form of official fees and taxes, and where the companies are most free from legislative restrictions. I cannot but feel, therefore, that the nearer we on this side of the Atlantic can approach to conditions prevailing in Great Britain in these matters the better it will be for the insuring public as well as for the companies that provide that indemnity without which the business interests of this or any other country would soon be paralyzed.

But while we may advocate such reforms as we believe to be in the interest, alike of insurers and insured, we must recognize as the first consideration to fire underwriters—who, whether acting in the capacity of directors or managers of Canadian companies, or as representatives of British or American companies are trustees of the many millions of insurance capital which is held, not simply to provide for ordinary losses such as are of daily occurrence, but for the rebuilding of cities when visited by sweeping confla-

COLUMBIA IS LAID WASTE BY WARFARE

Government Troops Accused of Cruel Treatment of the People.

New York, March 9.—General Rafael Uribe-Uribe, leader of the Colombian revolutionists, now in this city, issued a statement last night with relation to the present state of affairs in Colombia. He said that the revolution in Columbia was still going on, although the Government had several times announced that all was quiet. He continued:

"We have received reliable news of at least four serious engagements, in which the revolutionists have had the advantage—one in Panama, where Col. Noriega defeated the Government troops, taking 100 prisoners, with arms and ammunition; a second, on the upper Magdalena River, where the Liberal chief, Marin, took the port of Honda with its whole garrison, 400 rifles, 150,000 cartridges, and $500,000; a third in Chita; and a fourth in the interior of Boyaca where Generals Comanco and Neira defeated the dictatorial troops.

"The Government says that the Departments of Cauca, Antioquia, and Santander are completely pacified, yet it has to support large armies everywhere in order to defend the territory against the so-called rebels. The revolutionists are employing tactics similar to those of the Boers.

"In the meantime the dictatorials have given to the war the most cruel and bloody features; they set the towns on fire, abuse the women, torture the children and the old men, and boast in their official reports of not giving quarter to any of those who have the misfortune to fall into their hands.

"The rate of exchange continues on the advance; in Bogota, the capital, it is at 1,600 per cent. for national bank notes, and on the atlantic coast at 2,600 per cent. for provincial paper currency. All trade has come to a complete standstill; the whole population is in mourning, and the Government has confiscated their property."

BOERS TAKE FIELD AGAINST COMPATRIOTS

Braudfort, Kroonstadt and Bloemfontein Companies Aid British

Bloemfontein, March 10.—Gen. Dewet is reported to be moving northward steadily, at the rate of 25 miles a day, with a view of crossing the railway to the eastward. He should now be west of Kroonstadt. Several small commandoes are in possession of the southeastern protion of the Orange River Colony.

It is impossible not to be struck with the fact that a great proportion of the former enemies of Great Britain in South Africa now frankly throw in their lot with the British. Brandfort, Kroonstadt, and Bloemfontein companies of ex-burghers are now bearing arms against the Boers. They state their object is not to operate against their former comrades, but to defend homes and property against marauding bands. Every town in the Free State occupied by the British soon will become a center of British influence, extending a long distance in their vicinity. Over 3,000 refugees are now within the British lines, and many of them demand arms, and permission to take the field. If their requests be granted, it will be easy to get 2,000 exburghers enrolled on the British side.

REBELS SENTENCED TO DEATH.

Cape Town, March 11.—A court-martial has sentenced to death two rebels connected with the recent wrecking of a train at Taaibosch. Others concerned in the crime were condemned to various terms of imprisonment.

AMERICANS ARE TO REMAIN IN CHINA

Two Companies Ordered to Stay—Li Hung Chang Will Recover

Pekin, March 11.—Companies "A" and "B" of the Ninth United States Infantry have been notified that they are to remain in China. It is believed that Major Robertson will command them.

Many Americans here urge the Legation to use its influence to have at least two field guns and enough artillerymen to work them left. They say that during the siege these guns would have been more valuable than two hundred armed men, and that the necessity for their use is liable to occur again.

The Germans report that in the recent engagement near Pao-Ting-Fu 250 Chinese were killed and four magazine guns captured. There were no German losses.

Despite the report that Li-Hung Chang is seriously ill, and that his life hangs by a thread, his physicians say that his condition is no worse than that of any ordinary man in the same circumstances, and would not be dangerous except for his advanced age. They are extremely hopeful of being able to bring him around.

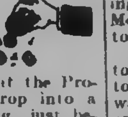
IN'S AND OUT'S.

ANNOUNCEMENT.



We regret to announce the withdrawal of Professor Box from our staff and the consequent loss of his valuable weather predictions. It appears that the Professor's custom was to drop into a certain hotel every evening, just before midnight, borrow the dice-box and cast the dice, once; and, as has already been explained, he based his weather predictions upon the result of the cast, invariably standing the hazard of the die. On Monday night the keeper of the hotel conceived the (to him) highly amusing idea of working off loaded dice on the Professor, with the result that he made the phenomenal cast of five aces, necessitating the predicting of a hot wave. Discovery of the imposture only added to the Professor's mortification, and, perceiving that he was adamant, we abandoned the attempt to retain his distinguished services for the present at least. We desire, however, to point with pride to the predictions of Professor Box up to the unfortunate cast with the loaded dice. He may be reinstated, but it is exceedingly problematical.

OUR COOKING SCHOOL

Yesterday was salad day in the Cooking School, and Mme. Hasht-Brown instructed the students in the preparation of commencement de siecle salads. "It is considered effete," said Mme. Hasht-Brown, "to serve salads in ordinary dishes. What should be aimed at is picturesque effect." Madame then got busy, and in an incredibly short time produced a number of objects d'art. Among these was a small lobster salad in an inkstand, a chicken mayonnaise in a card receiver, a lettuce salad in a work basket, and a larger lobster salad in an umbrella receptacle. Every one was delighted. As Mrs. Frystake remarked, it gave one an appetite to merely think of a salad in an umbrella stand. For the next lesson Mme. Hasht-Brown promised to show the student how to stew prunes in a paper bag.

AMERICAN VISITORS DINE WITH CITIZENS

Hon. J. R. Stratton Entertains American Cereal Co

SPEECHES OF WELCOME

Citizens Join in the Entertainment of Distinguished Guests

It was with great feelings of gratitude to the Honorable J. R. Stratton that a representative gathering of Peterboro's business men gathered in the Oriental last night to welcome the gentlemen. Messrs. Robt. Stewart, G. E. Wells and D. W. Douglas, of Chicago, representing the American Cereal Co., who have decided to locate their immense Canadian branch in Peterboro. The banquet which was arranged for by the Honorable Provincial Secretary, was attended by a representative of almost every industry in the town as well as by professional gentlemen and citizens. Mr. Stratton expressed his pleasure at the interest shown in the entertainment of their distinguished guests, as it was evidence of the watchfulness of the townspeople in matters in which the development of the town was concerned.

About 150 guests sat down to an elegant suppor in the Oriental banquet hall and needless to say that the wants of the inner man were amply satisfied by the viands that were put before them.

After the conclusion of the supper, Hon Mr. Stratton proposed a toast to "The King" which was heartily responded to. followed by "Our Distinguished Guests," Senator Cox was greeted with rounds of applause when he arose to reply. He modestly told the gentlemen of the American Cereal Co. that the greeting was intended for them. He was not a speech maker, preferring to use his endeavors to induce manufacturers to come to Peterboro. His work, he was glad to say, had been successful and in a short time the American Cereal Co. would have their works in full operation. He had always the interests of Peterboro at heart as he intended to return to Peterboro at a later day, as his removal was a matter of business convenience at the present time.

The citizens would be glad to learn that the $100,000 had been paid by the Cereal Co. for their site and he felt that owing to the natural advantages of Peterborough that the company would never regret placing their Canadian branch here.

In reply to the toast of the Mayor and Corporation of the Town of Peterborough. Mayor Denne and Police Magistrate Dumble extended the freedom of the town to the visitors.

His Honor Judge Weller, Mr. R. Max-Dennistoun, Dr. Halliday, and Ven Archdeacon Casey made addresses of welcome to the visitors. In replying to the toast of the "Learned Professions." Judge Weller told the guests of the evening that not only were the townspeople interested, but also the county, as at the last meeting of his court the Grand Jury had memorialized the Legislature to pass the town's by-law in which the Cereal Co. were interested.

The welcome from the "Manufacturing Industries" was ably dealt with by Messrs. John Carnegie, Peter Hamilton.

Mr. A. P. Poussette proposed the toast to the chairman, Hon. J. R. Stratton, referring to the sympathy which was extended to him by the citizens over his severe loss by fire a few days ago. It was needless to say that the toast was most heartily responded to.

Mr. Stratton in replying, thanked the gentlemen for the hearty manner in which they had responded to the toast and while regretting the unhappy circumstance which called him to Peterborough, yet he was glad that it afforded him an opportunity of entertaining the gentlemen of the American Cereal Co. He had proposed the matter of bringing the distinguished visitors and citizens together to Senator Cox some time ago, and he was glad that his efforts on so short a notice had been so successful. He had during the past year visited many places of importance in Ontario, but knew of no place that had the future ahead of it that Peterborough had. He felt sure that if the citizens generally knew of the places that the Cereal Co. had in view, and which he had seen, it would be nothing short of a revelation to them.

It was a great boom to the town to have a work of such importance connected with it, and as he had arranged for the town's by-law, relating to the company, to come before the committee on Thursday, and while he could not state positively, yet he felt assured that it would pass the committee almost unanimously. It would not be his fault if it did not.

The very pleasant evening dispersed with cheers for the American Cereal Co, Senator Cox, Hon. Mr. Stratton and the singing of the National Anthem.

Small Boy—You can't borrow our snow shovel any more.

WEATHER NOTES.

Probs. Fair and quite cold.

The disturbance which was forming in Texas on Saturday morning has now reached the lake region, and the Middle Atlantic coast. It has developed into an important system, and its accompaning gales have been decidedly heavy on the lakes, and will be still heavier on the Atlantic coast. Another cold wave promises to move down from the northward, and be felt in Ontario and in Quebec. Local thunderstorms are reported in Southern Ontario.

APPROACHING THE END.

The threat of the Boers that while a commando of 50 could keep the field there would be "no surrender" has been well justified by the events happening since the fall of Pretoria. The recall of Lord Roberts, followed by the appointment of General Lord Kitchener to the chief command, was approved alike by the British nation and the army. The notable work performed by this soldier in Egypt, his resolute character, his tenacity of purpose, his vast energy and military experience, gave promise of an early cessation of Boer hostilities. Just when all this appeared morally certain a marauding guerilla campaign was inaugurated by De Wet, aided by Botha and others. Gathering all the scattered forces, a fresh attempt was made to worry the British by the invasion of Cape Colony itself, together with combined attacks on outlying towns and the railroad system generally. This necessitated a revision of the old method; the frontier towns were left to their fate and the new tactics put in practice were the sweeping northward of the scattered forces of the enemy, with the hope that they would be "bunched" where they could be got at and defeated. Vain hope; with eel-like slipperiness De Wet has effectively given his pursuers the go by just when he was about to be caught. The same results followed the pursuit of Botha and other commanders; they refuse to stand and fight, they refuse to talk of surrender, they deny they are defeated, they continue to challenge the British.

Still it has to be admitted by the most ardent of the Boer sympathisers that the pursuit and punishment of the Boers during the past sixty days has had its effect. The enemy has lost considerably in guns, ammunition, horses, wagons and supplies generally, as also by capture of prisoners and dead and wounded. The tenacious activity of the troops under Kitchener has left the Boers little opportunity for reorganization, nor has even De Wet been able to hold any position of vantage over a few days time. And, while the Boer resources have been waning, fresh supplies of horses, men and necessary supplies have been continously poured into South Africa. All this must in the end tell on the ultimate result; even if the Boer generals are confident and plucky, the distressed and dispirited burghers have little stomach left for fighting. It must be evident to these unfortunates that their case is getting desperate indeed, notwithstanding the blandishments and threats of De Wet.

If recent reports are not vague rumors, there is reason to hope that negotations are actually in progress looking to the surrender of General Botha. News from London of the 7th March points to peace talk between Lord Kitchener, Sir Alfred Milner and Botha; a despatch says "it is reasonably certain that General Botha is in either personal or very close touch with Lord Kitchener". The disappointment felt on several occasions when similar statements have been put forth and proved false naturally bids us not to be over sanguine now. All we can do is to hope that thereis at any rate a germ oof truth in this last report which may turn out correct. In the House of Commons, the Hon. A. J. Balfour, on being questioned, refused either to affirm or deny the cabled news. An impression, however, appears to prevail in Great Britain that the war is now approaching the end, and it is a significant fact that recruiting for the Yeomanry has at length been stopped on the ground that no more men are needed for South Africa. Taking all the circumstances before the public into consideration, the impression prevails that we may reasonably look forward to some peace compromise with the Boers before long. Politically, the sky is clear; ex-President Kruger is now entirely discounted as a factor in the matter; his pleadings and tears are now of no avail. Thee expectation of foriegn intervention, which has for so long stimulated the Boer leaders, disappears. They can discern no ray of hope in that direction. They must now cease hoping against hope, and come to the conclusion, melancholly to themselves, that the game is up.

THE WAR DRAMA CLOSING

The 8th of February was the day named for Lord Kitchener's forward movement, after three months devoted to reorganization of the army after the retirement of Lord Roberts. It was given out in a letter from Pretoria to the London Times that the Commander-in-Chief would have at his disposal an army of perhaps 160,000 men, quite half of whom would consist of field artillery, cavalry and mounted infantry. These were to operate in brigades, and each group of brigades to be under the central command of a general of division. How the matter has worked out has been but partly revealed in the press despatches, and these have been contradictory from day to day. But the surrender of Botha and the capture or surrender of De Wet seem on the eve of accomplishment. Lord Kitchener has the gift of reticence to an extraordinary degree. He has made no forecast or prediction. His work, as the Times writer suggests was that of a manager having to set the stage for the epilogue or final scene after the war drama had been closed. When Lord Kitchener took over the command he found himself at the head of an army which on paper numbered 210,000 of all ranks. Of this force, fully 20,000, from illness and other causes, were for the time being non-combatants. Another 50,000 had to be detatched for garrison duty and to preserve the lines of communication; so that the force available for active and offensive operations did not exceed 140,000 officers and men. The writer quoted says:—

"There are now altogether 38 brigades in the field, of which no fewer than 26 are commanded by officers who have been appointed to their commands with local and temporary rank. These brigades will work in an exact and systematic manner. For the purposes of the new plan of campaign the whole area affected by guerilla warfare has been treated as a military chess board, and the squares will be covered by groups of brigades, to every unit of which a clearly defined area of operations has been alloted. Each brigade has its own ground to cover and will move in an arranged direction, clearing the ground as it goes until it reaches a point within the square belonging to the brigade of another group. If it is found advisable the brigades will then retrace their steps, quartering the ground a second time, but the general movement will be inwards as well as forward, from north, south, east and west simultaneously, so that, say, four groups of brigades could very easily be massed at any given point very quickly, if necessity arose for the concentration of an overwhelming force It is apparent that the plan must, if carried out, as it will be, exactly on the rules laid down, work out with mathematical precision. Each brigade will be able to keep in touch, through its outlying scouts and patrols, with the brigades to its right and left, front and rear. Moving steadily in a known direction, they must inevitably come in contact with the enemy very quickly, and if the Boers, with their well-known luck and cleverness, are able to slip through the brigades of one group, they will only do so to find themselves in the midst of another, while the group behind them will return and close in on the enemy from the rear."

—The South Ward School, which was reported to be in an unsanitary condition, is found to be all right, an inspection having been made by a committee of the Board of Education and the Medical Health Officer.

"Ouch!"

That is about the mildest form of outcry a man makes when rheumatism suddenly tweaks him. In its worst forms rheumatism is a living death. The victim, incapable of moving hand or foot, has no part in the great procession of life, on which he gazes with hopeless eyes. A great many sufferers from rheumatism, who had given up hope, have been cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. A medicine which will cleanse the blood from uric acid and other poisons, will cure rheumatism. "Golden Medical Discovery" has no equal in its power to cleanse the blood and to enrich it. "Discovery" contains neither alcohol nor narcotics.

"I had been troubled with rheumatism for twelve years," writes Mr. R. J. McKnight, of Cades, Williamsburg County, S. C., "so bad at times I could not leave my bed. I was badly crippled. Tried many doctors and two of them gave me up to die. None of them did me much good. The pains in my back, hips, and legs (and at times in my head), would nearly kill me. My appetite was very bad. Everybody who saw me said I must die. I took five bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and four vials of 'Pellets,' and to-day my health is good after suffering twelve years with rheumatism."

AFTER FIFTEEN YEARS

Eczema Cured After Many Years of Terrible Torture

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—At the request of the makers I gladly write a line to tell what Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills did for me. For over 15 years I was a sufferer from eczema and although treated by the best doctors in the country, I got no relief. After taking 9 boxes of the pills, I am, thank God, entirely well. They cured me when every known remedy failed. Jas. Britain, G T.R., Brantford.

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures, size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. One agent sold 68 in one day. Sample and terms 25 cts (non free); four for 80 cts; $1.75 per dozen; 25 for $3.25; 50 for $6.00; 100 for $11.00 Write to day for a dozen and make money. Novelty Mfg. A RELIC OF MAJUBA HILL

British Sword-Bayonet Lost in That Fight Has Been Recovered.

A relic which is not only of great historic interest, but which will serve as a memento of a very gallant feat of arms, has just been presented by the 3rd Imperial Yeomanry—through its gallant commanding officer, Col. G. J. Younghusband—to his royal highness the Prince of Wales, colonel-in-chief of the Imperial Yeomanry.

During Lord Methuen's attack on Dewet, on Aug. 9, Col. Younghusband with two squadrons of the 3rd Imperial Yeomanry, was ordered to take on Dewet's right flank. After manœuvering close up to the enemy it was found that he held a strong line of kopjes protecting this flank; but the Yeomen were not to be denied, and using the folds in the ground carefully, moved rapidly up to within 80 yards of the position. From this point the colonel sent one troop of Yorkshire Dragoons round to the left to draw fire, and when the Boers were fully engaged with these another troop at a hard gallop went round to the right. This latter troop, with the greatest bravery, arrived within fifty yards of the enemy, when coming under a very heavy cross-fire, they were compelled to waver. At this moment the remaining troops of the Yorkshire Dragoons and South Notts Hussars (which compose part of the 3rd Imperial Yeomanry), dashed up to the front of the position, and dismounted under cover within 30 yards of the enemy, exposed not only to a terrible hail of shot and shell from the Boers, but accidentally also from the British pom-poms. Even the most veteran troops might be well dismayed under such a fearful ordeal, but Col. Younghusband happened to be the survivor of many a desperate encounter on the Indian frontier, and at this critical moment he dashed to the front, and cried, "Action front, over and at them, boys." The cry was immediately taken up by Major Gascoigne, second in command, and Capt. Beresford Petrse, the adjutant, the momentary hesitation passed, and led by these three gallant officers, the Yeomen charged into the position and drove the Boers out with the bayonet, with heavy loss. Lieut. A. M. Knowles and four Yeomen were killed, and Col. Younghusband and six Yeomen severely wounded in this dashing affair. Whilst the gallant colonel lay wounded his orderly found among various rifles and other debris of the fight, an old British sword bayonet, which, on examination, was found to be stamped on the frog with the name of the 3rd Battalion, 60th Rifles, the date of issue being 1876. On further inquiry at a neighboring farm it transpired that the bayonet had been taken by a Boer, named Engelbrecht, at Majuba Hill, on Feb. 27, 1881, and now, in this curious and historic manner, it has fallen again into British hands. His royal highness will, doubtless, greatly prize this interesting memento.

UNFINISHED STILL

A baby's boot and a skien of wool
Faded and soiled and soft;
Odd things, you say, and I doubt
you're right,
Round a seaman's neck this stormy night,
Up in the yards aloft.

Most likely it's folly; but, mate, look here;
When first I went to sea,
A woman stood on yon far-off strand
With a wedding ring on the small soft hand,
Which clung so close to me.

My wife—God bless her—the day before
She sat beside my foot;
And the sunlight kissed her yellow
hair,
And the dainty fingers, deft and fair
Knitted a baby's boot.

The voyage was over, I came ashore
What, think you, found I there?
A grave the daisies had sprinkled white,
And this beside the chair.

The little boot, 'twas unfinished still
The tangled skein lay near;
But the knitter had gone away to rest,
With the babe asleep on her quiet
breast,
Down in the churchyard drear.

THE TRIUMPH OF THE SHORT SKIRT.

Common sense has triumphed over the arbitrariness of an absurd fashion. All the best dressed women are now wearing short skirts on the street. They have them made in cloth, serge or homespun, expressly for walking. They are usually finished with several rows of stitching, and the hem stands out smartly at a convenient distance from the ground, so that there is no need to lift the skirt, even at a muddy crossing. Very well-made and well-fitting boots are a sine qua non with the short skirt, which places the feet so much in evidence. Of course long skirts will still be worn on formal occasions, but only those who can afford to drive when so gowned, should indulge in this expensive fashion, which, under unfavorable circumstances, becomes also a most untidy one.

PAPER FURNITURE.

Paper furniture has for some time had considerable of a vogue in England on account of its cheapness. It is used as a substitute where there is a desire to be imposing and good solid furniture would be too costly. Lately it has attracted the attention of people who can afford expensive articles. Compressed paper has been employed for paneling work for halls, corridors, etc., in the homes of some wealthy people, and very fine banister rails are made in imitation of mahogany. Some artists use paper mache extensively with metal inlay and flower pots and jardinieres, in exact imitation of majolica ware and porcelain, are used for decorative purposes.

TURKEY SHORTCAKE.

Make a biscuit dough and bake it in a shallow square tin, as for fruit shortcake. Take one cupful of cold turkey, minced; heat with one cupful of gravy, season with one-half teaspoonful of salt and one saltspoonful of pepper. When the crust is done, split and put the meat between the layers, pour the sauce over it, and garnish with parsley.

TURKEY RAGOUT.

Chop a pint of cold turkey and put it in a stewpan. Add two tablespoonfuls of butter, a half pint of water, half an onion chopped, half a pint of canned peas, a small head of lettuce torn in small shreads, half a tablespoonful of salt, a quarter of a tablespoonful of pepper. Cover and cook slowly for one hour, when done dish and serve with a border of boiled rice.

Catarrh.

Called an American disease, is cured by an American medicine, originated and prepared in the most catarrhal of American countries.

That medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla.

It cures radically and permanently, in that it removes the cause, cleansing the blood of scrofulous and all other impurities. It overcomes all the effects of catarrh, too, and builds up the whole system.

Consumption

We are almost afraid to tell you just how efficacious Powley's Liquified Ozone is for consumption. It would sound too much like exaggeration. It has cured many cases of a most chronic nature—now it may cure yours. Let us mail you a pamphlet—it may save your life.

THE SERI TRIBE.

The Wildest and Most Ferocious Race of Indians.

The wildest and most ferocious among all living tribes has just been brought to scientific attention on this continent.

The Seri, a race of Indians whose home is on Tiburon Island, in the Gulf of California, are not only the most primitive savages of North America, but the most untamed of all living creatures.

In their development these Indians have but just reached the Stone Age. It cannot be readily believed that there is a people alive today who do not know the use of tools or weapons, who eat raw fish rather than cooked food, who have no arts, trades or permanent dwellings, who delight in blood, and kill every alien in sight. Yet this is true of the Seri.

Long, long ceturies ago, before the ultra-civilized races of today had forged their first weapon, or prepared their first cooked food, or dreamed of humane dealings with each other, they may have resembled the Seri. But it was all inconceivably long ago.

As it is the world of today is not the place for the Seri. The brutality and savagery of these wild men is in too startling opposition to the manners and morals of the meanest races of the earth.

It is not likely that you will ever meet a Seri. But if you do you may recognise him by this description:

In height a giant, towering above the six-foot limit. Of erect yet easy carriage, great breadth and depth of chest, very slender of limb and possessing unusually large feet and hands. His bodily activity can hardly be equalled on the face of the earth. The skin of his feet and lower legs is so hard and calloused as to resemble the hide of a horse or camel, so that he is able to run through cactus thickets so thorny as to stop horses and dogs, or over beds of stones so sharp that the very coyote avoids the trail.

A remarkable physiological characteristic of this strange race is that they do not stop growing until they are well advanced in years. All the younger men and women are below six feet, the older ones above it.

It follows from a knowledge of the Seri's character that the only safe course to pursue with him is to avoid him altogether. To these savages the most virtuous of actions is the slaughter of a stranger. They have a hereditary hate and horror of aliens, and consider it as much a matter of course to kill a stranger as a white man does to kill a snake.

The Seri are cannibals, revelling in the flesh and blood of the men they kill, though no outsider has ever been present at their feasts. Their ordinary food is raw meat freshly killed.

A leg of a cow will furnish a family with food for some days, and when anybody happens to be hungry he takes a chew at it, tearing off the flesh just as any wild animal might do.

When they surround and capture horses or kine they never think of mounting the beasts, or of using ropes, but immediately break the neck and knock out the brains of the animal, to tear the writhing body into quarters, and flee for their lives with the reeking flesh still quivering on their heads and brawny shoulders.

Scores of vaqueros agree in the assertion (wholly incredible if it were supported by fewer witnesses) that even when so burdened the robber Seri skim the sand wastes of the desert more rapidly than avenging horsemen can follow them.

The Seri boys go out after jack rabbits in threes and fours, and catch them by outwinding them. When a rabbit is started they scatter, one following it slowly, while the others set off obliquely in such a manner as to head it off and keep it in a zigzag course until it tires.

Then they close in and finally grab the animal by hand, frequently bringing it in alive to prove that it was fairly caught, for among these aborigines it is deemed discreditable to take game animals without giving them a chance for escape or defense. They capture deer also by running, scattering at sight of the quarry, gradually surrounding it, bewildering it by confronting it at all points, and at length closing in and seizing it with their hands.

The women of the tribe are almost as strong and fleet of foot as the men. A ranch owner, on starting out for a journey, once left behind at the ranch among others a Seri matron with a sick child nearly a year old. In the evening the child got worse, and the woman, being alarmed about its condition, took the trail of the absentee about dusk in the hope of getting medicine from the senor.

At dawn next morning she was at Molino del Encinas, forty-five miles away, with her child and a peace offering in the form of a jack rabbit, which she had run down and caught in the course of her journey.

The Orchard.

Thorough cultivation improves trees and fruit.

Eating plenty of fruits aids digestion and improves the health.

As countries grow older the love of flowers grows more universal and stronger. When bread is assured for the body the need of the soul for flowers begins to be respected.

Some of the best small fruit growers say that cultivation is betterthan mulching, providing time permits cultivation. But the mulch is preferable to weeds, by a large majority.—Farm, Stock and Home.

Why You "See Stars"

If you are one of those who frequent the police courts, you have no doubt often heard the victims of assaults declare that their assailants hit them so hard that it made them "see stars." And, indeed, the sensation which you experience from a violent blow on the head resembles very much the sight of stars.

The fact is, there is a phosphorescent power in the eye, which shows itself when the head is struck violently, and is often perceived even in the act of sneezing. The jar to the system caused by the blow produces a pressure of the blood vessels upon the retina, causing either total darkness or a faint blue light which floats before the eyes and in which the imagination discovers thousands of fantastic figures, the majority of which resemble stars.

THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD
OR
OUR SAVIOUR IN ART.

Cost nearly $100,000 to publish. Contains nearly one hundred full-page engravings copied direct from the World's Greatest Paintings of our Saviour and His Mother. Contains History of Painting, Biography of Painter, and the Galleries in Europe where the Original Painting may be seen. The most beautiful publication ever issued. The strongest "hearts weep at the sight of these wonderful pictures of Jesus and His Mother. Everybody says they are grand sublime matchless, magnificent, beautiful, inspiring and uplifting. Small fortunes are being made by the thrifty with this marvelous work. Contains also a Child's story beautifully written to fit each picture. The wonderful book, matchless in its purity and beauty, appeals to every mothers' heart and in every Christian home, where there are children it sells itself. A Christian man or woman can soon clear one thousand dollars ($1,000) taking orders in this community. Others are doing this. Why not you? We are advertising in nearly ten thousand newspapers in this country, Canada, England, and Australia. Shipping books to every English-speaking country in the world. We shall promote our best workers to positions of State Managers, Correspondents and Office Assistants. We also own and publish large Photo-gravure Etchings of the Great Paintings in the Galleries of Europe. One or more of these Etchings can be sold in every home. By carrying the book and the engravings your success will be tremendous. Mrs. Waite, of Worcester, Mass., has sold nearly four thousand dollars worth of books there. Mrs. Sackett has sold nearly two thousand dollars worth of books in New York. Both of these ladies answered our advertisement, and had never sold a book before. Took 14 orders first two days—H. Colwell. Took 5 orders first day; 23 orders first week, clearing over $50—Hattie Lemwell. Thousands of others like above. It is printed on velvet-finished paper; bound in Cardinal Red, Green and Gold and adorned with Golden Roses and Lillies. Write quickly for terms as the territory is going rapidly. When you prove your success, we will promote you to the position of Manager and Correspondent under yearly contract.

We shall soon move into our new and elegant structure to be occupied solely by us, and to be known as the Light of the World Building. Address

Big Four Con. G. M. Co.
LIMITED

Mines one mile west of Rossland, directly west of the Le Roi No. 1 and Le Roi No. 2. Four properties. All Crown granted.

THE LeRoi No. 1 once sold for 2 cents and went to $45 per share; and the Le Roi No. 2 £5 shares went to £23, or $110 per share in a few months.

Our memorandum of association contains a provision, provided by Section 56 of the Companies Act, 1897, that the shares are issued as Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable, and that no further liability beyond the amount actually paid upon shares shall attach to the holders thereof. Capital $250,000.

Our properties are now proved (both above and below ground) to have the same continuous ore veins as the LeRoi Companies, and have the same identical ore and our shares are well worth TWENTY FIVE CENTS now, and will surely bring fifty cents. And we can, with a very small capital, develop our property to such an extent that it can also be placed on the London market, where it belongs—and small investors will make a good profit by buying now.

Our assays have averaged from $5 to $800 in gold, copper and silver and the shipping facilities are the best. The Great Northern Railway runs three times through the ground, three smelters close at hand, and reduced charges of $4.50 per ton for shipping and smelting, and we are now getting ready to start shipping ore.

Irrespective of the merits of the BIG FOUR, we have now over 570,000 shares in our treasury and free from all incumbrance. We are amongst the few local companies that has complied with the law in every particular, and we venture to say have

Thus the management has no regrets to offer, and you by subscribing will have none.

200 Feet More of Tunnel Work Now Under Way.

And it is too bad that we should suffer from the wrong doing of others, but we have, or this would never have to be advertised, and we propose, in the future as we have in the past, to do well and fear no ill. Let them do better who like.

LARGE ORE BODY NOW IN SIGHT. This is the last opportunity to buy our treasury shares for development purposes, and stock certificates will be sent at the following sacrifice prices: 200 shares for $20; 500 shares for $45; 1000 hares for $80, and 2000 shares for $150. Send in your orders at once.

The Aristos
GOLD MINING CO.

Owning Big Horn Mountain Tunnel and Veneta Vein, 200 acres situated on the Western Slope of Pikes Peak, in the famous Cripple Creek Gold Mining District.

THE SAFEST OFFER EVER MADE TO INVESTORS.

It is printed on each certificate that subscribers to the above Preferred Shares will be entitled to receive in Dividends the full amount of money invested, before other stockholders receive any returns, signed by the President of the Company.

This district produced more Gold in 1900 than any other in the United States

This property consists of 3000 by 3000 feet, or 200 acres, of gold land. The mine has been worked. The feature of this mine is the Veneta Vein, 30 to 40 feet in width, and is certainly one of the strongest veins in this famous district. There are some fifteen openings on this vein, the ore from which assays in gold from $12 to $100 per ton. The property is advantageously located for development by tunnel, which will make it possible to produce an enormous amount of ore daily, the quantity varying from 200 to 500 tons per day. The development by TUNNELING is the most economical and advantageous manner of working this property.

At a distance of 800 feet the Tunnel will intersect the Veneta Vein at a depth of about 680 feet, and will also intersect several other veins. The tunnel will cut the Big Horn Mountain 2100 feet deep, and will give this company 2,000,000 tons of ore, worth over $20 per ton.

The new railroad, now practically completed from Colorado Springs, called the Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek road, passes within 2000 feet of this Tunnel.

Adjoining this property is the Colorado Springs TUNNEL Company. In this property at a depth of 400 feet, the Veneta Vein was cut. At this point the vein was fully 20 feet in width, and its value from $20 to $1000 per ton.

There are already in operation mills and smelters sufficient to treat the output of this property, which gives at once cash returns.

Capital Stock $1,000,000. Par Value $1.00 Per Share. 100,000 Shares Preferred Stock at 25c. Per Share.

In buying this stock the purchaser owns a direct title in the Company's property. This Company offers you no watered stock, but a legitimate high-grade gold-mining investment in the Cripple Creek District.

The above offer of Preferred Dividends is an assurance of early returns. After additional machinery is erected, this property will be earning dividends almost equal to its Capital Stock.

THE FORTNIGHTLY CLUB

Interesting Lecture Last Night by Captain Barker, Toronto

A very interesting lecture was delivered last night by Capt Barker, the gallant officer who commanded the Toronto Company in the first Canadian contingent that served in South Africa, when he told of his experiences and the experiences of the Canadians in South Africa.

Capt Barker's address was intensely interesting and instructive. At its conclusion a hearty vote of thanks was moved, seconded and carried to the galant captain for his delightful entertainment.

COMPLETED IN AUGUST

The Glance Booms and Piers on the Trent Canal

Mr. David Conry, the contractor, for the construction of the piers and glance booms on the canal between Nassau and Lakefield, is making good progress. Twenty three piers and twenty-eight booms are necessary to make this six miles safe for navigation.

A large number of the piers are completed, work having been progressing all winter.

Mr. Conroy is doing a good job, as nothing but the best of material is being used. The timber was cut at Bobcaygeon, and floated down before the close of navigation last fall.

It is doubtful if boats will be allowed to use the waterway until the work is completed, although it is hoped that the section will be opened sooner.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

The roads are in a bad state.

—The maple sugar season is now about to start

—The Murray street canal will soon be open for navigation.

—Yesterday Senator Cox inspected the scene of the late fire.

—The annual meeting of the Board of Trade will take place this evening.

—It is expected that the work of repairing the Examiner building will begin to-day.

—The Stratton fire brought a lot of type and printing press agents to town in search of orders.

—A prominent business man lost his balance at the Ontario Bank yesterday morning, and was so overcome that he sat down on the pavement.

—Lindsay merchants met the other night and decided to keep their stores open on Dominion Day. What has Canada's national holiday ever done to them?

—The ladies of the Y.W.C.A., Board of Management will please meet tomorrow afternoon, at half-past three o'clock. A full attendance is requested, as the business to be discussed is urgent.

—There were 100 books belonging to the library of the Charlotte street church Sunday school, destroyed in the Examiner fire. Moral: always have your books repaired at the Times bindery.

—On Friday night a mass meeting will be held in the Opera House, at which addresses on labor organizations and public ownership will be given by Ralph Smith, M.P. for Vancouver and President of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress and A. W. Puttee, M.P. for Winnipeg.

—A lad named Verril Terry, the 10 year old son of A. B. Terry, while cleaning the snow from the roof of his father's store on Kent street, Lindsay, on Saturday, fell to the granolithic pavement below, a distance of 30 feet, breaking both arms at the wrist, and sustaining other severe injuries. He is not expected to recover.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Hon. Geo. A. Cox is in town.

—Messrs. T. E. Wells, N. D. Douglas and Robert Stuart, directors of the Chicago Cereal Co., are in town.

—Miss May Duncan, of Millbrook, who has been visiting Miss Hattie Melville for the past couple of weeks returned home yesterday.

—Mr. D. McDermott, of Messrs. Bogue & McDermott, who have the contract of building the Chemong Lake bridge, returned from Cuba last week, where he has a large railway contract under way.

—We were pleased to meet our old friend, Mr. S. B. Best, of the Canadian Typograph Co., Windsor, who is in town in connection with putting in a new outfit of machines to replace those destroyed by fire at the Examiner office.

—The Times had a pleasant call yesterday from Dr. R. W. Bell, Assistant Superintendent of the Asylum for the Insane, Toronto, who returned home yesterday. He was accompanied by his son, Norman, who will spend two weeks with his parents recuperating after an attack of illness.

STRONGLY INDORSES

Paine's Celery Compound

THE MARVELLOUS SPRING MEDICINE

Many of the Wondrous successes and decisive victories of Paine's Celery Compound over disease and death are well known to the people of the seven provinces of our Dominion.

No other medicine ever given to suffering humanity has met with such approval from physicians, from nurses caring for the sick, from men and women of culture and influence, and from the sensible and thinking people of the toiling class. All unite in one grand chorus of prise—"Paine's Celery Compound is earth's best and surest spring health-restorer and healthgiver."

General William W. Henry, American Consul, in this city of Quebec, writes as follows about Paine's Celery Compound:

"It gives me great pleasure to indorse Paine's Celery Compound, both on account of the results obtained from personal use of the remedy and knowledge of the remarkable cures it has performed. I believe it has no equal in curing diseases of the nervous system and building up those who are weak and out of health. It has cured several friends of mine of rheumatism in its worst form, and I have no hesitancy in recommending it to all afflicted with that disease."

What's Needed.

The Hamilton Herald takes the view that the Ontario government could prohibit the liquor traffic in Ontario by refusing to grant any licenses. There were no licenses during the Scott act days, which is so unpleasantly remembered by Peterborough people, but neither was there any prohibition. The longer we live the more apparent it becomes that it is not more law that is wanted against the liquor traffic, so much as more sentiment.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES

SPRINTING.

Sprinting shows signs of revival in England, where it is claimed 140 candidates will start in the Sheffield Handicap, and it is also claimed that in America the sport is looking up. One reason for its unpopularity during the past years is said to have been the handicap system, which enabled those on the inside to pick the winners. But another and more powerful reason is that the sport passed into the hands of the gambling element, who worked the race and crowd for the benefit of their own pockets. Anyway a sprinting contest is so quick that unless you have money on the result you don't get sport enough to pay for the time wasted in going to see it. Naturally it depends entirely on gambling for its existence, and any sport that depends entirely on gambling is no more entitled to be called sport than a game of faro.

When Rheumatism doubles a man up physician and sufferer alike lose heart and often despair of a cure, but here's the exception. Wm. Pegg, of Norwood, Ont., says: "I was nearly doubled up with rheumatism. I got three bottles of South American Rheumatic Cure and they cured me. It's the quickest acting medicine I ever saw."—18

Mr. Williamson will leave at once, and will carry with him the good wishes of his friends in Peterborough.

Respect Your Stomach.

The Use of

Malt Breakfast Food

Will Satisfy, Tone and Keep This Important Organ in Perfect Condition.

Too many people have no respect or regard for the stomach. It is burdened too often with foods that are almost indigestible; it then rebels and the whole digestive machinery is thrown out of gear.

When breakfast is regularly commenced with Malt Breakfast Food, which is partially predigested, you go forth to your labors and duties assured that your stomach is not hampered with a mass that will tax the energy and strength of your body.

In Malt Breakfast Food there is no insoluble starch; every particle of this perfect grain food is nourishing and sustaining. No other food contains such perfect elements properly proportioned for nutrition and general building up. The best medical authorities who have tested Malt Breakfast Food, say it is an unequalled "Health Food." All first class Grocers sell it.

Sarnia After It

The following will interest those who are taking an active part in the effort to get a beet sugar factory established in Peterborough; Sarnia was visited this week by a couple of gentlemen, who are interested in the beet sugar industry, in the persons of T. A. Hutchins, representing A. W. Colwell, of New York, who originated the Marine City Sugar Co. and built the factory, and C. D. Parker, of Marine City. Their visit was with a view of looking over the conditions in the town and vicinity, from a beet sugar point of view. Mr. Hutchins, says the observer, was very favorably impressed with his observations, and expressed the opinion that a beet sugar factory would be a success and would also prove of much benefit to the community generally.

Useful Ideals.

Doubtless there are other ideals than raising wheat, hogs and horses, and making cheese, but provided a people raise good wheat, good hogs cheese, we don't know any way they can be better employed. Western Assurance Company grations—we must recognize, I say, that our first duty as managers of the vast funds invested in the business of fire insurance is to deal with conditions as we find them, and to make rates that, taking past experience as our guide, will afford a reasonable prospect for a fair margin of profit to shareholders after losses and the expenses of conducting the business have been provided for. I speak not merely our own experience, but of the experience of the companies as a whole, on this continent, and I say that the official statements—which give full publicity to the operations of fire insurance companies—show clearly the advances in such rates such as are now being generally made are absolutely necessary to afford a return that will warrant the capital of the companies being permanently retained in the business. We are fortunately at a period in our history when trade conditions on this continent are exceptionally prosperous, and I feel it not unreasonable for us to expect the business community to concur in such an advance in the rates of premium as will afford the "handmaid of commerce"—as fire insurance has not been inappropriately termed—a fitting maintenance. The conviction that such a change for the better in our business might be looked for in the near future—that one of the adverse conditions to which I have referred would come a period of "better times" such as we have in the past seen evolved from periods of adversity in the history of our own company, as well as in most enterprises in which we have been individually engaged—largely influenced your directors in deciding upon the increase in the paid-up capital referred to in the Report. This action, while strengthening the company financially, removes what is regarded by many investors in this country as an objectionable feature—the unpaid liability upon shares, and the manner in which this call has been responded to has confirmed the opinion we entertained as to the wisdom of this step.

The transactions in the Marine Branch during the past year call for something more than passing comment. There has been a very considerable increase in the volume of premiums, and the losses I am pleased to say, have been moderate; so there has been a fair profit in this department—which, as you may remember, showed for some years prior to 1899 unsatisfactory results. The growth in premiums came largely from the increased amount of inland business transacted. The losses on the great lakes were considerably below the average of several preceding years, and companies engaged in this branch of underwriting are able to show a good margin of profit on the season's transactions.

Here I may remark upon a distinguishing feature of marine business—especially such as ours—namely, the large proportion of the liability which, owing to the close of lake navigation, runs off, and the premiums on which are completely earned, before the 31st December in each year. It is incumbent upon every soundly-managed company to reserve an amount to provide for running off—or reinsuring—the liabilities under its current policies. General experience has proved that in fire insurance business one-third of the annual premium income is an ample provision for this purpose. It will therefore be a satisfaction to you to know that, after deducting that portion of our marine business upon which no liability remains at the end of the year—which I may say represents more than one-fifth of our total income—the amount of our reserve to provide for this contingent liability upon risks outstanding on the 31st December is considerably in excess of the standard I have named.

In relation to our ocean business—or more particularly, to that portion of it pertaining to risks via the River St. Lawrence—I may perhaps be permitted to say a few words which may not be considered as coming within the usual scope of a President's remarks on a motion for the adoption of an Annual Report. But as you have doubtless, through the columns of the press and through other channels, heard a good deal that has been said upon one side of the question, and as nothing, so far as I am aware, has been publicly said upon the other side, I feel justified in making a departure from what has been the custom at our shareholders' meetings, and dealing with a matter which, while it does not directly bear upon the Balance Sheet before you, is nevertheless so closely identified with questions with which we are called upon to deal that it may not be deemed "out of order" on an occasion of this kind. In connection without somewhat limited transactions in ocean risk via the St. Lawrence route, we have had to bear our share of the rather harsh criticisms that during the past year have fallen to the lot of the few companies—which, having continued through a series of unprofitable years to transact this business—at length determined, at the opening of navigation in 1899, to secure such rates as the exceptional perils of this route—proved by its unfortunate record of losses—seemed to demand, or else to follow the example of the numerous companies that have withdrawn altogether from that field of marine underwriting. We have been charged with discriminating against a Canadian route, and with doing an injustice to the port of Montreal. The Board of Trade of that city has asked the Government to appoint a commissioner to inquire into the matter. The Montreal Marine Underwriters' Association, on the other hand, feeling that any unjust discrimination from which the trade of that port might be suffering would be found to exist in other quarters than in the Marine Insurance Offices, have asked that the inquiry be made to include railroad charges, steamship freights and other matters pertaining to the cost of transportation. I am sure that I express the feelings of the Marine Underwriters when I say that they would welcome an investigation conducted on these broader lines, and that they are prepared to submit evidence from the records of past years that would more than warrant the advances that have been made in cargo rates from Montreal. No action upon this suggestion—which was made several months ago—has as yet been taken; but I observe that a movement has recently been inaugurated by gentlemen largely interested in keeping down the rates charged upon shipments by the route in question, having for its object the formation of a new company to transact this business at reduced rates. While the feelings which might inspire an investment in such an enterprise would doubtless be commendable from a patriotic point of view, I question whether, if the subject is duly inquired into, it will ever be seriously considered as a business proposition. But, whatever may be the outcome of this or other movements to secure the desired end, those who have been unfortunate enough to share in the experience of this business in former years must remain firm in the conviction that in its present condition the St. Lawrence route presents much greater risks than a route from a direct ocean port, and that companies assuming these risks must charge a much higher rate of premium, particularly in certain seasons of the year, than is charged from ports on the Atlantic. This is not simply a matter of opinion. It is demonstrated by statistics embracing the total shipments by this route during a period of years—which show that from 1889 to the close of the season of 1899 the losses incurred were very largely in excess of the premiums collected, and that at least seventy-five per cent of the claims arose from accidents in the river and gulf. Within the period named twenty-eight ocean steamers have been totally lost, and eighty-four strandings are recorded—at least 50 of these latter having occurred between Montreal and Quebec. With these unpalatable facts before us which it can serve no good purpose to attempt to conceal, our efforts as Canadians desirous of fostering trade by a Canadian route and advancing the interests of our chief Canadian port, should be in the direction of securing the most liberal assistance from the Government to reduce by every possibly means the perils of St. Lawrence navigation, rather than in attempting to obtain insurance below its legitimate cost. This latter remedy could at best afford but temporary relief, while the reduction of risks by the erection of additional lighthouses, the improvement of the channels and by every other means which experts in navigation could suggest would, by diminishing the losses, result—as the natural consequence of competition for what under such improved conditions would become a desirable class of business—in materially diminishing the discrepancy now existing between Montreal rates and those charged from the principal ports on the Atlantic. I feel, in making this statement of the views we entertain, that I am doing but simple just to the officers and agents of this company—which, in the face of adverse experience, has maintained its Marine Agency in Montreal for upwards of a quarter of a century, and which we feel should only continue it when rates are obtainable that offer some prospect of a profitable turn.

In conclusion, I would say that the Directors desire to express their appreciation of the services of the officers and the branch managers and agents of the company throughout its extended field of operations, realizing as we do that to many of them such a year as we have just passed through has been a particularly trying one. They also wish to place on record their obligation to the Earl of Aberdeen, Sir John Kennaway and Mr. James Stevenson, the members of the Advisory Board of our London branch, for the valued advice and assistance they have rendered in advancing that branch to its present satisfactory position.

The Vice-President seconded the adoption of the report, which was carried unanimously. The election of Directors for the ensuing year was then proceeded with, resulting in the unanimous re-election of the following gentlemen, viz.: Hon. George A. Cox, Hon. S. C. Wood, Messrs. Robert Beaty, G. R. R. Cockburn, George McMurich, H. N. Baird, W. R. Brock, J. K. Osborne and J. J. Kenny.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held subsequently, Hon. George A. Cox was re-elected President, and Mr. J. J. Kenny, Vice President for the ensuing year.

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Salida copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims,—The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Salida, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Salida. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of the city; and last, but by no means least, the Sunshine, located two miles east of Salida at Cleora station, on the main Trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

GENERAL DE WET NORTH OF BRANDFORT

Two Bands of Boers Are Being Hunted Among the Hills of Cape Colony

PILCHER CAPTURES THREE THOUSAND HORSES

He Has Cleared the Country South of Bloemfontein—Five Thousand Additional Boers for Ceylon

London, March 12.—A despatch from General Kitchener dated Pretoria March 12, says General De Wet is north of Brandfort, Orange River Colony. Continuous rains have interfered with the movements of the troops in Cape Colony. Two bands of Boers are being hunted among the hills by troops under Gorringe, Deslisle, Grenfell and Henniker.

PILCHER MAKES CAPTURES.

Bloemfontein, March 11.—Col. Pilcher's column has cleared the country of Boers between this place and the Orange River. The column has arrived here, bringing in thirty-three prisoners and three thousand horses.

MORE BOER PRISONERS.

Calcutta, March 12.—The Government is preparing for the possible arrival of five thousand Boer prisoners, who will be located in batches of a thousand.

BOER SURRENDER EXPECTED.

London, March 12.—4.50 p.m.—A report is current that the Government anticipates a speedy announcement of the surrender of General Botha, the Boer commander-in-chief.

GENERAL COLVILLE'S BLUNDER.

London, March 12.—Disclosures regarding General Colville's military history were made in the House of Commons last night. An inquiry having been demanded, Mr. Brodrick, Secretary of State for War, said he was compelled to say things that he would prefer to leave unsaid, but that he would tell the House the whole truth. He proceeded to criticize severely General Colville's conduct. "At Sanna's Post," said the Secretary of War, "General Colville blundered about andmanoeuvred until his force was weary, while the Boers carried off guns unmolested. Lord Roberts thought Col. Broadwood did right, although General Colville took exception to Col. Broadwood's behavior. General Colville left Colonel Broadwood and his shattered force severely alone and marched his troops in another direction, though he was only two miles away. He showed a lack of enterprise which lost him the confidence of Lord Roberts.

"Lord Roberts, however, postponed his dicision until he should be fully informed. Then came the unfortunate Lindley surrender, for which General Colville was blamable, as he ought to have attempted to effect relief.

"I consulted Lord Roberts regarding the Gibraltar command and I had no alternative after the advice from Lord Roberts and Sir Evalyn Wood. I gave General Colville an opportunity to resign, but he insisted on being removed.

"I consider General Colville has been treated more leniently than if he had been court-martialed. Every possible pressure has been brought to bear in his favor, but so long as I hold office I shall not give way to such clamor."

A MARKET STORY

How a Farmer Stuck out for His Price and What Happened

A few days ago a well known farmer of Smith brought a load of hay onto town and stood on the market square waiting for a buyer. Eleven dollars was the price he wanted, he told everybody who asked him, and no less would he take. He was firm on that point. The hay had cost money to grow and cut, and sleighing was bad.

Mr. Wm. Snowden offered him $10 for the hay.

"Not on yer tin-type," said the farmer. This was early in the afternoon. Even if the weather wasn't cold, "stamping" around in the snow wasn't any joke. When the evening shades began to gather the farmer was still there, with his hay, but not so positive about the eleven dollars. Prospective buyers had long since quit asking him what he wanted for his hay. He was both cold and hungry, and it was a long way home, he remembered. You could tell he was thinking about that by the look in his eye.

Then it got dark, so dark that you could hardly see the hay any more. The situation was getting serious.

"By gum, I said $11, and I'll stick to it, if I have to stay here till milkin time to-morrow morning," muttered the Man With the Hay.

But he changed his mind later. The gentle zephyrs were taking too many liberties with him. He decided he was beaten. With a sheepish air he unhitched his horses, and then walked sorrowfully out of town behind them. He spent the night at a farmer's, in the outskirts of the town.

He came back to town next morning, but a sorry sight met his gaze. Somebody or bodies during the night had playfully scattered most of the load over the market, and the hay lay strewn about in all directions.

"Well, I'll be gol darned!" was his only remark.

It took the services of two men and the farmer to get it back onto the sleigh. When this was done, he drove down to the Snowden House, where he accepted ten dollars for his load.

BLOODHOUNDS HOT ON TRAIL.

The Negro Who Assaulted and Murdered Woman Will be Lynched.

Corsicana, Tex., March 12.—Mrs. Conway Younger, a farmer's wife, was brutally assaulted and murdered last night by a negro. A posse of 200 men, headed by Younger, are, by the aid of blood hounds, following the trail of the murderer, who doubtless will meet a terrible death at the hands of the pursuers.

Younger returned from the fields last evening to find his wife missing. His 3-year-old child was playing about. After searching the house Younger asked the child where his mother had gone.

"A big negro knocked mamma down and dragged her away," the little one lisped.

Younger sounded the alarm. A search found Mrs. Younger's body in a brush path not far from the house. There were evidences of a terrible struggle. A gash extending from ear to ear had ended her life.

Aroused to an extraordinary pitch of fury over the crime the men gathered from the surrounding country, bloodhounds were procured and the party mounted for the chase of the murderer.

PUBLIC STREET 'PHONES.

Scheme to be Tried by which Conversation Can be Had.

New York, March 12.—According to a Herald special, public telephones on street corners like fire alarm boxes will be placed soon in New Haven. They can be opened by dropping into a slot a coin which is recoverable. After the door has been so opened the process of obtaining a telephone connection will be precisely the same as at any public pay station where the proper coin is deposited after the connection has been asked for. The door shoots automatically when the receiver is hung up after use.

C. B. Doolittle, the superintendent of public telephone stations, is the inventor.

Hostile Boxers are Reported to be Returning to Pekin in Large Numbers—The Ministers Discouraged—Japanese are Looking for Concessions in Corea.

Pekin, March 13.—Li Hung Chang has had a lone hand in the negotiation of the treaty with Russia regarding Manchuria. He admits that it will be hard for China to accept two of the articles of the convention, referring to those providing for a Russian military occupation of the province and the cession of all mining right. Earl Li is secretive even with his closest friends regarding the text of the treaty. He is charged with showing dangerous partiality for Russia. The acquiescence of China is regarded as a foregone conclusion. The Ministers share in the gloom of the situation and are preparing for long occupation of Manchuria by Russia.

BOXERS GATHERING IN PEKIN.

General Van Guyle, President of the International commission administering the affairs of Pekin, recently learned from certain Chinese that many Boxer leaders had returned to the capital. He favors a plan to employ reliable Chinese as spies, with permits to make arrests. He wrote to the commanders of the various contingents, stating that he would issue such permits. General Gaselee, the British commander, and General Chaffee, replied, objecting to this, they holding that it would open the door for blackmail. The Italian commander consented. It is certain that thousands of Boxers are in the city, but it would be a hard task to determine which of them were active participants in the massacres and plundering and to pick out the officials who countenanced the Boxer movement. Unless further lists are secured from the Boxer headquarters it is generally conceded that it will be almost impossible to arrest the actual leaders.

HONORS TO DEAD OFFICIALS.

Some days ago an edict was issued under foreign pressure restoring their honors to Hsu Ching Chong, Yuen Chang, Hsu Yung Yii, Lien Yung, and Hi San, who were beheaded here in July and August. The first three were Chinese, the next a Manchua, and the last a Mongol. The first four were capable, progressive Ministers of the Tsung-li-Yamen. The edict callously states that they suffered because of their "blowing hot and cold." It is understood that they were the only men at a full meeting of the high officials last June who denounced the Boxers and their attack of the legations. It is said that the Ministers will demand that a better edict be issued justly honoring these men. Even Russia is indignant over the wording of the edict. This is probably due to the fact that Hsu Ching Chong was a director of the Russian bank and of the Manchurian railway and was paid a salary by Russia.

JAPANESE NAVY IS ACTIVE.

London, March 13.—The Japanese battleship Hatsuse, just completed in England, has been ordered to proceed hither with all possible speed, says the Yokohama correspondent of the Daily Mail. "Other orders given to the Japanese navy indicate the seriousness with which the Japanese government views the situation in the far East.

"Well informed Japanese regard Russia's action in Manchuria as a gigantic bluff, inspired by the notion that England's hands are tied in South Africa, but, as Germany is only half-hearted in the maintenance of Chinese integrity, a coalition with Japan is improbable, and Japan is too much embarrassed in her finances to do more than to protest and to endeavor to secure compensating advantages in Corea."

"Chinese signature of the Manchurian convention is practically assured" says the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Mail, "because Russia last August sent to the Empress Dowager 7,500 pounds of bar silver."

VICTORIA'S BIOGRAPHY

THE DUKE OF ARGYLE BUSILY ENGAGED ON IT

He is Writing a Voluminous Work on the Life of the Late Illustrious Queen of England

London, March 12. — Visitors to Windsor next summer should not be surprised if they fail to see the inside of the castle. This is because the building is in the hands of workmen, fitting it up for the royal residence, which will probably take a long time. In the meantime, it is announced, the King and Queen will reside at Frogmore and make occasional visits to Windsor.

The popular supposition is that Frogmore is merely a mausoleum, where the Prince Consort and the late Queen are buried, but according to Truth it possesses also a comfortable summer house in well wooded grounds. This house is now being renovated for the King's occupancy, which is expected about May. Its old furniture, which belonged to Queen Victoria's mother, has been left to Princess Beatrice, who takes Osborne.

The royal plans for the summer include a month at Hamburg, probably August, were the King will live at the Schloss, which has been placed at his disposal by the Kaiser. This has lately been entirely refitted and a new English wing added, specially arranged for the King. Water is piped from the mineral wells of the town to the bathrooms.

In September or October the court will move to Balmoral, much to the delight of the Scotch people, who feared that they had seen the last of royalty when the Queen died.

BIOGRAPHER OF THE LATE QUEEN

Biographies of Queen Victoria promise to become numerous, but few will probably equal in popularity that from the pen of her son-in-law, the Duke of Argyle, who writes under the more familiar title of Marquis of Lorne. Work was begun within two days of the Queen's death, the Duke selecting as the scene of his literary labours Kensington Palace, where he has buried himself with a stenographer for steady and hard work. He is armed with voluminous personal records and papers, and is aided in describing the scenes of her Majesty's early childhood by the fact that the room where he was actually sitting she occupied; the garden outdoors was where she played, and the toys she handled in her childish games were within reach. Everything conduces to render the task one of affectionate interest.

This biography, which will probably take the edge off the public appetite and demand for Victorian biographies, may establish a record in other ways, as the great work is being produced in a remarkably short time and promises to rank with "Russelas" and "La Dame aux Camelias."

A TIRELESS WORKER.

The Duke is a tireless worker, dictating sometimes as much as six thousand words a day. The typewritten copy is always carefully scrutinized the next morning before beginning on the day's dictation. The proofs from the printer are reserved for personal supervision before the end of the day's work. Her late Majesty's printers, who are producing the work, have no reason to complain of lack of copy, which keeps a long way ahead of the requirements of the sixpenny serial numbers in which it is being issued.

"BLOODY RAIN" IN ITALY.

Rome, March 13.—The phenomenon known as a "bloody rain" occured today in Sicily and southern and central Italy. It was accompanied by a violent sirocco which brought across the Mediterranean showers of dust from the Desert of Sahara. The atmosphere in Rome was suffocating and the city was covered with whirling clouds of sand.

A communication from Mr. W. D. Humphries re a cold storage building in Peterborough was read and the Board will take the necessary steps to secure the erection of such a building if possible.

NORWOOD-APSLEY RAILWAY.

Mr. D. W. Dumble, chairman of the Committee on Railways and Canals, reported that the committee approves of the Norwood—Apsley Railroad, and recommends it to the immediate attention of the Board.

THANKS FROM THE KING.

Office of the Governor General's Secretary,

Ottawa, 8th March, 1901.

Sir,—In obedience to commands received from His Majesty the King, His Excellency the Governor General desires me to convey through you to the Board of Trade of Peterborough, His Majesty's heartfelt thanks for the kind expression of sympathy contained in your letter of the 26th of January last, which have been gratefully appreciated by His Majesty and the Royal Family.

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
HARRY GRAHAM,
Captain, A.D.C.
Acting Governor General's Secretary.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

Mr. President and Gentlemen.—I have the honor of presenting to you, as secretary, the Twelfth Annual Report of this Board, and must ask you to excuse its brevity on the ground of want of subject matter on which to base it.

Meetings—Since our last Annual Meeting we have held two meetings of the Board: also a meeting of the "Council of the Board" and of the "Committee on Railways and Canals".

Membership—The membership roll of 73 fell somewhat short in comparison with that of last year, but we trust to be able to show a more healthy record in the near future.

Attendance—The average attendance at above meetings of the Board was ten members. At the meeting of the "Council of the Board" and of the "Committee on Railways and Canals," we had a quorum on both occasions.

Deputations—At the meeting of 25th ult. a deputation from "West Peterborough Farmers' Institute" composed of Mr. T. M. Elliott, President, Mr. Wm. Collins, Secretary, and Mr. T. M. Hunter waited on the Board to discuss the matter of the "Sugar Beet Industry".

This deputation was cordially invited to the adjourned meeting of 28th ult., Mr. C. W. Fitzgerald, Warden of the County of Peterborough, Mr. Frank Adams, Reeve of the Village of Ashburnham, Mr. Dawson Kennedy, Alderman Harry Rush, Alderman Joseph Batten, Mr. J. J. Howden, and others were also present.

Subjects Under Discussion—The following subjects have been duly discussed, "Grand Trunk Railway, Portland," "Sugar Beet Industry," "Technical Education," "The King's Title," "Norwood-Apsley Railway."

Manufacturers, &c.—This Board has been in correspondence with several manufacturing enterprises with the object of inducing them to locate in our town, among which may be mentioned the "Specialty Manufacturing Company" of Toronto, "North American Bent Chair Company" of Galt, "Knechtel Manufacturing Company" of Hanover, "Bell Organ and Piano Company" of Guelph, "McCormick Harvesting Machine Company" of Chicago; also a large Tanning Company from the English Midlands.

Local Press—Thanks are due to the members and reporters of our local press for the able manner in which they have always reported the business of the Board.

Council Chamber—The thanks of the Board are also due to the Mayor, the Board of Aldermen and Town Clerk for the use of the Council Chamber during the past year.

Your obedient servant,
T. Q. QUARTERMAINE,
Secretary.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

Treasurer R. Fair's statement showed a balance at credit of special account of $143.00, and a balance at credit of the general fund of $239,27.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

President .... Mr. D. W. Dumble
Vice-President ... Mr. Peter Campbell
Treasurer .... Mr. R. Fair
Secretary .... Mr. T. Q. Quartermaine

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

President D. W. Dumble, in taking the chair made a very appropriate speech, in which he manifested that he had the interest of the community at heart. Taking up the scheme for a railroad to the back country, north of us he said: Some citizens appeared to entertain the view that this proposed Norwood—Apsley Railway will prove an injury to Peterborough. He, however, took exception to this view, and strongly supported the scheme in every way. The aim of the C. P. R. is no doubt, he opined, not to stop at Apsley, but to cut through the back country and connect with its main line. He enlarged upon the probable expenditure arising from a large influx of tourists to our back lakes during the summer season, which must of necessity prove of great benefit to Peterborough, together with the large trade created by increased lumbering, and mining operations. In his experience, a large centre like Peterborough is sure to secure a big majority of the trade in preference to smaller markets. A railway going through to our country to the north will also undoubtedly place hardwood on our market at a much lower price than at present, which will have a tendency to cheapen coal. In conclusion, he fully outlined the whole scheme as before published, and urged upon the Board the necessity of its active co-operation.

Mr. Burnham remarked that there is no sign whatever of the Grand Trunk building to the north, while the C.P.R. has positively refused to construct a road in any other direction than by way of Norwood.

Mr. Shortly moved, seconded by Mr. P. Campbell,—that Messrs. J. H. Burnham and Harrison be a deputation to co-operate with the other deputations in interviewing the government with respect to the Norwood—Apsley Railway.

Rev. J. C. Davidson, at the juncture, urged the Board to give this matter careful consideration. He evidently is opposed to the scheme and alluded to the country through which the railway will pass as exceedingly barren, or in his own words. Peterborough is asked to use its influence in support of a road running through nowhere to nowhere. From his observation in travelling through the district he would judge it to be a dreary waste, incapable of agricultural developments. He alluded to the people already living there as small in numbers wretched in condition, and only kept there by an inability to leave for better parts. As to timber, he failed to see where that is to be found, and of mines, we have no proof of their existence, although in conclusion, he argued that the interest of the village of Norwood is to be served by this scheme, residents in the back country will be furnished with a means of exit providing they have the money with which to pay their fare, and those having property in the vicinity of the road of course look forward to an increase in value of their lands; otherwise he could not see any advantage in the scheme.

Mr. Burnham, while giving the reverend gentleman credit for his stand in urging a careful consideration of the question before taking action, pointed out that the scheme would prove exceedingly profitable from a tourist stand point alone.

Mr Harrison testified from actual experience to the productiveness in valuable timber of the territory in question, which is also, he urged, exceedingly favorable to perpetuation.

At this juncture, Ald. Rush handed in a communication from the Grand Trunk to the effect that there is no present prospect of this company building a road northward to Apsley.

President D. W. Dumble thought the reverend gentleman mistaken in his judgement, and maintained that a consultation of the voters list will show the country to be settled by thousands. He did not think one could correctly judge of a country's productiveness from a cursory view in travelling through it.

Mr. John Carnegie, also gave witness as to its vast timber resources, and strongly supported the scheme.

Mr. Peter Campbell, pointed out that the C.P.R. intended erecting large hotels on the shore of, and securing ready access to, and accommodation at our charming waters to the north of us.

Mr. Carnegie here asked why it is that the Grand Trunk did not operate their line to Chemong. He would favor its being handed over to the C.P.R. for operation.

Mr. A. P. Poussette claimed that there are millions of feet of lumber in the district in question, and traffic could be brought in from the Dickson Co. alone which would last for many years. He thought Peterborough should heartily support this scheme, which would prove a paying one. He endorsed the C.P.R. as a company which will not expend energy and money in a project without a certainty of adequate returns.

The motion to send a deputation to Toronto this morning was here voted on and carried.

RESOLUTION OF CONDOLENCE.

Moved by Mr. Carnegie, seconded by Mr. R. Fair,—That the Peterborough Board of Trade desire to put on record their great sorrow for the death of Mr. Wm. Cluxton, so long an extensive and honorable merchant in Peterborough. Mr. Cluxton's life has been one which is an inspiration and example to all young men. Commencing life without many advantages, he cultivated assiduously all native talent, and by industry perseverance, and a constant aim to maintain a high standard of commercial honor, Mr. Cluxton secured and ever held the esteem of the people, the respect of all business men, and eminent success in business. The Board tenders to his family their condolence and desires their resolution to be entered on the minutes.—Carried.

COMMITTEES.

The members of the Council of the Board of Trade appointed are the same as last year, with power to add to their number.

Messrs. Burnham, Fair and Bradburn were appointed a committee to strike the standing committees.

BEET SUGAR.

Mr. Dawson Kennedy, chairman of the committee appointed to consider the Beet Sugar question, reported favorably and recommended that the Board take such action to promote the scheme as it thinks best, and that a public meeting of farmers and others interested be called for in the town at as early date as possible.

Mr. Burnham moved that the report be amended by adding "This Board contribute $10 towards the expenses of said public meeting, the Farmers' Institute having donated a like sum—Carried.

On motion of Mr. Dawson Kennedy, the President and Vice-President of the Farmers' Institute, the Warden of the County, Mayor Denne, the President and Vice-President of the Board of Trade, and Messrs. Collins, Burnham, Elliot and the mover be a committee to arrange for a public meeting, in which to have the Beet Sugar question thoroughly before the public.

VOTE OF THANKS.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn moved, seconded by Mr. Robert Fair,—That a vote of thanks be tendered the Mayor and Town Council for the use of the Council Chamber.—Carried.

A RECOGNITION.

250 CHINESE LEFT DEAD ON THE FIELD

The Enemy Pursued Twenty Miles by the Cavalry --Kruger Ignores Peace Negotiations

Berlin, March 12.

The War Office has received the following despatch from Count Von Waldersee:—Pekin, March 11.—In the fight west of Suling Pass, we had only one slightly wounded. The Chinese left two hundred and fifty dead on the field. Our cavalry with four quick firing guns pursued the Chinese twenty miles. A battalion remains at Feu Ping, and westward from the Great Wall, in order to prevent a return of the Chinese troops.

Brussels, March 12

Indianapolis, Ind. March 12.

At 4. 45 p.m. Dr. Jameson gave out the following statement: General Harrison is growing weaker. The congestion is spreading, which is alarming. He may live 36 or 48 hours, but I fear the end is now near. I believe he will live through the night.

GREAT BRITAIN'S NEW NAVAL BASE

Berehaven, the Headquarters of the Channel Squadron

London, March 12.—The important works at Berehaven, the new headquarters of the Channel Squadron, are being pushed on expeditiously, and the place is rapidly developing into one of the most important naval bases in the British Islands.

As a strategic base it is likely ere long to become the most valuable. At a big cost works have recently been carried through which have made the anchorage perfectly safe. A large fleet can be securely anchored in the bay, where the ships are nearly landlocked, and when both eastern and western entrances have the booms across and well mined (which can be easily done) the ships are perfectly safe from submarine or torpedo attack. They are further protected by forts which mount guns of heavy calibre, as well as quick-firing and machine guns. A new coastguard station is also being built in order to have a large number of men available for lookout duties.

The great advantage of Berehaven is that it provides magnificent facilities for gunnery and other training. Since the Channel Squadron began using the new big gun sea ranges the shooting of the crews has greatly improved. For the small-arm drills of the fleet a rifle range is being made which will be one of the finest in the world.

In the bay near Bantry ships are able to carry on Whitehead torpedo practice when under weight. Two football grounds have been made by the fleet, one for officers, the other for the men, and a recreation ground is being made.

Landing stages and piers have been built by the artisans of the fleet, and named after the different ships. The roads have been put into good condition for cyclists, and golf links will shortly be completed.

The place is growing rapidly, and daily, zinc houses are being erected by entrprising tradesmen. A sailors' home is contemplated, as there is no accomodation at Castletown.

THE MONEY PAID OVER

The Dickson Company Receive $90,000 From The Cereal Co

Yesterday the balance of the purchase money was paid over by the Cereal Company, amounting to $90,000. The check was drawn by Mr. R. C. McHarrie, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Commerce, and was handed to Mr. Dickson Davidson and Mr. Waldon, the first named a director and the latter the accountant of the Dickson Company. Mr. Shook, the manager, was also present.

The check was deposited in the Ontario Bank, to the credit of the Dickson Company

Important Post Office Changes.

The Hon. Wm. Mulock, Postmaster-General, before leaving for Australia made known in his department two very important postoffice schemes, which will come into force just as soon as the necessary printing can be got out of the Printing Bureau. Provision is made for the insurance of valuable correspondence up to $25, so that in sending a registered letter through the mails, for a very small fee an insurance can be effected. Arrangements have been perfected whreby the letter-carriers will in residential portions of the cities receive and register letters while on their several trips. It will thus be a comparatively east matter for those residing at aremote distance from the postoffice to hail a carrier when passing, whose duty it will be to receive and register any letters tendered him and to give a receipt thereof. These two important improvements in our postal service will be greatly appreciated by the business community and residents of cities having free delivery by letter-carrier.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, MARCH 13, 1901

This paper is the only Morning Daily published between Toronto and Ottawa, and is largely read throughout Eastern Ontario.

Strangers visiting Peterborough are cordially invited to make their headquarters at the Times Office, where they will be provided with writing material.

The Times is a member of the Associated Press, and receives telegraphic news each morning up to four o'clock.

The Times will be sent to subscribers in the district at 25c per month, and to outside points at $5 per year. Strictly in advance.

DEER IN THE WATER.

The Editor of the Times has been taken to task privately, for the attitude of this journal on the deer killing question. One gentleman, who was in favor of the present method of killing in the water, contended that it makes no difference whether the deer is "shot" in the water or "shot" in the woods. But being "shot" or "half-shot" merely is not the point. As a rule, the deer takes to the water only when he is chased by dogs, and then he is clubbed to death, not "shot." It is not so much a question of shooting or non-shooting in the water, as of hounding. No objection is made to the deerstalker who finds exhilaration in the outdoor life and sport in the exercise of his skill as a marksman. He goes into the forest stalking his woodcraft against that of the animal he is in search of. He is a hunter, not a butcher. Such as he might roam the forests till doomsday, and the deer would remain in still sufficient abundance. It is the man who goes in with a pack of dogs to "round up" the deer, and with but little of the true sporting instinct or skill as a marksman, that gives rise to the question of "killing in the water." Because, not being a woodman, he would get very little game if the deer did not reach the lake to escape from his dogs. Then it is easy work; oars are better propellers than cloven hoofs; the boat can be rowed by stout arms faster than a buck can swim. And the club—not the gun—does the rest. This class of hunters does not trust his "shot.". And what is of more importance to the general public, by the time the animal finds water it is reduced to such a condition as to be all but unfit for human food. No epicure would buy for his own table venison that had come from the water, after the worry and feverish chase by dogs, if he could buy that of an animal shot fairly in its tracks by the skilful deerstalker. No man of taste or judgment would knowingly eat of venison that had gone through the chasing and water experience. Not only so, but the use of dogs is driving the deer out of the regions that are easily accessible, or causing their too rapid slaughter.

The Times believes that there is a difference as to whether a deer is clubbed to death in the water, or is given a sporting show for its life in the woods.

BEET SUGAR PROSPECTS.

The establishment of a beet sugar factory in Peterborough would be beneficial in many ways, provided the conditions are favorable for success. A report from one place in Michigan, where sugar beets are the farmers best money crop, states that Poles are employed to do a large part of the work of cultivation, and that women were paid $1 per day for topping the beets. The industry had proved a boon to unskilled labor, the farmers obtained a good profit and there was a resultant activity in many trades, such as wagon-making and coopering. One pre-requisite of success is that the soil should be well adapted for the production of beets. The best soil is sandy loam, with a clay sub-soil, in which is found a little limestone. We also notice a statement in the Sarnia Canadian that a factory with a daily capacity of 350 tons of beets would require three million gallons of water per day. The figures suggest that the factory ought to be located close to the lake or river from which it could pump its own water. Sarnia, Dunnville, Wallaceburg and other places are moving in the matter. At a meeting in Toronto held the other day, at which many leading business men were present it was thought that it would be impossible to establish a factory this year, as contracts have to be made in good time with the farmers, and it would be difficult to build and equip the factory in time to handle the crop. The bounty system question was also discussed.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

One million dollars is to be expended in a system of sanitariums for the cure of consumption, and Cleveland men will see the project through in a financial way. The sanitariums are to be placed in some of the largest cities in Canada and the United States. The company is financing a new invention. An absolute cure for consumption has been found. Electricity will play a most prominent part in the proposed cure. Medicine plays no part whatever.

Fortunately there is no proposal to nationalize the telephone systems of Canada. That would elevate the hello girls to the dignity of civil servants, and they mightn't care to converse with ordinary people.

A THRILLING STORY.

Dr. S. J. Farrell, of Hazzard's Corners, and a graduate of Trinity Medical College, who is now with the 19th Brigade, with headquarters in Belfast, in a letter, dated Salamantha, gives a graphic story of the attack of the Boers on Belfast. He writes:

The night was dark and foggy and a cold drizzling rain made it more disagreeable. I was sleeping soundly and comfortably in my tent, when I was awakened with a start to find we were completely surrounded by about 1,000 or 2,000 Boers. There was one of the most terrific rifle fires ranging I had ever heard—a perfect torrent of lead was coming from every direction, from whom or from where I knew not. I got into my clothes as quickly as I could, without lighting a candle, and got outside. The noise was terrific. Men were running, horsemen flying, regiments on the double in every direction, and it was so dark one could not tell whether they were enemy or friend. Still the fire kept up without interval. Loud and prolonged shouts and cheers could be heard above the cracking of the musketry.

For two long hours this kept on; two of the longest hours I ever experienced. In a momentary lull one could hear the poor victims crying for help, which was being rendered as far as possible.

As dawn approached the Boers fled. I shall never forget that field when day broke, to show in its awful reality what had been done. Thirty-eight brave fellows lay saturated in blood, seriously wounded, some dying, and fifteen already dead. I thanked God that my own boys were gone. It was hard enough to attend these poor fellows, all pleading at the same time for help. We had our work cut out, but by 1.30 p.m. we had all as comfortable as they could be under the circumstances. They were the most horrible lots of wounds I have ever seen in all the war. The enemy are are all using expanding bullets or large guns.

It was this most daring thing the Boers have done since the war began. They rushed our pickets and charged into the trenches with the men fighting hand to hand, and howling all the time. It was not a one-sided game, however. They got the worst of it all along. At Belfast alone they had over eighty killed and a great many wounded. The Boers attacked at the same time Pan, Nooitgedacht, Wildfontein, Wonderfontein, Belfast, Dalmanutha, Avaterval-Boven and Mashadondorn.

"A Bright Little Boy"

Would be sure of a welcome in almost any home. But what a welcome he would have in a home where the hope of children had been extinguished. What a welcome this particular "bright little boy" did have in such a home, may be judged by the closing paragraph of his mother's letter, given below. There is no room for the whole letter, which recounts a story of fifteen years of suffering and a perfect cure by the use of "three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, two bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and some of the 'Pellets.'"

In many instances childlessness is the result of conditions which are curable. It has often happened that when "Favorite Prescription" has cured a woman of female weakness and the nervous condition attending it, her return to health is signalized by the birth of her first child. "Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well.

"I cannot tell half that Dr. Pierce's medicine has done for me," writes Mrs. T. A. Hagan, of Norris, Watauga Co., N. C. "It will do all that is claimed for it—prevent miscarriage and render childbirth easy. It has given me a bright little boy, and I would not have had him had it not been for your wonderful medicine. I cannot say too much in praise of it; I think it is worth its weight in gold. I thank God for my life, and Dr. Pierce for my health."

"Pleasant Pellets" clear the complexion.

FIRED ON BRITISH CONSUL.

Intoxicated Russian Soldiers at Chefoo Attack the British Consulate.

Vancouver, B. C., March 9.—Mail advices from Japan say that on Feb. 10 the Russian soldiers behaved with great violence at Chefoo. A whole squadron of soldiers became intoxicated and were running amuck. They took more liberties around the British Consulate than the Consul wished and when they killed the Consul's Chinese servant out of pure wantonness, the Consul remonstrated and threatened to report them.

The Russians were ordered by their drunken commander to line up. They did so. The officer then shouted: "Fire!" waving his sword at the Consulate. Half of the Russians refused. The other half fired straight at the Consulate, and the Consul narrowly escaped being killed.

The Governor of Shantung Province has annuled the recantation pledge of native converts. In the province are 30,000 Roman Catholic converts and 15,000 Protestant natives. Last July proclamations were issued throughout Shantung calling upon all Christians to recant. The governor has also issued a proclamation, warning natives against molesting missionaries or converts.

The Times publishes a story of a band of mounted Manchurian robbers surrounding a foraging party of the Jodhpore Lancers and some Japanese infantry at Shan-hai-kwan. One trooper escaped and brought reinforcements which arrived just in time. In one house three men had been hemmed in, one shot dead, the house afterward being fired and the remaining troops all but suffocated. Further on three troopers were found defending three wounded Indian coolies with only two or three cartridges remaining.

Heart relief in half an hour.—A lady in New York State, writing of her cure by Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart, says: "I feel like one brought back from the dead, so great was my suffering from heart trouble and so almost miraculous my recovery through the agency of this powerful treatment. I owe my life to it."—19

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. One agent sold 68 in one day. Sample and terms 25 cts (non free); four for 80 cts; $1.75 per dozen; 25 for $3.25; 50 for $6.00; 100 for $11.00 Write to day for a dozen and make money. GEMS OF THOUGHT

Every day should be distinguished by at least one particular act of love. —Lavater.

I think it is going to God with our every want that he loves, the oftener we go the more we please him.—Rose Porter.

Alas! this time is never the time for self denial; it is always the next time. Abstinence is always so much more pleasant to contemplate upon the other side of indulgence.—George Macdonald.

Most people dread far more the social frown which follows the doing of something conventionally wrong than they do the qualms of conscience which follow the doing of something intrinsically wrong.—Herbert Spencer.

That which is often asked of God is not so much His will and way as His approval of our way.—S. F Smiley.

He that gives good admonition and bad example builds with one hand and pulls down with the other.—William T. Bacon

Do not dare to live without some clear intention toward which your living shall be bent. Mean to be something with all your might.—Phillips Brooks.

The first two planetoids in 1900 were discovered, the one by the Austrian astronomer Paliga and the other by Charlois of Nice.

Let us lay hold of the happiness of to-day. Do we not go through life blindly, thinking that some fair tomorrow will bring us the gift we miss to-day? * * * Know thou, my heart, if thou art not happy to-day, thou shalt never be happy.—Anna Robertson Brown.

No one has any right to suppose that he will do better by and by, unless he is prompt to seize upon means and plans for doing better. Better living and better service do not come by chance; they are the result of thoughtful and earnest effort. We grow as we go.

Of this be certain:
Time, as he courses onward, still unrolls
The volume of Concealment. In the future,
As in the optician's glassy cylinder,
The indistinguishable blots and colors
Of the dim past collect and shape themselves,
Upstarting in their own completed image
To scare or to reward.
— Coleridge.

I went to the woods because I wished to live deliberately, to front only the essential facts of life, and see if I could not learn what it had to teach, and not, when I came to die, discover that I had not lived.—Thoreau.

Love is like the wild-rose briar;
Friendship like the holly-tree.
The holly is dark when the rose-briar blooms,
But which will bloom most constantly? —Emily Bronte.

We do not judge of the acts of nature as we do those of man. If we did nature would frequently be sentenced to death without benefit of clergy. Nature is irresponsible, unaccountable and incomprehensible.

Oh, deem not they are blest alone.
Whose lives a peaceful tenor keep;
The Power who pities man hath shown
A blessing for the eyes that weep.
—Wm. Cullen Bryant.

WORTH KNOWING

Japan gets the most of her salt from Germany and China, the best coming from Germany. She makes a considerable quantity of her own from sea water, but the quality is poor.

Nearly all of the "pure olive oil" imported into this country is cottonseed oil made in the Southern States, sent abroad and there refined and returned to us as the pure product of the Mediterranean olive.

Argentine flour, which is trying to make its way into northern Brazil, cannot compete with the American product.

The palm trees of Venezuela contain large silk-spinning spiders, making white and yellow silk, but they cannot be used commercially, owing to the expense of keeping the spiders separated. If left together they will devour each other.

Wasps eat honey, honey dew and the juice of fruits, but they also are carnivorous and live largely upon other insects. Pollen of flowers they are not supposed to use.

Commenting on the amount which a spider actually consumed during twenty-four hours, Sir J. Lubbock says: "At a similar rate of consumption a man weighing 160 pounds will require a whole fat steer for breakfast, a steer and five sheep for dinner, and for supper two bullocks, eight sheep and four hogs, and just before retiring nearly four barrels of fresh fish."

If we examine a fly's head with the microscope, we shall notice that it has two distinct kinds of eyes; large ones placed on each side of the face, and little ones or "ocelli," disposed in triangular form on the vertex. The large eyes form two convex protuberances and are composed of a multitude of juxtaposed hexagonal facets. These facets appear to be about four thousand in number; they are not of the same size, those of the upper part being one one-thousandth of an inch in diameter and those of the lower part only about one two-thousandths of an inch.

In olden days, when tea was a rare and precious luxury, silver strainers were used, into which the exhausted leaves were put when they had been well watered and drained. They were afterward eaten with sugar on bread and butter. This fact is recorded by Sir Walter Scott in "St. Ronan's Well."

Humors,

Come to the surface in the spring as in no other season. It's a pity they don't run themselves all off that way; but in spite of pimples and other eruptions, they mostly remain in the system. That's bad.

Hood's Sarsaparilla removes them and cures all the painful and disfiguring troubles they cause. Nothing else cleanses the system and clears the complexion like Hood's.

CONSUMPTION

It would tear your heart to see your sturdy little son become a consumptive. Prevent the disease. Give him Powley's Liquified Ozone and make his lungs strong and healthy. We can give you the names and addresses of people who have been cured of chronic consumption by this preparation. They can tell their own story.

Please write, for the boy's sake.

POWLEY'S LIQUIFIED OZONE is $1 00 and 50c per bottle at all druggists, or from the laboratories of the Ozone Company of Toronto, Limited, 48 Colborne St., Toronto.

A DARKTOWN STAR.

She Seemed to Rise Before the Recorder as the Lost Pleiade

"Mandy Matthews is a Darktown star," stated the officer when a Crooked Alley belle's name was called.

"Where is Mandy?" asked the recorder.

The court bailiff and clerk made a search, but Mandy was not found.

The turnkey was appealed to, and he stated that he had sent up all the prisoners.

The bailiff then made a sensational discovery. Mandy was in the male waiting room, attired in male clothes.

"I understood you to say," remarked the recorder to the policeman, "that Mandy was a star in Darktown. She seems to pose up here as the lost Pleiade."

"I hain't no star nur sun nur moon, needer," said Mandy. "I'se jest nutin' but ole Mandy Matthews, an' dere hain't no use ter be callin' me outer my name, needer."

The officer swore that Mandy had got drunk on corn liquor, and when the people in Crooked Alley objected to her cursing she began a battle with rocks and munitions of war.

"What does the star say about the charges?" the recorder asked the woman.

"I sez dat hit am er hull lot of faberkashun," replied Mandy, with great indignation, lending vehemence to her speech. "Hit's all de work of er lyin' generashun of vipers."

"Tell me, Mandy," urged the recorder, "why you are dressed in male attire?"

"I wus er practicin' for de Darktown drematick club," was the reply, "and had on my rigs and togs fer de play when de perlice cummed."

"I'm going to fine you $10.75 for wearing those clothes on the streets," announced Recorder Broyles. "When a woman passes off for a male in Atlanta she will certainly get stamped as a crook or fraud. I tell you this much, so that you may be better posted in the future.—Atlanta Constitution.

Where the Golf Balls go.

"Slimson," said the young man who delighted in golf, "was heart-broken when he lost the sixth golf ball the other day, when we were playing up in Dutchess county. He is a serious minded individual, and when he saw the last hard rubber sphere go into 'the drink' he sat down on a bunker and looked at me very solemnly and deliberately.

"'This is inexcusable,' said he, 'when a man loses golf balls in such a way as this he either ought to find them or give up the game for good. It shows very weak character.'

"That last ball had gone into a pond, and there seemed to be something so ridiculous about the idea of a man searching a place like that for a ball that all of us, the doctor, the student and I, began to laugh.

"The pond was near the end of the links, and it was a slimy bit of water. It was just about wide enough to get a ball over it. There might have been no trouble provided that were dry land for that distance, but the shine of the water always made you pause and wink and think, and as a result the ball generally made a gentle little splash, and you stood on the bank expressing your feelings as best you could.

"The caddies grinned behind their hands as Slimson slowly took off his variegated stockings and rolled up his abbreviated trousers. He was a sight. The edge of the pool was lined with black slime, and as Slimson went in he nearly fell into the pond. He caught himself just in time, and started at the exploration again. He had a sapling in one hand, and he looked for all the world like an Indian wading a stream to hide his trail.

"He stepped on a tin can and rolled and pitched like an Atlantic liner in heavy seas. The water was above his knees. He stooped down and plunged his arm down to the shoulder. The sleeve of his resplendent shirt had been insecurely rolled. It slipped from its moorings and was dyed by the blackened water. He lifted up his clinched fist and brought up what looked like a bit of coal. He washed the black thing about in the water a little, and there, sure enough, was a golf ball.

"'Well,' said I, 'I hope that you are satisfied. Do you think that it paid for all the trouble?'

"He did not say a word. He went groping around the bottom of that pond and brought up another ball. He kept right at it, and when he was through he had rescued thirty-seven balls.

"'Yes,' said he, 'I think it was worth while.'"

Had to get It Done.

An intelligent looking boy walked into a grocer's shop the other day, and reading from a paper said:

"I want six pounds of sugar at 2¼d. a pound.

"Yes," said the shopman, "that will be one and three halfpence."

"Eleven pounds of rice at 1½d. a pound."

"One and fourpence halfpenny," commented the grocer.

"Four pounds of tea at 1s. 8d. a pound."

"Six and eight."

And so he continued: "Five pounds of coffee at 1s. 10d.; seven tins of milk at 5½d.; four tins of tomatoes at 6½d.; eight tins of sardines at 1s. 1½d."

The shopman made out the bill and handed it to the lad, saying: "Did your mother send the money or does she want them entered?"

"My mother didn't send me at all," said the boy, seizing hold of the bill. "It's my arithmetic lesson, and I had to get it done somehow."

Why You "See Stars"

If you are one of those who frequent the police courts, you have no doubt often heard the victims of assaults declare that their assailants hit them so hard that it made them "see stars." And, indeed, the sensation which you experience from a violent blow on the head resembles very much the sight of stars.

The fact is, there is a phosphorescent power in the eye, which shows itself when the head is struck violently, and is often perceived even in the act of sneezing. The jar to the system caused by the blow produces a pressure of the blood vessels upon the retina, causing either total darkness or a faint blue light which floats before the eyes and in which the imagination discovers thousands of fantastic figures, the majority of which resemble stars.

THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD
OR
OUR SAVIOUR IN ART.

Cost nearly $100,000 to publish. Contains nearly one hundred full-page engravings copied direct from the World's Greatest Paintings of our Saviour and His Mother. Contains History of Painting, Biography of Painter, and the Galleries in Europe where the Original Painting may be seen. The most beautiful publication ever issued. The strongest hearts weep at the sight of these wonderful pictures of Jesus and His Mother. Everybody says they are grand sublime matchless, magnificent, beautiful, inspiring and uplifting. The sale is unprecedented. The presses are running day and night to fill the orders. Twelve carloads of paper were required for the last edition. Small fortunes are being made by the thrifty with this marvelous work. Contains also a Child's story beautifully written to fit each picture. The wonderful book, matchless in its purity and beauty, appeals to every mothers' heart and in every Christian home, where there are children it sells itself. A Christian man or woman can soon clear one thousand dollars ($1,000) taking orders in this community. Others are doing this. Why not you? We are advertising in nearly ten thousand newspapers in this country, Canada, England, and Australia. Shipping books to every English-speaking country in the world. We shall promote our best workers to positions of State Managers, Correspondents and Office Assistants. We also own and publish large Photo-gravure Etchings of the Great Paintings in the Galleries of Europe. One or more of these Etchings can be sold in every home. By carrying the book and the engravings your success will be tremendous. Mrs. Waite, of Worcester, Mass., has sold nearly four thousand dollars worth of books there. Mrs. Sackett has sold nearly two thousand dollars worth of books in New York. Both of these ladies answered our advertisement, and had never sold a book before. Took 14 orders first two days—H. Colwell, Took 5 orders first day; 23 orders first week, clearing over $60—Hattie Lemwell. Thousands of others like above. It is printed on velvet-finished paper; bound in Cardinal Red, Green and Gold and adorned with Golden Roses and Lillies. Write quickly for terms as the territory is going rapidly. When you prove your success, we will promote you to the position of Manager and Correspondent under yearly contract.

Big Four Con. G. M. Co.
LIMITED

Mines one mile west of Rossland, directly west of the Le Roi No. 1 and Le Roi No. 2. Four properties. All Crown granted.

THE LeRoi No. 1 once sold for 2 cents and went to $45 per share; and the Le Roi No. 2 £5 shares went to £23, or $110 per share in a few months.

Our memorandum of association contains a provision, provided by Section 56 of the Companies Act, 1897, that the shares are issued as Fully Paid Up and Non Assessable, and that no further liability beyond the amount actually paid upon shares shall attach to the holders thereof. Capital $250,000.

Our properties are now proved (both above and below ground) to have the same continuous ore veins as the LeRoi Companies, and have the same identical ore and our shares are well worth TWENTY FIVE CENTS now, and will surely bring fifty cents. And we can, with a very small capital, develop our property to such an extent that it can also be placed on the London market, where it belongs—and small investors will make a good profit by buying now.

Our assays have averaged from $5 to $800 in gold, copper and silver and the shipping facilities are the best. The Great Northern Railway runs three times through the ground, three smelters close at hand, and reduced charges of $4.50 per ton for shipping and smelting, and we are now getting ready to start shipping ore.

Irrespective of the merits of the BIG FOUR, we have now over 570,000 shares in our treasury and free from all incumbrance. We are amongst the few local companies that has complied with the law in every particular, and we venture to say have

GOLD MINING CO.

Owning Big Horn Mountain Tunnel and Veneta Vein, 200 acres situated on the Western Slope of Pike's Peak, in the famous Cripple Creek Gold Mining District.

THE SAFEST OFFER EVER MADE TO INVESTORS.

It is printed on each certificate that subscribers to the above Preferred Shares will be entitled to receive in Dividends the full amount of money invested, before other stockholders receive any returns, signed by the President of the Company.

This district produced more Gold in 1900 than any other in the United States

This property consists of 3000 by 3000 feet, or 200 acres, of gold land. The mine has been worked. The feature of this mine is the Veneta Vein, 30 to 40 feet in width, and is certainly one of the strongest veins in this famous district. There are some fifteen openings on this vein, the ore from which assays in gold from $12 to $100 per ton. The property is advantageously located for development by tunnel, which will make it possible to produce an enormous amount of ore daily, the quantity varying from 200 to 500 tons per day. The development by TUNNELING is the most economical and advantageous manner of working this property.

At a distance of 800 feet the Tunnel will intersect the Veneta Vein at a depth of about 680 feet, and will also intersect several other veins. The tunnel will cut the Big Horn Mountain 2100 feet deep, and will give this company 2,000,000 tons of ore, worth over $20 per ton.

The new railroad, now practically completed from Colorado Springs, called the Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek road, passes within 2000 feet of this Tunnel

Adjoining this property is the Colorado Springs TUNNEL Company. In this property at a depth of 400 feet, the Veneta Vein was cut. At this point the vein was fully 20 feet in width, and its value from $20 to $1080 per ton.

There are already in operation mills and smelters sufficient to treat the output of this property, which gives at once cash returns.

Capital Stock $1,000,000. Par Value $1.00 Per Share. 100,000 Shares Preferred Stock at 25c. Per Share.

In buying this stock the purchaser owns a direct title in the Company's property. This Company offers you no watered stock, but a legitimate high-grade gold-mining investment in the Cripple Creek District.

The above offer of Preferred Dividends is an assurance of early returns. After additional machinery is erected, this property will be earning dividends almost equal to its Capital Stock.

Fire at Lakefield

A blaze took place at the residence of Mr. Tate, Lakefield, on Saturday evening, by which considerable damage was done. Yesterday Mr. James Saulter, of the Liverpool, London and Globe Insurance Co., went to Lakefield to adjust the loss, which is fully covered by insurance.

The Barrie Fire

The insurance valuators, who have been in town several days in connection with the fire at Messrs. Barrie & Co's store, have been unable to affect settlement of the damages. The firm's valuator, who comes from Toronto, asks in the neighborhood of of $8000 for damage to the furs. This Mr. Saulter will not admit, so a settlement was not reached.

For The Pan American

Mr. Rupert Gliddon and Mr Wm. Bunton, leader and manager respectively of the 57th Regimental Band, left for Buffalo last night to complete arrangements for the visit of Canada's superb musical organization to the Pan American Exhibition, which is open in May. It is expected the band will have at least a week's engagement.

Building Operations

Yesterday Mr. Chas. Curtis, the well known brick manufacturer, informed The Times that the outlook for work in Peterborough amongest masons and carpenters had not been so bright for years as it is for the coming season. The firm has a large number of orders for brick looked ahead, for early delivery. It is altogether probable, therefore, that the building trade will have a big boom in Peterborough this year.

Should be Careful

The Board of Health should exercise every care to have our citizens do everything possible towards removing and destroying every germ producing substance about their premises at as early a period as possible. By taking steps early, there will be less chance of fevers breaking out in our midst. In houses where scarlet fever prevails, the occupants should be quarantined as well as the patients, thus preventing as much as possible a spread of the fever. In the past parents and other members of the family of children afflicted, have been permitted to go about town and mingle with citizens, and we have no doubt thus assisted in spreading the disease. Generally when scarlet fever is prevalent the Board of Health placard the door, but if the occupants are allowed out, it would appear as though that process was rather ridiculous.

LABOR MEETING

A Mass Meeting of Citizens will be held in the opera house March 15th. Addresses on Labor Organizations and Public Ownership will be given by Ralph Smith, M. THE EXAMINER FIRE

Meeting of the Board of Directors on Monday Last

At a meeting of the directors of the Peterborough Examiner Printing Company, held Monday, the decision, was arrived at to close out the business of the Company. The plant and premises having been completely wiped out by the fire of Saturday morning led to this decision. The President of the Company, Hon. J. R. Stratton, has assumed all its obligations, and will continue the publication of the Daily Examiner and the Weekly Examiner, and will place an entirely new plant as rapidly as orders can be filled. The loss by fire was fully what was reported, and the representatives of the insurance companies agreed upon a settlement in full.

THE TIMES LETTER BOX

Letters from the People on Interesting Topics.

(NOTE.—The Times does not hold itself in any way responsible for the opinions expressed by its correspondents.—Ed. Times.

Dr. BINGHAM SPEAKS.

(Editor Morning Times.)

Sir,—Your timely and energetic editorial this morning re smallpox, will be appreciated by every citizen. It is no use to shut our eyes to the fact, that like other towns, we are exposed to an outbreak of smallpox at any moment.

We need a house for isolation. The Board of Health can only recommend. It takes money to build a house, and the Board has not enough money in the treasury to make the first payment on a Jews-harp.

We are depending altogether on the Council, and I have no doubt they will do their best to meet the present emergency.

J. BINGHAM,
March 12. Health Officer.

THE TOWN ENGINEER.

(Editor Morning Times.)

Sir,—I noticed with a great deal of interest the manly effort Ald. Best made at a late meeting of the Council, to dispense with the services of the Town Engineer. I was more than surprised to find that Mr. Best was opposed by Ald. Sawers, who was elected solely because he pretended to favor putting an end to the present miserable methods of running our streets. I would like to ask Mr. Sawers and a few others like him a few questions.

1. What does the $4 per day Engineer put his time in at during the long winter months?

2. Is there all told one whole week's work for a town engineer during the months of November, December, January, February, March and April?

3. Is Mr. Sawers aware of the fact that the Engineer spends the summer months at Chemong Park, and trusts the work he is paid to do, to others?

4. Does Mr. Sawers not know that the reason the sidewalks were built so low, was probably because it was in the interests of the contractors to have them so?

5. Is Mr. Sawers aware that the Engineer has favored personal friends at expense of the ratepayer?

6. Has he never considered the present system most extravagent and miserable? Would it not be a thousand times better to secure a first-class, practical man, who knows how to build roads and to handle laboring men, and place the care and management of the roads in his hands? With such a man the present system of keeping a sort of a refuge for played out scavengers, who flock into town from the surrounding district, will be done away with; and with such a man there would be no work for an engineer.

I owe the present Engineer no ill-will, personally, but in the name of common sense I appeal to our Council to put an end to the present system. Let Mr. Sawers and those associated with him in the defence of the Engineer, take a look at three-quarters of the sidewalks built under his management. They are from 3 inches to six inches under water at the present moment. Look at Murray street; look at Water street; look at the old post office corner, the pavement at which has to be rebuilt; look at the bungling done on Stewart street; look where you will, and the same evidences of mismanagement and incompetency exists.

I can tell Mr. Sawers and those with him that the eyes of the ratepayers are upon them. If they fail to do their duty at the present time, their political sun will have set as surely and as certain as they live.

VERITAS.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Mr. J. Alex. Culverwell is in town to-day.

—Messrs. Stuart, Douglas, Wells and Scott, of the American Cereal Co., left for Toronto yesterday.

—Mr. James Saulter, Inspector for the Liverpool, London and Globe Insurance Company, is in town in connection with the fire at Messrs. Barrie & Co.'s store a few days ago.

—Mr. C. N. Brown received a wire from Ottawa yesterday apprising him of the fact that his brother, a member of the Strathconas, did not arrive with those who reached Halifax a few days ago, but is still in hospital at Cape Town, having not yet recovered from injuries received while operating against the Boers.

A Note of Warning

The Times received a letter yesterday from Capt. George S. Thompson, who is well known in Peterborough. Capt. Thompson's home is in Sudbury, where he says the smallpox scare is very bad. He says that great danger is apparent when the lumber camps break up, especially in the Sault-Ste Marie District, when lumbermen from Michigan, where hundreds of cases exist, strike for the town. Capt. Thompson concludes by stating that Ontario towns cannot too speedily prepare for the disease by providing hospitals for the care of the smallpox victims. Peterborough should no longer dally.

COFFEE DID IT.

And Postum Food Coffee Removed It.

"I finally found it was coffee that caused me, for the past four years, to have such trouble with my health; with fainting spells, dizziness, and constipation, that the doctor told me I was liable to die of heart failure any time. I was very thin, weak and sallow and a sick woman.

Husband concluded that coffee was the trouble. After hearing of Postum Food Coffee he induced me to try it. That was six months ago when I made the change, and the result has been something wonderful.

I have not had to use an enema, nor had any trouble with my bowels since, nor have I had one fainting spell, and the palpitation and dizziness have all disappeared.

During the intense heat of the summer, when people usually lose weight, I was gaining. I now weigh ten pounds more than I have weighed in ten years and my people tell me I look younger than I did ten years ago.

Our whole family use Postum and like it better than Java or any other coffee. We shall never use any other coffee as long as we can get Postum.

I know how to make good Postum, but that is easy if one will just boil it long enough.

A short time ago an old lady, who is a great coffee drinker, took dinner with us and remarked about our coffee; said she never tasted better coffee; she did not know it was Postum.

If you should publish this, please omit my name. I will, however, answer any questions cheerfully." Mrs.——— Full name and address given by the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

Some humors are inherited; others are acquired, commonly through derangements of the digestive organs.

Whether inherited or acquired, they are radically and permanently removed by one and the same medicine, and that is

Hood's Sarsaparilla, — it cleanses the blood, perfects digestion, cures dyspepsia, stops all eruptions, clears the complexion, builds up the whole system.

For various reasons humors are most quickly removed in the Spring.

Take Hood's this Spring.

"We have been using Hood's Sarsaparilla for several years past and it has always given the best of satisfaction, especially as a Spring medicine. It builds up the general system and gives new life. I heartily recommend it to the public." DWIGHT C. PARK, Whiteland, Ind.

—A deputation of Toronto and Hamilton barbers waited on the Ontario Government to urge that Sunday shaving be prohibited in the province.

—A meeting of the Charity Board was held Monday night, when an amount of business of minor importance was transacted.

—Mr. Walter Dickson, of Otonabee, has been mentioned in connection with the Liberal nomination for East Peterborough for the Legislative Assembly.

—The young lad, Verral Terry, who fell from the roof of his father's house in Lindsay, while shovelling snow, died from the effects of his injuries on Monday morning.

—Messrs. Curtis Bros. have taken out 1200 cords of wood this winter, which will be used this summer for making brick. This is one of Peterborough's flourishing industries.

—While a lady was attempting to cross a pool of water on the pavement above the Post Office yesterday, without wetting her feet, she slipped and fell, and not only got thoroughly wet, but received a severe bruise on her temple.

—Lindsay is preparing a welcome for Troopers A. Skinner and C. Graham, of that town, and G. Laidlaw, of Victoria Road, men returning from South Africa. The county will present each man with twenty-five dollars.

Gospel Service and At Home

Miss Carson of Christodora House, New York, will visit the Young Women's Christian Association next Saturday, March 16th, and will be here till the 28 inst. On Sunday afternoon a Gospel Service will be held at 4.15 to which all women are invited. On Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock there will be a reception for all our members. Invitations will be sent out to each member, but if any should happen not to receive one they will kindly accept of this invitation and come. Both the Gospel Service and the "At Home" will be held at the rooms 168 Brock St.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES

HOCKEY

Monday Night's Match.

The long talked of hockey match between number 4 and 6 companies took place on Monday night and proved to be one of the most desperate battles that have ever taken place in the rink. The gallant men of Number 4 nobly sustained their reputation as being the grittiest Company in the 57th, by playing against such fearful odds and are to be congratulated on the fine showing they made.

At 10.15 o'clock the Dandies, attired in white ducks and with flowing sashes of tartan streaming behind them, and their noble heads protected by Tam O. Shanters, came on the ice closely followed by the team from No. 6.

For the first ten minutes the Dandies had decidedly the best of the game, but the training of Watt and Robinson began to tell and they started to break through the Dandies' defance and score. Pozer received a fearful blow in the eye during the first half, which would have made an ordinary white man retire from the game for a couple of years, but the gallant Pozer bound up the ghastly wound and continued to hold his position between the flags. Pozer is one of the best goal-keepers in town, and the spectators did not stint their applause when he stopped shot after shot.

Mr. Lou Best played a great game at point and broke up many a rush of the No. 6 forwards. The Dandies' forwards could not stand the hot pace set by Wat and Robinson, and as a result could not always stay with their man, but they played a desperate game and showed what the kind of men that compose No. 4 Company.

At the end of half time the score was 3 to 0 in favor of No. 6, and they added three more in the second half while the dandies, after some hard rushes, succeeded in scoring one.

The feature of the second half was the brillant manner in which the Dandies attacked the heavy weights of No. 6, and what they lacked in size they made up in grit and, as a spectator said afterwards, the Dandies made huge Beef Brundrette look like 30c.

It is only fair to say that some of No. 6 men flunked the game, and as a result No. 6 had to fill their places with Brundrette and McPherson, which added greatly to their strength, but nothing daunted by this change the Dandies stood to their guns and like men faced the inevitable result.

NOTES.

—Mr. Geo. Revell and Mr. King Dillow acted as goal umpires to the satisfaction of every one present, while Cavanagh made an ideal referee.

—No. 4 Company say they can defeat any combination the Dragoons can get together, and no doubt the Dragoons will to horse and accept the challenge.

—The Pig Iron Tigers will play off their scalps as trophies with which to decorate their club-rooms in Neil Keg Alley.

—The Pig Iron Tigers beg to advise such clubs as the Sand-Rats, Chosen Friends, etc., that they consider such fourth-rate teams beneath their dignity and will not take notice of any challenges from any such people.

—Capt. Spence is hot to get a game on with the Sod-Pounders or the Mud-Larks, and no doubt they can oblige him.

—As these 3 clubs are inhabitants of the Sheep-Skin flats, the chances are that they will make the wool fly when they run up against one another.

Stop Losing Money

You Cannot Guess Winners

Horse races are "MIGHTY UNCERTAIN" things to bet on, if you depend on a GUESS to win, a thousand miles from the scene. Thousands have tried before you and have failed. The chances are a thousand to one you will fail too.

You Cannot Handicap Winners

Horses are not machines. They rarely repeat performances. Many of them look at the odds in the betting ring before they go to the post—that is, their owners do it for them. Horses do not always "try." They run for the benefit of their owners, not the public.

LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE

The LEHMAN RACING SYNDICATE is a combination of horse owners and trainers, now racing horses at the New Orleans race track, who have united for the purpose of profiting by the exclusive information at their command. The syndicate aims to send to its subscribers by telegraph every morning the names of two or three horses that are entered in the day's races, which will win, barring accidents alone.

THIS BEATS ALL

Among our many winners recently were SARILIA, 60 to 1, Jan. 9; CALLEUR, 10 to 1, Jan. 14; and AZIA, 10 to 1, Jan. 16.

Within a week our subscribers won more money following us than they did for six months prior following their own selections, if indeed they were not heavy losers before they joined our army of winners.

Cut this out and use it as authority on the manager of the Postal Telegraph office, No 146 W. 42d Street, New York, to examine copy of our telegrams to subscribers filed each day this month at noon. Verify our Statement!

We hope this will convince all turfities that our subscribers are getting money, and that our sources of information are second to none in point of accuracy and reliability. Anything we average two selections per day. Anything we send can be bet on with confidence that the horse will "try" and that the owner is betting on him.

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Salida copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims,—The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Salida, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Salida. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of the city; and last, but by no means least, the Sunshine, located two miles east of Salida at Cleora station, on the main Trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

AT WAR WITH THE POSTAL DEPARTMENT

Sheffield Hardware Manufacturer Undertakes to Obstruct the Post Office

Gave the Sheffield Post Office Authorities so Much Work That Regular Mail Matter Could Not be Attended to

Sheffield, Eng., March. 13.—A highly interesting farce-comedy in real life is at present attracting the undivided attention of this city. Mr. A. G. Graves, a rich hardware manufacturer, is waging single-handed a relentless war on the Postoffice Department of His Majesty's Government, and so far Mr. Graves has rather had the advantage.

The cause of the hostilities was due to the action of the postal authorities in withdrawing their regular collection of postal packets at Mr. Graves' warehouse. The latter protested and urged the Postoffice Department to continue the service as usual. But no attention being paid to his request he gave notice on Friday that that, in the absence of any action on the part of the Postmaster-General, a fight to a finish would be inaugurated against the red-tape of the P.O. department.

Two hundred of Mr. Graves' clerks, each with a red-tape buttonhole, formed a procession, under police escort, through crowded streets from the warehouse to the central postoffice yesterday morning.

Each clerk was provided with $2.50 in coppers, and they were instructed to purchase penny stamps one at a time. The public hall of the postoffice was packed with the Graves brigade, and by increasing the counter staff the postmaster tried to cope with the extraordinary demand for stamps, but the general public were much inconvenienced.

After the struggle had proceeded for an hour and a half the doors were closed to the public. Twenty minutes later the postmaster mounted a counter and made a speech to Mr. Graves, appealing to him to give up the contest.

Mr. Graves replied by requesting a return to those facilities which had been withdrawn, and for which he had persistently pressed without avail. Having thus formally entered his protest, Mr. Graves withdrew his force of clerks, but announced that the contest would be renewed day by day until his grievance was remedied.

The next day the struggle was renewed according to promise.

Thirty cabs were requisitioned that night to carry the heavy mail from Mr. Graves' premises to the head postoffice. The postal authorities were busily employed for several hours weighing and registering the extraordinarily large number of parcels that were thrust on their hands.

A large force of police maintained order. A certain number of Mr Graves' clerks were allowed in the office at a time, and as soon as they were relieved of their burdens they were conducted through the side door into Commercial street, and another batch was admitted to the office.

Between twenty and thirty extra clerks were called on duty to deal with the rush. For a time the unusual pressure of work dislocated the routine business of the office, and traffic in the neighborhood of the postoffice was interfered with.

This week the fight has been continued with unabated energy by Mr. Graves. On Monday his firm requisitioned fifty cabs to carry the heavy mail to the postoffice, and at half-past two a procession of cabs half a mile long was wending its way along the streets of the northern city.

Each vehicle was decorated with appropriate mottoes, such as, "Why should Sheffield's trade be throttled?" and "Advance Sheffield—if the post-office will let you!"

At the postoffice arrangements had been made for the fight. Public business was diverted so that the attention of the entire staff could be devoted to dealing with Graves' parcels.

In Sheffield the afternoon was largely observed as a holiday. The neighborhood of the postoffice was crowded with people eager to watch the progress of the struggle.

Enterprising photographers were busily engaged taking snapshots, and the cinematograph was industriously recording every incident of this strange contest.

BRITAIN'S TERMS TO GENERAL BOTHA

The Government Discusses the Matter and Formulates Instructions

London, March 13.—It is understood the British Cabinet at its meeting today considered among other things the negotiations proceeding between Gen. Kitchener and General Botha and formulated instructions for Gen. Kitchener which defined on broad lines the terms on which a peace settlement might be effected.

AN ARMISTICE DECLARED.

New York, March 13.—A special from Pretoria says: Pending arrival of Gen. De Wet a general armistice has been declared. Gen. Botha has been in conference with Gen. Kitchener and Sir Alfred Milner for several days and all three desire to consult De Wet. De Wet is hurrying north through the Orange River Colony in obedience to the summons of Botha. He passed Brandfort last night. On his arrival a conference will be held near here. There is joy to-day in the hope that the last gun has been fired in the Boer way.

WAR SERVICES REWARDED.

London, March 13.—The Gazette to-day announces the appointment of Mesdames George Cornwallis West and Jennie Blow as Ladies of Grace of the Order of St. John of Jesusalem, and Mr. J. J. Van Allen as an honorary Knight of Grace, in connection with their work in fitting out the American hospital ship Maine and a field hospital for South Africa.

SENT BACK TO REGIMENT.

Ottawa, March 13.—When the Strathcona Horse came in here on Sunday they brought with them little 15-year-old Burgler Jarvis of the Leicester Regiment, now stationed in Bermuda. The boy was on a trip to Western Canada, but was intercepted here and sent back to his regiment. The men of Strathcona's Horse raised $90 for the boy before he left.

WEATHER NOTES.

Probs: Still unsettled with snow flurries.

The western disturbance continues to develop. It is now centred in Iowa as a storm of importance and the weather is already becoming stormy on the lakes and snow, or rain will prevail in the Lake Region, extending to the Ottawa and St. Lawrence Valleys, to-morrow.

Rumors of surrenders are coming from South Africa, but the reports from the guns do not confirm them.

The Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company

LIMITED

ANNUAL MEETING

The President Discusses the Proposed Railway to the American Boundary

At the annual meeting of the Crow's Nest Pass Co. in Toronto a satisfactory report and financial statement were presented by Senator Geo. A. Cox, President of the Company, and adopted by the shareholders. In view of the wide public interest awakened by the great development on which the Company is about to embark and also by the projected railway from the coal fields to the American boundary the President thought it advisable to discuss the future plans of the Company at considerable length. The following is the full text of his address.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

"In congratulating you upon the success of the last year's operations, it may be worth while to refer to the erroneous ideas that have gone abroad with regard to the management and control of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company. We are, in every respect, a Canadian enterprise, with a large majority of Canadian stockholders, under Canadian control and management and are giving employment to a great force of labor on Canadian soil. We are developing Canada's resources in one of the most important economic minerals, and are building up an immense Canadian industry, which is bringing wealth to the Dominion, and which, we feel assured, will constitute a most important factor in the Canadian industrial development of the future, unless our operations are restricted by a limited market and inadequate railway facilities.

"It affords me great pleasure to announce that we are prepared to proceed at once with construction and development work involving an immediate expenditure of $835,000, and we already have this money in the treasury of the Company for this purpose. This large sum does not include the railway project, to which I will refer later, but will be devoted exclusively to development work, the building of coke ovens, dwellings, offices, and other works in connection with the coal and coke industry of the Company. We intend to build at Fernie, Michel, and at another suitable point, 720 coke ovens, which will involve an expenditure of $540,000 under this head alone. We will then have 1,032 ovens, which will increase our capacity for coke production from over 450 tons per day, as at present, to more than 1,500 tons per day. Our expenditure will also include more than a quarter of a million dollars on mine improvements, offices, and miners' dwellings.

"These expenditures and the extensive mining and coke-producting operations that are to follow will create and maintain two new towns in the coal district as large as Fernie, which now owes its existence to the works carried on by this Company.

"There is a prospective demand, provided we obtain access to the American market, as I shall hereafter mention, for 4,500 tons of coal per day within a year, and in three years we expect to increase our output to about 6,000 tons of coal per day, a large portion of which will be converted into coke in our ovens, and within five years, we expect to have a pay roll of fully $10,000 per day, which will be sufficient to maintain three important industrial centres in the coal district.

"All business men will at once realize how important such a development will be to the country at large, as mining camps are invariably extensive consumers of supplies. Not only will there be direct employment for several thousand additional Canadian working men, but a new and more extensive demand will be created for the products of Canadian factories in the East, and the food supplies from the Western farms and cattle ranches.

"It is only fair to you, however, to state that the present demand of British Columbia for coal and coke would not justify any such expenditures as we propose to make. This is self-evident when I state that the present demand of British Columbia does not exceed 1,000 tons of coal and coke per day, and we cannot expect this demand to increase in the near future, even under most favourable conditions, so as to justify such expenditures.

"In order that we may proceed with the development it will be absolutely necessary to secure access to the American markets by a route that will put us in a position to successfully compete with the coal and coke producers already in the field. If denied access to the American markets except by roundabout routes; if delayed in our operations by legislative obstruction; if prevented in any way from cutting down the cost of production to the narrowest possible margin, our success in the field will be proportionately cramped, and it will be quite impossible to undertake the development now proposed.

"Recognizing, therefore, the necessity of obtaining direct access to the adjacent markets of the United States, an application has been made to Parliament by five of your directors for a charter to build a railway from the coal fields to the boundary, where it is intended to connect with a spur line from Jennings on the Great Northern railway. This is simply an effort to secure entrance by the best possible route to an almost unlimited market for coal and coke, where we must meet the keenest competition, and without this market any large development of these British Columbia coal fields will be practically impossible.

"The fear has been expressed in some quarters that the establishment of railway connection between the Crow's Nest coal fields and the Great Northern railway system will deprive the Canadian mining and smelting industries of a supply of coal and coke, and that the Company may create a shortage in the Canadian supply to benefit American smelting interests. These fears are groundless. From geological reports it appears that there are over 250,000 acres of coal lands in the Crow's Nest country, containing a supply of coal which is conceded by all authorities to be practically exhaustless, it being estimated that there are in this area 20,000,000,000 tons of coal. This would admit of an output of 10,000 tons per day, allowing 300 working days per year, for over 6,000 years. This is entirely independent of the immense coal areas in Alberta and in other parts of British Columbia.

"We are at present prepared to enter into time contracts with the smelters of British Columbia to supply any quantities of coal or coke they may require; but so far as the local supply is concerned, its safety can be best assured by such development of the Crow's Nest mines as will be made possible by the building of the proposed line of railway.

"Successful operation of the mines on a large scale would be impossible if our market were limited to British Columbia, and it were subject to the fluctuations we have experienced this last year.

"With an immense coal and coking industry in operation, turning out from six to ten thousands tons of coal a day, the British Columbia smelters now in operation would close down or open up without notice as often as they might feel inclined, and the change would not be felt. The smelters now in operation on the Canadian side only require about 300 tons of coke per day. If we are restricked as to markets, there will be higher initial cost, risk of suspension through accidents, difficulty in securing labor, and in meeting any variation in the demand.

"Although there is an immense area of coal in the Crow's Nest country that is of the best quality for coking, we should not harbor the delusion that this district has all the coking coal on the continent. There will be competition from the existing sources of supply—from Cokedale, on Puget Sound, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Utah and Colorado. There are also immense coal deposits in Montana, Washington and other places, which may prove, when tested, to be of good cooking quality.

"To enter and hold this market, which means from 5,000 to 6,000 tons of coal per day, the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company must have the best railway facilities available, and that is why it is absolutely necessary to build the proposed spur.

"There is hardly any industry so universally beneficial to a country as coal mining and coke making for export trade. The coal and coke are both brought to the last stage of perfection before being shipped out. All labor is expended on them in the country, and there is nothing further to be done with them except to consume them. Not so with logs, not so with lumber, not so with pulp, with wheat, with wool, and many other products exported. Every dollar that comes into the country in return for coal or coke exports makes the country just that much richer. The farmer, the rancher, the miller, the merchant, and the manuturer, will all profit. There will also be an enormous direct revenue to the British Columbia Government from the royalty that Government is now deriving, a revenue of about $100 a day, from our present operations.

"In addition to the development of the coal and coke industry, the proposed railway will open up a prospect, and an assured prospect, of smelting development, which will prove, from a public standpoint, of the very greatest importance.

"The success of the smelting industry depends upon the ability to assemble the various material essential to profitable smelting at the lowest possible cost, and if the proposed line of railway is built, connecting the Crow's Nest fields with the American railway systems, the balance of advantage will be decidedly in favor of the Canadian side as the place for establishing a large and profitable smelting industry. The Canadian people have but to improve their opportunity, to stand out of the way, and let the good fortune come in.

"In order to illustrate what I have said, permit me to point out how suitable a place Fernie, or some point adjacent thereto, would be for the establishment of a smelting industry. There we have the coke without any charge for hauling, while, to carry it to any smelting point south of the line would involve a hauling charge, as well as an American duty of [illegible] cents per ton. The limestone required is to be found at Fernie, with no expense except the cost of quarrying.

"The lead ores of Southern British Columbia are now seeking a market, which is almost impossible for them to find, and those adjacent to the coal fields could, at a trifling cost for transportation, be laid down at Fernie, or some other convenient point. The dry ores necessary to make workable and profitable mixtures and blends are not at present to be found in British Columbia, but are to be found through the adjacent mining States along the lines and connections of the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific railways; and the ore cars taking the coal and coke from the mines at Fernie to supply the railways and established industries in these states, instead of coming back empty, would, at a low cost for transportation, bring back those dry ores to such a smelter. There is no point south of the boundary line where a smelting industry could so easily or so profitably be established.

"If a smelting industry for Canadian ores were established south of the line, there would be, as above mentioned, the cost of transportation of the coke to the site of the smelting industry, the duty on this coke entering the United States, the cost of transporting the lead ores from British Columbia to the site of the proposed smelter, and the American duties on the lead ores entering the United States, which, upon the quality of ore found in some of the best mines in British Columbia, would probably be about $9 per ton.

"Simply on the terms of transportation there would be the serious handicap of the ore cars bringing down the coke and the ore from British Columbia to a smelter on the American side being compelled to return empty, and this would necessarily entail a proportionately higher freight rate.

"Not the least important factor in the situation is the fear in the minds of American capitalists interested in the mining industry of the West that an export

WILL HUNT FOR MEN IN THE NORTH

Relief Expedition Starts for Franz Josef Land

CAPTAIN SEEKING HIS SON

Captain Stockken Looking for Three Lost Men

London, March 13.—The Duke of Abruzzi's relief expedition left Sandfjord yesterday on board the steamer Capella, commanded by Captain Stockken. The Capella will go direct to Franz Josef Land, on the northern part of which the former Abruzzi expedition made headquarters. The object of the present expedition is to rescue Chief Machinist Stockken, son of the commander of the present expedition, and two Italians, whom the former party were forced to abandon in the early fall, in order to extricate themselves from the ice before the winter.

Professor Angelo Heilprin, of the Philadelphia Geographical Society, in discussing the possible result of the present project, said: "The three men whom the present Abruzzi expedition expects to rescue were lost in a sledge expedition, which struck out north from the eighty-second parallel. With the amount of provisions they carried and the conditions of the weather they may have penetrated as far north as the eighty-third parallel. The chance of finding them on loose ice is very slim, but they may have found their way back to Franz Josef Land, where their party left an abundance of provisions at their head-quarters in anticipation of the possible return of Stockken and his companions.

"If the rescuers do not find the three men at the old headquarters they will continue north in an effort to at least find the bodies of the men and any papers they may have left regarding their possible discoveries. There is little hope of ever finding the men alive."

Professor Heilprin, in speaking of the Peary expedition, of which nothing has been heard since last April, said: "Lieutenant Peary's party, it is thought has penetrated north from the coast of Greenland as far as the eighty-third parallel, only on the opposite side of the globe from that of the Abruzzi party. Although it has been almost a year since we have had any news from Lieutenant Peary, there is little anxiety concerning his welfare, as the relief expedition led by Mrs. Peary, which left here in the early summer, must have reached him in the fall, and the successful return of both is looked for in the summer."

TOOK HIS OWN LIFE

William Payne, While Despondent Shoots Himself to Death

Yesterday morning Mr. Payne, who lived in Ashburnham, committed suicide by shooting himself. The unfortunate man had not been feeling well, and it is supposed that he committed the awful deed while in a despondent mood. Shortly after seven o'clock Mrs. Payne arose and lighted the fire. She was sitting beside the stove when suddenly the report of a gun, discharged in her husband's bedroom, shook the little dwelling. Mrs. Payne ran to the door of the room and found it locked. She opened the front door and summoned Mr. M. Carton, who was passing. That gentleman entered the dwelling house, and, after some difficulty, succeeded in opening the bedroom door. An awful sight was presented. Payne was lying dead upon the bed, with a terrible hole in the front of his neck. His shirt and bed clothes were on fire. Beside him was a double-barreled shot gun smeared with blood, and in his right hand was an iron rod, with a hook on one end, which had enabled him, with little difficulty to shove one of the triggers of the gun as he held it close to his person. The discharged powder had burned and blackened the man's neck and gaping wound, and the charge, passing through the neck, had penetrated the bedstead behind Payne, who, apparently, had been in a sitting posture, with the gun between his legs. Several neighbors, Mr. David Conroy, Mr. Butcher, and others, arrived soon after Mr. Carton, and extinguished the fire caused by the discharge.

William Payne was 48 years of age, and was an Englishman. He came to Canada about twenty-eight years ago, accompanied by his wife, and has resided ever since in this vicinity. He was a laborer, and of recent years had been employed as cellar man at Calcutt's brewery. He was never a strong man, and since Christmas, on account of illness, had been unable to work. His wife proved an untiring helpmate, and through her efforts and the assistance of citizens the needs of the little home were provided for. Payne had for some years been subject to melancholia. He had however, always proved a respectable, inoffensive citizen.

Ross Payne, a son of deceased, is residing in Toronto, and a daughter, Mrs. Hawley, in Norwood. The youngest member of the family, a daughter, resides at home, but has of late, on account of illness, been unable to work.

Will Dickson be Promoted?

A private despatch from Montreal states a rumor is going the rounds of the railroad offices of that city, to the effect that Mr. M. C. Dickson, district passenger agent of the G.T.R. in Toronto, would shortly be promoted to the position of general passenger agent of the Central Vermont Railway. Mr. Dickson, when seen in reference to the above, said: "I know nothing about the matter, and therefore am not in a position to deny or confirm the statement." Mr. Dickson is popular in Peterborough, as well as everywhere else.

BURNED TO DEATH BY AN ANGRY MOB

He was Pursued With Bloodhounds and Captured—Taken From the Jail to the Stake After he had Confessed

Corsicana, Texas, March 13. John Henderson, colored, who brutally assaulted and murdered Mrs. Younger, a farmer's wife living just outside this city, several days ago, was burned to death in the Court House square here, at noon to-day. A written confession of the crime, attested by Justice Roberts, was secured from the prisoner. Five thousand people witnesses the burning, business practically being suspended for a time.

Henderson was captured yesterday after a long chase. He was trailed by bloodhounds from the Younger homestead many miles back and forth across the country, and was finally captured near Hillboro. The officers took him to the latter place and were impelled through fear of mobs to start for Worth. When the train reached Tasca a party of Youngers friends overpowered the guards, train.

He was conveyed across the prairie a distance of 46 miles to Corsicana where he was placed in jail to prevent infuriated citizens from tearing him to pieces. A committee was appointed to see him, and pass on his guilt or innocence. Finally he made a written confession that he had murdered an unknown white lady three miles north of Corsicana on March 6. There was no one present, he said, but himself and the woman's two little children. He said he did not know why he had done it. When it became public that Henderson had confessed, people swarmed around the jail.

It was decided to burn the prisoner at the stake at 2 p.m., but news was received that troops had started from Dallas and the execution was hurried. A railroad rail was driven into the ground in the corner of the Court House square. Boxes and dry timber was pilled around it and saturated with oil.

Just before noon about forty men rushed from the jail across the square to the place where the rail had been planted. In their midst was Henderson, handcuffed. The men formed a circle holding to a chain which surrounded the prisoner to prevent the crowd from tearing him away. The negro was fastened to the rail with wire and chains. Cans of oil were emptied over his clothing and dozens of matches lighted the inflammable material. The fire alarms were rung and the stores of the city were deserted, as the occupants rushed to the square to witness the burning.

Just as the pile was fired, Conway Younger, husband of the murdered woman, rushed at Henderson, and slashed him across the face with a knife. Henderson gave no indication of pain or suffering. He rolled his eyes to get a glimpse of the angry faces which surrounded him, and there was a slight movement of the hands. In ten minutes Henderson was dead. He made no outcry other than an occasional groan.

SOUTH WARD SCHOOL IN BAD SHAPE

Its Sanitary Conditions a Disgrace to the Town.

PLAIN STATEMENT OF FACTS.

The Board of Education are greatly to Blame for the Unsanitary Condition of the Building.

A short time ago there appeared in the Times a letter, complaining of the unsanitary condition of the Public School in the South Ward. The result of the publication of this letter was that several members of the Board of Education visited the school, and pronounced the building free from filth, and in a good sanitary condition. It probably was, at that time, but, we are sorry to say, the present condition of the building is anything but satisfactory. Complaints reached the Times to this effect, and we decided to investigate for ourselves. We sent a representative to the school, and what he saw there does not bear out the statement of the Committee of the Board of Education.

The closets are situated in the basement of the building, and are little else than the ordinary closet pits, the "system" of consuming or drying the matter being a total failure. These pits are supposed to contain nothing but ashes or dust, but an inspection proved that they were like any other common closet vaults, and were vile in the extreme.

Our reporter found the cement floor near the closets covered with water, the walls muggy and wet, and not a particle of toilet paper anywhere in sight. The atmosphere, as may well be imagined, was not the sweetest in the world. Frequently the odor permeates all the rooms above, especially after the vaults have been cleaned, which is done, we are told, three or four times a year.

Is it any wonder, then, that there is a large percentage of sickness amongst the children who attend the school? On Friday and Saturday no less than three cases of diptheria, in three different families, were reported. The little victims were all from the school. Parents fear to let their little ones go to this place, which is not surprising, under the circumstances.

When spoken to by the Times, our energetic Medical Health Officer stated that he believed that matters were not satisfactory in the school from a sanitary standpoint. The plumbing was not as it should be. If the "system" of consuming the contents of the pits was a success, there would be no odor and no disease germs, but it is not.

The duty of the Board of Education is to put the building in a good sanitary condition without an hour's delay, even if the school is to close to allow the work to go on.

A Splendid Showing

We publish to-day a full report of the annual meeting of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company. The most interesting feature of this report is the address of the President, Senator Geo. A. Cox, who deals at length with the proposed railway from the Crow's Nest Coal Fields to the American Boundary. This project has already awakened considerable attention on account of the magnitude of the conflicting interests involved and a statement having the weight of authority is worthy of careful perusal. The leading points in the case are set forth with clearness and the address gives a comprehensive view of the company's aims and prospects.

COL. STEELE WILL RAISE 1,000 MEN

For Service in Empire's Cause in South Africa.

Ottawa, March 12.—Lieut.-Colonel Steele arrived in the city last night. He looks in splendid health, notwithstanding his arduous experiences in South Africa. Colonel Steele confirmed the report that he has been authorized to raise another thousand men in Canada, but preferred not to go into any details until he had seen the Governor-General and the Minister of Militia. He stated, however, that a number of the officers of Strathcona's Horse will be given commissions in the South African Constabulary. Among them are Major Jarvis, Captain Fall, and Sergt.-Major Read, formerly of Port Hope. Major Jarvis has been recommended by Sir Alfred Milner and General Baden-Powell for a majority in the force. So also has Captain Boyd of Toronto.

During his stay here Colonel Steele will arrange for his retirement from the mounted police on superannuation. He has been in that force for twenty-seven years, having gone to the North-West with the first detachment under Major Walsh in 1873.

Asked what he thought of the Boers as fighters, and whether they were treacherous in warfare, the Colonel said: "They are as brave as any body of men could be, and their tactics were admirable. They are fearless fighters, as might be expected from men brought up, as many of them have been, in the open air. Some acts of treachery there undoubtedly were but it would be unfair to condemn the whole of them on account of the faults of a few. In a number of cases also the women displayed great vindictiveness, and sometimes when the British patrols stopped at a farmhouse distracted the attention of the men by conversation and otherwise while Boers in places of concealment shot them down."

A SCIENTIFIC PARTY FOR NORTH ATLANTIC

Canadian Scientist Arranging for a Summer Trip

Cambridge, Mass., March 11.—Dr. R. A. Daily, of the Department of Geology and Geography, at Harvard University and a graduate of Victoria University, Ontario, is arranging to take a geological and geographical excursion party to the North Atlantic next summer.

A steamer of about 1,000 tons, specially adapted for ice navigation, and capable of accommodating 60 men will leave Boston on or about June 26 and return to the same point about September 20. The main object of the voyage will be to offer to the members of the excursion party opportunity of studying the volcanic cones and lava-fields, the geysers, ice-caves and glaciers of Iceland, the fiords and glaciers of the west coast of Greenland and the mountains and fiords of Northern Labrador. Botanists, zoologists, ornithologists, mineralogists and those interested in other branches of natural history may pursue independent studies.

A HUNTING PARTY.

A hunting party may also take part in the expedition; it will be landed for a fortnight or three weeks in Greenland and for about the same period in Labrador.

Explantory lectures on the regions visited will be given from time to time by the leader of the excursion, who will also act as guide on the Labrador coast where he spent the summer of 1900. It is expected that in Greenland and Iceland, specialists on the geology and physical georgraphy of these countries will lead the party. Wherever possible the attempt will be made to increase the stock of existing information concerning the three regions.

Dr. Daly's party, which is now being made up, may include several Canadians. The excursion is in the nature of a travelling summer school, and is a suggestive innovation in up-to-date American college methods. Each member of the party pays an inclusive fee of $500 for the expenses of the trip.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

REPUBLIC OR EMPIRE.

Sir Charles Dilke has written an article upon the King of England, for the North American Review. His selection by the editor, he remarks, is thus far curious, that he is one of the least monarchic and the most republican in inclination of the British members of Parliament. At the same time, he adds, he is "a practical politician," and he cannot but feel that "in the last quarter of a century the growth of the Empire of India and of the colonies has withdrawn the adoption of republican institutions from practical politics. The difficulty of the adoption of federal forms in the case of an Empire so dispersed and representing forms of civilization so diverse, is immense."

Sir Charles Dilke's intelligent preference for republican government, his sincere conviction of the fundamental republican idea, is not to be questioned. But he believes that to bring diverse and distant colonies and dependencies within the working of a parliamentary constitution is impossible, "and the alternative means of keeping together the empire is rather an increase than a diminution of the status of the King."

Here is the deliberate judgment of an observant and thoughtful statesman who has always been and still is a firm believer in republican principles, and who would even now, if the domestic policy of Great Britain alone were concerned, labor to restrain the monarchical authority. But to hold a scattered Empire together, he can see no way but to increase the power of the King, precisely as we in the United States here have been increasing, beyond all our earlier conceptions, the power of the President.

The difference is that England has a monarchical government that can be applied to the control of an Empire without a fundamental change, we have a republican constitution that cannot be so applied without development in the direction of monarchy. If the expansion of the British Empire excludes the idea of a republic, how long can the American republic withstand imperial expansion? Either the Republic or the Empire must fail. They are not compatible.

MORE ABOUT BEET SUGAR.

Discussing the Ontario beet sugar bounty and the prospects of the industry in Canada, the Michigan Sugar Beet, published at Bay City, Mich., says:—

"The Canadian farmer should be a good beet grower for he has the reputation of being a successful root grower, and will take naturally to the crop. The farmer will find the beet crop unattended by speculation. In the case of corn or wheat his crop is sold three or four times over by the speculators before it is harvested and he is obliged to take whatever is offered, but in the case of sugar beets he contracts for the price before he buys his seed, and the more intelligently he grows his crop the greater his profits. Farmers take very little risk, as a failure in the crop is distributed among so many people, but if a factory is started and not continued the capitalist drops a quarter of a million dollars."

"To induce capital to invest the people must be broad minded. Canada pays sixteen millions of dollars a year to foriegn countries for sugar. They have the land to grow beets as there is nothing so far-reaching in its effects as a sugar beet factory, the farmers should not be slow in contracting for the contracted tonnage and should bear in mind that the manufacturer and the farmers are equal partners in this industry, and must work hand in hand. Already this journal is in correspondence with several localities across the border that are anxious for factories to locate in their midst and we believe that the province will have ten factories in half that many years."

THE WHITE PLAGUE.

The rapid spread of consumption throughout the country has alarmed the general public, and we have conferences at which the subject is treated academically. Canadians have always thought they had the finest country in the world, and, as a fact, medical men in England advise their patients to come out to the Dominin for improvement and cure. The disease, however, spreads, and energetic steps are necessary. Various recommendations have been made, all of them good in their way, though perhaps in some cases, somewhat impracticable. Proper ventilation in the home, exercise, care in avoiding contact with the disease, the disposition of sputa and the like—these are among the hints which have been offered by a medical conference. One of the reasons for the spread of the disease is the inability of our poor to avail themselves of change of scene. A poor man is attacked with tuberculosis. He must work for the maintenance of wife and children, until he can't work any more. And then he must lie down in his humble home and die. If it be the wife who is attacked, there is a lingering illness; there is the death and the spread of the disease among other members of the family. The rich can travel; can enjoy high altitudes; can experience all the assuagements possible in connection with the disease. It is among the poor that consumption is prevalent, and their case is pitiable. The suggestion has been made that in each province there should be a series of consumptive hospitals provided for the poor—hospitals on the cottage plan, favorably situated, to which the patients could be taken. Some years ago this idea was advocated, but little of a favorable nature resulted. In Quebec private individuals errected a small hospital at Ste. Agathe, while in Ontario something has been done—a beginning made. The hospitals, however should be absolutely free, avowedly provided for the poor. Our provincial governments could put their hand to no better work. The free hospital would not extirpate consumption, but it would mitigate the horrors of the disease, it would prevent its spread largely, and it would afford a solace amid the agonies of a wasteful disease which is lacking in the homes of the poor, where poverty is accentuated when one of the family becomes a burden upon the exertions and the patience of the rest. The free consumptive hospital would be an incalculable boon. In the incipient stage of the disease it would mean cure to the many who are under present conditions doomed to death; in the last stages it would afford scientific treatment which is impossible amid sordid surroundings. This matter should be agitated. It is more important than politics, seeing that the dreaded scourge is carrying off our best and fairest by the thousand—and, this, too, in a land which should produce the most virile race on earth.

THE EXAMINER FIRE

Meeting of the Board of Directors on Monday Last

At a meeting of the directors of the Peterborough Examiner Printing Company, held Monday, the decision, was arrived at to close out the business of the Company. The plant and premises having been completely wiped out by the fire of Saturday morning led to this dicision. The President of the Company, Hon. J. R. Stratton, has assumed all its obligations, and will continue the publication of the Daily Examiner and the Weekly Examiner, and will place an entirely new plant as rapidly as orders can be filled. The loss by fire was fully what was reported, and the representatives of the insurance companies agreed upon a settlement in full.

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. One agent sold 68 in one day. Sample and terms 25 cts (non free); four for 80 cts; $1.75 per dozen; 25 for $3.25; 50 for $6.00; 100 for $11.00 Write to day for a dozen and make money. HISTORICAL.

Bunker Hill monument was built during the years 1826-1812. LaFayette attended the laying of the corner stone and President Tyler the official dedication, while Webster furnished the oration for both occasions. In the lodge at the base is Dexter's marble statue of General Warren, and in 1881 a bronze statue of Colonel Prescott was raised, showing the brave soldier in a seersucker coat and a broad farmer's hat with drawn sword, as when warning his eager men, "Don't fire until you see the whites of their eyes."

Longfellow's house in Brattle street, Cambridge, is the most famous private house in America (Mt. Vernon being public). It is a comfortable mansion and was built in 1759, being deserted by Colonel Vassall, its Tory master, in 1775, and occupied by Washington as headquarters during the eight months of the siege of Boston. Longfellow came here as a boarder in 1837. He came possessed of the house later and died there in 1882. Washington's office and Longfellow's study were in the room of the first floor to the right of the door, the officers' room and library being back of it, and th edrawing-room on the other side of the front door.

The First Parish Church, Roxbury, situated in Eliot square, is an excellent and well-preserved specimen of Puritan architecture, dating from 1 04. The society originated in 1632, and for many years had for its pastor the gentle John Eliot, who gave most of his time to preaching to the Indians and translating the Bible into their language. After nearly two centuries of Orthodoxy, the parish became Unitarian, and Dr. George Putnam led it from 1830 to 1876. In 1775-76 the steeple on this site served as a signal station for the American army, and the church became the target for cannon shot from the British lines.

THE FINGER NAILS.

Long nails never indicate such great physical strength as short, broad ones.

Very long finger-nailed persons are apt to have delicate chests and lungs.

Long nails very wide at the top and bluish in appearance denote bad circulation. Long-nailed men and women are less critical and more impressionable than those with short nails.

Long nails indicate ideality and an artistic temperament.

Long-nailed people are very apt to be visionary and hate to face disagreeable facts.

They judge even themselves severely.

Short-nailed women never give up an argument.

A keen sense of humor accompanies short nails.

Short-nailed persons make good critics; they are sharper and more logical than long-nailed individuals.

Short nails, thin and flat at the base, indicate a weak action of the heart.

Short nails very flat and sunken, as it were, into the flesh at the base are a sign of diseased nerves.

Short nails very flat and inclined to curve out or lift up at the edges are the forerunners of paralysis.

Don't scoff at the idea that pressing the ends of the fingers gently will make them assume the shape of the nails, for it is a fact.

Don't use nail bleaches too generously, and don't fail to be stingy of rogue and powder. Let your nails be beautiful, with no visible signs of the manicuring that keeps them pink and lovely.

Don't fancy that the tiny white specks that come on the nails can be easily removed. The improper use of steel manicure instruments generally causes them, although they are sometimes the result of an over-supply of lime in the system.

LIVE ONE HUNDRED YEAR

These are Sir John Sawyer's nineteen rules for living 100 years:

1. Eight hours' sleep.
2. Sleep on your right side.
3. Keep your bedroom window open all night.
4. Have a mat to your bedroom door.
5. Do not have your bedstead against the wall.
6. No cold water in the morning, but a bath at the temperature of the body.
7. Exercise before breakfast.
8. Eat little meat and see that it is well cooked.
9. (For adults) Drink no milk.
10. Eat plenty of fat to feed the cells which destroy disease germs.
11. Avoid intoxicants, which destroy those cells.
12. Daily exercise in the open air.
13. Allow no pet animals in your living-rooms.
14. Live in the country if you can.
15. Watch the three D's—drinking water, damp, drains.
16. Have change of occupation.
17. Take frequent and short holidays.
18. Limit your ambition.
19. Keep your temper.

BACHELOR REFLECTIONS

Determination is obstinacy that succeeds.

It is only a very foolish woman that can make a smart man a fool.

If you can once wake a woman's curiosity you can make her do anything for you that you want.

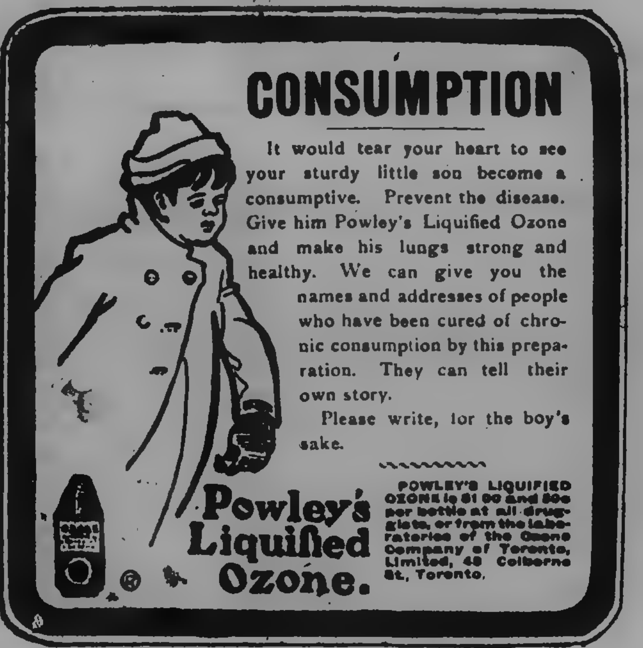
When a woman has the same hired girl a year the other women say she has "rare executive ability."

Women will never take much real interest in politics as long as the campaign comes at the same time the magazines are all printing pictures of the styles that are going to be worn next winter.

Assist Nature.

You have been told to "hitch your wagon to a star"—that Nature will assist you. That's all right. There are times, however, when you should assist Nature, and the spring is one of these times.

Nature is now undertaking to cleanse your system—if you take Hood's Sarsaparilla the undertaking will be successful, and your complexion bright and clear.



CONSUMPTION

It would tear your heart to see your sturdy little son become a consumptive. Prevent the disease. Give him Powley's Liquified Ozone and make his lungs strong and healthy. We can give you the names and addresses of people who have been cured of chronic consumption by this preparation. They can tell their own story.

Please write, for the boy's sake.

POWLEY'S LIQUIFIED OZONE is $1 00 and 50c per bottle at all druggists, or from the laboratories of the Ozone Company of Toronto, Limited, 48 Colborne St., Toronto.

MAGELLAN'S GIANTS

Dr. Cook Gives Some Information Regarding This Race.

Myth and superstition are long lived But they are distinct foes to human progress. Therefore we may hope that the voyage of the Belgica, as chronicled by Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the only American aboard, may result in permanently exploding one especially vigorous myth. The Belgica did not succeed in discovering the South Pole, but it practically rediscovered the Straits of Magellan, which run between Patagonia and Terra del Fuego. Dr. Cook has given us a fund of information about these territories that border on the Straits. He has met the inhabitants face to face. He has told us positively that they are not giants, although they are, perhaps, the tallest races on earth. Their average height he places at six feet. A few fall below that. A few rise to six or seven inches above. Now, the legend that these races were of an almost superhuman stature, though repeatedly denied by occasional travellers, has persistently survived in the minds of the vulgar ever since Magellan himself, the discoverer of the Straits, gave it birth.

Magellan, it will be remembered, describes the Patagonians as "so tall that the tallest of us came up only to their waists." It is true that the Portugese are not a tall race. Nevertheless, Magellan's words would indicate that the average height of the Patagonians must have been some nine feet. Later travellers of the Middle Ages improved upon Magellan. Sebald de Wolf, who visited Patagonia in 1598, describes the inhabitants as being ten or eleven feet high, and so strong that they could easily tear up by the roots trees of a span in diameter.

Then came more moderate statisticians. Byron, in 1764, says that he saw a chief not less than seven feet high, and others nearly as tall. Byron was merely guessing. It was Captain Wallis in 1766, who first put the Patagonians to the test of actual measurement. He found a few who were six feet seven inches in height, but the average stature was only from five feet ten inches to six feet. Captain Wallis and Dr. Cook are in suvstantial agreement.

The belief that giants formerly inhabited this globe and that they still survive in remote and inaccessible regions has been fostered in Christendom by the statement in Genesis, "There were giants on the earth in those days." But many Bibilical students are inclined to accept the interpretation of St. Chrysostom:—"I think that those in Scripture called giants are not of any unusual kind of men for shape or feature, but such as were heroical, strong and warlike.'

Deuteronomy describes the bedstead of Og, King of Bashan, as nine cubits in length and four in breadth. A cubit was about eighteen inches. Hence the bedstead was thirteen and a half feet long. But it is quite possible that Og used a bedstead not in proportion to his actual size, but in proportion to his fancied importance.

In which connection one may recall the story of Alexander the Great. In one of his Asian expeditions he caused to be made and left behind him a suit of armor of huge proportions, in order to induce a belief among the people he had conquered that he was of immense size.

An explanation of this sort would not, however, have suited the ancient rabbinical and Arabian writers. They tell delightful stories of how Og survived the Deluge by wading, the waters reaching no higher than his knees. The only inconvenience he experienced during the flood was that he was reduced to a fish diet, his staple food consisting of whales, which he roasted on the disc of the sun.

Legend aside, it is more than probable that the men of today are equal, and probably superior, in stature to the ancients.

The Greeks and Romans were undoubtedly of small size. The helmets and sword hilts that have come down to us from the heroic ages could not be used by the majority of soldiers of the present European nations. Ancient rings also are generally too small for modern fingers.

But the classic writers give testimony enough on this point. Caesar, speaking of the Gauls, says:—"Our shortness of stature, in comparison with the great size of their bodies, is generally a subject of such contempt to the men of Gaul." Tacitus also descrifed the Germans as of robust form and of great stature, and Strabo says that he had seen Britons at Rome who were half a foot taller than the tallest Italians. Yet there is no proof that the men of these nations were any larger in ancient times than they are now. On the contrary, the graves and barrows tell a different story. The remains are usually under the average height of men of the present day. It is the same with the Egyptian mummies.

To have a spider on you is a sign of good luck.

It is very unlucky to kill a lady bug.

To walk under a ladder portends disappointment.

If a young lady loses her garter it shows a truant lover.

If you sing before breakfast you will cry before night.

To return after starting from home signifies bad luck. To avert it, return three times.

It is a lucky sign to have crickets in the house.

MIND VS MATTER

Professor Countemfast Gives His Opinion on the Subject.

Professor Countemfast is a small man with a large mentality. His wife is a tall woman, who believes in the power of matter over mind. The professor had been absorbed the whole evening in a profound paper on the mental characteristics of people who were unhappily married. Suddenly looking up, he remarked:

"My dear, are you aware of the fact that a man's brain weighs about three and a half pounds?"

"Humph! You've just read that, haven't you?"

"Er—er—why—er—oh! yes; certainly ,of course."

"Well, that article says a woman's brain is not so heavy, eh?"

"Er—er—yes, it certainly does, but"—

"And it also states that a woman's brain is of much finer quality, doesn't it?"

"Eer—er—well, yes; you are quite right, my dear."

"Now, listen to me. Just concentrate your three-and-a-half-pound brain on that scuttle and figure out how much it will weigh after you bring it full of coal from the cellar."

The professor meekly bowed his great head, and, as he departed for the lower regions in search of abstract information, he murmured:

"The man who thinks that mind is superior to matter is an illustrious idiot."

One way of Settling It.

The other evening as a muscular person was passing a house a lady who stood at the gate called out to him: "Sir, I appeal to you for protection!"

"What's the matter?" he asked, as he stopped short.

"There's a man in the house, and he won't go out of doors though I have ordered him to."

"He won't eh? We'll see about that." Thereupon the man gave the woman his coat to hold and sailed into the house. He found a man at the supper table and took him by the neck and remarked: "Nice style of brute you are, eh! Come out o' this or I'll break every bone in your body."

The man fought, and it was not till a chair had been broken and the table upset that he was hauled out of doors by the legs and given a fling through the gates.

"Now, then, you brass-faced old tramp, you move on or I'll finish you."

"Tramp! Tramp!" shouted the victim as he got up. "I'm no tramp! I own this property and live in this house!"

"You do?"

"Yes, that's my wife holding your coat."

"Thunder!" whispered the muscular man as he gazed from one to the other and realized that it was the wife's method of finishing a row she had been having with her husband. And then he made a grab for his coat and disappeared into the darkness.

He Knew the Real Thing.

They had just got married and were starting on their honeymoon. The bride had got the man she loved, and she didn't care who saw her put her head on his shoulder. The bridegroom had got a farm with his wife, and if he wanted to squeeze her hand hard or feed her with sweets, whose business was it? A little old man sat opposite the couple, and he looked at them so often that the young husband finally explained:

"We've just got married."

"I knowed it all the time," chuckled the other.

"And we can't help it, you know."

"No, you can't; I'll be blowed if you can!"

"I presume it all seems very silly to an old man like you?"

"Does it? Does it?" cackled the old fellow. "Well, I can tell you it does not, then. I've been there three times over, and now I'm on my way to marry a fourth. Silly? Why, children, it's paradise boiled down!"—London Answers.

Best Buy in British Columbia

Big Four Con. G. M. Co.
LIMITED

Mines one mile west of Rossland, directly west of the Le Roi No. 1 and Le Roi No. 2. Four properties. All Crown granted.

THE LeRoi No. 1 once sold for 2 cents and went to $45 per share; and the L Roi No. 2 £5 shares went to £23, or $110 per share in a few months.

Our memorandum of association contains a provision, provided by Section 56 of the Companies Act, 1897, that the shares are issued as Fully Paid Up and Non Assessable, and that no further liability beyond the amount actually paid upon shares shall attach to the holders thereof. Capital $250,000.

Our properties are now proved (both above and below ground) to have the same continuous ore veins as the LeRoi Companies, and have the same identical ore and our shares are well worth TWENTY FIVE CENTS now, and will surely bring fifty cents. And we can, with a very small capital, develop our property to such an extent that it can also be placed on the London market, where it belongs—and small investors will make a good profit by buying now.

Our assays have averaged from $5 to $800 in gold, copper and silver and the shipping facilities are the best. The Great Northern Railway runs three times through the ground, three smelters close at hand, and reduced charges of $4.50 per ton for shipping and smelting, and we are now getting ready to start shipping ore.

Irrespective of the merits of the BIG FOUR, we have now over 570,000 shares in our treasury and free from all incumbrance. We are amongst the few local companies that has complied with the law in every particular, and we venture to say have

Thus the management has no regrets to offer, and you by subscribing will have none.

200 Feet More of Tunnel Work Now Under Way.

And it is too bad that we should suffer from the wrong doing of others, but we have, or this would never have to be advertised, and we propose, in the future as we have in the past, to do well and fear no ill. Let them do better who like.

Shares to be had only at the company's office, opposite New Court House, Columbia Avenue, Rossland, B. C., P. O. Box 545.

LARGE ORE BODY NOW IN SIGHT. This is the last opportunity to buy our treasury shares for development purposes, and stock certificates will be sent at the following sacrifice prices: 200 shares for $20; 500 shares for $45; 1000 hares for $80, and 2000 shares for $150. Send in your orders at once.

The Aristos
GOLD MINING CO.

Owning Big Horn Mountain Tunnel and Veneta Vein, 200 acres situated on the Western Slope of Pike's Peak, in the famous Cripple Creek Gold Mining District.

THE SAFEST OFFER EVER MADE TO INVESTORS.

It is printed on each certificate that subscribers to the above Preferred Shares will be entitled to receive in Dividends the full amount of money invested, before other stockholders receive any returns, signed by the President of the Company.

This district produced more Gold in 1900 than any other in the United States

This property consists of 3000 by 3000 feet, or 200 acres, of gold land. The mine has been worked. The feature of this mine is the Veneta Vein, 30 to 40 feet in width, and is certainly one of the strongest veins in this famous district. There are some fifteen openings on this vein, the ore from which assays in gold from $12 to $100 per ton. The property is advantageously located for development by tunnel, which will make it possible to produce an enormous amount of ore daily, the quantity varying from 200 to 500 tons per day. The development by TUNNELING is the most economical and advantageous manner of working this property.

At a distance of 800 feet the Tunnel will intersect the Veneta Vein at a depth of about 680 feet, and will also intersect several other veins. The tunnel will cut the Big Horn Mountain 2100 feet deep, and will give this company 2,000,000 tons of ore, worth over $20 per ton.

The new railroad, now practically completed from Colorado Springs, called the Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek road, passes within 2000 feet of this Tunnel

Adjoining this property is the Colorado Springs TUNNEL Company. In this property at a depth of 400 feet, the Veneta Vein was cut. At this point the vein was fully 20 feet in width, and its value from $20 to $1000 per ton.

There are already in operation mills and smelters sufficient to treat the output of this property, which gives at once cash returns.

Capital Stock $1,000,000. Par Value $1.00 Per Share. 100,000 Shares Preferred Stock at 25c. Per Share.

In buying this stock the purchaser owns a direct title in the Company's property. This Company offers you no watered stock, but a legitimate high-grade gold-mining investment in the Cripple Creek District.

The above offer of Preferred Dividends is an assurance of early returns. After additional machinery is erected, this property will be earning dividends almost equal to its Capital Stock.

Probably the Last

The Rev. A. W. McKenzie, of Lakefield, will read a paper on "Charles Kingsley" at the next meeting of the Forthnightly Club, which will be held in the Y.M.C.A. on Tuesday evening, March 19th, at 8. o'clock. Mr. McKenzie's paper is sure to be very interesting, and as this will probably be the last Forthnightly Club meeting for this season, it is hoped there will be a good attendance.

Oh, Boys!

We are now serving a 15c oyster stew for the balance of season. Also, all short orders promptly executed. Open night and day. WALTER BATES opposite Oriental

I. O. O. F. Notes

Peterborough Lodge, No. 111, I.O.O.F., expects to be visited on Thursday evening, March 14, by several members of the lodges of Pontypool, Havelock, and Norwood.

Several condidates are expected from these lodges to receive the three degrees, which will no doubt be conferred in the usual excellent style, for which Peterborough Lodge is noted.

A profitable and pleasant time is anticipated.

Treasure Returned

The Toronto News says:—Some years ago William Udy and George Gyar, while digging an excavation for a cellar in the village of Bridgenorth, in Peterborough county, came across a small package, which, on being opened, was shown to contain gold coin to the value of about $325. The place had formerly been occupied by an old woman, who was reported to be a miser. The treasure was handed over to the Crown, but as no claimant has appeared, the Government has returned the money to the discoverers.

Miss Carson in Town

Miss Carson, formerly of Christodora House, New York City, now travelling Secretary for the Dominion Young Women's Christian Association, will visit Peterborough Association for about ten days, coming on Saturday, 16th inst. Miss Carson is thoroughly interested and well informed along the lines of Association work. The officers of the Association are anxious that the work will profit in every department, and in order to do this they must have the hearty co-operation of all women interested in the work. Further notice will be given of the meetings to be held during Miss Carson's stay amongst us.

LABOR MEETING

A Mass Meeting of Citizens will be held in the opera house March 15th. Addresses on Labor Organizations and Public Ownership will be given by Ralph Smith, M. P, for Vancouver and President Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, and A W. Puttee, M. P. Labor member for Winnipeg. All workingmen are invited to be present

Accident in Ashburnham

John Archer, employed in the Dickson Co.'s sawmill in Ashburnham, received serious injury while at work yesterday. He was piling heavy two-inch plank on the mill platform. In some way the pile slipped and Archer was caught by a falling mass of it and pinned down. He was found by Mr. C. B. McAllister, who assisted in extricating him. Dr. Bradd was sent for and decided that he should be removed to Nicholls Hospital which was done. The accident happened during noon hour, when Archer was alone at the mill.

An examination at the hospital showed the man to have sustained a severe scalp wound. No fractures of any kind are reported, although it may be possible that he has sustained internal injuries Under proper medical care, he is doing as well as could be expected.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

The season of the spring poet is with us again.

—There is a great scarcity of houses in Lindsay.

—Lindsay is about to secure an isolation hospital

—There will be a brisk boom in building this year in town.

—A crossed electric wire was the cause of a fire alarm being sounded yesterday.

Humors feed on humors—the sooner you get rid of them the better—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the medicine to take.

—Mr. Geo. K. Martin slipped on the pavement on George St. on Tuesday, and sprained his left ankle.

—Rev. J. McKee McLellan, of Keene, gave the address last night at St John's upon the subject "Christ and our Life of Work."

—One of Ashburnham's most popular young ladies gave a skating party Tuesday evening to the members of the A. T. C., which was very much enjoyed.

—A special meeting of Landsdowne Lodge, No. 25, S.O.E., was held last night when final arrangements for the funeral of their late brother, Wm. Payne, were made.

—On Monday night, March 18th, a concert will be given in the opera house under the direction of Miss Lillian Simons, entitled "The Maid of Mount Shannon. As former entertainments given by Miss Simons have always been crowned with success it is expected that all who possibly can will attend. It is under the auspices of the T. A.S.

MALT BREAKFAST FOOD

THE FAVORITE DISH OF THE CHILDREN

THEY ALL LOVE IT

Once tried, Malt Breakfast Food quickly becomes the favorite grain food with children; they all love it and ask for more.

Tests and experiments carefully conducted by physicians, prove that Malt Breakfast Food will keep the growing child in perfect health and strength, fully nourished, and stomach and bowels in perfect condition. For breakfast and supper, no other food can compare with it for children. Malt Breakfast Food is especially recommended for young children after weaning; mothers have found it of great value at this stage of the child's life.

Malt Breakfast Food partially cooked and predigested is the true food for weak stomachs of young and old; it is retained and absorbed when other foods are rejected. Do not fail to give it a trial; one package will make from twenty-five to thirty meals for an ordinary person. You can buy it from your Grocer.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. Zufelt, of the Kingston Dairy School, was in town yesterday.

Mrs. R. P. Gough, of Toronto, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. H. LeBrun.

Mrs. Wm. Cottingham is the guest of Mrs. S. Cottingham, 488 Park-st.

Lt.-Col. Wm. McLean, of Port Hope, and Captain Winslow, of Millbrook, officers of the Durham Field Battery, were in town yesterday.

Mr. Edward Gledhill, Toronto, is registered at the Snowden. Mr. Gledhill is an old newspaper man, and naturally turned his steps towards the Times office during his siesta.

DEPUTATIONS TO TORONTO

The Warden and County Council, the Mayor and a Number of Aldermen

Warden Fitzgerald and the members of the County Council, together with Mr. W. Harrison, representing Peterborough Board of Trade, left for Toronto yesterday morning to present to the Government a memorial in regard to the Norwood-Apsley Railway. The above deputation was followed by His Worship Mayor Denne, Aldermen Roger, Rush, Best and Sawers, who will also interview the Government on a matter of municipal importance. Mr. E. B. Edwards, town solicitor, accompanied the morning deputation. The Town and County Councils will present petitions praying for an act to confirm by-laws passed by Peterborough and Ashburnham Councils, fixing the assessment of the Dickson Company's property, purchased by the Chicago Cereal Company.

Gratefully Acknowledged

To Court Chemong, 530, I. O. F.: Brethern,—On behalf of my mother and her family, I desire to offer my sincere thanks to my brother Foresters for their kindness during our bereavement, and also to the Supreme Court for the very prompt manner in which they paid the endowment of $1,000 on the life of my late lamented father. Wishing you every prosperity in your noble work,

A SENSIBLE SUMMER

A Way to Obtain the Greatest Benefit for the Least Money

A little woman went to a certain Chautauqua resort last summer, and experienced a most economical and cheerful way of living. She was at that time in a debilitated condition with poor digestion, which made it imperative that she have the right kind of food and yet such that was nourishing and strengthening, "so I took an equipment of fresh, crisp Grape-Nuts. During that summer I lived on Grape-Nuts with a little cream or milk, and some ripe fruit such as I could procure.

Many meals were made of delicious Grape-Nuts alone. I experienced a peculiar clearness of intellect, and a bodily endurance never known before on the old time diet of meat, biscuits, butter, etc. It was a continual delight, the healthy way of living combined with simplicity, economy, and the highest utility, incuring no restaurant or board bill, and returning, at the end of the summer, with money in my pocket, realizing that I had lived sumptuously every day, for I had lived on the most perfect food known, and was renewed in health, strength and mental power, and had acquired a complexion so clear and fresh tinted, that I was termed a picture of health, and felt myself to be a happy woman."

KEENE.

One of the best and most appreciated sacred concerts that has ever been held in Keene, was that of which the Presbyterian church there was the scene on Monday evening. The artists were Miss E. Madie Whitney, soloist; Miss Nellie Renwick, reciter; Miss Lottie Bell, violinist, and Miss Bryce, soloist, together with the excellent church choir. The event merited a large attendance. Those who were not there missed a great treat.

The church choir was in excellent form and were assisted by one or two extra voices. Miss Whitney's selections were simply grand. She has a wonderful voice, well trained, and under perfect control, and in the song "Daddy," could hardly be surpassed. Miss Nellie Renwick's recitations were greatly enjoyed, her "One Niche Higher," being exceptionally fine. Miss Lottie Bell evinced perfect control of the violin, and in her last selection, Mendelsshon's "Song Without Words," excelled anything of the kind ever given in Keene. Miss Bryce captivated the audience with her delightful solos, accompanied by Miss Bell, on the violin.

KEENE DEFEATED

A friendly game of hockey was played at Keene Monday night between the Lakefield and Keene hockey teams, the game resulting in a victory for the visitors by a score of 9 to 7. This adds one more to the continuous list of defeats of the Keene hockey team, they having lost every match played this season. It is to be hoped that they will wind up the year be defeating Lakefield in Lakefield Friday night. The referee was Mr. O. A. Langley, of Lakefield, who no doubt meant well but found the game too fast for him at times. However, he did his best and one cannot blame him although he did not see all the off-sides. The midget coverpoint on the visiting team was a very strong man for his team, being too small to be hit and too quick on his feet to be upset. The main feature of the game was the individual play, very little combination being played

The teams are as follows:—

Lakefield—Dunne, goal; Murdoch, point; Redpath, cover point; Redpath, Blomfield, Blomfield, Watson, forwards.

Keene—C. Fife, goal; J. Quinn, point; Weir, cover point; Laing, Walsh, H. Quinn, V. McCarthy, forwards.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES

HOCKEY.

This evening between 8 and 9 o'clock a return match will be played between the Biffs and the Niffs, two popular teams composed of young ladies of the town. The score at the previous game was 6—3 in favor of the Niffs and the contest to-night is expected to be a close one.

OUR FIRE FIGHTERS

A Complimentary Letter to the Fire Brigade From Hon. J. R. Stratton

The following communication in acknowledgement of services rendered, has been received by Mr. Thos. Rutherford, Chief of the Fire Brigade, Peterborough: Thomas Rutherford, Esq., Chief of the Fire Brigade, Peterborough:

Dear Sir,—I wish to recognize most heartily the efficent service your brigade rendered in their heroic effort to save the Examiner establishment from the effects of fire this morning, and, although your efforts were not successful, I wish to say that nothing was left undone by any member of the brigade to do all that was possible in preventing the spread of the fire.

In very partial appreciation of the work you have done, I beg to enclose herewith my cheque for $25, to be applied to the funds of the brigade.

Yours very sincerely.

duty may be put upon ores by the Canadian Government, and this would cripple any smelting industry established on the American side dependent upon Canadian ores as its source of supply.

"That this is not simple theory, but the mature judgment of practical smelting men, is evidenced by the fact that we have the most positive assurances from a smelting man of large capital and experience that if we obtain the proposed railway connection he will at once commence the erection of a large smelting plant in British Columbia adjacent to the coal fields; and we have assurances scarcely less definite, from others, of the establishment of three or four smelting industries at other suitable points in Southern British Columbia, provided the proposed road is built.

"The prospect, therefore, for Southern British Columbia would appear to be exceedingly bright. Once the charter for the railway is assured, the construction of the coke ovens, the building of the homes for the miners, and the virtual establishment of two new towns in Southern British Columbia will await only the opening of the season. Scarce more time will elapse, from the assurances we now have, before more than one large smelting industry will be put under way, and hundreds of thousands of dollars will be invested in developing this important industry in that country.

"With improved transportation facilities, as well as the improved smelting facilities which would be secured, a smelter could secure freight charges and give rates for treatment that are now impossible.

"It is hardly necessary to dwell at length on the resultant benefits to mining and other enterprises in British Columbia. These benefits are self-evident.

"In every lead mine there are masses of ores that will not pay at the present rate for treatment; in every camp there are propositions and mines just too lean to tempt operators or investors. Every dollar taken off the charge for treatment means thousands of tons more of ore available and proportionately swells the pay rolls of every camp. Every dollar reduction in smelter charges widens the pay streak of every mine, and brings new mines within the paying class.

"It would be a great misfortune to British Columbia and to the Dominion at large if this opportunity should be lost through the failure to secure adequate means of transportation. There are rival projects south of the boundary. Immense coal areas in the States of Washington and Montana are in process of development, and if the parties interested in these properties once secure possession and control of the market in these states for coal and coke, I fear the coal and coke of British Columbia will stand a very poor chance of ever taking it from them.

"The promoters of this railway ask no cash bonus or land grant of any kind; they simply desire the opportunity of expending their own money to construct a railway which will be of great public benefit.

"We now have a prospect of building up a city as large as Butte in the Crow's Nest coal district and I cannot think it possible that either the Parliament of Canada or the Legislature of British Columbia will place any barrier in the way of the industrial development of our country, or will adopt a course which may delay that development half a century. I therefore look forward with confidence to a charter being granted; and, this being done, the development which I have outlined will be at once proceeded with; but unless the charter is granted, the development outlined cannot be undertaken."

Mr. Elias Rogers, Managing Director, gave an interesting address detailing the last year's operations of the company. The usual formal resolutions were adopted, and all the members of the Board were re-elected for the ensuing year.

A THRILLING STORY.

The first Canadian to win the Victoria Cross was Sergt. Arthur Herbert Lindsay Richardson, who has relatives living in Peterborough and neighborhood. The winning of the cross is one of the most thrilling escapades in the war. The story of the gallant deed is just coming to light.

At Walverspruit, near Standerton, on the 5th of July last, 38 members of Strathcona's Corps were pursuing some Boers. Before proceeding very far they found themselves in an ambush, with 200 of the enemy on two sides of them at uncomfortable close quarters of 300 yards. Hopelessly outnumbered there was nothing for the small party to do but fly back to camp and shelter. They wheeled round and were off, but Corp. McArthur, wounded, was left behind. Sergt. Richardson noticed this and rode back alone to aid his comrade. He dismounted and lifted the wounded man to his horse. The Boers were quite close, and, felt sure of capturing him. "Throw up your hands!" they said. For answer Sergt. Richardson jumped on his horse and galloped off.

A volley of bullets whistled past him as he did so, and the Boers came out of their hiding and pursued the flying man.

Richardson rode straight for camp, but a barbed wire fence crossed his path, and it was impossible for the horse, with its double load, to jump it. Turning his horse sharply, Richardson rode by the side of the fence with the object of finding a gap. The Boers were now gaining rapidly and the foremost of the party was only 100 yards behind. Others came up, and a continuous fire was directed at Richardson. After racing for 300 or 400 yards the sergeant came to a gap in the fence. The upper strands of wire were broken, but the bottom line about a foot from the ground, remained intact. Richardson turned his horse towards the opening, and spurred it for a final effort.

The animal, tired by the pace, and the weight he bore, refused. Nothing daunted, the sergeant turned his horse for another attempt. He would have failed again but for a Boer bullet, more accurate than the rest, which missed the rider, but hit the horse. The animal made a sudden plunge and galloped madly forward. The Boers gave up the chase, and Richardson and his comrade reached the camp in safety, but the horse paid the penalty of their rescue, for it dropped dead an hour later. He was a popular man in the corps before, but the rescue of McArthur made him a hero.

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Salida copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims,—The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Salida, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Salida. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of the city; and last, but by no means least, the Sunshine, located two miles east of Salida at Cleora station, on the main Trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

FRENCH MAKE A GRAB IN MOROCCO

The Frontiers of That Conntry Have Already Been Crossed on Various Pretexts

Natives Will Propably be Invited to Attack It and Then France Will Go In and Seize the Land

London, March 14.—A year ago the French advance from Algeria into the district of Tuat formed the subject of widespread comment.

It was pointed out in that the district occupied forcibly by Lieutenant Flamand and Captain Pein was and had been under the nominal control of Morocco for generations, that it was acknowledged as Moorish territory by France when the frontier was delimited in 1845, after the brief war between France and Morocco.

The Anglo-French agreement of August 1890, left France with a free hand in the Algerian hinterlands, and in the following year she made an unsuccessful effort to seize the Tuat district. At the end of 1899 the seizure so long projected was accomplished successfully, and by April in last year the French columns had moved to the northwest of Tuat and occupied Igli, which is well within the Moorish boundaries. Some little interest was aroused in England when it was demonstrated that the seizures were part of the plan by which France hopes to absorb all Morocco; but the South African war was claiming all British interest in foreign affairs, and when M. Delcasse had assured the Foreign Office that he had no wish to interfere with the intergrity of Morocco, the matter was allowed to drop.

THE FRENCH ADVANCE.

Now everything is ready for the French advance as far as Tafilalt, in the south, and Figuig, a city in an oasis lying south-west of Ain Sefra, on the eastern boundary of Morocco. In the last fortnight the campaign has started.

To set the ball rolling a French newspaper published in Oran has declared that the Khalifa and Figuig desires to cede the district to France, and has requested the French to send a military mission to take over the place. The paper adds that General Risbourg, has accepted the invitation, and will proceed at once to occupy Figuig. The French military railway is proceeding from Ain Sefrn, in Algerin, to Figuig, in Morocco, and will then be taken into the country of Ooland Dierir and the Doui Menia tribes, all of which is Moorish territory. Within the last week we have read accounts of a night attack upon a French station at Timmimum, an oasis to the north-west of Tuat. Inspired journals in Paris say that the Filalis were the attacking party, though this is quite unlikely, and urge the Government to punish the Filalis, and say they must do their duty, however painful it may be, and must despatch a punitive column to the oases of Tafilalt. They do not remark that, by a happy coincidence, General Serviere is in the neighborhood of Timmimum, with a large force of seasoned troops from the Algerian army of occupation Recognising the justice of the advice tendered. M. Delcasse has instructed M. Revoil, the French Minister to Morocco, to inform the Sultan that if he cannot keep order among the tribesmen the French will be compelled to take strong measures and will no longer respect the Moorish frontier. France having seized the district now says in effect. "If you cannot keep the Touaregs and other people from creating disorder in the regions we have taken from you, because you could not rule them, we shall be compelled to enter Morocco in earnest." Needless to say, there will be further attacks by the tribesmen as soon as France wants them.

GALLIC PACIFICATION

At the present moment there is a French army on the Moorish boarders quite out of proportion to the requirement of peaceful action. The presence of the columns under Generals Service and Risbourg is quite enough to make the priests proclaim the holy war.

To all appearance the French desire nothing more than such an excuse to forward action. It is only reasonable to believe that the Sultan of Morocco is no better able now than he was a year ago to control the tribes in the southeastern districts of his empire; and if any detachment from General Servere's column cares to invite attack, it will be forthcoming at once. With reasonable pretext, or one that will filter from Morocco to Oran, from Oran to Paris, and Paris to London in reasonable form, an advance upon the oases of Tafilalt becomes possible.

Tafilalt is the corner-stone of the present Moorish dynasty, for the present Sultan is a Filali Shereef, a descendant of the ruler of Tafilalt who seized the rest of Morocco. If "Our Lord, whom Allah send victorious," cannot keep his native territory from the "Kaffirs," the tribes will rise up against him on all sides, and the knigdom will be at the disposal of young Mautai Ali, Grand Shereef of Wazzan, lineal descendant of the Prophet, officer in the French Algerian army of occupation, and puppet in the skilled hands of French diplomacy. The situation is a serious one, and calls for a strong Englishman to deal with it.

BRILLIANT OPENING OF PAN-AMERICAN

The Exhibition Will be Inaugurated in a Novel Manner

GOVERNOR-GENERAL TO ASSIST

Direct Telegraph Communication Between Ottawa and the Music Hall at the Exhibition Grounds

Buffalo, N.Y., March 14.—Director-General Buchanan last evening detailed proposed plans for the opening of the Pan-American Exposition. The Exposition, he said, would be formally opened May 1st. A most interesting and brilliant ceremony will occur at 2 o'clock on that day in the Music Temple, when it is proposed to start the machinery of the Exposition as follows:

The special train carrying the President of the United States and his Cabinet to the Pacific coast will be connected by telegraph, with electrical apparatus in the Music Temple, and this apparatus will be in turn connected with the great electric generators in the electricity building. Direct telegraphic communication will be made at the same moment between the executive officers of the Presidents of all of the republics of the hemisphere, and the Governor-General of Canada, and this electrical apparatus in the Music Temple. At precisely 2 o'clock, Buffalo time, the Presidents and rulers of all of the countries of the western hemisphere will be requested to touch an electric button in their office, which will thus start a piece of machinery of the Exposition, and they will at the same time transmit a message of greeting at the opening to be read in the Music Temple.

President McKinley, from a special telegraphic apparatus in his car on his special train, surrounded by his Cabinet will then start the great fountain pumps, and will transmit over the wires a message of greeting to the people assembled.

The details connected with this novel and remarkable arrangement are being worked out now. Appropriate ceremonies will be held in the Temple of Music at the hour indicated.

The imposing dedicatory ceremonies of the Exposition will take place at approximately the 14th of May, when it is expected that Vice-President Roosevelt and Governor Odell, and a large body of national and diplomatic officials and those of the army and navy will be present.

"President's Day" will be fixed definitely within the next two weeks, but it will be some time about June 9th to the 12th. President McKinley, his Cabinet, with the ladies of the party, including Mrs. McKinley, will reach the Exposition from Duluth by special train. This arrangement was completed yesterday, Mr. Bachanan said, in Washington.

The plans covering all of the above are now being rapidly worked out, and the committee, of which Major Thomas W. Symonds is chairman, will undoubtedly, Mr. Buchanan says, elaborate the most interesting scheme of entertainment that has yet been witnessed by any one in connection with the opening and dedication of an Exposition.

A Small Blaze

A fire broke out in the house occupied by Mr. J. P. Grady, on Simcoe street, yesterday afternoon, and did damage to the extent of $150. The blaze started through a defective chimney, and was extinguished by a Babcock engine. Loss is covered by insurance.

DROWNED WHILE TESTING LIFEBOAT

One Man Loses His Life and Several Narrowly Escape

New York, March 11.

One man was drouned and four others were rescued in an unconscious condition to-day after a test of a self righting life-boat by United States officers in Brooklyn. The man who was drouned was Andrew Katerson. As soon as the men got into the life-boat for the test it tacked suddenly and turned over completely, throwing thirteen men who were in it into the water. The boat did not right itself and persons on a pier near by started to rescue the men who were in danger. All were taken from the water alive except Paterson.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES

HOCKEY.

An interesting game of hockey was played last night between the Biffs and the Niffs, which resulted in a score of 7—6 in favor of the Biffs. The teams were as follows:

Mr. Cavanagh referred the game to the satisfaction of both sides.

CARRIE NATION'S LATEST SENSATION

Causes Consternation in a Private Dance Hall in Topeka

Topeka, Kan., March 14.—Mrs. Nation created a sensation last night at eleven o'clock by entering a private dancing hall to protest against the round dance. Under her arm was a bundle of the "Smashers' Mail" which she had been retailing at ten cents per copy. Some of the dancers involuntary sought shelter, while the rest fell back out of harm's way, but Mrs. Nation made no violent demonstration.

"Young people," she said, "I am ashamed to see you here in this hugging match. You ought to be ashamed to do such things. Young men, it is not right for you to hold these girls that way. When I was young I used to dance the square dance, and I have danced it with colored people and enjoyed it too, but I never let myself be hugged in that way."

"Madame," said the dancing-master stepping forward, "it is time for the next dance and I'll have to ask you to step back while it is going on."

"Well, I suppose I'll have to go," returned she, "but it is wrong for you to let this thing go on in your hall."

The music commenced as Mrs. Nation backed to the door. Taking all the time and leaving her audience in a tremor of conversation, she moved up the street, stopping every man she met with a cigar in his mouth and demanding that he quit tobacco.

ANOTHER WAR CLOUD

Egyptian Monarch Declines to Comply With Sultans Demands

Constantinople, March 15.—Ahmed Shefik Bey, the Khedive's Secretary, who was sent here to settle the differences between the Sultan of Turkey and the Khedive of Egypt, will return to Egypt to-day. It is understood that his mission has failed.

The Sultan stipulated, as a preliminary of the settlement, that his brother-in-law. Mahmud Pasha, who sought refuge in Egypt after his flight from Turkey late last year, must be returned to Constantinople.

The Khedive, however, regarded the guarantees for Mahmud's welfare as being unsatisfactory.

In December last Mahmud Pasha, the husband of the Sultana, disappeared, as did some jewels also. Mahmud Pasha went to Marseilles and reached Pairs on Dec. 21.

Mahmud Pasha is a member of the Young Turkey party, which advocates reform and a more liberal government of the Turkish Empire, in addition to the promotion of commerce and industry.

ASKS $10,000 DAMAGES

Serious Charge Against a Medical Man of Port Perry

At the High Court of Justice, to be held in Belleville next week, before Chief Justice Meredith, a case is set down for trial which will no doubt prove interesting.

The plaintiff is Mrs. John Conley, of the village of Madoc, and the defendant Dr. Archer, of Port Perry. The plaintiff asks damages to the extent of $10,000 for what is known in law as crim. con. It appears that Mrs. Conley was being treated a year ago by the defendant, and the latter's alleged misconduct caused the present action to be brought. Mr. E. G. Porter has been retained for the plaintiff and Messrs. Northrup & Roberts for the defendant. Mr. E. F. B. Johnston, K.C., of Toronto, has also been engaged as counsel for the defendant.

—Mr. Albert Holmes, of Ballyduff, was one of the visiting Oddfellows at the regular meeting of Peterborough Lodge I.O.O.F. last evening.

GREAT BRITAIN AND TREATY WITH U.S.

British Officials Say Note Does Not End Affair

LITTLE TROUBLE EXPECTED

London Foreign Office Hopes for a Peaceful Solution of the Matter

London, March 15.—The Foreign office officials here assert that it is a mistake to say that no opening is left for further action in the case of Great Britain's reply to the United States' notification of the Senate's amendments to the Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

It is pointed out that Great Britain's reply invites further proposals from the United States. Moreover, the Foriegn Office understands that something of this sort is already contemplated in Washington, and it is officially stated that there is no desire on the part of thee British Government that the matter should be dropped.

The officials here confidently expect further negotiations and hope for a satisfactory conclusion, though this does not lessen their insistence on the integrity of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty until both signatories consent to its abrogation.

Lord Cranborne, the Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, in the House of Commons to-day, referring to Great Britains reply, said that the British government was not engaged in negotiating with any other power on this subject.

The afternoon newspapers here today follow the morning papers in approving the government's refusal to accept the Senate's amendments to the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. The only novel suggestion in the matter appears in the Evening Standard, which is of the opinion that the time has come to attack Monroeism, and says:

"Now that the republic is taking an active interest in the world's politics, the time has come when the fiction that that the Western Hemisphere is to be guarded as a close reserve for American enterprise should be finally exploded. English interests are quite as paramount as those of the sister States and it cannot be long before the attention of the continental powers will be more directly drawn to the commercial possibilities of the dormant southern half of the continent."

NO NEW PLAN IN WASHINGTON.

Washington, D. C., March 12.—No step has been taken by either side since the delivery of the British note treating of the Senate amendments to the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, and it is understood that none will be taken in the immediate future. The treaty expired on March 6, and it is stated positively that before this government decides as to whether or not it shall enter upon negotiations for a new treaty with Great Britain an effort will be made to learn the views of Senators and the leaders in Congress. There will be no treaty submitted to the Senate except upon a clear understanding that it is strong enough to secure the vote of two-thirds of the body.

A suggestion has been made that an international Congress, to be held in Washington, might harmonize the differences, but the idea met some opposition when informally suggested today to diplomatists who have taken a leading part in the canal negotiations.

It is probable that the time for ratifying the treaties with Great Britain respecting reciprocity with the British West Indian colonies, will be extended during the present week for a period of one year or eighteen months, in order that the treaties may be consideredb y the Senate next Decembr.

BEARS A SERIOUS ASPECT

The United States Has Thrown a Challenge in Cubas Face

Havana, March 15.—La Lucha publishes a part of a letter which Gen. Maximo Gomez recently wrote to a friend in San Domingo. Speaking of the present situation in Cuba, Gen. Gomez said:

"Matters here have a serious aspect. This change in the people who had begun to feel content with the Americans is due to the Platt amendment.

"That ill-advised proceeding has wounded the sentiment of Cubans, who feel the mild disgust which such unreasonable behaviour always produces.

"This demand, thrown as a challenge in Cuba's face by a powerful nation, will cause deep moral preturbation. People wonder how the United States, which are the exponents of liberty, can deny our right to defend the principle of liberty."

SAY ROBERTS RETURNED GIFT.

Berlin, March 12.—It is reported in court circles that Earl Roberts "thankfully returned" to Emperor William the insignia of the Order of the Black Eagle, conferred at the time of the Kaiser's visit to England, after noticing the unfavorable comment in the German press upon the bestowal of the honor. This would explain the omission of the customary announcement in the Reichsanzeiger of the conferring of such a distinction.

DEATH OF FORMER U.S. PRESIDENT

Benjamin Harrison Died at Indianapolis on Wednesday

MOST PATHETIC INCIDENT

Scene Between the Dying Man and His Little Daughter—Funeral on Sunday

Indianapolis, Ind., March 14.—General Benjamin Harrison died yesterday afternoon. He did not regain consciousness, and his death was without pain. The relatives and friends of the sick man were at his bedside. News of the occurrence was quickly known in the city and flags were soon at half-mast and other manifestations of mourning evident.

Mrs. Harrison knelt at the righthand side of the bed, her husband's right hand grasped in hers, while Dr. Jameson held the left hand of the dying man, counting the feeble pulse beats. Although in a semi-comatose condition he was able at times to recognize those about him. Almost the last words uttered were addressed toh is wife, of whom he inquired shortly before he became unconscious, if the doctors were present. A pathetic incident occurred on Tuesday before he became unconscious. The general's little daughter, Elizabeth, was brought into the sick-room to see her father, and offered him a small apple pie, which she herself had made, Gen. Harrison smiled his recognition of the child, and her gift, but he could do nothing more to express his appreciation.

The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, from the First Presbyterian church, of which Gen. Harrison had been a member for thirty years.

Washington, March 14.—The bulletins announcing the failing condition of the late ex-President Harrison were followed with deep interest here. As office housr had closed before the news of the death arrived official notification is deferred until to-day, when, following the usual custom, President McKinley, will issue a proclamation announcing the decease. Salutes will be fired at the different army posts and on the vessels of the navy on the day of the funeral.

Secretary of State Hay describes General Harrison's death as a national loss. He was a true statesman, lawyer and orator.

The late Benjamin Harrison was born in 1833 at North Bend, near Cincinnati. He claimed descent from the Commissioner Harrison whose name appears on the death warrant of Charles I. of England. He was a great-grandson of the Benjamin Harrison who signed the American declaration of Independence, and a grandson of General W. H. Harrison who was elected to the presidential chair at 1840. He received his education at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, where he graduated in 1851. Subsequently he studied law in Cincinnati, but in 1854 he removed to Indiana and six years later became reporter of the Supreme Court of that State. At the outbreak of the civil war he went to the front as colonel of the 70th Indiana Regiment and greatly distinguished himself After the war he returned to the law. In 1880 he was elected Governor of Indiana, and in the year following was returned to the U. S. Senate. In 1888 he became President of the United States. During 1892 he was active in promoting international monetary conference. He was again nominated for the office of President, but the result of the election reinstated his rival. Mr. Cleveland. The deceased was a man of great ability and force of character, and his loss is regretted universally throughout the States by the people of all shades of politics.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

SECRETARY HAY SMILED

United States Secretary Hay probably smiled when Lord Pauncefote told him that the British Government had decided to reject the Senate amendments to the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. The treaty as it was sent to the United States Senate was written by Secretary Hay himself, and was accepted by the British Government without amendment. It fully safeguarded the interests of the United States and obtained important concessions from the British Government. It gave Britain no special favours, but merely guaranteed the neutrality of the canal to the ships of all nations in time of war as in time of peace.

Secretary Hay deserved to be honored by his countrymen for his success in negotiating such a treaty in view of the fact that the construction of the Nicaragua canal will give the Atlantic and Gulf ports of the United States an advantage of distance over the ports of the United Kingdom in some of the most important markets of the world. But instead of honouring him the newspapers of the United states generally condemned him for betraying his country and truckling to England.

The general impression in the United States seemed to be that whether from love or from fear the Brittish Government would grant anything the United States asked for regardless of the interests of the Empire and the world at large. They will now understand that it takes two to make a bargain.

To have accepted the Senate's amendments would have been to enter into an agreement to place all other nations of the earth at a disadvantage as compared with the United States. Germany is especially indebted to the British Government for the stand taken in this matter. But of all the countries of the earth the one which has most reason to be thankful for the rejection of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty is the Dominion of Canada. With an extensive coast line on both the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, in case of a war with the United States, it would take twice as many warships to protect the country if thee warships of the United States could pass quickly between the two oceans, while British warships were obliged to go all the way around South America.

It is worthy of note that the British Government waited until Congress had adjourned before presenting the reply to the Senate amendments. It would have been impossible for the Senate to have considered the question, as a number of other important matters were held over in order not to prolong the session, but no doubt if the British reply had been recieved a few weeks before the adjournment of Congress, there would have been some tail-twisting speeches in both the Senate and the House of Representatives. However, before Congress meets again the Senators will have time to cool their indignation and may be disposed to look at the matter in a reasonable way.

To use a vulgar but expressive term the United States Senate attempted to flim-flam Great Britain on the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. It got permission from Great Britain to make certain formal amendments to the treaty to enable the United States to go on with the canal as an ational enterprise. The understanding has been that the canal when built would be neutral in time of war and not fortified. The amendments were skilfully worded, excluding Britain from the use of the canal in war time and allowing the United States to fortify it. And Britain's reply is a dignified rejection couched in friendly terms.

WILL SPEND $120,000.

The C P R.'s Improvements This Year Between Montreal and Owen Sound.

Montreal, March 15—Improvements to the extent of $120,000 will be made this spring and summer by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company between this city and Owen Sound, the following items having thus far been definitely decided on by the management:

Between Vaudreuil and Perth, $25,000 for ballasting the roadbed for a distance of 61 miles.

Water tanks and stand-pipes at Kemptville and Monklands; enlarged sidings at twelve points between Toronto and London, $9,000.

Repairs to bridges west of Toronto $37,000.

Toronto, $19,000.

Ballasting track for 36 miles west of Stand-pipe at London, and ballasting on the Owen Sound division, $10,000.

Additional sidings on the Owen Sound division, $6,000.

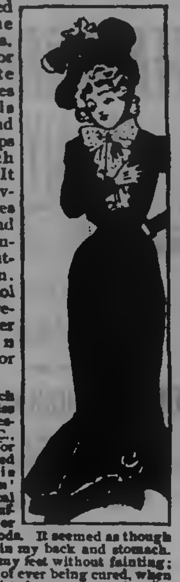
Acetylene gas lighting plant at Owen Sound; electric plants for lighting freight sheds and engine house at Toronto Junction, $12,000.

Mr. C. W. Spencer, general superintendent of the eastern division, said that the appropriation for work on his part of the system would not be as large this year as formerly, though it is expected to do considerable work. "The line is in excellent condition," he said, "and not so much will be required as formerly for repairs. However, the cost of the work will run into a hundred thousand."

Rumors of surrenders are coming from South Africa, but the reports from the guns do not confirm them.

Fainting Spells

Are peculiar to women. Men rarely faint. Many women are liable to what they term "fainting spells," and this liability is always most marked at the monthly period. This alone is sufficient to connect the "fainting spell" with a deranged or diseased condition of the womanly organs. The use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures irregularity, heals inflammation and ulceration, and stops the drains which weaken the body. It builds up the nervous system, increases the vital powers, and so removes the common causes of faintness in women. There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription;" neither does it contain opium, cocaine, nor any other narcotic.



"It gives me much pleasure," writes Miss Ella Sapp, of Jamestown, Guilford Co., N.C., "to thank Dr. Pierce for the great good received from the use of his 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I had suffered for three years or more at monthly periods. It seemed as though I would die with pain in my back and stomach. I could not stand on my feet without fainting; had given up all hope of ever being cured, when one of my friends insisted upon my trying Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. With but little faith I tried it, and before I had taken half a bottle I felt better, had better appetite and slept better. Now I have taken two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and am happy to say I am entirely cured, and all done in two months' time, when all other medicines had failed to do any good."

Keep the liver healthy by using Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

MANITOBA RAILWAY DEAL.

A Deprecatory Resolution Passed by the Winnipeg Board of Trade.

Winnipeg, Man., March 14.—At the adjourned special meeting of the Winnipeg Board of Trade, called to consider the reports of commitees appointed to consider the Government's railway policy, the following deprecatory resolution was passed by a vote of 36 to 12:

"Resolved that this board disapproves of the contracts and acts affecting the Northern Pacific Railway Company and the Canadian Northern Railway Company, as drawn and brought before the Legislature.

"And in view of the great importance of the subject, the great liability to be assumed by the province, the number of railway proposals recently made to the Government, and the uncertainty of future railway extension, this board is of the opinion that the acts confirming the contracts should not be passed at this session of the Legislature, but that ample time should be given the country to study the whole railway situation."

THEIR FAME SPREADING.

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills a Wonderful Remedy.

(Editor Morning Times.)

Sir,—It is because I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be repaid that I ask you to publish some facts regarding Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills. I was for many years a sufferer from indigestion and stomach troubles. I could not digest my food, I was costive, and it was only by injections that I could get relief. Physicians did me no good. I was reduced to a skeleton and could hardly walk. As a last resort I tried a box of these pills, and the improvement was so marked that I continued taking them. I have now taken twelve boxes, never remember being so well in my life. I have gained 22 pounds, and am putting on more flesh daily. I am a living, walking advertisement, and consider no trouble too great in order to spread the fame of Dr. Clarke's Pills. A. F. Jones, Lockport, N.Y.

Andrew Seabright, Midland, writes,—Six boxes of Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills cured me of paralysis. They are simply marvellous.

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills are a positive and certain cure for rheumatism, asthma, paralysis, catarrh, eczema, coughs, lame back, indigestion, all stomach and liver troubles, female complaints, even when the diseases have been standing for many years, the most stubborn cases will yield. For sale by Ormond and Walsh, Druggists, Peterborough, Ont. Price 50 cents per box or three boxes for $1.00.

Dr. Clarke's Sure Cure for Catarrh, same price. $100 will be paid for any case that it will not permanently cure.

ATTACK of ROYAL CANAdians at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. One agent sold 68 in one day. Sample and terms 25 cts (non free); four for 80 cts; $1.75 per dozen; 25 fo $3.25; 50 for $6.00; 100 for $11.00 Writ to day fora dozen and make money. Novelty Mfg. THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Salida copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims,—The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Salida, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Salida. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of the city; and last, but by no means least, the Sunshine, located two miles east of Salida at Cleora station, on the main Trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

He was a Woolly Wompler

"You are Eugene Gay," said the recorder to a Darktownite at yesterday's police matinee.

"Dat's me, Jedge Briles," replied the prisoner.

"And the witnesses say you have been making yourself a holy terror in Crooked Alley," continued the recorder.

"Judge," said the arresting officer, "Eugene is captain of the Darktown Woolly Womples."

"Awful!" said the recorder. "The idea of a man belonging to the Woolly Womples in this enlightened age."

"He is the chief Wompler of the Woolly Womples," said the officer.

"Worse and worse," the recorder said. "Eugene, you will have to explain yourself about raising all that row in Darktown, for even the captain of the Womplers is not exempt."

"Jedge Briles," replied the prisoner, "the Womplers is a pertective 'sociation, an' am fer de mutual pertection ob its members. I jined de order an' wus out fer er good time wid er lot of de udder Womplers, when de perlice cummed an' cotched me up, erlowin' dat I was too unorderly on de streets. All I done wus ter lecture ter dem udder niggers on de sacredness ob de Wompler oath."

"You seem to be a little too gay, Eugene," the recorder stated. "The evidence here is that you tried to carve your name into fame in Darktown circles with your razor. I will fine you $3.75, and maybe the Woolly Womplers will pay it for you, and if they don't, then you will have to womple around about the stockade for a week."—Atlanta Constitution.

Queer Request.

It had always been young Squallop's understanding that he would inherit "something handsome" when his uncle, a studious and somewhat scholarly man, passed off the stage of action. The uncle died, and the will was opened.

Young Squallop was, indeed, remembered. The bulk of his relative's means was found to have been sunk in annuities, and the size of the package bequeathed to the young man surprised him. He opened it, examined the contents, and locked it away from prying eyes.

"I hear your uncle has left you something," said an acquaintance a week or two afterward, meeting him on the street.

"Yes," he replied. "My uncle left me ten thousand."

"I congratulate you. With $10,000 a young man may be considered to have at least a fair start in life."

"I didn't say dollars. He left me ten thousand chess problems."

It was even so. For many years the old gentleman had been making a collection of such problems, clipping them from the chess columns of various weekly papers, and as his most cherished possession he left it entire to his favorite nephew, a youth who did not know a pawn from a bishop.

Life is full of disappointments, and certainly young Squallop deserves to be recorded among the bitter ones.—Youth's Companion.

Tragedy of the Types.

He had not the look of a poet, and as a matter of fact he had never mistrusted before that he was one. But he loved a girl, and love makes poets of us all.

"Here," he said, offering a folded sheet of paper to the editor, "is a little thing I have written, and I thought perhaps you would like to print it. I don't care for any pay. Let me read it to you:

"LINES TO LAURA.
"Ah, heartless girl! If you were like
Your kindly mother is, I trow"——

"Never mind," the editor interrupted. "I will look it over at my leisure, and if I can use it I will do so."

There was a "wild, hunted" look in his eyes when he rushed into the office the next morning and dropped down on the chair that the editor pushed forward. After he had panted for a moment he said:

"I am—here is my card!"

"Oh, yes," the editor said. "I remember you. You are the young man who brought a poem in yesterday to submit for publication. I think it was in the paper this morning, wasn't it?"

"Yes—it was—in!" the poet said between his gasps. "You remember that it was headed, 'Lines to Laura,' don't you?"

"Now that you call the matter to my mind, I do."

"Well, Laura is not a fictitious name. Laura is really the name of the lady the lines were written for. I told Laura I was writing the poem; also I permitted Laura's mother to know about it. I love Laura. But let me read—no, don't be frightened—only two lines—as it appears in the paper:

"LINES TO LAURA.
"Ah, beardless girl! If you were like
Your kindly mother is, I trow"——

After the editor had thought about it for a moment, he asked:

"What do you propose to do?"

"Run!" said the poet, and he started at once.—Chicago Times-Herald.

You should not feel tired all the time—healthy people don't—you won't if you take Hood's Sarsaparilla for a while.

The Strikers.

"What's the matter with that man?" asked the clock. "He doesn't seem to have anything to do but wind me up."

"No," replied the calendar, "he isn't working. He and his companions struck some time ago."

"Huh!" Suppose I should stop working every time I struck?"

"That's so, but I notice it freshens me up every time he takes a month off."—Philadelphia Press.

TELLING FORTUNES

The Young Man Acknowleged that the Joke was on Him.

At a little gathering in Harlem one recent evening the conversation turned on palmistry. "Palmistry is a back number," said a bright young girl. "I can read character and tell fortunes with nothing but a handkerchief to work on."

She was asked to illustrate her power, and readily consented. Turning to one of the young men she asked him for his handkerchief.

"Take it in the centre between your thumb and finger," she commanded. "That's right! Now clutch it tightly in your other hand, and draw it through. That leaves creases in your handkerchief, formed by the lines of your palm. I shall read your fortune from those creases, which are really the reflected lines of your character."

Then she spread the handkerchief out upon her lap and studied the creases. After a few moments of silence she began in the stereotyped way to speak of a wealthy marriage, a dark man to beware of, and similar stock phrases.

As she knew the young man very well, she was also in a position to speak of several characteristic traits which were undeniably true, and which lent a semblance of verity to the performance.

"Now," she said, "take the handkerchief between your teeth and bite it so as to leave the imprint of your teeth."

Amid breathless suspense the young man did as directed.

"Harder!" exclaimed the amateur soothsayer, "bite it as hard as you can."

The young man grew red in the face in his efforts to leave the desired impression.

"Oh, you bite too easily!" exclaimed the girl.

Then everybody laughed, and the victim acknowledged that the joke was on him.

No Wonder

"Rain, rain, go away, Little Buggy wants to play!"

Three Men in a Boat.

Many fond goodbys were said as the boat steamed out from the Cleveland wharf. Sweethearts tossed farewell to sweethearts over the murky river and mothers and fathers waved handkerchiefs in regret. It was a tearful scene, not unmixed with pathos. A young man, bearing a soiled satchel and a sad, melancholy expression, had boarded the boat and sought a secluded corner. As the steamer passed the breakwater he made mental observations of the scenery. A young man at his elbow looked up in an appreciative way. He, too, seemed sad and retrospective.

"Beautiful, don't it?" he observed, blinking unsteadily at a bell diver's apparatus.

"Fine," responded his new found companion.

"Let's go down on the lower deck, where we can get a better view," suggested the first speaker.

On the stairway they met another sad appearing young man. Some way or another sympathy seemed to draw the trio together, and they all sought the lower deck. They did not find the desired scenic inspiration. They looked at one another in sorrowful despair. The blue waves, as they tumbled along the surface of the lake, looked tempting.

"It's a long trip," said one, gazing desperately over the gunwale.

"A terrible trip—under the circumstances," said the second.

"What'll we do?" queried the third.

"Pray for a storm and the customary antidotes that are provided on board ship," said the first.

Then the trio sat alone and disconsolate in a corner and watched the waves dancing in the sunlight. After awhile the breeze stiffened and the water began to stir fretfully. A nervous man sitting opposite the trio reached into his satchel and pulled out a fat bottle containing a rich, red fluid. He took a long pull. One of the trio nudged the man next to him. His face grew a trifle pale, and he looked far out to sea. The third sprang to his feet and quickly approached the man with the bottle. In an indescribable tone of pathos he explained that he had a sick infant upstairs; that he had neglected to provide certain necessaries, and that unless he could secure the bottle there would be dire results aboard ship. He passed up the stairway with a grave face and the bottle, and in a short time his companions joined him.

A happy trio stepped off the boat at Detroit that evening.—Detroit Free Press.

Keep your horse's main and tail well cleaned, and wash his tail and dock occasionally in a pail of water, it will greatly stimulate it and grow a flowing tail.

Feed your horse clean feed. If your oats are dusty, clean them, and don't feed hay full of dust or dirt.

Identifying the Idiots.

A gentleman was once being shown over an idiot asylum, says Sir Wilfred Lawson, in Answers. He asked an attendent how they knew when an idiot was considered to be sufficiently restored to sanity to be discharged.

"Oh," said the attendant, "it is easily managed. We take them into a yard where there are several troughs. We turn on the taps and then give the idiots buckets to bale out the water and empty the troughs. Many of them go on bailing away while the taps keep running, but them that isn't idiots stops the tap."

No Politics for Mary.

"It's all right, Mary," he said, pleasantly. "Go into politics if you want to. But remember one thing—that cartoonists 'll be after you as soon as you're a candidate."

"I don't care."

"And they'll put your picture in the paper with your hair out of curl and your hat on crooked."

"Do you think they would do that?" she inquired apprehensively.

"Or course. And they'll make your Paris gowns look like calico, and say that your sealskin coat is imitation."

"William," she said, after a thoughtful pause, "I think I'll stay here and make home happy."—Tit-Bits.

The Proper Treatment.

He—I think you might be nicer to Bounderston than you are. He's not a bad sort, really, though he is rather a rough diamond.

She—That's just it, dear; I think he wants cutting.—From London Punch.

The Maidens and the Saw.

They had a lawn festival for the benefit of a New Jersey church the other day, and a lot of pretty girls sawed wood for a prize. It was hard wood and they had to saw each length into three pieces with an ordinary bucksaw.

A bucksaw is not a saw warranted not to buck, and the fair amateurs must have made silver pincushions of their dimpled knees long before the task was ended.

Any man who has tried to work a saw of this character through a green lot of four foot hickory can sympathize with these girls. Any man who recalls the struggle of his youth in this direction, and how often he ran to his mother for a lump of tallow to grease the confounded saw, which, despite his best efforts, would stick, and bind, and cramp and suddenly let go, will not only sympathise with these maidens, but with the noble army of tramps who would rather starve than saw wood.

In a contest of this character, a pint of sawdust would be worth a king's ransom, and the amount of wood sawed would cut but a trifling figure among the incidentals of a hard winter.

But there is one thing the girls must have been profoundly thankful for—it was not a case of saw-wood-say-nothing!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Don't strike your horse with a fork handle, or strike him over the head; if he needs punishing, use a small whip. Every-day striking or clubbing does no good. Make him respect you and the whip, and have him fear nothing else.

Don't allow your horse to stand in manure or wet places. This is what causes thrush, and the ammonia arising in such places effects the eyes, etc., and coming in contact with carriages and harness destroys varnish and weakens leather.

Nervousness and Nerve.

The more nervous a man is, the less nerve he has. That sounds paradoxical—but it isn't; for nerve is stamina.

Hood's Sarsaparilla gives nerve. It tones the whole system, perfects digestion and assimilation, and is therefore the best medicine a nervous person can take.

If you get tired easily, mentally or physically, take it—it will do you good.

Big Four Con. G. M. Co.
LIMITED

Mines one mile west of Rossland, directly west of the Le Roi No. 1 and Le Roi No. 2. Four properties. All Crown granted.

THE LeRoi No. 1 once sold for 2 cents and went to $45 per share; and the Le Roi No. 2 £5 shares went to £23, or $110 per share in a few months.

Our memorandum of association contains a provision, provided by Section 56 of the Companies Act, 1897, that the shares are issued as Fully Paid Up and Non Assessable, and that no further liability beyond the amount actually paid upon shares shall attach to the holders thereof. Capital $250,000.

Our properties are now proved (both above and below ground) to have the same continuous ore veins as the LeRoi Companies, and have the same identical ore and our shares are well worth TWENTY-FIVE CENTS now, and will surely bring fifty cents. And we can, with a very small capital, develop our property to such an extent that it can also be placed on the London market, where it belongs—and small investors will make a good profit by buying now.

Our assays have averaged from $5 to $800 in gold, copper and silver and the shipping facilities are the best. The Great Northern Railway runs three times through the ground, three smelters close at hand, and reduced charges of $4.50 per ton for shipping and smelting, and we are now getting ready to start shipping ore.

Irrespective of the merits of the BIG FOUR, we have now over 570,000 shares in our treasury and free from all incumbrance. We are amongst the few local companies that has complied with the law in every particular, and we venture to say have

Thus the management has no regrets to offer, and you by subscribing will have none.

200 Feet More of Tunnel Work Now Under Way.

GOLD MINING CO.

Owning Big Horn Mountain Tunnel and Veneta Vein, 200 acres situated on the Western Slope of Pike's Peak, in the famous Cripple Creek Gold Mining District.

THE SAFEST OFFER EVER MADE TO INVESTORS.

It is printed on each certificate that subscribers to the above Preferred Shares will be entitled to receive in Dividends the full amount of money invested, before other stockholders receive any returns, signed by the President of the Company.

This district produced more Gold in 1900 than any other in the United States

This property consists of 3000 by 3000 feet, or 200 acres, of gold land. The mine has been worked. The feature of this mine is the Veneta Vein, 30 to 40 feet in width, and is certainly one of the strongest veins in this famous district. There are some fifteen openings on this vein, the ore from which assays in gold from $12 to $100 per ton. The property is advantageously located for development by tunnel, which will make it possible to produce an enormous amount of ore daily, the quantity varying from 200 to 500 tons per day. The development by TUNNELING is the most economical and advantageous manner of working this property.

At a distance of 800 feet the Tunnel will intersect the Veneta Vein at a depth of about 680 feet, and will also intersect several other veins. The tunnel will cut the Big Horn Mountain 2100 feet deep, and will give this company 2,000,000 tons of ore, worth over $20 per ton.

The new railroad, now practically completed from Colorado Springs, called the Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek road, passes within 2000 feet of this Tunnel

Adjoining this property is the Colorado Springs TUNNEL Company. In this property at a depth of 400 feet, the Veneta Vein was cut. At this point the vein was fully 20 feet in width, and its value from $20 to $1000 per ton.

There are already in operation mills and smelters sufficient to treat the output of this property, which gives at once cash returns.

Capital Stock $1,000,000. Par Value $1.00 Per Share. 100,000 Shares Preferred Stock at 25c. Per Share.

In buying this stock the purchaser owns a direct title in the Company's property. This Company offers you no watered stock, but a legitimate high-grade gold-mining investment in the Cripple Creek District.

The above offer of Preferred Dividends is an assurance of early returns. After additional machinery is erected, this property will be earning dividends almost equal to its Capital Stock.

Mr. Thos. LaPlante while driving through South Dummer yesterday afternoon, shot and killed a wild cat, measuring 4 feet long, 2 feet high, and weighing 65 pounds. While he was driving along the road, the cat sprang at his horse, but he shot it with a revolver. It will be on exhibition at Robinson's Livery tomorrow morning.

Col. Hughes Banquet

Col Sam Hughes, M.P., will entertain the officers of the 46th Regiment this evening at Port Hope, the occasion being the retirement of the gallant Colonel from the command of the Regiment. It is expected there will be a large gathering of military men, including Col. Montezambert, Kingston, as Col. Hughes is very popular amongst military men. Capt. T. J. Johnston, Otonabee, and Lieut. R. G. Johnston, town, both officers of the 46th, will go down at noon to-day.

A warning.

To feel tired after exertion is one thing; to feel tired before is another.

Don't say the latter is laziness—it isn't; but it's a sign that the system lacks vitality, is running down, and needs the tonic effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

It's a warning, too—and sufferers should begin taking Hood's at once. Buy a bottle to-day.

Special Y. W. C. A. Gospel Meeting

Miss Carson, late of Christodora House, New York city, now travelling secretary for our Dominion Young Women's Christian Association, will conduct a Gospel Service at the Y.W.C.A. rooms, 168 Brock street, on Sunday afternoon at 4.15 All women are invited. Read what a Toronto Daily once said of her meetings:— "The services at the Y.W.C.A., 18 Elm street, addressed by Miss Carson, of New York, are attracting a large number of young women. Miss Carson has had a wide and varied experience among young women in the association and colleges of the United States, and is one of the most helpful workers at the Young Women's Conference at Northfield, Mass., where Mr. Moody's summer schools are held.

For McKenzie River

The Peterborough Canoe Company yesterday shipped to Edmonton, via C.P.R. the hull of a small steamer which will be used in the Arctic waters in the fur trading industry. The boat was ordered by Mr. W. H. Connors, a leading fur trader of the north country, and was built in a surprisingly short time by the Peterborough Canoe Company. The steamer is made of the very best white oak, and will undoubtedly withstand the rough duties to which it will be assigned on the Mackenzie River. She is 65 feet long, 10 feet wide, with 5 1-2 foot beam. The boat will be taken by C.P.R. to Edmonton in pieces, thence 100 miles by teams to Athabasca Landing, then 800 miles by barges to Great Slave lake, where she will be put together.

CONCERT AT ASHBURNHAM

A Very Successful Tea and Entertainment Tuesday Night

A very successful tea and entertainment was held on Tuesday night last, at Ashburnham, under the auspices of the Ashburnham Sunday School. There was a large attendance, the hall being crowded to the door. Supper was served from 6 o'clock to 8.30 p.m., after which the entertainment commenced. Rev. J. P. Wilson ably filled the position of chairman and the best of order was maintained throughout the entire evening. The different parts of the programme and many encores had to be responded to. The two dialogues brought down the house, and won merited prise for those who took part.

The following is the programme:—
Chairman's address.—Rev. J. P. Wilson
Chorus... ....Edison Glee Club
Recitation ....Miss Alberta White
Song... ... ...Mr. W. G. Mulligan
Recitation...... ... ...Miss S. Green

The thanks of the committee are due to the entertainers, Mr. E. F. Mason, and all others who in any way assisted in making the affair a success.

THE SOUTH WARD SCHOOL

The School to be Put in First Class Sanitary Condition

Yesterday Mr. W. H. Hill, Chairman of the Board of Education, and Mr. R. Fair, Chairman of the Property Committee of the Board, visited The Times office in regard to the article which appeared in our issue of yesterday, in which the bad sanitary condition of the school was set forth.

We are pleased to be able to state that the committee is diligently looking after the school, and have employed a competent sanitary engineer to make a thorough inspection, when any evil that may exist will be remedied.

We understand it has been stated that the Times' article was not according to facts. We have no desire to injure the school, but feel that it would be better to close the institution altogether, than endanger the life of a single child attending the school. We simply did our duty, and will stand by what we said in regard to the condition of the closets, etc. We are sure, however, now that attention has been called to the matter, that the school will be placed in first class sanitary condition.

Wedding Bells

On Wednesday evening a very pleasing event took place at the home of Miss Creba, Aylmer street, when Miss Mary Creba was united in marriage to Mr. John Emberson, of Benafort. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Kilgour, in the presence of a few intimate friends and relatives. The bride was very tastefully attired in a gown of white organdie. Her sister Miss Hattie Creba, acted as bridesmaid, while the groom was supported by Mr. Fred Porter, of Omemee. After the marriage a sumptuous supper was served, followed by a few hours' of pleasant social converse, when the party broke up and Mr. and Mrs. Emberson drove out to their home at Benafort, followed by the good wishes of all their friends, in which The Times cordially joins.

THE BILL WILL PASS

The Cereal Company's Assessment Legislation to go Through.

Toronto, Ont., March 14.—The Private Bills Committee of The Legislature this morning swept precedent aside and gave the Town of Peterborough and Village of Ashburnham the right to fix for 42 years the assessment of The American Cereal Company, which has works and property in both places. The Chairman, Hon. Mr. Harcourt, said the bill set aside the rules laid down by the committee not to grant exemption for more than twenty years and not to do so without consent of the people. The committee however, decided to pass the bill.

A poor little street Arab was brought into a hospital by the police. He had been run over by an omnibus and was badly injured. The chaplain was sent for, as it was thought improbable that the boy would live many hours. With little tact the chaplain began the interview thus: "My boy, the doctors think you are very much hurt. Have you been a good little boy?"

Boy (much bored)—You git aout!

Chaplain (shocked)—But I am afraid you are not a good little boy, and you know you may perhaps be going to die.

Boy (anxious to end the interview)—Well, tain't none o' your business any-'ow. Wot's me death got to do with you? 'Ave you got a pal in the corffin line?

It is pleasant to be able to relate that the boy finally recovered.

The Latest Method Treatment

No medical discovery for years has proved as successful as Dr. Goldberg's Latest Method Treatment. It is the outcome of years of experience; it vitalizes the system, equalizes circulation, removes all obstructions, consequently is the only method recognized as a speedy and permanent cure for Varicocele and Stricture, without use of knife or loss of time; it absorbs the wormy condition, also the stricture, stops the smarting sensation, unnatural discharge, thereby strengthening the parts as well as the back, and restores lost powers.

Blood Poison readily yields to its influence; it thoroughly eradicates the poison from the system; if you have sore throat, patches on tongue or mouth, swollen glands, hair falling out, blotches on body, itching skin, or other signs of this awful disease, you will find the Latest Method Treatment will cure you without Mercury or Potassium.

DR. GOLDBERG, DISCOVERER OF THE LATEST METHOD TREATMENT.

Facts For Patients.

1. Dr Goldberg has 18 Diplomas, Certificates and Licenses, which is sufficient guarantee as to his standing and abilities.
2. Each time you call you see Dr. Goldberg personally, while all other Chronic, Private and Blood Poison specialists have some doctor in charge of their office or have an assistant to doctor you.
3. The Latest Method Treatment discovered by Dr. Goldberg is recognized as the most speedy and permanent cure for Blood Poison, Chronic, Private, Nervous Debility and Impotency. Varicocele and Stricture cured without cutting or stretching.
4. Our records show more actual cures than all other specialists combined.
5. We accept no incurable case for treatment.
6. We are the only doctors of our specialty who are willing to wait for the pay until you are convinced that a complete cure has been established. If you doubt it, try us and see. Call or write for blank for home treatment. Book free.

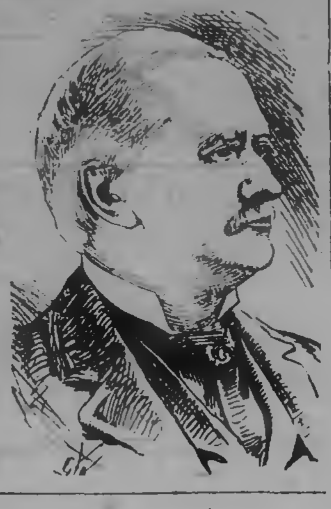
Morgan Predicts War With Great Britain

He Says United States Will Not Endure Rejection of the Treaty



Washington, March 16.—Senator Morgan, of Alabama, in a fiery speech at the Senate Committee of Foreign Affairs, stated that war was certain to follow the rejection of the Hay-Paunceforte treaty by Great Britain. Senator Morgan was followed by Senator Lodge, of Mass., who said: "I regret very much that Great Britain has rejected the amendments of the Senate without even proproposing any modifications, and has deliberately allowed the Hay-Pauncefore treaty to lapse, thus bringing the negotiations to an abrupt close. For twenty years the United States have been trying by every form of amicable negotiation to remove the obstacle presented by the Clayton-Bulwer treaty to the construction of the canal by the United States. All these efforts have come to naught. Great Britain has in one way or another thwarted every attempt that we have made to dispose by amicable negotiations of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty. I very much doubt if the country will endure this indefinitely. How can the American people be expected to permit a treaty of fifty years ago to be used eternally for the purpose of hindering their development, of interfering with the national defence, of stifling their commercial growth, and impairing their freedom and independence of action as a nation, when every condition upon which that treaty was predicated has utterly and radically changed?

Subsequently Senator Morgan declared that war could not be avoided, if England did not withdraw.

DRY DOCKS IN ASHBURNHAM

Suggested by Mr H. Calcutt in a Letter to the Civic Association

The following important communication was received at last meeting of Ashburnham Civic Association from Mr. H. Calcutt: Mr. Matchett, Secretary of Ashburnham Board of Trade:—

Dear Sir—It would be doing Ashburnham and its inhabitants a good turn, if you would lay before your meeting the advantage it would be to the village to have a dry dock built beside the canal, near the lake. It would give employment to a good many people, besides helping the merchants, as boats requiring repairs must have provisions while it is being done. I have no doubt, as soon as the canal is open there will be lots of repairs needed, and it cannot be done nearer than Bobcaygeon. I understand the dock there is not of much use. If you get up a petition to the Government I do not see much difficulty in getting it done before the present contractors get through with their contract. They have everything on hand for doing the work, and could do it cheaper than anyone else.

Yours truly,
H. CALCUTT.

P.S.—Would it not be a good plan to advertise the village, so as to induce people to come here and take up the vacant lots. You might inform the public that we have the Cereal Company, of Acron, Ohio, and that the outlet of the Trent Valley Canal and the highest lift lock in the world is situated here. As New York is a state of canals, there is no doubt that there are plenty of Americans that would like to come and see the lift lock.

Yours truly,
H. CALCUTT

COLLECTION OF SMALL DEBTS

Important Changes Proposed in the Division Court Act

The retail merchants in Peterborough as well as throughout the province are uniting in an application to the attorney general of Ontario for a cheaper and speedier means of collecting small debts. The present division court procedure is altogether too cumbrous and unsatisfactory in results. The court sits once a month and its machinery is so complicated that a small debtor can very often tire out a creditor, especially if he has no realizable property or real estate. If such a man is summoned he usually lets judgement go by default. Then he is brought up on judgement summons and the court, after examining the debtor as to his means, makes an order that he is to pay so much a week or month. In addition to the other costs the lawyer gets a commission on collection of these small sums, and if the debtor neglects to make the payments he has to be brought up again, and, unless he can show a reason, is liable to be sent to jail for contempt of court. All this takes months and it not infrequently happens that nearly a year is consumed in extracting a comparatively small sum from a clever dead beat.

The merchants propose that the court for the collection of small debts should be held weekly; that debtors should be compelled to attend and if judgement is recorded against them they should be examined immediately as judgement debtors and an order made, if they are only able to pay by instalments. Also that the cost of collecting debts up to $25 should be fixed at $1.50.

If a general revision of the court procedure is to be made in Ontario, the changes proposed by the retail merchants associations might with advantage be embodied by Premier Ross in the general scheme.

DEAF MUTES HEAR AND REPEAT WORDS

By Means of New Treatment Tried in New York Medical Academy.

New York, March 16.—As the result of a demonstration given before the New York Academy of Medicine, exclusively for members of the profession, the hearing of a young woman 19 years of age, totally deaf from childhood, has been completly restored. A new electrical invention was used. By its aid the girl heard distinctly, and a full test with it resulted in the discovery that, after it had been used, she still heard words spoken by some of the physicans present.

THE ONTARIO ACCIDENT INSURANCE CO.

Annual General Meeting of the Shareholders of the above Popular and Progressive Institution.

We have much pleasure in drawing the special attention of our readers to the Annual Report etc., of the Ontario Accident Company, published in another column. Perhaps there is no better example of the onward march of Canadian business than this progressive and popular Company affords. Its motto "Canada for ever," fitly describes and perhaps accounts for the position it has attained in its five years history. Starting out as the honest, plain and straightforward competitor of English and American companies, with huge capital and long years of successful business record behind them, they have attained an annual premium income of well on to $100,000 in five years.

Such a record is, we believe, unique in the history of Canadian insurance, and speaks volumes for the ability, foresight and splendid executive capacity of Mr. A. L. Eastmure, the Managing Director, and its capable staff.

The Company is of course well and favorably known in Peterborough through the efforts of its popular and successful representative, Mr. George K. Martin, of Water street, who has placed it in a position which is second to none of all the Accident Insurance Companies doing business in this vicinity.

But hard work, no matter how constant, of an agent, would not account for its manifest popularity in this district. In all fairness must be added its popular and progressive plans, and more important still—its prompt and liberal settlement of the claims of those injured. We know from personal experience of what we speak in this regard and if needs were could print a list of scores of our readers who could testify to the same pleasant facts. It is therefore with especial pleasure that we call attention to its favorable report, which is well worthy of careful perusal.

The annual meeting of the shareholders took place on Monday afternoon, Feb. 18, in the company's offices, 3 Toronto street, and was largely attended. Dr. Larratt W. Smith presided and Mr. F. J. Lightbourn officiated as secretary.

In his annual address Dr. Smith pointed out that there had been a steady growth in the business of the company. The net premium income in 1900, after deducting re-insurances, reached the sum of $81,263.76, as against $64,342.64 in the previous year, an increase of $16,926.10. This handsome gain was evidence of the prompt manner in which all just obligations were met by the company and that the insuring public appreciated the new and attractive plans adopted by the institution. During the year 632 claims were paid, the amount disposed of in this connection totalling $46,114.78. Since the inception of the company 2384 claims had been paid, amounting to $106,167.74, while in this time $302,714.23 had been received in premiums. The loss percentage on the company's total transactions during the five years equalled 40 2-5 per cent. The reserve fund is now $21,000, representing 50 per cent. of the paid-up capital, in addition to which $5000 has been provided as a contingency account for possible losses.

A satisfactory announcement made by Dr. Smith was that the preliminary outlays incurred in organizing the company were now fully paid off and that the business of the company presently extended to every inhabited portion of the Dominion. In conclusion, he expressed the assurance that the company's operations would continue to extend, also his appreciation and that of the board at the efficient management of its affairs by the Executive officers and staff.

Another encouraging address was made by the vice-president, Mr. A. L. Eastmure, who pointed out that, despite the fact that nine accident insurance companies were actively operating in the Dominion, the Ontario Accident Company had issued 4068 policies during the year, the insurance amounting to $11,216,650. The latest policy issued by the company, which had met with much favor among all classes, was a form which provided indemnity against disability occasioned by accident or any kind of illness. The schedule system of paying immediate cash for specified accidental injuries, without reference to the extent or length of disability, which they had previously introduced, continued to receive its full share of popular favor.

The directorate of this company is exceptionally strong, the members of the board being well known, and all are prominently connected with other large enterprizes.

ANGLO-GERMAN PACT HAS NO SECRET CLAUSES

The Chancellor of Germany Makes Important Statement

Berlin, March 15.—The debate on the supplementary estimates for China in the Reichstag to-day furnished the opportunity for the statement from the Chancellor. He said that the negotiations on the Chinese question were making slow but steady progress. A reasonable peace program had been drawn up. The hope was entertained that the feeling of the solidarity among the civilized nations would suffice to overcome the differences of opinion which had lately become apparent in regard to the matters in China.

Referring to the punishments inflicted on the Mandarins as a result of Boxer atrocities the Chancellor declared that the Powers had not been actuated by thirst for blood but by desire to make as example of the guilty and prevent similar misdeeds in the future.

He suggested that the mission of Prince Chun to Berlin was agreeable to the Emperor, but it could not occur till China had yielded to the demands of the Powers or had given satisfactory assurances that their condition would be carried out. China had unconditionally admitted her obligation and had granted compensation and experts had been called in to revise the methods of paying indemnities. They were opposed to the control of the whole Chinese state system, and regarded the maritime duties, as increase in which was possible, as the best means of covering the outlay.

The Chancellor said the Anglo-German agreement was to preserve the integrity of China and protect German trade there. The agreement did not refer to Manchuria and did not contain secret clauses.

The Iron Workers and the Wire Department, will play for the championship of the Works on Tuesday night next, between 10 and 11 o'clock.

BIG CHANGES IN MUNICIPAL ACT

Are Asked by the London Aldermen, Who Would Prevent Bye-Elections.

Toronto, March 15.—A London deputation, headed by Col. Leys, M. P. P. and comprising Mayor Rumball and six of the aldermen, waited on the Premier asking for some changes in the Municipal Act.

The most important changes requested are:

1 That the Council may provide that of the aldermen elected for the first year one-half the number, being the half who recieved the highest number of votes, shall hold office for two years and at each subsequent election one half of the whole number of aldermen shall be elected, and shall hold office for two years.

2 That in case of a vacancy in the office of alderman, the unsuccessful canditate who recieved the highest number of votes at the last municipal election, shall be entitled to the office upon taking the requisite oath of qualification, and in the event of his failure to do so, or upon his disclaiming the office, one of the canditates following in regular order as to number of votes received shall become entitled to the office.

3 That if all the aldermen have been elected by acclamation or no candidate takes the vacant office the Council shall immediately after the time for filling the vacancy has expired elect one alderman to fill such vacancy for the remainder of the term of the member whose seat has become vacant.

4 That the Council may provide that in the event of the office of Mayor becoming vacant during the year it may be filled by the Council from amongst its own members.

5 That a sepprate ballot be used for the election of Mayor from that used for thee election of aldermen.

6 That the polls be opened at eight o'clock a.m.

7 That the qualification of a member of a City Council be $5,000 freehold, and that the leasehold qualification be abolished.

8 That power should be given to Municipal Councils to pass by-laws requiring that the capacity of all baskets and boxes in which fruits or vegetables are sold (otherwise than by weight) shall be plainly marked in a conspicuous place upon them.

9 That additional power should be given to all city municipalities to pass by-laws for regulating the use of bicycles and other vehicles.

10 That power should be given to Councils of cities and towns to pass by-laws for the inspection and regulation of wires and other apparatus used for the transmission of electricity for purposes of light or power.

CHRISTIAN DEWET, SOLDIER AND WIT

Character Sketch of the Man of the Hour in Africa

SAYS "COME, LET US SCOOT."

Marked Characteristics are Imperturability Zeal, Humor and Kindness to His Men

London, March 16.—The following sketch of General De Wet from the pen of Mr. Howard C. Hillegas, throws new light on the man who has more than any other kept alive the wonderful resistance of the Boer republics; who has taken 5,000 British prisoners, and destroyed many millions of dollars' worth of their ammunition; besides maintaining his commando by his captures of supply trains.

"In personal appearance, General De Wet is easily surpassed by every burgher in his commandos. In searching for the commander-in-chief of the forces one would choose every one else first. He is not as tall as the average Boer, and he is much less handsome. Usually his clothing is as ragged as that of his poorest burgher, and when he is astride his favorite old horse the commandant-general is an object of pity rather than of admiration. This is the result of his habit of exchanging articles of clothing with those of the men who appeal to him for new outfits. It is one of his ways of retaining the affection of his men. General De Wet is possessed of a commonly gentle disposition; but his temper is most violent when aroused. When the time for action comes, he is a stern martinet; while forming plans for battle or movement, he talks over details with everybody, but when the time comes to act, even his most trusted lieutenants do not know his purpose.

MARKED CHARACTERISTICS.

"The most marked characteristics of the commandant-general are his imperturbability under adverse conditions, his zealous devotion to official work, his effervescent humor, his kindness to the burghers and prisoners, his great regard for the opinions of the enemy, and his unbounded, inextinguishable faith in the ultimate success of his and his country's cause. Although the greater part of his life has been devoted to peaceful pastoral pursuits, De Wet is as calm a fighter as though he had been a soldier from his youth. At Rooivaal, in June, while Lord Kitchener and thirty thousand troops were trying to capture him, De Wet spent a half-day in leisurely looking over his devastated farm. As he was returning to his laager, a despatch-rider brought him the information that the British had occupied a certain favorable position. 'Come,' he said quickly, as he mounted his pony, 'let us scoot!'

A GREAT HUMORIST.

"By his men he is regarded as the greatest humorist in the commandos, and they are constantly enjoying his jokes. Not long ago he promised three prisoners their freedom if they agreed to carry a message to their general. The message which the British read was: 'Please chain these three men; I am catching them every day.' In April he and fifteen of his men rode to Dewetsdorp, where he was born, for the purpose of visiting his father. Late in the evening they discovered that McQueenie's Irish Fusileers, three hundred strong, occupied the town. Promptly he sent his grim message to the British commander: 'Surrender, or we shall annex you.' At sunrise next morning De Wet had his entire commando on the spot, and after a short battle the Fusileers were captured. While he was leading his forces northward from Wepener to Thaba N'Chu, with the British in close pursuit, he received a message from one of the commandants in the rear asking for reinforcements for that prat of the hard-pressed column. De Wet replied: 'If you can't fight your way through, you deserve to be caught.' After capturing vast quantities of stores and clothing, four thousand shells, and enough small-arms ammunition to supply his army for more than two years, on his own farm at Rooivaal, in June, De Wet remarked to one of his generals: 'That's a better crop than I ever raised on that place in peace times.' Even in his favorite way of giving a command to move, 'Come, let us scoot,' there is a touch of humor, for the last word is one he has borrowed from his enemy's language."

TOLEDO IS UNDER WATER

Streets Flooded, Bridges Damaged, Freight Depots Submerged

Toledo, O., March 16.—The citizens of Toledo are greatly alarmed over the indications of a flood. An enormous gorge of ice has formed at the mouth of the river, where it empties into the bay, and the water is backing up into the city at the rate of six inches an hour.

Water street is flooded. Presque Isle is under water, and hundreds of thousands of dollars' damage has already been wrought. It is feared the Cherry Street Bridge is ruined by the ice rushing against the piers.

Every delivery team in the city that can be pressed into service is at work removing goods from Water and Front streets to safer quarters.

The railroad offices and freight depots are submerged, and the grain elevators deserted and closed.

LABOR MEETING IN THE OPERA HOUSE

FAVOR MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

All the Speakers Would Like to See Municipal Ownership More Fully Carried Out

The labor meeting at the opera house last night was largely attended.

Mr. R. F. McGregor officiated as chairman, and on the platform were seated, Messrs. Thos. Anderson, O. F. Brown, J. Gerrard, G. Ball and G. Mowatt.

Mr. Ball made a few brief remarks in favor of municipal ownership and explained why he preferred that to ownership by private individuals or companies. He also favored trade unions, and pointed out some of the benefits of organization.

Mr. Brown also made a few remarks in which he advocated labor organizations. He pointed out the Northwest and British Columbia as an illustration of what can be done by the aid of unions. In his recitation, "The Man Who Saved St. Michaels," he showed very forcibly what power the working men have and compared the slaves who saved that famous place to the laborers of to-day.

RALPH SMITH M.P.

Ralph Smith, M.P. for Vancouver, and President Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, then spoke, and was enthusiastically received. He spoke at some length on the influence of labor organization and stated that he thought British Columbia was better off in that respect than the eastern part of Canada. He said that by laborers he did not mean only men who worked with the pick and shovel, but he considered every man a laborer who contributed to the efficiency of any trade or industry.

Mr. Smith had many years experience with labor unions both in England and in Canada, and said he thought there should be at least 1,500 union laborers in Peterborough. He gave instances of where some of the largest employers in the continent favored unions, because the union men were the best, and he strongly disapproved of cheap Chinese and Italian labor.

He called special attention to the fact that even capitalists favor unions now, and that very few of them invest any capital without first organizing and forming a company. This he said should teach the laborers that organization is better.

His plan of forming a union is for all the craftsmen to join together and stand up for their rights. There are some men, he explained, who do not need a union as they are capable of holding up their rights alone. These men should help along those who are weak and cannot do so.

He then discussed the cheap labor question and explained that it was the labor unions of British Columbia that advocated, and finally succeeded in getting the head tax on the Chinese raised from $50 to $100. This will tend to reduce the number of Chinese in the Province and give union men a better chance.

A. W. PUTTEE M.P.

Mr. Puttee, M.P., labor member for Winnipeg, was the next speaker, and followed up Mr. Smith in advocating labor unions. He is of the opinion that a community where there is a union and where good wages are paid is better off in hard times than a non-union place. Good wages help the merchant, as men getting good wages pay a good price for everything they get. He said that countries where cheap labor is in vogue, are not as prosperous as those where good wages are paid. He took for examples in his illustrations, China, Mexico and India, and showed very forcibly that they are not so prosperous, nor the people so well-to-do as in other countries where good wages are paid.

He then discussed the question of municipal ownership and took for example the electric light plant in Winnipeg. He said that before the city bought the light plant, they paid 45c. a light per night and had not very good light at that. After the city purchased the plant they had far better light and it only cost 19 1-2 cts. per night. Another instance he took was the muddy streets in Winnipeg. The citizens could do nothing to clear the streets of mud, and the expense was very high to pave them. The city bought a stone quarry, paid union men by the day to pave the streets and they have no mud now. He advised all the tradesmen in Peterborough to organize and form unions as soon as possible, and said he expected to come here in a couple of years and address a meeting of union men.

It was then moved by J. H. McClelland and seconded by J. J. Hartley that a vote of thanks be tendered the gentlemen who addressed the meeting. This was carried and the meeting then closed.

Free School Books

The Ontario Government has been asked, if in all its giving, it has considered the question of providing the public and separate schools with free text books. The buying of books for the little folks is quite a burden to ordinary people with large families, and whether is be practicable or not for the Government to undertake this big expenditure with the many others, is a question, but it is worth looking into carefully.

GOLD PRODUCTION.

It is not stated on what actual date he bases his calculation—and, judging from the past experience of the world there can be no such date—but Professor Shaler, of Harvard University, thinks that the production of gold in the next hundred years is sure to be so great that after allowing for all the loss by absorption in the arts and by the wear of coin the addition to the world's stock of that metal will not be less than $30,000,000,000. One would imagine that the natural expansion of the trade and industry of the world can easily take care of a yearly addition of $300,000,000 to the stock of gold available for money. That is not greatly in excess of the annual production of the past few years.

THE MURDER OF KNOX.

The Hon. David Mills, Minister of Justice, is, it seems, about to demand an indemnity from the American government for the murder of Knox, the Canadian, in Mississippi the other day. It is not necessary to recall the incident; it was, apparently, a case of brutal lynching, without any semblance of a trial. It goes without saying, also, that unless pressure be brought to bear upon the local authorities nothing will be done with the murderers. And there is just where the difficulty is: the Federal Government Government is very reluctant—even if it has the right—to interfere in State matters, for each State has its own criminal code and administers or fails to administer the same as it seems fit. In Canada there is one criminal code for the whole Dominion, but there is no Federal code or Federal administration in the individual States. The jealous care with which interference from Washington is watched was clearly seen the other day in South Carolina in connection with the "Negro Stockade" trials. The judge denounced the practices in the strongest terms and expressed the hope that the guilty parties would be sufficiently punished; but, he added, "South Carolina will attend to this matter herself; she wants no outside interference." The Canadian claim will, therefore, in all possibility, be referred by Washington to the State of Mississippi, and the latter will do nothing. Then Washington may offer a sort of "solatium," not as acknowledging any liability, but simply as a matter of grace. This was what was done in the Italian affair a few years ago. Of course, back of this, is the question whether a man ought not to run the risk and bear the consequences when he goes to a country where law is powerless. This is too large a subject, however, to discuss just now.

THE TIMES' ANNIVERSARY.

The Morning Times is nineteen years old to-day. It completes the last year with the largest circulation it has ever had, with the same activity and enterprise that have characterized it from the beginning and in the prosperity that has attended it.

The Times has been from the first the newspaper of the people. Energetic, comprehensive and truthful in the publication of the news and honest and fearless in the discussion of all public questions, it early made for itself the leading place in the front rank of popular journalism that it holds more strongly than ever today.

Success has never weaned the Times' devotion to the rights of the people and their liberties, or its hostility to all forms of political corruption and tyranny and to the dangerous encroachments of wealth and power upon our free institutions. The Times stands for fidelity in public trust and in national obligations, and for those principles which are dear to every honest citizen.

The Times greets its many readers on this birthday with unchanging confidence and courage. At no time in its history was it ever as widely read as now or as well equipped in all departments of legitimate newspaper activity. In the continued evidence of public esteem and confidence it sees still large opportunities, in the coming years, of useful service to the people.

CIRCULAR ON SMALLPOX.

Toronto, March 16.—The Provincial Board of Health has prepared a circular regarding the smallpox outbreak for distribution to the physicians and health authorities throughout province. [illegible] of the way to diagnose the present kind of smallpox so prevalent in some districts. Cuts of patients in the different stages of the disease are given and these will undoubtedly be of value. The symptoms which pre-areola around the vesicles, which appear first in forehead, face and wrists and pass gradually downward over the body, becoming mature and pustular by the fourth or fifth day with their typical umbilication.

1. A prodromal period of more than 24 hours with headache, pain in the back and vomiting.

2. The rapid abatement of prodromal fever and malaise after 24 hours and until the appearance of the secondary eruption.

3. A primary erythematous eruption or rash, especially covering the abdomen.

4. The appearance on the third day from onset of the papular eruption with its firm shot-like feeling, and the tendency of the eruption to appear especially on exposed surfaces, as face and wrists, notably on forehead and about nose and lips along with an increase of temperature.

5. The appearance early of a red ing seldom any primary rash) and may become vesicles within three days; some abort at this stage and dry up while others become semi-purulent, marked at the apex with a dark spot but with no notable umbilication.

In some there is no secondary fever.

Ending the circular says;

In conclusion it may be suggested that wherever any doubtful case occurs in the practice of any physician he will best consult his own comfort and interest by reporting his suspicions promptly to the local health authorities, who, knowing their responsibility, make it a regular practice to report to the Provincial Board and in the meantime isolate the case, vaccinate the family and others exposed, and await the progress of the case till its nature is finally determined.

In the instance of any doubtful rash, it is wisdom to vaccinate the patient immediately and isolate him for a week. If vaccination with good lymph fails, the case most probably is smallpox.

6 The appearance of the eruptive visicles on the roof of the mouth and fauces—this being of special diagnostic value.

These hints are also given:

Some cases have but little prodromal fever; some have pains in back, some do not; some vomit, some do not.

In some the eruption without shotty feeling appears altogether and disappears with one crop; in others there is the shotty feeling with occasionally another crop of vesicles.

All the secondary eruptions are papular in the first stagee (there bcede the disease are given at some length. The following are given as the chief diagnostic features of smallpox;

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. One agent sold 68 in one day. Sample and terms 25 cts (non free); four for 80 cts; $1.75 per dozen; 25 for $3.25; 50 for $6.00; 100 for $11.00 Writ to day fora dozen and make money. Home Novelty Mfg. THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Salida copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the Rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims: The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Salida, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Salida. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of Salida at Cleora station, on the main Trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

Fifth Annual Report

Submitted to the shareholders at the Annual General Meeting at the Company's offices, 3 Toronto street, Toronto, on Monday, the 18th day of February, 1901.

The Directors, in presenting their Fifth Annual Report, with the accompanying financial statements for the year, 1900, have pleasure in directing attention to the steady increase in the Company's transactions and to its continued satisfactory progress.

The amount derived as income from investments was $1,697.02.

Eight hundred and thirty-two claims were paid during the year, amounting, after deducting $5,163.42, received from reinsuring companies, to $40,951.36.

The Revenue Account submitted herewith, after debiting all charges and expenses, shows a balance of $8,355.03. This has been applied as follows: $1,000.00 to Reserve, $5,000.00 to Contingency Account, $1,709.20 in payment of Dividend No. 3, $645.83 unappropriated. The Reserve Fund now stands at $21,000.00 and the Contingency Fund at $6,000.00.

The Company's paid-up capital is now $43,000.00, and the securities deposited with the Receiver-General at Ottawa amount to $35,281.80.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

LARRATT W. SMITH,
President.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE FIFTH ANNUAL MEETING.

The fifth annual general meeting of the Shareholders was held at the Company's offices, No. 3 Toronto street, Toronto, on Monday, the 18th February, 1901, at 2 o'clock, p.m.

The following Shareholders were present: W. H. Pearson, A. W. Thomas, Dr. Larratt W. Smith, A. L. Eastmure, R. Shaw Wood (London), F. J. Lightbourn, J. F. Smith, K.C., E. C. Boeckh, George W. Monk, J. P. Steedman (Hamilton), J. N. Shenstone, R. Grass, E. T. Lightbourn and 35 Shareholders represented by proxy.

The chair was occupied by the president, Dr. Larratt W. Smith, and Mr. F. J. Lightbourn, the secretary, acted as secretary of the meeting.

The notice calling the meeting having been read by the secretary, the President submitted the report, together with the financial statements, and said:

Gentlemen,—In presenting this report, the fifth in the history of the company, I am glad again to be able to point to the continued steady increase in its business. The gross premium income for the year reached the not inconsiderable sum of $88,495.83, as against $71,857.36 in 1899, $46,126.88 in 1898, $31,440.56 in 1897, and $24,764.60 in 1896. The increase may fairly be attributed to the Company's promptness in meeting all just obligations; and to the putting forward of new and attractive plans, suited to the changing hazards of the times. During the year 1900 eight hundred and thirty-two persons received indemnity under the Company's policies, the amount disbursed being $46,114.78. In all 2366 claims, totalling $106,167.74, have been paid since the Company commenced operations, while the total premiums amounted to $262,714.23. For the five years during which the Company has been in business, the loss percentage on its total transactions equals 40 2-5 per cent. The reserve is now $21,000, or nearly 50 per cent. of the paid-up capital, besides which $5000 has been provided as a contingency account for possible losses. While a uniform tariff for liability coverings, which, at our last meeting, seemed certain of early adoption, has not been completely established, I am glad to be able to state that some improvement has taken place in these ratings, the result of individual action by a majority of the companies.

During the year careful attention has been given to the various systems of insurance operated by the Company, and its plans and policies are believed to supply every essential requirement. The Company's agency representation extends to every inhabited part of the Dominion, and, being in the hands of representative men, is influential, enterprising and energetic. The Charter Fund (being the preliminary outlays incurred in organizing the Company), which had been distributed over a period of five years, is now fully paid off, so will not appear again in the abstracts. The loss percentage during the year 1900 was unusually high, the number of fatal accidents (11 under Personal Accident and 16 under Liability policies) having been in excess of the average. Nevertheless, the reserve has stadily increased and substantial progress has been made. I feel that we are justified in regarding the results to date as satisfactory and in anticipating continued and increasing success in our future operations. I am again glad to be able to give expression to the appreciation of the Board at the care, zeal and efficiency displayed by the Executive officers and staff in the management of the Company's affairs, without which the same measure of success could not have been attained, and now beg to move, seconded by the Vice-President:

"That the third annual report now submitted be adopted, and that the same, together with the financial statements read therewith, be printed and a copy thereof forwarded to each of the Shareholders."

The Vice-President, Mr. A. L. Eastmure, in seconding the motion for the adoption of the report, said:

They were meeting at a time when the Dominion was shadowed by the Empire's bereavement in the death of Her late Majesty our revered Queen, whose long and beneficient reign had been associated with so many glories, in which Canada shared.

The present was the fifth occasion upon which it had been his privilege to second the President's motion for the adoption of the Company's annual report. There had been steady growth during the entire period, each succeeding year's income showing a substantial increase over that of its predecessor. During the year 1900 nine accident companies operated in the Dominion. The majority were well organized, and competition had probably been greater than at any previous period. Despite this, the "Ontario Accident" had issued in that year 4068 policies, for $11,214,685, the premiums, as stated in the report, being $16,926.10 in excess of those of 1899.

The directors had again made provision for any unreported or possible losses by setting apart the contingency fund, which appeared in the abstracts. The principle of providing indemnity against disability caused by disease had made considerable progress in Canada during the year, but the necessity for adopting well considered rates to meet the hazard had not yet been realized by all the companies. The same remark applied to the transaction of liability business.

The Company had enlarged its plans by the introduction of several new systems during the year, and in Personal Accident, Health, Workmen's Protective, Employers' and General Liability Insurance offered advantages excelled by no other company. The "Ontario Accident" had maintained its record as a favorite company with agents and policyholders. Its methods were progressive, its plans flexible and capable of adaption to every possible requirement in casualty underwriting, and those advantages, together with the Company's excellent financial standing, all contributed to its popularity.

In closing, Mr. Eastmure referred to the Company's general business, mentioning particularly that numbers of the largest and most prominent employers of labor in every province of the Dominion, embracing almost every branch of industry, were policyholders with them; whilst the Company's personal plans, especially its method of paying immediate cash for specific injuries, had always been regarded favorably by professional and business men. Their latest policy provided indemnity against disability occasioned by accident or any kind of sickness.

The report was adopted unanimously, after which it was moved by Mr. W. H. Pearson, seconded by Mr. Shaw Wood, and carried:

"That the thanks of the Shareholders are justly due to the Company's General and District Agents in the several provinces, for the zeal and efficiency displayed by them in their several departments during the year."

The following gentlemen addressed the meeting on the above resolution:

M. G. W. Monk (ex-M.P.P., Director Canada Permanent and Western Canada Mortgage Corp.), Mr. E. C. Boeckh (Messrs. Charles Boeckh & Sons), Mr. R. Grass Vice-President Excelsior Life Assurance Co.) and Mr. W. H. Pearson (General Manager and Secretary Consumers' Gas Co.). The speakers were unanimous in expressing their appreciation of the work performed by the Company's representatives.

On motion, Messrs. Clarkson & Cross were reappointed Auditors for the ensuing year.

Mr. A. W. Thomas and Mr. E. T. Lightburn, having been appointed scrutineers, reported the following gentlemen re-elected as Directors: Larratt W. Smith, A. L. Eastmure, W. H. Pearson, J. Herbert Mason, R. Shaw Wood (London), Lieut.-Col. R. E. C. Jarvis, J. N. Shenstone, Edward L. Bond (Montreal) and J. H. Brock (Winnipeg).

After the usual vote of thanks to the President, Vice-President, Directors, Secretary and officials in the office, the meeting adjourned.

At a meeting of the Directors, held immediately after the annual meeting, Dr. Larratt W. Smith was re-elected President and Mr. A. L. Eastmure Vice-President of the Company.

Executive Committee: Messrs. Larraatt W. Smith, A. L. Eastmure and W. H. Pearson.

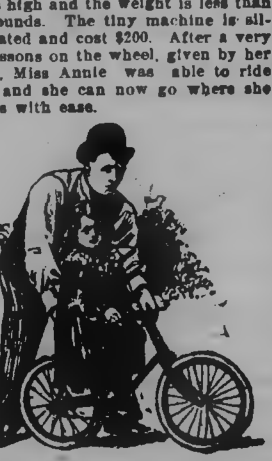
THE YOUNGEST CYCLIST IN AMERICA.

Miss Annie Brain of Des Moines, Ia., Rides a Tiny Wheel and Does Difficult Tricks.

Annie Brain is perhaps the youngest trick rider in the world, if not the youngest child who ever rode a bicycle. She is three years old, and has been riding for two months. Her parents live in Des Moines, Ia., where her father is in business.

The wheel she rides was made to order. It has a twelve-inch frame and is geared to 36. The wheels are fourteen inches high and the weight is less than ten pounds. The tiny machine is silver-plated and cost $200. After a very few lessons on the wheel, given by her father, Miss Annie was able to ride alone and she can now go where she pleases with ease.



Miss Annie Brain and Her Bicycle.

She picked up the numerous tricks that she performs by watching her elders and the few professionals she saw. To these she added tricks of her own invention, until now she can give a performance that contains many new feats. She has appeared at various bicycle meets in Iowa and a short time ago captured the visitors at a meet of the A. A. clubs in St. Louis. During the State fair at Des Moines she made her last public appearance, as her father is afraid that the excitement attending public performances may have an injurious effect.

She is a member of the Syracuse Bicycle Club of Des Moines, and proudly carries a watch as diminutive as herself, which was presented by other members of the club. She has numerous other prizes and trophies won and presented to her by admirers. On the wheel she is extremely graceful, and when riding around a track she presents a charming picture, looking not unlike a wax doll. She dearly loves to give public performances and appreciates the applause with which her feats are invariably greeted.

Storing Roots.

A writer in the "Nebraska Farmer" says: "We always find turnips put in the cellar become pithy and worthless. My method is to obviate this, and I do it in this way: When I pull my turnips I cut off the top way down into the turnip, cut deep enough to cut all the eye out; then cut the root off smooth and nice, and you have them in a condition to place in a cool part of the cellar, or to bury out in open ground, and you need have no fear of pithy turnips. Beets should be buried out of doors, with manure over the dirt, so the ground will not freeze. In this way you can get at them any time in the winter. A part of the parsnip crop should be in the fall; they may be put in the cellar; no matter if they do wilt, they are so much the sweeter."

Paint for One Cent a Pound.

To one gallon of soft hot water add four pounds sulphate of zinc (crude). Let it dissolve perfectly, and a sediment will settle at the bottom. Turn the clear solution into another vessel. To one gallon of paint (lead and oil) mix one gallon of the compound. Stir it into the paint slowly for ten or fifteen minutes, and the compound and paint will perfectly combine. If too thick, thin it with turpentine.

WOUNDS OF TREES.

Mixtures for Covering Them Cheaply and Safely.

It often happens that, either by intention, as in pruning, or by accident, trees are wounded in various ways. A common practice is to cover large wounds with coal tar; but this is objected to by some as injurious to the tree. Experiments made in the orchards and gardens of the Pomological Institute, at Ruthlegen, in Germany, go to show, however, that its true use is not injurious; but that, on the contrary, a callous readily forms under the tar, on the edges of the wound, and that the wounded part is thus protected from decay. There is, nevertheless, another objection, for if the tar is applied a little too thick the sun melts it and it runs down on the bark of the tree. This can be obviated by mixing and stirring and thus incorporating with the tar about three or four times its weight of powdered slate, known as slate-flour—the mixture being also known as plastic slate and used for roofing purposes. It is easily applied with an old knife or flat stick, and though it hardens on the surface, it remains soft and elastic underneath. The heat of the sun does not melt it, nor does the coldest winter weather cause it to crack—neither does it peel off.

The same mixture is also useful for other purposes in the garden. Leaky water-pots, barrels, pails, gutters, sashes, etc., can be easily repaired with it, and much annoyance and loss of time be thus avoided. It will stick to any surface, provided it be not oily, and as it does not harden when kept in a mass it is always ready for use. A gallon will last for a long time.

A most excellent preparation for small wounds and for grafting is thus prepared: Melt a pound of rosin over a slow fire. When melted take it from the fire and add two ounces of balsam of fir (Canada balsam), or two ounces of Venice turpentine (not spirits of turpentine), stirring it constantly. As soon as it is cool enough mix in four to six ounces of alcohol of 95 degrees strength—according to the season—until it is as thick as molasses. It keeps well in close-corked bottles for a long time. Should it become too thick by the gradual evaporation of the alcohol it is easily thinned by putting the bottle in warm water and stirring in sufficient alcohol to bring it to a proper fluidity. It is applied with a brush.

This preparation is much better than liquid grafting wax composed of rosin, beef tallow and spirits of turpentine, which often granulates. If there be any danger that the clons will dry up by evaporation they may, beneficially, be brushed over with this composition, it being first made more fluid by adding alcohol. By this means I succeeded, in February of last year, in grafting a single eye of Aegle Sepinaria upon a lemon tree, in a dry sitting-room, without the use of any glass covering.

The Bouquet Game.

A pretty and amusing game is called the "bouquet," and is thus played:

One of the players is asked to name her or his favorite flowers; this is done, mentioning three or four—as the lily, the rose, the violet or any other flower. This person is then invited to leave the room.

Then other players designate, by the names of the chosen flowers, several friends or playmates, absent or present, of the one who has withdrawn.

The absent one is now called back and asked, "What will you do with the lily?" To which is perhaps answered, "I will wear it next my heart." "The rose?" "I will cast it aside," and so on until the player has disposed of all the flowers according to her fancy.

Then she is told whom they represent and perhaps finds that she has cast away her dearest friend, or has given the place of honor to one whom she regards with indifference.

If she gives droll or incongruous answers the game is rendered more lively and amusing.

A CLOTHES REEL.

It costs quite a sum to buy a good clothes reel, and many people still use th straight line, while a cheap and durable reel may be made in a few hours. Dig a hole 1½ feet in diameter, and 2½ feet deep. Get two scantling (A and B) 4 inches square and 7 feet long; nail a slat across their bottoms to keep them 4 inches apart; also spike a 4-inch cube (D) between them and 3 feet from the top; then place these in the hole and fill it with earth. Hunt up the arm, axles and wheel of some old wagon; take off the wheel, knock all the spokes out of the hub (E), saw off the other axle, hew the arm (F) down until 4 inches square, and nail 2-inch plank on the bottom of the arm until 3 feet long; bore a ⅝-inch hole in the arm just below the axle (G); place the arm and axle upon the 4-inch cube, and hold by four pieces of wide band iron (gg), each 1 foot long, two pieces to a side. The two upper bands should be nailed to the scantling 2 inches from the top, and the second two should be nailed 1 foot 10 inches from the first. Bore a ⅝-inch hole in scantling (B), just above the lower band (g); also another, 6 inches above ground, in scantling (A). In this put a wooden pin (J), and let it project about 6 inches. Get a piece of 1½-inch board, 5 feet long and 2½ inches wide, for the lever (H). Bore a ⅝-inch hole 2 inches from one end, and 1 foot from the first bore a ⅝-inch hole. Buy a piece of iron 2 feet long, 1 inch wide and ¼ inch thick. Get the blacksmith to put a ⅝-inch hole in each end; also get two square-headed 6-inch screw bolts, made of ⅝-inch iron. Get another bolt and burr about 3 inches long, and of same material. Take one of the 6-inch bolts, put it through the ⅝-inch hole in the end of the lever, then screw it into the hole in the arm. Put the other 6-inch bolt through one end of the iron, and screw it into the hole in the scantling. Put the 3-inch bolt through the other end of the iron and screw it into the second hole in the lever, and put the burr on well. Procure 4 pieces of 1½-inch boards, 6 feet long, 2½ inches wide, and fit each into the hub at equal distances. Holes should be drilled at equal distances in the rim of the hub, and through these wires are put, which fasten to the arm pieces (K K) 2 feet from the hub. These wires serve as braces. Clothes-line wire is placed in three rows, each row being 2 feet from the next. Grease the axle well and put on the reel. Now your clothes reel is complete, except the painting, which may be any desirable color.—F. H. Orris.

Cost of Making Butter.

The cost of the manufacture of a pound of butter in the creamery is almost entirely governed by the quantity of milk handled by that creamery, and a decrease in teh cost, on account of the magnitude of the business, is followed by an increase of the price paid to farmers for butter fat. One creamery in one of the dairy counties in Iowa manufactured 400,000 pounds of butter at a cost of 1 cent per pound; another 539,000 pounds of butter at a cost of 1.2 cents. In the smaller creameries the cost is reported at from 5 to 7 cents per pound, the average being 3 cents. In creameries handling not more than 2,250,000 pounds of milk, the average cost is 2.42 cents, and when 1,000,000 pounds are added the cost falls to 2.2 cents, while in creameries receiving more than 3,500,000 pounds of milk, the average cost is 1.79 cents.

When a creamery is established, every farmer who patronizes it, or intends to patronize it, should exert himself to the utmost to increase the supply of milk to the creamery. In so doing he will cheapen the cost of manufacture, and thus advance the price of his own cream. The attitude of a few leading farmers is frequently the life or death of a struggling creamery. If these men throw their active support to the creamery, they can increase the supply of milk, and thus enable the creameryman to give an increased price. This increased price renders it comparatively easy to secure still further patronage, and, in time an industry, profitable alike to the farmer and the creamery man, will be built up; but if they withdraw their support and discourage their neighbors, they decrease the amount of milk, and decrease the price, and frequently compel the creamery to close or become a mere skim station.—Wallace's Farmer.

Big Four Con. G. M. Co.
LIMITED

Mines one mile west of Rossland, directly west of the Le Roi No. 1 and Le Roi No. 2. Four properties. All Crown granted.

THE LeRoi No. 1 once sold for 2 cents and went to $45 per share; and the Le Roi No. 2 £5 shares went to £23, or $110 per share in a few months.

Our memorandum of association contains a provision, provided by Section 56 of the Companies Act, 1897, that the shares are issued as Fully Paid Up and Non Assessable, and that no further liability beyond the amount actually paid upon shares shall attach to the holders thereof. Capital $250,000.

Our properties are now proved (both above and below ground) to have the same continuous ore veins as the LeRoi Companies, and have the same identical ore and our shares are well worth TWENTY FIVE CENTS now, and will surely bring fifty cents. And we can, with a very small capital, develop our property to such an extent that it can also be placed on the London market, where it belongs—and small investors will make a good profit by buying now.

Our assays have averaged from $5 to $800 in gold, copper and silver and the shipping facilities are the best. The Great Northern Railway runs three times through the ground, three smelters close at hand, and reduced charges of $4.50 per ton for shipping and smelting, and we are now getting ready to start shipping ore.

Irrespective of the merits of the BIG FOUR, we have now over 570,000 shares in our treasury and free from all incumbrance. We are amongst the few local companies that has complied with the law in every particular, and we venture to say have DONE MORE WORK WITH LESS MONEY THAN ANY COMPANY IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The Aristos GOLD MINING CO.

Owning Big Horn Mountain Tunnel and Veneta Vein, 200 acres situated on the Western Slope of Pike's Peak, in the famous Cripple Creek Gold Mining District.

THE SAFEST OFFER EVER MADE TO INVESTORS.

It is printed on each certificate that subscribers to the above Preferred Shares will be entitled to receive in Dividends the full amount of money invested, before other stockholders receive any returns, signed by the President of the Company.

This district produced more Gold in 1900 than any other in the United States

This property consists of 3000 by 3000 feet, or 200 acres, of gold land. The mine has been worked. The feature of this mine is the Veneta Vein, 30 to 40 feet in width, and is certainly one of the strongest veins in this famous district. There are some fifteen openings on this vein, the ore from which assays in gold from $12 to $100 per ton. The property is advantageously located for development by tunnel, which will make it possible to produce an enormous amount of ore daily, the quantity varying from 200 to 500 tons per day. The development by TUNNELING is the most economical and advantageous manner of working this property.

At a distance of 800 feet the Tunnel will intersect the Veneta Vein at a depth of about 680 feet, and will also intersect several other veins. The tunnel will cut the Big Horn Mountain 2100 feet deep, and will give this company 2,000,000 tons of ore, worth over $20 per ton.

The new railroad, now practically completed from Colorado Springs, called the Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek road, passes within 2000 feet of this Tunnel

Adjoining this property is the Colorado Springs TUNNEL Company. In this property at a depth of 400 feet, the Veneta Vein was cut. At this point the vein was fully 20 feet in width, and its value from $20 to $1000 per ton.

There are already in operation mills and smelters sufficient to treat the output of this property, which gives at once cash returns.

Capital Stock $1,000,000. Par Value $1.00 Per Share. 100,000 Shares Preferred Stock at 25c. Per Share.

In buying this stock the purchaser owns a direct title in the Company's property. This Company offers you no watered stock, but a legitimate high-grade gold-mining investment in the Cripple Creek District.

The above offer of Preferred Dividends is an assurance of early returns. After additional machinery is erected, this property will be earning dividends almost equal to its Capital Stock.

Strength and Endurance

Are factors of the greatest success.

No person can do full justice to himself without them.

In no season of the year are they more easily exhausted than in the spring

We need not discuss the reason for this here. It's enough to say there is one, and that Hood's Sarsaparilla gives strength and endurance, as thousands annually testify.

Preparing for the Census

Mr. Robert Kerr, of Messrs. Richard Hall & Son, has been appointed census commissioner for West Peterborough by the Dominion Government. Yesterday Mr. Kerr went to Port Perry, where a school of instruction was held by the District Commissioner, which was attended by all interested in taking the census. The appointment of Mr. Kerr gives general satisfaction.

For South Africa.

Mr. A. P. Poussette, K.C., received a telegram yesterday from his brother in Sarnia, stating that the latter's son, Adjutant H. R. Poussette, had accepted a commission as captain in the Baden-Powell constabulary force, which is about to embark for South Africa. Captain Poussette is only 26 years of age, and is very popular. He is receiving the congratulations of his friends.

The South Central School

Our local contemporaries would have their readers believe that The Times stated a deliberate untruth in its article in Tuesday's issue on the South Central School. The letter of Mr. F. Burdett, in another column, fully bears out the assertions made by this journal. As we said before, we are satisfied the School Board will, now that matters have been brought to a crisis, have the school put in a first class sanitary condition.

Miss Carson at the Y.W.C.A.

Read what a leading Toronto Daily says of the Gospel meetings of Miss Carson of Christodora House, New York: "The services at the Y.W.C.A., 18 Elm street, addressed by Miss Carson, of New York, are attracting a large number of young women. Miss Carson has had a wide and varied experience among young women in the associations and colleges of the United States, and is one of the most helpful workers at the Young Women's Conference at Northfield, Mass., where Mr. Moody's summer schools are held." Miss Carson will hold just one of such meetings to-morrow afternoon at our Y.W.C.A. rooms, 168 Brock street, at 4.15. All women are welcome.

Want Trade Schools

Mr. W. Bennett, representing the Orillia Board of Trade, was one of a deputation which waited on the Dominion Government last week and laid before it a memorial praying for the establishment of a national system of technical education. The petitioners set forth the importance of providing suitable education for the classes engaged in industrial pursuits in Canada. They pointed out the technical education had now become a question of national importance, which will seriously affect the future prosperity of the Dominion. That in 1891 Canada's per capita of production was $98.50, whilst the United States was $143. That Canada pays millions a year to the superior artists and artisans of foreign countries, every cent of which represents foreign tax voluntarily paid in consequence of ignorance and want of skill at home.

NEARLY A FATALITY

Two Men Very Nearly Drowned at Indian River

While harvesting ice at Indian River yesterday morning, P. Burke and J. Landrigan nearly lost their lives.

It appears that Burke accidentally stepped on a block of ice that had been cut off, and which was floating in the water. He went down twice, and in his efforts to save the drowning man, Landrigan was dragged in. The timely arrival of Michael and Fred Walsh saved the lives of the two men, who were with difficulty rescued.

MARKET TOLLS

Mr. J. J. Hutchinson Secured the Clerkship for $1,300

The annual sale of market tolls took place at the Council Chamber yesterday morning. Mr. J. J. Hutchinson being the successful purchaser at $1,300 which is $280 below the price obtained last year from Mr. W. J. English. There was a large attendance at the sale. Municipal interests were represented by the Market Committee of the Town Council, Aldermen Batten, Chairman, Edgecumbe, Clinkscale and Shortly, together with Town Solicitor Edwards, who, previous to the call for bids by Auctioneer Stapleton, read the provisions of sale as set forth in the town by-law, and also the duties of the successful purchaser as Market Clerk.

There were three bidders, Messrs. John Hayes, J. J. Hutchinson and Gus Sawers. Bidding started off at a canter, Mr. Hayes beginning with $500, Mr. Hutchinson raising to $600 and Mr. Sawers to $700. Mr. Hayes went $800 and Mr. Hutchinson $900. Mr. Sawers rested a lap and Mr. Hayes raised to $1,000. The next call brought Mr. Sawers to $1,100, and there he dropped out. Mr Hutchinson went $1,200 and Mr. Hayes saw $1,250, $1,270 and $1,290, while Mr. Hutchinson went him repeatedly $10 better, bidding $1,260, $1,280 and finally $1,300. This Auctioneer Stapleton, with all his persuasive eloquence, could not raise and the tolls were knocked down to Mr. J. J. Hutchinson.

There was a reserved bid, but the highest open offer proved good.

FOOD AND WISDOM.

Brain Workers Learn the Secret.

Ambitious students who study hard and try their best to gain an education, frequently give down under the pressure and are greatly disappointed when they find they cannot carry out the cherished desire of their life.

This result is nearly always caused how to select the right kind of food to make up the waste caused by excessive brain work.

The average student does not know how to select the right kind of food but a food expert has been at work and has produced a food especially intended to nourish and rebuild the brain and the nerve centers throughout the body. This food is known as Grape-Nuts.

A student, Rosa Scott, of Kenoma, Mo., says, "I was very ambitious to succeed at school, and started under favorable circumstances with good health and used what is generally supposed to be good, substantial articles of food, such as meat, vegetables, etc.

I worked hard and soon became troubled with distress in my stomach. I noticed a confusion of thought and inability to memorize. I found it almost impossible to study in the condition I was in, and resorted to medicine, but that did not relieve me of my suffering, and I seemed to grow worse I was in despair until one day a friend, who had passed through a similar experience, told me to stop using medicine, and in place of ordinary food use Grape-Nuts Food. He said it contained certain elements necessary to rebuild the worn out tissues of both body and brain and positively assured me that if I would use the food I would get well and be able to get on with my work.

It seemed too good to be true, and I at once began the use of Grape-Nuts Food, with an egg, for breakfast. For the mid-day meal I used four heaping teaspoonfuls with some cream or milk and nothing else. Then for the evening meal I used Grape-Nuts and fruit. Right from the beginning, my sufferings were not so great, and gradually my strength returned, and, I could see that my brain was regaining its former activity.

These favorable symptoms continued until I was entirely relieved from my trouble, and am now stronger than I ever was before. Can study ten or twelve hours a day with results that I feel are a credit to myself.

I would like to have students all over the world know of the powerful properties contained in Grape-Nuts Food as compared with any ordinary diet."

This sort of experience teaches plainly the fact that there is everything in the selection of food if one desires to work hard and make a success in this world. There is probably no food known that is as perfect for the rebuilding of the body and brain as Grape-Nuts.

WHAT TO EAT IN THE MORNING

MALT BREAKFAST FOOD

That Affords Sustaining Energy and Strength to Body and Brain.

Why fill the stomach at breakfast time with food that depresses bodily strength and brain activity? Such a course leads to a multitude of little ills and troubles that make life miserable and your daily work a burden, instead of a pleasure.

If you would eat to live, be healthy and truly enjoy life, make Malt Breakfast Food your first dish each morning. This delicious food affords sustaining energy and strength that no other grain food can give. When the day's work is over, you have not exhausted your store of vitality by an overtaxing of your digestion, as occurs when the common grain foods are used at breakfast.

Malt Breakfast Food is a truly concentrated food therefore the most economical to use. One package will make a full meal for twenty-five or thirty people. Ask your Grocer for it after one trial you will never give it up.

SOUTH WARD SCHOOL

(Editor Morning Times.)

Sir,—I was very much pleased to notice that you had taken up the South Central School matter in The Times, and I can bear testimony to the trustfulness of your statement, which is entirely in accordance with the facts.

I personally inspected the basement of the building, and therefore know what I am talking about.

One of my children has been attending the school, and I blame the filthy and disgraceful sanitary condition of the building for the sickness of the little girl, who is now suffering from diphtheria, at Nicholls Hospital.

I have been told that it is unpatriotic to say anything about the unsanitary condition of the building, as it affects the attendance, and will be the means of keeping down the government money grant, which is based entirely on the average attendance. I say, let the school be closed if necessary, in order to place its sanitary conditions beyond question. The lives of the little ones are more to us than a few hundred dollars.

The attitude of The Times on this matter is in happy contrast with its two local contemporaries, who prefer to hide the true condition of affairs.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I am, &c.

THE SPRING MEDICINE THAT CURES WHEN ALL OTHERS FAIL.

A MARVELLOUS BANISHMENT OF PAIN AND DISEASE ENDURED FOR FIFTY YEARS.

Honest and Unsolicited Testimony of a Leading Montreal Business Man.

If you have suffered agonies from rheumatism and neuralgia during the winter months; if your dyspepsia has gnawed at your vitals and tortured you from day to day; if kidney and liver troubles threaten to end your life; if poisoned and impure blood has shown its effects in boils, pimples and eruptions; if eczema or salt rheum have made you unsightly; if sleeplessness and nervousness have made you miserable and despondent; if headaches sideaches and backaches give warning of approaching dangers, your only hope of new life and vigorous health is in the use of Paine's Celery Compound, Dr. Phelps' world-famed prescription that has done more for suffering men and women than all other combined remedies.

Mr. B. Hutchins, one of the best known Real Estate and Financial Agents in Montreal, says:

"About five years ago I wrote you a letter acknowledging the wonderful effect your Paine's Celery Compound had upon me after I had given it a fair trial; that it had cured me entirely of neuralgia in the head from which I had suffered most fearfully periodically for over fifty years, and also that it had cured me of rheumatism in my limbs, and braced me up generally. In fact, it had removed every pain in my body, and made me feel 25 years younger. Hence my desire that all of my numerous friends and the public generally should know that there really was a cure for the painful and distressing diseases of rhumatism and neuralgia.'

"Accordingly, I sent you, of my own accord, the only certificate I ever gave for a medicine, hoping many other sufferers might be induced to benefit by the use of Paine's Celery Compound.

"I have not had a return of my old complaint, and therefore have to confirm all the statements I have ever made respecting your Compound; and moreover, I wish to say it possesses a merit which I think you have never claimed for it. Most ordinary headaches proceed from a disordered stomach, and in such cases a good dose of the Compound will relieve the sufferer in a few moments, as it acts promptly on the stomach."

HUMORS

Spring's Inheritance from Winter.

Waste matters which the kidneys, skin and other organs were too torpid (in the cold days) to take care of, and cannot take care of now without help, there is such an accumulation of them.

They litter the whole system.

Pimples, boils and other eruptions, loss of appetite, that tired feeling, bilious turns, fits of indigestion, dull headaches and many other troubles common in Spring are due to them.

Hood's Sarsaparilla removes all humors, overcomes all their effects, strengthens and tones the whole system.

Don't deny yourself its benefits this Spring.

"I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla as a Spring tonic for several years and have derived great benefit from it. I recommend it to all who have that tired feeling, loss of appetite or impure blood." Fannie Fisher, 2018 High St., Des Moines, Ia.

Accept No Substitute for Hood's Sarsaparilla.

DIGESTIVE MACHINERY.

When the entire digestive machinery of the human body works with order, regularity and harmony, men and women enjoy good health. If constipation and indigestion exist, the nervous system and organs of digestion will feel the strain and become disordered.

Will's English Pills now recommended by the best physicians, are marvellous system cleansers and digestive regulators. One box fully guaranteed to give immediate relief, and four boxes guaranteed to cure or the money handed back. Druggists and dealers sell Will's English Pills at 25 cents, or mailed to any adress by The Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, Montreal. Malt Breakfast Food is the best diet for the constipated sufferer when getting rid of stomach and digestive troubles.

THE CANAL OUTLET

The Probabilities Are That the Trent Route Will be Chosen

After quoting the report of Head Engineer and Deputy Minister Schreiber on the Canal relating to the delay in letting the Trenton-Frankford section, the Belleville Intelligencer discourses thus:—

"Suppose an outlet could be found for the Canal at Port Hope, the great and principal reason for its construction would be lost, for the reason that the southern terminus of the Canal at Trenton would be in a safe and commodious harbor of some 60 or 70 miles in length, free from the storms and dangers of that portion of lake navigation which would have to be encountered between Port Hope and the entrance to the River St. Lawrence."

The Trenton Courier adds,—This was one of the reasons laid before the Minister by the Trenton deputation last year and must decide with men of honest opinions in favor of Trenton. We are the more convinced that it will prevail in the letting of the contract at an early day from the following interview with the Deputy Minister, Mr. Schreiber. When in his at Ottawa, we introduced the subject and advanced a few reasons in favor of Trenton route.

Mr. Schreiber. "There is no probability of the Canal going by Port Hope for the reason that canal barges could not navigate Lake Ontario, and the distance by Port Hope is greater than by Trenton.

Then we said, you are only waiting for the Engineer's report to call for new tenders for the Trenton section?

"The tenders are in now and new ones are not required."

"But, sir, we thought those tenders were not acted upon on account of necessary corrections in specifications and quantities."

"Not at all," Mr. Schreiber said, "The specifications are all correct and the tenders are still in the hands of the Department for decision."

So we hope a portion of the $45,000 asked for this year will be applied in construction of the works on the Trenton-Frankford section.

Several in town, however, think the Town Council should not be indifferent to this important public work, but should make this influence felt by deputation or memorial, to show our interest in the construction of the Canal. "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

CONCERNING TRADING STAMPS.

Legislation to be Introduced to Regulate them.

Hon. Mr. Ross, in reply to a question, stated to the Assembly that the government would not introduce any legislation to regulate trading stamps, but that a private bill would be brought in.

The Times is of opinion that a worse evil exists than trading stamps, if evil it can be called. We refer to the practice of giving furniture and other articles as prizes by store keepers. Let Parliament, if it is in earnest in the matter, deal with the whole matter. Surely if it is wrong to give a trading stamp, which is simply an order for goods to the party recieving it, it is equally wrong to give the goods.

CHINESE FEAR CZAR'S PURPOSE IN THE EAST

Manchurian Treaty Declared to be an Ultimatum and Not a Compact

CONFLICT MAY BREAK OUT AT ANY MOMENT

Protest to the Court—Emperor Assurred That It Means the Beginning of Partition—Li Hung Chang in Favor

Shanghai, March 17.—Russia's treaty with China in regard to Manchuria still excites the liveliest comment among Chinese statesmen here. Viceroys Liu Kun Yi and Chang Chih Tung have united with Sheng, Director of Posts and Telegraphs, in sending many urgent telegrams to the court protesting against the compact.

Sheng said to-day: "I believe that it will mean the beginning of the partition of all China if it is pressed."

The Chinese propose to hold a big public meeting here tomorrow to protest against the Manchurian agreement. These Chinese leaders say that Russia has forced its demands upon China, and that it is not a compact, but really an ultimatum from the Czar

Li Hung Chang favors the compact, but all the Viceroys and Governors of the south-eastern provinces are stoutly opposed to it. The native press is also unanimous in opposition to the treaty.

China has strenuously objected to the limitations of the Manchurian convention respecting the importation of arms, the reorganization of the army, and the practical control by Russia over Chinese officials.

DISCUSSING THE INDEMNITY.

Pekin, March 17.—The Ministers to-day resumed the question of indemnity to be demanded from the Chinese Government. Several of the foreign representatives are inclined to cut down the amount that have been demanded by the subjects of their government. They believe, however, that China should be compelled to pay the full expense of the military expenditions of the allies.

M. Pichon, the representative of France, has put in large claims in behalf of the French Catholic missions which he is not willing to reduce. The French claims for Protestants are not excessive, and there are none at all for Protestant missionaries.

The Russian claims are comparatively small, as outside of Manchuria the subjects of that country suffered little loss. Russia has no missionaries and few merchants in China.

The large amount of the French claim, as compared with that of Russia, causes considerable comment.

ARMED FORCE AT PAOTE.

A report has reached here that over 2,000 armed ruffians from Tien Tsin have congregated in the Paote district about seventy miles to the east, and are working havoc right and left. The city gates of Paote have been closed and the place is being defended from the walls. A delegation of residents arrived at Tien Tsin and requested aid from the foreign troops. This city is being defended by the Japanese, but they are unwilling to assume local constabulary duties.

RUSSIA'S PLANS NOT KNOWN.

Washington, D. C., March 17.—Our government has not yet been able to obtain anything like an official statement of the contents of the alleged agreement between Russia and China respecting the protectorate over Manchuria.

Such information as has come to the hands of officials indicates that the Russian agreement consists to twelve articles, not nine, as has been published.

The chief concern of officials here has been to learn how for these articles affect the permanent future of Manchuria. On their face it is said they show a return of Manchuria to China. But this is accomplished upon certain conditions imposed upon China, and it is understood that these conditions, in effect, establish a Russian suzerainty over Manchuria, with a Russian official occupying the chief executive position, quite similar to that of the British Viceroy of India.

It is understood that in the informal discussion with Count Cassini, an earnest intimation was conveyed to him that it would be most helpful in dealing with the subject if a clear and explicit understanding of Russia's plans in this particular matter were forthcoming.

A Real Social Evening

To-morrow, Tuesday evening the 19th inst., there will be a social evening given at the Y.W.C.A. for all its members. Invitations are being sent out, but should a member happen in any way not to receive one, they will please accept this invitation and come. We shall have the privilege of quietly conversing with Miss Carson, of New York City, who is the special guest of the Young Women's Christian Association of Peterborough, and is well known throughout the United States and the Dominion, in College Settlement work, and the work of the Young Women's Christian Association. No member can afford to miss her.

I. O. O. F. Notes

A very pleasant and profitable time was spent on Thursday evening, March 14, at the regular meeting of Peterboro Lodge, No. 111, I.O.O.F. Several visiting brethern were present from Havelock, Norwood, Pontypool, and other places. The three degrees were conferred upon several candidates from Pontypool. The first and third degree work was done by the Degree team of Peterboro Lodge, and the work of the second degree by the Degree team of Otonabee Lodge. A very enjoyable evening was brought to a close by speeches and refreshments.

A GALLANT SOLDIER AND AN INVENTOR.

Disease is a Greater Enemy to the Biirish Than the Boors.

THREE GREAT DANGERS IN AFRICA.

Lord Dundonald has Invented a Watering Cart which will Overcome Greatest of all Nuisances.

London, March 15.—Lord Dundonald who won fame in the eastern side of South Africa, the first man who got through the Boers and into Ladysmith, under whom the Strathconas served and about whom they are so enthusiastic, has made an important invention.

"The greatest enemies," says Lord Dundonald, "we have to fight against are not the Boers, but disease and illness. My experience in South Africa has forced me to the conclusion that there are three main sources of danger to the conclusion that there are three main sources of danger to the health of our troops in standing camps.

"The first and gravest is the contamination of water by the use of the primitative and old-fashioned military water carts, which are the only ones used in the present war, and which are entirely unsanitary.

"The second is the danger caused by the dirt and debris of camps being blown about by high winds from wherever it is deposited in the direction of food. The third is the great fly nuisance.

"What ought to be sent out are safes with double tops, so that the food may be kept cool and free from these pests. They could be packed flat and made on the spot.

"With regard to the second danger, I should advise that all debris and dirt should be burnt in properly-constructed destroyers, and the whole area of camps be watered at least twice a week with strong disinfecting fluid.

AS TO WATER-CARTS.

"The water-carts are the greatest danger of all. Few people can have any idea as to the evil done by them. I am not exaggerating when I say that there are hundreds of men lying buried in South Africa who would be alive to-day if it were not for these old water-carts. The men are sent off with it from camp for water and as they are always in a hurry for the water, and cleaning out the barrel is not the work of a moment they fill it up and get back to camp asquickly as possible.

"A poisonous, dangerous sediment collects in the bottom of the barrel. The water is drawn off, and the cart is sent for more. It is not cleaned; there is an addition to the sediment, and so the deadly work goes on. It is a terrible system, and I came home resolved to do something to improve upon it."

Lord Dundonald's invention consists of a carriage upon which are three oblong cylinders, separate and removable. Each is constructed with a snout closed by a plug, and is balanced upon a pivot, so that a slight effort will raise up the end farthest from the snout and cause a rush of water through it. It will thus be a temptingly easy matter to flush each tank every time it is filled with water.

Each cylinder has a peculiar, detachable legs, which make it a simple thing to convert at a moment's notice into a camp water-tank on the one hand, or a gigantic tea-kettle adapted specially for use over a trench fire on the other. The idea is that one tank should always be used in this manner, while the other two are employed in fetching water.

The tanks for a full-sized carriage will hold thirty-two gallons each, and Lord Dundonald thinks there should be one to each company, for he considers it of the utmost importance that boiled water or tea should be available at all times when it is possible. It will be submitted to the authorities immediately, and there is every prospect that it will be favorably received.

INS AND OUTS.

THE WEATHER.

Prof. Box, our special weather prophet, is again back to business. He says he will be careful not to allow himself to be imposed upon with loaded dice. The weather today and to-morrow indicates a cool wave, and warmer in doors than out, especially if you have a line of credit with your coal man.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

Pekin, March 16. (Special.) The reported attack on Emperor Billy, of Germany, has been confirmed here. The Emperor's escape from death is the talk of Pekin. Had the miscreant that attacked him hurled the rest of the locomotive instead of the small piece of iron the Emperor would have been crushed to death.

BIG FIRE IN MONTREAL

Fireman Dumas Killed By Falling Debris

PART OF WALL COLLAPSED

Damage Will Amount to Three Hundred Thousand Dollars

Montreal, Que., March 16.—One life lost and one fireman injured and a property loss of three hundred thousand dollars, are the net results of a fire which started in Lemming, Miles & Company's wholesale drug building located on the corner of St. Sulpice and De Bresoles streets, at 4.45 this morning. This structure and the large grocery store of Hudon, Herbert & Company, on the opposite corner, with their contents, were entirely destroyed. When the central brigade responded to the alarm, five minutes after the flames had been detected, the fire had made great headway. A second alarm was sent in, but the combined efforts of the firemen had no appreciable effect in staying the progress of the flames. Several explosions occurred in the drug building, and bricks and other missiles were hurled through the air, but did little damage. At 8 o'clock a wall which was weighted with snow, gave way, and crashed through the lower floor, bulging them out, so that the whole building collapsed. A squad of firemen was playing a stream on the side of the building, and when they heard the crash all ran. A flying brick struck Fireman Gagnon on the ankle, knocking him down. Amadee Dumas, another firema nfrom No. 2 station, who was close behind Gagnon, was also struck, and in falling brought a comrade down with him. Before either could rise, the wall fell uponthem.

It required ten minutes to release the imprisoned men, and when Dumas had been taken out he was placed in an ambulance, but died before reaching the hospital. Origin of the fire is not known. The individual losses cannot be learned. Five years ago a building on the same site as that occupied by Leeming, Miles & Co., was burned to the ground.

GERMANY'S ACCOUNT MUST BE PAID FIRST

Before Settling With the U S. Turkey Will Square Kaiser's Bill

New York, March 16.—A special to The Times from Washington says The arrangement by which the Sultan of Turkey was to pay his debts to the United States under cover of the purchase of a cruiser from theCramps, has fallen through. The Cramps have not begun work on the Turkish cruiser, and will not do so. The prime cause of the failure of the device so ingeniously contrived by the Sultan was the shrewd move of Germany.

Germany was determined that if the American claims were to be paid hers should be paid as well. It was impossible to assume that the Americans claims would be paid for the Sultan had so cleverly contrived the payment that he would be able to reply to Germany that he was merely buying a warship, and was not paying any debts. Germany therefore flanked the Sultan by making her demand not for the payment of an indemnity, but for the payment of a bill owed to the Krupp concern for armor before he bought any more war material.

This move of Germany, it is learned, has been completely successful. The Sultan was able to pretend that he was not going to pay the American indemnity, but he could not pretend that he was not negotating withthe Cramps for a ship. The negotiations with the Cramps therefore had to fall.

THE RUSSIANS REVOLT

Students at Moscow Rebel Against Authority

FIGHTING IN THE STREETS

The Socialistic Movement is Steadily Gathering Force

London, March 16.—Affairs in Russia are rapidly approaching a crisis as regards the agitation for government reform. The accession of Czar Nicholas II, some years ago was greeted throughout the Russian Empire as a most hopeful portent of a more democratice era of government, and relief from the arbitrary bureaucracy surrounding the Czar was eagerly looked for by his oppressed subjects.

But these expectations have been cruelly disappointed. The Czar has proved himself as arbitrary as his predecessors, and with the help of his officials, he has most severely checked every move towards a more popular form of government. The Socialistic agitators among the Russians have been put down with a ruthless hand. Still, the Socialistic movement has gathered strength, despite the Czar and his officials. The spread of popular education by means of the newspapers, which are rapidly increasing throughout the empire, has wrought a great change in the last few years in the mental life of the people. Despite the censor, Socialistic ideals are steadily getting into the heads of the Czar's subjects, and each new despotic act of the Government only helps along the agitation, for emancipation from tyranny and oppression.

This movement is most vigorous in the universities. Student disturbances have been very numerous lately, notwithstanding the stern way in which they are promptly put down by the police. Only a few days ago a students' gathering was attacked by the police at St. Petersburg, and many were killed, while others were transported. Today word comes from Moscow of a still more serious uprising of the students against official tyranny. "The students' agitation in this city," says the Moscow correspondent of the Daily Mail, "has become extremely serious. Bloodshed has occurred, and the students threaten barricades and street fighting. It is not safe for individuals to cross the streets in the daytime. The schools are closed, and the city has been put in a state of siege." Several thousand workmen have joined the students in erecting barricades, and the workers are encouraged by a hundred female students. The principal scene of the rioting is in the neighborhood of the palace of the Grand Duke Serguis, Governor-General. Great excitement prevails.

"Similar disturbances are reported to have broken out at Odessa, Kieff, Kherkoff, and other university cities.

FUNERAL OF LATE GENERAL HARRISON

Buried Yesterday in the Presence of 1,500 Citizens.

Indianapolis, March 17.—Surrounded by fully 1500 of his fellow citizens, the remains of Benjamin Harrison were this afternoon, interred in the family lot, Crown Hill cemetery. Close by the grave were the members of his family, President McKinley, and other visitors of distinction, and the more intimate friends of Gen. Harrison.

WONDERFUL MARCHING BY BRITISH TROOPS

Sixth Battalion Lancashire Fusiliers Covered 360 Miles in Fifteen Days

London, March 16.—Details have come to hand of the wonderful marching of General Settle's column before and after the relief of Luckhoff, in Orange River Colony.

This was the column which had earned the title of "Settle's Imperial Circus," writes one of the officers, owing to the vast number of baggage waggons, mules and impedimenta it at one time carried. It is now called "Settle's Imperial Scorchers," and the Boers no longer wait "to smile on our men" ere they ride away.

The 6th Battalion Lancashire Fusiliers, one of the crack milita regiments under Colonel Romer, lately joined Settle's column. They accomplished perhaps one of the finest marches on record during the war, namely, from Orange River to Thaba N'chu, a distance of 360 miles, in just fifteen days, doing sometimes 26 miles a day.

This is a grand performance. The Fusiliers lost only one man from exhaustion. They met with most terrible weather—rain, thunder, and blinding dust storms.

But they denuded the country of grain, captured some 800 horses, 700 oxen, 20,000 sheep and, thirty Boers. Refugees of every nationality joined the column for protection, including a very large number of natives.

At the battle of Luckhoff it was the 6th Battalion Lancashire Fusiliers, led by Captain R. V. K. Applin, who charged the Boer position with the bayonet, and aided by the Diamond Field Artillery utterly routed the Boers.

Colonel Romer was one of the creators of the modern efficient militia, and is not a little proud of themen he is commanding in South Africa.

WHITE FLAG TREACHERY.

Cape Town, March 16.—The Boers are at their old game with the white flag. A small party of Boers in the Tarkastad district, met three colonial scouts. The Boers held up their hands and showed a white flag, but when the scouts approached fired on them. One of the scouts was severely wounded.

BOERS RAID REMOUNT DEPOT.

A commando of Boers attempted to raid the remount depot at Bowker's Park, but was met by the colonial district forces, and replused. One British soldier was dangerously wounded.

SHOT BY BOERS.

Confirmation has been received here of the fact that five men have been executed outside of Wolmarens by Boers belonging to General Delarey's commando. The news of the execution was taken to Klerksdorp by Mrs. MacLachlan, whose husband, father, and brother-in-law were among the victims. Three other men have been sentenced to death by the Boers.

The Boer invaders have cut the wires, and there is no communication with the eastern districts of Cape Colony and Natal.

BOERS MURDER WITNESS.

A Cradock despatch states that the principal native witness in the case against twenty-five prisoners from Waterkloof, charged with high treason, has been murdered by three Boers, one of whom is a relative of one of the prisoners.

TREASURY ON WHEELS.

News received from Pitsburg, the Boer headquarters, show that the Free State treasury is being carried about in a Cape cart.

REBELS SENTENCED.

A number of rebels who have been convicted at Mafeking, have been severely dealt with. Some have been sentenced to three years' hard labor, others have been heavily fined for harboring rebels or being absent from their farms without permission, while one farmer has been fined £200 or two years' hard labor for harboring rebels and concealing information.

DE JAGER'S SENTENCE.

The trial of De Jager, the most prominent rebel in Natal, has concluded with a sentence of five years' imprisonment and a fine of £5,000 ($25,000). De Jager was a Boer commandant. His defence was that a Transvaal burgher courth as decided that, although he was not a naturalized burgher, he owed allegiance to the Transvaal.

BE SURE AND VACCINATE

Why It is now Safe to Vaccinate for Smallpox.

THERE IS NO RISK WHATEVER.

The Times Interviews Some of the Leading Medical Men in Regard to Vaccination and Smallpox.

To many the mere mention of smallpox excites a feeling of loathing. And the fact that the disease has broken out in the province fills them with dread alarm.

But smallpox has lost most of its terrors of late. With the protection now afforded in the way of vaccination, aside from the loathsomeness of the disease, some medical men would sooner deal with an epidemic of smallpox than of diphtheria. The Medical Health Officer is a firm believer in vaccination and believes it almost positive protection. True, a vaccinated person may take the disease, but it will invaribly be of a mild nature and attended with no serious symptoms. Nor is the fact that a person has had the disease proof that he will not have it again. Cases are on record where a person has had it the second time, but the latter in generally a mild form. Where vaccination fails to take effect the subject may be looked upon as immune from the disease and would not be likely to contract the disease even from close contact.

The cause is a specific poison which floats in the air in the form of germs. The disease is contagious at all periods, but is more virulent when matter is forming—generally about the 8th or 9th day after the first appearance of the rash. A patient is generally able to be around in three weeks, but must be kept in isolation for about three weeks more.

Smallpox breaks out in from 14 to 16 days after exposure to the disease, while vaccination takes effect in from 8 to 9 days after inoculation. For this reason the benefit of vaccination can be utilized even after exposure.

Vaccination fell into disrepute not from any lack of faith in its potency, but on account of the way it was performed—by a scab removed from one person and applied to another. By this process not only was the vaccine inoculated but with it scrofula, tuberculosis or any other blood disease.

This objection has now been removed by vaccine lymph and points and their method of production at the vaccine laboratories. The motto is "asepsis," and every effort is made to obtain absolute purity. Vaccine now comes in two forms—in hermetically sealed capillary glass tubes, each containing sufficient virus for one vaccination, and in vaccine points enclosed in hermetically sealed aseptic glass tubes or protected by sterilized wax.

The vaccine of the modern laboratory is obtained from suckling calves which have been inoculated. Especial care is exercised that healthy animals are used exclusively. The calves are selected by competent veterinarians, and, in order to determine their freedom from disease each animal is subjected to a thorough physical examination and is injected with tuberculin. Each, upon its admission, is cleaned with an antiseptic solution. After the calves are inoculated and the vaccine collected, each animal is killed and a postmortem examination of all the organs is made by a veterinarian, the vaccine from the healthy animals only being used. With these requirements one of the most indispensable requisites to pure vaccine—healthy animals—is absolutely assured.

The same care is exercised in securing an aseptic site and surgically clean hands, instruments and all accessories, as is observed by the modern surgeon in opening the peritoneal cavity. The scarified area is previously sterilized and every detail in the inoculation of the animals is practised according to the principles of aseptic surgery. From the time of inoculation until vesiculation is complete, and the virus is ready to be collected, the animal is kept in a separate building where absolute cleanliness is rigidly enforced.

As the virus taken is only the watery part, no blood, the absolute purity of the product from a modern laboratory is unquestioned.

Dr. Bingham's supply is secured from the H. K. Mullford Co., of Philadelphia, whose establishment is one of the most complete and scientific in existence. While the greater supply comes from over the line, some is produced in Canada, Dr. Stewart, of Palmerston, having an up-to-date farm and laboratory.

The Dr. is anxious that general vaccination should be ordered in our schools.

THIRTY-THREE PERSONS BADLY SCALDED

Accident on American Line Steamer New York

New York, March 17.—The American Line steamer New York, which left Southampton and Cherbourg on March 9 arrived in quarantine to-night, and although the officers reported no accident, it was learned from a passenger that there had been an accident on board in which thirty-three persons were scalded, one dying as a result of his injuries.

BURNINGS.

The record is still kept up. Yesterday's papers detailed the burning a negro in Texas and pursuit by a mob of a supposed murderer in Missouri. The latter is, apparently, a white man: but if he is caught, the chances are he too will be burned. Is this the 20th century?

It is only too evident that this appalling anachronism is becoming more and more frequent. Never perhaps has it received so emphatic a sanction as in this last instance at the hands of a justice of the county in which the tragedy occured; and though there is a grain of humor in his identification of these murderers with the "best citizens of the United States" the verdict is terribly suggestive of the mental attitude of many leading men of the south and west.

The following recently compiled list to which must be added the Colorado case, shows the ever-increasing frequency of the punishment for which the Inquisition has long been chiefly infamous.

Among the negroes who suffered the frightful death of being burned at the stake since 1893 were:

Henry Smith, in Paris, Texas, Feb. 1st, 1893.

Unknown negro, in Paris, Texas, April 14th, 1893

Lou Tye, in Harlen county, Ky., March 3rd., 1894.

CANADIAN HORSES FOR SOUTH AFRICA

The Morning Leader, of London Eng., thinks that justice has not been done to Canada in the purchase of horses for South Africa. Referring to a statement made in the British Parliament by Lord Stanley, that of the horses sent to South Africa by the British War Office, 26,310 were purchased in the United States, 25,872 in Argentine, and 3,738 in Canada, it says it is admitted that the Canadian horses purchased were highly satisfactory, and declares that a great mistake was made in not buying more of them. In conclusion it says that 100,000 horses will be required for the 30,000 mounted troops which are now being raised, and urges that loyal Canada should benefit at least as largely from the purchases as the United States and Argentine. Perhaps Canada could not have supplied at short notice, and at prices satisfactory to the British War Office, as many horses as have been purchased in the United States and Argentine, without sending to Africa some horses that would not have been a credit to the country, but there is little doubt that considerably more than 3,738 horses of the right kind could have been obtained in this country without difficulty, even on short notice. Canada could easily produce all the horses required by the British army if our farmers and ranchers were assured that there would be a steady demand for them. A number of remount depots should be established by the British Government in different sections of the Dominion.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Ottawa Journal is still discussing the question of where the first electric street railway in Canada was located. It has so far receded from its original claim for Ottawa as to print a letter from a Mr. W. Donaghy, of Hudson, Mass., in which it is stated that a road was built between Windsor and Walkerville in 1887, but it queries "Was it a street railway?" For the information of the Journal, the Free Press may state that the date given, 1887, was something like twenty years after the construction of an electric street railway between Windsor and Walkerville. It was a veritable "street railway", running on the main street between the two places. It ran from about one block east of the Detroit-Windsor ferry dock to the Walkerville-Detroit ferry dock. It differed from the present system in that the trolley pole was at right angles to the body of the car, the wire being strung on the side of the street. Is the Journal satisfied that its claim of Ottawa being the pioneer has no basis in fact?

Backache.

So many women suffer from it. It mars alike their hours of work and pleasure. Backache is generally a symptom of derangement of the delicate womanly organs. It is useless therefore to apply plasters and similar local treatments. A cure can only be effected when the cause of the ache is removed. The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure the debilitating drains, the inflammation, ulceration and displacement which cause backache, sideache, headache and many other aches and pains. "Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol and is absolutely free from opium, cocaine and other narcotics. It agrees with the most delicate persons.

"I took your medicine six months and I feel now like a new person," writes Miss Annie Stephens, of Bellville, Wood Co., W. Va. "Have no backache, no headache, no pain anywhere. I took seven bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and seven bottles of his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I think there is no medicine like Dr. Pierce's. I can't speak highly enough of your medicine for it has done me so much good. I don't feel tired as I used to, nor sick. I feel well and think there is no medicine equal to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

BACON HOGS FOR ENGLISH MARKET

Mr. Geo. Matthews Writes Upon A Question of Great Interest To Farmers.

Should Not Try To Market Hogs in Five or Six Months—Hogs Should Not be too Fat—Much Good Advice in Regard To Marketing.

To the Farmers of Peterborough and surrounding Counties;

I am pleased to see the interest taken by the agricultural papers and all Farmers' Institute Meetings, in "Bacon Hogs," or rather the hog required to make "Whitshire Cut Bacon" for the English market. There has been continuous writing and talking the last five or six years among farmers and packers on this subject, and I thought last fall that the farmers had succeeded fairly well in preparing their hogs so that the packers would be able to make an article of "select" bacon that would be a strong rival of the celebrated Danish Bacon in the London market. In the months of September, October and November of last year we received a larger percentage of hogs suitable for the best bacon trade that we had ever received before, and as a result the packers were enabled to send their customers in England just the quality of bacon they required, and also to take contracts to supply them with the same quality each week, all the year round.

But alas, what a change has come over the business during the last few months. We are still getting hogs from the same drovers, and I expect from the same farmers, but the hogs will not make the same grade of bacon as they did last fall. The hogs are about the same weight as they were then, but instead of being lengty lean hogs, they are now principally short, chunky hogs, altogether too fat for the English trade. The buyers there will not take the sides excepting at greatly reduced prices, and to-day the bacon made from fat hogs, weighing from 160 to 200 pounds, is selling in London at $2.50 per 100 pounds less than is the bacon made from hogs of the same weight, but of the lengthy lean quality, such as we received last fall.

Now, what can the reason for the great change in the quality of the hogs and also of the bacon, so great that some of our customers refuse to take the quantity they contracted for. They say,—"The sides are the right weight but the meat is too fat and we won't take the bacon unless you can send it as lean as we received from you when we made the contract. If you cannot supply that quality we shall have to buy Danish bacon even at higher prices."

We then lose a customer for Canadian bacon, as we certainly cannot make long, lean sides from short, fat hogs.

Who is to blame for the change in the quality of Canadian bacon? I think there is but one answer and that is the man who feeds the hogs. The packers are taking heavy losses on fat sides just now, but this is not the worst of it. The injury on the English market will react on the whole trade, on farmers as well as packers. Both farmers and packers are interested in making a success of this bacon business. The packers have gone to a great deal of expense in fitting their buildings to enable them to turn out their meats exactly the same quality all the year around, whether the weather be hot or cold. The farmer must also go to some trouble and see that their hogs are not too fat, especially in the winter months when they are usually penned in.

Last fall the general run of hogs was so satisfactory that I began to think that the breed of hogs was about right, but now when unloading cars of live hogs we see a very great difference in the quality of the hogs as compared with those we received last fall. It is no trouble now to pick out the Yorkshire and Tamworths; they are about the only hogs at this season that will make select bacon. In the summer most hogs grow fairly lengthy, when they have plenty of exercise, but when they are penned in and fed well, most of them grow very chunky, but the York and Tamworth won't get too fat while growing up to 200 pounds weight alive, providing a little care is exercised in feeding and handling them. The great mistake that the average farmer makes is in my opinion, that when prices are good he forces the feed to the hog, having but one aim, and that is to get the animal to the desired weight without proper regard for the other essential qualities, viz.; a lengthy hog, full of flesh but not of fat.

In conclusion, I would advise,—Don't try to market your hogs in five or six months, give them longer time, feed good sound mixed food, make them to weigh from 180 to 200 pounds each and market them just when they are finished. Don't hold them and make heavy fat hogs because the market appears to be against you, but stay in the business. Keep several lots coming on and you will find that the market will be in your favor the majority of times.

Yours faithfully,

The Geo. Matthews Co., Limited.

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Salida copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the Rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims: The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Salida, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Salida. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of Salida at Cleora station, on the main Trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

CORN ROOTS.

An Interesting Report on Their Development

A very interesting report on corn root development appears in the tenth annual report of the Kansas state board of agriculture. We give a part of its as follows:

Professor King of the Wisconsin experiment station estimates that all the roots of a healthy corn plant, if laid end to end, would equal one mile in length. The root development measures the leaf development. Fig. 1 shows the root of a corn plant uncovered on a farm in the Kaw valley, Kansas. This corn grew in the track of a tree digger that, in taking up nursery stock the preceding fall, had pulverized the soil 18 inches deep and

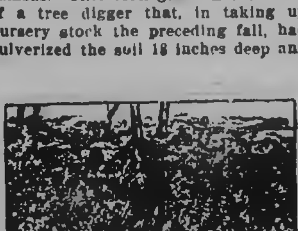

FIG. 2.

20 inches wide. The track of the tree-digger in its width and depth was a mass of fibrous roots. In the zone between the tree digger or furrows, where the ground was hard, there were few fibrous roots, and a limited number of large, smooth roots. This field yielded 84 bushels of corn per acre that year. The subsoil roots were followed 4½ feet down, but the ends were not found.

By way of contrast, see Fig. 2, on upland, never plowed over six inches deep. All the fibrous roots (food gatherers) were found in the lower two inches of the cultivated soil. A cultivator tooth, running four inches deep would leave only two inches in depth of cultivated soil in which the food gatherers might work between the rows—entirely too limited an area to secure good results. The root development was small and only two joints were covered sufficiently to send down, subsoil roots The yield was under 40 bushels per acre.

In our illustration the white lines are one foot apart. It will readily be seen how limited is the root area on the unsubsoiled plats. It should, however be remarked that the composition of the soil determines to a great extent the value of the subsoiling. Some soils are so loose that subsoiling would be of no benefit.

A Suggestion for [illegible]

A Missouri farmer relates an experience which offers suggestions which, while they may not be exactly new, may have for many great practical value. There were upon his farm several depressions which in wet seasons held ponds of water. To drain these by ordinary means would have been very expensive, because no gravel could be got near the farm, and there was no tile factory in that vicinity Open ditches were out of the question

The services of an expert well-borer were secured. He sank several test shafts in various parts of the farm, and found that the underlying ground was a tenacious blue clay, fourteen to sixteen feet thick, and almost perfectly impervious. Beneath this was found a strata of white sand. The well-borer and his machine were placed in a wagon, which by means of a long rope was hauled to the deepest parts of a pond about an acre in extent. Here he bored a well down to the sand, completing the operation before sunset of the day when the work began. In thirty-six hours the water had disappeared and the pond was dry. To make this short perpendicular drain permanent he had it cleared of sediment, sunk the shaft about two feet into the bed of sand, and filled to the top with clean, coarse gravel from a creek bed. The gravel was heaped about a foot above the shaft to strain the water properly that the shaft might not become choked.

There are thousands of places in the West where, year after year, farmers have plowed around such wet spots, giving them up to the possession of rushes and frogs. Yet they could be drained easily by a few hours' work. In western Michigan a large swamp lay for years on the southern edge of a village, a noisome barrier to progress and a bone of contention in village and township politics. To drain it a large ditch a mile or two long would have been required, but some one, fortunately, discovered that a thin sheet of clay was all that kept the water from going down into a deep strata of gravel, boulders and sand. The wells were sunk and the swamp thoroughly drained at an almost nominal cost, leaving rich black soil, which is the most productive and valuable in all that district. There may be thousands of similar swamps, where two or three days spent in sinking test shafts would show a ready means for converting sloughs or swamps into fields of wonderful fertility.

A Profitable Business.

There is a fortune for Canada in the raising of poultry for the British market, if she only rises to the occasion. The Birmingham Post took this question up and discussed it some time ago. The chief points made by the Post were these. First: that there is an almost unlimited demand in Britain for Canadian birds especially turkeys. Secondly: that for several years the poultry sent over did not create a favorable impression, by reason of careless packing and storage. And thirdly: that with the improved facilities for shipping and with cold storage, Canada is now coming to the fore as a "recruiting ground" for the poultry trade. The quality is not so good even yet as that of native, or even of French and other foriegn supplies, and the geese in particular are rather below the English size. But still, in poultry as in fruit, the British market offers a splendid field for the enterprise of Canadian farmers.

Was a Trying Month

The returns from the metreorological office indicate that citizens have got through a February of a more than usually trying character. The mean temperature was nearly six degrees lower than the average of 60 years, The years in which a lower mean temperature was recorded were 1843, 1855, 1875 and 1885. The snowfall was over 21-2 inches below the average. On the average the month was a windy one, while on only four days did the temperature rise above the freezing point. On the whole, therefore, it was a bleak, windy month while the reduced snow fall has rendered it less pleasant than a season with more snow would have been.

A Late Spring

Judging from the characteristics of the weather the beginning of March, the weather observers venture the opinion that there is yet considerable cold and stormy weather to be recorded, and spring will be "backward" and farming operations rather late. This may be accounted for from the fact that cold westerly and northwesterly winds will prevail during the remainder of March and also April, and the latter month will be characterized by many cold days, continuing to the end and extending into the early part of May. Settled, pleasant, warm weather may not be expected till about the middle of May. Generally considered spring will be late, and the rainfall till the end of April will be light.

A CLOTHES REEL.

It costs quite a sum to buy a good clothes reel, and many people still use th straight line, while a cheap and durable reel may be made in a few hours. Dig a hole 1½ feet in diameter, and 2½ feet deep. Get two scantling (A and B) 4 inches square and 7 feet long: nail a slat across their bottoms to keep them 4 inches apart; also spike a 4-inch cube (D) between them and 3 feet from the top; then place these in the hole and fill it with earth. Hunt up the arm, axles and wheel of some old wagon; take off the wheel, knock all the spokes out of the hub (E), saw off the other axle, hew the arm (F) down until 4 inches square, and nail 2-inch plank on the bottom of the arm until 3 feet long; bore a ⅝-inch hole in the arm just below the axle (G); place the arm and axle upon the 4-inch cube, and hold by four pieces of wide band iron (gg), each 1 foot long, two pieces to a side. The two upper bands should be nailed to the scantling 2 inches from the top, and the second two should be nailed 1 foot 10 inches from the first. Bore a ⅝-inch hole in scantling (B), just above the lower band (g); also another, 6 inches above ground, in scantling (A). In this put a wooden pin (J), and let it project about 6 inches. Get a piece of 1½-inch board, 5 feet long and 2½ inches wide, for the lever (H). Bore a ⅝-inch hole 2 inches from one end, and 1 foot from the first bore a ⅝-inch hole. Buy a piece of iron 2 feet long, 1 inch wide and ¼ inch thick. Get the blacksmith to put a ⅝-inch hole in each end; also get two square-healed 6-inch screw bolts, made of ⅝-inch iron. Get another bolt and burr about 3 inches long, and of same material. Take one of the 6-inch bolts, put it through the ⅝-inch hole in the end of the lever, then screw it into the hole in the arm. Put the other 6-inch bolt through one end of the iron, and screw it into the hole in the scantling. Put the 3-inch bolt through the other end of the iron and screw it into the second hole in the lever, and put the burr on well. Procure 4 pieces of 1½-inch boards, 6 feet long, 2½ inches wide, and fit each into the hub at equal distances. Holes should be drilled at equal distances in the rim of the hub, and through these wires are put, which fasten to the arm pieces (K K) 2 feet from the hub. These wires serve as braces. Clothes-line wire is placed in three rows, each row being 3 feet from the next. Grease the axle well and put on the reel. Now your clothes reel is complete, except the painting, which may be any desirable color.—F. H. Orris.

Cost of Making Butter.

The cost of the manufacture of a pound of butter in the creamery is almost entirely governed by the quantity of milk handled by that creamery, and a decrease in teh cost, on account of the magnitude of the business, is followed by an increase of the price paid to farmers for butter fat. One creamery in one of the dairy counties in Iowa manufactured 400,000 pounds of butter at a cost of 1 cent per pound; another 539,000 pounds of butter at a cost of 1.2 cents. In the smaller creameries the cost is reported at from 5 to 7 cents per pound, the average being 3 cents. In creameries handling not more than 2,250,000 pounds of milk, the average cost is 2.42 cents, and when 1,000,000 pounds are added the cost falls to 2.2 cents, while in creameries receiving more than 3,500,000 pounds of milk, the average cost is 1.79 cents.

When a creamery is established, every farmer who patronizes it, or intends to patronize it, should exert himself to the utmost to increase the supply of milk to the creamery. In so doing he will cheapen the cost of manufacture, and thus advance the price of his own cream. The attitude of a few leading farmers is frequently the life or death of a struggling creamery. If these men throw their active support to the creamery, they can increase the supply of milk, and thus enable the creameryman to give an increased price. This increased price renders it comparatively easy to secure still further patronage, and, in time an industry, profitable alike to the farmer and the creamery man, will be built up; but if they withdraw their support and discourage their neighbors, they decrease the amount of milk, and decrease the price, and frequently compel the creamery to close or become a mere skim station.—Wallace's Farmer.

Mines one mile west of Rossland, directly west of the Le Roi No. 1 and Le Roi No. 2. Four properties. All Crown granted.

THE LeRoi No. 1 once sold for 2 cents and went to $45 per share; and the L Roi No. 2 £5 shares went to £23, or $110 per share in a few months.

Our memorandum of association contains a provision, provided by Section 56 of the Companies Act, 1897, that the shares are issued as Fully Paid Up and Non Assessable, and that no further liability beyond the amount actually paid upon shares shall attach to the holders thereof. Capital $250,000.

Our properties are now proved (both above and below ground) to have the same continuous ore veins as the LeRoi Companies, and have the same identical ore and our shares are well worth TWENTY FIVE CENTS now, and will surely bring fifty cents. And we can, with a very small capital, develop our property to such a extent that it can also be placed on the London market, where it belongs—and small investors will make a good profit by buying now.

Our assays have averaged from $5 to $800 in gold, copper and silver and the shipping facilities are the best. The Great Northern Railway runs three times through the ground, three smelters close at hand, and reduced charges of $4.50 per ton for shipping and smelting, and we are now getting ready to start shipping ore.

Irrespective of the merits of the BIG FOUR, we have now over 570,000 shares in our treasury and free from all incumbrance. We are amongst the few local companies that has complied with the law in every particular, and we venture to say have

The Aristos GOLD MINING CO.

Owning Big Horn Mountain Tunnel and Veneta Vein, 200 acres situated on the Western Slope of Pikes Peak, in the famous Cripple Creek Gold Mining District.

THE SAFEST OFFER EVER MADE TO INVESTORS.

100,000 Shares Preferred Stock at 25c. Per Share.

It is printed on each certificate that subscribers to the above Preferred Shares will be entitled to receive in Dividends the full amount of money invested, before other stockholders receive any returns, signed by the President of the Company.

This district produced more Gold in 1900 than any other in the United States

This property consists of 3000 by 3000 feet, or 200 acres, of gold land. The mine has been worked. The feature of this mine is the Veneta Vein, 30 to 40 feet in width, and is certainly one of the strongest veins in this famous district. There are some fifteen openings on this vein, the ore from which assays in gold from $12 to $100 per ton. The property is advantageously located for development by tunnel, which will make it possible to produce an enormous amount of ore daily, the quantity varying from 200 to 800 tons per day. The development by TUNNELING is the most economical and advantageous manner of working this property.

At a distance of 800 feet the Tunnel will intersect the Veneta Vein at a depth of about 680 feet, and will also intersect several other veins. The tunnel will cut the Big Horn Mountain 2100 feet deep, and will give this company 2,000,000 tons of ore, worth over $20 per ton.

The new railroad, now practically completed from Colorado Springs, called the Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek road, passes within 2000 feet of this Tunnel

Adjoining this property is the Colorado Springs TUNNEL Company. In this property at a depth of 400 feet, the Veneta Vein was cut. At this point the vein was fully 20 feet in width, and its value from $20 to $1000 per ton.

There are already in operation mills and smelters sufficient to treat the output of this property, which gives at once cash returns.

Capital Stock $1,000,000. Par Value $1.00 Per Share. 100,000 Shares Preferred Stock at 25c. Per Share.

In buying this stock the purchaser owns a direct title in the Company's property. This Company offers you no watered stock, but a legitimate high-grade gold-mining investment in the Cripple Creek District.

The above offer of Preferred Dividends is an assurance of early returns. After additional machinery is erected, this property will be earning dividends almost equal to its Capital Stock.

Fortnightly Club

The Rev. A. W. MacKenzie, of Lakefield, will read a paper on "Charles Kingsley" at the next meeting of the Fortnightly Club, which will be held in the Y.M.C.A. hall to-morrow evening, March 19th, at 8 o'clock. Mr. MacKenzie's paper is sure to be a very interesting one, and as this will probably be the last Fortnightly Club meeting for this season, it is hoped that there will be a large attendance.

Loss of Appetite.

A person that has lost appetite has lost something besides—vitality, vigor, tone.

The way to recover appetite and all that goes with it is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla—that strengthens the stomach, perfects digestion and makes eating a pleasure.

Thousands take it for spring loss of appetite and every body says there's nothing else so good as Hood's.

Mr. Hartley is a Skater

Speaking of an exhibition of fancy skating given by Mr. E. J. Hartley, the Lakefield News says:—Mr. Hartley is a figure skater of the first order, and he has the many different movements down fine. His specialties are something out of the usual, and requires a steady head and great skill to perform them. Mr. Hartley is the professional figure and trick skater of Canada, and his exhibition that night fully sustained his reputation.

Sunday School Rally

The Peterborough County Sunday School Council will meet next Thursday afternoon in the Y.M.C.A. In the evening at 8 o'clock a public rally will be held of all officers, teachers, scholars and friends. The programme will consist of a Round Table on Sunday School problems, and address from Rev. J. J. Riddit, of Uxbridge, the President of the Ontario Sunday School Association. Suitable music has been arranged. All are welcome.

A Successful Financier.

The Montreal Star of Friday contained a portrait of Mr. E. R. Wood, Toronto, Vice President and Managing Director of the Central Canada Loan and Savings Co. Mr. Wood is a son of our esteemed townsman, John Wood, Esq., J.P., Ashburnham, and is one of the most popular young men in the Queen city. "Ed's" many friends in Peterborough will be glad to know that his ability has placed him in a high position, and all hope to see him climb yet higher.

Conductor Haskill's Experiences.

Conductor Fred Haskill, who has charge of the Lakefield lightning express, has some peculiar experiences occasionally, as most cons have. The other day while the train was drawing up from the station here from the northern village, an old lady, who evidently was not a railroader, caught Fred by the coat tail as he was passing down the aisle of the car, and excitedly enquired: "Does this train stop at Peterborough?" Fred, having the train bunter in mind, no doubt, replied: "Well, if it doesn't, my good woman, there'll be the blamedest jolt you ever felt."

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

—St. Patrick's day.

—Looks like winter is over.

—The new market clerk commences his duty on April 1st.

—The annual meeting of the Trent Valley Canal Association will be held to-day.

—The Daughters of Erin will give an entertainment to-night in St. Andrew's lecture hall.

—A cellar is being excavated under the Commercial Hotel, corner of Brock and George streets.

—Mr. Wm. Anderson, ex-warden, will in all probability be Liberal candidate in East Peterborough.

"Better out than in"—that humor that you notice. To be sure it's out and all out, take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Two small lads were locked up in police cells Saturday afternoon for stealing marbles from the Peterborough Bookstore.

—The regular meeting of the W.C.T.U. will be held this afternoon, in the Y.W.C.A. hall, at 3 o'clock p.m. A good attendance is asked for and a good programme is being provided.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Mr. J. M. Kilbourne, of Lakefield, was in town Saturday.

—The Times had a friendly call from Mr. R. Q. Dench, of Lakefield, on Saturday.

—Mr. T. Donaldson, member of the Counties' Council for Cavan District, was in town Saturday.

—Mr. Ephraim Gardiner and Dr. Leslie have gone to Peterborough to visit with Dr. Leslie's sister, Mrs. John Campbell. —Port Hope Guide.

—The Times had a pleasant call on Saturday from Mr. Robert Shields, the well known author of "Robert Shields' Travels," which is so highly spoken of by the leading newspapers. Mr. Shields is meeting with great success in the disposal of his volumes.

Church Notes

—Mr. W. F. Crombie preached in the Bethel church, Otonabee, in the afternoon, and in St. Paul's church in the evening.

—Mr. Earl M. Cooke, railway secretary, of Toronto, took charge of the meeting for men at the Y.M.C.A. yesterday afternoon. His subject was illustration and suggestion from railway life.

—The fourth sermon of the course on the Bible was preached by Rev. H. Symonds yesterday evening in St. Luke's church. Subject, "Progressive Revelation." Mrs. A. G. Parker sang "O Jerusalem that stonest the Prophets," from Oratorio, "St. Paul."

—There was a slight variation in the Lenten services in St. John's and All Saints yesterday evening. Rev. J. C. Davidson preached in the latter and Rev. W. L. Armitage conducted service in St. John's.

—Miss Carson, late of Christodora House, New York city, now travelling Secretary for our Dominion Young Women's Christian Association, conducted a Gospel Service at the Y.W.C.A. Rooms, 168 Brock street, yesterday afternoon.

The Maid of Mount Shannon

A play will take place in the opera house this evening entitled "The Maid of Mount Shannon," under the austices of St. Peter's T.A.S., and conducted by Miss Lillian Simons, a talented young lady, and well known in town. Those taking part are all residents of Peterborough, and a glance at the programmes which have been distributed will convince one that a superior entertainment will be given and that even apart from the play the specialties will be well worth the price of admission.

A NEW SWINDLE.

How a Real Estate Agent Worked the Oracle With Farmers.

The Times is informed that a clever swindle has been worked on the farmers by a well known real estate agent, not 100 miles from Peterborough. As far as we can learn about three years ago a certain real estate agent canvassed a large number of farmers asking that he be allowed to advertise their farms for sale. His mode of procedure was to get the farmers to sign a three years' contract, by which he agreed to advertise their farms in his circular, he to get two per cent. of price of farm if sold and one per cent. if not sold at the end of three years. The farms were all valued highly, from $5,000 to $7,000 per 100 acres. The agent said that it would look better in print to have the farms at a good price. Only a few of the farms were sold, and now an agent, (not the one who got the farmers to sign the contract), is calling on the farmers whose farms are not sold, demanding the one per cent. commission. As several farmers were roped in to sign the contract, they feel somewhat blue in having to pay.

LADIES IN MEXICO.

Undone By Coffee Poisoning.

Down in the City of Mexico in the country that raises its own coffee, they have plenty of stomach trouble and nervous headaches, brought on by coffee drinking.

A lady writing from there says, "I have used coffee for a long time and was inordinately fond of it. At any time I would cheerfully have given up all the balance of my meal if necessary, in order that I might have the coffee, but I acquired a wretched, muddy, blotchy complexion, had prolonged attacks of excruciating nervous headaches, was troubled with insomnia, and finally complete nervous prostration, that horror of horrors.

I was compelled to give up coffee for it was the poison that worked my undoing, then I concluded to take on Postum Food Coffee. I did not believe in it and knew I would not like it, for I could not bear to think of anything that was to take the place of my beloved coffee.

I was driven to despair by illness and willing to try most anything to obtain relief. Imagine my surprise when I made Postum Cereal Coffee according to directions and liked it as well as any coffee I ever drank.

So the problem was solved. I began to improve in health, could sleep well nights, my headaches disappeared, and I kept gaining in flesh, until I went from 118 pounds to 150, so I am now perfectly well and feel so. I have been able to do an enormous amount of extra work that would have been absolutely impossible under the old conditions.

Please do not use my name in public." Name can be given by Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL

Lecture Appropriate to St. Patrick's Day by Ven. Archdeacon Casey

At vespers in St. Peter's cathedral last night Ven Archdeacon Casey delivered, to a large congregation, an interesting lecture concerning the life and work of Ireland's patron saint. The youth and early history of St. Patrick were described by the speaker, in which he stated that though uncertainly exists as to his birthplace it is generally considered that it was somewhere in the British Isles, probably not far from Glasgow. When he was only 16 years of age he was taken prisoner by the Irish and for many years lived as a slave among the people to whom he was destined to bring the light of Christianity. When he at last returned to his friends it was with a desire to prepare himself for the conversion of the Irish people. For this purpose he studied for some time in France and from thence went to Rome, where he received authority to go once more to Ireland, this time as an apostle of the Church of Christ. On the journey to the scene of his future labors he passed through Wales, and when landed in Ireland it was his wish to go immediately to the king and lay before him the doctrine he had come to teach. Though the Irish at this time were pagans they were by no means without civilization, and their religion was in some ways similar to that of the Persians, among others being their worship of fire. At the time of St Patricks arrival all the fires had been extinguished and none were to be re-lit until the order had been given by the king. As a result when St Patrick was found burning the pascal light, he was brought befor the court of the king at Tara. Here he gave such strong arguments in favor of the Christian doctrins that many were immediately converted, and before long, churches and schools began to spring up over the land. He lived to see the accomplishment of his work, the conversion of the whole of the Irish people. Persecution and trials have only served to make their faith the stronger and to spread it throughout the world, and there are few countries to-day where Irish missionaries are not to be found.

The collection taken up in aid of the charitable works of the St. Vincent de Paul society amounted to the sum of fifty dollars, and the selections rendered by the choir were of an excellent order.

THE NORWOOD-APSLEY ROAD

Mr. D. W. Dumble Thinks Peterboro Should Encourage This Project

(Editor Morning Times.)

Dear Sir,—As to the Norwood-Apsley railway, it is quite evident that the G.T.R. will not build a road north to any point on the C.P.R. They have a road now from Toronto to North Bay, and they have a road to Haliburton and they have specifically refused to extend the Lakefield branch farther north.

The C.P.R. will not build a road direct from Peterborough but may be induced to strike out from Norwood. As the road has to go east of Stoney lake they lose nothing by going via Norwood, which is just south of the east end of the lake. In fact a road to the east end of the lake via Norwood is not three miles longer than one via Lakefield.

Now, the question is which is the better for Peterborough, connection with all the back country via Norwood or none at all? And if we can get it via Norwood in connection with a splendid railway system, and get it for nothing, should we be indifferent? We are not always wise, but it strikes me it calls for very little intelligence to catch on to this scheme as one that should be heartily encouraged.

Yours truly.
D. W. DUMBLE.

THEIR FAME SPREADING

Dr. Clarke's Little Red Pills a Wonderful Remedy

Sir,—It is because I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be repaid that I ask you to publish some facts regarding Dr. Clarke's Wonderful Little Red Pills. I was for many years a sufferer from indigestion and stomach troubles. I could not digest my food, I was costive, and it was only by injections that I could get relief. Physicians did me no good. I was reduced to a skeleton and could hardly walk As a first resort I tried a box of these pills, and the improvement was so marked that I continued taking them. I have now taken twelve boxes, never remember being so well in my life. I have gained 22 pounds, and am putting on more flesh daily. I am a living, walking advertisement, and consider no trouble too great in order to spread the fame of Dr. Clarke's Pills. A. F. Jones, Lockport, N.Y., Peterborough, Ont.

The SPRING MEDICINE IS Hood's Sarsaparilla

In thousands and thousands of homes,—in cities, towns and villages,—three doses a day of this great medicine are now being taken by every member of the family.

In some homes, even the visitor is given a teaspoonful with every meal.

Why such wide and general use? Because Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved itself by its wonderful effects in cleansing the system of all humors, overcoming that tired feeling, creating appetite, clearing the complexion, giving strength and animation, the best of all Spring medicines, so that it is par excellence the Spring Medicine.

Take it.

"It is about twelve years since I first saw Hood's Sarsaparilla advertised, and we began using it as a Spring medicine. We have used it every year since with good results and I recommend it to others for impure blood and that tired feeling." MRS. I. STEWART, Claridge, Pa.

The Chicago Tribune

is a newspaper for bright and intelligent people. It is made up to attract people who think.

Is not neutral or colorless, constantly trimming in an endeavor to please both sides, but it is independent in the best sense of the word.

It has pronounced opinions and is fearless in expressing them, but it is always fair to its opponents.

Matters of national or vital public interest get more space in THE TRIBUNE than in any other paper in the West.

For these reasons it is the newspaper you should read during the forthcoming political campaign.

THE TRIBUNE'S financial columns never mislead the public.

Its facilities for gathering news, both local and foreign, are far superior to those of any other newspaper in the West.

It presents the news in as fair a way as possible, and lets its readers form their opinions.

While it publishes the most comprehensive articles on all news features, if you are busy the "Summary of THE DAILY TRIBUNE" published daily on the first page gives you briefly all the news of the day within one column.

Its sporting news is always the best, and its Sunday Pink Sporting Section is better than any sporting paper in the country.

It is the "cleanest" daily printed in the West.

For Peterborough Milkmen

A medical journal relates that a dairyman went to a certain city for treatment and while there, lying in bed, was greatly annoyed by being awakened each morning by the man delivering milk. As soon as he got well he had the milk-men shod with rubber-heeled and rubber-soled shoes, and rubber tires put on all his wagons. He presented each customer with a rubber mat upon which to set the milk can by the door, had his horses shod with rubber shoes, and then began to exploit his noiseless milk. His business has quadrupled. The idea is worth thinking over by our Peterboro milk venders, even if it should lead to nothing but the abolition of the bell that jars upon the nerves of so many trying to catch a morning nap after a restless night.

A Veteran's Story.—George Lewis, of Shamokin, Pa., writes: "I am eighty years of age. The P. A. A. A Grounds

The P. A.A.A. grounds in Ashburnham, which for years have proved to be the centre of attraction for all kinds of summer sport, will soon pass out of existence as a place of athletic amusement. For several years past the P.A.A.A. grounds has not been on a paying basis to its owners, the Burnham Estate, and it is now the intention to have it cut up into small building lots, which it is believed will sell quite readily in view of the probable land boom in the village. It now behooves the local sporting organizations to look around for new quarters.

GERMANY TO ABSORB THE AUSTRIAN EMPIRE

Dissolution of the Great Empire Said to be a Foregone Conclusion.

A SITUATION THAT INTFRESTS THE WORLD.

And the Great Ambition of the Kaiser for a German Approaches With Steady Tread.

Special to The Times.

London, March 19.—The ambition of the German Emperor, namely a greater Germany, stretching from the Baltic to the Adriatic, draws near realisation. The dual monarchy of Austria-Hungary, according to far-sighted diplomats, is tottering and may not last another year, while the German propaganda is gaining ground daily.

During the last decade the internal strife which has torn the vast domain almost since 1867, has increased in vehemence. Now, weakened, inert and impotent, a death-like stupor has stolen over it, and, with ambition paralyzed, every faculty dulled, and every source of vitality grown sluggish, it waits for dissolution and for the final rending by greedy neighbors, or for the living death such as Turkey and the crumbled states of the orient endure.

With the death of Kaiser Franz Josef, which is predicted not to be far off, the glorious but fated house of Hapsburg comes to an end. It is certain that neither Hungary nor Austria will permit a distant relative to ascend the throne and the Austrian-Germans who are now in the majority, are anxious to join issues with their flourishng northern neighbors. There are many irreconcilable Czechs in Hungary who will show fight in the final struggle but there are not enough of them to counteract the popular desire to be merged into one vast empire, with a mighty army and navy to defy the powers of the world.

All the world, especially France, is anxious over the situation. Here is what Alfred Rambaud, ex-minister of public instruction and one of France's most renowned contemporary historians, says: "For France the question of Austria constitutes a question of life or death. For every Frenchman it is nothing less than a question of daily bread."

Coming from such an authority, such as tatement shows how keenly German intrigues in Austria are watched by France.

A leading Parisian paper devotes considerable space to a discussion of the economical revolution the annexation of Austria by Germany would cause in the United States and in Europe it says:

"Such annexation would tend to keep Germany free from commercial dependency and the development of low rates and slave labor in the extended empire would enable Germany to successfull combat American opposition, while the reduction of prices of German manufacturers would ruinously affect all branches of French industry. This country has aparamount interest in combating Germany's annexation of Austria, which would have economic consequences that would deal France a blow infinitely more terrible than the loss of Alsace and Lorraine."

Count Von Bulow, before he succeeded to the chancellorship, in a speech on the naval proposals of 1899 referred to Lord Salisbury's memorable forecast—"The strong states must ever become stronger and the weak states weaker"—and after assenting to it remarked that "Germany cannot stand aside while other nations divide the world among them." "If Englishmen," said Count Von Bulow, "speak of ag reater Britain and Frenchmen of a Nouvelle France, if Russia opens up Asia for herself, then we too, have a right to a greater Germany."

The prospect of annexation to the big fatherland is far from galling to the average Austrian-German. The new movement is discussed everywhere in Austria, in the clubs, in the cafes and in the family, and, of course, everybody sees advantage in it, which is principally of an economic nature. Commerce and industry is bound to revive and a rosy future is depicted to the agricultural elements.

The only question in doubt is the future of Hungary. Some see a victory for the German propaganda even there while others prediot that, owing to the success in Hungary at the renewed "Ausgleisch" of 1899, it will be able to assert its strength and form a separate kingdom or republic. The customs bill which was then passed deliberately and openly prepared the way for the economic separation of Hungary from Austria in 1907, and unless serious financial reasons should supervene, Hungary will then conclude separate treaties with foriegn countries, establishing her own customs tariffs and her own bank.

Up to 1867 Ausaria was an absolute monarchy. The unlucky war of 1866 however, weakened the reactionary and military power of the nation so much that the Emperor consented to the demands of the Liberals for a constitution. The empire was divided into two sections—the Austrian empire proper and the kingdom of Hungary.

The relation between the two in the monarchy's present form was regulated by the so-called compromise of 1867. According to this "ausgleisch," the two parts are independant of each other, possessing each its own constitution, legislative power and executive department for most branches of state affairs.

The soveriegn as Emperor of Austria and King of Hungary, with certain departments of state common to both empire and kingdom, links the dual monarchy together. These affairs in common are foreign relations, army and navy and finances, but each provides separately for the assessment, collection and transmission of its contribution or quota for the federal treasury.

Both states have formed so far a commercial unit, having the same system of coinage, of weights and measures and a joint bank of issue. This commercial compromise must be renewed every ten years. It was renewed in 1877 and 1887 and should have been again renewed in 1897. But the council of the dual monarchy did not take any action until 1899, the arrangement between the countries continuing, however. In 1899, as stated, the customs bill then passed paved the way for the economic separation of the two countries.

The Most Delicious and The Healtiest Grain Food in the World.

The manager of one of our best Canadian Hotels where Malt Breakfast Food is regularly served at breakfast, said lately:

"After very close watching and careful experiments with Malt Breakfast Food and hearing what our guests have to say about the matter, we can truly report that Malt Breakfast Food has no faults, and is a true health food. The majority of our patrons will have no other cereal, and as public caterers, we are delighted to see pleased guests. I might add, that we find Malt Breakfast Food such a concentrated food, that it comes as cheap as the cheapest oatmeal. Malt Breakfast Food has come to stay with us, and will always appear on our breakfast menu cards."

If you would know the pleasure and profit of a perfect health breakfast from day to day, use Malt Breakfast Food. All Grocers recommend it.

DREAD SMALLPOX STILL SPREADING

Three New Centres of the Disease Have Been Reported

Toronto, March 18.—With a view to ridding the Sudbury district of smallpox, the Provincial Board of Health has established a disinfection station at Sudbury. It will be used for the inspection and vaccination of all men coming from the lumber woods, and the fumigation of clothing and baggage. The C.P.R. will work in harmony with the doctors by limiting the number of lumbermen carried in the trains. A fumigation room has been prepared and fitted with a steam engine and other apparatus. After the men have gone through the disinfecting process they will be given certificates and be allowed to proceed to their homes.

Three new smallpox centers are reported to-day—one in Tay Township, Simcoe County, another in Nottawasaga Township, and the third in Mara Township, Ontario County.

The Tay Township case has been traced to Sudbury. A young man from that town came home to Tay. His brother took the disease and afterwards travailed about the country. The doctors failed to diagnose the disease as smallpox at first. A lumber camp which he visited has been quarantined, and all the men have been vaccinated.

CONCERT LAST NIGHT

"The Maid of Mount Shannon" Presented in the Opera House

TURNED FROM THE DOORS

The House Crowded to its Utmost Capacity—A Decided Success

"The Maid of Mount Shannon" was presented to a very large and appreciative audience in Bradburns opera house last night.

The cast of characters was as follows: Phillip Swift, a sargeant, Kelly a footman. Mr. Samuel Hoolihan; Colonel Dixon, commanding H.R.M. 12th Regt., Mr. Fred Derocher; Ralph Forbes, Capt. in same Regt. Mr. James Hickey; Sir Richard Forbes, of Green Lawn Manor, Mr. John Gorham; John Reddy, corporal, Joe Guerin; Jim Nolan, a private, Mr. Frank Pope; Daniel Moore, a tenant of Sir Richard, Mr. James O'Brien; Shannon Boys, Gerald O'Brien, Tom Reardon, Jas Doris, and John Roach; Lady Forbes, wife of Sir Richard, Miss Fannie Hoolihan; Mrs. Moore, wife of Daniel, Miss Annie Simons; Helen Dixon, the Colonels daughter, Miss Maggie Moher; Molly Moore, (The Maid of Mount Shannon,) Miss Lillian Simons; soldiers, Shannon boys, etc., J. and T. Anglesyc, B. Halpin, D. Martin, W. Whaley, R. Mahoney, J. Browne, and Misses F. and L. Hallihan, E. Stortz, Lilla Bell, and N. Simons.

The specialties were as follows:

Miss Carrie White in character, songs and recitations. These were perfectly rendered and received well deserved applause.

Miss Carrie White and Miss Nellie Hallihan recited "The Bogey Man" to perfection. These two very promising young elecutionists were loudly encored after each selection.

Mr Joe Guerin sang a comic song entitled "Those Goo-Goo Eyes" and in answer to a loud encore, danced for a few minutes to the appreciation of everybody.

Mr. Mitchell also gave a solo and in answer to an encore gave "The Stout Man from Tipperary."

"The Fairy Band" by twelve little maidens, was very well rendered and enjoyed by all.

Miss Lilla Bell also gave a very interesting recitation entitled "The Circus Man's Story," which was well received.

The vocal duet by Misses, F. and L. Hallihan was excellently rendered and loudly encored by the audience. Solos were also given by Messrs. Jas. Brown and John Roach, which were highly appreciated by all. The stage was tastefully decorated with flags and the music throughout was excellent, especially the piano and violin selections by Miss McCabe of town, and Miss Bell, of Keene.

Miss Ada Doris played the accompaniments in a satisfactory manner for all the specialties.

The house was crowded to the doors and a great many were turned away.

The proceeds of the concert will go to the general fund of St. Peter's Total Abstinence Society.

Order Orders More Plentiful

London, March 18.—Hitherto the supply of copies of the orders of the day has been meagre, owing to an unwritten law of the House, that white members are speaking there shall be no reading of acopy of the orders, especially when there are a hundred questions on the paper. The copies are large enough to conceal a newspaper, and the reading of newspapers is tabooed in the House. The authorities have now consented to allow an almost unlimited distribution.

BANK CASHIER SHOT DEAD BY BURGLARS

Robbers He'd Officials off With Revolvers and Secured $2,000

Harrisburg, Pa., March 16.—Charles W. Ryan, cashier of the Halifax National Bank, was shot to death by Henry Rowe and Weston Keiper, of Lykens, at noon to-day in an attempt at a daring bank robbery. The robbers were captured by a party of citizens soon after the crime and were brought to the Harrisburg jail, together with F. B. Straley, of Lykens, who is suspected of being an accomplice. Rowe and Heiper drove to Halifax from Elizabethville this morning and hitched their team on the outskirts of the town, and boldly entered the bank with revolvers presented. Each had a revolver and they demanded the attaches of the bank to throw up their hands and turn over the money. One of them held in check Abraham Fostenbaugh, the president; Isaac Lytter, the teller, and ex-Representative Swartz, of Duncannon, who was in the bank on private business. The other covered Cashier Ryan, and under the menace of the revolver, the cashier collected the cash in the drawers to the amount of $2,000 and placed it in a satchel the robbers had brought with them. Rowe, with the cashed-stuffed satchel in his hand, backed outward of the door, and Keiper also moved toward the entrance to the bank. Just when it seemed that the robbers would succeed in getting away, Cashier Ryan leaped forward in an attempt to knock up the revolver of the man with the money. In the scuffle several shots were fired and Ryan fell to the floor, shot through the groin by a bullet from the pistol of Rowe. Mr. Fostenbaugh grabbed Rowe, and after a short scuffle threw him to the floor. Keiper ran out the door. The noise of the shots attracted J. F. Lyter, who has a store near the bank building. He ran out with his shot gun and pursued Keiper for one block and shot him in the back of the head when the robber surrendered. The wounded cashier was taken to his home after the capture of the desperado, where he died early last evening.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed, "Tender for Hospital, Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont.," will be received at this office until Friday, March 29th, inclusively, for the erection and completion of a Hospital Building, Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont., according to plans and specifications to be seen at the Department of Public Works, Ottawa, and at the office of Arthur Ellis, Esq., Architect, Kingston, Ont.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on the form supplied and signed cent. (10 p.c.) of the amount of the tenderers.

An accepted check on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent. (10 p.c.) of the amount of the tender, must accompany each tender. The check will be forfeited if the party decline the contract or fail to complete the work contracted for, and will be returned in case of non-acceptance of tender.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
JOS. R. ROY,
Acting Secretary.
Department of Public Works,
Ottawa, March 7th, 1901.

Newspapers inserting this advertisement without authority from the Department will not be paid for it.

BOERS ARE STILL KEEPING UP THE FIGHT

Discussing Surrender, but Meanwhile Continue to Fight aud to Make More Ammunition for the Commandoes

Britisd Capture a Boer Laager—Prisoners Sent From the Seat of War to Ceylon—Burnng of a Farmhouse Belonging to a British Scout

London, March 15.—From Standerton comes the news that the Boers are massing at the stations along the Delagoa line, and that the leaders are conferring daily at each station as well as Petersburg. The leaders are in communication with the Boer committee at Amsterdam, with a view of a general surrender. The manufacture of ammunition, it is reported, still goes on without cessation.

BOERS ON THE RAMPAGE.

Linton, Cape Colony, March 18.—The Boers looted the stores, seized forage and burned what wheat they could not carry off as they passed through this place last Thursday.

TOOK A BOER CONVOY.

Cape Town, March 18.—A colonial division under Col. Crewe, engaged the Boers near Petrusburg, and relieved the latter of their convoy.

The British, under Col. Gorringe, are closely pressing the burghers under Commandant Kritzinger, who are within 14 miles of Fort Beaufort, and who have been cutting the King William's Town telegraph line. The Boers have one pom pom. Some of the Boers have abandoned their march south and have passed north-east through Adelaide.

The Maraisburg commando is said to have split up into small parties with the intention of coming together again. A number of them passed through Kamastone Friday, Col. Donald's column in pursuit.

WHAT WILL WE DO WITH HIM?

London, March 18.—A question that is puzzling London military men is "what will be done with De Wet when he is (emphasis on is) caught?" Nobody knows just what Lord Kitchener's intentions in that line are, but there are many in high official positions who would rather see the wily prisoner. To quote one of the afore said high officials:—"I cannot see how Kitchener can possibly accept De Wet's surrender. If he ever gets him he will be obliged to try him for his recent alleged murders of prisoners. I have no doubt that the verdict of a court would be death, and if such a verdict should be carried out there wuold be a horrible howl on the Continent and in America. And, indeed, one would be sorry to see such a brave fighter meet such an end. Therefore, we can only hope De Wet will either be let out of the country or shot in battle."

DE WET'S COMMANDO BROKEN.

Cape Town, March 18.—Once again Gen. De Wet's commando has been broken up: this time at Senekal, Orange River Colony.

LOTTERY TO AID BOERS.

The Hague, March 18.—A big lottery is being organized throughout Europe in aid of the Boers, by Henri Rochefort.

MORE BUBONIC PLAGUE.

Cape Town, March 18.—During the past 36 hours nine new cases of bubonic plague have been officially reported. Six cases are coloured persons and three Europeans.

CAPTURED A LAAGER.

London, March 18.—In a despatch to the War Office, dated Pretoria, March 15, Lord Kitchener reports:—"Yesterday a column under Lieut.-Col. Park, of the Devonshire Regiment, operating from Lydenberg, surprised and captured a Boer laager at Krugerspost. One Boer was killed, five were wounded, 32 were taken prisoners, and a quantity of live stock and grain was captured. Our casualties were one killed and four owunded.

BOER PRISONERS AT CEYLON.

Colombo, Ceylon, March 18.—The ninth party of Boer prisoners exiled to Ceylon has arrived here on the old Cunard liner Catalonia, now known as Transport No. 2.

The party numbers 19 officers and 632 men. In all, 100 officers and 4,929 men are now prisoners in Ceylon.

Among the nineteen officers are four Germans—Lieutenant von Deritz, of the Potsdam Guards; Captain von Trotha, and Captain Halder, cavalry officers, and Captain Vogels. The most important of the Boer officers is Commandant Bosof.

It is calculated that one hundred and fifty of the prisoners are genuine Boers, 90 for foreigners, and the remainder are Free Staters, or people who became burghers. One prisoner died while the Catalonia was at Durban, and was buried ashore, and two others died of pneumonia on the long voyage up.

BURNED THE FARM HOUSE.

Cape Town, March 18.—A farm house belonging to a British scout named Meredith has been burned by the invaders in the Graaff Reinet district. It is reported on reliable information that Commandant Kritzinger has threatened to shoot any British officers captured by his men.

The Treason Court at Dordrecht has concluded its sittings. The sentences imposed included fines amounting to a total of £500,000, the heaviest yet inflicted.

SETTLEMENT OF ANGLO-RUSSIAN QUARREL

The Disagreement Will Likely be Diplomatically Arranged

London, March 18.—On the highest official authority the Associated Press is authorized to announce that the difficulty at Tien Tsin between the Russians and the British over the construction of a railroad siding in territory claimed by both, probably will be solved by the withdrawal of both the British and the Russian troops from the ground in dispute.

Tien Tsin, March 18.—The Anglo-Russian dispute situation is unchanged.

The French troops are quieter. Over forty arrests have been made.

London, March 18.—There is a disposition here to think too much has been made of the Anglo-Russian incident at Tien Tsin, and a more hopeful view of the affair is taken to-day. The combined efforts of the interested powers are having the effect of causing St. Petersburg to check any tendency to undue aggressiveness on the part of the uRussian representatives in China.

The comments of the afternoon newspapers here repeat the views of the majority of the morning papers, namely, that diplomacy will smooth the points of friction.

SUGAR BEET PROSPECTS.

A Public Meeting to be Held Early in April.

At a meeting of the Joint Committee of the Town Council, Board of Trade, County Council and Farmers' Institute, held on Saturday, it was decided to hold a public meeting in the Opera House on or about April 6th next.

Hon. Mr. Dryden, Minister of Agriculture has promised to send a couple of speakers, who thoroughly understand the manufacture of sugar from the beet.

The Committee who have this matter in charge is composed of Mayor Denne; Messrs. Wm. Collins, chairman; G. W. Fitzgerald, Warden, D. W. Dumble, President Board of Trade, and E. M. Elliott, President Farmers' Institute.

Russia Backs Down

London, March 18.—Dr. Morrison, wiring to The Times from Pekin says:—

"Chinese officials say they have been informed from St. Petersburg that Russia abandons her claim to exclusive rights in Mongolia and Turkestan, and consents to modify the stringency of her control of the civic adminstration of Manchuria, agreeing that the convention shall be published as soon as it is signed in St. Petersburg, a fortnight hence.

"This is the first check inflicted upon Russian diplomacy in China since Lord Salisbury was cajoled into the withdrawal of the British troops from Port Arthur in 1898; and it cannot fail profoundly to modify the situation by convincing the Chinese that there still exist international combinations capable of maintaining the equilibrium of the Far East."

MORGAN IS STILL BRANCHING OUT

To Take over a Compauy Capitalized at $50,000,000

New York, March 18.—J. P. Morgan & Company have confirmed the statement that the lake iron mines, railways, and lake transportation lines owned by John D. Rockefeller are to be taken in by, the United States Steel Corporation. These interests include to Lake Superior Consolidated Iron Mines, which concern has a capital stock of $50,000,000, of which $29,887,448.97 is out-standing.

The company owns extensive properties in Minnesota and leases some of its mines to the Carnegie Steel Company and other large steel manufacturers. It owns the Duluth, Mesaba, & Northern Railway, extending from Duluth to Iron Mountain, Minn., and embracing about 130 miles of road.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY

New York, March 16.—G. Marconi, the demonstrator of wireless telegraphy, who arrived here to-day, said he expected to remain in the United States for a few weeks. "One of the reasons for my visit," said he, "is to establish wireless telegraph stations along the coast, so that vessels arriving and departing can communicate with the shore. Some of the companies are supplied with instruments, but are unable to use them, as there are no stations. The North German Lloyd line will use the wireless system of reporting, but I cannot say what other lines will use the system. In the British navy wireless telegraphy is used, and at the present time forty British war vessels are fitted out with instruments. They have been able to communicate with shore and each other, flashing the messages a distance of 200 miles.

Trent Valley Canal

The annual meeting of the Trent Valley Canal Association, comprising the mayors of the towns and the reeves of the municipalities in the Trent Valley District, took place in the Council Chamber, yesterday afternoon. The meeting has been called a view of urging upon the Dominion Government the importance of placing the southern section of the canal under contract, and with a view to discussing a subject that is of importance to the District, and which is being discussed by the Dominion and Provincial Governments at present—the question of the Dominion Government taking over all the dams and locks on the tributary to the T. V. C. Waters. A report of the meeting will appear to-morrow.

SUGAR BEET EXPERIMENTS.

The report of the investigation into the sugar beet industry of Michigan, made by C. E. Lundy, D. C. Anderson and G. C. Creelman, under the direction of Hon. John Dryden, has just been published by the department of agriculture, and, in view of the present keen interest manifested in the subject, is of great value. The commissioners visited the beet sugar districts of Bay City, Alma, Holland, Benton Harbor, Kalamazoo, Rochester and Cairo, and studied closely every phase of the industry, from the choice of land for the growth of the beet to the manufacture of the sugar. The general conclusion they arrive at is that there are large areas of land in Ontario where sugar beets can be grown to the very best advantage. The paper by Mr. Creelman, superintendent of farmers institutes, is particularly interesting, showing as it does what marvellous strides in sugar beet production have been made in Michigan during the past three years. The report contains also a valuable article on sugar beet experiments in Ontario in 1900, prepared by A. E. Shuttleworth, Ph. D., professor of chemistry at the Ontario agricultural college.

"My report," writes Mr. Shuttleworth, "will show beyond any shadow of doubt that the soil and climate of extensive portions of Ontario are admirably adapted to the growth of sugar beets of high quality and tonnage."

Of the various experiments, the most interesting to the farmers of this district was that conducted at Aylmer. Out of fifty-two Aylmer farmers to whom seed was given, forty-seven succeeded with the crop and only five failed, the latter byn eglecting thinning and cultivating. The forty-four plots of beets grown as the dirrections required, averaged 14.4 per cent. sugar and 86.1 purity, a result, Mr. Shuttleworth thinks, of which Aylmer should be proud. The difficulty of handling beets in cold frosty weather has been advanced as an argument against the sugar beet indnstry in Ontario, but the Aylmer experiment has demonstrated the fact that the average per cent. of sugar was highest in beets pulled on Sept. 20th, and that the percentage of purity steadily advanced through the season.

A POSSIBILITY OF WAR.

The Chinese situation seems to be getting more and more complicated. With Russia in possesion of Manchuria, the Japanese populace clamouring for war to drive the Russians back, and British soldiers disputing with Russian soldiers regarding a railway, the only remnant of the world-alliance against China seems to be the band of military desertors of different nationalities who have joined together in commiting depredations between Pekin and Tien Tsin.

There is no likelihood that Britain and Russia will deliberately go to war over the Chinese question, but even a local dispute between British and Russian soldiers might encourage the Japanese to think that they would have British backing in case of a war with Russia. The Japanese are not afraidt o fight the Russians single handed. They believe that their fleet in the Pacific is far superior to that of Russia, and that it would be impossible for Russia to place in Manchuria as many soldiers as Japan could land there. This may be true, as the Siberian railway is still uncompleted, although it is probable that even the Japanese do not know how many Russians there are in Manchuria at the present time. They may have been concentrating troops on the Siberian frontier for a long time. But what the Japanese are most afraid of is that in case Russia should get the worst of a war her ally, France, might be called upon for aid. What they would like is a British guarantee to allow no other power to interfere. This Britain is not likely to give, but if the Japanese government should get the impression that a rupture between Britain and Russia is probable over this railway question, there might be a declaration of war very soon.

BREACH OF CONFIDENCE CAUSES MUCH TROUBLE

oadon Times Publishes Advance Information.

London, March 18.—The members of the House of Commons are greatly stirred up by the London Times' alleged breach of secrecy in regard to publishing in advance the Government's Civil List proposals.

A curious feature which has not leaked out in the papers is the implication of the Birmingham Post in the same charges and there is a half serious attempt upon the part of the Irish members to connect Mr. Joseph Chamberlain with the affair. The Birmingham Post is one of Mr. Chamberlain's warmest supporters and if the Liberals can get this organ punished they will take it as a personal score off the much-disliked Colonial Secretary.

WOULD BE A LESSON

A Conservative member of Parliament informed a representative of the Associated Press that a majority of his party would be delighted to see the London Times suspended for say a week, not with the idea of seriously affecting its news service, but with giving it "a much needed lesson."

Mr. A. J. Balfour, the Government leader in the House of Commons. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Liberal leader, and Mr. William Court Gully, the Speaker, have been consulting together during the week-end. Among the suggestions which they will consider is one to examine all the members of the Civil List Committee separately under oath, and so run down the culprit.

VENALITY IN HIGH PLACES.

The Daily Mail prints an editoral in this connection headed "Unusually Direct Charge of Venality in High Places," during which it says: "Should the Speaker, as he certainly won't decide to have the Times' reporter thrown out of the House, our contemporary would have no difficulty in employing further honorable members or officials to supply it with such news as itm ay desire to publish. If the committee cannot find powers to act as the guardian of its own honour and to prevent the disclosure of information which is solely in its possession, there is no remedy."

It Saved My Life.

Extreme cases of disease test the real value of a medicine. Many "tonic" and "stimulant" preparations, which have no real medicinal value, seem to brace up the users when they are feeling "played out." Any stimulant will do this whether bought at the liquor store or drug store. The true test of a medicine is when life itself is staked on its remedial power. In hundreds of such cases Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been the means of saving life when even the "family doctor" had pronounced sentence of death.

"I had been a great sufferer for several years, and my family doctor said I would not be a living man in two years, but, thank God, I am still living," writes Mr. George W. Trustow, of Lipscomb, Augusta Co., Va. "Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is what saved my life. I had heart trouble so bad that I could not lie on my left side without a great deal of pain. I was nearly past work when I commenced your medicine, but I can do about as much work now as any man. I cannot say too much for the benefit I have received."

Many diseases, named for the organs affected, as "heart disease," "lung disease," "liver complaint," etc., are perfectly cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which cures through the stomach diseases which originate in the stomach.

NOVEL WAY OF PAYING THE TAXES

Income From Common Fields Raises Sufficient Funds

The village of Prairie du Rocher, Ill., has a fund that is unique. The little town, which is located in Randolph County, a few miles southwest of Red Bud and not far from the Mississippe River, was founded in 1722.

What was known as the "Common fields" of Prairie du Rocher were granted to the village in 1730 by Jean Baptiste St. Therese, a nephew to Gov. Bolbrant, then the supreme power of the Territory of Louisiana.

The early French settlers held the possession of their lands in common. A tract of land was fixed upon as a common field, in which all the inhabitants were interested. To each villager was assigned a portion, the size depending upon the number of his family. Fixed times were assigned for plowing, sowing, harvesting and other agricultural operations.

The land was usually granted to each villager in long, narrow stripe, partly, it is said, from an old custom in France and perhaps to insure a more efficient protection against the Indians and other foes while engaged in the arduous work of tilling the land. A fence surrounded the whole inclosure, but the individual lots were not divided from each other.

Beside the common field another tract of land was laid off as commons. All the villagers had free access to this as a place of pasture for their stock. From this they drew their supply of fuel.

In 1852 a portion of the land was leased for 99 years and a part of it was sold. These transactions realized several thousand dollars, and this fund is now controlled by a special committee of villagers. The money was loaned for a long term of years to the farmers of Randolph County at interest payable annually.

From this source the village derives so much money that the 600 inhabitants are almost wholly exempt from taxation, all because of an idea more than 170 years old of sharing things in common.

The Chicago Tribune

is a newspaper for bright and intelligent people. It is made up to attract people who think.

It is not neutral or colorless, constantly trimming in an endeavor to please both sides, but it is independent in the best sense of the word.

It has pronounced opinions and is fearless in expressing them, but it is always fair to its opponents.

Matters of national or vital public interest get more space in THE TRIBUNE than in any other paper in the West.

For these reasons it is the newspaper you should read during the forthcoming political campaign.

THE TRIBUNE'S financial columns never mislead the public.

Its facilities for gathering news, both local and foreign, are far superior to those of any other newspaper in the West.

It presents the news in as fair a way as possible, and lets its readers form their opinions.

While it publishes the most comprehensive articles on all news features, if you are busy the "Summary of THE DAILY TRIBUNE" published daily on the first page gives you briefly all the news of the day within one column.

Its sporting news is always the best, and its Sunday Pink Sporting Section is better than any sporting paper in the country.

It is the "cleanest" daily printed in the West.

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Salida copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the Rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims: The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Salida, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Salida. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of Salida at Cleora station, on the main Trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

TALMAGE'S SERMON.

THE CITY CHURCHES AND THEIR MUSIC.

In Many of the Churches of Christ in Our Day the Music is Simply a Mockery—I Have Nothing to Say Against Artistic Music.

It is often the case that churches are envious of each other, and denominations collide with each other, and even ministers of Christ sometimes forget the bond of brotherhood. But in the time of which I speak, while there will be just as many differences of opinion as there are now, there will be no acerbity, no hypercriticism, no exclusiveness.

In our great cities the churches are not to-day large enough to hold more than a fourth of the population. The churches that are built—comparatively few of them are fully occupied. The average attendance in the churches of the United States to-day is not 200. Now, in the glorious time of which I speak, there are going to be vast churches, and they are going to be thronged with worshippers. Oh, what rousing songs they will sing! Oh, what earnest sermons they will preach! Oh, what fervent prayers they will offer!

Now, in our time, what is called a fashionable church is a place where a few people, having attended very carefully to their toilet, come and sit down—they do not want to be crowded, they like a whole seat to themselves—and then, if they have any time left from thinking of their store, and from examining the style of the hat in front of them, they sit and listen to a sermon warranted to hit no man's sins, and listen to music which is rendered by a choir warranted to sing tunes that nobody knows! And then after an hour and a half of indolent yawning they go home refreshed. Every man feels better after he has had a sleep!

In many of the churches of Christ in our day the music is simply a mockery. I have nothing to say against artistic music. The two or five dollars I pay to hear one of the great queens of song is a good investment. But when the people assemble in religious convocation, and the hymn is real, and the angels of God step from their throne to catch the music on their wings, do not let us drive them away by our indifference. I have preached in churches where vast sums of money were employed to keep up the music, and it was as exquisite as any heard on earth, but I thought at the same time, for all matters practical, I would prefer the hearty outbreaking song of a back-woods camp-meeting.

Let one of these starveling fancy songs sung in church get up before the throne of God, how would it look standing amid the great doxologies of the redeemed? Let the finest operatic air that ever went up from the church of Christ get many hours the start, it will be caught and passed by the hosanna of the Sabbath school children. I know a church where the choir did all the singing, save one Christian man who, through perseverance of the saints, went right on, and afterward a committee was appointed to wait on him and ask him if he would not please stop singing as he bothered the choir.

"Let those refuse to sing
Who never knew our God;
But children of the Heavenly King
Should speak their joys abroad."

Praise ye the Lord; let everything with breath praise the Lord. In the glorious time coming in our cities and in the world, hosanna will meet hosanna, and hallelujah, hallelujah.

In that time also of which I speak all the haunts of iniquity and crime and squalor will be cleansed and will be illumined. How is it to be done? You say perhaps by one influence. Perhaps I say by another. I will tell you what is my idea, and I know I am right in it. The Gospel of the Son of God is the only agency that will ever accomplish this.—T. De Witt Talmage

"The future wage-earning girl should have in her mind during the latter part of her school life the selection of her profession," writes Margaret E. Sangster in the Ladies' Home Journal. "I think it well for her, too, very quietly, but with intention, to cast about among her friends for suggestions, to ask the kind offices of one and another, and to make known her need of immediate employment so soon as she leaves school. Many good positions are lost because of indecision, or false pride, or unwise reticence on the part of those who seek them. The mental attitude of the girl in search of employment should be neither indifferent nor patronizing; she should see in motion every legitimate means, and let those who may be able to assist her know something of her situation. They can help, and she can seek with much greater hope of success if the goal in view be something definite."

The story is told of a dog, during the French Revolution, which showed such fondness for music and such appreciation of melody that he became quite famous. He was a regular attendant at the theatre, where he would sit in a corner where the orchestra played, and listen calmly to the music. If a new piece was played he would wag his tail, and show his enthusiasm unmistakably. If the pieces were those he was accustomed to, he would listen quietly and then curl up and take a nap. A new melody would rouse him instantly. A New York organ grinder owned a dog which was very fond of organ music. The organ was stolen from its owner, and months passed; but one day the dog and his master heard an organ playing, and the dog instantly sprang on the man who was turning the handle. It was the long-lost organ, and the musical ear of the dog recognized the sound and the tunes.

LIVELY CHILDREN.

Showing Some of the Difficulties Attending Literary Work at Home.

"When you come in to-night," said the literary man to his two sprightly children, who were accustomed, when they came in from their evening walk to walk straight into the library where he was at work, and sit down and talk awhile, "I wish you would just say how d'ye do and then go out. I have a lot of work to do to-night, and I don't want to be disturbed."

An hour later the literary man heard a latch key placed carefully in the front door, as though the person placing it there didn't wish to be heard. Then he heard smothered laughter in the hall; it was from the children; they were up to something, sure. A moment later they came marching through the hall, one behind the other, with military step, back toward the library. They turned in, marched like a file of soldiers alongside the library table on the side opposite the literary man, halted, fronted, raised their hands in salute and said in unison:

"How d'ye do?"

Then they faced to the left and marched out again, one behind the other, keeping step as before, and keeping as sober as they could until they came to the parlor; there they exploded.—New York Sun.

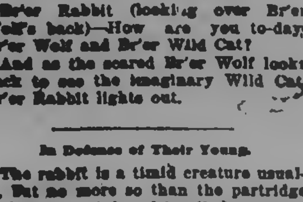
A Cat's Whiskers.

Nature is an economical dame, and never indulges in useless gifts. If she gives an animal or plant an appendage of any kind we may be sure that it serves some wise purpose.

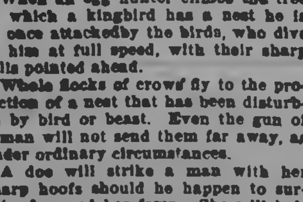
Take a cat's whiskers, for instance, which may seem to you to be merely ornamental. They are organs of touch attached to a bed of fine glands under the skin, and each of these long hairs is connected with the nerves of the lip. The slightest contact of these whiskers with any surrounding object is thus felt most distinctly by the animal, although the hairs themselves are insensible.

They stand out on each side of the lion as well as the common cat. From point to point they are equal to the width of the animal's body. If we imagine, therefore, a lion stealing through a covert of wood in an imperfect light we shall at once see the use of these long hairs. They indicate to him through the nicest feeling any obstacle which may present itself to the passage of his body; they prevent the rustling of boughs and leaves which would give warning to his prey if he were to attempt to pass too close to a bush; and thus, in conjunction with the soft cushions of his feet and the fur upon which he treads—the claws never coming into contact with the ground—they enable him to move toward his victim with a stillness equal to that of a snake.

How Br'er Rabbit Fooled Br'er Wolf.



Br'er Wolf (coming from behind the tree)—I've got you now, you sly rascal!



Br'er Rabbit (looking over Br'er Wolf's back)—How are you to-day, Br'er Wolf and Br'er Wild Cat?

And as the scared Br'er Wolf looks back to see the imaginary Wild Cat Br'er Rabbit lights out.

In Defence of Their Young.

The rabbit is a timid creature usually, but no more so than the partridge (ruffed grouse) found in all the eastern states. The female partridge has often put boys to hurried flight by attacking them when they have molested her brood.

When an egg hunter climbs the tree in which a kingbird has a nest he is at once attacked by the birds, who dive at him at full speed, with their sharp bills pointed ahead.

Whole flocks of crows fly to the protection of a nest that has been disturbed by bird or beast. Even the gun of a man will not send them far away, as under ordinary circumstances.

A doe will strike a man with her sharp hoofs should he happen to surprise her and her fawn. She will battle long and ardently to save her young from a pair of eagles, and the fox flees from her as from a dog.

The bear hurries her young ones along by cuffing them till retreat is no longer possible. Then she turns desperately on her pursuers.—London Field.

[illegible]

When little folks graduate from the crib, with its safe, close sides, and come into the dignity of sleeping in a "grown-up" bed, there is apt to be many a tumble upon the floor in the darkness, particularly if the time be summer, when the bed-clothing cannot be "tucked in" closely.

Little people are apt to be restless at night, after a hard day's play, and in tossing about it is small wonder that they often fall out of bed. The possibility of this catastrophe has made unnumbered hosts of mothers sleep "with one eye open," ready to spring up at the sound of unwonted stirring in the next room.

Such nervous apprehension is wearying and altogether unnecessary, for there are a number of simple devices for making the children's bed un-fall-out-able. One of the best is a strip of stout linen denim, cut to the length of the bed, and hemmed about the edges, having a broad hem at the bottom, through which to tack the strip to the inside of the side pieces of the bed, if both sides are to be protected. If the bed can be placed against the wall, only the outer side will require a strip tacked to it.

In the upper corners of the strip sew metal rings and insert hooks in the headboard and footboard. When the bed is made up in the morning the strip can be folded in under the quilts, to be removed and hooked up into place at night. With such a device the mother can sleep in peace, quite certain that the little folk will be found in the morning where they were placed at night—on the bed instead of under it.—Philadelphia Press.

How to Make Peanut Candy.

Here is a simple peanut candy which can be made and in the pans cooling in ten minutes' time. Children love dearly to make candy, and it is a good rainy day occupation for them. This may be made on a gas stove used for heating curling irons if you do not wish to use the kitchen.

Shell some freshly roasted peanuts and, if you wish, remove the thin skin also. Place them in a buttered tin so that the nuts will almost cover the bottom of the pan.

Put some granulated sugar into a skillet or frying pan, allowing about two teacupsful for each pie-tin full of nuts that you have. Place the frying pan over a slow fire and stir all the time until the sugar is melted, then pour it over the nuts. No water must be used. In melting the sugar turns brown, but if it is constantly stirred does not burn. Set the pans out of doors or in a shallow basin of cold water to cool, and you will have delicious crisp peanut candy.

A New Way to Study Owls.

Some young hunters may like to know of a new way to study owls. A party of amateur sportsmen went out shooting near Chesapeake Bay recently, and one shot at and wounded the wing of a big Virginia horned owl. He was advised to kill the bird at once, but being also an amateur ornithologist, refused to do so, saying he was going to study the bird alive. So he put the big bird on the ground, fastening it by the leg to a stout peg. Presently a duck came along, and the hunter stooped so low in shooting that he sat on the owl, which, not liking this way of being studied, fastened its claws in the hunter's back and refused all attempts to make it let go. The more they tried to get it off the harder it pinched, and, from the howling of the man, it would appear as if the owl was studying the man instead of the man studying the owl. In the end the bird had to be killed before it would release its hold, and the hunter rose up with the conviction that he knew all about live owls that he cared to know.

Big Four Con. G. M. Co.
LIMITED

Mines one mile west of Rossland, directly west of the Le Roi No. 1 and Le Roi No. 2. Four properties. All Crown granted.

THE LeRoi No. 1 once sold for 2 cents and went to $45 per share; and the L Roi No. 2 £5 shares went to £23, or $110 per share in a few months.

Our memorandum of association contains a provision, provided by Section 56 of the Companies Act, 1897, that the shares are issued as Fully Paid Up and Non Assessable, and that no further liability beyond the amount actually paid upon shares shall attach to the holders thereof. Capital $250,000.

Our properties are now proved (both above and below ground) to have the same continuous ore veins as the LeRoi Companies, and have the same identical ore and our shares are well worth TWENTY FIVE CENTS now, and will surely bring fifty cents. And we can, with a very small capital, develop our property to such an extent that it can also be placed on the London market, where it belongs—and small investors will make a good profit by buying now.

Our assays have averaged from $5 to $800 in gold, copper and silver and the shipping facilities are the best. The Great Northern Railway runs three times through the ground, three smelters close at hand, and reduced charges of $4.50 per ton for shipping and smelting, and we are now getting ready to start shipping ore.

Irrespective of the merits of the BIG FOUR, we have now over 570,000 shares in our treasury and free from all incumbrance. We are amongst the few local companies that has complied with the law in every particular, and we venture to say have DONE MORE WORK WITH LESS MONEY THAN ANY COMPANY IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The Aristos GOLD MINING CO.

Owning Big Horn Mountain Tunnel and Veneta Vein, 200 acres situated on the Western Slope of Pikes Peak, in the famous Cripple Creek Gold Mining District.

THE SAFEST OFFER EVER MADE TO INVESTORS.

100,000 Shares Preferred Stock at 25c. Per Share.

It is printed on each certificate that subscribers to the above Preferred Shares will be entitled to receive in Dividends the full amount of money invested, before other stockholders receive any returns, signed by the President of the Company.

This district produced more Gold in 1900 than any other in the United States

This property consists of 3000 by 3000 feet, or 200 acres, of gold land. The mine has been worked. The feature of this mine is the Veneta Vein, 20 to 40 feet in width, and is certainly one of the strongest veins in this famous district. There are some fifteen openings on this vein, the ore from which assays in gold from $12 to $100 per ton. The property is advantageously located for development by tunnel, which will make it possible to produce an enormous amount of ore daily, the quantity varying from 200 to 500 tons per day. The development by TUNNELING is the most economical and advantageous manner of working this property.

At a distance of 800 feet the Tunnel will intersect the Veneta Vein at a depth of about 680 feet, and will also intersect several other veins. The tunnel will cut the Big Horn Mountain 2100 feet deep, and will give this company 2,000,000 tons of ore, worth over $20 per ton.

The new railroad, now practically completed from Colorado Springs, called the Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek road, passes within 2000 feet of this Tunnel

Adjoining this property is the Colorado Springs TUNNEL Company. In this property at a depth of 400 feet, the Veneta Vein was cut. At this point the vein was fully 20 feet in width, and its value from $20 to $1000 per ton.

There are already in operation mills and smelters sufficient to treat the output of this property, which gives at once cash returns.

Capital Stock $1,000,000. Par Value $1.00 Per Share. 100,000 Shares Preferred Stock at 25c. Per Share.

In buying this stock the purchaser owns a direct title in the Company's property. This Company offers you no watered stock, but a legitimate high-grade gold-mining investment in the Cripple Creek District.

The above offer of Preferred Dividends is an assurance of early returns. After additional machinery is erected, this property will be earning dividends almost equal to its Capital Stock.

Died in Montreal.

A telegram was received here on Saturday last, from Montreal, announcing the death of Mr. James Gallon, a former resident of this town. The deceased gentleman had made his home with his daughter, Mrs. John Campbell, since he moved from Lindsay, some two years ago. He was about 60 years of age, and was highly esteemed. Mr. Gallon has a sister living in Peterborough—Mrs. Thomas Campbell. Mr. Wm. Gallon, of Apsley, is also a brother of the deceased.

Social Evening at the Y. W. C. A.

This evening at 8 o'clock there will be a social evening given at the Y. W. C. A. for all its members. Invitations are being sent out, but should a member happen in any way not to receive one, they will please accept this invitation and come. We shall have the privilege of quietly conversing with Miss Carson, of Christodora House, New York City, who is the special guest of the Y.W.C.A., of Peterborough, and is well-known throughout the United States and the Dominion in College Settlement Work and the work of the Young Women's Christian Association. No member can afford to miss her.

Properly Named

Water street is properly named, especially at this season of the year, as it is almost impossible to travel on the street without getting wet. In the rear of the Methodist church, on the east side, the water is from two to five inches deep on the granolithic walk. The way these walks have been built is a disgrace to the engineer in charge of the work. A prominent ratepayer yesterday told The Times that he had almost made up his mind to sue the town for damages. The matter was being considered by his solicitor, and if there was a chance of forcing the town to rebuild the walk in front of his property at a higher level, he would issue a writ.

An Explanation.

We hasten to make an explanation regarding an article which appeared in these columns on Monday last, headed "A New Swindle." The article does not refer to any of our local real estate agents, who are all honorable in their dealings with the public. The article in question was sent us from a neighboring place, and the words "not 100 miles from Peterborough," was intended to refer to this fact. We hope our real estate friends will not regard the article as reflecting on them in the slightest degree. Such firms as Messrs. T. Hurley & Co., Lindsay & Might and others, have built up high reputations for honorable dealing, that no one would for a moment connect any of them with a scheme that was not entirely proper.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

—The snow is fast disappearing.

—The walks are in most cases covered with water.

—A bag of bread was found on the street on Saturday night.

—The creek is on the rise, and will soon be in full war regalia.

—The ice over the lakes travelled by teams is apparently as strong as ever.

—Alex Shairp's trial will take place at the spring assizes, which will open next week.

—Pauline, the hypnotist, is in town, and to-night opens a five-night engagement at the Opera House.

Humors feed on humors—the sooner you get rid of them the better—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the medicine to take.

—The Times bindery received an order for some blank books from Calgary. Our ledgers, day books, etc., are the best that are made.

—The Central Fair directors met on Saturday and discussed the prize list. It was decided to offer $105 in prizes for sugar beets.

—The two lads who on Saturday were coralled for stealing marbles at the Peterborough Bookstore, were discharged by Magistrate Dumble with a warning.

—Mr. John Aldridge, Supreme Grand Vice-President, and Mr. John W. Carter, Supreme Grand Secretary of the S.O.E., addressed a meeting of the local Lodge last night.

—A couple of our enthusiastic sportsmen went out after rabbits a few days ago, and shot a muskrat. They thought it was an otter till they tried to sell it, and found it was only worth ten cents.

The fire brigade was called out last night about 11 o'clock. The fire took place in an empty house on Brock street, but all their efforts proved futile, and the house was burnt to the ground.

Her Heart like a Polluted Spring.—Mrs. James Srigley, Pelee Island, Ont., says: "I was for five years afflicted with dyspepsia, constipation, heart disease and nervous prostration. I cured the heart trouble with Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart, and the other ailments vanished like mist. Had relief in half an hour after the first dose."—27

FAT TRAVELERS

Live on Grape-Nuts

When one looks at commercial travellers, round, smooth, and well kept, it is hard to believe that any of them have to be particular about the selection of food, but many of them do nevertheless, and their care in this respect is one cause of their healthy appearance.

Frank W. Clarke, who travels for Arbuckle Bros., says that he began using Grape-Nuts Food when he found it on a Hotel menu, and ever since that time has eaten Grape-Nuts from one to three times a day, carrying a package in his grip, so he could have it whenever the hotels did not serve it.

He says: "About eight years ago dyspepsia got a hold of me and gradually weakened my stomach so that it would not take all kinds of food. I had to drop a number of articles which is a hard thing for a travelling man to do. Then the question was 'what could I get to eat that would not distress me?' When I found Grape-Nuts Food it solved the problem, and since taking on this food my stomach has gradually gotten well so that I feel in fine shape."

"The proof of the pudding is in the eating." Grape-Nuts is pre-digested in its manufacture, and can be easily assimilated by the weakest kind of a stomach, while at the same time it contains the most powerful elements of nourishment, strong in the elements of phosphate of potash, which, united with albumen go to make the gray matter in the nerve cells and brain. People that are not properly nourished can solve the problem by using Grape-Nuts Food.

THE DAUGHTERS OF ERIN

Given a Delightful Entertainment Last Night in St. Andrews

The Lecture Room of St. Andrew's Church was crowded to the doors last night on the occasion of the entertainment given by the Daughters of Erin of St. Andrew's church.

Mr. Giddon's orchestra was present, and kept the large audience in good humor while refreshments were being served by the ladies.

The programme consisted of songs, readings and recitations, by local talent, all of which were well rendered and enthusiastically received.

The Times was of opinion that the good people who attend Rev. Mr. Potter's church were Scotch—or mostly Scotch—but by the sound of the brogue heard last night, this g. f. j. is inclined to alter its opinion in this regard. The spacious hall was handsomely decorated with flags.

Grand Trunk Fast Trains.

Official announcement is made by the management of the Grand Trunk Railway that it has been definitely decided to put on two new fast express trains between Chicago and New York early this summer. The trains will run solid, leaving Chicago daily at a convenient hour in the morning, arriving at Buffalo early the following day and New York early in the afternoon; they will leave New York in the morning, reaching Buffalo early in the evening, and Chicago before noon the following day. These trains, which will consist of combination baggage and smoking cars, standard Grand Trunk coaches, the finest Pullman cars that this well known establishment turn out and the popular cafe-parlor cars, put into service some time ago on the "International Limited" and "Eastern Flyer" are now being constructed. The large ten-wheeled Morse-type engines will be used to haul them.

These trains will, without doubt, become popular, operating as they will through a country full of beautiful scenery, and passing over the Grand Trunk single-arch, double-track steel bridge over the Niagara Gorge, from which the view of the falls and the whirlpool rapids is something mafnificent; then passing through the "Land o' Lakes" in Central Western New York, giving a glimpse of the captivating view of one of America's most arcadian spots and the Wyoming Valley, thence through Mauch Chunk, which has been called the Switerland of America.

Courage Brother and Sister!

Paine's Celery Compound

IS ABLE TO RESCUA AND SAVE THOUGH DISEASE AND SUFFERING MAY BE DRAGGING YOU DOWN TO THE GRAVE.

While Paine's Celery Compound with promptness and certainity cures the ordinary ills of life that people suffer from in spring time, its medical virtues and powers are far-reaching enough to banish disease and suffering even after the sufferer has been pronounced incurable by his or her physician.

Paine's Celery Compound has, according to the honest testimony given by hundreds of well known Canadian people, dragged them from certain death at the eleventh hour, and blessed them with a new lease of life. Mrs. Louisa Warner, of Montgomery, N.W.T., writes thus:

"For some years past my nerves and system were almost wrecked by narcotics, used to alleviate pain. The doctors could not help me, and I thought I would forever have to remain a slave to deadly drugs. I often longed for death as a release from my sufferings. After enduring agonies that were terrible, I determined to try Paine's Celery Compoud, without any hope that it would cure me. When I had used a part of the second bottle, I thought it was doing me good; I could sleep well, and did not faint so often, and I decided to continue the use of the medicine. After the use of fifteen bottles, I am completely cured. I feel so strong and well now, and have such perfect health, that I sometimes think it is too good to be true. For the benefit of thousands of poor sufferers from disease and the deadly effects of narcotics, I give my statement—an assurance that Paine's Celery Compound will cure them."

LIVELY LAKEFIELD.

Latest Budget of Interesting News from the Northern Village.

—The work on the steamers has commenced.

—The Cement Company will increase its force as soon as spring opens up.

—Lakefield promises to boom, as it never boomed before.

—The Dickson Company's saw mills will begin operations in May.

—Our esteemed citizen, Mr. Wm. Casement, has been laid up with la grippe.

—Who will succeed Dr. Bell as Village Clerk? That's the live question. Quite a number are after it.

—There was quite a number out from Peterborough on Sunday.

—It is with very great regret that we announce the retirement of Dr. Alexander Bell from the position of Clerk of the Municipality of Lakefield. Dr. Bell has been a resident of the village for the past [illegible] years, during the last seventeen years of which he has occupied the responsible position of Clerk of the village Council, and it is no flattery to say that in these years of faithful service he has proved himself not only an efficient public servant but one of the very best in his particular capacity that the province could produce. The loss of his services to the village will be almost irreparable. Other positions which he has occupied for a considerable number of years are those of Medical Health Officer for the municipality and Coroner for the county. We understand that Dr. Bell intends leaving almost immediately to pursue the practice of his profession at Apsley. He may rest assured that the good wishes of the community will follow him to his new sphere of action.

SICK BENEFIT ASSOCIATION.

To be Formed in Connection With the Works of the Canadian Gen. Electric Co.

At a representative meeting of the employees of the Canadian General Electric Co. on Saturday evening last, it was considered advisable to form a Sick Benefit Association in connection with the factory, and a committee was appointed composed of Messrs. R. E. Layfield, J. Kyle, M. Mowry, R. E. Harding, R. Morrison, E. E. Lord, W. H. Smith, Jos. Begley and C. B. Robertson to frame constitution and by-laws and lay out a scheme for such association.

Mr. MacGill, Mechanical Superintendent, gave the meeting some very good advice regarding the matter, and also gave a general idea of how such societies were conducted in other factories.

The committee expect to have all arrangements completed in a few days, when a further report will be submitted.

HAVELOCK

A few days ago, says the Standard, our village was visited by Messrs. Van-Allen and Shortal', of Toronto, who after negotiating with Mr. Wm. Mathison, purchased from that gentleman, 85 acres of land south of the C.P.R. track allowance. The Toronto gentlemen however did not state for what purpose they were purchasing the property, and the town has been rife with suggestions as to their intentions.

A representative of the Standard has obtained some inside information on the matter, which places the future prospects of our town in a very roseate hue. The land has been purchased for two large manufacturing concerns, who expect to begin building operations before spring. There is also a bright outlook for a third establishment locating on the property.

It was the intention at first to ascertain what inducements would be offered by the municipality, but it was finally decided to go ahead regardless of bonuses. The concerns will count on the friendly treatment from Havelock, though, in regard to taxation and minor affairs, which we are sure will only be too readily granted, if the prospects are as stated.

In our next issue we hope to be in a position to give full and detailed information concerning the matter.

Death of Mrs. Gifford

Another old and esteemed resident of the county has passed away, in the township of Ennismore, in the person of Mrs. Ellen Gifford, who, for the seventy-four years, resided in that township, having been born within almost a mile of her late home. The deceased lady was a daughter of the late Patrick Toomey and her husband, Mr. Wm. Gifford, survives her. The illness, caused by la grippe, was scarcely over a week's duration. Besides the husband, the family surviving is three sons, William and Lawrence, of Ennismore; Thos., of British Columbia, and James, of Chenook, Montana. The funeral took place Monday morning to Chemong Lake cemetery.

Diamond Dyes

CLOTHE AGE AND UNSIGHTLINESS WITH LIFE AND BEAUTY.

Do you ever try to dye over your faded and unsightly garments? Tens of thousands in Canada do this work successfully and well. To those who have not tried this work of true economy, we would say, "there is money in it when you do the work with Diamond Dyes." Old dresses, suits, skirts, capes, jackets, blouses, silks, ribbons, etc., can easily be renewed and made to look as well as new goods at small cost. Ten cents for a package of one of the fashionable colors of Diamond Dyes will save you several dollars. This work of renewing and transforming can only be well done when you use the Diamond Dyes. Ask your dealer for them; take no common substitute.

The Price of Bread

(Editor Morning Times.)

Dear Sir,—I saw by the Toronto papers some days ago that the price of bread was lowered to four cents a loaf, while our bakers still keep it up to six cents. We all remember when it rose in Toronto some time ago, how our bakers hade handsprings to follow suit, but we fail to see the same headlong impetuosity now that the price of bread is lowered. Out of consideration for the poor bread winners would you kindly arouse them from their feigned Rip Van Winkleism,

Yours,
GASTRONOMY.

Spring Medicine

Is of the greatest importance. This is the most critical season of the year, from a health standpoint.

It is the time when you imperatively need Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Why Churches are Empty

(Editor Morning Times.)

Sir,—I was in New York a few months ago, and attended one of the leading churches in that city while stopping over Sunday there. Amongst other things, the minister said: "England wants a bit of Venezuela, a bit of America, the Transvaal and," he bellowed out, "she wants the earth." Then the church of God was the scene of prolonged clapping of hands by the greater part of those present. The same day a Baptist minister told his congregation he "hoped the British would get properly thrashed" in the present war with the Boers. Could any man of self-respect go and hear such windbags? The churches would be jammed in New York if the ministers preached Christ.

There's an old saying in my country (Scotland), "The Lord never calls a parson to a smaller salary," and that brings my letter to an end by saying: "Preaching, alas! has now reached a business basis, with few exceptions, especially in the United States. Happily in Canada this does not prevail, excepting in the larger cities.

SOME GOOD ADVICE FROM A LEADING BOER

Friendly Counsel From a Hostile Pen--P. Schreiner Tells the British How to Proceed With the Work of Reconstruction.

The following letter to the editor of the London Daily Mail is from the pen of P. Schreiner, a relative of Olive Schreiner. It has attracted wide interest.

Sir, Since you published my letter on Oct. 6 last a very great change has taken place in the condition of affairs, which it would be madness for us Afrikanders to ignore. I failed not to tell you in my former letters the plain and absolute truth about your government and your people, your vices, your crimes and your imbecilities, which were as great as those which led to the destruction of the people in the Cities of the Plain. Even as those cities would have been saved if 60, or even ten righteous men had been found in them, so now it is evident that some righteous men have been found amongst the English, and by them your empire has been saved from destruction. It is now my last and most painful duty to tell the bitter, but wholesome truth to my own people and to those fatal friends who have helped us to our present ruin.

1 My visit to the continent has convinced me that there is no possibility of aid being given by any foreign power to my people, and that none will venture to propose arbitration. It is childish for us to expect arbitration when, if our position were like yours, we should reject it even if proposed by all the powers on earth—and it would prove us to be cowards to ask for it now under our present hopeless conditions.

2 The events which we expected to arise in India, China, and Egypt, have not occured, the promised insurrection in Ireland did not take place, and we have not the slightest reason to hope now that any international questions will arise to help the Afrikander cause. We must not be deceived any longer by the false sympathy expressed for us by various parties in foreign states: that sympathy is merely a subterfuge to obtain some political interest of opposing parties, and we are but the tools which our false friends use to attain their ends.

3 That so large a number of Liberal members of parliament have recently declared their opposition to our independance and have asserted their loyalty to the British empire has been a most disagreeable surprise to us and an absolutely fatal blow to all our hopes. Finally the speech of Lord Kimberly on the 11th inst. must convince every sane man that further resistance on our part is not only useless but perfectly criminal madness. Had that speech been made nine months ago and the intentions of the Liberal party made clear to us, this unhappy war might have been honorably concluded long ago.

4 To prepare the way for a permanent settlement of Africa which shall benefit our children and our children's children, and make our Africander blood to take its due place in the future government of the world, it is necessary for me to refer to a little of the history of the last 70 years, and also to first principles, the true foundations of empire.

5 Fifty years ago, when I was a young man, there was a large number of inteligent African Dutch who respected the justice and power of England, and although they loved not the English any more than they loved the white men of other Europea nstates, for most of whom they felt only scorn and contempt. Your wars against the Kaffirs had benefitted us and we loyal and far-seeing Africanders dreamed, before Cecil Rhodes was born, of a great Anglo-Dutch-African empire stretching from Cape Agulhas to Tunis and from Cape Verdi to Guardafui under one flag, the British, and having one language, the English. That dream was dispelled by your giving independence to the two states. Time passed. The wishes of the Cape Colonists were again and again disregarded; England would not guarantee interest on loans for the developement of the colony; England would not annex Southwest Africa; England would not buy up the Portugese territory when it might have been purchased for a song; England evacuated Abyssinia after conquering it in a marvellous manner; England contemplated giving up her West African possessions; England fumbled and faltered in Ashanti, in Zululand, in the Transvaal, and in Egypt and Zanzibar. Vast areas of Africa were allowed by the British to pass out of the heritage, the birthright of the Afrikanders into the hands of the French, the Belgians, the Germans and the chartered company and our dream of an Anglo-Dutch empire with its hundreds of millions of united white men collapsed, because of the mean shifty and baseless policy of a parcel of mere counting-house clerks, who, occupying the position of cabinet ministers in London, refused to listen to the colonists and to those Englishmen who knew Africa and its many peoples, and its vast wealth in minerals and other resources. Those penny-wise and pound-foolish windbags of the lords and commons were utterly incapable of understanding the first principles of true statesmanship, and were anxious only to slink away from the responsibilities of empire so that they might have time to bemuse and bemuddle a silly and besotted electorate.

6 Our dream of a British African empire being ended, we united our fate with that of our Boer relatives with the view of founding an exclusively Dutch empire in Africa. To that end it was necessary for us to possess all the East African territory of the Portugese. Those territories were protected by the treaties you English had made with Portugal, and a war against Portugal would have produced war against you, otherwise we would have swept those monkey-men out of Africa years ago, and now we are very sorry we did not do so.

7 Led on by whom it is not necessary to mention, we determined to fight you for supremacy in South Africa. We have been accused of ignorance over and over again by your British bookworms, but none of you now can accuse us of want of foresight or want of preparation for war, which we had made through long years of trouble, toil and self-denial and self-repression.

We have every reason to be confident of success, and as your best generals well know, we were within an ace of achieving it. Mr Steyn and scores of others assured us of your complete military weakness, and all the world had ample proof of the wavering, womanly weakness of the British national will, never stable for a single month. It was you who planted the seeds of war and have brought them to fruition by that miserable, cowardly weakness which is more deadly than tyranny or injustice. But you have been saved from defeat. Mr. Kruger informed us that God had told him to declare war against you. If He did tell the late president that, it is certainly evident that God is not with us any longer and that it is obstinate rebellion against Him for us to continue our resistance until we be all destroyed, root and branch.

8. In this dark hour of defeat and despair it is necessary to put forth the truth for a solid foundation for the permanent settlement of the race question between the British and the Dutch without hypocisy or maudlin superstition. If we Dutch had won in this game of war we could have claimed and taken every penny of the stakes. I know my people, and I want peace for my grandchildren, therefore I beg you to show no weakness or clemency or conciliation. You have won; then take the stakes as we should have done. Do not sow perpetual disputes, quarrals, and civil war. South Africa is yours now by right of purchase, by occupation and colonization, by war and conquest, and by the will of God. We Dutch are not cowards to shrink from the consequences of defeat, we are prepared to take them. If we had won our terms to you would have been certainly not more easy than these:—

(a) Every British subject or other enemy who did not surrender by a given date would be outlawed and all his property confiscated.

(b) All persons who had been guilty of rebellion or assisting our enemies would have had all their property confiscated and would have been expelled from South Africa, with the death penalty for return.

(c) All other British people in South Africa, except those who had fought on our side and possessed certificates to that effect, would have been disfranchised for life.

(d) The use of the British language in all cases would have been strictly forbidden under penalty of fine or imprisonment. All foreign or alien newspapers would have been suppressed.

We Dutch in Cape Colony and Natal had equality of rights and of language with you; that did not satisfy us, for so long as two languages are premitted to be used there can be no peace, no harmony, and no fusion for the people of South Africa. The stern action of the Russian government in Poland and Finland for the suppression of their native languages is dictated by wise statesmanship, true humanity, and a farseeing regard for the future welfare of those peoples. The Austrian empire will probably be spilt up simply by the diversity of languages.

9. Peace and prosperity can come only by the fusion of the two races or by extermination or exile of one of them. Let the irreconcilables exile themselves, and those who have any wisdom and decency, morality or religion, submit themselves with calm fortitude and cheerful acquiescence to the fate that Providence has decreed. Our language is but a dialect of no use in the great world; the English is the ever-growing language, which if we adopt, will soon place our sons in the seats of the mighty. The descendants of our brave commandants in this war may then in the future command the armies of Great Britain, one may hold the office now occupied by Lord Roberts and another be governor-general of India. The universal loyalty shown by all your colonies should certainly be a good lesson to us Dutch, if we are not so blinded by Providence that we may be destroyed altogether. I join with P Botha and the other sane men in South Africa in calling on Mr. Kruger, C. Botha, and De Wet to stop this murderers' work, and to seize that double-tongued man Steyn and to give him his deserts. There are other Dutchmen and half-bred Englishmen in the Cape Colony who should be treated in the same manner as Steyn.

10. All nations thought you English were dead, but, unfortunately for us, you were only dead drunk, drugged by the fatal folly of your disarmament craze and love of luxury, and the war has, as yet, only very partially aroused you. I cannot blind myself to the fact, however, that new life has been breathed into the dead bones in the valleys of Great Britain, and that your people are gaining strength and spirit every day, whilst our men are degenerating into murderous bandits and ruining our land, regardless of the fate of our women and children who are now depending upon the generosity of the British for their food and clothing and their very lives. This state of things must not continue unless we desire to prove to the world that we Dutch are worse then heathen savages.

11. I beg for no clemency, conciliation, or soft measures; they would certainly be fatal to us Dutch, for the loyal portion would be always tortured by the irreconcilables, and there would be perpetual strife in public and in family life. The settlement of Africa can be effected only by strict and rigid justice, administered with strength and courage unfinchingly. No more must we see colonials and others who worked for the unity and honor of the British empire ignored, snubbed, or degraded while disloyalty and barefaced treachery or treason were rewarded or condoned. Justice and righteousness must have strong arms or they are but useless names. Mercy and clemency are too often the names which cloak fear, cowardice, bribery and corruption. With honest administration South Africa will very speedily recover from the effects of this war, and a more prosperous and a happier future will come quickly for both Dutch and English than could ever have come if the war had not taken place and the colonies and the states had remained separated. The native question will have to be dealt with soon after the war is over, and to do that effectively the Chartered Company must be done away with and its territories united with the great southern colonies.

12. The petty jingoes who write but do not fight can spare their sneers at me. I have sense enough to accept the logic of facts, whilst they, in their arrogance, required many disasters to convince them that we had been well prepared for war, whilst you were miserably weak and unprepared for a war in your own territories or anywhere else.—Yours, &c., P. S.

PETERBOROUGH MILK COMMITTEE REPORT

Presented at Last Night's Meeting

DISEASE GERMS IN MILK

Discussion by Prominent Business Men and Dairymen of the Town

A number of the business men and dairymen of the town, met again to discuss the important question of a pure milk supply to the public. A committee was appointed some time ago to visit Toronto to investigate and get information as to the means by which Peterboro could be supplied with milk free from the germs of diseases. Owing to the absence of Mr. John Carnegie, chairman of the committee, the report was read by A. P. Poussette as follows:

The Committee consisting of the undersigned and Dr. Halliday, and Messrs. Davidson, Dobbin, H. P. Kennedy, C. H. Moore and Poussette appointed to enquire into the question of pure milk supply beg to report as follows:—

Shortly after their appointment they proceeded to Toronto and first visited the farm of W. E. H. Massey Esq., known as "Dentonia" situated about five miles East of Toronto. They were treated most courteously by the Supertendent who gave them every facility for making a thorough examination into the system there pursued. A large herd of thorough-bred cows supplied the milk which is treated in the approved up-to-date method but without sterilization. The cows are examined by a Veterinary Surgeon once a fortnight and all the employees are carefully watched to avoid the germs of disease being conveyed to the milk. The milk after being strained, which is done immediately after milking, is at once passed over coolers to get rid of the animal heat, and is then put into bottles which have been thoroughly sterilized, and afterwards properly sealed. By this system the milk is as nearly free from impurity as it is possible to make it without separation and sterilization and as the latter is objectionable on account of not only changing the flavour but rendering the milk less digestible its adoption is not considered advisable.

The Committee then visited the extensive and magnificent works of "The City Dairy Company (Limited)" on Spandina Crescent, Toronto, where the same purifying process as that at "Dentonia" is in use but in addition a seperator is used to remove any impurities that may have passed through the strainer, but here the milk is supplied by numbers of farmers under rigid contracts providing for inspection of the heards, stables and sanitary conditions generally, particular regard being had to the water supply. The absolute cleanliness with which these works are conducted is admirable and a visit to this Company's premises will amply repay anyone taking an interest in this subject, the importance of which cannot be better realized than by seeing the immense care that is now being devoted to it.

Subsequently in view of a proposition made by Mr. H. P. Kennedy, which will be referred to later, the Committee visited his farm in Otonabee about a mile and a half from town. His place is well adapted to Dairy farming and his stables can be readily extended to accommodate 100 cows. The stables with some slight improvements, can be made quite satisfactory and Mr. Kennedy has already adopted the system of using none but carefully selected cows which are kept thoroughly clean. Being thus situated, and being engaged in the cattle business which gives him exceptional opportunities for purchasing the best breeds of cows, Mr. Kennedy has made a proposition to enter into a contract with the Company that may be formed to supply the milk of 100 cows per day say 1000 quarts at a figure equal to about the estimated cost of production which would be delivered at the Company's works erected on Mr. Kennedy's farm and there purified and delivered by the Company. The contract with Mr. Kennedy would provide fore the same care and attention, particularly with regard to cleanliness, as are to be found at "Dentonia" and also for inspection of the cows, examination of employees and other details considered necessary.

The Committee after full consideration have come to the conclusion that the capital required to purchase, equip and stock a farm such as would be necessary to carry on the business with any degree of success would be greater than could probably be obtained in this neighborhood while the amount required for the purchase of plant and erection of a suitable building would come within the means available. The Committee have looked thoroughly into the question of cost of plant and building as well as the expense of carrying on the business and are satisfied that on the lines suggested by Mr. Kennedy not only can a supply of pur milk be given, to the great benefit of the community, but also a reasonable return obtained upon the investment.

Respectfully submitted.
JOHN CARNEGIE,
Chairman.
Peterborough, March 15th 1901.

Mr. Poussette made several suggestions as to how pure milk could be supplied, one of which would be to obtain a plant, but this, he thought, would be a difficult undertaking as it would cost the town in the neighborhood of $35,000.

Dr Halliday then explained the bad effects of the impure milk.

Mr. Arthur said that at one time he had delivered milk, and that in most cases it was not the fault of the dairymen that there was so much impure and sour milk, that he had known persons to bring cans and unclean bottles, bottles that had not been washed for several days, to get milk, and had known them to leave them on the door step for 2 or 3 hours and by doing this the milk would obtain the dust and other refuse. This, he thought, accounted for so much impure milk.

Mr. C. Wood made reference to the same.

Mr. Dobbin then moved that the committee's report be adopted, seconded by Mr. Kennedy.

The meeting then adjourned until further notice.

BOERS REJECT THE PEACE PROPOSALS

The War Will Now be Resumed, But is Not Likely to Last Much Longer

London, March 19, 4.07 p.m.—Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, the Colonial Secretary has just informed the House of Commons that General Botha has rejected the peace terms offered. General Botha, Mr. Chamberlain said, had conveyed the information in a letter to General Kitchener, in which he announced that he was not disposed to recommend the terms of peace General Kitchener was instructed to offer him to the earnest consideration of his Government. Gen. Botha added that his Government and its chief officers entirely agreed with his view. Mr. Chamberlain added: "I propose to lay the papers connected with the negotiations on the table to-night."

THE WAR RESUMED.

London, March 19.—The hopes of those who fondly imagined that the war was about to be brought to a close by the surrender of the Boers, under Gen. Botha have been rudely dashed to the ground, and an indefinite prolongation of the struggle becomes the order of the day. It is difficult to conceive why the Boers should have rejected the broad and liberal terms offered by Lord Kitchener. It will be remembered that Lord Kitchener and General Botha held a conference on February 27th, at which Lord Kitchener promised that a general amnesty would be granted to all who surrendered, as well as to all prisoners, except those Cape Dutch who, while actually subject to the British Crown, had been most active in fomenting the Boers resistance. General De Wet and ex-President Steyn, however, were expressly excluded from the amnesty. Lord Kitchener further promised that in the event of peace being concluded the British Government would assist in rebuilding the farm-houses and other buildings which have been destroyed owing to military necessities, and would reinstate the lawful owners, helping them to stock their farms; those who had been guilty of acts of treachery, however, being excluded from these benefits. General Botha seems to have been entirely satisfied with the conditions laid down by Lord Kitchener, and an armistice being arranged he proceeded at once to consult his general officers. The armistice was originally granted for a week, but has since been extended. It now seems likely that the irreconcilables led by De Wet and Steyn, with whom communication was established, have caused Botha to change his view, and interposed an effectual barrier to a surrender, and that the hopeless struggle is to be continued until the Boers are worn down by sheer force of numbers. That this consummation will not be long delayed is certain when the immense damage being inflicted upon the Boers by General French and other generals is taken into consideration.

MANY DEATHS RECORDED.

Heavy Death Rate Amongst Members of Congress and Senators.

Washington, March 20.—By the death of Representative Brosius of Pennsylvania attention has been called to the remarkable chronological record of the Fifty-sixth Congress. Between the election of the House and its death, on March 4, 1901, three Senators and fifteen members of the House died. As Mr. Brosius was a member of the last House and was re-elected he may be counted in the list, making sixteen Representatives.

It is also noticeable that in addition to the number of deaths in the House three members are now confined in sanitariums. The question naturally arises as to the cause of the mortality and the mental failure of so many members of the Lower House. Are they peculiarly susceptible to disease, or is it that their systems have been weakened by close application to their professional and Congressional duties? With the exception of Representative Harmer of Pennsylvania they were not what might be called old men, although several were over sixty. Most of them had hardy constitutions apparently, and in a majority of the cases their deaths were sudden.

Lung trouble was responsible for a large proportion of the deaths, superinducted, it is held, in many cases by the confinement at the Capitol, with its foul air and drafts.

THE EASTERN WAR CLOUD.

Russian and English Officers Exercise Utmost Caution to Prevent a Collision.

London, March 20.—A despatch from Tien Tsin, dated yesterday, says:

"The Anglo-Russian dispute shows no change and the disputants are exercising the utmost caution to prevent a collision between the guards during the negotiations. The Russians continue to purchase land in the new concession."

The Weekly Despatch professes this morning to give the real cause of the dispute between the British and the Russians over the railway siding at Tien Tsin. The paper says the quarrel is one of old standing and originated to an official despatch, in an order given by a Russian officer when he ordered his men to sack a station where a British Indian regiment was stationed.

A young English Lieutenant, who was the only officer with the Indian troops, declared that if the Russians advanced ten yards farther he would order his men to fire. Shots were actually exchanged, but when the matter was reported to Field Marshal Count von Waldersee he ordered the Russians to retire. They obeyed the order, but sacked every village on the way. The incident greatly excited and keenly incensed the Indian troops, according to the official records, says the Despatch, and they are now almost beyond control.

Servant Girls Combine

Pittston, Pa., March 20.—The servant girls of this town have effected an organization, known as the Domestic and House-keepers' Protective association. Hundreds are joining the union, and already a list of demands have been formulated to be shortly made public. They ask for a wage scale of $3 a week, object to carrying out ashes, and taking care of a furnace. No meals are to be served after 8 p.m., and they want three nights a week off and permission to receive their men friends in the parlor. If the demands are not granted a strike will follow.

DOINGS OF BOERS AT HEADQUARTERS

Letter From a Prisoner at Pietersburg Describing Them

London, March 19.—The London Evening News publishes a letter from a correspondent at Pretoria, detailing some of the experiences of Dr. Fry, of the 49th Imperial Yeomanry, who was recently released, after long detention by the Boers at Pietersburg, the present headquarters of the enemy. Telegrams were cooked or invented and published in The Zoutpansberg Watcher, their Dutch organ. The Watcher kept its readers well posted. One of the choicest tales described how it was the custom of the British "Tommies" to harness six Dutch women and girls in a Cape cart, and while one "Tommy" flogged the team with a sjambok the others calmly fired on the Boers, who were afraid to reply lest they should kill their own women. He was allowed to inspect a Long Tom, and found that the man in charge had been a sergeant in the British Garrison Artillery.

The town teemed with German mercenaries, who often took occassion to tell Fry how cordially they hated the English. Most of the fighting men wore well-cut khaki uniforms. These had been sent to Nooitgedacht for the prisoners taken at Lindley. On Christmas night the men of the town held high revel. The big gun ammunition running short, they decided to blow up a mountain gun in the main street. Its muzzle was placed five yards away from that of a Krupp, which was loaded with shell, and fired. The field piece was smashed to smithereens.

Drunk and reckless, the soldiers then filled the Krupp with black powder, and blazed away until the gun was rendered useless. At another time a Long Tom and a French gun were destroyed.

JAPANESE FINANCES.

Industrial Enterprises Suffer from Depression in Business Owing to Lack of Capital.

Yokohama, March 20.—The business depression continues, and predictions are freely made of a general crash among Japanese firms and industrial enterprises. The difficulty lies in the absolute lack of ready cash wherewith to carry on the great scheme of industrial development initiated after the China-Japanese war. It is beginning to be realized that Japan should have used in this direction the Chinese indemnity instead of expending it for increased armament. The remarkable steadiness of foreign stocks in the treaty ports in spite of the general depression is noticeable. Dividends of from 8 to 12 per cent. keep steadily up to the mark while Japanese investment enterprises divide still larger profits.

The native papers are thoroughly in accord with the American policy in China.

WEATHER NOTES.

Probs: Unsettled and milder, with sleet or rain.

The cold wave has moved south from the Hudson's Bay Region to Ontario and Quebec and cold wintry weather now prevails throughout the Dominion. Temperature was 24 degrees below zero at Prince Albert, 12 degrees below at Qu'Appelle, and 2 degrees below at Quebec.

Japanese are Deported

Seattle, Wash., March 20. — United States Immigration Inspector Lavin arrested fourteen Japanese who came from Victoria, B. C., by steamer and lodged them in jail. The men were healthy and had the funds required by the statute, but were taken before a board of inquiry on the ground that they were liable to become paupers. The board upheld their view, and the Japanese will be at once reshipped to British Columbia. The inspector says that this is the first step toward stemming the recent strong tide of Japanese pauper labor.

SHOULD MEN SMOKE?

The readers of the New York Sun are holding an interesting symposium on the eternal tobacco question. They seem to agree that tobacco chewing, for various reasons, is tolerable only at sea. But smoking in the home finds many defenders, feminine as well as masculine. The arguments against the practice are on familiar lines. The expense, the discomfort to others, the selfishness, etc., are set forth. Some of the arguments in favor of smoking, however, have sufficient novelty to merit attention.

One woman favors tobacco because of its pacifying effects. "A man," she observes, "never smokes unless he is in a good humor. There seems to be a suitable relation between good nature and a good smoke." She wishes that women "had as soothing and silent a remedy for weariness and perplexity." She thinks "women should be thankful for tobacco," and evidently has found it a great pacificator in her own domestic difficulties. "The wise woman," she concludes, "will set apart some corner where the head of the house may seek peace—stipulating only that he use a good brand of tobacco." One may assert, without fear of contradiction, that this woman has a most docile husband, for she plainly understands just how he should be managed.

The verdict of her practical experience is confirmed by a physician on scientific grounds. "Such weaknesses and follies in the husband," he observes, "give the wife her influence and control over him. If she could make him as good a man as she wishes, or even if she makes him believe he is perfect, he would be above associating with her." To this he adds a physiological fact which women may well consider. "Tobacco," he says, "through its sedative influence, is the most powerful agent known in repressing vicious tendencies in man. A wife whose husband is a heavy smoker can dismiss all fears of 'that other woman.' He would rather have a quiet smoke at home than meet any woman on earth. But if his wife will not permit him to smoke he will go where the other woman will."

The fact is that most men find in tobacco a relief from the strain of violent exertion, either physical or mental. It is a remedy which may be abused, but so may the remedies for hunger. It is quite possible to eat oneself sick, even on oatmeal porridge. That strenuous activity seems to demand something in the nature of tobacco is shown by the facts as to women smokers. Until lately only hard-working women, with rare exceptions, used tobacco. Now, with an increasing number of women confronting life's perplexities, more of them are smoking. In lands where opium and other narcotics take the place of tobacco the same conditions exist.

On the other hand, it is to be observed that the general diffusion of wealth lessens the abuse of stimulants and narcotics. As men are relieved of the necessity of putting forth their entire strength the less need they feel of such helps. But until we reach that millennial age when no one will have to work hard most men will continue to smoke, because they must.

THE BRITISH AND FRENCH NAVIES.

The fact that both the British and the French Government are building submarine boats upon a somewhat extensive scale is the most interesting development of recent years in naval architecture. France is building twenty-three of these locomotive diving bells and England five. The sub-marine boat is the uncertain factor in the naval wars of the future, and it is by no means sure that its uses will be restricted to fighting purposes. Of its practical value in war it is difficult to form any reliable estimate at present. The claims made upon its behalf are of the wildcat character, some of its admirers seeing in it nothing less than the engine, which is going to reduce Great Britain's naval supremacy to nothing. Other experts are of the opinion that the submarine boat is going to do its most deadly work among those who go down to the sea in this type of ship. The fact that the French Department of Marine has decided to build so many as twenty-three sub-marine boats is an indication that French naval experts at least are convinced that the invention has some merits, and it is difficult to avoid the further inference that the French Government has a very definite object in making this curious addition to its navy. This action by France is probably the direct cause of the British Government trying a similar experiment. Not that the sub-marine boat is necessarily or even probably the best weapon with which to fight the sub-marine boat; but that it seems reasonable to suppose that the uncanny enemy can best be fought by people who have some practical experience of its possibilities and its limitations.

If the sub-marine boat is destined to play any important part in naval warfare, it is not at all unlikely to do the world better service on peaceful lines. It may be asked why should commerce grope its way through the darkness of the ocean depths, when it can travel in the free air and light of the upper world. It might equally well be asked why travel by the underground railway when you can ride on the knife-boat of an omnibus. For one thing the sub-marine freight or passenger boat will meet with such constant and uniform conditions under water, as are never to be found upon the surface of the sea. Neither storms nor seasickness will interefere with the comfort of passengers or crew. If the sub-marine boat is not the most dangerous of craft, it may turn out to be the safest.

The Chicago Tribune

is a newspaper for bright and intelligent people. It is made up to attract people who think.

Is not neutral or colorless, constantly trimming in an endeavor to please both sides, but it is independent in the best sense of the word.

It has pronounced opinions and is fearless in expressing them, but it is always fair to its opponents.

Matters of national or vital public interest get more space in THE TRIBUNE than in any other paper in the West.

For these reasons it is the newspaper you should read during the forthcoming political campaign.

THE TRIBUNE'S financial columns never mislead the public.

Its facilities for gathering news, both local and foreign, are far superior to those of any other newspaper in the West.

It presents the news in as fair a way as possible, and lets its readers form their opinions.

While it publishes the most comprehensive articles on all news features, if you are busy the "Summary of THE DAILY TRIBUNE" published daily on the first page gives you briefly all the news of the day within one column.

Its sporting news is always the best, and its Sunday Pink Sporting Section is better than any sporting paper in the country.

It is the "cleanest" daily printed in the West.

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. One agent sold 68 in one day. Sample and terms 25 cts (non free); four for 60 cts; $1.75 per dozen; 25 for $3.25; 50 for $6.00; 100 for $11.00 Write to day for a dozen and make money. Mew Novelty Mfg. THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Salida copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the Rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims: The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Salida, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Salida. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of Salida at Cleora station, on the main Trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

INDEPENDENT INDIANS.

The Osages are the Wealthiest People in the World.

It is customary to consider Indians as a species of beggars, because they are mainly pensioners on the Government; but there could not be a more mistaken view. Poverty-stricken, or even dependent tribes, are the exception, while many are very well off in this world's goods. The Cherokees and Creeks are prosperous farmers and business men, and many a white man has envied their possessions.

In another part of Indian Territory live the Osages, the most independent Indians on earth; in fact, they are so rich that, if all their assets were turned into ready cash, there would be about $10,000 for every person, from the veteran warrior to the tiniest papoose.

The story of how they got so rich is an interesting one. In 1878 the Osages occupied a vast reservation in the very heart of Kansas. It was becoming more valuable every year, and as a consequence the whites were closing in upon the Indians. The Osages became alarmed and asked the Government to let them sell out and go to the Indian Territory, and the proposition being satisfactory, millions of acres changed hands.

With part of the proceeds of the sale the new reservation in Indian Territory, containing 1,600,000 acres, was purchased, and the remaining sum was held in trust by the Government, and it now amounts to something over eight million dollars. When the present reservation was bought from the Cherokees, it cost 75 cents per acre; to-day 80 per cent. of the land is valued at $2 an acre; the remainder—the tillable portion—is worth from $8 to $12 an acre.

Their personal property is valued at nearly a million dollars, and they have a school fund of $180,000. Footing up these items, the Osages are found to be worth $15,000,000, and as the tribe numbers 1,500 persons, it is an easy matter to compute the average wealth per capita.

There is enough tillable land to give every Osage, big and little, 200 acres apiece for a farm, and enough grazing land left to tack on to each farm 800 acres additional.

Yet, with all their riches, many of the Osages are industrious, and some of the farms are as well cultivated as any white man's. The majority, however, do not work very hard, because they don't have to.

The interest on the trust fund is paid quarterly, and each member of the tribe comes in for an equal share of this money, which amounts to $41.50 or $166 annually.

This income, in addition to a few acres of land under cultivation and some cattle and ponies, keeps the ordinary Osage family in comfort, if not affluence.

The Osages have made great advancement in the past twenty years. At first they would not send their children to school. They recognized the advantages of an education to a poor white man who had his living to make, but failed to see how they could be benefited by any change in their mental status.

Year after year the agents advised and persuaded, until at last the Government threatened that their interest money would be withheld if all children of school age were not at school five months in the year.

This touched their pockets and had the desired effect. Within six years the school attendance has increased from 25 per cent, of the minor children to 80 per cent.

In a few years more, when the remaining 20 per cent. are gathered in, the Osages can rank, not only as the wealthiest people, but as the greatest patrons of education in the world.

Mrs. Jones keeps the village shop, while her husband sees to the shoes of the village horses, and by dint of industry and perseverance they have got a nice little business together. Their little son, aged seven, also has a wish to do what he can for himself, as will appear in the following tale: Mrs. Jones is fond of poultry, and prides herself on her regular supply of eggs, but of late the number of these has sadly diminished, and her customers have had to content themselves with a very limited quantity. After much worry and cogitation, she resolves to watch her henhouse carefully—not that she can place her suspicions—but eggs are eggs, and must not be suffered lightly to disappear. So patiently she waits and watches, till, alas! Master Tommy Jones is found to be the guilty party. His fond mother detects him creeping through the sliding door with a new laid egg in his hand. What can the boy be doing? She follows cautiously, and sees him slip into a disused shed, where, on examination (after into the house) a truly artistic nest is found, composed of hay and straw, and holding some fifteen or sixteen beautiful eggs. Tommy is now pounced upon, but being a fearless child, openly admits his guilt. "Yes, mother, I put them all there, and my cat is going to sit on them, and I don't care!" adds the rascal boldly, with hands in pockets and blue eyes upturned; "I don't care whether they come out chickens or kittens!"—Feathered World.

Write us for information.

Powley's Liquified Ozone is $1.00 large size bottle, 50c small size, at all pharmacists or from the laboratories of the Ozone Co. of Toronto, Limited, 40 Colborne street, Toronto, Ont.

Powley's Liquified Ozone ®

THE HENNERY

It is a very simple matter to rid a hen house of lice. Take a bar of soap and melt it in one pint of water, put in an old pail, add two quarts of kerosene and churn with spray pump until it is like cream. Add three gallons of water or a little more, churn thoroughly and then apply with a spray pump. Be careful to spray the floor well.

Making a drug store of the stomach of fowls by dosing them with sulphur and other drugs to keep them well is a first class plan to make them sick. We do not swallow drugs by wholesale when we are well, that we may remain so. We take no medicine until we require it to expel disease and we should treat poultry upon the same general plan.

A man has invented a device for extracting feathers from the carcasses of chickens that is a considerable improvement over the old way of picking them by hand. The chickens are threshed much in the same way as wheat is rid of its chaff. There is a receptacle in which the fowl is placed after being killed and into this is turned several cross currents of air from electrical fans revolving at the rate of 5,000 revolutions a minute. In the twinkling of an eye the bird is stripped of its feathers even to the tiniest particles of down and the machine is ready for another.

Controlling Egg Production.

Some men who have been in the poultry business for a considerable time claim that they can control egg production. This they profess to do largely by selection and feed. They cause hens to lay a large number of eggs, and they can, if they desire, stop them from laying by observing certain rules or neglecting them in certain ways. To say a person can always control the production of eggs is saying a good deal. A cow withholds her milk. Many have thought they can overcome this habit or peculiarity in the cow, but sometimes the best cures fail.

Moving hens from one house to another or from one farm to another will stop egg production for a time. This can be accounted for on the supposition that the change causes a shock to their nervous system, with a corresponding diminution of nutrition. This fact is demonstrated in that should the nest of a wild turkey be destroyed, she will make a new nest and lay a number of eggs equal to the first, although she would otherwise raise but one brood. The domestic turkey is also induced to lay more eggs when removed from the nest, and all females show a disposition to sit when the nest becomes full of eggs. This shows that there is a certain degree of control on the part of the hen in egg production. Man can so arrange to have hens do the thing they want them to do and thus indirectly control egg production.—Iowa Homestead.

Oats for Hens

We believe that there is not that importance attached to oats as a food for laying hens that should be. Corn seems to be the ever present and available feed for almost all farm animals, poultry included. The crib is so handy, and an ear of corn is so easy to measure that to feed corn requires no effort, and without thinking about its value as a food it is fed in abundance.

We have some hens of the Asiatic class that are in full molt and there seems to be but little disturbance in egg-production. We get as many eggs as common and oats form a greater part of their rations. They get cracked corn in the evening, oats in the morning and at every other meal save the evening meal.

We prefer oats to any other single feed. We like them cracked better than fed whole, but if fed whole it is best to soak them a little so they will not swell in the crop of a hen that should happen to eat too freely of them. We have observed that hens which have not been accustomed to eating oats take to them slowly. There is no better food for laying hens than oats. Feed a hen properly, and if she is healthy and not too old, she will lay eggs.

Old Time Whitewash.

There is no better whitewash for stone and brick surfaces than the following whic hhas had the test of many years on government lighthouses, barracks, stables, warehouses, etc. It gives a fine polish and is said to last five years. It is used to coat at the east end of the White House.

Take a half bushel of unslaked lime, slake with boiling water, cover during the process to keep in steam, strain the liquid through a fine sieve or strainer, and add to it a peck of salt, previously dissolved in warm water; three pounds of ground rice boiled to a thin paste and stirred in while hot; half a pound of Spanish whiting and one pound of glue, previously dissolved by soaking in cold water. Add five gallons of hot water to the mixture, stir well and let it stand a few days covered from dirt. It should be applied hot, for which purpose it may be kept in a portable furnace.

Cross-Bred Fowls.

The farmer has reached the stage when, if he cannot secure strong, hardy pure-breds, he resorts to cross-breeding. When they once get to crossing they get careless and cross males of the cross on females of the same family. It does not take long for this process to convert really good fowls into mongrels. Mongrels, dunghill or barnyard fowls are the results of hap-hazard breeding for generations. At length it becomes a matter of indifference to the owner as to their ancestry. What we need most of all is to bring only purebreds up to the highest type of hardiness and utility. Then the farmer should use only pure-bred fowls.

Keep the Best.

When there are a few pullets or cockerels in the blood that out-grow the others and show extra vigor, mark them and keep them to breed from, says Poultry Standard. This is the way to build up the stamina of the flock. The habit too many farmers have of selling the extra growers because they bring a little more will soon ruin any flock. Disposition of the best leaves the poorest to breed from, and the flock will in time become indeed a very unprofitable one for any purpose.

Poultry Notes by Shepherd.

Hens that are crowded will not lay.

A dust bath is essential to the well-being of fowls.

When the hens are moulting put tincture of iron in their water.

Ninety per cent. of the diseases of poultry are due to dirt and neglect.

With a small flock it is easier to overfeed than to underfeed.

Feather eating is caused by idleness and a scratching hen has no time for mischief.

A Suitable Applicant.

Some people want something for nothing, an exchange tabt is by no means equitable. The following story is told of a recent advertiser, whose like is to be encountered frequently.

The announcement ran:

"A lady, in delicate halth, wishes to meet wit ha useful companion. She must be domesticated, musical, early riser, amiable, of good appearance, and have some experienc of nursing. Total abstainer preferred. Comfortable home. No salary."

Shortly afterward this estimable give-me-everything-for-nothing lady received a parcel bearing the familiar inscription: "This side up, with care." It contained a meek-looking cat.

Liquid Manure.

We use half of a coal oil barrel to place manure in. The half barrel is placed on a platform high enough from the ground so a keg can set under it. An auger hole is bored in the side near the bottom into which a pin is fitted. The barrel is filled almost full of manure. Water and soapsuds are poured over the manure until the barrel is full. When this stands a while (24 hours will render it very strong), the pin is removed and the lye-looking liquid runs down into the keg. This when diluted two-thirds, is a most excellent fertiliser. We use it when setting out plants, to water the plants with it. After all liquid is drained off, the manure is scattered over the garden and the barrel filled with fresh manure. Stable manure and sheep or hen manure are all excellent for this business.—Emma Clearwaters.

Big Four Con. G. M. Co.
LIMITED

Mines one mile west of Rossland, directly west of the Le Roi No. 1 and Le Roi No. 2. Four properties. All Crown granted.

THE LeRoi No. 1 once sold for 2 cents and went to $45 per share; and the L Roi No. 2 £5 shares went to £23, or $110 per share in a few months.

Our memorandum of association contains a provision, provided by Section 56 of the Companies Act, 1897, that the shares are issued as Fully Paid Up and Non Assessable, and that no further liability beyond the amount actually paid upon shares shall attach to the holders thereof. Capital $250,000.

Our properties are now proved (both above and below ground) to have the same continuous ore veins as the LeRoi Companies, and have the same identical ore and our shares are well worth TWENTY FIVE CENTS now, and will surely bring fifty cents. And we can, with a very small capital, develop our property to such a extent that it can also be placed on the London market, where it belongs—and small investors will make a good profit by buying now.

Our assays have averaged from $5 to $800 in gold, copper and silver and the shipping facilities are the best. The Great Northern Railway runs three times through the ground, three smelters close at hand, and reduced charges of $4.50 per ton for shipping and smelting, and we are now getting ready to start shipping ore.

Irrespective of the merits of the BIG FOUR, we have now over 570,000 shares in our treasury and free from all incumbrance. We are amongst the few local companies that has complied with the law in every particular, and we venture to say have

The Aristos GOLD MINING CO.

Owning Big Horn Mountain Tunnel and Veneta Vein, 200 acres situated on the Western Slope of Pikes Peak, in the famous Cripple Creek Gold Mining District.

THE SAFEST OFFER EVER MADE TO INVESTORS.

100,000 Shares Preferred Stock at 25c. Per Share.

It is printed on each certificate that subscribers to the above Preferred Shares will be entitled to receive in Dividends the full amount of money invested, before other stockholders receive any returns, signed by the President of the Company.

This district produced more Gold in 1900 than any other in the United States

This property consists of 3000 by 3000 feet, or 200 acres, of gold land. The mine has been worked. The feature of this mine is the Veneta Vein, 30 to 40 feet in width, and is certainly one of the strongest veins in this famous district. There are some fifteen openings on this vein, the ore from which assays in gold from $12 to $100 per ton. The property is advantageously located for development by tunnel, which will make it possible to produce an enormous amount of ore daily, the quantity varying from 200 to 500 tons per day. The development by TUNNELING is the most economical and advantageous manner of working this property.

At a distance of 800 feet the Tunnel will intersect the Veneta Vein at a depth of about 680 feet, and will also intersect several other veins. The tunnel will cut the Big Horn Mountain 2100 feet deep, and will give this company 2,000,000 tons of ore, worth over $20 per ton.

The new railroad, now practically completed from Colorado Springs, called the Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek road, passes within 2000 feet of this Tunnel

Adjoining this property is the Colorado Springs TUNNEL Company. In this property at a depth of 400 feet, the Veneta Vein was cut. At this point the vein was fully 20 feet in width, and its value from $20 to $1000 per ton.

There are already in operation mills and smelters sufficient to treat the output of this property, which gives at once cash returns.

Capital Stock $1,000,000. Par Value $1.00 Per Share. 100,000 Shares Preferred Stock at 25c. Per Share.

In buying this stock the purchaser owns a direct title in the Company's property. This Company offers you no watered stock, but a legitimate high-grade gold-mining investment in the Cripple Creek District.

The above offer of Preferred Dividends is an assurance of early returns. After additional machinery is erected, this property will be earning dividends almost equal to its Capital Stock.

Prof. Sheets Dancing Classes

Prof. Sheets' dancing classes have been largely patronized, and marvellous progress have been made by the pupils. New classes are about to be formed, and these will be rapidly filled. Indeed, it is doubtful if the Professor will be able to accept all that desire to join his classes. Not only dancing is taught, but physical development is a leading feature of the exercises.

Big Purchase of Timber.

The Standard Chemical Co., of Fenelon Falls, have purchased 700 acres of timber on Grand Island, Balsam Lake, for some years held by Mr. Wm. McKenzie, Toronto. The Chemical Works will take maple, birch and beech for reduction at Fenelon Falls; the elm, ash and basswood have been sold to Messrs. T. H. DeCrow & Sons for stave making; and the Rathbun Co., will probably acquire the cedar, pine and hemlock, of which there are large quantities. This purchase disposes of the last considerable block of timber between Fenelon Falls and Coboconk.

Death of Mrs. Overend

It is with sorrow that we are obliged to chronicle the death of Mrs. W. J. Overend, of Simcoe street, which sad event occurred yesterday morning. The deceased lady was a great sufferer from inflammation, and although everything possible was done to relieve her, it was without avail. Mrs. Overend was born on Regent street, London, Eng., and was a daughter of Sir Frederick Hudson, of Constantinople. She came to Toronto twenty-eight years ago, where she met and married Mr. W. J. Overend. Since residing in Peterborough, Mrs. Overend has been prominently identified with the numerous charities conducted by the ladies of St. Peter's Cathedral, and was much beloved in a large circle of friends. Eight children survive, all of whom reside at home. The funeral will take place from the family residence, Simcoe street, on Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. We tender to the grief stricken husband and family our sincere sympathy.

A Close Call

On Monday afternoon the six year old son of Mr. Thomas Parker, Stewart street, Ashburnham, rescued his two year old brother from a watery grave. It appears that Mrs. Parker had gone to town on business, leaving the children, Ernest, six years old, and Wilfred, two years old, at Mrs. Parker's sister's Mrs. John A. Newall's. The two little boys were playing on the back veranda. The cistern is situated here, and on account of the water having been frozen, the pump was taken out, and in some manner Wilfred fell headlong in, but before disappearing Earnest sprang and caught him by the clothes, holding him fast and calling for help. Miss Ethel Parker, daughter of Mr. Albert Parker, heard his cries, and hurried to his help. Between the two the child was rescued from his perilous position. He was not much the worse for his adventure. The heroic action on the part of Ernest is deserving of reward.

A Smith Wedding

A very pleasing event took place at the residence of Mr. Wm. Nicholls, Smith township on Wednesday, March 6th, when his daughter Miss Minnie, was united in marriage to Mr. Joseph Harvey, of North Smith. The nuptial knot was tied at 6.30 p.m., by the Rev. E. J. Bridgeman, B. A., pastor of the Lakefield Baptist church, in the presence of the near relatives of the contracting parties. The bride, who was charmingly attired in a very pretty costume of blue gray ladies' cloth, was attended by her pretty little niece, Miss Olive Darling, who carried the wedding ring in a basket of flowers. After the ceremony congratulations were bestowed on the happy couple, the guests then repaired to the dining room where the tables were beautifully decorated with flowers and bountifully spread with that which pleased the eye and satisfied the appetite. When ample justice had been done to the good things provided, a very enjoyable evening was spent, after which the happy couple left for their home, followed by the best wishes of their friends, in which The Times cordially joins.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

—The weather yesterday was intensely cold and raw.

—Skating and hockey took a fresh start on account of the cold weather.

—Work on the Cereal Company's buildings, etc., will begin next month.

—Miss Carson, of New York City, will speak in St. Andrew's to-night.

—Mr. R. J. Kidd is running off a bankrupt stock in Hastings, and is doing a rushing business.

—Our report of the annual meeting of the Trent Valley Canal Association is held over till to-morrow.

—Belleville has organized a pork packing company with Mayor Graham as President.

You should not feel tired all the time—healthy people don't—you won't if you take Hood's Sarsaparilla for a while.

—Constable Cochrane brought an insanity case in from White Lake on Monday. The prisoner was remanded until Friday.

—Rev. Mark Levi, leader of the Hebrew Mission work in Cleveland, Ohio, spoke in Bethany Tabernacle, George street, last night.

—Mr. Joseph Edgar, who has been nominated as Conservative candidate in Parry Sound District for the Legislature, is a brother of Mr. J. E. Edgar of Simcoe street.

—Mrs. Thompson, who passed away at Holland Landing, about four weeks ago, was a sister of Mrs. Geo. Lawson, Peterborough. She leaves a husband and six little children.

—A public meeting will be held under the auspices of the Young Women's Christian Association, of Peterborough, at eight o'clock to-night in St. Andrew's Church, when Miss Carson, of Christodora House, New York City, will speak. Miss Carson is the guest of the Y.W.C.A. and her reputation in connection with College Settlement Work and the work of the Young Women's Christian Association throughout the United States and the Dominion is well known. All are welcome.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Mr. E. W. Cox is in London, England.

—Trooper Fanning, of the Strathcona Horse, arrived in town yesterday morning. He will remain some days.

—Mrs. Geo. A. Cox, of Toronto, will leave for Europe in a few days. She will be accompanied by Miss Morrow, of town.

ASHBURNHAM LOCALS

"Little Brooklyn's" Contribution to the Local News of the Day

—The assessors have finished their work nicely.

—The steamers of the Peterborough Navigation Co. are almost ready to launch.

—Commodore Calcutt has sold the boiler belonging to the City of Peterborough, as well as the machinery taken out of the Eclipse.

—The Civic Association is quite an institution. We understand that several interesting papers are in course of preparation, to be read at an early date. Mr. J. C. Sullivan, the esteemed 3rd Vice-President, will contribute, it is said, an article on the beauties and advantages of trading stamps.

—Mr. James, the enterprising merchant, is in favor of reducing the number of butchers in the village.

—Now that the P.A.A.A. grounds are to be cut up into building lots, an effort should be made to induce Commodore Calcutt to fit up the Riverside Park for sports.

—It is said that Mr. Harry Rush, jr., who has officiated as general manager of the Niffs and Biffs Hockey Club, is thinking about leasing Riverside Park skating rink for the balance of the season.

—The open air skating rink enterprise turned out to be a financial failure, the lessee having dropped nearly $100 in the venture.

—Everybody reads The Times in the village, and those who don't surely will very soon.

A CASE OF BLOOD POISONING.

Dye from a Red Mitt Found its way into Some Scratches on his Hand.

Last Friday evening, says the Lindsay Post, Mr. Andrew Fee, who, with a gang of men, was working in a lumber camp at Squaw River, Harvey township, returned to town suffering with a very severe pain in the second finger of his left hand. Some ten days previous he scratched the finger on a stump, and on the following day it began to hurt severely and the swelling extended all over his hand. He went to Bobcaygeon and consulted medical advice and returned to the camp, being assured that nothing serious would occur.

On Friday last the pain was intense, and, being unable to work, Mr. Fee returned home. Dr. White was called in and pronounced the trouble to be blood poisoning. Drs. White, Gillespie and Jeffers held a consultation yesterday, when it was discovered that the whole system was permeated with the poison and no hopes could be held out for the unfortunate man's recovery.

MADE A TEST.

To Prove the Effects of Coffee.

In order to be sure that it really was coffee that had caused the trouble to my Husband and Myself, we made a careful test with the following results: We had been using coffee, more or less, for twenty years, and for many years Husband was troubled with headaches, sluggish circulation, and dizzy spells. I had sick headaches, stomach trouble and felt nervous and despondent most of the time. Two years ago we began using Postum Food Coffee in place of our coffee. Husband soon began to improve and looked and appeared like another person. All the old, disagreeable symptoms disappeared. In order to be sure that it was the coffee that had caused the trouble he began drinking coffee again, and the old dizzy spells, sluggishness and headaches began to come back. That settled it, and he immediately dropped coffee for good and all, and has since been using Postum and is perfectly healthy.

I have stuck to Postum, and am to-day a healthy, fleshy, rosy woman, where before I was thin, pale and sallow.

You may believe we know something about whether coffee agrees with us or not, and we also know how well Postum does agree with us.

Mrs. Madison, 123 S. Division St., here in Auburn, N. Y., has been cured of indigestion and nervousness by leaving off coffee and taking up Postum Food Coffee.

Mrs. Caffrey 1477 S. Salina St., has been greatly benefitted by using Postum after leaving off coffee.

I know of many cases but only speak of a few." Mrs. S. E. Webb, 161-2 Parker St., Auburn, N. Y.

LOCAL NEWS LETTERS

OMEMEE

—The roads are now breaking up and farmers are well through with their work.

—The sudden death of W. G. Woods, of Lindsay, has cast a gloom over our village, he being well known as a thorough business man and being connected with the Thos. Stephenson family here.

—The series of lectures under the auspices of the High School of Omemee has proved of great pleasure and profit to our citizens, contributed by Prof. Clark, Trinity University, Toronto, and Profs. Dyde and Short, of Queen's University, Kingston.

—Mrs. Jackson died at the advanced age of 84. Funeral Tuesday, 19th.

—One of the oldest and most respected families of the township of Emily—Robt. Weir, northeast Emily—has removed to Peterborough to make their future home.

—Prof. Morris, teacher of vocal music, Lindsay, has the Presbyterian choir under his instruction, besides a number of pupils.

—No. 4 Company, 45th Regiment, Omemee, were quite surprised to hear of the sudden resignation of their commanding officer, Col. S. Hughes, M.P.

BOBCAYGEON

The chopping out of the railway is progressing steadily under the supervision of Mr. W. Kennedy. All the timber is cut for about five miles on it, and the trees that were in the centre of the road were grubbed out, so that it is level and will be easily constructed. Mr. Kennedy and his gang are working near the mouth of Emily Creek now, and if the weather should be favorable for their operations, they will soon reach Dunsford.

Mr. Peter Grant has a gang of several men working on the canal here, just above the locks. They are blasting the rock and taking it out on the bottom and sides of the canal where it leaked and intend to put in a dam of cement so that they may prevent a heavy leakage that occurs at this point. If they are successful in their efforts, it will be a good thing for navigation in the latter part of the summer on the upper lake.

—A large amount of timber and wood has been banked on Sturgeon Lake this season, and good prices are being paid for it.

Her Heart like a Polluted Spring.—Mrs. James Srigley, Pelee Island, Ont., says: "I was for five years afflicted with dyspepsia, constipation, heart disease and nervous prostration. I cured the heart trouble with Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart, and the other ailments vanished like mist. Had relief in half an hour after the first dose."—27

SPORTS AND PASTIMES

The Niffs and the Biffs indulged in a hockey match and masquerade last night at the Charlotte street rink. The first half was played with a rugby ball and lacrosse sticks, rackets, bats, or any old thing, and the second half was played with a puck and hockey sticks. The score at half time was 2-1 for the Niffs, and the final result was 7-5 for the Biffs. The costumes were very unique and amusing, and created plenty of fun for the spectators.

It is understood that this will be the last appearance of the Colts this season.

MILITIA ORDERS

Issued From Headquarters — Changes and Promotions in the 57th

57th Regiment, "Peterborough Rangers" To be Major, Capt. A. Stevenson, vice E. B. Edwards, promoted, 28th of Jan., 1901; to be Captain, Lt. W. H. Cluxton, vice A. Stevenson, promoted 26th Jan., 1901; to be Lieutenant, 2nd Lieutenant G. B. Cameron, vice G. S. Ames, retired; R. F. McWilliams, vice W. H. Cluxton, promoted; to be 2nd Lieutenant provisionally, C. H. Bradburn, gentleman, vice G. S. Matthews, promoted 6th Feb., 1901.

Fortnightly Club.

The Rev. A. W. MacKenzie, of Lakefield, read a paper on "Charles Kingsley" at the meeting of the Fortnightly Club, held last night in the Y.M.C.A. hall. Mr. MacKenzie's paper was very interesting and instructive. This is probably the last meeting this season.

The Spring Medicine
is
Hood's Sarsaparilla

In thousands and thousands of homes,—in cities, towns and villages,—three doses a day of this great medicine are now being taken by every member of the family.

In some homes, even the visitor is given a teaspoonful with every meal.

Why such wide and general use? Because Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved itself by its wonderful effects in cleansing the system of all humors, overcoming that tired feeling, creating appetite, clearing the complexion, giving strength and animation, the best of all Spring medicines, so that it is par excellence the Spring Medicine.

Take it.

"It is about twelve years since I first saw Hood's Sarsaparilla advertised, and we began using it as a Spring medicine. We have used it every year since with good results and I recommend it to others for impure blood and that tired feeling." Mrs. I. Stewart, Claridge, Pa.

Accept No Substitute for Hood's Sarsaparilla.

ST. PAUL'S ASSISTANT PASTOR

Two Names Before the Meeting of Office Bearers

At a meeting of the office bearers of St. Paul's church, the matter of interest was the selection of an assistant pastor. Two names were finally decided upon, and a sub-committee appointed to arrange the matter, the first choice not being available, the committee to call the second choice. Both are young men, and highly recommended.

It is likely that a definite announcement will be made at an early date as to who the assistant pastor will be.

Humors.

Come to the surface in the spring as in no other season. It's a pity they don't run themselves all off that way; but in spite of the pimples and other eruptions, they mostly remain in the system. That's bad.

Hood's Sarsaparilla removes them and cures all the painful and disfiguring troubles they cause. Nothing else cleanses the system and clears the complexion like Hood's.

Good Skating

College Closed by Smallpox

Des Moines, Iowa, March 20.— Des Monies college, the leading Baptist institution of Iowa, was to-day closed on account of the prevalence of smallpox among students. The disease originated in a boarding-house kept by Mrs. J. K. Johnson, near the college. About fifteen students boarded at this place and the house has been quarantined and will remain so for forty days. One of the students had it several days before it was known that it was smallpox, and during this time practically every one of the several hundred students in college was exposed. As soon as it became known that smallpox had broken out those keeping student boarders turned them out of the houses and girls and boys were compelled to walk the street for the greater part of the night. They were unable to find any place where they could obtain lodging, all of the residents of North Des Moines being panic-stricken.

Many of the students have gone home as it is near the end of the term and they will not return for several weeks. It was decided at a special meeting of the faculty to close the school indefinitely.

Fight With Chinese Pirates

Tacoma, Wash., March 18.—Oriental mail advice gives details of a sharp fight last month between an Italian cruiser and a large junk, loaded with forty pirates, which was caught overhauling a small junk, a portion of whose crew and passengers had been killed and injured before the cruiser reached the scene. The fight occurred on the coast of Tai Chou, near Che Kiang.

The cruiser opened fire with machine guns as soon as she got within range of the pirate junk, and bore down so swiftly that only eleven out of the forty were left alive when the cruiser towed the junk into Ning Po, where the live pirates were delivered to the Governor for punishment. The Governor of Ning Po gave the officers and crew of the cruiser a handsome present of cattle and fresh vegetables. Six of the pirates were executed the next day, and the others were to be beheaded later.

Fear Lynching at Pontiac

Pontiac, Ill., March 20.—Guards around the County Jail have been increased as it is feared an attempt will be made to lynch John Kirk, alias Beitz who attacked Mamie Craig, aged 13 years, on the highway near Fairbury yesterday.

Everything is quiet at 11 o'clock to-night although threats of lynching have been made during the day.

Kirk's examination is set for to-morrow morning. Friends of the girl's father, who is a well-known farmer, who joined in the chase after Kirk, will attend as witnesses and trouble is feared.

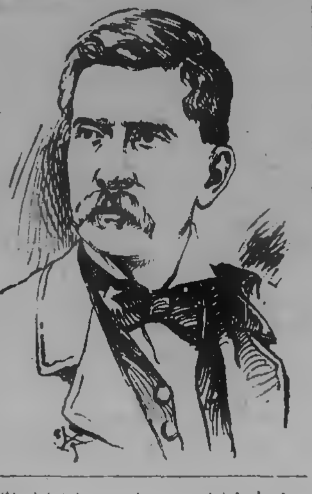
President Diaz is Hopelessly Insane

He Believes Assassins are Hidden in His Palace, and Can Not be Persuaded to Enter it



City of Mexico, March 21.—"President Diaz will never rule Mexico again" said a prominent army officer, and a close friend of the President, to-day, "for he is insane, and the doctors have no hope of his recovery."

Rumours of a like nature have been rife in the city ever since the President hurriedly left the capital two months ago without giving any official notice of his departure. It is now pretty generally believed he was hurried out of the city by those close to him to keep from the public the fact that his mind was badly affected. To lull suspicion it was given out that he had gone to the wilds of the State of Guerro on a hunting trip. Then came the report that he was dangerously ill, and a few days later it began to be whispered around the city that he was insane.

The gloom was lifted from the city, however, some three weeks ago, when it was reported that the President had completely recovered, and that he was on his way back to the city. But he never reached here. Instead, he went to the fashionable winter resort, Cuernavaca a few hours ride from the capital, where he was received by the Governor of the State, in whose house he has been ever since. There only physicians and his family and very intimate friends have been permitted to see him.

It appears from reports that it was decided to bring the President back to the capital, but that he showed such a decided dislike to returning here that it was decided to take him to Cuernavaca.

The President's malady takes the form of a great dread that some one is going to kill him, and he belives that assassins are hidden in his winter residence here, the castle of Chapultepec.

One of the doctors attendant upon Gen. Diaz said a couple of days ago that the old man appears quite a childish, and that the strong will made a nation out of a disorganized conglomeration of States, peopled by robbers, cut-throats, political intriguers, has completely broken down and left the old man as helpless as a child. All there is left of his former strong self is his obstinate refusal to come back to Chapultepec.

SHOT BY ORDER OF COURTMARTIAL

Three Boers Executed at De Aar for Treason and Murder in Blowing up a Train

Cape Town, March 20.—J. P. Minaber, S. Minaber, and J. A. Neuwoudt were shot at De Aar yesterday evening for treason and murder, in pursuance of the sentence of a court martial. The death sentence was passed a week ago in connection with the wrecking of a train near Taaibosch by which five men were killed. Gen. Kitchener confirmed the verdict. The garrison was paraded and the prisoners were led out at sunset. Death was instantaneous. A Dutch minister and relatives remained with the prisoners until the end. Two others concerned in the train wrecking were sentenced to terms of five years' penal servitude.

GORRINGE ENGAGES BOERS.

Cape Town, March 20.—A despatch from Cradock, Cape Colony, says Col. Gorringe's force engaged Kritzinger's force of Boers March 15. The latter lost nine men killed and had seven men wounded. The British loss was one man killed and ten men wounded.

THE PESSIMISTIC GAZETTE.

London, March 20.—The Westminster Gazette this afternoon makes pessimistic comment on General Botha's refusal to accept the peace terms offered by Lord Kitchener and connects this refusal with the situation in China. The Gazette says the powers are at sixes and sevens in the far east, and that any day may see the commencement of a struggle from which the Boers may recover their own. The failure of the peace negotiations means that the military position in South Africa is not yet decisive, it adds.

GEN. MEYER A PRISONER.

London, March, 19.—A despatch from Durban announces the capture of Commandant Meyer and the dissolution of his commando. The Boer leader declared he had heard nothing of Lord Kitchener's proclamation in regard to burghers who came in and surrendered.

GEN. FOUIREE ESCAPES.

Gen. Fouirée, with 800 men, escaped on Sunday from the British columns that were endeavoring to corner the commando east of Bloemfontein. Further big operations will be started in Orange River Colony within a few days.

AN ABSURD SUGGESTION.

Gen. Ian Hamilton, addressing the Author's Club in London last evening, made the absurd suggestion that the Boer prisoners should be sent ot Canada to work on the railways, where they would learn the English language and become imbued with English sentiments.

FRENCH PRO-BOER FAILS.

Henri Rochefort, editor of the Paris L'Intransigeant, is not meeting with much success in his pro-Boer mission to the Hague, the Hollanders believing that his sentiments are wholly inspired by French political motives.

THORITE FACTORY EXPLODED

An explosion occurred to-day in the thorite factory at Dundee. A few persons were injured.

HAMILTON RAIDS WEPENER.

General Bruce Hamilton's force, which is sweeping over the south-western portion of the Orange River Colony, has reached Wepener (on the frontier of Basitoland), where the troops found a heavy stock of grain and cattle. They carried away as much as possible, but had to destroy 30,000 bags of grain. The houses at Wepener were found to be intact.

RICH REFUGEES DEPORTED.

Over 900 Boer prisoners of war have in all been deported by the Portuguese authorities at Delagoa Bay to Lisbon, and the rest have been notified that they are liable to follow at 24 hours' notice.

The Transvaal officers who have been sent to Lisbon include Mr. Marias, the former Auditor-General. Some of the refugees are very wealthy, and the shopkeepers at Delagoa Bay estimate that they will lose from £5,000 to £12,000 monthly through the deportation of these people

DIRECT INFORMATION.

Ottawa, March 20.—Howard Symmes, assistant foreman in the railway workshops at Pretoria, and formerly with "D" Battery, writing from Pretoria to friends here, says. "I really believe it will take a year to finish up those Boers, as they seem quite strong at present and keep blowing up our trains as fast as we get them out of the shop. I spent most of one night last week looking after the charging of the accumulators in Gen. Kitchener's car, as he was leaving next morning at four. Everyone in the shop seemed to know two days before when and where he was going, and as we have a lot of Hollanders, it is not surprising that the Boers are well quainted with his movements. After they made three attempts, about 40 miles from here, on the Delagoa Bay line, to derail his pilot engine, he decided to return to Pretoria, and is still here."

ONE DISTRICT NEARLY PACIFIED

Uncle Sam Busy Quieting the Philippines

Ilio Island of Panay, March 20.—The Phillippine commission was welcomed on its arrival here by Gen. Hughes and his staff, and Cadres were duly organized by the Federalist, and a gathering of citizens. Ilio Province is prepared for organization and the other provinces, it is believed, will be ready by the time the commission shall return from the south. Panay is nearly pacified.

The following has been received by mail from Palaflog, Island of Masbate, under date of March 18:—The islands of Masbate, Ticao, and Burias, with a population of forty thousand, were to-day constituted the province of Masbate. Masbate Island has been impoverished by the rinderpest, which has killed the cattle, the raising of which is almost the sole industry of the inhabitants.

The people welcome the idea of a civil government, and promise to extend their timber and agricultural operations. For reasons of economy, the commission has decided upon no salaries for the provincial officials. Senor Serrano, a native, has been appointed Governor of the province; George Landers, a New York soldier, supervisor and Lieut. Snyder of the 27th Infantry, treasurer. The duties of the fiscal of Romblon will be extended to the Masbate province. Arrangements have been made for the establishment of schools of which there heretofore has been practically not one in the province.

The ladrones are the only insurrectionists remaining in Masbate.

CHINESE SITUATION STILL UNCHANGED

British and Russian Troops Still Face Each Other at Tien Tsin

Tien Tsin, March 20.—A dust storm prevented Count Von Waldersee, who arrived here yesterday, from proceeding for Pekin until this morning.

Ninety British marines arrived here last night from the Tien Tsin to replace the Indian Guards on the disputed land. The fusiliers are expected to-day.

A special train bearing reinforcements of Australian troops left Pekin for Tien Tsin at 10 o'clock this morning.

One French, an Italian and a German war ship are outside the bar.

General Lorne Campbell, the English commander, and General Wogack, commanding the Russians, met Count Von Waldersee upon his arrival here. Learning that both had received instructions from their Governments, Count Von Waldersee said it was useless for him to give even an opinion regarding the matters at issue.

It is the general feeling in Tien Tsin that the trouble is not likely to reach a point where blood will be shed. Both detachments on guard have orders to do nothing aggressive unless forced to do so by the other. Except the army and camp followers the only Russians now residing here are the members of the consular staff, two clerks and two Jews, who are running stores, and who left Russia in order to save their lives. These are no wbeing offered inducements to move to the Russian concession.

The French concession is quiet. French gendarmes are on duty at the British concession to prevent the soldiers from trespassing and Australian naval brigade men are preventing the Sikhs from invading the French concession.

HANDFUL OF WELSH DEFY 3,000 BOERS

Gallant Stand Made by New South Wales Borderers Against an Overwhelming Force of the Enemy

London, March 20.—Details of the disaster to the South Wales Borderers near Krugersdorp are to hand, when for two days and a night one company of the regiment, aided by the details of the Imperial Yeomanry and Marshall's Horse, held at bay a body of 3,000 Boers only, however, eventually to be surrounded and captured, after terrible losses. The garrison, 200 strong, was in command of Captain Gray. For several days previously several strong commandoes of the enemy were lurking in the vicinity, and on the night of January 29th they concentrated to the north of Losbery Mountain. On that day a British convoy from Krugersdorp was due to arrive on the kopje garrisoned by the South Wales Borderers. As the convoy was passing a nek a short distance from the kopje, the enemy, who had hitherto remained concealed, began the attack. A small party of Borderers, under Lieutenant Crawley, succeeded in driving back the enemy sufficiently to allow the convoy to reach camp. In this preliminary skirmish Lieutenant Crawley and several of the men were wounded. The Boers, however, soon returned, and a commando of 500 made a hot attack on both sides of the kopje. The garrison, by means of heliograph, made urgent appeals to a neighboring garrison for relief. As the morning wore on the enemy was reinforced from Losberg, to the south, and laagers all round, bringing with them a pom-pom and four other guns. The British garrison had a solitary Maxim The enemy speedily opened fire, and shelled the sangars, while the whole kopje which was two miles in circumference, was swept by a hail of explosive bullets. The fight was kept up all day, but with night came a cessation of hostitities, and the gallant Welshmen had fitful rest in the darkness. In vain had they heliographed for relief, while the Boers were once more reinforced.

SECOND DAY'S FIGHT.

The fight was repeated in detail on the second day. A neighboring garrison promised a demonstration in force along the ridges, but this brought no relief, and the cordon around the kopje was tightened hour by hour. Time after time the enemy forced their way half-way up the hill, but the Welsh Maxim played havoc with their lines, and compelled them frequently to retreat while on the point of rushing some of the sangars. At length Lieut. Green fell mortally wounded by an explosive bullet. In one of the advance sangars Captain Maniac and his little party were holding out courageously. Step by step the enemy crept nearer, brandishing in untutored hands bayonets taken from English prisoners. It was only when the enemy were within revolver shot that Captain Maniac and his men fell back, shouting, in reply to the enemy's cry of "Hands up," the words, "No surrender." In a hand-to-hand conflict that followed, a man believed to be Commandant Edenberg, was killed and Captain Maniac himself was severely wounded. The long day wore on, and relief seemed as far off as ever, but encouraged by the officers, the men held out gallantly. With the night came the blessing of rain, and the men scooped up the precious water from little holes in the rocks. The sky was overcast with thick black clouds, and the heavy rain pelted noisily on the stony ground. The enemy were not slow to seize their opportunity. Already their attacking line was dangerously close, but under cover of darkness and the rain they crept closer still. A small picket guarding an important point was overwhelmed by numbers. not, however, before they had made a stand, and the enemy were right on top of them.

THE END AT LAST.

Just before daybreak the enemy swarmed up the kopje in hundreds. Rifle fire and fixed bayonets alone met them, and the defenders did the best they could under the circumstances; but the enemy, too, had fixed bayonets, and they had courage and confidence in their numbers. The kopje was lost now. Resistance was not only useless, it was impossible. The men fought to the last, and not until two or three rifles and bayonets were pointed over the sangar tops at each man's head was the position won. By this time nearly one-third of the garrison had been laid low. The incidents that followed the rushing of the kopje reflect a mixture of credit and discredit on the Boers. One of the first things they did was to shoot most of the native mule-drivers, under the charge, quite baseless, that they had used arms against them. Some soldiers were deprived of money, watches, tobacco and so forth. The two officers, too, had their watches taken from them; but when General Smuts, who thoroughout behaved like a thorough gentleman, came to hear of this, he compelled one delinquent to return his loot, and promised severe punishment for others. The prisoners were served out with rations, and were conducted to the laager. At 4 p.m., on February 1, after being prisoners for rather more than a day, they were conducted past two or three more laagers, though the several lines of picquets, until the last was passed some twelve miles outside the laager, and a few miles outside Vereeniging.

DEMAND AN APOLOGY FROM THE BRITISH

Russians Refuse to Accept Arbitration of Count Von Waldersee

London, March 20.

Gen. Wogack has refused to accept Count Von Waldersee's arbitration at Tien Tsin says the Pekin correspondent of the Daily Mail wiring yesterday and demands that the British not only withdraw but apologize for removing the Russian flag. General Barrow refuses to do either, and in so refusing has the support of the British government. British reinforcements are being sent.

London, March 21.

"Russia's proceedings in Korea," says the Kobe correspondent of the Daily Mail, "are now openly aggressive, and it is believed she is about to make further demands in connection with Ma San Pho."

ST. JOHN'S WOMAN'S AUXILIARY

Annual Meeting Held in the Guild Room of St. John's Church

The annual meeting of St. John's church branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to missions was held in the Guild room on Monday afternoon, 19th inst., at half past three, Mrs. R. M. Dennistoun presiding. There was a large attendance.

The minutes of the last annual and monthly meetings were read and confirmed.

The treasurer's report that receipts were $365.41 for the year, and expenditure $277.76, was received and adopted. Mrs. Best reported for the Dorcas work, and Mrs. Stone for the Children's Mission Band.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows:—

Hon President—Mrs. Vernon
President—Miss Errett.
1st Vice-President—Mrs. J C Davidson.
2nd Vice-President—Mrs. Hammond.
3rd Vice-President—Mrs Best.
Treasurer—Mrs Clark.
Secretary—Mrs John Manning.
Librarian—Mrs. F. J. Rogers.
Supt of Mission Band—Mrs. R. M. Dennistoun.
Assistants—Mrs. Stone and Miss Mericke.
Dorcas Committee—Mesdames Best and Comstock with Miss English as secretary of same.

A vote of thanks was given to the officers of last year for their untiring efforts on behalf of the work.

The rector spoke a few works of congratulation to the branch, after which Mrs. Hamilton, who has returned from Japan after six years in the mission work there, gave a most interesting talk on life and work as she found it in her field of labor.

WEDDING BELLS

Prust Belleghem

A social event of unusual interest occurred yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Belleghem, Hunter street, when their daughter, Miss Vina Belleghem, was married to Dr. T. Herbert Prust, of Easton, Michigan, a graduate of Trinity Medical University, Toronto, and son of Mr. R. Prust, of Blackstock, Ont.

The wedding took place at high noon, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. G. Potter of St. Andrew's church, in the choir of which the bride has been the soprano soloist for a number of years, and he was assisted by Rev. J. P. Wilson of the George street Methodist church, a relative.

The ceremony was performed in the beautifully decorated drawing room. The bride wore a charming gown of white organdie, with valenciennes lace trimmings, and her bouquet was of crimson roses. The bridesmaid, her sister, Miss Laura Belleghem, was charmingly attired in white organdie over pink, and carried pink roses, Mr. Morley Prust, of Toronto, assisted the groom, his brother.

The presents to the bride included a handsome mantle clock from St. Andrew's Church choir; a sugar cream pitcher and sugar bowl, suitably inscribed, from St. Andrew's Young Men's Guild; and a fruit bowl, very pretty, from the employees of her father's factory. The groom's gift to the bride was a very fine pearl crescent pin, and to the bridesmaid a handsome pearl and diamond ring.

Dr. and Mrs. Prust left by the 4.45 train for their new western home, followed by the good wishes of a host of friends, in which the Times heartily joins.

FIVE PLAYERS STOOD PAT.

One of the Most Extraordinary Series of Poker Hands on Record.

Peterborough is regarded by many of the sporting fraternity as a good poker town. Here, occasionly, some of the best poker players in the country meet, and indulge in the national pastime.

The other night, at a well known hotel, a "session" was on, at which five well known sports took part.

Two new packs of cards were brought out, the seal of one was cut and the cards shuffled. From this pack cards were dealt around to select the dealer for the opening hand. This done, the second pack of cards was opened and shuffled by one of the party, who handed it to the dealer, who also shuffled. The pack was then tendered for, the usual cut which was done. A round of jack-pots had been agreed upon.

The player who had first say was an insurance traveller, and he promptly opened. Next was a merchant, who raised the opener. A drummer came next and he saw the raise and went the limit better. A professional man, well known for his aggresive spirit sat next in line and he quietly met all that had been set and raised the limit. It was now around to a railroad man who was the dealer. There was a pause, and each player inspected his cards with a self-satisfied air. The railroad man broke the silence by meeting all bets and raising the limit. Everybody stayed in the game. The dealer asked how many cards were wanted, and each player in turn said none. The dealer took none. He made a nominal bet and the call was passed all around.

At the show-down the hand in each case was a full house, and beginning with the first to the left of the dealer, as follows: Sevens and deuces, eights trays, nines and fours, tens and fives, aces and fives. The railroad man was winner. He has had the cards as held by each player framed and each player has a photograph of them as a souvenir of phenomenal sequence in a game of poker.

ROSEBERRY MAY NOW WED.

Queen Victoria's Death Has Removed all Obstacles.

London. March 21.—Rumors of a marriage between the widowed Duchess of Albany and Lord Roseberry are current once more. For now, that Queen Victoria is dead all obstacles to the match have been removed.

The attachment between the Earl and the Duchess has existed for many years, and it is well known that the Duchess would have consented to marry him long ago had it not been for the insuperable objection raised by Queen Victoria, upon whom the Duchess was to a great extent dependent.

The Queen was opposed on principle to widows marrying a second time, and held that this match would be an affront to the memory of the Duke of Albany, who was the favorite son of Her Majesty.

Lord Roseberry has likewise been married before, and though his first wife, the richest of all the Rothschild heiresses, became immensely wealthy. His children are now grown up, and his exceptional intimacy with the Royal family, and his virtual withdrawal from party politics, point toward his becoming ere long connected by marriage with the reigning houses of England, Holland and of Germany.

As husband of the Duchess of Albany he would be uncle to Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands, brother-in-law of King Edward and stepfather to the reigning Duke of Coburg.

Tired Out

And she does not understand why. Her work used to seem so easy. You could tell her whereabouts as she worked by the snatches of song which now and again overflowed her happy lips. And now she can hardly keep up. Her head pains, her back hurts, and she feels entirely worn out. What is the matter? The probability is that the stomach is disordered, the liver is not performing its whole duty. Poisons are accumulating in the blood, and unless these are removed, and the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition cured and strengthened, there is liable to be a serious illness. There is no medicine can equal Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for prompt help and perfect cure for diseases of the stomach and blood. It strengthens the stomach, purifies the blood, nourishes the nerves, and brings back the happy days of health, when life is all song and sunshine.

"I suffered ten months from a complicated case of liver complaint, constipation, indigestion, suppression of monthly function, and kidney disease, too," writes Miss Lula M. Brittle, of Iver, Va. "I also suffered excruciating pain in my back and head. I am glad to say that six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' three vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and two bottles of 'Compound Extract of Smart-Weed' cured me entirely. I gladly recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to all sufferers."

ALL MUST BE VACCINATED.

Census Commissioners Will Do Their Work Under the Disadvantage of Sore Arms

Ottawa, March 21.—The chief census commisioners throughout the Dominion have been instructed by telegraph to order the vaccination of all the enumerators under them. There is believed to be a lot of what is called "walking smallpox", or a mild form of the disease, in different parts of the country, and vaccination is being resorted to as a precautionary measure against the disease spreading.

DAILY BATTLES IN NORTHERN NIGERIA

Walled Town Surprised and Burned

BRITISH TAKE KING'S PALACE

They Stormed the Royal Residence at Bida and Rescued 200 Women and Children

London, March 19.—Despatches from Northern Nigeria show that almost continuous fighting between the British and the natives in Bida and Kontagora has taken place. Late in the summer a report was current that a combined attack by the Emirs of Bida and Kontagora on the British fort at Wushishi was threatened, and General Lugard despatched a force from Jebba and Lokoja, consisting of three hundred men of the West Africa Frontier Force with two seven pounders and a Vickers-Maxim. On arrival at Wushishi, it was found that there was no immediate danger of attack, but as a measure of precaution the garrison was increased. After a short interval hundreds of natives from the surrounding country flocked into the place asking for protection from the raiding parties, which commenced operations on the conclusion of the rains, and, for the safety of the villagers it was decided to establish outposts for the purpose of watching the Bida and Kontagora people, and to enable the natives to collect their corps.

Almost immediately on the establishment of a post at Samaji, about fifteen miles from Wushishi, fighting began with the Emir of Bida's followers, and, on the entry of the British into the place, some hundreds of the Bida people were driven off. A fort was built, and right up to the middle of December, there was fighting almost every day with the raiding parties, which suffered heavily in killed and wounded. There were however, but few casualities on the British side. During this period it was found necessary to despatch a column against the walled town of Paiko, the chief of which was fighting the Gwari allies, and was threatening the road to Wushishi. After a difficult march the town was surprised at daylight, and subsequently taken and burned, a quantity of cattle and horses being captured.

The natives of that district having thus been relieved, the force returned with all speed to Samaji, where an attack in force by the Bida people was expected. The whole country was full of spies, which rendered surprises by the troops difficult, and it was only by constant and arduos night work that any information regarding the enemy was obtainable. Meantime, the Bida people were molesting and capturing British canoes while on their way up the river with portable buildings, etc., destined for the new administrative headquarters, and a force was sent down from Wushishi to keep river communication open. A force which was left in command at Samaji had hard fighting with the raiding parties. The river force consisted of sixty-five men. It was soon discovered that both banks of the river were occupied by Bida and Kontagora war camps, and, while a portion of the troops was kept on the river to watch the canoes, the remainder were sent to clear the right bank. After some fighting, the war camps were surprised and scattered, and in the middle of December the two sections of the force joined at Wuya, on the right bank of the river. On December 16 the Bida people opened fire on the place from the opposite bank, but owing to the fact that their canoes had been taken or sunk by the British, they were unable to cross the river. Later on the same night, the force crossed the stream, and at dawn surprised the enemy, who suffered severe loss, and fled in the direction of Bida, closely pursued for about three miles by the British.

When the latter halted the enemy again concentrated, and definately blew their war horns. It being apparent that they had not received a sufficiently severe lesson, it was thought necessary to follow them into their town, which was not far distant, and, to inflict such punishment as would prevent them again attacking the river traffic. A force of 35 men under two white officers was accordingly detached to make a reconnaissance in the direction of the town of Bida, and this column succeded in actually driving the enemy into the town, and by following at their heels before there was time to close the city gate, penetrated to the king's palace, which, together with the residence of the chief men they burnt to the ground. The force succeded in relieving two hundred slave women and children who were shut up in the palace, and then left the town with all speed. After emerging from the gate, a rearguard action was fought for several miles with about a thousand men, and during the operations one officer and four men were wounded.'

The Chicago Tribune

is a newspaper for bright and intelligent people. It is made up to attract people who think.

Is not neutral or colorless, constantly trimming in an endeavor to please both sides, but it is independent in the best sense of the word.

It has pronounced opinions and is fearless in expressing them, but it is always fair to its opponents.

Matters of national or vital public interest get more space in THE TRIBUNE than in any other paper in the West.

For these reasons it is the newspaper you should read during the forthcoming political campaign.

THE TRIBUNE'S financial columns never mislead the public.

Its facilities for gathering news, both local and foreign, are far superior to those of any other newspaper in the West.

It presents the news in as fair a way as possible, and lets its readers form their opinions.

While it publishes the most comprehensive articles on all news features, if you are busy the "Summary of THE DAILY TRIBUNE" published daily on the first page gives you briefly all the news of the day within one column.

Its sporting news is always the best, and its Sunday Pink Sporting Section is better than any sporting paper in the country.

It is the "cleanest" daily printed in the West.

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. One agent sold 68 in one day. Sample and terms 25 cts (non free); four for 80 cts; $1.75 per dozen; 25 fo $3.25; 50 for $6.00; 100 for $11.00 Write to day for a dozen and make money. LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Salida copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the Rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims: The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Salida, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Salida. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of Salida at Cleora station, on the main Trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

THE SERI TRIBE.

The Wildest and Most Ferocious Race of Indians.

The wildest and most ferocious among all living tribes has just been brought to scientific attention on this continent.

The Seri, a race of Indians whose home is on Tiburon Island, in the Gulf of California, are not only the most primitive savages of North America, but the most untamed of all living creatures.

In their development these Indians have but just reached the Stone Age. It cannot be readily believed that there is a people alive today who do not know the use of tools or weapons, who eat raw fish rather than cooked food, who have no arts, trades or permanent dwellings, who delight in blood, and kill every alien in sight. Yet this is true of the Seri.

Long, long ceturies ago, before the ultra-civilized races of today had forged their first weapon, or prepared their first cooked food, or dreamed of humane dealings with each other, they may have resembled the Seri. But it was all inconceivably long ago.

As it is the world of today is not the place for the Seri. The brutality and savagery of these wild men is in too startling opposition to the manners and morals of the meanest races of the earth.

It is not likely that you will ever meet a Seri. But if you do you may recognize him by this description:

In height a giant, towering above the six-foot limit. Of erect yet easy carriage, great breadth and depth of chest, very slender of limb and possessing unusually large feet and hands. His bodily activity can hardly be equalled on the face of the earth. The skin of his feet and lower legs is so hard and calloused as to resemble the hide of a horse or camel, so that he is able to run through cactus thickets so thorny as to stop horses and dogs, or over beds of stones so sharp that the very coyote avoids the trail.

A remarkable physiological characteristic of this strange race is that they do not stop growing until they are well advanced in years. All the younger men and women are below six feet, the older ones above it.

It follows from a knowledge of the Seri's character that the only safe course to pursue with him is to avoid him altogether. To these savages the most virtuous of actions is the slaughter of a stranger. They have a hereditary hate and horror of aliens, and consider it as much a matter of course to kill a stranger as a white man does to kill a snake.

The Seri are cannibals, revelling in the flesh and blood of the men they kill, though no outsider has ever been present at their feasts. Their ordinary food is raw meat freshly killed.

A leg of a cow will furnish a family with food for some days, and when anybody happens to be hungry he takes a chew at it, tearing off the flesh just as any wild animal might do.

When they surround and capture horses or kine they never think of mounting the beasts, or of using ropes, but immediately break the neck and knock out the brains of the animal, to tear the writhing body into quarters, and flee for their lives with the reeking flesh still quivering on their heads and brawny shoulders.

Scores of vaqueros agree in the assertion (wholly incredible if it were supported by fewer witnesses) that even when so burdened the robber Seri skim the sand wastes of the desert more rapidly than avenging horsemen can follow them.

The Seri boys go out after jack rabbits in threes and fours, and catch them by outwinding them. When a rabbit is started they scatter, one following it slowly, while the others set off obliquely in such a manner as to head it off and keep it in a sigzag course until it tires.

Then they close in and finally grab the animal by hand, frequently bringing it in alive to prove that it was fairly caught, for among these aborigines it is deemed discreditable to take game animals without giving them a chance for escape or defense. They capture deer also by running, scattering at sight of the quarry, gradually surrounding it, bewildering it by confronting it at all points, and at length closing in and seizing it with their hands.

The women of the tribe are almost as strong and fleet of foot as the men. A ranch owner, on starting out for a journey, once left behind at the ranch among others a Seri matron with a sick child nearly a year old. In the evening the child got worse, and the woman, being alarmed about its condition, took the trail of the absentee about dusk in the hope of getting medicine from the senor.

At dawn next morning she was at Molino del Encino, forty-five miles away, with her child and a peace offering in the form of a jack rabbit, which she had run down and caught in the course of her journey.

It is a bad omen to postpone a marriage.

If your right ear burns, it signifies you are spoken well of.

If your left ear burns, it shows you are spoken ill of.

"Much learning maketh a man sad," says one proverb, and another says, "A little learning is a dangerous thing," so what are you going to do about it?—Chicago News

The man who loved and lost didn't get his presents back.

A desire to attend strictly to one's own business is a difficult art to acquire.

A BUNCH OF JOKES.

The people who talk about "vulgar trade" are usually the ones who never pay their bills.

"Whom do you consider the greatest hero in this town?" asked a stranger.

"Oh, Ed Summers, of course."

"In what does his heroism consist?"

"He jilted a girl who has two brothers, both prize-fighters."

"They say Paderewski practiced so hard at the piano during the past six months that he paralyzed two of his fingers."

"That's nothing. There's a girl living in the flat below us who paralyzes everybody in the street when she practices."

Sympathizing Friend—Weren't you awfully scared when you saw that the fellow took aim at you with a gun?

Pawnbroker's Man—I was at first, until I recognized the weapon as one I had sold the day before. Then I sailed in and knocked the stuffing out of him.

"Well, Tompkins, how did you come out in the last race?" asked a man of a friend.

"As nearly as I can figure it I came out about fifteen dollars to the good."

"Fifteen dollars? That's not bad. What horse did you back?"

"None. I had about fifteen dollars with me that I did not bet with."

The American tourist is so firmly convinced that he is being cheated on all sides during his European travels that he occasionally oversteps the bounds of prudence.

"What is the price of this pin?" asked a young man in a Paris shop, handling a small silver brooch of exquisite workmanship.

"Twenty francs, monsieur," said the clerk.

"That's altogether too much," said the young American. "It's for a present to my sister; I'll give you five francs for it."

"Zen it would be I zat gave ze present to your sister," said the Frenchman, with a deprecatory shrug, "and I do not knew ze young mademoiselle."

Jinks—Johnson wants to borrow $10 from me. Is he good for that amount?

Binks—Yes, with proper securities.

Jinks—What would you suggest?

Binks—A chain and padlock, a pair of handcuffs and a dog. That would be enough, I think, to hold him.

In an article entitled "Humors of Irish Banking," the Financial Times tells the story of a startling telegram received upon one occasion at the head office of a certain Irish bank from a remote country branch. The communication read:

"Regret inform you I died this morning of pneumonia," and was "signed for John Brown, manager, Thomas Smith."

Evidently the prevailing idea in Mr. Smith's mind when he despatched the wire was at all hazards to comply with the regulations, and so he used the form "as laid down," and no doubt congratulated himself upon being equal to the emergency.

Of course, it was Mr. Brown, the manager, who had the misfortune to die of pneumonia.

The district manager of one of the Welsh railway connections received an application the other day from a man requesting a return pass for himself to Cardiff.

There was nothing about the letter to indicate that the writer had any claim for the privilege he requested, but the railway official thought perhaps the applicant was the representative of a big customer or had some connection with the line, possibly as a local goods agent. So he wrote back:

"Please state explicitly on what account you request pass."

By return of post came this reply: "I've got to go to Cardiff some way, and don't want to walk."

Are you badly hurt, Mrs. Getalong?" inquired an anxious neighbor, sitting down by the side of the bed.

"I don't know how badly I'm hurt," said the victim of the railway accident feebly, "until I've seen my lawyer."

Lancaster—My wife paid $10 for a new bonnet, I'm sorry to say.

Forester—You're not half as sorry as I am.

"How's that?"

"Why, when my wife hears of it she will want one that costs more."

Benevolent Individual—Yes, sir; I hold that when a man makes a little extra money his first duty is to make his wife a present of a handsome dress.

Ordinary Individual—You are a philosopher, I presume?

"No; I am a tailor."

School Teacher (to boy at head of class, the lesson being philosophy)—How many kinds of forces are there?

Boy—Three, sir.

Teacher—Name them.

Boy—Bodily force, mental force and the police force.

Lord Methuen, at his own expense, has erected a monument over the grave of Count de Villebois Mareuil, bearing the following inscription: "To the Memory of Count de Villebois Mareuil, Colonel of the Foreign Legation of France and General of the Transvaal, who died on the field of honor, near Boshof April. "Brethren," said the repentant man at the revival meeting, "mine is a sad story. I was born in Brooklyn, but soon went from bad to worse."

"How long did you stay in New York?" asked the long-whiskered man near the organ.—Baltimore American.

THE END OF A ROMANCE

The Mysterious Hero Turns Out to Be a Detective.

At a large wedding reception recently the attention of a couple of girls was attracted to a rather fine looking man, whose prematurely gray hair and clear cut features combined in giving him a distinguished appearance.

"I see him at nearly every large wedding I go to," said one. "I wonder who he can be. I've asked lots of people, and nobody seems to know. Yet he seems to be invited everywhere."

"Yes, I've noticed him, too," said the other girl. "While he apparently goes to all the big weddings, he doesn't seem to know anybody; or, at least, I've never seen him talking to anybody. He's such an intersting looking man, too. I'd love to meet him. He looks like a man who had lived and—and suffered."

A young man standing near, who couldn't help overhearing this conversation, laughed.

"Perhaps I can throw some light upon the identity of your mysterious hero," he said.

"Do you know him?" exclaimed both girls in the same breath.

"Well, I can't say that I exactly know him," replied the young man; "but I know who he is. He's a private detective. Perhaps you have noticed that he never strays far away from the tables on which the presents are displayed. That's what he's there for—to watch them. You know there are social highwaymen in—"

"Let's go down stairs and get some claret cup," interrupted one of the girls.—Pearson's Weekly.

Sceptic and Believer.

A young man who looked as if he might be about twenty-five years old was sitting in the waiting room of the depot. On his knee was a year-old baby. Presently the baby began to cry, and the awkwardness and helplessness of the young man were so marked as to attract general attention.

At this point one of the waiting passengers, a fat and amiable looking man, crossed the room and sat dto the distressed baby tender.

"A young woman gave you that baby to hold while she went to see about her baggage, didn't she?"

"Yes."

"Well, now, I knew it as soon as I saw you. You expect her back, I suppose?"

"Of course."

"Ha! Ha! You are looking for her every minute, ain't you?"

"I think she'll come back."

"Ha! Ha! Excuse me, but I can't help laughing. A woman once played the same trick on me. I was in Chicago. You're caught, young man. She took you for a hayseed."

"Oh, she'll come back," answered the young man as he looked anxiously around.

"She will, eh? Ha! Ha! Ha! What makes you think so?"

"Why, because she's my wife, and this is our first baby."

"Oh—um—I see!" mutterd the fat man, and he was in such haste to get back to the other side of the room that he nearly fell over a passing pug dog.—Buffalo Enquirer.

Were Men of Few Words

There is a little settlement of New Hampshire people in Kiowa county, Colorado. Among other things they brought with them the New Hampshire aversion to using any more words in conversation than are absolutely necessary. Two of them met on the road recently, and indulged in the following dialogue:

"Mornin', Si."

"Mornin', Josh."

"What'd you give your horse for bots?"

"Turpentine."

"Mornin'."

"Mornin'."

A few days later the men met again, and here's the way a hard luck story was told in mighty few words:

"Mornin', Si."

"Mornin', Josh."

"What'd you say you gave your horse for bots?"

"Turpentine."

"Killed mine."

"Mine, too."

"Mornin'."

"Mornin'."

The newspapers are for ever speaking of "the blushing bride." Well, when you reflect upon the kind of husband not a few of the brides marry, you cannot wonder that they should blush.

It is an odd thing that as wit grows thin it becomes heavier.

It is when a lady enters a crowded horse car that the man who has a seat really feels that he is getting his money's worth out of a newspaper.

THE LeRoi No. 1 once sold for 2 cents and went to $45 per share; and the Le Roi No. 2 £5 shares went to £23, or $110 per share in a few months.

Our memorandum of association contains a provision, provided by Section 56 of the Companies Act, 1897, that tre shares are issued as Fully Paid Up and Non Assessable, and that no further liability beyond the amount actually paid upon shares shall attach to the holders thereof. Capital $250,000.

Our properties are now proved (both above and below ground) to have the same continuous ore veins as the LeRoi Companies, and have the same identical ore and our shares are well worth TWENTY FIVE CENTS now, and will surely bring fifty cents. And we can, with a very small capital, develop our property to such a extent that it can also be placed on the London market, where it belongs—and small investors will make a good profit by buying now.

Our assays have averaged from $5 to $800 in gold, copper and silver and the shipping facilities are the best. The Great Northern Railway runs three times through the ground, three smelters close at hand, and reduced charges of $4.50 per ton for shipping and smelting, and we are now getting ready to start shipping ore.

Irrespective of the merits of the BIG FOUR, we have now over 570,000 shares in our treasury and free from all incumbrance. We are amongst the few local companies that has complied with the law in every particular, and we venture to say have

GOLD MINING CO.

Owning Big Horn Mountain Tunnel and Veneta Vein, 200 acres situated on the Western Slope of Pikes Peak, in the famous Cripple Creek Gold Mining District.

THE SAFEST OFFER EVER MADE TO INVESTORS.

100,000 Shares Preferred Stock at 25c. Per Share.

It is printed on each certificate that subscribers to the above Preferred Shares will be entitled to receive in Dividends the full amount of money invested, before other stockholders receive any returns, signed by the President of the Company.

This district produced more Gold in 1900 than any other in the United States

This property consists of 3000 by 3000 feet, or 200 acres, of gold land. The mine has been worked. The feature of this mine is the Veneta Vein, 30 to 40 feet in width, and is certainly one of the strongest veins in this famous district. There are some fifteen openings on this vein, the ore from which assays in gold from $12 to $100 per ton. The property is advantageously located for development by tunnel, which will make it possible to produce an enormous amount of ore daily, the quantity varying from 200 to 500 tons per day. The development by TUNNELING is the most economical and advantageous manner of working this property.

At a distance of 800 feet the Tunnel will intersect the Veneta Vein at a depth of about 680 feet, and will also intersect several other veins. The tunnel will cut the Big Horn Mountain 2100 feet deep, and will give this company 2,000,000 tons of ore, worth over $20 per ton.

The new railroad, now practically completed from Colorado Springs, called the Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek road, passes within 2000 feet of this Tunnel

Adjoining this property is the Colorado Springs TUNNEL Company. In this property at a depth of 400 feet, the Veneta Vein was cut. At this point the vein was fully 20 feet in width, and its value from $20 to $1000 per ton.

There are already in operation mills and smelters sufficient to treat the output of this property, which gives at once cash returns.

Capital Stock $1,000,000. Par Value $1.00 Per Share. 100,000 Shares Preferred Stock at 25c. Per Share.

In buying this stock the purchaser owns a direct title in the Company's property. This Company offers you no watered stock, but a legitimate high-grade gold-mining investment in the Cripple Creek District.

The above offer of Preferred Dividends is an assurance of early returns. After additional machinery is erected, this property will be earning dividends almost equal to its Capital Stock.

Money Sunk

The money that has been "sunk" in sidewalks in Peterborough is ridiculous. Water street is unfit to travel on during several months in the year, and many other streets are not much better. THE BILL GOES THROUGH

The American Cereal Company's Assessment Fixed for 42 Years

Toronto March 20.— After a sharp debate, Peterborough's Bill, to give a fixed assessment for forty-two years to the American Cereal Company, which is starting a big industry there, passed the Private Bills Committee of the Legislature this morning.

Mr. Andrew Pattullo, who led the opposition to the measure, said the town had given special privileges and the railways specialities, and the result would be to freeze out the independent millers of the province, who had none of these things.

Mr. Stratton warmly championed the bill, and Hon. J. H. Gibson said he would support it because it would give a steady market for the cereals of the farmers of the Midland district.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

—How does the condition of the sidewalks suit you now?

—The Murray and Water street canals have formed a junction.

—Lindsay is dickering about putting in a municipal lighting plant.

—Mr. J. D. Flavelle has been re-elected President of the Lindsay Board of Trade.

NEW BOAT FOR STONEY LAKE

A Handsome New Boat Now Building at Lakefield

Messrs. White & Gryll, proprietors of the steamer Sunbeam, have let the contract for a new steamer to ply on the Stony Lake waters. The new craft will be 65 feet long, by 12 feet beam, and will be constructed with all modern improvements. She will have powerful engines, of the best type, and will have a speed of from 12 to 15 miles per hour. In addition to this, the steamer will be lighted with electricity, and will carry a search light, so that objects may be clearly seen on dark nights at a distance of half a mile.

It is said that the new steamer will find plenty of work, owing to the rapid increase of tourist traffic that has taken place. The contract for building the boat has not yet been formally let, but it is understood that the Strickland Canoe Company will have the job.

A LIBERAL REWARD

The Toronto Loan Company Sends the Fire Brigade $100

Mr. W. G. Morrow, the popular manager of the Toronto Loan and Saving's Company, in token of the splendid services of the Fire Brigade at the Examiner fire, sent Chief Rutherford a check for $100.

The building destroyed is the property of the Company, and the heroic work of the fire fighters on that occasion saved much of the adjoining property.

HE SAID IT.

And Every Word Was Worth a Gold Piece.

When an old, experienced druggist advises a man to throw medicine to the dogs and use good common sense and the right kind of food the advice is worth heeding.

"An old friend of mine whom I knew to be not only a first class druggist, but an honest man as well, advised me, in order to cure my dyspepsia which I had suffered with for 12 long years, and spent hundreds of dollars in order to get well, to quit meats of all kinds and make my meals on Grape-Nuts Food and cream, with cooked fruit and Postum Cereal Food Coffee.

"I took his advice and in a few days a great change had taken place. I was no longer troubled with pains in the side, smothering spells, palpitation, and pains about the heart, and when night came I looked forward to a good night's rest. I was also free from headaches and sour stomach that had been with me for years before. In fact I was a new man, and improved so rapidly in health that I went up to 229 pounds.

I am enjoying as good health as I ever did in my life, and no healthier man can be found I firmly believe.

During the past winter I was out of doors every day, and we had some very severe weather. Those who worked with me and used coffee and tea, and other kinds of liquid beverages were constantly complaining of the cold. I did not suffer in the least, nor did I contract a bad cold during the entire winter.

I know a lady in Pittsburg who suffered from dyspepsia as much as I did. She was a terrible sufferer. She had a deathly color, but she went on Grape-Nuts Food and Postum Cereal Food Coffee and gained 22 pounds in less than three months. She lost the greenish color of her complexion, and now her checks are as rosy as a school girl's, and her eyes bright as a dollar.

I know when I am well off and stick to Grape-Nuts and Postum Food Coffee.

THE TIMES LETTER BOX

INFORMATION WANTED.

(Editor Morning Times.)

Sir,—I would like to know if the by-laws of Peterborough allow our main sidewalks to be obstructed by the numerous packing boxes that are so often blocking up George street? I know that a few evenings ago I happened to be speaking to a friend in front of one of the principal stores, when I was told by one of our policemen to "move on," and in doing so I nearly fell over one of these boxes. Then it dawned on me to find out if, that while I had no right to occupy the sidewalk, these boxes had more right than I. I'm not objecting to being "moved on," mind you, only I think all should be treated alike—packing cases, loafers in front of hotels, as well as 'Arthur Cienam."

THE T. A. S. ENTERTAINMENT.

(Editor Morning Times.)

Sir,—I was surprised to read in Tuesday's Examiner, a most unfair and untruthful report of the entertainment given on Monday evening by the T. A. S. of St. Peter's Cathedral. The article in question was written, I am told, by a member of the society, who is employed in the Examiner office and who has a reputation for meanness that extends wherever the fellow is known.

That your contempory should allow its columns to be used in such a manner, and by such a character, is surprising. Miss Lillie Simons, who at great sacrifice of time and patience, trained the various performers in their parts, deserves much credit for her efforts, extending as they did, over a period of several months. That the performance was a success, was amply proved by the large attendance and the applause which greeted the arts as they were presented.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I am, etc.,

A MEMBER OF THE S. C. I

THE APSLEY RAILWAY,

(Editor Morning Times.)

Dear Sir,—I am glad there are such decided prospects of a railway coming this way and opening up the country. It will be a great blessing to us all, and is what the country needs to make it prosperous.

If only people are diligent, perservering and industrious, they will do well here. Where farms are not prosperous it is far oftener the fault, or misfortune of the people, than of the land; either they do not go the right way to work, or are insuficiently enterprising, or else they are unfortunate. We have proof of this in one or two giving up their place in despair, being succeeded by another who has made it pay. There are, of course, some few bad spots, as there are in other districts, and there are bad seasons once in a while here as every where else in the world; but if one crop fails some other will generally succeed—we don't know what it is to have a failure of crops all the way round, as sometimes happens else where.

I have been here now for six or seven years, and am growing more and more satisfied that it rests with the people themselves to make their farms pay. But apart from farming and cattle raising, and the profits gained through the milk factories, which are quite considerable, the country offers great attractions to all who seek nice summer resorts and camping places on the lakes. All around us are beautiful lakes and good fishing and hunting. Some of the lakes have pretty islands, and are very pleasant in the summer months.

There is also every reason to believe there is much good mineral in the country, and the lumbering is good and will be for a long time to come.

I can't help believing the railway will pay well, and it will provide a market for the country, which is badly needed by the farmers, and the lack of which has been one of their greatest drawbacks in the past.

I do not agree with Rev. J. C. Davidson in the opinions he has given expression to. He has passed through the country, but has never stayed here long enough to find out the real reason why some had not prospered as they should have done. Some farms are rocky and poorly cleaned up and the sight of them gives the visitor a bad idea of the place, but these rough grounds are often the places where the best crops are raised; where the soil is richest. They only need an industrious man on them who has pluck enough to go to work, and not afraid of work, and enough heart in him to go at it; which the railway is the very thing to give him.

Yours truly,
CHRISTOPHER LORD.

A New Trick.

Traveller writes:—There will always be fakirs, and they will always find victims as long as people grasp at possession without giving an equivalent. There is just now, however, a cunning scheme in vogue, which only needs publicity to frustrate it. The newsboy on some trains offers a pair of apparently gold spectacles, explaining his possession by asserting that he "found them in a sleeping berth and could not ascertain the owner." He declares that a jeweller valued them at $5 or $6, but he will sell them at any price. He will finally accept $1 or even 75 cents, and the buyer finds out that they are dear at 25 cents. Of course the news companies and the reliable vendors of goods on the trains cannot know of this, but the sale is going on all the time on some lines, one boy having sold several pairs of the bogus specs on one short trip last week. While the news companies are looking into this matter perhaps their labor would not be in vain if the boys were watched carefully to see what kind of literature, in the form of a fly-sheet, is inserted in volumes, otherwise unobjectionable.

"I Would Rather Give Up My Beefsteak or Chop in the Morning Than Go Without Malt Breakfast Food."

A Scotchman of position and well known to thousands of Montreal citizens says:

"From childhood I have been a user of oatmeal. After coming to Canada, I continued the use of oatmeal porridge, but at certain times had to give it up as it did not agree with my erratic stomach.

"A few weeks ago my wife was asked by her Grocer to try a package of Malt Breakfast Food which he recommended very highly, as he was using it in his own family. Our experience with Malt Breakfast Food was so satisfactory that oatmeal has been banished from the house.

"I find Malt Breakfast Food contains more strengthening and nourishing quantities than any other grain food I have ever used. I find it very easy to digest, and I am gaining flesh right along. I would rather give up my breakfast or chop in the morning than go without Malt Breakfast Food; this is also the experience of my wife and sons."

BAD FIRE AT KEENE

Dr. Harrison's Stables and Driving Shed Totally Destroyed

Keene had a bad fire last Tuesday night, one which was only prevented from being more disastrous by the hard work of the villagers. The fire was discovered in the stables and drive house at the residence of Dr. Harrison. It is supposed that a stove in the man's room in the driving shed became overheated and caused the fire. The buildings burned so rapidly that little of the contents were saved, except the horses, rigs and one set of harness. The man who slept in the building lost everything; including his watch and sum of money. The stables were totally destroyed.

It was only by the greatest exertions and the hardest work on the part of the villagers that the house was saved. The contents of the house however were removed and were therefore more or less damaged.

The loss will be fully $1,000, and there will be some insurance. Dr. Harrison was completely used up by the excitement and work attendant on the fire, but it is expected that he will be all right soon.

ENGLAND AND RUSSIA WAR CLOUD STILL DARK

The Situation Regarded as Extremely Critical by Those in Authority.

BRITAIN HURRYING FORWARD REINFORCEMENTS.

War Between the Lion and the Bear is What the Boers Are Praying For.

London, March 22.—The war cloud is lowering in China, with indications that we are on the eve of the greatest war in the world's history. The position of affairs in China is not improving. British troops are being hurried forward, and every precaution taken to prevent a surprise. While the British and Russians are at daggers drawn, the neutral powers are endeavoring to patch matters up so as to prevent a conflict.

Pekin, March 22.—The British Minister here, Sir Ernest Satow, has informed Prince Ching, the Chinese Peace Commissioner, that the Manchria affair has disturbed the relations to such an extent that no further conferences can be held with the Chinese until the Manchuria situation is cleared.

This statement was made in reply to a request from Prince Ching pressing for the presentation of further specifications regarding the treaties to be concluded between China and the Western nations. He disclosed considerable anxiety to learn just what the powers would demand. No action on the matter was taken by the Ministers at the recent meetings, and as a result the Chinese plenipotentiaries reaffirmed their desire to conclude negotiations.

Court Seeks Efficient Officers.

The imperial court is sending secret instructions to the officials to adjust as quickly as possible all affairs with the foreigners, especially those arising from the Boxer troubles. It has also requested the names of efficient public men all over the empire, the intention being to select those who are judged capable of carrying out reforms.

On the other hand, however, the court is promoting many officials who were deeply implicated in the murder of foreigners, some of whom are named in the lists of guilty provincial officials.

PRAYING FOR WAR.

London, March 22.—Kruger told a press representative that the Boers were praying for war between Britain and Russia, in which event South Africa would gain their independence.

KAISER'S ENVOY SNUBBED.

General Von Werder Received Very Coolly in St. Petersburg.

Berlin, March 22.—Parliamentary circles relate that General von Werder, who was recently sent on a special mission to St. Petersburg, this time met with a cool reception at the Russian capital, and that the private mission with which Emperor William entrusted him and which was intended to explain away all misunderstandings that have arisen lately, practically failed.

It is understood that Count Lamsdorff, Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, also keenly questioned General von Werder regarding the German agitation in favor of the annexation of Austria's German-speaking provinces.

Brother of General Botha Has Been Killed

Lord Kitchener Cables That the Boer Lost His Life in the Dornberg

London, March 21.—A despatch from Lord Kitchener, dated at Pretoria, March 20, says:—

"Phillip Botha, a brother of the Boer commandant-general, was killed on the Doornberg. His two sons were wounded.

"The Boers of the Orange River Colony have disbanded and scattered.

"De Wet is in the neighborhood of Heilbron."

WINNER OF THE V. C.

London, March 21.—The King has signified his intention to confer the Victoria Cross on Lieutenant F. A. Maxwell, D.S.O., Indian Staff Corps, attached to Roberts' Light Infantry. The decoration is awarded for conspicuous bravery at Korn Spruit, which is thus described in the Gazette: "Lieut. Maxwell was one of the three officers not belonging to 'Q' Battery, Royal Horse Artillery, specially mentioned by Lord Roberts as having shown the greatest gallantry and disregard of danger in carrying out the self-imposed duty of saving the guns of that battery during the affair at Korn Spruit on March 31, 1900. This officer went out on five different occasions and assisted to bring in two guns and three limbers, one of which he, Captain Humphreys, and some gunners, dragged in by hand. He also went out with Captain Humphries and Lieutenant Stirling to try to get the last gun in and remained there till the attempt was abandoned. During a previous campaign the Chitral expedition of 1895. Lieutenant Maxwell displayed gallantry in the removal of the body of Lieutenant-Colonel F. D. Battye, Corps of Guides, under fire, Battery. Corps of Guides, under fire, for which, though recommended, he received no reward."

HE CAUGHT A TARTAR

Chicago Saloonman Tackles Jim Jeffries and Gets Beaten

Chicago, March 21.—Jack "Bull" Flaherty, a local saloonkeeper, who is well known in pugilistic circles, last night made an attack on Champion Fighter Jim Jeffries and wound up with two broken ribs. The encounter took place in front of the Academy of Music. It seemed that Flaherty had been brooding over the fact that he had lost five hundred dollars on Tom Sharkey in the latter's fight with Jeffries. He had become pretty well reconciled, however, to the loss of the money up to the time the billboards announced the appearance of the champion at a West Side play-house.

Then it was that Flaherty decided upon what he thought the best way to square things with the man who had humiliated him and incidentally whipped Sharkey.

Just as Jeffries stepped out of the main entrance of the Academy, Flaherty stepped in front of him and flung his ponderous right at the jaw of the champion Surprised into leaving a good opening Jeffries caught the blow just back of the ear and it staggered him a bit. Flaherty came back with a hot left aimed at the same point. Then there was trouble for Flaherty. The champion blocked the second punch and gathered the large form of the saloonkeeper in his bear-like embrace.

When Jeffries' brawny arms closed around Flaherty the saloonkeeper yelled for help. It came in the form of a policeman who pried the men apart, but not before Jeffries had broken two of Flaherty's ribs.

NO POPERY OATH.

The One Taken by the King to be Considered in Parliament.

London, March 20.—In the House of Lords yesterday, Lord Salisbury referring to the question raised by the "No Popery oath" taken by the King said he must regret very much that language of such indecent violence had ever been placed in the King's anti-Roman Catholic oath; but if it was modified or repealed, a great many people, perfectly sincere, though not very wise, would say that such action meant supporting tran-substantiation. He proposed on behalf of the Government, that a committee be appointed to consider the declaration required of the Sovereign on his accession, and whether its language could be modified advantageously without diminishing its effiency as security for the Protestant succession.

The matter will be considered tomorrow.

Greed is the father of trusts, and they love their pap.

MANIAC KILLS HIMSELF

Attempted to Kill His Wife With a Bolt and Then Suicided

Dunnville, Ont., March 21.—About 4 o'clock Wednesday evening as Mrs. McBay was driving past Mr. Alex. Lynch's farm she noticed a bloody smock hanging from a tree near the barn. Thinking this strange and seeing no sign of life about the place Mrs. McBay thought she would investigate further and call and see her old neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Lynch, who lived alone. Going to the house a terrible sight met her eyes. Lying unconscious on the sofa was Mrs. Lynch, her head terribly lacerated and bruised and her hair mattered and clothes stained with blood.

In the barn another and still more horrible sight was in store for her. There she found Mr. Lynch quite dead with his throat cut and the knife still clutched in his hand.

Dr. Pringle was then called and he dressed Mrs. Lynch's wounds and restored her to consciousness. To him she told the following story: Her husband, who had been acting strangely of late, on Wednesday morning took the king bolt from a waggon and saying they would both die together, seized her and beat her with it until he thought she was dead. Then taking off his bloody smock and hanging it on a tree outside the barn he took his jack-knife, previously sharpened for the purpose, and stabbed himself in the neck, severing the jugular vein, and expiring in a few minutes. Upon gaining full consciousness Mrs. Lynch staggered from the barn to the house and fell upon the sofa, where she remained without fire or attention until found in the afternoon.

Dr. Pringle found her head literally covered with wounds, and thinks there is no chance of recovery. Mr. Lynch was comfortably well-off and is thought to have been insane when he committed the deed.

WEATHER NOTES.

CRISIS BROUGHT ON BY RUSSIA

Incident at Tien Tsin Only a Blind to the Powers

WARSHIPS SENT TO COREA

All Russia's Warships Have Left For That Place and the Japanese are Mobilizing

London, March 21.—Russia has now, according to correspondents in Tien Tsin, become openly aggressive. General Wogack has declined Count Von Waldersee's offer of arbitration, and has demanded the withdrawal of the British and an apology for the removal of the Russian flag. General Barrow will do neither, and the British Government is backing him up. The British are under arms to prevent the settlement being rushed, though such extremes are not anticipated, and reinforcements are being sent. Outposts from the lines of communication in addition to the Australians are being hurried to the scene. In some quarters it is believed that Russia is about to make further demands in connection with Ma San Pho.

CRISIS BROUGHT ON

Nobody knows what secret treaties Russia has in her pocket, and the railway siding question is so petty that the suspicion is excited in diplomatic circles that the crisis has been brought on artificially by Russia for the sake of diverting attention from Manchuria. This would mean that Russia would gradually allow England and Germany the satisfaction of a diplomatic success, but in the meantime Manchuria would become irrevocably Russian.

The serious view is somewhat supported by the sending of reinforcements. In addition to 90 British marines, 60 Australians and two companies of native infantry have been sent to Tien Tsin from Pekin, although their despatch seems mainly to be a precaution against the irritated French soldiery taking a hand in the dispute.

It is reported that all the Russian warships in Japanese waters have sailed for Corea, and that the Japanese squdaron is mobilizing for an immediate departure to the Corean coast.

AN OTONABEE WEDDING

Miss Jennie Hetherly and Mr. J. Alfred Wilson Married

A very pleasing event took place on Wednesday last, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. John Hetherly, Otonabee, when Miss Jennie Hetherly was married to Mr. J. Alfred Wilson, of Emmerson, Manitoba, in the presence of a number of invited guests, by the Rev. O. L. Thompson.

The bride was given away by her eldest brother, Mr. Wm. Hetherly. Miss Nellie Hall played the wedding march. The bride was assisted by Miss A. Eagleson, of Cobourg, and the groom was supported by Mr. Henry Hetherly. The bride was attired in white duchess silk, trimmed with chiffon, with a wreath of bridal blossoms, and carried a bouquet of cream roses, and the bridesmaid a bouquet of crimson roses.

After the ceremony about thirty of the guests sat down to supper, after which a pleasant evening was spent when the bridal party were conveyed by a cab to Peterborough, en route to Cobourg and other points.

The presents were numerous and elegant, the groom's gift to the bride being a handsome Persian lamb coat. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson leave for Emmerson, Man., in about two weeks, where he owns a fine property, partly in the corporation of Emmerson town.

NO TROUBLE BETWEEN BRITISH AND FRENCH

Dispute Between British and Russians Also Satisfactorily Arranged and Troops withdraw to-day

Pekin March 21.

The arrangements made by Gen Bailloud the French commander are regarded as completely satisfactory and all danger of a collision between the British and French is considered obviated.

Pekin, March 22.—2 a.m.

Count Von Waldersee, General Barrow and General Wogack have been in consultation and General Wogack has agreed to withdraw the Russian troops from the disputed ground at Tien Tsin, provided the British also withdraw. He insisted also upon a guarantee that work on the railway siding should not proceed until the matter has been diplomatically settled. This proposition and stipulation was satisfactory to Gen Barrow, and was accepted by him, consequently the British and Russian troops will be withdrawn at 5 o'clock this morning, Friday, thereby averting trouble at present.

BRITAIN AND RUSSIA WILL WITHDRAW

The Questions in Dispute Will Then be Discussed by Their Representatives

London March 21—An incident which at first threatened to cause a rupture between Britain and Russia, and add to the operations against China a war among the allies, has happily been terminated without bloodshed. In the House of Commons to-day the Freign Secretary, Lord Lansdowne, announced that Russia and Great Britain had agreed to withdraw their troops from the disputed territory at Tien Tsin and reserve the question of title and proprietary rights for subsequent examination. The modus vivendi which has thus been arrived at will remove the most serious aspect of the affair—the fact that bodies of hostile troops were facing each other and ready at any moment to commence hostilities, which might have plunged two great nations into war.

WHAT RUSSIANS SAY.

St Petersburg, March 21.—A semi-official statement has just been issued to the effect that a commonplace incident at Tien Tsin has been terribly exaggerated by the British press, until it has almost assumed the gravity of a casus belli. According to the statement the trouble was due to the British troops trying forcibly to possess disputed territory. The statement recites that the matter is manifestly a question for diplomatic treatment, and the Russian Government has no doubt that it will be amicably settled to the satisfaction of the Governments at London and St. Petersburg.

VON WALDERSEE'S MISSION.

Berlin, March 21.—The correspondent of the Associated Press has learned from good authority that Count Von Waldersee during his brief stay in Tien Tsin yesterday succeeded in his mission, which consisted merely in preventing bloodshed among the allied troops. Beyond this it is claimed in official circles Germany will remain perfectly neutral. According to Russian accounts which have reached Berlin the question is not controversial, and the Russian claims to the territory where the trouble occurred are undisputable. Besides the Russian flag it is said, Russian boundary marks were exhibited, which the British soldiers did not respect.

Nervousness and Nerve

The more nervous a man is, the less nerve he has. That sounds paradoxical—but it isn't for nerve is stamina.

Hood's Sarsaparilla gives nerve. It tones the whole system, perfects digestion and assimilation, and is therefore the best medicine a nervous person can take.

If you get tired easily, mentally or physically, take it—it will do you good.

DUKE AND DUCHESS REACH GIBRALTAR

They Encounter Stormy Sea While Crossing Bay of Biscay

Gibraltar, March 20.—The steamship Ophir, on which the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York sailed from Portsmouth March 16 on a tour of the world, was signed at 7 o'clock this morning and entered the harbor about 8 o'clock All the ships in port had previously been dressed, and the royal yacht approached through the fleet fully manned, and with guards of honor and bands paraded amidst salvos of guns, the firing of a royal salute and the strains of the national anthem. The Ophir entered inside the Mole and shortly afterwards the Governor-General, Sir Robert Biddulph and the admirals officially visited the ship. The Duke and Duchess, with their suites, will land at noon. Decorations at the landing stage and along the streets were universal, and large crowds have gathered. The Ophir reports seas invaded the saloon cabin.

IN MEMORY OF LITTLE MAUDIE.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Edmonds, 401 Wolfe street, Peterborough, who died March 19th, 1901, aged 8 years.

Maudie! Maudie! thou hast left us,
All thy toils and cares are o'er.
In heaven above, we hope to meet thee,
But, alas! on earth no more.

Thy vacant chair we plainly see,
But Maudie is not here.
Gone for ever, can it be,
That we this pain must bear?

In earthly youth she left this earth,
Her spirit soared away,
To regions of eternal bliss,
To realms of endless day.

Of such as Maudie, we may say,
Our loss is but her gain,
She is at rest, and ever free
From sorrow, sin and pain.

She's gone from earth, she sleeps in peace
Beneath the cold, damp sod,
In yonder graveyard lies her clay;
Her spirit is with God.

Our trials here on earth are great,
Our affliction it is sore,
But Jesus is our rock and stay,
Our guardian evermore.

Father! mother! do not weep,
Poor Maudie is at rest,
But let us live that we may meet
Our loved ones in that heavenly rest.

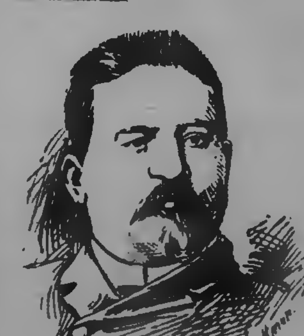
Another Possible War Venezuela and Uncle Sam

Washington Government Emphatically Protests Against Arrest of Consul Baiz



DR. PALACIO, PRESIDENT OF VENEZUELA

Washington, March 21—The State department made a vigorous protest to the Venezuelan government, through Minister Loomis, against further interference with Consular Agent Baiz at Barcelona, Venezuela. The consular agent, although not an American citizen, has been confined in prison by the Venezuelan government. In fact, this is the second time that government has deprived the officer of his liberty. Notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Baiz is not an American citizen, the government has determined to give him the protection which should be accorded a representative of the United States in a foreign country.

The American Minister at Caracas has been instructed to demand of the Venezuelan government that the consular offices of this government be not interfered with, and as a preliminary step to forcing the Venezuelan government to respect the offices of this government a vigorous protest has been made.

Defending the rights of Americans in Venezuela is far from being as easy a matter as people might think.

The state department cannot move in any direction in Venezuela without a clash of American interests. It is quite well understood now that the present revolutionary government and the constant friction with the United States consular and diplomatic officers may be traced directly to the malign influence of the two rival asphalt companies. These two New York corporations now have paid agents in Washington whose duty it is to enlist the influence of prominent men, and also to visit the State department daily to "demand protection" for their property in Venezuela. One asphalt company supports the present Venezuelan government both morally and financially.

The other and older asphalt concern, which has long enjoyed a monopoly of the asphalt lake, is against the present government and encourages the rebels. Whichever way the state department decides the other company will raise an outcry of improper influence. At intervals of a day or two a new brief is filed on one side or another, and attaches of the department are importuned for information as to the status of the case. Just now Secretary Hay is wisely letting Venezuela take care of itself. He has become sick of the idea that private corporations can expect the United States government to decide between them.

In the Venezuela case, aside from the protection of American citizens or consular officers, it has become evident to the department that the United States cannot interfere in the dispute without itself getting stuck in the asphalt.

The annual meeting of the Trent Valley Waterway Association was held in the Town Council Chamber on Monday afternoon.

Amongst those present were Hon. J. R. Stratton, president, in the chair; W. T. C. Boyd, Bobcaygeon, first vice-president; S. R. Armstrong, secretary; His Worship Mayor Denne, Aldermen Roger, Rush, Batten and Edgecumb, R. B. Rogers, H. T. Strickland, T. E. Bradburn, Peterborough; Reeve Gerald Fitzgerald, J. M. Kilbourn, R. C. Strickland, Councillor W. H. Casement and T. H. Benson, Lakefield; Mayor W. R. Philips, Alderman J. H. Dickey and J. Funnel, Trenton; J. P. Secord chairman Canal Committee Board of Trade, Orillia; Dr. Wood, Kirkfield; Warden Graham, Victoria; Warden Fitzgerald, Peterborough; Warden County of Simcoe, Warden County Northumberland and Durham, Warden County of Hastings; T. A. Harvey, R. S. Jupp, T. Shepherd, Mayor James Tudhope, Orillia; Mayor Chew, Midland; J. H. Lavalle, Orillia.

The chairman in opening the proceedings expressed his pleasure at seeing so many present. He then gave a brief review of the progress of the canal construction since the last meeting of the association, and urged upon the meeting united and vigorous action in the further prosecution of the work. It was necessary, however, to have funds and he hoped that they would duly consider this. In closing Mr. Stratton thanked the association for having done him the honor of electing him to the position of president of the association, but he desired that they should make a change for the ensuing year.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The election of officers was then proceeded with and notwithstanding Mr. Stratton's desire that the honor of the position should be passed around, he was re-elected to that office.

The election of officers resulted as follows:—

President—Hon. J. R. Stratton.

1st Vice-President—W. T. C. Boyd, Bobcaygeon.

2nd Vice-President — Mayor Phillips, Trenton.

Secretary-Treasurer—S. R. Armstrong, Peterborough.

Executive Committee—Comprised of the Wardens of the Counties, the Mayors of the Towns, the Reeves of the Villages along the route of the Canal, with the addition of Mr. Kilbourn, Manager of the Lakefield Cement Co.; Mr. Stuart, Manager in Canada for the American Cereal Co.; Mr. W. J. Sheppard, of the Georgian Bay Lumber Co; Mr. David Gilmore, President of the Gilmore Lumber Co.; John Carnegie, Dr. Wood, Kirkfield, A. L. Davis, President of Trent Valley Peat Fuel Co.; Mr. Tate, President Huntsville Lumber Co.; Mr. Tudhope, President Tudhope Carriage Co., Orillia; E. W. Rathbun, Rathbun Co., Deseronto; A. McPherson, Longford Mills.

MR. CASEMENT'S RESOLUTION.

It was moved by Mr. W. H. Casement, seconded by Mr. Kilbourn, that the Trent Valley Waterway Association desires to recognize the practical interest that Hon. A. C. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals, has shown in the prosecution of construction work of the Trent Valley Waterway, an interest no doubt largely developed as the trip over the route, which gave an excellent idea of the feasibility as well as the advantage of the work and interest showed by his colleague Hon. J. I. Tarte, whose energy and broad views upon the transportation problem has given an impetus to the improvement of transportation facilities, which has directly and indirectly promoted the public interest in the Trent Valley Canal, and expresses the hope that there will be no relaxation of this active interest this side of the completion of the route from Georgian Bay to tide water.

EARLY COMPLETION.

The next resolution was moved by Mr. Boyd, seconded by Mr. R. C. Strickland:

"That whereas the completion of the Trent Valley Waterway, now under contract and construction, will open up a navigable course from Lake Simcoe to Healey's Falls, or Harwood, a distance of about 160 or 130 miles respectively, leaving a comparatively short distance to be constructed to open up the waterway to Lake Ontario waters, and thence by the St. Lawrence to tidewater; and whereas the bringing of this section to a navigable condition will be of very great benefit to the large area of country served by the waterway, by promoting the more favorable export of its varied products, and facilitating the import of a large quantity of raw material required by the many important manufacturing industries on the route, existing and contemplated; and whereas the surveys and plan for the remaining uncompleted section on the southern division are well under way, or completed, and warrant their immediate completion, or the calling for tenders, and it is unanimously resolved by the Trent Valley Waterway Association that the Government of the Dominion and the Department of Railways and Canals be respectfully urged to take immediate steps for placing under contract the remaining southern section, so that by their completion the country may be put into a position to realize much more largely the benefit from the great expenditure already made, as represented by the very largely increased navigation facilities, the completion of these sections will produce, and the important step thus taken towards the completion throughout of a waterway that means so valuable an addition to our national transportation facilities."

ANOTHER RESOLUTION.

Mr. Kilbourn, of Lakefield, moved, seconded by Reeve Fitzgerald, of the same village, the following resolutions,—

That in view of the great interest manifested in Parliament and out in providing increased facilities for water transportation of the products of the Great West to the seaboard, and of the manufactured goods of older Canada into the West, the time is opportune to lay before the public some of the silent facts relating to the Trenton and Georgian Bay Waterway.

That this waterway of 200 miles in length can be completed for $3,500,000.

That when completed it will give continuous barge navigation of 500 tons burden and of twice the capacity of the Erie Canal—from Montreal to Sault Ste. Marie.

That it will shorten the distance between all the great western lake ports and Liverpool by 727 miles.

That it is capable of being operated during a season of seven months in the year, and of transporting two hundred million bushels of grain per annum.

That by means of the numerous lakes and rivers which it utilizes and intersects it will give a shore line of 1,000 miles and lay under tribute six million acres of agricultural, forest and mineral lands capable of yielding from 50 to 100 tons of freight per acre.

That it will utilize the finest continuous system of water powers on the globe.

That it will build up cities all along its route to manufacture the hardwood timber into furniture and the iron and steel of Midland, Deseronto and Sault Ste. Marie into conveying things of which these things are transferable, and also develops more lands for the manufacture of Portland cement, the lime quarries for lime and building stone, the mica mines, the lithographic stone quarries, the granite quarries, the peat fuel beds, etc., to say nothing of the agricultural products of the rich counties traversed by its southern ends, each bushel of which will have an added value owing to cheaper transportation of 5c per bushel.

That it will act as a feeder to the railways which now very imperfectly serve the district, and render valuable an immense amount of material now only encumbering the ground, and valueless save for the pittance in labor which its unfortunate possessors got for it when cut into cordwood or burned for potash.

That 160 miles of this waterway is now completed, but bottled up at both ends, yet it is giving employment for internal commerce and tourist travel to 45 steamboats, besides numerous smaller craft.

In moving the resolution Mr. Kilbourn spoke enthusiastically of the possibilities of the Trent Valley Canal. He thought that it was not surprising that the work in the past had not been more rapid, in view of the opposition it has received from the Railroad Companies, and larger cities, but he hoped to see the work go rapidly forward from the present time.

OUR RESERVOIRS.

The following resolution was moved by Mayor Denne, seconded by Mr. Boyd:—

That this Association take steps to bring to the notice of the Government the great necessity that exists for a better organized system of utilizing the great reserviors from which the canal is fed. These reservoirs being at present under an imperfect dual control, the waters are imperfectly husbanded. Whereas, if placed under one control, the flow of the streams would be more than doubled and the water kept at a constant height throughout the year.

That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Honourable, the Minister of Railways and Canals, and to the Honourable, the Minister of Public Works, for Ontario.

Mr. Boyd considered that if the waters were properly managed there should be no fear as to the supply from the north during the summer months.

Hon. Mr. Stratton explained that what prompted the resolution was the outcome of a slight conflict between the Ontario and Dominion Governments, as to the responsibility in the matter, and it was necessary that some one body should have absolute control of the dams, etc.

Mr. Pousette told the meeting that of the waters were regulated in the spring time the power at the Dickson Co's raceway here would be doubled. The resolution could not be worded too strongly.

Mr. Secord enquired if it were in the interests of the Association that such a resolution should pass. It was something apart from the objects of the Association. He suggested that the Boards of Trade of the various towns take up the matter.

The resolution carried.

Mr. R. C. Strickland considered that it was most important that the large cities should be interested in the canal. He therefore moved, seconded by Warden Graham of Victoria, that the President, Vice-President, 2nd Vice-President, E. W. Rathbun, Deseronto, J. M. Kilbourn, Lakefield, and John Carnegie, Peterborough, be a committee to meet the Board of Trade of Montreal, and impress upon them the great advantages that would accrue to Montreal if the waterway were completed.

The matter of finances for the association to conduct its business with, came up next. It was agreed that the Secretary of the Association make application to the Counties of Victoria, Peterborough, Northumberland, Hastings, Simcoe; and the Towns of Peterborough, Trenton and Orrilia, for grants of $100 each towards the funds of the Association.

SOUTHERN TERMINUS

Mayor Phillips of Trenton, brought up the matter of the southern terminus of the canal. He desired an expression of opinion from the meeting as to the two proposed routes, i. e., Trenton and Port Hope. After referring briefly to the advantages to be gained by having the southern terminus in his town, he asked the support of the Association to that end, and urged the necessity of sending a deputation to Ottawa.

Mr. Kilbourn thought that in view of the fact that the Government had not placed any appropriation in the estimates this year for the owrk on the southern section, it looked as if they were holding back and considering the Port Hope route. He thought that it was highly desirable that something should be placed in the estimates this year, and urged the necessity of a deputation going down to press their views upon the Government.

Warden Graham, of Victoria, also spoke favorably of placing in the estimates a sum of money towards the early completion of the southern section of the Trent Valley Canal.

Upon motion of Mr. P. C. Strickland seconded by Mr. Dickie, a resolution was passed appointing the Executive Committee, a delegation to go to Ottawa to urge upon the Government the advisability of complying with their wishes.

Mr. Kilbourn moved seconded by Mr. Casement, a vote of thanks to the President, Vice-Presidents, and the Secretary-treas. for their services to the Association in the past.

The meeting then adjourned.

House Work

Seems easy to a man, but there is a great deal of lifting and reaching to do; a great many trips up and down stairs to make in the course of day's house work. It's hard where a woman is well. For a woman suffering with some form of "female trouble" it is daily torment. There are thousands of such women struggling along, day by day, in increasing misery. There are other thousands who have found a complete cure of their disease in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It stops debilitating drains, cures irregularity, heals inflammation and ulceration, nourishes the nerves, and gives vitality and vigor. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. It contains no opium, cocaine nor other narcotic.

"For a number of months I suffered with female trouble," writes Miss Agnes McGowne, of 1212 Bank St., Washington, D. C. "I tried various remedies, but none seemed to do me any permanent good. The doctors said it was the worst case of internal trouble they ever had. I decided to write to you for help. I received a very encouraging reply, and commenced treatment at once. I had not used your 'Favorite Prescription' a week before I began to feel better, and, as I continued, my health gradually improved. It is improving every day."

The Chicago Tribune

is a newspaper for bright and intelligent people. It is made up to attract people who think.

Is not neutral or colorless, constantly trimming in an endeavor to please both sides, but it is independent in the best sense of the word.

It has pronounced opinions and is fearless in expressing them, but it is always fair to its opponents.

Matters of national or vital public interest get more space in THE TRIBUNE than in any other paper in the West.

For these reasons it is the newspaper you should read during the forthcoming political campaign.

THE TRIBUNE'S financial columns never mislead the public.

Its facilities for gathering news, both local and foreign, are far superior to those of any other newspaper in the West.

It presents the news in as fair a way as possible, and lets its readers form their opinions.

While it publishes the most comprehensive articles on all news features, if you are busy the "Summary of THE DAILY TRIBUNE" published daily on the first page gives you briefly all the news of the day within one column.

Its sporting news is always the best, and its Sunday Pink Sporting Section is better than any sporting paper in the country.

It is the "cleanest" daily printed in the West.

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. One agent sold 68 in one day. THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Salida copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the Rockies. All our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims: The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Salida, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Salida. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of Salida at Cleora station, on the main Trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

Mines one mile west of Rossland, directly west of the Le Roi No. 1 and Le Roi No. 2. Four properties. All Crown granted.

THE LeRoi No. 1 once sold for 2 cents and went to $45 per share; and the Le Roi No. 2 £5 shares went to £23, or $110 per share in a few months.

Our memorandum of association contains a provision, provided by Section 56 of the Companies Act, 1897, that the shares are issued as Fully Paid Up and Non Assessable, and that no further liability beyond the amount actually paid upon shares shall attach to the holders thereof. Capital $250,000.

Our properties are now proved (both above and below ground) to have the same continuous ore veins as the LeRoi Companies, and have the same identical ore and our shares are well worth TWENTY FIVE CENTS now, and will surely bring fifty cents. And we can, with a very small capital, develop our property to such a extent that it can also be placed on the London market, where it belongs—and small investors will make a good profit by buying now.

Our assays have averaged from $5 to $800 in gold, copper and silver and the shipping facilities are the best. The Great Northern Railway runs three times through the ground, three smelters close at hand, and reduced charges of $4.50 per ton for shipping and smelting, and we are now getting ready to start shipping ore.

Irrespective of the merits of the BIG FOUR, we have now over 570,000 shares in our treasury and free from all incumbrance. We are amongst the few local companies that has complied with the law in every particular, and we venture to say have

Rats and mice will go into a trap much more readily if a piece of looking-glass is put in any part of the trap where they can see themselves. They are social little creatures, and where they can see any of their tribe, there they will go.

Heaves in horses is caused generally by dusty hay. As a precaution the hay may be well shaken and moistened before it is placed in the rack, and the rack should be on the floor rather than above the head of the horse.

Somebody had to plant trees for the present generation, and it must be done for the next. If the prospect of a crop is remote, there is at least something gained at present in the increased value of the farm that contains a young and growing orchard.

It is bad policy to wash harness with soap, as the potash injures the leather. If the harness becomes rusty rub off the dirt as well as possible with a soft brush, and apply a dressing of grain black, followed with oil or tallow which will fasten the color and make the leather soft and pliable.

It is stated by those who have had the advantage of experience, that if apples which have been frozen are thawed in the dark they are uninjured; but if in the light, they very soon become unfit for use. We should suppose the same result would most likely appear if the experiment were tried with potatoes.

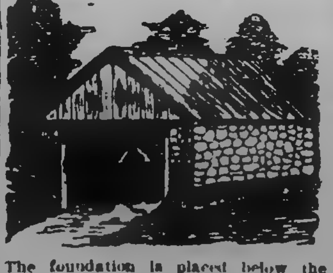
To get rid of mold in cellars, put some roll brimstone into a pan and set fire to it; close the doors, making the cellar as nearly air-tight as possible, when the fungi will be destroyed and the mold dried up. Repeat this simple and inexpensive operation every two or three months for two or three hours at a time.

For keeping fruit to the best advantage in winter, the following requirements should be observed: (1.) Keep the temperature within a few degrees of the freezing point. (2.) Let it be as uniform as possible, as an occasional warm draught is not required to maintain ventilation and uniform cold. (4.) Keep all odors away from the fruit.

The first beginning in teaching the boy to prefer farming is to get him interested. Give him a few bantam fowls, and allow him to manage the flock and have the proceeds. He will be pleased with them as pets, and as he becomes larger he will gradually take an interest in other stock, especially if he is permitted to grow the food for his pets on a small plot of ground.

A Farm Tool House.

One of the most useful and money-saving buildings that a farmer can place on his premises is a spacious and convenient tool house. It is generally the case that there is room enough in the various outbuildings to house the farm implements if it is economized; but it is a corner here and a few feet of barn or shed floor there; sometimes in a cellar and sometimes in a loft, possibly easy of access, but probably difficult, and in all such instances it is space originally intended and needed for some other purpose. The main reason why so many farmers neglect protecting their implements from the weather when not in use, is the lack of convenient and roomy storage. We lay great stress on its being spacious and handy; for if it is thus, James will always drive the lumber wagon inside to take the hay rack off, and he will draw in the stone boat with the plow and harrow and cultivator on it, and they will escape the next rain or dew and the consequent coat of rust. A farmer needs a tool house as much as a horse-barn or a woodshed. Our illustration is suggestive. It is adapted to a locality abounding with stone. The walls of the building are made of that material, laid without mortar.



The foundation is placed below the frost, and the earth is banked on the outside to further protect them and to throw off water. The top of the wall is leveled with mortar, and a two-inch plank laid on, to which the rafters are spiked. The latter are braced on the inside by nailing on cross strips. The roof may be made of the cheapest material, which varies with localities. There is one window in the end opposite the door. The doorway should be twelve feet wide, to admit a reaper, and if the location is not too much exposed there is little need of doors. The ground is the floor. The walls are but six feet high, and the structure should be twenty wide by thirty or forty long. Such a building will cost but little where stones are in the way. The farmer can build it, and will save many dollars in twenty years and many steps each year otherwise taken after mislaid implements.

TO CARE FOR WATCH

A watch should be wound up every day at the same hour.

Avoid putting it on a marble slab or near anything excessively cold.

A sudden change of temperature, contracting the metal, may sometimes cause the mainspring to break.

The cold also coagulates the oil and the pivots and wheels work less freely and affect the regularity of the time-keeping.

To keep your watch clean, take care that the case fits closely and see that the watch pocket is kept free from fluff, which is so often given off by linings.

Avoid sudden jars and falls, for even if it does not seem to affect it at the moment, a watch will resent rough handling, by becoming gradually "out of order" without apparent cause.

TO MAKE SHEEP PAY.

It Is a Poor Year That the Wool Cannot Pay for the Keeping.

Sheep have an advantage over most farm animals by virtue of the marketable qualities of the carcass and wool. When wool is in fair demand at reasonable prices it should pay for the keep of the sheep with interest on the investment and sometimes a profit additional. If the wool will do this why should a farmer ask for more? Sometimes the cry is heard that wool does not pay. What is meant by this generally is that a certain good profit from the wool alone cannot be made each year over and above expenses. Even if wool does not pay in this way the sheep can be made to pay. If the wool will bring in enough to pay for the keep of the sheep and the interest, look at the profits that should be made in many other ways. The lambs should then represent clear profit, and after the ewe has seen its best days of usefulness there is always a market for it. Here is another profit that is not commonly counted in, for the cost of the ewe is figured up at so much a year, and the price received for it hardly seems to pay for the keeping.

One must, in order to be fair with the sheep, figure out the different profits from the wool, the lambs and mutton. It is a poor year, indeed, when the wool cannot be made to pay for the keep of the sheep, and with prices as they are now it can be made to bring in a good deal more. One man of course makes more in this way than another because he is able to study the economy of feeding better, and sometimes the conditions for raising food cheaply are in his favor. But no one who attempts to raise sheep for a living can afford to neglect intimate and constant study of this side of the question. The feeding that will keep the sheep in good condition and cost the least possible sum, is what we are aiming at. The lambs should be made a regular part of the crop, almost as regular as wool, and the lambs must be raised at the right seasons to bring the greatest profit. A good ewe that will drop a lamb regularly and rear it without trouble is a desirable animal.

The Useful Toad.

That the toad is beneficial to the farmer, and particularly to the gardener, is admitted by every one who has observed its habits. Additional facts have been secured by recent observations at the Massachusetts experiment station, which show the toad's food is composed of insects and spiders, about eighty per cent. of which are directly injurious to cultivated crops, or in other ways obnoxious to man. The toad feeds on worms, snails, sow bugs, common greenhouse pests and many-legged worms which damage greenhouse and garden plots. It feeds to some extent on grasshoppers and crickets, and destroys large numbers of ants. It consumes all kinds of beetles. It is a prime destroyer of cut worms and army worms.

To the agriculturist the toad renders conspicuous service, but the gardeners and green house owners may make this animal of especial value. Every gardener should aim to keep a colony of toads among his growing crops, and the practice of collecting and transferring them to the gardens is a commendable one.—American Agriculturist.

Wash the Trees.

I have read of many different methods of protecting trees from being damaged by rabbits in winter and borers in summer. I have practiced a method for a number of years that will keep rabbits from gnawing trees and will kill the borers. I use a wooden bucket that will hold two and a half gallons. In this I put a lump of lime about the size of a man's double fist, and pour in enough hot water to slake it. While it is slaking I put in one-half pint of gas tar and a pound of concentrated lye, stirring the mixture so as to get the gas tar well mixed with the balance. I then add more hot water until the bucket is nearly full; then put in earth and keep stirring until it is as thick as you would prepare whitewash. The bucket by this time should be full. Rub the trees with this, using a whitewash brush. When the spring rains come in the spring the trees will wash off and look green and glossy, and will make a fine growth.—J. R. Cotton, in The Epitomist.

The Horseless Nightmare.

"Oh," she said, "I had such a terrible dream last night. It seemed that I had suddenly been deprived somehow of the power to move. All my limbs were paralyzed, and I lay right in the path of an automobile that I could see coming toward me at a terrible rate of speed, with the lamps at the sides blazing like the two eyes of some terrible monster. Nearer and nearer it came, and I, in fearful agony, tried hard to drag myself out of its way, but was unable to move. I tried to cry out so that the man who was running the automobile might either stop or turn aside and avoid running over me, but I could not make a sound. On, on it came, as if imbued with life and in a fury of frenzy. I had just given myself up for lost when"——

"Yes," he interrupted, "then you woke up. But that isn't the important part of it. By your experience we know that the horseless nightmare has arrived."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Miss Springer—Can you say, "She sells sea shells" without getting your tongue twisted?

Singer—No, nor you either.

Miss Springer—Well, can you say, "What am I doing" over and over without getting tied up?

Singer—M—m—don't know. I'll try. "What am I doing, what am I doing, what am I doing, what am I doing—"

Miss Springer—Making a fool of yourself.—Judge.

Addressed the Jury.

A man who had never seen the inside of a court room until he was introduced as a witness in a case pending in one of the Scottish courts, on being sworn, took a position with his back to the jury and began telling the story to the judge.

The judge, in a bland and courteous manner said:

"Address yourself to the jury, sir."

The man made a short pause, but, notwithstanding what had been said to him, continued his narrative.

The judge was then more explicit, and said to him, "Speak to the jury, sir; the men sitting behind you on the benches."

The witness at once turned around, and, making an awkward bow, said, with perfect gravity:

"Good morning, gentlemen."—Buffalo

He Needed the Money.

A local real estate dealer tells this story:

Some time ago he had an allotment on the market and one day a foreign-looking individual walked into his office and said he wanted to inquire about the lots. He looked over the plat and finally picked out one that suited him.

"Vot's der price?" he asked when the location was decided upon.

"Eight hundred dollars."

"I give you six houndred cash."

"Very well," said the dealer, "you can have it."

Then the customer lowered his voice.

"I vant der price of dot lot seex houndred to me, but eight houndred to affrybody else. You understand?"

"Yes," said the dealer. "That will be all right."

"Vell, you see, it's like dees—I'm goin' to get married. I've got der girl picked out, und she has money. You see you vill sell der lot to her for $800. Den you vill motion to me, und ve vill go into der next room und you will pay me dot $200. See?"

"You want the $200 for a commission?" said the dealer. "That will be all right, too."

The customer looked relieved.

"It's choost this way," he said. "I must have dot two hundred or I can't get married."

"You shall have it," said the dealer.

A few days later the future bride, her mother and the coming bridegroom entered the office. The papers were quickly prepared and signed, and the mother from the intricacies of her skirts produced a wad of bills, which proved to be the necessary $800.

Then the bridegroom lingered behind as the bride and her mother passed into the hall. The dealer hastily counted off the $200 and thrust it into the bridegroom's hand.

"I have to have it," whispered the latter.

"All right," said the dealer.

"I couldn't get married without it."

"I understand," said the dealer.

The man with the two hundred paused, with his hand on the door-knob.

"I have to have it," he hoarsely murmured, "it is for my first wife's funeral expenses!"

A FAMILY PHYSICIAN SAYS

That the enemy of womankind that goes under the name of headache is of many varieties, and requires many kinds of treatment.

That the first step toward curing a headache is to find out which kind of a one it is and then to devote one's energies to driving it away.

That to attempt to banish all variations of headache by a single "cure" shows a childlike faith in medicine but very little in common sense.

That the best way to treat headaches is to avoid them. To refuse to overtax the yes, the nerves or the stomash, and to give attention to exercise and bathing.

That the headache which results from suit of exposure to colds, or draught, or sudden changes, is best treated by hot applications, hot water bags and gentle friction of the place of pain. If this does not banish the headache in a day then a deeper illness is indicated.

That the hadache which results from indigestion is of frequent occurrence and it implies over-eating or unwise eating, and that when a woman finds herself afflicted with such a headache she should proceed to cure it by fasting and a mild cathartic, and sitting with her feet in hot water for a few moments before going to bed.

That the nervous headache is the kind to which American women are most subjected, as it results from the effort to make the nerves do more than they ought to do; the first step in treating this headache is to drop work and wory and draw the blood from the head by soaking the feet in hot water and putting cold applications to the forehead and the back of the neck.

That a great many mysterious headaches have their origin in over-strained eyes. This kind is cured only by giving the eyes a vacation or by the oculist. Of course, care in the use of the eyes is also a help. Reading, writing or sewing in a dim or flickering light must be given up. The common practice of trying to read in jolting trains must also be discarded. The eyes must never be used too long at a time, and when there is much eye work to be done brief rests and bathings in hot water will ward off the dreaded headache.

The Aristos
GOLD MINING CO.

Owning Big Horn Mountain Tunnel and Veneta Vein, 200 acres situated on the Western Slope of Pike's Peak, in the famous Cripple Creek Gold Mining District.

THE SAFEST OFFER EVER MADE TO INVESTORS.

100,000 Shares Preferred Stock at 25c. Per Share.

It is printed on each certificate that subscribers to the above Preferred Shares will be entitled to receive in Dividends the full amount of money invested, before other stockholders receive any returns, signed by the President of the Company.

This district produced more Gold in 1900 than any other in the United States

This property consists of 3000 by 3000 feet, or 200 acres, of gold land. The mine has been worked. The feature of this mine is the Veneta Vein, 30 to 40 feet in width, and is certainly one of the strongest veins in this famous district. There are some fifteen openings on this vein, the ore from which assays in gold from $12 to $100 per ton. The property is advantageously located for development by tunnel, which will make it possible to produce an enormous amount of ore daily, the quantity varying from 200 to 500 tons per day. The development by TUNNELING is the most economical and advantageous manner of working this property.

At a distance of 800 feet the Tunnel will intersect the Veneta Vein at a depth of about 680 feet, and will also intersect several other veins. The tunnel will cut the Big Horn Mountain 2100 feet deep, and will give this company 2,000,000 tons of ore, worth over $20 per ton.

The new railroad, now practically completed from Colorado Springs, called the Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek road, passes within 2000 feet of this Tunnel

Adjoining this property is the Colorado Springs TUNNEL Company. In this property at a depth of 400 feet, the Veneta Vein was cut. At this point the vein was fully 20 feet in width, and its value from $20 to $1000 per ton.

There are already in operation mills and smelters sufficient to treat the output of his property, which gives at once cash returns.

Capital Stock $1 000,000. Par Value $1.00 Per Share. 100,000 Shares Preferred Stock at 25c. Per Share.

In buying this stock the purchaser owns a direct title in the Company's property. This Company offers you no watered stock, but a legitimate high-grade gold-mining investment in the Cripple Creek District.

The above offer of Preferred Dividends is an assurance of early returns. After additional machinery is erected, this property will be earning dividends almost equal to its Capital Stock.

MORE CANDY

Arrived at Bates Yesterday, including another case of Butter Caps in ten different flavors. Also the newest thing out called "Butterette." Ask to see them. BATES' RESTAURANT, opp. Oriental.

Prof. Sheets Dancing Classes

Prof. Sheets' dancing classes have been largely patronized and marvellous progress have been made by the pupils. New classes are about to be formed, and these will be rapidly filled. Indeed, it is doubtful if the Professor will be able to accept all that desire to join his classes. Not only dancing is taught, but physical development is a leading feature of the exercises.

The Schools Inspected.

Mr. Robert Fair, chairman of the Property Committee of the Board of Education, informed the Times yesterday that the committee had made a thorough inspection of the schools of the town, and had ordered such changes as would place them in a first class sanitary condition. In the South Central the closet vaults are to be thoroughly cleaned once a week.

Eyes Tested Free.

Prof. J. H. De Silberg, the celebrated eye specialist from Germany, will be in Hastings, Wednesday, April 4th to Thursday April 5th, and may be consulted at the Coughlen House; in Keene from Monday, April 15th to Wednesday, April 17th, and may be consulted at Dr. Harrison's office, and in Lakefield from Thursday, April 18th, to Monday, April 22nd, and may be consulted at Dr. Burgess' Drug Store. Another Fine Bird

Mr. John Jayes of the Morgan House, has a splendid collection of poultry, many of which are very valuable. A fine buff cockerel was added to his hennery last fall, which was imported from Syracuse, and he has just received another splendid bird from Mr. J. H. Parsons, of Osaca, to head another breeding pen. This bird has been a winner whenever shown, having been the 1st prize Cockerel at Peterborough in 1899, and first prize cock at Ottawa in 1900. Mr. Parsons did not exhibit anywhere this year.

An Isolation Hospital.

The fact that smallpox exists in Lindsay, a second case having developed there this week, should be sufficient to warrant the Council in securing an isolation hospital without delay. The matter is too serious to admit of delay. Our efficient Medical Health Officer has recommended it, and the Council are assuming a grave responsibility in waiting until an outbreak occurs before taking action. Since writing the above the Times has been informed that Mayor Denne has the matter in hand, and will no doubt secure an option on a building somewhere in the suburbs of the town, which can be had if needed.

An Interesting Event

A very interesting event took place at "The Willows" the residence of Rev. Alex. McNaughton, near Port Hope, on Wednesday last, when his neice, Miss Margaret McNaughton Camelon and Mr. David Frederick Weir, of Emily, were united in marriage.

The spacious room in which the ceremony was performed was very handsomely decorated, the wedding party entering through an avenue reserved by means of silk ribbons held by two pretty maids-of-honor, Miss Lilian Orr, of Peterborough, and Miss Louisa Dixon, of Port Hope. Rev. Mr. Sinclair of the First Presbyterian church, Port Hope, assisted by Rev. Mr. McNaughton, performed the ceremony.

The bride was given away by her brother, Dr. T. B. Camelon, of Detroit, and was assisted by her sister, Miss Jean Camelon, as bridesmaid. Mr. Thomas Stevenson of Omemee, was best man. There were present about fifty friends and relatives of the contracting parties, among them being a number from Peterborough, where the estimable young couple are well known.

The bride's gown was a very becoming and handsome creation of white silk organdie; she carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Her sister wore a pretty attire of white organdie over pink, and carried pink roses.

An excellent wedding breakfast was served after the ceremony.

That the bride is very popular was evidenced by the many magnificent presents of which she was the recipient.

Mr. and Mrs. Weir left Wednesday night for their home in Emily.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

—Marks Bros. are playing in Orillia.

—The Town Council will meet this evening.

—The shanties are now breaking up, and the men are returning.

—Prof. Sheets' will put on a Kermiss in the opera house, Lindsay.

—That rattling sound you hear is the golf demon getting his sticks ready.

—Messrs. McDermott & Bogue are making a splendid job of the Chemong Lake bridge.

—Pauline, the hypnotist, delighted a large audience last night in the Opera House.

—With a rate of 18 mills on the dollar, Peterborough is substantially in it with other high class towns.

—Lieut.-Col. Steele, of the Strathcona Horse, is expected in Peterborough before he returns to South Africa.

Humors of all kinds are prolific of worse troubles. That they may be entirely expelled by a thorough course of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

—The annual meeting of the Peterborough Ladies' Golf club will be held in the Y.M.C.A. parlor on Monday evening, March 25th, at eight o'clock.

—Andrew Fee, the unfortunate Lindsay man, who became afflicted with blood poisoning in a camp in Harvey township through a scratch poisoned from his mitt, died on Wednesday.

—The Railway Committee of the Ontario Legislature has approved of the bill incorporating the Norwood & Apsley Railway Company, after amending it by striking out a clause authorizing the company to build and operate a line of vessels on Stony Lake, manage hotels, and construct telegraph and telephone lines.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Miss Routley left yesterday for Pittsburg to visit friends.

—Mrs. Robert Neill has returned from a business trip to Chicago.

—Mr. R. H. Leary was in Port Hope Wednesday attending the Weir-McNaughton nuptials.

—Mr. Bert Belleghem, of the Ontario Bank, Cornwall, returned home after spending a couple of days with his parents here.

—The little son of Mr. Wm. Smith of the Central School, who was stricken with diphtheria, on Monday, is doing nicely in the hospital, as is also Mr. Frank Burdette's little daughter, who is in the same ward.

TAXES ARE UP.

The Rate to be Increased by One Mill on the Dollar.

The Finance Committee of the Council has decided to raise the rate of taxation by one mill on the dollar. This will mean an increase of $4,300 in the amount of taxes raised.

The rapid increase in the debenture debt of the town on account of sewers, iron bridges and granolithic walks, is largely responsible for the increased rate. It was thought by some that the construction of so much granolithic pavement would effect a saving in lumber and repairs, as to make it possible to keep the rate down, but this appears to be erroneous.

It is expected that the Duke of Cornwall will visit Peterborough in September, which will cost the town a thousand dollars at least.

If the Council is really anxious to keep the rate down, it will administer the street and bridge department after a different fashion. Let a first class, practical road-maker be employed, who has had experience in handling men—a man who knows how to keep a lot of old "pensioners" off the town force, and who will run the corporation work on business lines. With such a man in charge of our streets we believe that a saving of several thousand dollars a year could be effected.

Will Not Go

Mr. Williamson, Secretary of the Y.M.C.A. received a message yesterday from the Provincial Committee of the Y.M.C.A., which decided the matter in reference to his proposed trip to Africa with the Mounted Police, which will leave in a few days.

The message read as follows:—

"The Governor-General and the Minister of Militia has been interviewed and will not give their consent for a man to go. The Provincial Committee appreciate your readiness to enter the door of opportunity."

W. H. SYMONDS,
Provincial Secretary.

TO BE LARGEST IN CANADA

Canadian General Electric Co Will Greatly Extend Their Works

The Canadian General Electric Company, Limited, have obtained a tract of ground, consisting of 30 acres between Davenport and Royce avenue, and west of the G. T. Railway tracks, Toronto, for the extension of the Canada Foundry Company's works, which are owned and controlled by them. They will erect large buildings and equip the foundries on a scale larger than anything else in Canada, and for the past month they have had several of their experts and an architect seeking information as to the latest and best methods of shop construction, machines, tools, appliances and manufacturers' methods and equipment in several of the large American cities. As soon as those experts report it is intended to complete plans and get to work at the earliest possible moment.

The new works will consist of a large general foundry, pipe foundry for pipes valves, etc., which they are now making at the old St. Lawrence Foundry, machine shops, structural iron shops, blacksmith shops, power shops, storehouse and other buildings necessary for the proper equipment of works of such proportions. Railway tracks will run through each shop, switches will be run into the yards from the C.P.R. and G.T.R., and electric cranes will be installed for the handling of materials up to 60 tons weight. All the machines will be operated by electricity, supplied from the Canadian General Electric Works.

THREE CASES OF DIPTHERIA.

Developed in the North End During Last Few Days.

Yesterday another case of diptheria was reported, making three cases in all, which have developed in the north end. All the victims are pupils of the North Central School, where the same system of heating and closets exist as are in the South Central School.

It is doubtful if this has anything to do with the outbreak, however. The Property Committee of the Board of Education inspected all the schools, and found no serious trouble in the northern building. The fact remains, however, that the Smead-Dowd system, which is supposed to keep the closets, (which are situated in the basement of the buildings) clean, pure and sweet, is used in both schools.

We understand the Medical Health Officer will endeavor to ascertain the cause of the latest outbreak.

SMALLPOX SPREADING

Another Case of the Dread Disease Developed in Lindsay

The Lindsay Post says:—

"We regret to have to state that a second case of smallpox has developed in this town, and as in the first instance, the outbreak is clearly traceable to the careless methods of the provincial authorities whose duty it is to guard the infected district of Sudbury. When the examination of people leaving the district is of so perfunctory a character that men furnished with doctors certificates are liable to carry and distribute infection, then the people of this and other districts have just cause for dissatisfaction.

The fresh case of infection is in the home of Mr. Beaufrey, Division St. south ward, the patient being his son, an invalid of 11 years. Dr. Clarke, the family physician, called in Doctor McAlpine, medical health officer, when he became suspicious of the case Monday, and the latter called Drs. Allan and Burrows in consultation, who concurred with him in pronouncing that the patient was suffering with a mild attack of smallpox. The family were at once quarantined, and the house placed in charge of Sanitary Inspector Douglas. Fortunately the mother and another member of the family of five immune, having had the disease years ago, and are therefore in a position to care for the child as well as any trained nurse could do.

At a meeting of the Board of Health, held last evening, Dr. McAlpine, M. H. O., said the child's uncle had arrived about ten days ago from Sudbury district. He carried a doctor's certificate that he was free from disease, and he spent a week or so at the Beauprey home, and made a pet of his invalid nephew. A couple of days after the uncle's departure for his home in Belleville the child became ill as above related. He had wired Dr. Bryce, secretary of the provincial Board, relative to the case, and had warned that gentleman that the provincial authorities would be held responsible, both cases having emanated from the Sudbury district, owing to the carelessness of the medical men in charge.

The Board devoted some time to the discussion of plans best calculated to guard against the spread of infection by the large numbers of shantymen soon to arrive from the Sudbury district. Dr. McAlpine suggested that no attention should be given to medical certificates which failed to state that the holder had been given a sanitary bath, and that his clothing had been properly fumigated.

It was proposed that a constable or medical man should be detailed to watch all incoming trains from the west and north, and have all suspicious-looking individuals detained for fumigation, but action was deferred.

After passing a resolution holding the provincial Board responsible for the outlay incurred in the two Lindsay cases, it was decided to send a deputation to Toronto to interview the government, explain facts, and urge that more stringent measures be at once adopted in the Sudbury district to safeguard the health of the province. The members of the deputation will be Mayor Ingle, Chairman Keith, and Messers. Kylie and McDonald, of the Board of Health, Dr. McAlpine, Medical Health Officer, and Mr. J. D. Flavelle, President of the Board of Trade. They will leave for the city this evening.

The neglect of the council to provide an isolation hospital, which was urged by the Board a couple of weeks ago, was referred to. An effort was made to secure a building in one of the wards, but without success, as such building must be 450 feet from a travelled road or occupied dwelling. Chairman Keith and Messers. Staples, McDonald and Mills were appointed a committee to investigate and report as to the errection or purchase of a building.

The Board adjourned at 6.30.

Poisoned by Berries

Sharon, March 22.—Three boys in search for wintergreens on Wintergreen Hill, about half a mile west of Sharpsville, this afternoon ate a quantity of poisonous berries and died in terrible agony about one hour afterwards.

They were Claude Morford, aged 15; Fred Morford, aged 13; and Howard Miller, aged 13 years. The boys were attending school in Pymatuning township and after school hours started out in search of wintergreen, which is plentiful in a field just across the river from the Clare furnace. When they arrived they each gathered a quantity of red berries and ate heartily of them and in a few minutes they were thrown into convulsions.

Ferris Scott and David Schell, two furnace workers, found the boys writhing in terrible agony on the ground and carried them to the house of Princas Dunham, near by. This was about 4.30 o'clock, and Miller died in about thirty minutes. The Morford brothers lived until about 5.30 o'clock. Physicians were immediately summoned, but were unable to save the boy's lives.

18 MILLS ON THE $ IS THE RATE FOR 1901

An Increase of One Mill Over Last Year to Provide Additional Appropriations

For Roads and Bridges, for Royal Reception and Municipal Ownership—A big batch of by-laws for Sidewalks and Various Grants

The Town Council met in special session last night, when there were present Mayor T. H. G. Denne and Aldermen Sawers, Edgecumbe, Roger, Rush, Shortly, Clinkscale, Batten, Corkery, and Best.

The reading of correspondence and receiving of accounts were dispensed with.

THE RATE FOR 1901.

Ald. G. M. Roger, Chairman of Finance in submitting the estimates for the current year, together with a by-law fixing the rate at 18 mills on the dollar, explained that this year's estimates remains practically the same as for several years back, with the exception of three items of increased expenditure, accounting for the additional mill, as follows:

$600 to defray necessary expenditure which must accrue in connection with the scheme of municipal ownership of the water works, so strongly advocated by the public.

$1600 for miscellaneous expenditure, and to defray expenses connected with the Duke of Cornwall and York's hoped for visit this year.

$2,300 additional appropriation for streets and bridges. In this connection Ald. Roger remarked that since 1893 the appropriation for this department had been gradually decreased to provide for an increased expenditure in other directions, until this year it was found absolutely imperative to pay more attention to our roads, which had in a great measure been neglected, on account of the new granolithic sidewalks recently introduced. To Ald. Best, he pointed out that the appropriation in 1893 for streets and bridges had been $14,000; in 1894, $11,000; in 1895, $10,000; in 1896, $14,000; in 1897, $14,000; in 1898, $9,112; in 1899, $9,461; and last year, $9,000.

Ald. Rush reported that the deputation to Toronto, re the water front at rear of market, had been favorably received by the Legislature; but as the conditions governing such matters are somewhat changed now, they have been advised to instruct the town's solicitor to forward their petition to the Commissioner of Crown Lands.

This report was adopted.

ENGINEER'S REPORT

The Town Engineer presented his annual report, which was referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

MANUFACTURER'S COM. REPORT.

Ald. Rush submitted the following:

Gentlemen,—Your Manufacturers and Railways Committee beg leave to report as follows:—

1. Your Committee recommend that no action be taken on the proposition of The Monetary Times to advertise the Town in that paper.

2. Your Committee also recommend that no action be taken on the letter of Messrs. Desbarats & Co. respecting their proposition to publish a book descriptive of the Town.

3. No action was taken by your Committee on the matter of sending a deputation to Toronto to ask the Government to subsidize the Norwood and Apsley Railway.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The report was adopted as read.

COM. OF WHOLE COUNCIL

Ald Sawers submitted the following:

Gentlemen,—Your Committee of the Whole Council beg leave to report and recommended that the matter of preparing a building for use as a smallpox hospital, in case it should be required, be left with the Mayor with power to act in the matter.

The report was adopted as read.

All of which is respectfully submitted

FINANCE REPORT.

Ald. G. M. Roger submitted the following:

Gentlemen,—Your Finance Committee beg leave to report and recommend as follows:

1. That the Treasurer's salary be increased to $700 per annum, and that he be required to assist the Town Engineer in making computations and the figuring required for making assessments for local improvements and for the By-laws for issuing debentures in connection therewith, and also to keep such books as are necessary in connection with the Engineer's department to keep a record of the cost of public works.

2. That the Auditors be paid $25.00 each for extra work occasioned by the change of Tax Collectors during the year.

3. That a grant of $400.00 be made to the 57th Battalion Band, subject to the usual conditions as to playing in the park.

4. Enquiry having been made into the mistake as to the assessment of several ratepayers for school purposes, reported to the Council by the Assessors, your Committee instructed the Solicitor to prepare a By-law to correct the mistake.

5. That the Mayor be authorized to offer $100 reward for information that will lead to the conviction of the incendiary or incendiaries who caused any of the recent fires.

6. That the Ashburnham Council be notified that this Council cannot continue furnishing the use of the fire appliances at the present rate paid by the Village, and that they be asked to meet this Council to discuss the matter.

7. That this Council invite the Duke of Cornwall and York to visit Peterborough on the occasion of his visit to Canada next summer.

8. That the appropriation for the Horticultural Society be made $500.00 on condition that the Society take charge of and properly care for the Central Park and the small parks at the corners of Park and Murray streets, Park and Charlotte streets and between Lake and Perry streets on Bethune street, as well as the Victoria Park.

9. That the Salvation Army Band be given a grant of $50.

10. That the Fire, Water and Light Committee be authorized to purchase a horse, harness and cart, and that the Treasurer be authorized to pay for them on the certificate of the Chairman of that Committee.

11. That the material that was used in draping the Town Buildings be given to the Central Charity Board.

12. That the expenses of the deputation to Toronto regarding the water front, etc., be paid on the certificate of the Mayor.

13. That 100 copies of the Rules of Order of the Council be printed at the Times office.

14. That the following accounts be paid:—

PROPERTY COM. REPORT.

Ald Batten submitted the following:

Gentlemen.—Your Property, Market and Building Committee beg leave to report that on March 18th inst. the market tolls and charges for the year commencing April 1st, next were sold by auction to Mr. Joseph G. Hutchinson for $1,300, and that the agreement to purchase and the bond have been executed by Mr. Hutchinson and his sureties.

The report was adopted as read.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

SPECIAL GRANTS.

A By-law to authorise a grant of $500 to the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society, passed its several readings.

A By-law providing for a grant of $400 to the 57th Regt. Band, and $50 to the Salvation Army, passed its several readings.

A MATTER OF $40,000.

Several By-laws to provide for borrowing money by the issue of debentures, for the construction of granolithic sidewalks, passed their several readings. This means an expenditure of $40,000 or more in public improvements.

A DUMPING GROUND.

A By-law to provide for the execution of a contract with Thos. Williams for a dumping ground, passed through the Council.

$5 FOR EXTRA WORK.

On motion of Ald. Batten, an additional sum of $5 was awarded the janitor the Town buildings for extra work in connection with the recent renovation of same.

TO REMOVE LIABILITY.

Ald. Best moved, seconded by Ald. Roger,—That Council forward a petition to the Legislature, praying for a removal of the town's liability for damages for accidents caused by citizens falling on slippery sidewalks.—Carried.

Council then adjourned.

MR. OSLER—It's a poor run this year and we don't expect to get much out of it when it's all "b oile down."

The NORTHERN LIFE Assurance Company of Canada.

FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT

The annual meeting of the above-named company was held at its head office in London, Ontario, on Monday, the 11th inst. In the absence of the president, the Hon. David Mills, K.C., the chair was taken by the first vice-president, T. H. Purdom, K.C.

The managing director, Mr. John Milne, read the report of the directors for the year 1900, duly certified to by the auditors, of which the following is a synopsis:

To the Shareholders of the Northern Life Assurance Company:

The operations of the company have been considerably extended during the year. In the Provinces of Ontario, Manitoba, British Columbia, and Nova Scotia, the facilities of the company for the transaction of business are much improved, and some months ago the company fairly established itself in the Province of New Brunswick.

We have lately added to the field staff a number of first-class experienced insurance writers and organizers, who are already doing good service.

The directors realize that the present creditable position of the company is largely due to the perservering and energetic efforts of its agents.

Applications for insurance were received during the year for $889,210.

Applications approved and policies issued for $852,010.

Total insurance in force, end of the year $2,065,200.

Total amount paid in death claims since the organization of the company $17,000.

The business of the company shows an increase in the following respects as compared with last year:

Total cash income, 1900	$ 66,714 59
Total cash income, 1899	48,130 78
Increase	$ 18,583 81
Total assets, Dec. 31, 1900	$255,746 67
Total assets, Dec. 31, 1899	234,186 90
Increase	$ 21,559 77
Guaranteed reserve, for security of policy-holders, Dec. 31, 1900	$ 81,250 59
Guaranteed reserve, for security of policy-holders, Dec. 31, 1899	51,379 00
Increase	$ 29,871 59

The above increases have been made, while the total expenses of management, compared with the cash income shows a decrease of 13 per cent.

The paid-up capital of the company now amounts to $213,450, and the assets to the sum of $255,746.67, showing in three years and nine months, a substantial gain of $42,296.67, after the payment of all expenses of management, organization and death claims.

The vice-president, Mr. Purdom, in moving the adoption of the report, regretted the unavoidable absence of the president, who has always taken an active part in the affairs of the company. He thought the report showed several facts on which the company was to be congratulated. Its agencies were in a more thorough state of efficiency than ever. A substantial gain in the assets of $42,296.67 had been made, and the company had the confidence of the public. If the same persistent and intelligent work in building up the company's business was continued in the future as had been given to it in the past, the profits which both policy-holders and shareholders would receive, should be satisfactory. The insurance written during the expired portion of 1901 indicated a large percentage of increase over any previous year.

Mr. Long, second vice-president, in seconding the adoption of the report, said he did so with pleasure. He would like that every effort be made to continue the best class of agents in the company's service. He believed the Northern would have a successful future, and agreed with what Mr. Purdom had said.

The report was unanimously adopted.

The old board of directors were re-elected for the ensuing year and at a subsequent meeting of the board, the following officers were reappointed:

President, the Hon. David Mills, K.C., Minister of Justice; first vice-president, T. H. Purdom, Esq., K.C., London; second vice-president, Thos. Long, Esq. Toronto.

Unequalled for the Cure of Constipation

Wills' English Pills are as far superior to the ordinary cathartic pills of the day as the diamond is ahead of cheap glass. They never produce griping or nausea, and are the only guaranteed pills for the banishment of constipation. While constipated and dyspeptic sufferers are using Wills' English Pills, we would strongly recommend as a diet, Malt Breakfast Food, light and comforting for the stomach. Wills' English Pills 25 cents per package at all druggists, or mailed by The Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, Montreal, on receipt of price.

THE TIMES LETTER BOX

Our Taxes

(Editor Morning Times)

SIR,—How is it, now that thousands and thousands of dollars is being saved in lumber and repairs to sidewalks, that our taxes are going up in leaps and bounds. Five years ago I paid about $30 a year; now my taxes is nearly $50.

Will The Times please explain it?

SOUTH WARD.

The Diphtheria Outbreak

(Editor Morning Times)

The Medical Health Officer should go to work and trace out the causes of these outbreaks. It is not at all reassuring that a committee of trustees should undertake this work and find everything "good". As many a citizen is asking, "what do they know about it anyhow?"

AGITATION

Norwood and Apsley Railway

(Editor Morning Times)

Sir:—I was much pleased at reading in the Times of last week that the Board had taken up and discussed the proposed Norwood-Apsley railroad, and give great credit to those members who supported the scheme as a means of developing the northern part of the country. But I was sadly disappointed when I saw the stand taken by the Rev. Mr. Davidson, who as a Christian, a preacher of the gospel, and a member of the Church of England, expresses himself in terms which in my humble opinion were uncalled for in his capacity as a clergyman, and showed anything but a kindly feeling towards the people of this back country, who have toiled so many years, under all kinds of privations and hardships, to hew out a home for the support of themselves and families, unaided by their own more fortunate brethren at the front. I cannot help thinking that Mr. Davidson has acted a most selfish part in trying to baulk the projected railroad, he no doubt has a very comfortable living, and a commodious and well furnished rectory, and requires nothing more.

He does not pause to consider that his brethren of the same cloth in the locality have poor stipends, and many inconveniences to put up with and heavy burdens to carry, which could be considerably lightened by our getting railroad communication with the towns to the front.

"From Nowhere to Nowhere" is the way that the reverend gentlemen expressed himself whilst speaking at the meeting of the Board of Trade at Peterboro. Now, Mr. Editor, if the Village of Norwood is "Nowhere," where is Lakefield, Millbrook, Bobcaygeon, or even Port Hope? I have always looked upon Norwood as one of the most thriving little towns in Ontario, and what is of the most importance, it is backed up by some of the most public spirited citizens in any town in the province, men who evidently wish to see not only their own town, but the whole county enjoying prosperity, and not like Mr. Davidson who would seem to like to wrap himself up in his own surplice and know not the congregations from "Nowhere".

I would like to ask Mr. Davidson what has helped to make the town of Peterboro what it is to-day? If no railroads had struck the town would it have had its present population? Would there have been any Edison works, cereal works, bridge works, foundrys, or any industries of any magnitude? No, not even a saw mill, if the latter "Nowhere from Nowhere" had not contributed their share by sending down the timber to be manufactured, and I must say that "Nowhere's" share in building up the town has formed no inconsiderable part of it.

Mr. Davidson must have acted on the impulse of the moment when be expressed such views, be could not have given the project due consideration, or he would not have said what he did. He said, "That there were two parties to be served." The Village of Norwood would be benefitted, and the people of the district would have an opportunity to get out of the country providing that they had money enough to pay the car fare." Now, Mr. Editor, if the people are as poor as Mr. Davidson would like to make out, and the country as barren as he depicts, what benefit would the road be to Norwod any further than the exit of the poor settler en route to a better land, providing after paying for his fare on the train, that he saved a quarter for his dinner at Norwood, which would total up some dollars for the hotels?

Mr. Davidson cannot know anything of the back country, or he certainly would not have spoken as he did, if he was ever back here his eyesight must have been defective, when he did not see any timber, or any farms. Where is the timber coming from that A. McDonald & Dickson Co. are sawing in Peterboro to-day? This country is not all a barren wilderness, as has been amply proved by the products which are taken to the front yearly, and many of our grains and roots, will compare very favorably with older sections in the front. Our people do not all belong to the upper ten, but a kinder hearted more hospitable people never breathed, and they have feelings the same as other people, and generally know when an unearned slur has been cast upon them, and I am extremely sorry to think that it should have come from the source it did. There is just one other matter in Mr. Davidson's speech that I should like to touch upon. "Mr. Pearce (says Mr. Davidson) was playing a bold, but admirable stroke on behalf of his own town in coming to Peterboro to request assistance.

Now, Mr. Editor, of course we know that everyone as a general thing 'has an axe to grind,' but in Mr. Pearce's case I know that he has put himself to no end of inconvenience, and to considerable trouble and expense in backing up the proposed railroad, and I cannot see that his interests were so unmeasurably concerned that he should have taken the trouble that he has done, and he should commended highly for having done so much to bring things to such a successful issue. I could say a good deal more on the subject but will not trespass any further on your space, except by saying that I cannot see what motive Mr. Davidson had for taking the stand he did, we did not ask him, the town, or the country, for one dollar of a bonus, all that was asked was the co-operation of the town to assist us in getting some of our money back from the Government that has been collected in timber dues for the last 40 years, from this back country, the revenue from this source I believe would have built the road double tracked over and over again. Hoping Mr. Editor, to some day in the near future to be able to get off the train from "Nowhere," at "Nowhere" and shake hands with the rest of my nowhereian friends somewhere. I remain,

Yours truly,
F. W. C. SHEWEN

A PROSPEROUS COMPANY.

The Mutual Life Present a Very Encouraging Report.

We heartily congratulate the management of The Mutual Life Assurance Company of Canada on the result of the year's operations as set forth in the annual report, which appears elsewhere in to-day's issue. This Company has had phenomenal success, its business having attained colossal proportions.

The insurance issued for the year was $4,304,183, while the policies actually paid for within the year (including some business brought forward from 1899) was $4,671,712, which the president points out was the largest transaction for the year among Canadian companies. The income was $1,171,944; the assets have now reached $5,182,014; and the surplus is $516,009. The total amount of business in force is $29,521,976. All these items show substantial increases over the previous year as follows:—Income, $120,542; assets, $518,461; and assurance in force, $2,575,676. In perusing the financial statement one is struck with the large payment to policy-holders, amounting to no less a sum than $431,545.50, of which amount $78,714 was for profits. The death claims that arose were again very moderate, being less than the amount expected, and as pointed out in the director's report, the interest income was again sufficient to pay all such losses. This feature shows that the company's funds are carefully invested, and are yielding a good rate of interest. The report proves that policy-holders, have every confidence in its management, and the rapidly increasing business indicates that the public appreciates its merits.

The Company is ably represented in Peterborough district by Mr. W. Kelsey Hall, No. 378 Water street, who will be pleased to afford information to intending insurers.

Death of Mr. Patrick Welsh

The death of Mr. Patrick Welsh, eldest son of Mr. Edward Welsh, 33 Elm street, occurred in Ashland, Wis., yesterday morning. The body is expected to arrive on the midnight train, Sunday night. Funeral notice later.

200 MORE BOERS TAKEN ON THE FIELD

British Also Capture Thousands of Horses, Cattle and Sheep From the Enemy

Blomfontein, March 22.

The result of the combined movements against General Fourie, near Thaba N'Chu, was the capture of 200 Boers, 130 000 sheep, 5,000 horses, and a host of cattle. The Boers broke southward to the right and left.

Cape Town, March 22.

The Boer raiders in the eastern part of Cape Colony, are with the exception of almost daily skirmishes, keeping out of the reach of the British. Col. Scovillo engaged Commandant Fourie and Commandant Malan, near Blaawkerantz, March 20, Three British were killed and four wounded, and four Boers were killed. The number of Boers wounded has not been ascertained. Commandant Kritzinger is marching steadily northward. It is officially reported that General De Wet's commandoes have been broken up for the present. This is probably to give the men a rest.

St Petersburg, March 23

A despatch from Pekin giving the Russian account of the affair says the British military authorities have acknowledged that the land was at the time under the protection of the Russian detachment, and that three Russian boundary posts had been removed without their knowledge. The difference will now be peacefully settled by judicial investigation. Both guards and posts have been withdrawn, and salutes have been exchanged. The British declare that no offence to the Russian flag was intended and that the alleged removal of the Russian boundary marks, was neither by the command nor with the knowledge of the military authorities. The work on the disputed land will not be continued until the governments have reached an agreement as to its possessions, or until a special understanding has been attained.

Berlin, March 22.

The War Office has received the following from Count Von Waldersee. The Anglo Russian dispute at Tien Tsin has been settled from a military standpoint in a satisfactory manner to both parties at a conference between General Wogack and General Barrow.

Pekin, March 22.

The British Headquarters report the withdraw of both Russian and British troops from the disputed territory at Tien Tsin. M. de Giers, the Russian Minister to China believes that every thing will be advisably adjusted at London and St. Petersburg, and doubts the possibility of further trouble in the matter.

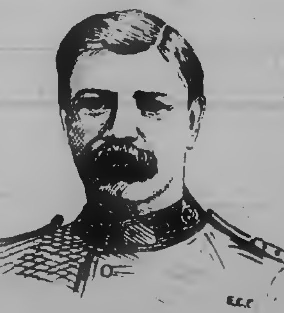
MAJOR TURNER'S VISIT

New Provincial Officer of the S. A. to be Here To Day

Salvation Army circles will be enlivened to-day and to-morrow through the visit of Major Turner, the new Provincial officer for East Ontario and Quebec Province. Special meetings will be conducted by the Major and wife, the subjects of which are as follows;

Sunday—"Welcome meeting"

Sunday—11 a.m. "Mental Gymnastics," 3 p.m. "Well Digging," 7 p.m. "Who is a Fool?"



MAJOR TURNER, S. A.

Major Turner, the new Provincial Officer for East Ontario and Quebec Province, has been an Officer in the Canadian wing of the Army for 15 years. He first became associated with the Army in Toronto, a year before he entered the work. After seven years service in Ontario in Field work he was promoted to the Staff and made a District Officer. Two appointments followed this capacity, covering a little over a year, after which he was made a Chancellor and in this capacity served in Toronto, London, Ont., and Spokane, Wash.

During the past two years the Major has been the Assistant Provincial Offiver in connection with the Central Ontario Province, with Headquarters at Toronto, where he has been signally successful, and the Army has thrived considerably under his administration.

Mrs. Turner shares with her husband the honor of having put in several years active service as a Field Officer prior to their marriage.

A Case of Blood Poisoning

A peculiar case of blood poisoning was treated at Nicholl's Hospital. A Miss A. Connolly, of Ops township, scratched her fingers while opening a can of Alkali. Later the wound became painful, and under the advice of Dr. Poole of Lindsay, she was brought to the Nicholl's Hospital, where she had to remain for three months, the injured finger being amputated to prevent serious results. It was hoped that no further trouble would ensue, but that hope has been vain. Miss Connelly was recently compelled to undergo an additional operation, the hand having to be removed this time in order to save her life. The operation was performed at Toronto a few days ago, and the patient is reported as progressing favorably.

A Sad Death

The Times joins in the universal sympathy that is being extended to Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor, of Oxford street, Ashburnham, in the death of their beloved and only daughter, Miss Lizzie, which sad event occurred at the family residence yesterday morning. The deceased had only been ill a few days, and had previously enjoyed the best of health. Her death, therefore, came as a sad shock to her relatives and friends. Of a bright and cheerful disposition, she was a general favorite, and was beloved by all who knew her intimately. She was a member of the Mark-st Methodist church, an active member of the Endeavor Society, and a teacher in the Sunday school. The funeral takes place at three o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

The Kidneys and the Skin.

In the spring, the kidneys have much to do. If they are weak or torpid, they will not do it well, and the skin will be pimply or blotchy. That is telling the story in a few words.

THE SUGAR BEET AND THE FARMER.

The current number of the Farmer's Advocate devotes some space to the subject of sugar beet growing from the farmer's standpoint. The conclusions arrived at by the Advocate, backed by the important testimony of many well known authorities on the subject, who contribute to its columns, is that, while slipshod methods of farming will not produce good results in sugar beet culture, honest, intelligent effort on the part of Ontario farmers should make this province quite as important a beet sugar territory as the most favored portions of Europe or the United States.

"It is said that a large percentage of the sugar now consumed here is the product of foreign grown beets, the raw sugar being imported and refined," says the Advocate. "Why not grow the beets here? Our soil and climate, in large areas, correspond fairly well with that of Michigan, our land probably being richer in fertility, and better farmed. Beets have long been successfully grown for stock food, and the Ontario experiments, under the direction of Prof. Shuttleworth, of the Ontario agricultural college, in several localities last year further demonstrated the capability of the country to produce them for sugar purposes. The Canadian farmer, at whatever branch of the industry he turns his intellect and hand, has no superior, and in ordinary field-root growing, the average American farmer can take lessons from him. The Canadian farmer is sprung from root-growing old country parentage. The Canadian can and will grow sugar beeets, if he finds that it will pay him to do so. Prof. C. D. Smith, of the Michigan experiment station, one of the best-informed Americans on this subject, and whose efforts have been of immense service to the industry in that state, states in this issue of the Farmer's Advocate, that twelve tons per acre is a fair yield, worth say $5 per ton and grown at a cost of $30 per acre. Mr. J. J. Ferguson, a Canadian, for several years past one of our contributors, and now on the staff of the Michigan agricultural college, gives our readers the benefit of his investigations on the subject in another column, and puts the profit on a fair average at $22 per acre. How does that compare with wheat? Assuming an average yield of 25 bushels per acre, selling at 65 cents, we have a return of $16.25, and the cost of production might be put at $10 per acre, leaving a profit of but $6.25."

Clean Out the Ditches.

The following, from the Montreal Star, applies to Peterborough:—

It cannot be too firmly impressed upon the city authorities that the present disgraceful condition of the sidewalks is directly due to their neglect.

Where the ditches have been cleard out it will be found that the walks are in fairly good condition. Where this work has been neglected, the walks are in a condition of discomfort and danger; the snow and ice has accumulated, and parties in front of whose premises this condition prevails cannot clear away the accumulation without drawing upon them the drainage of the roadway.

In the vast majority of cases the ditches have not been cleaned out, nor the slightest attempt made to do so since the winter commenced.

When it is seen that this neglect is apparent on most of our leading business streets, the extent of the injury being done our long-suffering citizens will be fully realized.

We have already had some days of moderate thaw, and have had a taste of what is in store for us when the break up of winter comes. The indications are that break up is at hand, and if the ditches remain closed, as at present, the sidewalks will be made veritable rivers, and the damage to property by water going into cellars will cost the city many dollars more than the expense of clearing out the ditches now.

LOCAL NEWS LETTERS

SOUTH BURLEIGH.

—The telephone company are expected to extend the line to Mount Julian this summer. The poles are to be furnished and put up by subscription; quite a number of poles and a nice sum of money have been subscribed.

—South Burleigh expects to have its new saw mill in working order soon.

—Mr. Langford and Mr. S. Stone, of Percy, were visiting relatives here last month.

—Mr. Warren Windover, of Percy, was visiting his brother for a few days.

—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hales and family, who have been residents here for several years, are leaving the Mount Julian farm, and going to live in North Burleigh. While we wish them prosperity in their new home we regret their departure very much.

—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lauder entertained their relatives at an oyster supper on their wooden wedding, 11th March. Amongst the presents received were a handsome arm chair and rocking chair.

—Miss Theresa Armstrong has been visiting friends in Warsaw, Lakefield, and Peterborough, and also getting subscriptions for the telephone in which she succeeded very well.

RISKS

Are run by every woman who has household cares. It is so easy just to run out of the warm house into the fresh air, to pin a piece of lace to the clothes line. It is also easy to take cold in doing so. Then perhaps comes suppression and kindred evils. Whenever there is any disturbance of the normal womanly function Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription may be relied upon to re-establish perfect health. It is strictly a temperance medicine, containing no alcohol or whisky, neither opium, cocaine nor other narcotic.

"Several years ago I suffered severely from female weakness, prolapsus and menorrhagia, and used 'Favorite Prescription' with splendid effect," writes Fannie Shelton, of Washington, Iowa. "Glad I have not needed it for a few years past but if I should have a return of the old trouble would surely try 'Favorite Prescription.' I have recommended it to a number of my lady friends. I always tell them to try a bottle and if they are not benefited by it I will pay for the medicine. In every case they have spoken in praise of it."

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg

The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride. Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen. Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY

LOCATION OF OUR MINES

THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Salida copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the Rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.

Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims: The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Salida, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Salida. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of Salida at Cleora station, on the main Trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.

PRICES AND TERMS

PRESENT PRICES: We are now selling our fully paid and non-assessable TREASURY SHARES at 5 cents per shares, in batches of 100 shares and more: 100 shares, $5; 1,000 shares, $50, 5,000 shares, $250; or 10,000 shares or more at the same rate. Send your order right NOW, before the next advance, as you will soon pay a higher price. Investors are rapidly investing with us.

The Company fully prepays all Government revenue, postage, etc. Send also for our handsomely illustrated prospectus, which contains much valuable information. It is free for the asking.

It is printed on each certificate that subscribers to the above Preferred Shares will be entitled to receive in Dividends the full amount of money invested, before other stockholders receive any returns, signed by the President of the Company.

This district produced more Gold in 1900 than any other in the United States

This property consists of 3000 by 3000 feet, or 200 acres, of gold land. The mine has been worked. The feature of this mine is the Veneta Vein, 30 to 40 feet in width, and is certainly one of the strongest veins in this famous district. There are some fifteen openings on this vein, the ore from which assays in gold from $12 to $100 per ton. The property is advantageously located for development by tunnel, which will make it possible to produce an enormous amount of ore daily, the quantity varying from 200 to 500 tons per day. The development by TUNNELING is the most economical and advantageous manner of working this property.

At a distance of 800 feet the Tunnel will intersect the Veneta Vein at a depth of about 680 feet, and will also intersect several other veins. The tunnel will cut the Big Horn Mountain 2100 feet deep, and will give this company 2,000,000 tons of ore, worth over $20 per ton.

The new railroad, now practically completed from Colorado Springs, called the Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek road, passes within 2000 feet of this Tunnel

Adjoining this property is the Colorado Springs TUNNEL Company. In this property at a depth of 400 feet, the Veneta Vein was cut. At this point the vein was fully 20 feet in width, and its value from $20 to $1000 per ton.

There are already in operation mills and smelters sufficient to treat the output of this property, which gives at once cash returns.

Capital Stock $1,000,000. Par Value $1.00 Per Share. 100,000 Shares Preferred Stock at 25c. Per Share.

In buying this stock the purchaser owns a direct title in the Company's property. This Company offers you no watered stock, but a legitimate high-grade gold-mining investment in the Cripple Creek District.

The above offer of Preferred Dividends is an assurance of early returns. After additional machinery is erected, this property will be earning dividends almost equal to its Capital Stock.

31st Annual Meeting of

The Mutual Life of Canada

Formerly The Ontario Mutual Life.

New Name But Same Old Principles—A Company of Policyholders, by Policyholders, for Policyholders—Leads in Canadian Business—A Most Successful Year.

The thirty-first Annual Meeting of this prosperous and leading Life Company was held at its Head Office, Waterloo, Ont., on Thursday, March 7th, 1901, at 1 p.m. The meeting, composed solely of policyholders, was representative and influential and the proceedings as usual were instructive and interesting. Among those present, besides the officers and a large number of agents, we noticed Messrs. David Bean, D. Buckberrough, F. C. Bruce, M.P., B. M. Britton, K.C., M.P., E. P. Clement, Geo. Diebel, T. R. Earl, J. Kerr Fisken, B.A., Rev. J. R. Gilchrist, Hon. J. T. Garrow, K.C., W. S. Hodgins, A. Hoskin, K.C., W. J. Kidd, B.A., Alex. Millar, K.C., John McCallum, W. J. Motz, A. W. Robarts, Geo. A. Somerville and Very Rev. Dr. Spetz, C.R.

The President having taken the chair, on motion of Mr. W. H. Riddell, Secretary of the Company, acted as Secretary of the meeting, and at the request of the President read the

DIRECTORS' REPORT.

Your Directors have pleasure in submitting their report, together with the financial statement duly audited, for the year ending December 31st, 1900.

We are glad to inform you that the business of the year has been eminently satisfactory, and that it exceeds any former year, except in respect of new business, which is somewhat less than in 1899.

The Surplus earnings were sufficient to enable a continuance of the liberal distribution to policyholders as heretofore. The interest earnings were again, as for some years past, largely in excess of all the death claims that arose within the year.

The Lapses and Surrenders were moderate in proportion to the business in force, showing continued confidence of policyholders in the stability of the Company and in its management.

Applications to the amount of $4,321,345 were received, and policies for $4,304,183 were issued, all of which except $78,500 were secured within the Dominion. The amount of business actually paid for in 1900 was $4,671,712, being the largest amount of insurance placed in Canada by a Canadian Company. Your Directors believe that it is advisable to confine the Company's operations to Canada, where proper supervision can be exercised, and business secured at a lower expense rate than elsewhere.

The number of Policies in force was 20,336, assuring $29,521,076.58, on which the reserve is $4,837,733.68 based on our own standard, Actuaries 4 per cent. for all business to January 1st, 1900, and Hm. 3 1-2 per cent. thereafter.

The Premium Income was $927,845.10; Interest Income, $222,100.03; Annuity Premiums, $21,999,.82; total, $1,171,944.95, or an increase of $120,542.28 over the income in 1899.

The amount paid to Policyholders was $431,565.50, and of this amount the large sum of $214,112.23 was paid to living Policyholders. The Death claims paid were $217,453.27; Matured Endowments, $73,300; Purchased Policies, $49,543.17; Surplus or Dividends paid to Policyholders, $78,714.86, and Annuities, $7,554.20.

The Surplus over all liabilities on the Company's standard is $310,349.30, and on the Government standard $516,009.80.

The active demand for money has kept the Company's funds well employed during the year, and interest payments have been more promptly met than in the past. The total amount of overdue interest at Dec. 31st last was $5,874.86.

The Manager, Officers and Staff continue to discharge their duties to the satisfaction of the Board, and in the best interests of the Company.

You will be called upon to elect four Directors in the place of B. M. Britton, K.C., M.P., Francis C. Bruce, M.P., J. Kerr Fisken and Geo. A. Somerville, whose term of office has expired, but all of whom are eligible for re-election.

R MELVIN,
President.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

It affords me, gentlemen, great pleasure to place before you the annual report and financial statement for the year ending December 31st, 1900. The business, as the report shows, has been entirely satisfactory, and, with one exception, that of 1899, exceeds in volume of new business any previous year in our history, the amount issued being $4,304,183.00, and the amount taken $4,671,712.00, which I believe to be somewhat in excess of that said to have been secured by any other native life company, all of which, with tthe exception of $28,500 writte in Newfoundland, was obtained within the Dominion. It is somewhat less than for 1899, but the business of all Canadian companies was abnormal for that year, owing to the increase of rates which took place in January last. To avoid this increase there was a perfect rush of intending insurers to get their applications in before the increase took place. And here allow me to say that for the ten years ending Dec. 1900, we added to our assurance in force $15,810,276, of which sum $10,283,593 was added during the last five years. I mention this that you may know the great progress the Company is making and the esteem and confidence in which it is held by the assuring public—a confidence we believe well founded and which will increase as time goes on. It shall be our aim to deserve this confidence by being if possible still more devoted to the interest of the policyholders in the future than we have been in the past.

I am credibly informed that some agents of competing companies have been stating that our policyholders are liable to assessment at any time the Board may feel it necessary to assess them. I regret this, because it is absolutely untrue, and if such agents know anything of the principles of life insurance they must know it to be untrue. The policies of The Mutual Life of Canada are issued in consideration of a certain stipulated sum called annual premiums, based on the mortality table approved by the Government of Canada, and considered by the best actuaries in the world sufficient in themselves with interest earnings on reserves to meet all obligations incurred by this Company. The same requirement is made by the Government in respect of premiums and reserves of every Life Company in Canada, whether stock or Mutual, whether Canadian, American or British. The Government standard has in all cases been found more than ample to meet the obligations of all companies. The difference between our Company (which is Mutual) and Stock Companies is simply this, that of all the divisible surplus has been and continues to be distributed amongst our policyholders, while in the case of Stock Companies the surplus is apportioned amongst the stockholders and the policyholders, the former obtaining usually an undue share. I might here say that the Government Inspector of Insurance, a gentleman in whom the utmost reliance can be placed, yearly examines the books and accounts, the assets and liabilities of all companies, and if on inspection he should find that the assets are not sufficient to meet their obligations, according to the Government standard, he can and would restrain either Stock or Mutual Companies from doing business until the assets required to meet every obligation are on hand and available for that purpose.

I regret to be obliged to make this explanation, as we have always endeavored to do business without disparaging competing Stock Companies in any way, leaving it to a discerning public to decide for themselves the Company in which they would prefer to insure their lives.

The lapses and surrenders still continue to decrease in proportion to amount of business in force. This fact will be as pleasing to our agents and policyholders as it is to the Board, showing the value attached to our policies, and expressive of confidence in the Company. The total number of policies now in force is 20,336, amounting to $29,521,076.58, an increase of $3,575,635.00. We added to our income $120,542.28; to our reserve $513,653.04, and to our assets $518,461.12. As the mean amount of insurance carried by the Company in 1900 was much greater than in 1899, so also the losses from deaths exceeded those of 1899, but fell much below the expectation, and were more than covered by interest earned on investments in the sum of $11,918.07; the surplus earnings of the Company enabled us to pay to the policyholders very handsome dividends, notwithstanding the fact that, owing to the change in the Company's name, we were called upon to spend a much larger amount in advertising, etc., than in former years, in addition to refurnishing the new office at considerable cost. I might say here that we never admit office furnishing as an asset in our financial statements.

I am pleased to inform you that our money has been fully invested during the year at fair rates of interest, and that the interest has been unusually well met. In one Province in which we have $237,690.00 invested the interest due thereon Dec. 31st, 1900, was only $768.22, and of this sum only $31.00 was unpaid February 1st, 1901.

With regard to the change to a higher reserve I need say very little, as all business in force up to December 31st, 1900, is already on a 4 per cent. basis, Actuaries Table, and all business taken since that time is on the Hm. 3 1-2 per cent. table. There was a small line of business in the office, January, 1900, which had been written up but not passed by the office, much of which had been canvassed for and promised on a 4 per cent. basis, and which we accepted at the old rates, but placed it on a 3 1-2 per cent. reserve. We have a considerable portion of business on that reserve and have not thought it advisable to do more till another year, as a larger outlay than usual was incurred in getting new literature, forms and stationery rendered necessary owing to the change in the Company's name.

In conclusion I desire to thank the agents for their zeal on behalf of the Company, and to state that no Company could have a more capable, zealous body of men or truer to the best interests of the Company than they have been. I would express the hope that, with the united efforts of our policyholders, the Board, the Agency and Office Staff the first year of the new century may be the banner year of the Company in all that is true and best in Life Assurance. This can only be done, and should only be done, on the merits of the Mutual Life of Canada, never on the demerits or supposed demerits of our neighbors. I have therefore great pleasure in moving the adoption of the report.

VICE PRESIDENT'S AND OTHER ADDRESSES.

Speaking to the motion, the first Vice-President, Mr. A. Hoskin, K.C., congratulated the policyholders on the marked increase the Company had made in the amount of insurance in force at the close of 1900, pointing out that while two competing companies, both older than our Company had together increased their insurance by $2,541,942, The Mutual Life of Canada increased its insurance for the same year by $2,575,635, or $33,693 more than the other two companies combined, and that while eighteen Canadian companies, including their foreign business, showed a gain in business in force of $20,259,184, this Company's share of the gain was over one-eighth of the whole. That is a record to be proud of. He also gave figures to show that the ratio of the Company's assets to insurance in force had almost doubled within the last 13 years, and that the amount of unpaid interest at the end of the fiscal year was insignificant when we consider that we had invested in mortgages and debentures no less a sum than $4,063,499. There was no interest overdue on bonds and debentures and only $3,836.45 interest overdue on mortgages of $2,446,654. At this date there is but $1,293.71 interest unpaid, thus proving that this Company's investments are first-class in every respect.

Referring to the reprehensible statements made by some of the agents of other companies to the effect that because this Company is a Mutual it possesses the power to levy assessments on its policyholders, he felt certain that such statements were made without the knowledge or authority of the Managers of the companies they represent, or more properly, mis-represent. As life insurance agents are a class well informed, the agents in question cannot be ignorant of the fact that this Company never had any such power under its charter and anyone may convince himself of the utter falsehood of this malicious charge by writing to the Government Superintendent of Insurance at Ottawa. Under no circumstances whatever can a policyholder of this Company be called upon to pay more than the fixed premium he agreed to pay per annum, and which sum, subject to reduction from profits, is stipulated in the policy contract. Such agents know quite well, as all intelligent men know, that the only difference between this Company and any other Canadian Life Company in the matter of premium is that The Mutual Life of Canada has no stockholders, and that consequently all its dividends belong to and are paid to policyholders only. As we have no interests to serve, but those of our policyholders, this is par excellence a policyholders' Company.

Mr. B. M. Britton, K.C., M.P., Second Vice-President, was satisfied that the report just read would commend itself to the public as the statement therein given of the Company's operations is so plain and simple that those who run may not only read but understand it in every detail. Some idea of the magnitude of the Company may be gathered from the fact that we have to-day a clientage of over 20,000 members carrying on their lives $30,000,000 insurance for the benefit of themselves or their families. The Company's income now exceeds one million dollars, and out of this sum is paid in death losses and to its living members, in dividends, surrender values, annuities and endowments, over $1,800 for each business day of the year. Facts like these should inspire every one connected with the Company, whether as directors, officers, agents, or policyholders, with a determination to maintain the Company's present proud pre-eminence, to extend its usefulness still wider and to ensure its permancy as one of the largest and most progressive beneficient institutions in Canada.

The policies of this Company are issued on all approved and up-to-date plans at about the same rate of premium as other legal reserve companies. He hoped no applicant for insurance would be influenced by the story that this Company could assess its members. Persons holding policies with us are not liable to assessments on any ground whatever. A great deal of the success that has attended the Company from its earliest years up to the present time was due to the fidelity and hard work of our agents. He regarded the field workers as the mainstay of the Company and favored a liberal policy in dealing with them. Those who "brought the grist to the mill" in season and out of season deserved to be fairly rewarded.

The Hon. Mr. J. T. Garrow, K.C., concurred most heartily with previous speakers as to the excellence of the Company's Report which had been submitted to this meeting. It was, he claimed, matter for much honest congratulation that in the face of the keenest (and he regretted to say at times not always the fairest) competition, this Company surpassed all its competitors among native life companies in the amount of new business taken within the Dominion for the year ending with December last without putting forth any special efforts and at about the same ratio of cost as in former years. And while new companies have entered the field and old ones revolutionized their methods to attract new business, it is extremely gratifying that our Company, the only Canadian company conducting its business on the purely mutual principle, came out of the contest with increased laurels. The fact is that The Mutual Life of Canada stands well in the estimation of the public as one of the most deserving, substantial and well-managed companies in Canada. It enjoys an enviable reputation for fair and honorable dealings with its policyholders and for rigid economy in the administration of its affairs. This good name which it has been our constant aim to not only to deserve but to conserve, and if possible extend, has been a tower of strength to our agents, and he believed that with such advantages in our favor there is no reason why the Company should not continue to grow in magnitude and usefulness, and in the esteem of the insuring public, as the years of the new century upon which we have just entered roll by.

Mr. F. C. Bruce, M.P., said that it was an honor to be on the Company's directorate, even in the days of its littleness when its rivals used to call it a "good little Company," but it was much more so now when the Company occupied the high position it does at present among other Canadian companies. "The good little Company" of bygone days had now become one of the largest in Canada, and ranked in the volume of new business written in 1900 first among Canadian companies.

Mr. Geo. A. Somerville, Manager of The Huron and Erie Loan and Savings Co., was much pleased to endorse all that had been said about the excellent showing made by the Company for the past year and the very creditable standing it had attained among rival institutions. The Mutual Life of Canada never filled as large a place in the estimation of the Canadian public as it does to-day, and if it does not continue to advance along safe lines and to grow in popular favor it will not be from any lack of interest on the part of the Board, whose aim has always been to build up its business on solid and enduring principles. As one of the many proofs that might be cited to support this contention, he pointed to the Company's investments as among the very choicest in the Dominion, showing that great caution had been exercised in their selection and that they have been looked after with the greatest possible success. He knew of no Company whose funds were better employed or more safely invested that those of this Company. He also pointed out that the Bonds and Debentures were, as they always have been, taken at the book value, although their market value was a very much larger sum.

VOTES OF THANKS.

While balloting for directors was in progress, Mr. A. W. Robarts, Manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Waterloo, moved the following resolution seconded by the Rev. J. A. Gilchrist.—

"WHEREAS the Presidents and Vice-Presidents and the Board of this Company have been unremitting in their efforts to promote the best interests and ensure the growth and permament prosperity of the Company, be it resolved that a hearty vote of thanks be given them by this meeting of policyholders in acknowledgement of their valuable services during the past year."

Mr. Robarts desired to say that the Directors' Report was in all respects most satisfactory and reflected the greatest credit on the Board to whose wise supervision of the Company's affairs so much of its truly remarkable success was due. He was a policyholder in this grand old Company and he was proud of the fact, as he believed it had a brilliant future before it. The motion having been carried amid much applause, the President on behalf of the Board acknowledged the thanks tendered. He said he had been on the Board of this Company for nearly 31 years, and was a member of many other Boards during that period; but he was free to confess that none of them manifested deeper interest or maintained greater harmony in their work than the members of this Board. All were united as one man in their efforts to promote what they believed to be the true interests of our policyholders.

After a few complimentary remarks, Mr. Geo. Diebel, merchant, Waterloo, moved, seconded by Mr. D. Buckberrough, that the thanks of this meeting and of the directors be and are hereby tendered to the Manager, Secretary and Head Office Staff, and to the Superintendent and Agency Staff, for the very efficient discharge of their respective duties during the past year.

The Manager, Mr. Geo. Wegenast, responding to the motion, said that it was very gratifying to himself and those associated with him in the onerous work of the office to be assured that their labors were so highly appreciated by the members of the Board and the policyholders present at the meeting. During the course of the year many demands were made on the staff which involved much time in meeting them, and this, in addition to the extra work arising from the rapid growth of the Company's business, meant a heavy drain on the energies of the staff; but, no matter what the demands might have been, the officers and staff have always been found equal to the work. It gave him much pleasure to know that he had around him a staff so willing and capable.

Continuing, the Manager pointed out that the mortality among our members for 1900 was largely within the expectation according to the Tables in use by the Company, being, in fact, less than 60 per cent. of the amount for which provision had been made. This experience must be regarded as extremely favorable. The interest income for 1900 very considerably exceeded the death claims for last year, and this feature of our business, of which few companies can boast, must be a source of much satisfaction to our Agents and policyholders. He would refer to only one other feature of the Report—the large volume of new business written within the Dominion, being many thousands in excess of the sum secured in Canada by any of our competitors, placing us at the head of all Canadian Life Companies for that year in the important item of new and paid for business. The agency staff, with Mr. Earl in command, deserve a right hearty vote of thanks for achieving so signal a triumph in the field. It was a fact alike creditable to our Agents and the Company they so well and ably served that wherever the merits of The Mutual Life of Canada were best known there the Company had the greatest number of staunch friends.

The President said that the resolution voiced the opinion of the Board as to the discharge of the duties mentioned therein, for he desired to state that the Company's employees in their respective positions were equal to the performance of any duty required of them; always willing, able, courteous and devoted, they were worthy of the greatest confidence and deserved the hearty thanks of those they so faithfully served.

Mr. T. R. Earl thought the agency staff might well feel proud that a net increase in business of over ten millions had been made during the last ten years, of which over eight millions had been placed on the Company's book within the last three years, and it was gratifying to know that this net gain had been secured without sacrificing quality to quantity. The President, Directors, Manager, former Manager and Secretary may be congratulated on the fact that after a career of over 31 years, during which we haave had periods of commercial inflation and depression, the Company is in a position to-day to convert its investments into gold without one dollar of depreciation. Max O'Rell, in speaking of the United States said: "They are a great people, and they admit it themselves." We may say that The Mutual Life of Canada is "a great Company," although those who made it great may be too modest to admit it. He felt convinced that the Company was only on the threshold of a period of marvellous growth, and as the agency staff is quite capable of doing their share to that end, no fears need be entertained as to the continued development and prosperity of the Company in the years to come.

Mr. Wm. Hendry, Consulting Actuary of the company, expressed his great gratification at the rapid progress the business has made during the last few years, and he warmly commended the business-like way in which the directors' report was presented. The board had nothing to fear by making a full, clear and plain statement of the company's affairs. The more thoroughly the principles of the company were understood the greater will be the public appreciation of its claims on their patronage. In the early years of its career company building was uphill work, but although the growth was somewhat slow it was healthy and substantial. The present high standing of the company gives promise of a still more successful future, and the outlook must be eminently satisfactory to its members. He was pleased to receive the hearty greetings of his old friends,, with whom he had been associated for so many years in the service of the company.

Mr. David Bean, Mayor of Waterloo, complimented the board on their report of the business for the past year. The progress made is unprecedented, but just what might be expected when we consider there are three Cabinet Ministers on the board, and others capable of doing credit to the highest positions in the land. The head office staff, with whom he was personally well acquainted, comprising a body of indefatigable workers, whose equals it would be hard to find, while the agency staff cannot be surpassed by the agents of any company. Of Dr. Webb's ability too much cannot be said, as the low ratio of mortality the company has experienced shows conclusively that he and the medical examiners throughout the country exercise the greatest care in the examination and selection of the company's risks. He expressed regret that Dr. Webb's professional engagements prevented him from being present to reply to the resolution he now submitted, seconded by Mr. W. S. Hodgins, "that the thanks of this meeting be offered to Dr. J. H. Webb, Medical Director, and to the company's examiners throughout the Dominion, for the fidelity with which they have conserved the company's interests in the important matter of the selection of desirable risks during the past year."

On motion of Mr. Wm. Hendry, seconded by Mr. F. C. Bruce, Messrs. J. M. Scully, C.A., and A. J. Brewster were re-appointed auditors of the company for the ensuing year.

Messrs. Charles Ruby and W. J. Motz having been appointed scrutineers reported that Messrs. B. M. Britton, K.C., M.P., F. C. Bruce, M.P., J. K. Fisken and Geo. A. Somerville were re-elected directors of the company for the ensuing term of three years.

The business of the day having been brought to a close, "God Save the King" was sung, Burrows of Belleville leading, after which the meeting adjourned.

The directors met subsequently and re-elected Mr. Robert Melvin President, Mr. Alfred Hoskins, K.C., First Vice-President, and Mr. B. M. Britton, K.C., M.P., Second Vice-President of the company for the ensuing year.

MAUDE AND THE JUDGE.

The ex-judge sat in his rustic chair,
Dreaming of days when prospects were fair;

When he was a clerk in a grocery store,
Reading law at night for an hour or more.

Then politics gave him a playful nudge
And set him up on the bench as a judge.

While on his vacation one summer's day
He met Maude Muller at work in the hay.

Now, Maude was as shy as a turtle dove,
So the judge fell heels over head in love.

"Maude, dear," said he, "for pity's sake
Come, be my bride, and give up that rake!"

But Maudie answered and said, "Oh, no;
The chap for me is the man with the hoe."

Pulling off his coat, the judge said "See,
For your sake, Maude, I'll a farmer be."

So the lovesick judge gave up his job
And became a granger—alas! poor slob!

They married and bought a farm on time
And settled down to a life sublime.

For eighteen hours they toiled each day,
Trying the mortgage on the farm to pay.

This happened some forty-odd years ago,
But still the ex-judge wields the hoe

He is getting stiff in elbow and knee,
For he isn't as young as he used to be

But he often dreams of what might have been,
For the mortgage is bigger now than then.

GOOD THINGS TO LEARN

Learn to laugh. A good laugh is better than medicine.

Learn how to tell a story. A well-told story is as welcome as a sunbeam in a sick-room.

Learn to hide your aches and pains under a pleasant smile. No one cares whether you have the earache, headache or rheumatism.

Learn to attend to your own business. A very important point.

Learn to greet your friends with a smile. They carry too many frowns in their own hearts to be bothered with any of yours.

Society People.

A society woman—and a man for that matter—do a great many things imprudent for their health. Take the matter of dress, for instance, or rather the lack of dress, right over the most vital organ of the body—the lungs. A little cold results. The throat and bronchial tubes become congested and inflamed, and then the bacilli of consumption can start right away. Pneumonia or consumption results and that is another story if you don't take Powley's Liquified Ozone.

If society people would only take a good hot dose of Powley's Liquified Ozone before retiring they would have no cold. If they have pneumonia or consumption, they should take this preparation, because its antiseptic properties will almost invariably cure those diseases. Then the condensed oxygen builds up the system. Can you afford to be without Powley's Liquified Ozone?

Big Four Con. G.M.Co.

LIMITED

Mines one mile west of Rossland, directly west of the Le Roi No. 1 and Le Roi No. 2. Four properties. All Crown granted.

THE LeRoi No. 1 once sold for 2 cents and went to $45 per share; and the Le Roi No. 2 £5 shares went to £23, or $110 per share in a few months.

Our memorandum of association contains a provision, provided by Section 56 of the Companies Act, 1897, that the shares are issued as Fully Paid Up and Non Assessable, and that no further liability beyond the amount actually paid upon shares shall attach to the holders thereof. Capital $250,000.

Our properties are now proved (both above and below ground) to have the same continuous ore veins as the LeRoi Companies, and have the same identical ore and our shares are well worth TWENTY FIVE CENTS now, and will surely bring fifty cents. And we can, with a very small capital, develop our property to such an extent that it can also be placed on the London market, where it belongs—and small investors will make a good profit by buying now.

Our assays have averaged from $5 to $800 in gold, copper and silver and the shipping facilities are the best. The Great Northern Railway runs three times through the ground, three smelters close at hand, and reduced charges of $4.50 per ton for shipping and smelting, and we are now getting ready to start shipping ore.

Irrespective of the merits of the BIG FOUR, we have now over 570,000 shares in our treasury and free from all incumbrance. We are amongst the few local companies that has complied with the law in every particular, and we venture to say have

Prof. Sheets Dancing Classes

Prof. Sheets' dancing classes have been largely patronized, and marvellous progress have been made by the pupils. New classes are about to be formed, and these will be rapidly filled. Indeed, it is doubtful if the Professor will be able to accept all that desire to join his classes. Not only dancing is taught, but physical development is a leading feature of the exercises.

The Cosby Cup

On Thursday the Cosby Cup, which comes into possession of the Peterborough Hockey Club by reason of the Colts having won the junior championship of the Ontario Hockey Association, was received, and is now on exhibition in the window of Ormond & Walsh's drug store. The Cup was the first trophy presented to the Association, the late Lieut.-Col. Cosby, for two years president of the Association being the donor. It is now competed for in the junior series, and last year was held by the Stratford junior team. Upper Canada won the cup in '98, and St. George's in 1899. It is mounted on an ebony base and presents quite an attractive appearance.

A PAINFUL ACCIDENT

loved pastor of St Paul's Church was returning from Bethel, Otonabee, on Thursday night, he had the misfortune to break his leg.

Dr. Torrance has been assisting Mr. Crombie in a series of revival meetings at Bethel Church, Otonabee, and it was while returning from one of these meetings that the accident occurred. The Doctor was accompanied by Mr. Wm. Fowler, of town, and when about a mile on the way the horse plunged in the snow which was undermined by water. Dr. Torrance, thinking that an upset was eminent, jumped to save himself and in so doing he broke his leg as above stated. The roads coming home were quite rough and Dr. Torrance suffered considerable pain. On his arrival home medical aid was summoned, and the fracture set. He is now doing as well as can be expected.

MALT BREAKFAST FOOD

The Healthiest and Best of All Known Breakfast Cereals.

Malt Breakfast Food is the first practical and successful grain breakfast food made according to the recommendations of such famous British Food scientists as Sir Henry Thomson, Dr. J. Milner Fothergill and Prof. W. M. Williams. These three celebrated writers on "Dietetics" strongly recommend the use of Malt to increase the digestibility and the nutritive qualities of all grains used as foods.

British, American, French and German food experts are of opinion that in Malt Breakfast Food the highest degree of perfection has been reached as a health food for old and young.

Malt Breakfast Food combines in proper proportions the freshest and purest Malt and the choicest Wheat, the whole partially cooked and predigested, producing a muscle-building and bone-forming food of unequalled value. Rich in flavor, satisfying, easily digested and readily absorbed are the leading qualities of Malt Breakfast Food. Sold by all Grocers.

LIVELY LAKEFIELD LOCALS.

Brief Epitome of Events Transpiring in the Northern Village.

Everybody reads the Times.

—Capt. Rolly Griffin is shipping considerable timber these days.

—The Times correspondent made a mistake in stating that Prof. Sheets is conducting a private class in dancing and deportment at Mrs. Tate's.

—Who is to succeed Dr. Bell as Town Clerk? That's the question.

—Rev. Mr. Peer, of Norwood, delivered a lecture on "Mission Work at the Temiscamingue District" in the Baptist church on Monday evening.

—Messers. J. M. Kilbourn, R. C. Strickland, and Gerald Fitzgerald, Reeve, of Lakefield, were in Peterborough Monday, attending a meeting of the Trent Valley Canal Association.

—The medals for the winning rinks of the Lakefield Curling Club, donated by Mr. E. R. Tate, have been exhibited in Mr. Tanner's window for the last week. There are four, each a beautiful monogram, L.C.C., 14k gold, made by Ryrie Bros., Toronto.

—The council will hold a special meeting on Tuesday evening to appoint a new village clerk to succeed Dr. Bell. A number are making application for the position.

—There is little probability of the Canal being opened to Peterborough this season. The contract for putting in the piers and glance booms will not be completed until next fall.

—Will there be a steamboat war of rates this year? It looks that way a little just now.

—The man Shairp, who is in prison charged with the murder of Robert Hull is well known in Lakefield. The papers spell his name "Sharpe"; it should be "Shairp".

—Mr. P. W. C. Shewen, the popular and enterprising clerk of Burliegh, is building a saw mill at Julien's Landing. This will be a great convenience to the cottagers in Stony Lake, as well as to the settlers in Burliegh. Success to Mr Shewen, we say!

"BUNCOMBE."

It Don't Always Pay to be Skeptical.

When a newspaper writer and proof reader that works nights can feed himself out of dyspepsia, which most all that class suffer with, it is worth while to know the kind of food used.

This man is on one of the Rockford, Ill., papers, and says, "Being a newspaper writer and proof reader, also a graduate in medicine as well, though not practicing, makes a combination that would produce a skeptic on the subject if anything would.

Day after day I read the proof on the Grape-Nuts Food advertisements with the feeling that they were all 'buncombe'. All this time I was suffering with dyspepsia from the improper food I was eating at the restaurant. One day I saw a package of Grape-Nuts at the restaurant and tried it with good, rich cream. The dish took my fancy at once. After a few lunches at midnight I noted an improvement in my feelings, and was able to work with less fatigue.

I have used Grape-Nuts as a regular diet since then, and have improved greatly. The old dyspepsia and bad feelings that I thought were necessary adjuncts to night work all disappeared, and I am able to do much more with less effort than ever before.

I was nearly ready to give up night work and seek health in some other walk in life, but thanks to my change in diet I am now all right."

Please do not use my name in public. Name can be given by Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

PIMPLES

We talk about them for their removal.

We talk about them at this time more than we do at any other because, for various reasons, they are more common in the Spring than in other seasons.

You can get rid of them, but you must cleanse your system, thoroughly.

You can't get rid of them any other way.

Hood's Sarsaparilla thoroughly cleanses the system, cures pimples and all other eruptions, makes the complexion clear and wholesome, corrects all run-down Spring conditions, and builds up the whole system.

"My sister and I have been in the habit of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla in the Spring and we find it works wonders. It relieves that tired feeling, purifies the blood, clears the complexion and makes us feel better in every way. I believe it to be a duty to speak in praise of so beneficial a remedy." ERNEL REMPF, 509 East Espenschild St., South St. Louis, Mo.

Accept No Substitute for Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Dr. Von Stan's Pineapple Tablets.—Medical science by accident discovered the potency of the pineapple as a panacea for stomach troubles. The immense percentage of vegetable pepsin contained in the fruit makes it an almost indispensable remedy in cases of dyspepsia and indigestion. One tablet after each meal will cure most chronic cases. 60 in a box, 35 cents.—32

Liberal Convention

The Liberals of East Peterborough will meet at Norwood this afternoon to select a candidate for the Legislature in opposition to Dr. Ford. It is said that Mr. Belzard, who has for about a quarter of a century represented the riding, will not again be a candidate, in which case the choice will probably fall on Mr. Wm. Anderson, of Otonabee, ex-Warden.

One Of His Majesty's Ontario Officials.

He is Freed from the Terrors and Dangers of Dyspepsia By

Paine's Celery Compound

He Speaks of Years of Failures With Other Medicines.

His Happy Experience With

Paine's Celery Compound

COMPELS HIM TO RECOMMEND IT TO OTHERS.

Now is the time, if ever, to banish dyspepsia, indigestion and health-destroying stomach troubles. During this month nothing should interefere with the work of toning the weak nerves of the stomach and giving strength to the various organs of digestion, so that the whole digestive machinery may work harmoniously. After Paine's Celery Compound has begun the good work, food will enrich the blood, make bone, build muscle, and physical vigor and strength will increase from day to day.

Paine's Celery Compound is the only remedy that can give a guarantee of striking directly at the root of all stomach and digestive troubles, and give a permanent cure. Read the testimony of a prominent Ontario gentleman, Mr. John MacKenzie, one of His Majesty's Justices of the Peace, and Clerk of the Township of Sarawak and Brooke, Ont.:

"You will think me ungrateful in not sooner acknowledging to you my entire cure from dyspepsia through the use of Paine's Celery Compound; but when I tell you that I suffered all the tortures of dyspepsia for five years, and during that time having taken most of the great remedies advertised as the only sure cure for the horrible complaint with little or no benefit, I was determined to be cured before I would be satisfied. Some of the great remedies would give me a little relief while I was taking them, but as soon as I stopped them I was as bad as ever.

"When I commenced taking Paine's Celery Compound I fully expected the same results, as my confidence in all patent medicines was shaken; but from the first dose of the compound I felt better, and after taking two bottles I thought I was completely cured, but to make the cure certain I took four bottles more. It is now over two years since I took the last dose, and have not had the least symptom of the disease in any way. When suffering from dyspepsia I could not look a hog in the face; now pork and beans is my favorite dish. I can from my own blessed experience, recommend Paine's Celery Compound as a sure cure and a very pleasant medicine to take."

A GREAT HYPNOTIST.

Wonderful Performance of Pauline, Nightly at the Opera House.

For several nights past, Pauline, the great hypnotist, has been entertaining large and appreciative audiences at the Opera House. Last night, he wsa, as usual, greeted with a full house. Throughout, he proved himself to be the peer of any mind-reader ever seen in Peterborough. Being a young and sturdy man, he performed many tests that a man more advanced in years could not be expected to do, owing to the wear upon the system from the strain put upon it.

The first part consisted of mind-reading tests, in which Pauline successfully found many articles secreted about the audience. The most remarkable of his feats was the return of rings to ladies seated at different parts of the hall, entirely without contact with his committeemen, mental telepathy, in fact scientifically applied. He received round upon round of applause as he detected the persons owning the articles.

Never could an audience be said to have been more truly convulsed with laughter than when the hypnotic tests were given. Pauline used many new and novel methods to edify and entertain his audience, that have not been previously attempted. Beyond one or two of the simplest ones, they were entirely new and original and caused roars of laughter as the subjects went through their ridiculous and normally impossible manoeuvres.

Perhaps the most wonderful feature of all the entertainments was the hypnotic statuary. It must be seen to be appreciated.

Columns of space could be devoted to an elaboration of the entertainments and then hardly do the subject justice, but suffice it to say they were all and more than could be expected, and should Pauline ever conclude to return to this city it is safe to say a real welcome will be accorded him.

THE NORTHERN LIFE.

Wonderful Progress Made by This Young and Progressive Company.

The Northern Life Assurance Company of Canada, the annual report of which appears elsewhere, is one of the young and progressive financial institutions of which we all may well feel proud. The Company has made phenomenal progress since its organization, four years ago, the operations for the last year being more than ordinarily successful.

Peterborough district, including the counties of Peterborough, Victoria and part of Durham, is under the superintendence of Mr. Joseph Mills, of Peterborough, who is well and favorably known to most of our readers. The splendid reputation of the Northern Life for liberal dealings, together with its admirable schemes of insurance, based on modern lines, makes the work of the agent comparatively easy. Mr. Mills has a fertile field, notwithstanding the great competition that exists, and one that will furnish an enormous amount of business in process of time.

A perusal of the report will show how rapidly the Company is extending its business, and how satisfactorily this is being done. As Mr. Purdon, the Vice-President, modestly stated, "if the same persistent and intelligent work in building up the Company's business was continued in the future as had been given in the past, the profits which both policy-holders and the shareholders would receive, should be satisfactory."

Mr. Mills has a few vacancies in his district for reliable agents, to whom he will offer most liberal terms.

British Critic Thinks His Shower of Dollars Might Have Been Put to a Much Better Use

Libraries May Be Useful But Will Not Touch Basis of Public Welfare—Public Health and Morality the Most Important Things

London, March 25.—Inspired by the philanthropic presence of Andrew Carnegie, England's critical features are directed for the moment to the ethics of munificience the American steel king has laid down. There is admiration of but only semi-approval for his plans, viewed from the standpoint of charity. Students of scientific benefaction like Mr. Charles Stewart Loch, England's great exponent of organized charity, reflect the popular British belief when they suggest that Mr. Carnegie would make his millions count more for the general good by endowing hospitals than by founding libraries.

Mr. Loch who is secretary of the London Charity Organization Society, thinks that the millionarie Scotsman's insistence on municipal maintenance funds in the case of the libraries he proposes to establish materially detracts from their philanthropic character.

Speaking to a correspondent yesterday Mr. Loch said,— "As I understand Mr. Carnegie's proposal, he wishes to promote the endowment of knowledge and research. A test question may be applied to his proposition for endowment—namely, whether or not the suggested endowment promotes the ability and energy of the people. It seems clear that a library, properly managed, and made available for the practical and scientific purposes of a community, should tend to increase the ability and resourcefulness of that community, especially if it is so managed as to meet the constantly changing demands of the day, as science grows.

"Books are so expensive, especially books of reference, to a large number of readers, that they must remain luxuries unless placed within their reach through public or other libraries.

AS TO INSTRUMENTS.

"The same argument applies, but still more conclusively, to the instruments necessary for a scientific education, such as that afforded by technical schools. The utility of public libraries will, of course, depend on the elementary education furnished by the State, and also on the completeness of secondary education, in connection with which good libraries should prove of the highest use.

"I take it for granted that it is understood that the up-keep of the libraries, in order to serve real education and scientic needs, might entail considerable annual expenditure from local taxation. That touches on an important question, which should have some clear settlement, if Mr. Carnegie's proposals are to be strictly carried out.

"In a word. Mr. Carnegie believes he can distribute his wealth to the best advantages by sharpening the wits of the people ; but one cannot help regretting he has not started at the bottom, so to speak, and attempted in some way or other to ameliorate and brighten the rudimentary conditions from which their wits spring.

"I am far from desiring to decry the magnificent potentialities of books and schools, yet public health, public morality, the foundation stones of public prosperity, seem inevitably underlying principles."

DEVASTATION OF MODERN WAR

Invading Armies Show No Mercy When Destroying Military Stores

(Special to The Times.)

Washington, March 23.—It was reported a few days ago that General Kitchener, in discussing terms of peace, had promised to rebuild the burned farmhouses and restock the devastated farms of the Boers. Should such a promise be faithfully kept, the most extraordinary event in the history of war will go on record. So far as we know, and we think there is no possibility of error in the statement, no such thing has ever been done or even considered before. The proposition is so generous and unprecedented that it is almost too much to hope that it will be carried out.

The Telegraph says: No such policy was pursued for the benifit of individual sufferers at the hands of the invading armies during our civil war. In the "Rebellion Records" at Washington, according to the Richmond Dispatch, there is a report of Sheridan to Grant, date of Oct. 7, 1864, in which the former, discussing his operations in the valley of Virginia, declares that on account of the "murder" of Lieutenant Meigs he burned all the "houses" within an area of five miles around the Town of Dayton, and further says: "I have destroyed over 2,000 barns filled with wheat and hay and farming implements, over seventy mills filled with wheat flour, have driven in front of the army four herds of stock, and have killed and issued to the troops not less than 3,000 sheep." According to the report of the local committee appointed to estimate the losses sustained in the single County of Rockingham, he burned thirty dwelling-houses, 450 barns, and thirty-one mills; he destroyed 100,000 bushels of wheat, 50,000 bushels of corn, and 6,233 tons of hay; and carried off 1,750 cattle, 1,750 horses, 4,200 sheep, and 3,350 hogs.

The desolation left behind him was so complete that, as he himself said, a crow crossing the region would have to carry rations or starve. The sufferers, and these included practically the entire population, were not only not reimbursed for their losses but never expected or asked to be. Such a thing was never thought of by anybody, and least of all by the conquerors. We are confident, therefore, that General Kitchener's proposition is unprecedented.

YOUNG PEOPLES MEETING

Interesting Address Last Night by Miss Carson, of New York

There was a large attendance at the union meeting of Young People's Societies in St. Paul's church last night, when Miss Carson, of New York, delivered a most interesting address, taking for her text the words from I Chron., xxiii, 10, "Take heed now . . . be strong and good." Miss Carson was recently domiciled in the "College Settlement" an institution that does missionary work among the very poor in New York city. She related affecting occurrences that came within her experience. The young lady is an earnest exhorter, and has made a very favorable impression in Peterborough. She is travelling in Canada under the auspices of the Young Women's Christian Association.

On Friday evening next Mr. Crombie, the well known evangelist, will deliver an illustrated Gospel address in St. Paul's to which all are invited.

FILIPINO REVOLT IN PANAY ENDED.

Practically All of the Rebels Surrender and Give up Their Rifles.

CIVIL RULE FOR THE NEGROS

Present Native Government to be Remodeled on the Luzon Plan. Soldier Sailing for Home

Bacolod, Negros, P. I. March 26.—During the present week there has been an almost thorough collapse of the Visayan insurrection. There have been 800 surrenders in Leyte, and the insurgent commander, General Fullon, in Panay handed in 180 rifles yesterday. Besides this, Dioeno, the insurgent leader in the Island of Panay, who was wounded and captured, has sent orders to his subordinates to surrender their arms. This practically ends the disturbances in the Island of Panay.

The Philipine commission to-day carefully explained to the citizens the method by which it was proposed to adjust the provincial civil government law to the unusual conditions here, where the people have had a Territorial or State government for twenty-one months.

The task is an easy one, however, as the inhabitants have been saddled with a popularly elected but unscrupulous native civil Governor. They now have the greatest confidence in the Americans, who, under General Smith and Colonel Miner, have united and harmonized the various factions.

President Taft of the commission to-day expressed the opinion that a permanent central government would be established four months from now, when all the provinces would be organized.

Volunteers Sail For Home

Manila, March 26.—The transport Grant, which sailed to-day for San Francisco, carried 31 officers and 891 men of the Twenty-ninth Volunteer Infantry. When the regiment arrived here there were 50 officers and 1,380 men. Of this number 32 were killed in action or died and 16 officers and 198 men remain behind.

The Thirty-second Infantry, which is also returning, originally had 48 officers and 642 men are returning to the United States, and 21 officers and 193 men remain behind. Fifty-two members of the regiment have been killed or have died of their wounds. The remainder are absent on sick leave or have been discharged.

The Twelfth company of the Twenty-sixth Regiment also sailed to-day.

Ends Revolt, Says MacArthur

Washington, D. C. March 26.—General MacArthur at Manila, under date of March 22, cables the War department as follows:

"Hughes reports surrender of Fullon and command, Antique, Province of Panay, with 180 rifles. This ends the insurrection in Panay."

QUEENSTOWN FEARS AN ATTACK BY BOERS

Town Guard Called Out Owing to Reports of a Force of Boers at Hand

Queenstown, Cape Colony, March 25.—The town guard here has been called out, owing to reports that a force of Boers is near the town. Business has been shut down in order to allow the employes to man the trenches, and the forts day and night. The Boers, said to be twenty miles off, are alleged to have crossed the railroad near Drummond.

FORTY-FIVE BOERS KILLED.

London, March 20.—The fight between the British and Scheeper's commando of Boer invaders in the Jansenville district, about 125 miles north of Port Elizabeth, proved most disastrous to the burghers, according to reports received here. Forty-five dead Boers were found on the veldt, in addition to some twenty wounded. The Boers were constantly under a hot fire and gun fire.

DELAREY SHORT OF FOOD.

Boer Commandant Delary, now operating against Col. Cunningham in the Western Transvaal, is evidently hard pressed for foodstuffs, as he is constantly attacking convoys with supplies for the British.

WHAT FOURIE LEFT BEHIND.

A despatch from Bloemfontein Orange River Colony, says that Boer Commandant Fourie, who was last reported as surrounded near Thabanchu, has broken through to the south. He left 200 prisoners, 5,000 horses and 110,000 sheep behind him.

OTHER CONVOYS ATTACKED.

Four hundred Boers under the Boer Commander Beiyo wrecked a supply train north of Vlaaklaagte, overpowered the escort and carried off several wagon loads of provisions.

Still another convoy, one destined to join Gen. French's column, has been attacked between Blood River and Scheeper's Nek, Transvaal Colony, and one of the escort killed.

FIGHTING AT KLERKSDORP.

A Cape Town despatch states that heavy fighting took place on Friday, March 22, between the British and Boers at Martebreatfontein, east of Klerksdorp, Transvaal.

THE MIKADO GIVES WARNING TO RUSSIA

Japan Notifies Powers That Aggression on Corea Will be Opposed

WAITING TO SEE TREATY

Czar's Secret Agreement With China Concerning Manchuria Excites Uneasiness

TALKS OF THE PROSPECT OF WAR

London Statist Declares it is Idle to Deny That Danger Lies in Present Complications England Willing to Arbitrate

London, March 26.—Japan has notified the powers directly interested in the far East of her determination to oppose at all costs any secret agreement or treaty between China and Russia by which the latter is given special advantages in the Manchurian territory contiguous to the Corean Peninsula.

The news has caused no little uneasiness in official circles, an uneasiness which is increased by the persistent refusal of the Russian Foreign office to throw any light on the alleged Manchurian treaty.

Waiting to See Treaty

Discussing the treaty, the secretary of the Japanese Legation in London has made the following statement:

"While rejoicing at the fact that England and Russia have reached a pacific settlement over the minor issue, the main question—the integrity of the Chinese empire—remains unsettled. In response to pressure brought by Japan upon Russia, it was announced that Russia's secret treaties with China had been modified, but the terms have been with-held. Until we see the treaties we will not be satisfied that the modification does not consist of words merely without any alteration in the spirit. In this contention we believe other powers will support us."

The situation in the Orient is discussed by a member of the diplomatic corps, who says:

"All Japan wants is a free hand against Russia. This she has got, so far as England and Germany are concerned. If Japan sees nothing for it but to fight she would have the moral support of objections committed to paper by at least two of the powers against secret treaties with China. That is all; but Japan seems to consider it sufficient to provide against interference."

Statist Discusses War

It is significant that the Statist today editorially discusses the possibility of war between Russia and Japan. That paper says:

"It is idle to deny that there is danger of complications. Nevertheless we think peace will be preserved and trust that Russia will give satisfaction to Japan and Cora, thus removing the danger of a rupture."

While holding these views the Statist devotes a column of its financial news to considering how a Russo-Japanese war would affect the money markets. It says that Russian securities would fall in Paris, which would possibly be able to sell a fair amount of them in New York. After this prices would largely depend upon the course of the war and whether other countries took part.

The British government has received no official confirmation that the Japanese fleet is mobilizing, but it would not be surprised to learn that such were the facts.

England Willing to Arbitrate

It appears that Great Britain would be quite willing to refer the whole Manchurian matter to arbitration on the lines of The Hague conference. The Tien Tsin siding affair is not considered important enough to be disposed of in this way, and it will immediately become a matter of diplomatic interchange between St. Petersburg and London.

Says Japan Must Prepare

Yokohama, March 26.—The Japanese press when discussing the Manchurian convention recognizes the difficulties of Germany's position, and admits that whatever Japan does she must be prepared for war.

The government of Corea, according to advices from Seoul, announces the appointment of Ministers to various foreign countries. It is understood that this is what a view to securing foreign influence to avert any attack upon the integrity of the peninsula.

As a result of the conference between the two Houses of Parliament regarding the financial proposals of the government the budget has been adopted.

We received a very interesting little pamphlet entitled, "The game fields of Ontario", by Mr. James Dickson, Ontario Land Surveyor, Fenelon Falls. The work is specially valuable to sportsmen, showing, as it does, that Ontario is literally the sportsman's paradise. The author gives some very valuable information regarding the area of the Province, as well as other interesting information.

THE TIMES LETTERBOX

The Norwood-Apsley Railway.

(Editor Morning Times)

Sir,—I have read with much interest your report of meetings in connection with the Norwood and Apsley Railway, and was struck by the remarks attributed to the Rev. J. C. Davidson surprised indeed by the opinion he has formed of this back country surprised, as, so far as I am informed, that the rev. gentleman has not spent more than a few days in this locality. A hasty drive through a country does not give much opportunity of judging. I think Mr. Davidson must have based his opinion on the view presented by the Burleigh rocks, which he accurately describes. They are but the entrance to a large and valuable territory.

I have spent forty years in these backwoods farming and lumbering—in Hastings, Haliburton and Peterborough Counties. In Hastings County I have grown oats seven feet high in the straw, I have counted the grains from one bunch—one seed "stooled out," as it is called and there were 108 grains on one occasion. While there, a neighbor passed. I said to him, "I think I have two tons to the acre," he replied, "You have nearer three tons." In Haliburton County I have raised oats at the rate of seventy bushels to the acre. Another year my main crop of oats yielded a bushel for every pound sown. I grew fall wheat which gave 13 bushels for every 12 stooks—twelve sheaves to the stook. I grew white turnips so large that they would not go into a common wooden pail. I had clover so rank that it was hard work to swing a sythe through it. In this neighborhood, Apsley, Peterborough County—I have done but little farming, but I have had oats which people coming from a distance have declared to be the best they had seen, and I have seen many good crops. The wheat grown here was said by the late miller to be of better quality than that grown in adjoining counties.

Allow me a little more space to speak of timber of various kinds: of pine and hemlock we are pretty cleanly stripped but of various hardwoods—furniture, coach-builders', etc. woods—there is an abundance. I have seen within six miles of this village red birch trees, that a mill, within reasonable distance of a market, would be well worth ten dollars each; fine, well-grown maples, basswood, black ash, tamarac, soft maple, etc., etc. I have burnt "bird's eye" maple more beautiful than what I have known sold in England at half a crown a foot—3 inch stuff.

Another branch of farming which a railway would encourage and help very much is stock raising, for which this country is very suitable. Now it takes two days to get beeves or sheep to Peterborough. Beyond the expense of driving there is the loss which cattle are liable to by being so driven. By railway they would go in half a day and lose nothing. Once more a demand would arise here for artificial manures, now the freight is more than the cost.

But why must Apsley go to Norwood. Peterborough is our county town. One speaker stated that the increase of Norwood would add to Peterborough! It will detract from Peterborough. Norwood will soon build up to supply all demands. There is a railway now from Peterborough ten miles towards Apsley; why not take advantage of that? Connect with it directly or indirectly.

Any one driving from Lakefield to Apsley will be aghast at the hills he will have to climb, but I have the authority of two mail drivers for saying that they nearly all can be avoided.

PHILIP HARDING.

Apsley, March 23.

The Diptheria Outbreak.

(Editor Morning Times)

Sir,—When an epidemic of diphtheria prevails in any place, it is natural for people to ask what has caused it? and many people think that a medical man should be able to point definately to the cause of the first case, and also that he should be able to trace with mathematical precision, the origin of every other case of the disease which occurs. But in many instances this task is impossible, and the physician is often forced to adopt the opinion of classical writers on this subject, when they say, that the outbreak follows the general law of epidemics.

I have carefully examined all the schools where diptheria has made its appearance, and as far as I could make out, those schools are in a good sanitary condition.

Some [illegible] blame the Smead-Dowd system [illegible] the trouble, and as I am not a sanitary engineer, I will not speak dogmatically on that matter; but one may say that if the system has caused diptheria now, why did it not cause that disease in other years? In reasoning from analogy in this way, it would seem that the suspicion against the Smead-Dowd system is not valid. There is no doubt but schools are disseminators of infectious diseases, for if one infectious pupil enters a school there is no telling how far the disease may spread. I have visited most of the houses where diptheria has made its appearance, and the people seem to appreciate the necessity of strict sanitary measures. I have also examined the water in many instances, and have found nothing in it prejudicial to health.

The Streptococcus microbe, which causes diptheria, is found in bad water, in foul gas from a sewer, or from an ill kept privy, also in decaying animal and vegetable substances in dirty cellars. It is well known too, that children some times get diptheria from dogs and cats by inhaling their breath, and it is not uncommon for a mother to toss a cat or a small dog to the baby to play with it. Nothing could be more dangerous, and at the present time as there is an outbreak of infectious diseases all over the country, people should, for their own safety, observe every sanitary measure with the utmost fidelity. I don't think any one can say definately what has originated the present outbreak.

J. BINGHAM,
Medical Health Officer.

Resolution of Condolence

At the meeting of the Carpenter's Union last night, the following resolution of condolence was adopted:

"To John Taylor Esq.

"We your fellow members of International Carpenter's Union, No. 672, desire to express our sincere sympathy for yourself and family in the bereavement you have suffered through the death of your only daughter. May the faith that "She is not dead but sleepeth" sustain you, and support the stricken mother in her great sorrow

Signed in behalf of Carpenter's Union No. 672.

Secretary.

CHINA HAS TILL TO-DAY TO CONSIDER IT

If the Chinese Do Not Sign Away Manchuria by To-day Russia Will Break off Negotiations

The Allies are Very Much Disturbed Over the Problem of Keeping Order in the Imperial City—Who Will Join on the Pekin Police Force

Pekin, March 25. The Foreign Ministers seem utterly unable to agree as to the best method of policing the legation quarters. The proposition most favored by the majority, and most complained of by the minority, provides that men of the regular armies shall be detailed for the service under one officer connected with the allies.

United States Special Commissioner Rockhill is one of those who object to this plan, as is also the British Minister, Sir Ernest Satow, who says that though an international force is desirable, it would be better that the police detail should be composed of soldiers not liable to be called away when most useful. It is also undesirable, he thinks, that the commandant should be an officer actively connected with any army, while the intention to make each legation practically an armed camp is a great mistake, and is liable to cause friction; and it would be far better to make a general international district.

The Home Ministers are seriously considering the advisability of asking the Government to reconsider the decision in favor of big legation guards, as being liable not only to keep the court from returning to Pekin, but also as a continual source of danger in the dealings with the Chinese. They say it would be impossible to keep the guards entirely within the legation quarters, as Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang insist to agree to this would, make it impossible to guarantee order, especially when the Chinese troops shall have returned to Pekin. One drunken soldier outside the foreign settlement, they say, might cause another war.

The time which the Russians have given the Chinese to sign the Manchurian agreement expires on Tuesday, and should the agreement not be signed then Russia will break off the negotiations. The agreement practically annexes Manchuria.

Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang consulted this morning, but did not decide either to sign the convention, or appeal to the powers.

On behalf of China, Li Hung Chang desires to express gratitude to America for her position in the matter.

The attitude of M. De Giers, the Russian Minister, at the meeting of the foreign representatives, is embarrassing, and causes considerable annoyance. He either refuses to agree with the other Ministers or holds apart entirely.

A committee will consider the question of China's ability as regards indemnity, and the most practical methods for guaranteeing payment of indemnity to the powers.

It is thought not likely, on account of Sir Robert Hart's increasing age and the gradual approach of feebleness, that he will continue long in charge of the Imperial Customs on behalf of the powers.

The bodies of Captain Riley, and seven enlisted men, which had been buried at the American legation were removed to the Temple of Agriculture this morning with military honors, General Chaffee, and his entire staff accompanying the remains. The body of an American marine buried at the Russian legation will be removed on Tuesday with the same honors. The bodies will leave on board the transport Egbert for the United States about the middle of April.

The signal corps have completed all arrangements, and is awaiting transportation to Manilla.

RAISING THE INDEMNITY.

Berlin, March 25. A despatch from Pekin to the Colonge Gazette, dated Sunday, March 24, says that at the first formal meeting of the Committee on In*demnity held in Pekin, Sunday, it* was decided to invite Sir Robert Hart director of the Chinese Imperial Maritime Customs; Mgr. Favier, Vicar-Apostolic at Pekin; and other experts, financial and otherwise, to submit proposals on their best methods for raising the amount of indemnity to be demanded from China.

DELAREY DEFEATED BY GEN. BABINGTON

The Boer General Routed and Many of His Men and Guns Captured

London, March 25.

The War Office has received the following despatch from Lord Kitchener: Pretoria, March 25.—Babington's force including Shekelton's column attacked Delarey fifteen hundred strong southwest of Ventersdorp, and having defeated him, followed him up rapidly, with the result that the Boers' rear guard was driven in, and their convoy including the guns captured at Vaalbank. Our troops displayed great gallantry and dash. They captured two fifteen pounder guns, one pompom, six maxims, 320 rounds of big ammunition, 15 rounds of small ammunition, 160 rifles, 53 wagons, and 24 carts, besides taking 140 prisoners. Our losses were slight. Many Boers were killed or wounded.

Cape Town, March 25.

It is said the Boers lost very heavily in attacking the garrison at Lichtenburg, last week. Upwards of seventy burgers are reported to have been shot at one shot among the wire entanglements.

A Fearful Tornado

Birmingham Ala. March, 25.

Shortly before 10 o'clock this morning a fearful tornado swept over the southern section of this city, traveling in an easterly direction. The number killed is estimated at 25; only five of them are white. The destruction of property is placed at a quarter of a million dollars. Eighteen bodies have been recovered from the debris up to dark, and scores of injured have been removed to the hospitals.

To Address the House

London, March 25.

Sir Robert Reid to-day laid upon the table of the House of Commons a petition from Messrs. Merriman and Sauer, respectively the former treasurer of Cape Colony, and former commissioner of Public Works of Cape Colony, asking for permission to address the House with respect to the peace settlement in South Africa, especially against the establishment of a Crown Colony form of government. The petitioners have dropped the idea of protesting against annexation.

THE ROYAL PARTY HAS ARRIVED AT MALTA

Met by a Flotilla and Escorted Into the Harbor at Valetta

Malta, March 25.—The steamer Ophir, bearing the Duke and the Duchess of Cornwall on their tour of the world, arrived here this morning. The warships in the harbor were manned and dressed. In Valleta great crowds filled the terraces and the ramparts commanding the harbor. The Ophir was met 18 miles out by a flotilla of 10 torpedo-boat destroyers, and entered the harbor amid salvos of artillery from St Angelo, the citadel, the forts, and the warships.

After receiving the oficials the Duke and the Duchess landed and drove to Porto Reals and thence to the palace. The balconies along the route were filled with cheering spectators. The entire distance from the landing-place to the palace was brightly decorated and lined with troops and bluejackets.

Edison's Process on Iron Ore

New York, March 25.—Apropos of the discussion of the organization of a combination of steel manufacturers of Great Britain to resist the operations of the United States Steel Corporation, various statements have been published during the last few days relating to the acquisition of extensive iron ore deposits in Norway and the effect which the working of such deposits by Edison's new crushing and magnetic extraction processes may have on the English and American markets.

The chairman of the Edison Ore Milling Syndicate now admits that the Sunderland iron ore deposits in Norway have been acquired, but he adds that as it is eighteen months since they got the option it must be obvious that the acquisition of the property cannot be regarded as a counter blast to the securing of the principal North American iron deposits by the United States Steel Corporation.

It is claimed by the syndicate that they are now enabled to take two tons of low grade non-bessemer ore, and by combined Edison processes produce from it over one ton of high grade bessemer ore averaging 66 per cent. of metallic iron. It is the intention of the syndicate to erect works and ship this ore exclusively to British ironmasters, there being already a market for it at superior prices.

There was a young fellow named Sloan
Whose voice had a sad, hollow moan,
But a Times Ad.—a tonic
That makes happiness chronic—
So changed it he scarce thinks it his own.

There was a young fellow named Lynch,
Who had long known poverty's pinch,
Since the Times Ads he tried
He says with much pride,
That for getting a job they're a cinch.

Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, MARCH 26 1901

This paper is the only Morning Daily published between Toronto and Ottawa, and is largely read through out Eastern Ontario.

Strangers visiting Peterborough are cordially invited to make their headquarters at the Times Office, where they will be provided with writing material.

The Times is a member of the Associated Press, and receives telegraphic news each morning up to four o'clock.

The Times will be sent to subscribers in the district at 25c per month, and to outside points at $5 per year. Strictly in advance.

BEET SUGAR CALCULATIONS

The Hamilton Times takes a rather conservative view of the setting up of a beet sugar factory in that city. One of the first wants is 3,000,000 gallons of water per day for the three months of the year while the factory is running. The Hamilton water-works could not pump up this extra quantity.

Another problem, says our contemporary, is "to convince the farmer that with persistent effort and experience he will find sugar beets a surer and more profitable crop than many others." The greatest problems of the industry are in the field rather than the factory, in finding soil suitable to grow beets rich in saccharine, in the tillage, manuring and care to bring the crop to success, etc.

Two years ago a Scotch sugar manufacturer, Mr. Stewart, went to London, Ontario, with the intention of starting a factory. He would furnish all the money, and take away all the output to Glasgow. All that he wanted was to get the farmers to grow beets. But he found the task hopeless. The farmers would not take hold of the matter, except under specific contract, and Mr. Stewart went home again.

In studying out the situation in Ontario on the basis of what is done in Michigan, one prime factor has so far been left out of the discussion. We have not seen it touched upon by any of the speakers or writers. It is the relative prices of "fine granulated" there and here. In Detroit on March 21 the price quoted was $6.25 per 100 lbs. In Buffalo, March 20, the price current was $5.40. The difference is in the freightage, whether paid or unpaid. In New York on March 20 the quoted price was $5.25. On March 21 the Montreal quotation was $4.63 per 100 lbs. In general Canadian sugar is 75c or 80c lower than American. The reasons for this difference are that the U.S. tariff is so much higher, being 1 1-2 per lb., as compared with 5-8c per lb. in Canada; and that the sugar market has been so far controlled by the trust, against which the beet sugar factories have not as yet made much headway. As they multiply, and increase the production, these factories will either be absorbed by the trust or the price will be cut to competitive rates, as in this country.

In figuring out the prospects of the beet sugar industry in Ontario, these facts should be kept in view, as any figures based on the high price of the finished product in Michigan would be misleading as applied to this province. It is the price of sugar in Canada, at a rate at least 80c below that of the United States, that is the true basis of calculation.

EDITORIAL NOTES

That story of peace from South Africa is evidently distorted. Other tales besides the British lion's can be twisted there.

If advancing civilization is going to make man hairless with its consequence dethronement of the barber, that gentleman one of these days may have good reason to talk.

—Mr. John Hore was the guest last week of his sister, Mrs. (Capt.) Harris.

—Misses Maud and Winnie Neill, Mrs. Findlay and Mrs. Latter, Grand Valley and Mrs. Hutson, Victoria Harbor, have been at home, called here by the death of their father, Mr. Charles Neill Sr., whose death occured on Monday of last week. The funeral took place on Thursday to the Plainville burying ground, and was very largely attended, the cortege extending over half a mile.

—Mrs. W. S. Herald entertained a number of friends at a progressive crokinole party last Wednesday evening.

—A number of people from South Monaghan attended service at St. George's on Sunday evening.

—The village school was closed on Monday owing to the indisposition of the teacher.

BUCKHORN.

—Buckhorn is booming. Our new saw-mill is busy every day. The joint Stock Co. is preparing to build a cheese factory here. The prospects for the tourist trade looks very bright for the coming season.

—Mr. Thos. Eastwood, our popular hotel man, has built a large addition to his hotel, and four new cottages. He is the kind of a man we like to see.

—Mr. Frank Lont and Thos. Edgar, were here a few days ago on their way to Lovesick and Burleigh. Mr. Edgar was making arrangements for supplying the hotels on the lower lakes with fresh meat for the coming season. Mr. Edgar had no trouble in making arrangements, as he gave complete satisfaction last season.

—Everybody in this neighborhood reads the Times.

Prof. Sheets Dancing Classes

Prof. Sheets' dancing classes have been largely patronized, and marvellous progress have been made by the pupils. New classes are about to be formed, and these will be rapidly filled. Indeed, it is doubtful if the Professor will be able to accept all that desire to join his classes. Not only dancing is taught, but physical development is a leading feature of the exercises.

His Terrible Cough.

Few things are so depressing and weakening as a constant cough. Few things are as discouraging as a cough that will not yield to treatment. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures coughs when all other medicines fail, because it is more than a cough medicine. The cough is but a symptom. "Discovery" makes new and pure blood, heals the lacerated tissues, and gives the body the needed strength to throw off disease. It cures the cough by curing the cause of the cough. There is no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine, nor other narcotic in the "Discovery."

"I had a terrible cough something over a year ago and could find nothing to stop it, or even to do me a particle of good," writes Mr. J. M. Farr, of Cameron, Screven Co., Ga. "I chanced to see an advertisement of yours, and forthwith bought a bottle of your invaluable 'Golden Medical Discovery.' Before I had taken half a bottle I was entirely well."

—Miss Cora Montgomery, of Buckhorn is visiting friends in the village.

Who will be Town Clerk? The question will be settled by the Council tomorrow evening.

Mr. George Henderson, of South Africa fame, is to make his home here in future. He proposes to take over the furniture business, heretofore conducted by his father.

—There is a great scarcity of houses in the village at present. It is only a matter of time until Lakefield will outrival Peterborough.

—We regret to record a distressing and serious accident which happened last week to Mr. John Balsdon, an employee of the Strickland Canoe Co. Whilst engaged in fitting in the circle band of the deck of a canoe, Mr. Balsdon's knife slipped and the blade entered his abdomen inflicting a deep and very severe wound. We are glad to learn however, that no serious consequences are feared, and that Mr. Baldson is progressing favourably towards recovery.

—Many of Mr. F. Barlee's old friends in the village and vicinity will be glad to learn that he is doing well in the Klondyke. The Chicago Tribune is a newspaper for bright and intelligent people. It is made up to attract people who think.

Is not neutral or colorless, constantly trimming in an endeavor to please both sides, but it is independent in the best sense of the word.

It has pronounced opinions and is fearless in expressing them, but it is always fair to its opponents.

Matters of national or vital public interest get more space in THE TRIBUNE than in any other paper in the West.

For these reasons it is the newspaper you should read during the forthcoming political campaign.

THE TRIBUNE'S financial columns never mislead the public.

Its facilities for gathering news, both local and foreign, are far superior to those of any other newspaper in the West.

It presents the news in as fair a way as possible, and lets its readers form their opinions.

While it publishes the most comprehensive articles on all news features, if you are busy the "Summary of THE DAILY TRIBUNE" published daily on the first page gives you briefly all the news of the day within one column.

Its sporting news is always the best, and its Sunday Pink Sporting Section is better than any sporting paper in the country.

It is the "cleanest" daily printed in the West.

ATTACK of ROYAL CANADIANS at Paardeberg
The present is a time when war pictures are in greater demand than ever. The conduct of the British soldiers on the battlefield has won the plaudits of admiring nations. We have at great expense published four large, beautiful pictures size 20x24, on heavy, superfine calendered paper. A picture that will commend itself and send a thrill to the heart of every true Canadian is the one called Attack of Royal Canadians at Paardeberg, there are literally hundreds of figures on this picture, the mountains or kopjes stretching out into the distance are swarming with men, while here and there a prostrate figure speaks only too well of the Boer rifleman. It was on this battlefield the gallant Major Arnold met death unflinchingly. Indeed, it is only too true that many of those gallant hearts that beat so high when the cheering thousands bade them Godspeed as they sailed from Canada's shores now lie still forever in lonely graves on the other side of the world under African skies. To every Canadian heart, to every Canadian home, the deeds of their brave soldier boys speak with an irresistible thrill of patriotism and pride Gordon Highlanders at the Battle of Belmont, Charging the Boer Guns at Elandslaagte and the Charge of Gen. French's Cavalry on the Retreating Gen Cronje's Army. These are all stirring pictures and cannot fail to commend themselves to anyone who will examine them. They are RED HOT SELLERS! Agents coin money. Big profits. Enormous success. One agent sold 68 in one day. Sample and terms 25 cts (non free); four for 90 cts; $1.75 per dozen; 25 for $3.25; 50 for $6.00; 100 for $11.00 Write to day for a dozen and make money. Nem Novelty Mfg. THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY
LOCATION OF OUR MINES
THE COLORADO COPPER MINING COMPANY is fortunate in being the possessor of five splendid showing properties in the great Salida copper belt, the principal copper producing region of this portion of the Rockies. All of our claims have been more or less developed and it is our purpose to put the same on a paying basis at once.
Our Company owns, clear of incumbrances the following claims: The Sedalia Extension, the Sedalia Extension No. 2, which property adjoins the great Sedalia mine, which has been a big producer for upwards of seventeen years; the Copper King of Colorado, which immediately adjoins the above; the Copper Queen of Salida, a very promising property, only a few steps from the depot in Salida. This claim occupies an imposing position on a mountain just north of Salida at Cleora station, on the main Trunk line of the great Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, also on the Arkansas river, which in length is one of America's greatest streams.
PRICES AND TERMS
PRESENT PRICES: We are now selling our fully paid and non-assessable TREASURY SHARES at 5 cents per share, in batches of 100 shares and more; 100 shares, $5; 1,000 shares, $50, 5,000 shares, $250; or 10,000 shares or more at the same rate. Send your order right NOW, before the next advance, as you will soon pay a higher price. Investors are rapidly investing with us.
The Company fully prepays all Government revenue, postage, etc. Send also for our handsomely illustrated prospectus, which contains much valuable information. It is free for the asking.

The Aristos GOLD MINING CO.
Owning Big Horn Mountain Tunnel and Veneta Vein, 200 acres situated on the Western Slope of Pikes Peak, in the famous Cripple Creek Gold Mining District.
THE SAFEST OFFER EVER MADE TO INVESTORS.
100,000 Shares Preferred Stock at 25c. Per Share.
It is printed on each certificate that subscribers to the above Preferred Shares will be entitled to receive in Dividends the full amount of money invested, before other stockholders receive any returns, signed by the President of the Company.
This district produced more Gold in 1900 than any other in the United States
This property consists of 3000 by 3000 feet, or 200 acres, of gold land. The mine has been worked. The feature of this mine is the Veneta Vein, 30 to 40 feet in width, and is certainly one of the strongest veins in this famous district. There are some fifteen openings on this vein, the ore from which assays in gold from $12 to $100 per ton. The property is advantageously located for development by tunnel, which will make it possible to produce an enormous amount of ore daily, the quantity varying from 200 to 500 tons per day. The development by TUNNELING is the most economical and advantageous manner of working this property.
At a distance of 800 feet the Tunnel will intersect the Veneta Vein at a depth of about 680 feet, and will also intersect several other veins. The tunnel will cut the Big Horn Mountain 2100 feet deep, and will give this company 2,000,000 tons of ore, worth over $20 per ton.
The new railroad, now practically completed from Colorado Springs, called the Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek road, passes within 2000 feet of this Tunnel
Adjoining this property is the Colorado Springs TUNNEL Company. In this property at a depth of 400 feet, the Veneta Vein was cut. At this point the vein was fully 20 feet in width, and its value from $20 to $1000 per ton.
There are already in operation mills and smelters sufficient to treat the output of this property, which gives at once cash returns.
Capital Stock $1,000,000. Par Value $1.00 Per Share. 100,000 Shares Preferred Stock at 25c. Per Share.
In buying this stock the purchaser owns a direct title in the Company's property. This Company offers you no watered stock, but a legitimate high-grade gold-mining investment in the Cripple Creek District.
The above offer of Preferred Dividends is an assurance of early returns. After additional machinery is erected, this property will be earning dividends almost equal to its Capital Stock.

HISTORICAL.

Bunker Hill monument was built during the years 1826-1842. LaFayette attended the laying of the corner stone and President Tyler the official dedication, while Webster furnished the oration for both occasions. In the lodge at the base is Dexter's marble statue of General Warren, and in 1881 a bronze statue of Colonel Prescott was raised, showing the brave soldier in a seersucker coat and a broad farmer's hat with drawn sword, as when warning his eager men. "Don't fire until you see the whites of their eyes."

Longfellow's house in Brattle street, Cambridge, is the most famous private house in America (Mt. Vernon being public). It is a comfortable mansion and was built in 1759, being deserted by Colonel Vassall, its Tory master, in 1775, and occupied by Washington as headquarters during the eight months of the siege of Boston. Longfellow came here as a boarder in 1837. He came possessed of the house later and died there in 1882. Washington's office and Longfellow's study were in the room of the first floor to the right of the door, the officers' room and library being back of it, and the drawing-room on the other side of the front door.

The First Parish Church, Roxbury, situated in Eliot square, is an excellent and well-preserved specimen of Puritan architecture, dating from 1 04. The society originated in 1632, and for many years had for its pastor the gentle John Eliot, who gave most of his time to preaching to the Indians and translating the Bible into their language. After nearly two centuries of Orthodoxy, the parish became Unitarian, and Dr. George Putnam led it from 1830 to 1876. In 1775-76 the steeple on this site served as a signal station for the American army, and the church became the target for cannon shot from the British lines

THE FINGER NAILS.

Long nails never indicate such great physical strength as short, broad ones.

Very long finger-nailed persons are apt to have delicate chests and lungs.

Long nails very wide at the top and bluish in appearance denote bad circulation. Long-nailed men and women are less critical and more impressionable than those with short nails.

Long nails indicate ideality and an artistic temperament.

Long-nailed people are very apt to be visionary and hate to face disagreeable facts.

They judge even themselves severely.

Short-nailed women never give up an argument.

A keen sense of humor accompanies short nails.

Short-nailed persons make good critics; they are sharper and more logical than long-nailed individuals.

Short nails, thin and flat at the base, indicate a weak action of the heart.

Short nails very flat and sunken, as it were, into the flesh at the base are a sign of diseased nerves.

Short nails very flat and inclined to curve out or lift up at the edges are the forerunners of paralysis.

Don't scoff at the idea that pressing the ends of the fingers gently will make them assume the shape of the nails, for it is a fact.

Don't use nail bleaches too generously, and don't fail to be stingy of rogue and powder. Let your nails be beautiful, with no visible signs of the manicuring that keeps them pink and lovely.

Don't fancy that the tiny white specks that come on the nails can be easily removed. The improper use of steel manicure instruments generally causes them, although they are sometimes the result of an over-supply of lime in the system.

LIVE ONE HUNDRED YEAR

These are Sir John Sawyer's nineteen rules for living 100 years:

1. Eight hours' sleep.
2. Sleep on your right side.
3. Keep your bedroom window open all night.
4. Have a mat to your bedroom door.
5. Do not have your bedstead against the wall.
6. No cold water in the morning but a bath at the temperature of the body.
7. Exercise before breakfast.
8. Eat little meat and see that it is well cooked.
9. (For adults) Drink no milk.
10. Eat plenty of fat to feed the cells which destroy disease germs.
11. Avoid intoxicants, which destroy those cells.
12. Daily exercise in the open air.
13. Allow no pet animals in your living-rooms.
14. Live in the country if you can.
15. Watch the three D's—drinking water, damp, drains.
16. Have change of occupation.
17. Take frequent and short holidays.
18. Limit your ambition.
19. Keep your temper.

BACHELOR REFLECTIONS

Determination is obstinacy that succeeds.

It is only a very foolish woman that can make a smart man a fool.

If you can once wake a woman's curiosity you can make her do anything for you that you want.

When a woman has the same hired girl a year the other women say she has "rare executive ability."

Women will never take much real interest in politics as long as the campaign comes at the same time the magazines are all printing pictures of the styles that are going to be worn next winter.

Learn to greet your friends with a smile. They carry too many frowns in their own hearts to be bothered with any of yours.

"I see that Russia talks of dividing the year into thirteen months of twenty-eight days each, and every month to begin on Monday."

"Whew, think of the hard luck it would be to be born on the thirteenth day of the thirteenth month of the thirteenth year of the new style, at thirteen minutes after thirteen o'clock!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

Every day should be distinguished by at least one particular act of love.—Lavater.

I think it is going to God with our every want that he loves, the oftener we go the more we please him.—Rose Porter.

Alas! this time is never the time for self denial: it is always the next time. Abstinence is always so much more pleasant to contemplate upon the other side of indulgence.—George Macdonald.

Most people dread far more the social frown which follows the doing of something conventionally wrong than they do the qualms of conscience which follow the doing of something intrinsically wrong.—Herbert Spencer.

That which is often asked of God is not so much His will and way as His approval of our way.—S. F. Smiley.

He that gives good admonition and bad example builds with one hand and pulls down with the other.—William T. Bacon

Do not dare to live without some clear intention toward which your living shall be bent. Mean to be something with all your might.—Phillips Brooks.

The first two planetoids in 1901 were discovered, the one by the Austrian astronomer Paliga and the other by Charlois of Nice.

Let us lay hold of the happiness of to-day. Do we not go through life blindly, thinking that some fair tomorrow will bring us the gift we miss to-day? * * * Know thou, my heart, if thou art not happy to-day, thou shalt never be happy.—Anna Robertson Brown.

No one has any right to suppose that he will do better by and by, unless he is prompt to seize upon means and plans for doing better. Better living and better service do not come by chance; they are the result of thoughtful and earnest effort. We grow as we go.

Of this be certain:
Time, as he courses onward, still unrolls
The volume of Concealment. In the future,
As in the optician's glassy cylinder,
The indistinguishable blots and colors
Of the dim past collect and shape themselves,
Upstarting in their own completed image
To scare or to reward.
—Coleridge.

I went to the woods because I wished to live deliberately, to front only the essential facts of life, and see if I could not learn what it had to teach, and not, when I came to die, discover that I had not lived.—Thoreau.

Love is like the wild-rose briar:
Friendship like the holly-tree,
The holly is dark when the rose-briar blooms.
But which will bloom most constantly? —Emily Bronte.

We do not judge of the acts of nature as we do those of man. If we did nature would frequently be sentenced to death without benefit of clergy. Nature is irresponsible, unaccountable and incomprehensible.

Oh, deem not they are blest alone.
Whose lives a peaceful tenor keep:
The Power who pities man hath shown
A blessing for the eyes that weep.
—Wm. Cullen Bryant.

WORTH KNOWING

Japan gets the most of her salt from Germany and China, the best coming from Germany. She makes a considerable quantity of her own from sea water, but the quality is poor.

Nearly all of the "pure olive oil" imported into this country is cotton-seed oil made in the Southern States, sent abroad and there refined and returned to us as the pure product of the Mediterranean olive.

Argentine flour, which is trying to make its way into northern Brazil, cannot compete with the American product.

The palm trees of Venezuela contain large silk-spinning spiders, making white and yellow silk but they cannot be used commercially, owing to the expense of keeping the spiders separated. If left together they will devour each other.

Wasps eat honey, honey dew and the juice of fruits, but they also are carnivorous and live largely upon other insects. Pollen of flowers they are not supposed to use.

Commenting on the amount which a spider actually consumed during twenty-four hours, Sir J. Lubbock says: "At a similar rate of consumption a man weighing 160 pounds will require a whole fat steer for breakfast, a steer and five sheep for dinner, and for supper two bullocks, eight sheep and four hogs, and just before retiring nearly four barrels of fresh fish."

If we examine a fly's head with the microscope, we shall notice that it has two distinct kinds of eyes; large ones, placed on each side of the face, and little ones or "ocelli," disposed in triangular form on the vertex. The large eyes form two convex protuberances and are composed of a multitude of juxtaposed hexagonal facets. These facets appear to be about four thousand in number; they are not of the same size, those of the upper part being one one-thousandth of an inch in diameter and those of the lower part only about one two-thousandths of an inch.

In olden days, when tea was a rare and precious luxury, silver strainers were used, into which the exhausted leaves were put when they had been well watered and drained. They were afterward eaten with sugar on bread and butter. This fact is recorded by Sir Walter Scott in "St. Ronan's Well."

A warning.

To feel tired after exertion is one thing to feel tired before is another.

Don't say the latter is laziness—it isn't but it's a sign that the system lacks vitality, is running down, and needs the tonic effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

It's a warning, too—and sufferers should begin taking Hood's at once.

THE PLANET MARS.

Mars is a planet every body talk about.

The reason is that it gives signs of terrestrial life.

The diameter of Mars is 4,215 miles somewhat more than half of that of the earth.

Mars revolves around the sun in a period of 686,98 days, in an orbit exterior to the earth's.

Mars has certainly water upon its surface, although its water supply appears to be very limited.

There is every reason to think that the polar caps of Mars are formed of ice and snow, like the earth.

Mars has a very rare atmosphere its density perhaps being not more than one-seventh that of the earth's.

Mars appears to have winter and summer as is indicated by the increase and decrease of its "polar caps."

The surface area of Mars is a little more than one-quarter that of the earth. Its volume is about one-seventh that of the earth.

Mars is supposed by astronomers to be a partially arid planet, whose water supply is largely afforded by the annual melting of the polar snow.

The canals are not always visible nor are they all visible at the same time. They appear successively, as the Martian season advances.

The so-called canals are supposed to be vast irrigation ditches, which distribute the water, and are bordered by cultivated areas on either side.

The most peculiar feature of Mars are its so-called canals, which appear as straight lines crossing the surface of the planet at various angles.

Mars has changes of seasons as it circles round the sun, corresponding with the earth's, though the seasons of Mars are all nearly twice as long as ours.

The equator of Mars is inclined to the plane of its orbit about 25 degrees which is a trifle more than the equatorial inclination of the earth—23 degrees, 24 minutes.

Mars turns on its axis in 24 hours 37 minutes, 22.7 seconds. The earth rotates in 23 hours and 56 minutes, about The day of Mars is therfore about 41 minutes longer than ours.

Although the mean distance of Mars from the sun is one and a half times that of the earth, the planet seems, to judge from the deportment of the polar caps, to enjoy a climate or a series of climates quite as mild as the earth's

The number of canals seen and mapped by Astronomer Lowell in 1894 was 183, of which number 67 appear on the map of Schiaparelli. Of the 116 not on that map 44 are in the dark regions the regions formerly suposed to be seas.

The so-called canals vary in breadth from fifteen or twenty to one hundred and fifty miles. Their length is enormous, the shortest being 250 miles long, and the longest 3,540. A thousand or fifteen hundred miles is about their average length.

Mr. Lowell is strongly inclined to think that the water supply of Mars has fallen so low that the inhabitants of the planet have been compelled for the purpose of agriculture to resort to a gigantic system of irrigation. What we see and call a "canal" is really a strip of vegetation which is thus artificially nourished on either side of the canal proper, the water itself being invisible.

The "canals" of Mars were discovered in 1877 by M. Schiaparelli, the director of the observatory of Milan. For nearly ten years no other astronomer could see them. M. Perrotin, at Nice and Dr. Terby, at Louvain, were the first to confirm this great decovery. Professor W. H. Pickering saw them for the first time at the Harvard College observatory in 1890. They are now seen easily at Arequipa, in Peru; at Mount Hamilton, at Mr. Lowell's observatory, at Flagstaff, Arizona.

Big Four Con. G.M.Co.

LIMITED

Mines one mile west of Rossland, directly west of the Le Roi No. 1 and Le Roi No. 2. Four properties. All Crown granted.

THE LeRoi No. 1 once sold for 2 cents and went to $45 per share; and the Le Roi No. 2 £5 shares went to £23, or $110 per share in a few months.

Our memorandum of association contains a provision, provided by Section 56 of the Companies Act, 1897, that the shares are issued as Fully Paid Up and Non Assessable, and that no further liability beyond the amount actually paid upon shares shall attach to the holders thereof. Capital $250,000.

Our properties are now proved (both above and below ground) to have the same continuous ore veins as the LeRoi Companies, and have the same identical ore and our shares are well worth TWENTY FIVE CENTS now, and will surely bring fifty cents. And we can, with a very small capital, develop our property to such a extent that it can also be placed on the London market, where it belongs—and small investors will make a good profit by buying now.

Our assays have averaged from $5 to $800 in gold, copper and silver and the shipping facilities are the best. The Great Northern Railway runs three times through the ground, three smelters close at hand, and reduced charges of $4.50 per ton for shipping and smelting, and we are now getting ready to start shipping ore.

Irrespective of the merits of the BIG FOUR, we have now over 570,000 shares in our treasury and free from all incumbrance. We are amongst the few local companies that has complied with the law in every particular, and we venture to say have

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

—The Board of Works will meet tonight.

—A pork factory has commenced operations at Stouffville.

—Charity Board met last night and passed a number of accounts.

—The disappearance of the "Shut the Door" sign is another sign of spring.

—Mr. Wm. Anderson was elected as the Liberal candidate for the Legislature.

Maybe spring this year, as usual, will wait till it can come in wearing its Easter bonnet.

—Men are at work chopping channels along the sides of many of the streets, to carry of the water.

Salt rheum, eczema, with its itching and burning, is cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. So are all other blood diseases.

—There is no royal road to education but when a boy is on the wrong track, switching him off may be absolutely necessary.

A German scientist says married men live longer than single ones. This g.f.j. suggests that perhaps he means it seems longer to them.

—Distinction used to be expressed by the term "making fish of one and fowl of the other." The Council, however, appears to be making game of the people indiscriminately.

—It is reported that a company is being organized to engage in the manufacture of marine and other boilers at Midland. The works will be located near the blast furnace.

—At a public meeting held in Belleville the other day, it was decided to organize a co-operative company to establish a factory for packing pork and other produce for the British markets. The capital stock is to be $150,000, in shares of $20 each.

—Mr. Nihan, who until recently owned the steamer, Garden City, which ran between Cobourg and Toronto, states that although he has sold that boat, he intends having another to take its place on this route the coming season.

Old and Faded Garments

MADE TO LOOK AS GOOD AS NEW BY USE OF

DIAMOND DYES

Mrs. William Surgent, Petrolia, Ont., says: "Your Diamond Dyes are the best I have ever used, and they have done splendid work for me. In a short time Diamond Dyes saved me ten dollars, so that I think they deserve a good word. My friends, to whom I have shown my dyed goods, say that Diamond Dyes make old things look like new. The richest woman in our town, after seeing my work, has become a user of your Dyes. I thank you for such valuable money-savers as Diamond Dyes."

Mrs. Thos. Hyndman, Masham, Que., says: "I have been using Diamond Dyes for many years and find them most satisfactory in renewing the colors of my children's clothes. For brilliancy and fastness, Diamond Dyes cannot be excelled."

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Mrs. A. H. Melville is visiting friends in Millbrooke.

—Mr. J. A. Sexsmith, reeve of Belmont, is in town attending court.

—Mr. R. J. Kidd, who has a rattling fine business in Hastings, spent Sunday and Monday in town.

—Dr. John Beatty, V.S., was taken to the Nicholls hospital yesterday morning, suffering from a slight stroke of paralysis, which has affected his left side.

—Mr. G. W. Powell will represent Peterborough Council, C.O.C.F., at the session of the Grand Lodge, which meets in Hamilton this week.

The many friends of Miss Smith, daughter of Mr. Wm. Smith, principal of the Central School, will be pleased to know that she is doing nicely in the hospital. The type of diphtheria she is suffering with, is of a very mild form.

—Dr. Torrance's condition is as well as can be expected. He is suffering considerable pain, which is natural under the circumstances, but this stage will soon pass over, after which he will be able to move about on crutches. His many friends hope that his recovery may be speedy.

While using Wills' English Pills, let your diet be Malt Breakfast Food, the most strengthening food for the weak stomach. All druggists sell Wills' English Pills at 25 cents, or sent by mail on receipt of price by The Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, Montreal.

The Power of Water.

A doubt has often been expressed whether water power can be successfully transmitted over great distances. The confidence with great manufacturing companies are now contracting for power from falls forty and fifty miles away shows that if any difficulties existed they have been entirely overcome. At Schenectady, N. Y., the Edison Electric Works have just contracted for five thousand horse power, to be delivered from Glen Falls, which is forty miles distant. Again at Cobourg, the Crossen Ca. Works, and other users of power and at both there and at Port Hope, last week entered into contracts for all their power to be obtained from Burleigh Falls, about 54 miles away.

Speechless and Paralyzed.—"I had valvular disease of the heart," writes Mrs. J. S. Goode, of Truro, N.S. "I suffered terribly and was often speechless and partially paralyzed. One dose of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart gave me relief, and before I finished one bottle I was able to go about. To-day I am a well woman."—43

ONE NEVER TIRES

Using Delicious

MALT BREAKFAST FOOD

From experience, we know that many people become nauseated with a continuance of ordinary oatmeal, cracked wheat, hominy and other grain foods, and have a desire to switch off on something new occasionally.

Amongst the ten millions of members comprising the Ralston Health Club who (upon the advice of their President) use Malt Breakfast Food, or amongst the millions outside the ranks of the Ralston Health Club who use Malt Breakfast Food every morning, we have not yet heard of a single individual who has tired of the Food or who would willingly give up its use.

The delicious flavor, the appetizing qualities, the sustaining nutriment, the energizing effects of Malt Breakfast Food have made it so popular with those who use it, that it must always be reckoned as an indispensable friend of the breakfast table. Perfectly toned stomachs, correct digestion and daily progress in good health are assured when Malt Breakfast Food is used. Grocers everywhere.

ART NEEDLEWORK CLASS

The Members Presented Their Teacher With an Opal Ring

Lindsay Post,—Miss M. A. Rose, Instructor in Art Needlework with Sutcliffe & Sons, of Peterborough, and Belding, Paul & Co., Montreal, on Friday completed her two week's engagement with Messrs. Sutcliffe & Sons, of this town. Her magnificent samples of fancy work stirred the enthusiasm of our ladies, and a class of over 60 made rapid progress under her painstaking tuition. At the close of the final lesson yesterday the members of the class fittingly recognized the patience, skill and geniality of their teacher by asking her to accept a handsome opal ring (her birthday stone) as a token of their esteem and gratitude. The presentation was made by Mrs. (Dr.) Gillespie, and the recipient was so surprised by the unexpected occurrence that she felt obliged to return her thanks by deputy, Miss Margaret Lumsden kindly assuming the duty and acquitting herself creditably. The members of the class and others who were prevented from joining by various circumstances, all regret that Miss Rose could not remain for another term.

THE PALACE CHANGES HANDS.

Mr J. M. Brooks, of Oshawa, Buys the Well Known Restaurant.

Mr. J. M. Brooks, of Oshawa, has purchased the Palace Restaurant, next to the Times office, and is now in possession. Mr. Brooks is an old and experienced hotel man, and will at once put the business in first class shape.

For five years Mr. Brooks conducted the Oriental Hotel, at Oshawa, and he is therefore well known to the travelling public, with whom he is very popular. Possessed of ample means, and having a thorough practical knowledge of the business, he will without doubt make a success of his present undertaking.

Mr. "Jimmy" Spellman, who is well known throughout the district, and who has hosts of personal friends everywhere, has been engaged as wine clerk.

The Palace Cafe will be up-to-date in every respect.

THE BEST FRIEND OF THE MOTHER, WIFE AND DAUGHTER

Paine's Celery Compound

The Great Spring Medicine That Restores Ailing Females to Perfect Health

MRS. ADAMSON SAYS:

"I CAN NEVER SAY TOO MUCH IN FAVOR OF PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND."

One of the oldest and best edited monthly magazines published in America, in a recent leading article, declares that more than half the revenue of physicians is derived from the treatment of females, and that about one case in every hundred is correctly diagnosed, showing that cures are extremely rare.

The important knowledge gained by women of every age about Paine's Celery Compound and the special and peculiar benefits it bestows on female suffering from ailments peculiar to their sex, as well as from the common ills of life, have made Paine's Celery Compound the most popular and trusted home medicine of the day.

In spring time, when woman's nervous strength is overtaxed by home work and duties and the constant demands of social functions, it is then that Paine's Celery Compound shows its invigorating and vitalizing effects, as the precious medicine is used from day to day. It quickly banishes nervousness, prostration, weakness, debility, langour, despondency, and the many nameless ills that come to women of all ages.

Mrs. R. Adamson, Head of Millstream, Kings Co., N.B., says:

"I feel it a duty to briefly testify regarding the value of Paine's Celery Compound. Since childhood I suffered from sick headaches, neuralgia and constipation. Had attacks once a week which kept me confined to bed. Have been treated by a number of physicians without beneficial results. I procured six bottles of Paine's Celery Compound which was strongly recommended to me, and after a short time I found that new life and health coming that I so long wished for. Two years have passed and I have not had a return of my old troubles. I can never say too much in favor of Paine's Celery Compound."

A FATAL MISTAKE

Death of a Young Man Well Known to Peterborough

Mr. W. T. Tole, druggist, for some time with Ormond & Walsh, here, took a dose of prussic acid in mistake for a tonic, at his store in Bowmanville. The mistake was made just before he was leaving the store to go to tea with his father, on Saturday night. The news caused great regret here, for he made many warm friends while in Peterborough. Every effort to revive him was ineffectual and he died in about 15 or 20 minutes after the doctor arrived. He was a clever druggist, a graduate of the Ontario College of Pharmacy, from which institution he had received the Phm. B. degree.

THE BOBCAYGEON RAILWAY

The Court of Appeal Decision Renders the Bonus By-Laws Invalid

Mr. John McSweyn, solicitor for the Township of Ops, has given a written opinion regarding the by-laws which were voted upon and carried, granting aid by way of bonus to the Lindsay, Bobcaygeon and Pontypool Railway. Mr. McSweyn holds that as the debentures were not placed in the hands of the trustees within a year, the by-laws are inoperative.

This will cause serious trouble to the promoters, who have gone ahead with the work of construction, depending on the sale of debentures to recoup them.

Probably From Lindsay.

An old farmer, probably from near Lindsay, had been to Peterborough and was describing to his friends the splendor of the hotel at which he stayed.

"Everything was perfect," he said, "all but one thing. They kept the light burning all night in my bedroom, a thing I ain't used to."

"Well," said Billy Bunton, "why didn't you blow it out?"

"Blow it out!" said the farmer. "How could I? The pesky thing was inside a bottle!"
